U.S. Forces Invade Rendova Isle

Island Located Five Miles From Munda Base

WASHINGTON, June 30 (AP)—The United States Navy announced today that combined American forces have landed on Rendova Island in the central Solomons, in what appeared to be the first stage of a new offensive operation against Japanese positions in the South Pacific.

The Japanese have had installations on the island and presumably the landing either was opposed or, if accomplished by surprise, developed into fighting shortly afterward.

The strategic intent of the American move except for its generally offensive nature in advancing American positions in the Solomons 110 miles northwest of the outpost in the Russell Islands, was not fully apparent.

Rendova's most obvious military characteristic is that it lies only five miles south of Munda where the Japanese late last year developed an air base. However, at the time the base was nearing completion it was brought under heavy American bombardment and has been regularly assaulted from the air since then so that navy spokesmen have recently reported it was practically useless to the enemy.

A Feint, Perhaps

The American aim could be to take Munda for further Allied operations against either Bougainville, the main enemy-held island in the northwestern Solomons or against Rabaul which lies still further to the west.

Another possibility speculated on here was that the move against Rendova may have been of a screening or diversionary nature to obscure more important thrusts elsewhere.

Still another posibility is that the high command might be testing the extent of Japanese will to resist in the Solomons area.

This is the second advance in the Solomons chain since American troops went into Guadalcanal last Aug. 7.

The last previous American advance against Japan was begun on May 11 when United States army forces moved into Attu Island at the western tip of the Aleutians chain. Attu was mopped up in three weeks. Prior to the Attu campaign the U.S. Navy had announced the occupation of Funafuti in the Ellice Islands in the South Central Pacific.

Liberal Candidate

Captain A. L. Elliott, now overseas and member of the Ontario Legislature for Peterborough, who has been nominated as the Liberal candidate in the coming general election.

Liberals Name A. L. Elliott At Convention

Capt. Alex L. Elliott, overseas, was chosen as candidate of the Peterborough Liberal Association to contest the riding in the coming provincial election by a unanimous vote of the Convention at the Legion Hall, Tuesday night.

Hon. Eric Cross, Attorney-General of Ontario, who was the guest speaker paid tribute to Captain Elliott's capabilities and told of the important improvements made in the province's financial state since the Liberal Government came into power. He related how the municipalities have been relieved of crushing tax burdens and have been given an opportunity to lower their rates.

Lashing out at the attackers of proxy vote Mr. Cross declared that it passed the House unanimously in 1942, and that it was only recently that Col. George Drew, Conservative leader and the Globe and Mail had launched their severe criticism. He pointed out that there was nothing new in the idea because in 1929 Hon. William Finlayson introduced into the legislature a bill for mariners, who could appoint proxies, and these men expressed themselves as well satisfied with the set-up. Faced with a war of movement, Mr. Cross declared, no one can say where a soldier will be two or three months from now and the only way for the active forces to get proper representation is to have their friends and relatives vote for them by proxy.

British Adopt Plan

"Col. Drew accuses us of trickery, and the only reason I can see for throwing this mud is because he is not ready for an election. This idea was conceived honestly, and he has not yet offered any constructive criticism and a platform which can be taken seriously. But the British Parliament has seen fit to adopt the Proxy vote, and what is good enough for the British Parliament should be good enough for Ontario."

The Attorney General declared that those at home will regard this voting for the men in the services as a sacred trust, and he said he felt sure they could be counted upon to be honest and to carry out the wishes of these people so far from home.

The Collective Bargaining Bill has advanced labor by a tremendous stride, the speaker asserted. He pointed out that it had been a reform sought for many years by labor unions which are a necessary part of industrial democracy. The present Government gained

1,342 Killed In Wuppertal Raid

STOCKHOLM, June 30 — (AP) — Dispatches to the Goeteborg newspaper Handels Och Sjoefartstidning said today that 1,342 persons had been killed in the massed R.A.F. raid on the Elberfeld section of Wuppertal, important Ruhr industrial city, last Thursday night.

The city was reported to be still without water, gas, electricity or telephone service. Great fires were reported blazing more than 24 hours after the raid upon the chemical and textile works there.

The Elberfeld railway station was reported half destroyed and the concentrated bombing also resulted in a large number of wounded.

MOSCOW—Tass, Soviet News Agency, said it had been reported that a mass strike had been called in the Turin Aircraft plants in Italy.

Kalinin Hill Captured By Russians

Guerilla Activity Taking Heavy Toll Of Huns

LONDON, Juse 30.—(CP).—Russian reconnaissance groups captured a strongly defended hill in the Kalinin sector, killing 200 Germans, and smashed an enemy base in hand-to-hand fighting on the northwestern front, the Soviet noon communique received by Reuters announced to-day.

The war bulletin said there were no major changes, however, on any of the fronts during the night, although minor actions by both infantry and artillery units resulted in damage and casualties at enemy installations.

The Russians said the heavy guns and mortar fire smashed 32 pillboxes, 37 machine-gun points, 15 dugouts, 15 observation points, a munition dump and a fuel dump on the Leningrad front.

The communique added that the guerilla activity in the Minsk area resulting the derailing of an enemy train and the destruction of two German garrisons, with 119 Germans killed and 108 taken prisoner.

The Russian communique mentioned only a single air operation. It said that two Soviet pilots in the Belgorod sector engaged eight German bombers, shooting down two and dispersing the remaining six. Two German pilots who bailed out were reported captured.

Last night the Russians said the Soviet air force was continuing to hammer at German rail centres and supply depots in the Orel area. A special broadcast from Moscow in advance of the midnight bulletin said Soviet bombers had caused at least 15 fires at Orel and had continued on to bomb munitions dumps at Karachev 40 miles to the west.

Juvenile Threat

LOS ANGELES, June 30—(AP).—"Come quick!" the woman telephoned police: "There's a short man with a mask, threatening people with guns—two guns—one in each hand." Police found him skulking behind a nearby garage. The weapons were cap pistols. He was a 10-year-old, playing cops and robbers.

No Co-operation

DUBLIN, Junue 30.—(CP).—Failure of the parties opposing Prime Minister Eamon De Valera to combine their majority to form a new government was seen yesterday as making it almost a certainty that De Valera will be re-elected Prime Minister when the Dail convenes July 1. De Välera lost his 11-year-old majority in last week's elections.

EXTRA!

TORONTO, June 30. — (CP).— Premier Nixon today announced the Ontario Legislature has been dissolved and the Provincial election will be held Wednesday, Aug. 4.

Mr. Nixon made his announcement to reporters who had been summoned to the Cabinet Council room.

"Well, gentlemen, the Legislature has been dissolved and the election will be held Wednesday, Aug. 4," he said and issued a statement which said that "we are now returning the government of Ontario to the people."

The Premier said the Legislature was dissolved "as of yesterday" when the order-in-council was passed providing for the election date. He added that he had conferred last night with Lieutenant-Governor Albert Matthews who had indicated his approval of dissolution.

In addition to his statement, the Premier issued a memorandum from Major Alex Lewis, chef Ontario electoral officer, which reported that information from London was that the distribution of proxies to members of the armed forces was well under way.

RAF Dominates Mediterranean

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN NORTH AFRICA, June 30 (AP) — R. A. F. bombers struck concerted blows at both ends of Sicily's vital railroad ferry to the Italian mainland Monday night. Heavy-weights from the Middle East Command spread explosives on the mainland terminus at Reggio Calabria while two-engined Wellingtons from northwest Africa renewed the attack on battered Messina just across the two-mile strait.

Churchill Forecasts Battle Before Autumn Leaves Fall

By HENRY B. JAMESON—Associated Press Staff Writer

LONDON, June 30 — (AP). — Prime Minister Churchill in a firm confident speech declared to-day that "it is very probable there will be heavy fighting in the Mediterranean and elsewhere before the leaves of autumn fall." He promised the Germans that the mighty arms of the Allied air forces "will lengthen by night and by day," seeking out more industrial and military targets with "exterminating force," and when the major cities of Germany are disposed of "we will follow the war industry of the Reich to the smaller towns."

In the sea war, he announced that more than 30 enemy submarines were certainly destroyed in May and that the destruction continues with June "the best month we have ever known in the war."

Canadian and American shipbuilding had reached a stage where the output of new ships "is somewhere between seven and 10 times as much as our losses from enemy action in June." Scarcely a ship had been lost since mid-May.

Delays Russ Offensive.

Mr. Churchill's prediction of heavy fighting in the Mediterranean came after Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden, in the House of Commons, had called upon Mussolini "to accept the unconditional surrender terms offered to him."

Italy, as yet subjected only to "preliminary and discursive bombardments," already is wondering where the blow of invasion will fall, Mr. Churchill said, while Hitler's worry over those Allied plans for assault "may have led to the remarkable long delay of opening the promised German offensive against Russia."

"It is no part of our interest to relieve that anxiety," he remarked.

The Prime Minister spoke after a ceremony honoring him in the fire-blackened Guildhall in the heart of London.

He announced again that the Allies "demand from the Nazis and Fascists and Japanese tyrants unconditional surrender," and declared:—

"Every man, every ship and every airplane in the King's service that can be moved to the Pacific will be sent there . . . For as many years

Canada's Air Defence Reasonably Strong Enemy Bombers Could Reach Cities

OTTAWA, June 30—(CP).—Most of the men now joining the R.C.A.F. require special educational training to meet the requirements of the Air Force, Air Minister Power said at a meeting of the Senate Finance Committee.

"We have a waiting list but no more than we need," Maj. Power said.

Because of the high educational standards, there was increasing difficulty in getting men with the necessary educational background. At present some 2,500 men were attending war emergency training classes and 1,500 were at universities.

Questioned, Maj. Power said that of some 5,000 Americans in the R.C.A.F. before Pearl Harbor about 3,000 had later taken advantage of an opportunity to join United States forces. It was estimated that the training these men had received had a value of about $25,000,000.

Maj. Power said Canada's air defence is "reasonably strong" and could probably withstand any general attack, though there could be no guarantee that an odd bomber could not get through and reach some Canadian cities. The air defence included provision to bomb enemy aircraft carriers or battleships as well as submarines, and fighter craft to meet any invading bombers.

Tells Mussolini To Give Up Rome May Be Bombed--Eden

By E. C. DANIEL—Associated Press Staff Writer

LONDON, June 30—(AP).—Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden called upon Mussolini today "to accept the unconditional surrender offered to him," and said Britain has not and does not intend to approach Italy regarding the question of bombing Rome.

Addressing the House of Commons Mr. Eden declared: "I think it would be in the interests of humanity if Signor Mussolini was to realize that the best thing he can do for his country is to accept the unconditional surrender terms offered to him."

Leaflets urging surrender have been dropped upon Italian cities by Allied planes in recent raids, and unconditional surrender was set at the Casablanca conference as the peace terms for the Axis.

Mr. Eden told the cheering House that "we would not hesitate to bomb Rome to the best of our ability and as heavily as possible if the course of the war should render such an action convenient and helpful."

Need More Wardens.

Opening a civil defence debate, Ellen Wilkinson, Parliamentary Undersecretary of the Home Office, announced a sharp reduction in Britain's air raid defence forces in the face of threats by the Germans of reprisals.

"The Germans must hit back at us or else confess to the world that the bomber command can make a rubble of their vital industries while they are helpless to do more than defend themselves," she declared, adding that while Nazi threats of reprisals are for home consumption, "Hitler can still stage a very nasty raid if he wishes to do so; the price will be high."

Balancing this threat against the manpower needs for an Allied offensive, she reported that the civil defence establishment had been cut one-third in the last 12 months and a further cut of 12½ per cent is underway, but not in especially vulnerable areas. Britain at present has 5,000,000 fire guards and 30,000 instructors, she said.

New Equipment.

The air raid warnings system is "vastly improved" and new and more powerful fire fighting equipment is being provided.

"Our air raids on Germany are so terrible that they stretch the German Civil Defence Force to the utmost," she added.

Capt. Harold H. Balfour, Undersecretary of State for Air, earlier reported that the R. A. F. had tripled its rate of bomb discharge on Germany since this time in 1942, and a German radio broadcast reported by the Ministry of Information said 1,100 planes of 30,000 guns have been concentrated for the Defence of the Ruhr.

When asked if the responsibility should not be placed squarely on Premier Mussolini for "not proclaiming Rome an open city in case any damage should be done to ancient monuments," Mr. Eden replied:—

"I think the responsibility is clear enough. No one invited Signor Mussolini to attack France and no one invited him to send his bombers to bomb London."

Mr. Eden said news dispatches on June 23 to the effect that if Rome were divested of military objectives it might be considered an open town resulted from "a misunderstanding of some remarks made off the record at a press conference" and that the government's actual position was as he stated it today.

Americans Facing Political Crisis

By J. F. SANDERSON
Canadian Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, June 30—(CP). — The United States is passing through perhaps the greatest political crisis since it entered the war, with Congress and President Roosevelt pulling in opposite directions on domestic issues.

When Congress upset the President's veto of the anti-strike bill last week, it was merely the culmination of a Congressional rebellion against phases of Roosevelt domestic policies that started months before.

There are many reasons back of the breach between Congress and the President. Some are political some are economic. At his press conference yesterday, the President put some of the blame on the press, suggesting that the bickerings were being exaggerated and, perhaps, sometimes prompted.

Getting Worse

No matter what the causes are, however the situation shows every sign of getting progressively worse and as the New York Times puts it "thoughtful Americans, even if they strongly disapprove some of the President's policies, can hardly be happy about it."

Fortunately for the United Nations, the White House - Congress feud is limited to domestic policies and has not touched the prosecution of the war in strictly military fields. It concerns domestic questions such as anti-strike policies, anti-inflation policies and taxes and has left untouched such questions as money appropriations for the Army and Navy.

The New York Times, urging both Congress and the President to "put aside mere partisanship and political manoeuvre" suggested "such a course is the only alternative to a political tragedy of incalculable dimensions."

U.S. Bombers Smash French Plant

Fighter-Bombers Attack Coastal Shipping

LONDON, June 30 (CP).—While the big bombers of the R.A.F. and R.C.A.F. apparently were ground-bound last night, other planes of the combined command carried out raids along the shores of France, following up a daylight attack by American heavies against Le Mans, France. No major assaults were reported by the Air Ministry today, following Monday night's pulverizing attacks against Cologne and Hamburg that hit a new high in the devastation heaped upon Germany's war machine in a single month.

However, R.A.F. aircraft scouted along the French coast and pounced upon six enemy ships, including the E-boat escort force, and damaged three of them despite what pilots referred to as "an intense barrage of flak," the Air Ministry reported today.

Pilots on the Channel patrol sighted a ship of between 1,500 and 2,000 tons, a tugboat and four E-boats which apparently had just left port and were heading toward Ostend.

Heavy Flak.

Two planes leading the attack dived in and raked the merchant ship and escort with cannon-fire and bombs, the Ministry said. The pilots were unable to observe the effect of the attack, however, because of the intensity of the defence.

Other planes dived in later and reported hits on the merchant ship, the tugboat and one of the escort craft. One of the planes was reported missing.

Few details of the American attack against Le Mans were released. The official announcement today merely said that yesterday afternoon the heavy bombers carried out the raid, protected by American fighters.

The escort force accounted for two enemy planes, the communique issued today by the United States 8th Air Force said, and added that the bombers destroyed additional enemy planes. However, the number was not immediately disclosed.

The communique said that opposition encountered by the raiders was "not too pronounced."

Chinese Troops Capture Town

CHUNGKING, June 30—(AP).—Chinese troops who have been enveloping Owchihkow (Lotus Pond Inlet) on the Upper Yangtze River front have entered the town after inflicting "severe losses" upon defending Japanese troops, a Chinese communique announced last night.

Fighting for possession of Owchihkow was continuing, but the bulletin said the Japanese garrison was showing signs of collapse. The encirclement of the town, which is 40 miles south of Shasi, was reported completed June 24.

The communique also said that a vigorous attack had been launched on Hwajung, 16 miles southeast of Owchihkow, and that many strategic points in the suburbs had been captured.

Recapture of Owchihkow and Hwajung, if effected, would restore to the Chinese virtually the whole of their rice bowl which the Japanese at one time seemed on the verge of breaking.

Monkey Goes On Rampage

Police Posse End Career Of Simian

OCEANSIDE, L.I., June 30.—(CP).—This is the story of Brother, an affable, banana-eating Simian who became the victim of rumor and circumstances and finally met a gangster's death yesterday at the hands of 20 policemen, armed with shotguns.

Until a week ago Brother lived at the end of a chain in the backyard of his owner, Mrs. Lucille Busch, and was known as a good steady monkey who hunted fleas and grimaced at passing children.

But he snapped his chain and went for a spree in the woods of a nearby park. In the following days Brother was frequently seen, swinging from the trees, but defied capture.

Meanwhile, ugly rumors began to circulate around here. Reports were repeated of large dogs being found killed and half eaten. Another version had chickens as the victims. The rumors kept growing until a newspaper ran the headline: "Gorilla loose on south shore."

That cooked Brother's goose. In the eyes of his former friends he was a Siminian Dillinger.

Finally the cops—all 20 of them—cornered Brother in an alley between two garbage cans. A shotgun slug tore off his head and, happy, the newspaper carried the new headline: "Baboon terrorizes south shore seven days; Cop Safari kills it."

Giant U.S. Bombers Have Fighter Power

Score 7 Or 8 Enemy Fighter Planes For Each Bomber Lost

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
Associated Press War Analyst

The unprecendented hammering which the Allied air fleets are administering to the enemy in blazing a trail to victory—an historic experiment which may determine how far air power can go in winning a war on its own—is bringing me numerous inquiries about the aerial fighting arm, and among them are two timely questions from prominent newspaper editors:—

The first query relates to American plane losses and asks what percentage of U.S. craft is shot down by enemy planes and what percentage by anti-aircraft fire from the ground. Well, there are some highly interesting facts wrapped up in this inquiry, but there also is considerable dynamite from the standpoint of the censor.

Percentage figures on American plane losses are restricted, because they would lend themselves readily to computation of total strength of the U.S. air force. However, it can be said that the ratio of losses is one plane to somewhat better than three enemy planes. In addition to this overall score, separate records show that in the South Pacific theatre U.S. army fliers have destroyed better than five enemy planes for each American plane lost.

It's impossible to break down American plane losses into those destroyed by enemy planes and by enemy anti-aircraft guns, because flak from the ground guns can cripple a plane, after which fighters can shoot it down, leaving it a matter of guesswork as to which type of opposition caused the loss.

No Shortage

The second inquiry points to the frequent reports from abroad that British pursuit planes— that is, fighter planes— have escorted American bombers in raids on the continent. My correspondent says this is calculated to give the impression that the United States is without fighter planes, and asks what the truth is.

There are several reasons why U.S. fighters aren't mentioned more frequently in despatches from Europe, but none is based on lack of such planes. Indeed, some American Army fighters, notably the P-38 and the new P-47 are considered by many pilots as among the best of their kind in the world.

One reason why we haven't heard more about American fighters from Europe is that Britain in its defensive war had for years been building fighters, which are essentially defensive warcraft and had great numbers of such planes in England. This made it unnecessary for the U.S. Army to concentrate on fighters there and it devoted its energy to offensive planes — the bombers.

Another pertinent reason is that U.S. bombers, notably the Flying Fortresses, have great fighter power and can operate on bombing missions without fighter protection. These giants have a score of better than seven or eight enemy planes shot down for each Fortress lost.

As to the fighters themselves, they have destroyed better than four enemy ships for each army plane lost in actual combat.

Business Man At Tender Age

14-Year-Old Boy Forms War Company

NEW YORK, June 30—(CP). — Top-flight business executives in the United States met here yesterday to hear how 14-year-old Bill Nicol, president of the Midget Manufacturing Company of Chicago, turned out 150,000 trouser hangers for the army in two months.

Young Mr. Nicol was here on a well-earned vacation, but he gladly gave of his time to tell business executives some of the highlights of his career.

He said that he and eight other boys, with the help of neighbors who bought shares at 40 cents apiece, had formed the company, but for quite a while were stymied, not having anything to produce.

Finally, he said, an over-the-fence conversation with a friend gave him the idea for producing trouser hangers, and a telephone conversation "swung the deal" with the army. For two months the boys worked three hours a day at the hangers, receiving 10 to 20 cents an hour in wages, Mr. Nicol explained, and in the specified time had filled their contract.

In closing he invited the business executives to visit his Chicago plant, and told them it was now busy turning out 10,000 toys and more trouser hangers—500,000 this time.

WAVE OF VIOLENCE AGAINST GERMAN INVADERS SWEEPS BALKANS

Enemy Attacks All Beaten Off

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN NORTH AFRICA, June 30.—(AP).—Allied aircraft have beaten off four daylight attacks and a succession of night raids on Allied shipping off the North African coast. The Allied planes shot down six enemy aircraft while ships' guns accounted for two more.

The pilots included Britons, Americans, French and one Norwegian.

A complete account of the persistent but unsuccessful enemy attacks against Allied ships, which were mentioned in yesterday's communique, was released to-day by the R.A.F.

In the initial attempt, the account said, "a wave of enemy fighter-bombers flying at a great height approached, but on being challenged by American-flown Spitfires the majority either jettisoned their bombs or released them within the vicinity of the shipping without coming anywhere near the ships."

Jettison Bombs.

"Within the next hour two further formations of fighter-bombers approached the ships at high altitude, but only a very few dived before dropping their bombs," R.A.F. said, and ships again escaped, while one Focke-Wulf 190 was shot down and another damaged, both by Spitfire Pilot Lieut. Albert C. Adams, of Bristol, Tenn.

Adams reported that three ME-109s and two Focke-Wulf 190s approached while his Spitfire section was patrolling over the ships. After two bursts from his guns one of the Focke-Wulfs exploded about 50 yards above the water and dived into the sea.

Simultaneously, a small force of enemy planes approached a North African port apparently intending to create a diversion and draw the escorting Allied fighter planes away from the ships. They were intercepted by French-flown Spitfires and Warhawks and fled without making any attack.

At dusk a force of enemy bombers approached from the east while a British Hurricane squadron, which has destroyed more than 300 enemy aircraft, was patrolling over the ships.

The Hurricanes attacked and dispersed the enemy bombers, shooting down one JU-88 plane and damaging a Heinkel.

When darkness came the enemy changed his tactics, sending over a succession of single bombers at intervals but, the report said, "these lone raids were no more successful than the others and they cost the enemy four more aircraft destroyed."

Shock Killed Him

OTTAWA, June 30—(CP).—Told a refund was due him from his income tax, 89-year-old Hamlet Colborne hurried to the income tax office yesterday to file his form. As he stepped inside the office door, he dropped dead, and physicians said later his death was due partly to the exertion of climbing the stairs to the office.

Money On Planes Aid Navy Relief

LINDEN, N.J., June 30 —(CP).—United States Navy Relief will receive today a contribution of $5,256 from war workers in an aircraft factory here because Leo Zebrolski found a penny on the factory assembly floor.

Picking it up, the worker used a piece of transparent tape to stick it to a plane that was being assembled there, explaining to a woman welder working with him it would be a "good luck" token for the future pilot.

Using her lipstick as glue, the welder topped that by sticking a quarter to the plane—and the rush was on.

Workers from all over the plant began to stick money to the aircraft, donations ranging from the original penny to a $20 bill.

However, the pilot will never see the money. It was taken from the plane and turned over for Navy Relief.

Americans Hit Messina Tuesday

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, North Africa, June 30 —(AP) — The R. A. F.'s night ranging Wellington bombers returned to the attack on Messina Monday night, Allied Headquarters announced to-day, and bombs were seen to burst on ferry terminal and marshalling yards in that Eastern Sicilian port.

Activities in this theatre yesterday were limited to patrols. Two enemy planes attacking Pantelleria were shot down by anti-aircraft gunners.

Two Allied planes were reported missing from the night and day operations.

The Italian communique, which often has referred to certain of its home cities being attacked a day before the Allied announcement, reported that Messina had been raided again, apparently yesterday. Yesterday's Italian communique also reported a Messina attack the day before.

Porto Empedocle, on the south coast of Sicily, was listed by Rome as raided, with "a few bombs" being dropped.

Activity on the part of the Axis, the broadcast declared, included a bombing attack on th port on Bone yesterday by German planes.

Loose Gas Coupons Bring 4 Arrests

TORONTO, June 30 — (CP)—Four men arrested by Royal Canadian Mounted Police and charged with having loose gasoline ration coupons, were scheduled to appear in court today.

R.C.M.P. said the charges were laid following an investigation of a reported "black market" in loose coupons among war workers of Toronto and suburban areas.

Officers said hundreds of loose coupons were being distributed illegally by the operators and added that one purchaser obtained 280 coupons at one time.

It was learned warrants were being issued for the arrest of other persons in connection with the same offence.

Oba, Ont., June 30 (CP)

RESIDENTS of this railway centre 265 miles north of Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., awoke one morning recently to find one to two inches of snow on the ground. Snowfall also was reported from other points on the Algoma Central Railway—Franz, Hawk Junction, Coppell and Michipicoten.

Two Labor Cases Set For Hearing

TORONTO, June 30 —(CP)—Notices of hearing of two cases in the new Ontario Labor Court today were posted in Osgoode Hall. The cases will be heard Wednesday, July 7, by Mr. Justice J. G. Gillanders, who is acting as judge of the court until the end of July.

The first case is that of the United Steelworkers of America (C.I.O.), seeking a collective bargaining agreement with the Welland Vale Manufacturing Co., Ltd., at Hamilton. The second is between the United Steelworkers and the Hamilton Bridge Co. at Hamilton with the Association of Technical Employees (A.F.L.) listed as "employees-interveners". The Steelworkers are seeking a collective bargaining agreement.

LONDON, July 1.—(CP).— Between 1,200 and 1,500 German deserters from the northern front are imprisoned in prison camps in Norway, the Norwegian Telegraph Agency said to-day. The practice of shooting deserters was dropped by the Nazi High Command when they became so numerous, the Agency said.

Russians Blast Azov Seaport

By WILLIAM McGAFFIN
Associated Press Staff Writer

MOSCOW, June 30—(AP)—Russian bombers have attacked Nazi-held Taman on the Sea of Azov two nights in succession, and military observers here concluded that the Germans are moving fresh troops through that port for possible offensive action on the Taman peninsula and in the Kuban Delta.

Soviet aviation is being used extensively to upset German plans for an offensive all along the eastern front, and the fact that it now appears to be concentrating on Taman is considered significant. There has been only sporadic action in the Kuban for many weeks.

(The German radio in its Wednesday communique made no mention of the Soviet air attack on Taman. It announced the destruction by bombing of a Soviet patrol vessel off Novorossisk in the Black Sea, the torpedoing of two ships aggregating 2,000 gross tons and the sinking of a Russian gunboat in a "naval encounter" in the same area.)

Taman is the last comparatively safe port left the Germans in this extreme southern end of the Russian front. Only two others remain on the peninsula—Anapa which is too dangerous to use and Novorossisk which is even more dangerous as it is under the fire of Russian guns.

OBITUARY

RICHARD O'CONNOR.

The funeral of the late Richard A. O'Connor, 590 Reid Street, was held on Monday from the Duffus Funeral Parlors to St. Peter's Cathedral. Requiem High Mass was celebrated by Father Finn, assisted by Fathers Corkery and Malane. Burial was made at St. Joseph's Cemetery, Douro.

Mr. O'Connor, born in the Township of Douro 73 years ago, carried on a very successful electrical business in the town of Coppercliff for upwards of a quarter of a century then retired and moved to Peterborough nearly six years ago.

He was a member of the Catholic Order of Foresters and a Fourth Degree member of the Knights of Columbus.

Surviving are his wife, formerly Mary T. Walsh, one son Morgan of Edmonton, two sisters Mrs. Denis O'Toole, Peterborough, and Mrs. Mary Whibbs of Douro; also three brothers, Joseph of Douro, James in Florida, and Gregory in Pennsylvania.

The pall-bearers were: William Whibbs, John Whibbs, Victor O'-Toole, George Hickey, Tim Walsh, Edward Walsh.

MRS. BERTHA SHIELD.

The funeral of the late Mrs. Bertha Sophia Shield was held Sunday afternoon from the home of Mrs. J. Lorne Scott, 298 Wolfe street with services conducted by Rev. H. L. Roberts. Following the services at the home of her daughter, the funeral proceeded to the Mount Pleasant United church for the offering of prayers for the deceased. Interment was in Shield's cemetery, Cavan.

Mrs. Shield, who was 79 years of age, was born in Cavan township and moved to Peterborough 4 years ago. She was a member of George Street United church.

She leaves to mourn her loss, two daughters, Mrs. J. L. (Ida) Scott, Peterborough and Mrs. James (Annie) Fee, Cavan; one son, T. G. Shield, of Cavan; two brothers, Walter Garnet, Otonabee, and William Garnet, Brandon, Manitoba; also seven grand children and a niece.

Pallbearers were Messrs. Earl and Harry Garnet, Thomas and James Shield, Chester Best and Walter Brown.

Flower bearers were June Shield, Mrs. Frank Jones, Mrs. Fraser Bowen, Annie Graham, Karl, Barry and Kent Fee, Frank Jones and Murdock McKenzie.

Announcement of the double-barrelled attack were accompanied by an offical statement from British and United States Air Headquarters that a "complete air umbrella" now has been established over the Mediterranean between North Africa and Sicily.

Sea Is Open.

"Now the whole of the Mediterranean from Gibraltar to Suez will be open to our shipping," the statement said, "bringing Alexandria within little more than 3,000 miles of England by comparison with the 12,000 miles aroond the Cape of which our Middle East Forces formerly had to be supplied — and months of saving in time and shipping tonnage."

Monday night's onslaught by the R. A. F. clearly was designed to destroy Sicily's communication by ferry with the Italian mainland and virtually to isolate the big island in the event of invasion.

A communique of the Middle East Command said heavy bombers started a number of fires in Reggio Calabria and returned to their bases without loss.

The long-range Wellingtons operating from Northwest Africa dropped their bombs squarely on Messina's ferry terminal and railroad yards, a communique said, adding to the wreckage piled up by several days and nights of continuous assault on the city last week.

The aerial umbrella over the Sicilian straits is being maintained mainly by veteran British squadrons that have had long experience in guarding the hazardous approaches to the British Isles, the Allied statement said.

In daylight yesterday, the Middle East command reported, long-range fighters swept across the Eastern Mediterranean to attack enemy objectives in occupied Greece, shooting up a locomotive and destroying an Axis plane in combat.

Death Toll 5

OTTAWA, June 30 (CP)—Death toll in yesterday's fire in the Nobel, Ont., cordite plant of Defence Industries Ltd. rose to five today with the death of A. Noland of Callander, Ont., the munitions department announced today.

Ralston Forecasts Terrific Fighting

OTTAWA, June 30—(CP). — Defence Minister Ralston last night visited the University of Ottawa contingent of the Canadian Officers' Training Corps at nearby Connaught Ranges and warned them that "despite our recent successes we are still engaged in a tough and long war."

"Europe has still to be freed," he said. "We have still to match the fighting of Russia and we have to clean up the situation in the Far East.

"There is only one job in the world today: cleaning up those gangsters in all theatres of war. There is still a big job ahead of us. This year and next year will be big years.

"The Canadian army is just getting set and it will give a good account of itself when the time comes.

"We need all the support and enthusiasm of men like yourselves. The kind of freedom we want in Canada is the kind for which men have the courage to fight."

Riots Flare In Greece After Raids

Germans Arrest Hundreds Many Shot Down

By JAMES F. KING,
Associated Press Staff Writer.

LONDON, June 30 (AP) — Seething hatred of Axis occupation forces reported to-day to have erupted into extensive and bloody riots in Athens and other Greek cities as the ever-present threat of an Allied invasion kept tension high throughout Europe.

Turkish dispatches last night said the street disorders broke out Sunday, and a Greek source in Ankara expressed the view they undoubtedly were touched off by the heartening effects of Allied raids last week on airfields near Salinika and Athens.

The Axis took quick and ruthless counter-measures against the Greek rioters, an informed Balkan source reported. Hundreds of demonstrators were said to have been arrested and may shot down. A number of others were believed scheduled for the firing squad.

Prepare In Balkans.

This source said the demonstrations centred in Athens and Salonika, upon which American air raiders last week showered thousands of leaflets containing an encouraging message from President Roosevelt, and in Volos and Larisa, near the east coast.

Other reports to Ankara meanwhile said the Axis was preparing for an Allied thrust into the Balkans.

A German motorized division was said to be taking up posts along the Salonika peninsula, and a German News Agency reported the Rumanian cabinet had decided upon partial evacuation of Bucharest as an air raid precaution. All persons who have recently moved into the capital will be forced to leave, this report stid.

New strengthening of the Axis lines was reported too in southern Italy and its adjoining stepping stone islands of Sicily and Sardinia, as well as in France, where Field Marshal Rommel was said to have concentrated some 350,000 troops in the Rhone Valley. In a Moscow broadcast heard by the Soviet Monitor, the Russian News Agency Tass reported Italy has ordered mobilization of every able bodied resident

Recover Jewelry

TORONTO, July 1.— (CP).—A thief whom police said had been lurking in a side lane on a downtown street dropped a beer carton containing $1,500 worth of jewelry, when he was surprised by a police constable early yesterday. The constable fired one shot in the long chase, but the burglar was not apprehended.

The beer case contained jewelry identified as property stolen a month ago from Levy jewelry shop here, and a hatchet. Poice said several recent break-ins had been accomplished by hacking locks off business establishments. Levy's store had been broken into once before in the same manner.

WHY not take your holidays between July 1st and October 15th and help one of your relatives or friends in the country to harvest his crops? We can't fight if we don't eat, and a week or two, or a month spent in the country will be a useful and patriotic way to spend a wartime holiday.

Decide now to pitch in and help Dad, Brother Jim, Cousin Harry or Bill Smith harvest his essential Victory Crops—crops that mean food for our fighting men, our fighting allies and all of us at home—crops that will be lost to the war effort and to Canada if we don't help save them!

Talk it over tonight and drop a line to one of your friends or relatives in the country and offer to take your holidays when you can be of most help. It will be appreciated if you will write the Ontario Farm Service Force, Parliament Buildings, Toronto, when you have completed arrangements, as a registration is being kept on the response of Ontario citizens to these appeals. If you have some time to give, but have no farm connections, write us full details and we will attempt to direct you to a congenial farmer who will appreciate your help.

Social Justice Now Demanded

COBOURG, June 30 (ENS) — Cobourg Rotarians heard an interesting talk on "Social Justice" at their weekly luncheon here, the speaker being Rev. G. J. Maher of Cobourg. He was introduced by Judge J. C. M. German, and the vote of thanks to the speaker was moved by A. R. Willmott.

"No longer is man satisfied with being but a cog in a machine. He wants to be a little capitalist with something to put aside for the future," declared Father Maher. Often the wages paid to the worker were so small that he was unable to put aside some of his earnings for the future. He cited a large firm which at one time paid men $9.90 a week but out of its profits was able to build a million dollar summer resort which is now practically unused. The government studied every problem except that of wages and there was the chance that the underpaid worker might become "red" in his outlook.

Explains Justice

Father Maher declared that "justice" is the thing which regulates man's conduct toward his fellow man.

"A working man is not a Robinson Crusoe living on an island, passed by by modern improvements, or a monk in a desert, or is he a robot. He is a creature of flesh and blood. He craves improvement, not only in his conditions of life, but in lives of those around him. He has the right to establish and improve a home. Labor has a personal dignity. A man does not sell himself to a plant owner, but sells his strength and ability, for so many hours each day.

"A living wage was defined 700 years ago as a three-fold thing—enough for man to live upon, enough to have ordinary recreation and enough to make a small savings."

The speaker quoted Pope Leo XIII as having said in 1891: "With the expanse of modern industry, a small number of very rich men are laying on the shoulders of the multitude a burden which amounts practically to slavery."

The radical viewpoint of "divide it up" does not solve the problem, said the speaker.

Rotary Attendance 88.75

COBOURG, June 30 — (ENS). —Cobourg Rotary Club wound up its year with reports by the various officers and committees. Secretary Fred Blackwell stated that five members had been lost and four gained. Harold Staples and Judge L. V. O'Connor were members who had passed away during the year. Average attendance was 88.75 per cent. W. J. Maize, treasurer of the Club gave a summary of the finances. The retiring president, R. N. McKenzie, thanked the members for their co-operation during the year. The new president, Reuben Freeman, takes over at the next meeting.

A Nasty Charge

SAN FRANCISCO, June 30—(AP) —Gene Krupa, drummer and band leader, went on trial in juvenile court yesterday on a felony charge of using a minor for transportation of narcotics. Krupa has been serving a 90-day sentence in the county jail for possession of Marihuana cigarets.

COBOURG

Hospital Staff Honors Nurse

COBOURG, June 30 — (ENS) — Miss Irene Shaw, superintendent of nurses at the Ontario Hospital, Cobourg, who leaves soon to take over her new duties as superintendent of Lord Dufferin Hospital, Orangeville, was tendered a testimonial dinner by the Ontario Hospital Staff at The Baltimore Hotel on Monday night.

Dr. George Kidd, medical superintendant of the Ontario Hospital, was chairman and expressed the regret of the staff in losing her services. The hospital had been very fortunate in having her as nursing superintendent and she would be difficult to replace. The staff was very sorry to see her go but wished her the best of luck in her new post. Dr. Kidd also referred to the prominent part which Miss Shaw had played in home nursing classes organization, the blood clinic, and other nursing services outside the sphere of The Ontario Hospital.

Addresses, eulogizing Miss Shaw, were also given by Miss M. Polson and Charles Waller of the staff.

Mrs. Kathlyn Smith read the testimonial address from the whole staff and Miss Gertrude Ackers presented Miss Shaw with a gold wrist watch from the entire hospital staff. Miss Beryl Kelly presented Miss Shaw, with a corsage of flowers on behalf of the supervisors.

Thanking the staff, Miss Shaw said that she treasuered the friendships which she had made during her stay in Cobourg. She declared that any success which she had was entirely due to the co-operation of the hospital personnel. While she looked forward to her new duites at the hospital in Orangeville, there was nevertheless a feeling of regret in leaving the pleasant associations of The Ontario Hospital in Cobourg.

The toast to the King was proposed by Charles Waller. The gathering held a period of community singing with Don McLaren, physcholist intern of the hospital, at the piano. Miss Polson sang a solo, "Danny Boy," accompained by Mr. McLaren.

At the opening of the dinner, Dr. Austin Allen said Grace.

Obituary

MRS. GEORGE WILSON.

WARKWORTH, June 30 (ENS).—Monday afternoon the funeral service for the late Mrs. George Wilson was held from the family residence and was conducted by Rev. Dr. J. R. R. Cooper. Rev. W. E. Smyth assisted.

Mrs. Wilson passed away last Saturday. She had been in poor health for about four years, but it was not until about three months ago that her illness was thought serious.

Before her marriage, which took place April 30, 1880, at Ythan Wells, Scotland, she was Magdaline Yule. She was born at St. Fergus, Scotland, September 30, 1861.

For sixty years she has been a resident of this village. She was highly esteemed by her many friends for her fine Christian character and kindness to others. She was a faithful member of St. Paul's United Church, and as long as health permitted took an active part in church work. She will be sadly missed in this village, where she has lived so long.

Besides her sorrowing husband, she is survived by three sons and three daughters: George, Rochester, N.Y.; James, Neepawa, Man.; Alexander and Mrs. J. B. Dingman, Hudson; Mrs. William Smooker, Warkworth, and Mrs. Elmer Hoertz, of Rochester, N.Y.; also three sisters: Mrs. John Dick of Warkworth, Mrs. H. G. Bolster and Mrs. Robert Darkins, and one brother, Robert Yule of Cobourg. One son, William, gave his life in World War I.

The many beautiful floral tributes were a further testimony of the high esteem in which deceased was held.

Pall-bearers were Messrs. A. Weatherson, J. W. Mowat, C. S. Osborne, G. B. Bowen, O. B. Phillips and T. Somers.

Interment in Warkworth Cemetery.

Starting Young

KINGSTON, Ont., June 30 (CP) —In response to an appeal by the R.C.A.F. Women's Division, for women entertainers, two young girls presented themselves at the Kingston Recruiting Depot. Officials watched them go through their act—a song and dance routine —and then suggested that the girls go home and grow up first. They were 10 and 12 years old.

Minister Given Purse Of Money

HASTINGS, June 30—(ENS). — Over 40 members of St. George's Anglican church gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Gillespie on Thursday evening to bid farewell to the Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Herbert and family. The evening was spent in playing games. During the evening Mr. Charlie Plant read a very suitable address and Mr. Gillespie presented them with a purse of money. Mr. Herbert replied on behalf of his wife and family.

Jack Taylor moved a vote of thanks to Mr. Herbert for all his time and help to the A.Y.P.A. Mr. and Mrs. Gillespie then served strawberries to the guests. A vote of thanks was moved to the host and hostess for the most enjoyable evening.

Rev. Herbert preached his farewell service on Sunday evening to a full house in St. George's Anglican church. The L.O.L. met in a body and attended the service, of which Mr. Herbert was a member. The Campbellford choir provided special music.

Anniversary.

The 85th anniversary services of St. Andrew's Presbyterian church were well attended on Sunday. The church was beautifully decorated with silver baskets of moss roses and peonies. The choir provided special music for the occasion. The Rev. Archie Thompson of Toronto, conducted the services, assisted by Rev. Smyth of Warkworth in the evening. The many friends gathered to hear Rev. Thompson, as his father, the Rev. D. A. Thompson, was pastor of this charge for 50 years when he passed away.

Knox Claims War Will Last 3 Years

CORONADO, Calif., June 30 — (AP). — The United Nations face a long and bitter war, one which may last three or four or more years before the Axis is crushed, United States Navy Secretary Frank Knox declared last night.

Speaking at a meeting of high ranking United States Army, Navy and Marine officials and executives of San Diego City and County Governments, Mr. Knox said the time is approaching when the United Nations can put into effect plans for victory.

"And for our own success," the Secretary continued, "let me urge that it's better to calculate that the war will last for three to four years more, and take steps to that effect."

Campbellford Plant Planning To Reopen

CAMPBELLFORD, June 30-(ENS) —The Trent Dehydrated products Company of this town which transferred all of its machinery for the artificial drying of alfalfa from here to Western Ontario about a month ago is to resume operations here in the near future. According to an announcement from the firm's head office in Toronto the plant will begin cutting and grinding alfalfa early in July. It is expected that from fifteen to twenty employees will be sought to operate the plant.

Babies Galore

BOWMANVILLE, Ont., June 30 —(CP).—Directors of the Bowmanville hospital are considering the addition of a new wing to the building because of the increase in the birth rate in the municipality, Miss Winnifred Hudson, superintendent, announced. There were 15 babies in the nursery last week, bringing the total deliveries this year to 94, she said.

Soldiers, Nurses Hold Picnic

GORE'S LANDING, June 30—(ENS).—The officers and men of the 18th General Hospital Unit from Cobourg with about 30 nursing sisters, held a picnic on Sunday in Herald's Camp. Arriving in big trucks and several cars, around 150 men enjoyed the outing on the lake with lunch in the park. Before leaving at 4.30 p.m. they staged an impromptu sing-song for the benefit of the largest audience congregated in the camp.

With temperatures hovering in the eighties the past week, all cottages were filled over the week-end, with people cooling off in the Rice Lake breezes. Traffic was particularly heavy through this village all day Sunday and during the entire week-end, the busiest this season.

M. J. McDonald, who has been in St. Michael's Hospital, Toronto, for over three months, returned to his home last week and is improving in health. Royal MacDonald of Manning Pool, spent the week-end at his home.

Miss Emily Pratt and Jack Pratt, Toronto, attended their brother's wedding on Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Edwards, Mr. and Mrs. Dick Westheuser and family, of Toronto, spent the week-end at their cottages.

Master Robt. H. Meggs returned on Saturday from Queen Elizabeth Sea Cadet camp, Beausoliel Island.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Nicholls, Jane and Charles, of Cobourg, were at their cottage over Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Harris and baby of Cobourg, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Thompson on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs Fred Harris, Mrs. Lyle Ball and children and Mrs. Melville Harris spent a few days in Ottawa this past week attending the graduating ceremonies at Ottawa Civic Hospital, where Miss Helen Harris was one of the graduating class.

Students from S.S. No. 16 attended the Greek War Relief concert in the town hall, Port Hope, on Saturday evening. Included were Helen and Lola Thackeray, Joan Harris, Billy Meggs, Garnet Thackeray, Viola Harris, Eric and Robert Harris.

Miss Edith Macklin of Mt. Dennis, is visiting her sister, Mrs. Luther Westington, Rice Lake Drive.

Mrs. Lyle Wallace, Mrs. Karl Harris, Mrs. Lyle Ball, Mrs. Clare Harris and Mrs. R. J. Meggs attended the banquet at the Chateau Hotel, Cobourg, on Monday night when Col. Geo. Drew was guest speaker.

Presentation Is Made Girl Joining R.C.A.F.

CAMPBELLFORD, June 30 (ENS) —Miss Lorraine Phillips, who recently enlisted with the R.C.A.F. Women's Division, was entertained by friends at a party given in her honor on Monday evening. Miss Phillips was surprised by a group of employees from the local cloth company who called at her home to present her with a wallet bearing an R.C.A.F. crest. The evening was spent in playing games and concluded with refreshments. Miss Phillips is a daughter of Mrs. Mae Phillips and the late Pte. Fred Phillips of the 8th Battalion, World War I.

Poor Service

BLIND RIVER, Ont., June 30—(CP). — Mrs. Dollard Camirand has just received a letter from her younger brother, Lawrence Wilson, mailed on June 12, 1942, from Hong Kong where he is a prisoner of war. The letter, which took a year and nine days to reach this community in Algoma, stated the writer was receiving good treatment from the Japanese.

Newlyweds Chivararied

CAVAN, June 30 — (ENS). — About 75 friends and neighbors met at Tom McCamus' gate on Monday at 11 p.m., and proceeded to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Staples (nee Muriel Hannah), and demonstrated an old-fashioned charivari. After 15 minutes of noise the newlyweds opened the door and looked the crowd over with a flashlight and invited them inside.

A social hour was spent, while the bride and groom served a delicious lunch, sandwiches, pickles, cookies and punch.

Yes! CANADIAN GENERAL ELECTRIC Helps Produce War Planes

C.G.E. EQUIPMENT FOR AIRCRAFT INCLUDES:

Instruments • Generators • Wiring Devices
Voltage Regulators • Insulating Materials
Control Devices • Wire and Cable • Lamps
Lighting Equipment • Radio Equipment Plastic Parts

THOSE giant Canadian-built bombers . . . those nimble Canadian-built fighters . . . wherever they roar down upon the enemy they carry into action dependable parts and equipment produced by Canadian General Electric—a dashboard of precise, reliable aircraft instruments . . . a lighting or control installation . . . vital radio epuipment, a generator or a device that is still upon the secrets list!

In a host of ways, the Company is contributing to the building of Canada's air strength. It has the experience, the facilities and the trained personnel needed to handle the fine, intricate work involved in aircraft equipment production. C.G.E. is today playing a leading part in the nation's rapidly-growing aircraft industry.

An amazing number of precision aircraft instruments, to help pilots fly day and night through all kinds of weather, are manufactured by skilful C.G.E. workers.

Confusion On Wartime Strikes

The Government of the United States has now in its possession a drastic means of dealing with wartime strikes. No one can say whether the weapon will do harm or good, but our own feeling is that it has immense potentialities for evil. Neither the President nor Congress can escape responsibility for the effects of the Connally-Smith bill, for it is the outcome of many years of ambiguous handling of the labour problems of the U.S. It is true that the President vetoed the bill, and that Congress overrode his veto, but the bill has its roots in Mr. Roosevelt's past actions for all that.

Labour conditions in the U.S. affect labour conditions in Canada strongly, and in this country we have had to meet many problems which were caused by our neighbour. All the respect and admiration which the people of this country have for Mr. Roosevelt cannot blind us to the fact that during his administration he has encouraged the growth of large labour empires, like that of which John L. Lewis is leader; these empires are not trades unions, as we understand them, but immensely powerful blocs, capable of disrupting the whole economy of a nation and capricious in the use of their power. Yesterday in our third column we published a survey of the trades union situation in Canada, from the Kingston Whig-Standard, which showed how well our system of independent unions works for labour, for employers and for the consumer; but the mighty labour empires of the U.S. are quite unlike these, and they have shown their strength since the U.S. became implicated in this war.

That strength was given them by the U.S. Government. The Wagner Act made it illegal for employers to deal with strikers by discharging them or by any other method of discipline; subsequent legislation has helped to build up the great labour empires, and to create distrust and contempt for the employers. As the New York Times expresses it: "It (the Government) has given employers more and more responsibilities and fewer and fewer rights; it has given unions more and more rights and fewer and fewer responsibilities". The Roosevelt administration has, like Frankenstein, created a monster which now defies its maker.

And what is the result? Strongly repressive means have been taken to deal with the monster. Can anyone hope for lasting good from such action? Even if it works until the end of the war, what will happen then? Will not labour remember that it was suddenly gelded of its power, and find means to express its resentment? The plain truth is that labour in the U.S. has been abused, for it has been given powers far beyond its needs, and has now been deprived of what it may well consider its rights. The dealings of the Government have been chiefly with imperious and demanding labour leaders, and scarcely at all with bodies of intelligent and loyal workmen.

If strikes had been outlawed throughout industry the matter would have been bad enough, but they have been outlawed only in those industries which the Government has taken over. Thus some workers are still free to strike and others are not. The feeling which this situation will create can readily be imagined. The whole system is now unbelievably tangled, and the complexities will grow worse with time. The Roosevelt regime has been distinguished by much notable statesmanship and legislation, but its labour policy has been unrealistic, and as a result labour and Government have been set at each other's throats. Just now Government has the upper hand, but we cannot expect it to retain its advantage permanently.

What Do Our Soldiers Think?

Recently a number of reports have come to us about what our forces abroad think of wartime strikes. Understandably, they resent such strikes vigorously, and talk of a reckoning when they return home after the war. We can discount some of such talk, but not all of it. Even when it is discounted heavily there is still evidence of a deep resentment which will undoubtedly create a postwar problem of the most difficult kind. For obvious reasons this sort of talk is most common among the American troops, but the Canadians have their thoughts on the subject also.

Who can blame them? A man who enlists for active service resigns voluntarily most of the rights which a citizen enjoys. He may be well cared for, he may be entertained, he may benefit in health, he may be well paid, but he is not free; loyalty has induced him to give up his freedom for the period of his service, and permit himself to be treated rather like a child. When he sees men who have not enlisted quarreling fiercely for rights which are trifles compared with those which he has given up, why should he not be disgusted? When he hears of strikes for higher wages, when he himself is serving for a sum which may be a mere fraction of his peacetime salary, why should he not be bitter? When he hears of strikes lasting for weeks, when he himself is subjected to boarding-school discipline, rebuked if he is impudent to his officers, and shot if he fails in his duty, why should he not feel disgust toward a system—miscalled democracy — which permits such inequalities? The soldier may well feel that he is the fall-guy for the striker; he is the sucker, the patsy, whose desire to serve has been abused and turned to account by shrewd and grasping fellows whom he once thought were his fellow-citizens.

No one wants riots and outbreaks after the war, but wartime strikers are doing their best to provoke them.

A Disservice To Australia . . .

Wide publicity has been given on this continent to strictures which have been passed upon the young women of Australia by prominent churchmen of that country. The Roman Catholic Archbishop of Brisbane said bluntly that "he had heard that the cheapest thing in Australia was its girls"; the Moderator-General of the General Assembly said that the Archbishop's remark was "substantially correct". The president of the Methodist Conference was not so sweeping; he said that "Australia has no better asset than its girls who wanted something more than a good time", and added that "young women make the morals of a nation". In making this last statement he obviously referred to sexual conduct alone, which is only one part, and not the most important part, of any system of morality. But in our opinion the situation was best summed up by a prominent worker in the Y.W.C.A., who said that the chief trouble lay with girls between 14 and 16 who lacked experience and self-control, and said "For one girl whose conduct is questionable, hundreds are setting a decent standard."

The Australian problem is of interest here because a similar problem exists in Canada. Conditions brought about by war increase the numbers of sexual scrapes among young people generally, and the presence of foreign troops, as in Australia and some parts of Canada, aggravates the trouble. But it is rarely that girls of good upbringing and good sense are involved; lack of parental authority, thoughtfully exercised, lies at the root of much of the trouble. Unfortunately it is too late to build up such authority when a girl has formed a taste for roaming the streets and picking up strange men.

But we think that it is unjust that all the girls of a nation should be aspersed because a few of them are ill brought-up and foolish. Sweeping judgements like that of the Archbishop of Brisbane are of disservice to Australia when they are repeated abroad.

NOTE AND COMMENT

A rumour factory, of course, is a place where yarns are twisted.

It is well to be polite, but there is no need to rise when a lady enters a canoe.

We have little use for hustlers; they are generally hustling because they are already late for something.

Youth, venturesome youth! We read of an Italian midshipman who has deserted his navy and run away to sea.

It is now possible to travel from Ottawa to Moscow in three days. Physically, of course; the mental journey still takes a little longer than that.

We wish to thank the Edmonton Bulletin for a copy of its special Alaska Highway and Air Progress edition, an extremely handsome and interesting publication of 92 pages. It is clear that Edmonton has a great future before it, and it has one indispensible adjunct of community improvement—a first-rate newspaper.

Journalism At The Risk Of Life

By SAMUEL MARCHBANKS

EVERYONE has heard of the underground press in Occupied Europe, but few people have any notion of its extent, its nature, or the way in which it works. The essence of the secret press is that it produces and distributes its papers in the greatest secrecy, for complicity in the production of an underground newspaper is punishable by death. A little information has leaked out, however, which helps us to understand the secret press and the devotion and patriotism of the men who keep it alive; their patriotism is for their country, but their devotion is for their profession. Journalists, however calloused they may appear to be on matters which arouse the emotions of other people, are deeply devoted to their profession. The best among them look upon themselves as guardians of that freedom of speech which has been so painfully won for the press and the public, and when that freedom is attacked they are capable of deeds which are nothing short of heroic.

PERHAPS the most surprising thing about the underground press is the accomplished and professional appearance of its papers. We are apt to think of these publications as the work of zealots who print their sheets furtively in cellars, and they may be so, but they do not look like it. They are well printed on good paper, and the balance between news and comment has an unmistakeably professional look. The underground workers do a splendid job of editing and producing their papers. True, one of the best underground papers, was printed with a child's box of type for a brief time, and its first issue took a month to set and print; even at that it ran only fifty copies. This was "Valmy," and its editor was Paul Simon, who later left France to join the forces of his country abroad; by that time his paper had a readership of 100,000. Underground papers, it must be explained, think of "readership" and not of "circulation." The papers are passed from hand to hand in a well-established rotation, and no one keeps an underground paper in his possession needlessly; the consequences of reading such papers are very disagreeable.

THE underground papers do not, surprisingly, take an embittered and fanatical point of view. The French "Pantagruel," for instance, lived up to its good humanist name when it commented in a most reasonable manner on the British raids on Oran and Dakar, and once made this startling statement of policy: "England, let us not forget, has declared that her war aims include the re-establishment of the integral territory of France. That is why we look forward to her victory, though not necessarily to the humiliation of the German people whose talent nobody ignores....We shall thus constrain ourselves to avoid any spiteful or bitter criticism of the Germans...." This paper had a readership of ten thousand before its editor was discovered and shot.

THE underground papers are very well informed, and provide their readers with an excellent news service. On one occasion a French paper published a full report of an extremely secret and important meeting of Nazis, thereby shaking the conquerors to their very roots. France has more underground papers than the other nations, and the most prominent are those already mentioned, "Franc-Tireur," "Liberation" and "Combat"; these last three print from sixty to eighty thousand copies a fortnight. Where do they get the paper? No one knows, but it seems reasonable to imagine that rolls are "lost" now and again on the books of paper companies, and find their way to the underground press. As the Germans so justly complain, there are patriots everywhere.

BELGIUM also has several underground papers, each with a decided party bias. There is "La Libre Belgique," revived from the last war; there are "L'Espoir," "Combattre" and "Le Monde du Travail" for the Socialists; there are "Le Temps Nouveaux," "Clarte," "Le Drapeau Rouge" and "La Jeunesse Nouvelle" for the Communists; there is even a woman's paper, "La Voix des Femmes." In the Netherlands the chief underground paper is "Het Parool," which prints five thousand copies and intimate knowledge of the doings of the Dutch Nazis, which it reports with disconcerting fullness of detail, often before the plans are fully developed; "Het Parool" calls the turn with an accuracy which alarms the Quislings.

IN every country in Europe these papers are to be found, distinguished for their integrity, their accuracy and their freedom from fanaticism. Behind them are journalists who are risking their lives daily in order to preserve something which they value above mere existence—the free expression of opinion.

Unconsidered Trifles

Two women met.

"Oh, I meant to ask you, my dear," said the first, "did you adopt my suggestion about curing your husband of walking in his sleep by putting a tub of water by his bed?"

"Yes," replied the other, somewhat grimly, "and it also cured me of putting a tub of water by his bed."

Elsie—What kind of husband would you advise me to get, grandma?

Grandma—You just leave husbands alone and get yourself a single man.

A wise fellow stepping up to the bus as it stopped the other morning said to the driver:

"Well, Noah, you've got here. Is the Ark full?"

The motor man answered back: "Nope, we need one more monkey. Come on in."

"Come, come, Joan, surely you know if the world is round or square?... Mary, tell her!"

"It's crooked, teacher," said Mary, darkly.

An Italian dispatch rider returned to his base and reported to his C.O.: "Please, a British soldier stopped me on the road, searched me, took all my papers, then walked away."

"What!" yelled the Italian officer, "you let him search you? You had a revolver, hadn't you?"

"Oh, yes," said the dispatch rider with a cunning smile, "but he didn't find that. I hid it in my hat!"

Perhaps Mr. Roosevelt Doesn't Mind

(OTTAWA JOURNAL)

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT having vetoed the Congress bill which, under certain circumstances, would jail instigators of strikes, Congress struck back by vetoing Mr. Roosevelt's veto; used its two-thirds majority to tell him in effect that it had no confidence in his handling of John L. Lewis and that it proposed to handle him differently.

Perhaps in his heart Mr. Roosevelt isn't mad. A superb politician, may be he reasoned that if this thing had to be done, or was a good thing to do, the right people to do it were in Congress, and that by vetoing the anti-Lewis bill and then getting vetoed himself he would kill two birds with one stone; Continue personally to stand reasonably well with labor (which is bitterly opposed to the legislation) yet have the law passed. With the presidential elections coming round next year, and Mr. Roosevelt likely to be a fourth-term candidate, that mightn't be so bad.

At any rate, this sharply-fanged anti-strike law is now on the statute books, and it will be interesting to see what happens. Contrary to common belief, it doesn't provide jail and fines for people who promote strikes in private industries; the jailing and fining come only when the industry is operated by the Government. However, as the President is given statutory authority to seize war plants the law can be made to apply to practically all war industries, and it certainly is wide in its scope, taking in anybody who may "coerce, instigate, induce, conspire with or encourage any person to strike in a Government-seized plant or mine".

This doesn't mean that all existing wages and working conditions are frozen; that workers can't demand and work for redress of just grievances. Labor can still lay its case before the War Labour Board, which has full authority to investigate and make decisions.

Actually, this United States law seems to be aimed at John L. Lewis. It will be worth while watching what he does about it—or watching what happens to him if he doesn't do much about it.

Roses by Thousands for Paderewski

MORGES is an old town. It has a ruined castle of the thirteenth century, an old seventh-century tower, a romantic atmosphere. When Paderewski decided to settle here his own romantic taste inclined him to the purchase of a certain ancient chateau, very picturesque. But the wise counsels of his wife prevailed against that. Riond-Bosson, the villa that he had previously rented from the Count Marois, a comfortable modern dwelling, was much better suited to the comfort which Madame Paderewski, woman-like, knew that he must have if he was to do his work. The house, well removed from the highroad, stands at the top of an open green that has a quiet inviting slope to it. Red brick, built somewhat in the manner of an Italian villa, with numerous verandas, balconies and awnings, and a friendly entrance, the Paderewski villa has a spacious, rambling, homelike air to it, and commands a superb prospect. To the south, across the lake, rise the magnificent ranges of the Savoyard Alps; beyond, plainly seen through the gap of the valley, the fifteen-thousand-foot splendor of Mont Blanc, monarch of the Alps, lifts its snowy spire in enormous majesty....

He did not altogether like it at first. With a romantic love of the mountains he felt nevertheless as all prairie-bred people feel when they come into a mountainous country; they feel shut in. Something crushing in this stupendous panorama; it takes a little time to adjust to it, to accustom one's eyes to that motionless heaven-high surf of glacial peaks breaking eternally in an eternal stillness against the sky....

Outside, a riot of verdure, a riot of colour. Roses by the thousands. Paderewski is passionately fond of flowers; violets and roses are his favourites; but nearly every year, going away on tour, he misses spring and the violets, so makes up for this in summer-time with roses. Tall evergreens, big century-old lindens and chestnuts, border the wide lawns, for Riond-Bosson is an old place with its own romantic history. It was built during the French Revolution by the Marquis de Tournelles after he fled to Switzerland....There are tubbed orange trees, hedges of pink geranium, odorous beds of mignonette and heliotrope, high fountains of purple wistaria dripping with clustered bloom; and always roses. There is not only a large formal rose garden with every imaginable species and colour, but roses climb in profusion over the hedges, cover the fences, bloom even between the trees in the orchard. Bird-houses are at every turn, the place is alive with wild wings and song and restful with the murmur of fountains and the perfume of flowers.—From "Paderewski: The Story of a Modern Immortal," by Charles Phillips. (New York: Macmillan, 1934.)

Whitehall Notebook

(By DOUGLAS AMARON, Canadian Press Staff Writer)

LONDON, June 30 (CP)—The United Nations are winning the war if the British barometer of domestic discontent is any indication.

The home front is decidedly stormy and that usually is a sign that all is well abroad. For when the war winds are blowing ill, Britons forget domestic problems in their concern for what is going on overseas.

There's nothing very serious to worry about but squabbles which in times of stress lay dormant are being brought now to the fore. Take, for instance, these headlines culled in two days from London newspapers:

"Two unions demand repeal of 'nauseous restrictions' in trade disputes act."

"Worst of all modern acts."

The obnoxious legislation which prompted these headings is, as the first one indicates, the trade disputes act. The "nauseous restrictions" are clause five which prevents civil servants unions from affiliating with the Trades Union Congress.

Several civil servants unions, supported by the T.U.C., declared they want the clause removed. One union went so far as to apply to the T.U.C. for admission and that powerful labour organization indicated it will defy the government by accepting the application.

"Hero list overdue; MPs want names."

This is an old complaint brought up to date. Unlike the Canadian services, the British always have been reluctant to name their heroes. The Tunisian battles, with their countless tales of gallantry, brought fresh demands for more leniency in the matter of names.

Both the Lords and the Commons debated the issue, while the press threw its weight on the side of those who believe heroes should be named. The pressure brought from the war office the epic account of the 155th Battery, Royal Artillery, which held a post until all but nine of its 130 officers and men were killed, but not a man was named.

Asked the Daily Mirror: "Who were the 130 heroes of heroes?"

And the News-Chronicle: "Who were the nine survivors? What was the name of the battery commander?"

The last question was answered by the Daily Mail which reported he was 36-year-old Maj. John Raworth, now a prisoner of war in Italy.

"Scandle in fruit prices."

"Inspectors hunt vanishing food."

This is the berry season, but try to get any. The papers claim the missing berries are going into the black market, then being sold for about $1.56 a basket compared with the controlled price of 60 cents.

The complaint is that as soon as prices are controlled foodstuffs disappear from the regular market. Salmon and lobsters are other items which only the first in the queue can buy in the shops.

Another point of dispute is the government's slowness in building 3,000 much-needed farm cottages, as promised by Health Minister Ernest Brown. Only a few have been complete, although Mr. Brown says the others will be started shortly.

In the meantime much was made of the fact that three farmyard barns in Wiltshire were licenced as residences. Out came the headlines: "Soldiers families live in barns," "Live in barn—at £1 a week."

The "West End rents racket" is being aired these days, while another favorite topic for discussion is pensions. Considerable parliamentary criticism of the present pensions scale for servicemen and their dependents may bring further concessions from the government shortly.

Even the clergy aren't forgotten in this airing of old grievances. It was suggested in parliament that the Archbishop of York evaded taxation and increased his income when the ecclesiastical commissioners took over his house and paid him reduced stipend.

Clergymen and the laity from all over the country rose to his defence and the poverty of the clergy was headline news for three whole days.

Tomorrow, most of these complaints will be forgotten. In some cases there will be reforms, in others the grievances will die a natural death. But there'll be new ones to take their places. It would be an unhealthy sign if there weren't.

A Bible Message

Keep not thy silence, O God: hold not thy peace, and be not still, O God. For, lo, thine enemies make a tumult; and they that hate thee have lifted up the head....

O my God, make them like a wheel; as the stubble before the wind.... Let them be confounded and troubled for ever: yea, let them be put to shame, and perish: that men may know that thou, whose name alone is JEHOVAH, art the most high over all the earth. (Ps. 83: 1, 2, 13, 17, 18.)

Who hath directed the Spirit of the Lord, or being his counsellor hath taught him?.... All nations before him are as nothing; and they are counted to him less than nothing, and vanity.

To whom then will ye liken God? or what likeness will ye compare unto him? (Isa. 40: 13, 17, 18.)

One Right Word

Any one may mouth out a passage with a theatrical cadence, or get up on stilts to tell his thoughts; but to write or speak with propriety and simplicity is a more difficult task....Out of eight or ten words equally common, equally intelligible, with nearly equal pretensions, it is a matter of some nicety and discrimination to pick out the very one, the preferableness of which is scarcely perceptible, but decisive....I conceive that words are like money, not the worse for being common, but that it is the stamp of custom alone that gives them circulation or value....

The proper force of words lies not in the words themselves, but in their application. A word may be a fine-sounding word, of an unusual length, and very imposing from its learning and novelty, and yet in the connection in which it is introduced, may be quite pointless and irrelevant.—From "On Familiar Style," by William Hazlett (1821).

Leaf Shadows

How beautiful a rock is made by leaf shadows! Those of the live oak are particularly clear and distinct, and beyond all art in grace and delicacy, now still as if painted on stone, now gliding softly as if afraid of noise, now dancing, waltzing in swift, merry swirls, or jumping on and off sunny rocks in quick dashes like wave embroidery on seashore cliffs. How true and substantial is this shadow beauty, and with what sublime extravagance is beauty thus multiplied!—From "My First Summer in the Sierra," by John Muir. (Boston: Houghton Mifflin.)

Citizens Asked To Purchase 67 Depth Bombs

Every Canadian is anxious to do something that will strike a hard blow at the Axis powers and from now on till the end of July they are going to have the opportunity to do some real harm to Hitler's hordes if they get busy and support the campaign to purchase 67 depth bombs for the Canadian Navy.

It takes $90 to buy one bomb and this means that the Examiner News Carrier boys are going to have to live up to their reputations as salesmen if they are going to sell enough stamps to make these depth charges possible. Stores and hotels are lending assistance too, and with so many of her sons serving in the Navy, the city of Peterborough should be ready to back this appeal to the limit.

Posters and charts representing depth charges will be on display in the various stores, restaurants and hotels aiding the Carrier boys. On the purcahes of four stamps a sticker, called a Stamp-O-Gram, will be given the buyer and he writes his name and address and any message and then it will be placed on a poster or chart which has 90 spaces. When the entire 90 spaces are filled then the uposter is sent to Ottawa where the Department of Munitions and Supply will assign it to a Canadian boat along with the delivery of the depth charges.

34 Depth Charges.

This is a community effort and in the past the people of this city have enthusiastically backed every drive connected with the war effort. The Examiner boys are endeavouring to sell enough stamps to purchase 34 depth bombs and the other business places will do their share of canvassing for the others. If the navy has the materials, they can wage a shattering offensive against the U-boat menace.

The following merchants will have stamps and charts for the month's drive. They are: Warne's Jewellery Store, Schneiders' Jewellery Store, Bert Austin, M. E. Knox, Empress Hotel, Grand Hotel, Queens Hotel, American Hotel, King's Hotel, Champlain Hotel, Banks of Montreal, Commerce, Nova Scotia, Toronto, Dominion Bank and Royal Bank of Canada, Bell Telephone Company, Y.M.C.A., Y.W.C.A., and the Post Office.

Eleven Life Insurance Companies are co-operating, and thees are Confederation Life Association, Great-West Life Assurance Company, Dominion Life Assurance, London Life Assurance, Mutual Life Assurance, Metropolitan Life Insurance, Manufacturers Life Insurance, Sun Life Assurance, North American Life Assurance, Prudential Life Insurance, and Imperial Life Assurance. There are also: E. C. Braund, Loblaw Groceteria, A. & P. Store, Mason's Groceteria, Grafton & Co., Ed. Riley, Selkirk's Men's Wear, Fashion Craft Shops Ltd., Richard Hall Ltd., Robert Fair & Co., Ltd.

Other business places lending their help are: D. Belleghem & Son, C. P. R. Ticket Office, C. N. R. Telegraph L. Demos, Lillico Motors, Ontario Department of Agriculture, Paris Cafe, Cherney Bros., A. Comstock & Sons, W. J. Hamilton Furs, William Lech & Sons Ltd., R. Neill Ltd., Peterborough Automotive Supply, Peterborough District Co-op and the Canada Packers.

Throughout the County men have been placed in charge of the drive in their respective areas. At Havelock there is T. Lancaster; Norwood, W. H. Giffen; Keene, Rev. George Murray; Lakefield, W. H. Stabler; Young's Point, C. Pelton and at Warsaw, H. Darling.

Child Swallows Key Magnet Removes It

TORONTO, June 30 (CP).—Authorities at the hospital for Sick Children her said to-day a coffee can key swallowed by three-year-old Judith Pitt of Toronto was removed yesterday with a magnet.

The magnet, enclosed in a tube, was put down the child's throat after an anaesthetic was administered. Attendants said the key was lodged at the entrance to her stomach. It was about an inch long.

The child's father, Reginald Pitt, said Judith had played with the key for six months, pretending to lock and unlock doors in the house. Yesterday, he added, she wasn't feeling very well and took the key from her purse and put it in her mouth.

Authorities said the child may be able to leave hospital to-day.

East Coast Area Given More Food

HALIFAX, June 30 (CP). — The Halifax-Dartmouth area, swollen to nearly two-thirds more than its normal population, has been granted an increase in its quota of unrationed foods and other supplies for civilians, Regional Prices Board Representative W. Stanley Lee announced to-day.

The increase amounts to 15 per cent. for wholesale and 10 per cent. for retail requirements. This is based on consumption in 1941, but does not include supplies for ships, which are provided from special sea stores, or for the armed services.

Three other Nova Scotia areas also have been granted increases. Pictou receives a 25 per cent. boost because of a large number of war workers there. Sydney and Yarmouth each receive 10 per cent. increases in wholesale and retail supplies.

British Planes Surprise Convoy

LONDON, June 30 — (CP).—An enemy convoy of three merchant vessels, heavily escorted by E-boats, was attacked by the R. A. F. during the night while attempting to pass through the Strait of Dover, the Air Ministry reported to-day.

One vessel and at least two of the escort craft were said to have been damaged. All planes returned.

Typhoons went in first when the convoy was sighted hugging the coast between Gris Nez and Boulogne, flying through intense flake to press home the attack. Albacores then charged in with bombs and one pilot reported seeing explosions straddling a ship and its escort.

The attempt to pas sthe convoy up the channel may have accounted for a gun duel across the Straits which southcoast residents said was one of the fiercest of the war. British guns fired nearly a dozen salvos toward the French coast. The German guns on the other side replied firing continued until early to-day.

Exceeds Quota

MONTREAL, June 30 — (CP).—Newsprint Administrator Guy Hoult announced yesterday instructions have been sent to manufacturers which will cut supplies to the United States to 87 per cent of orders placed for July delivery. Newsprint orders from the U. S. had exceeded the 210,000 tons Canada agreed to supply to the United States each month of the third quarter of the year.

Women Golfers Purchased Spitfire Plane

By SCOTT YOUNG
Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON, June 30 (CP) —"W" was a Spitfire with a soul.

To the men who flew her, she was a friend, recipient of the same type of friendship an old-time cavalryman would have for a great-hearted war-horse.

"W" belonged to a South African squadron in North Africa, and was never flown by Canadians. But she was built with Canadian money—the quarters and dollars of Canadian women golfers. And now that she has been out of action, away from her South African squadron, a letter has been written to the Canadian Ladies' Golf Union telling about her, talking about her as you would reminisce over a good friend.

The man who wrote this letter is the South African commanding this squadron, Maj. D. D. Moodie. He tells about the battles W went through with his squadron, the low-level attack that routed a German armored column attacking a small French force, the protection she provided to Kittyhawks on anti-shipping patrols, to Walruses on sea sorties, to bigger planes on bombing missions.

He recalls how she would go out with other Spits on reconnaissance patrols, and how once part of her windscreen was shot away by heavy German flak. He told how she was with 11 other Spits who attacked more than 30 German Messerschmitts and Italian Macchis.

And he told of the last days in North Africa, when W went on escort jobs around the peninsula and Gulf of Tunis with such regularity that the trip was called "Cook's Tour."

While returning from one of these tours, she developed a petrol leak, lost all her fuel. The pilot asked if he should bail out. The formation leader told him to try to make the mainland in a glide. W made it, was saved for other battles.

W's great day was one of her last. Her formation ran into 12 FW190's, topped by another 12 Messerschmitts and Macchis. The Spits attacked, got one destroyed and three probables. W got one of the probables, an FW190, and that battle was the first time one of these good German fighters had been brought down in the Western Desert.

Finally, the letter says, "it became necessary to send her away for an engine change."

"We parted reluctantly with the gallant little lady....for though W has not directly claimed any large number of victims, she has nevertheless done steady, reliable work which has indirectly contributed to the destruction of many enemy aircraft....Perhaps some day, in some new theatre of war, she may come back to the squadron.

"We thank you for having made it possible to have her with us, for a while, in stormy days.

Canadian Scouts Aid Europeans

OTTAWA, June 30 — (CP). — Canada's Boy Scouts will make a contribution toward rehabilitation of Scouting in Europe after the war by paying for the publication of "Scouting for Boys" in the French, Czech, Netherlands, Flemish, Norwegian, and Polish languages, the Dominion Executive Council of the Boy Scout Association announced to-day.

"For the present, 1,000 books in each language will be printed in Canada, and paid for by Canadian Scouts through their 'Chins Up Fund' which was inaugurated to aid stricken Scouts in Great Britain," the statement said.

"Canadian Scouts have contributed more than $37,000 to this fund, nearly all of which now is in England. Future contributions will be used to cover the cost of publishing these books, which will be presented to the Scout organization in these countries, as a gift from Canadian Scouts."

Tourists Down

TORONTO, June 30 — (CP).—The Toronto Convention and Tourist Association Tuesday announced that tourist traffic by automobile from the United States ced that tourist traffic by automobiles from the United States was down about 70 per cent this season compared with a year ago.

Officials said, however, that judging by inquiries reaching the Association, many U.S. residents were saving their gasoline ration coupons for their vacation in Canada.

TAMBLYN
Presents "Hot Weather" Suggestions

Summer at last! The long awaited warm, sunshiny days are here again, bringing with them also the realization of that long anticipated period of idleness "Holiday Time." No doubt this year, due to the various reasons for curtailment of travelling, many of us will plan to enjoy our Holiday at home — others possibly more fortunate will be able to make suitable arrangements to visit the Summer Cottage or some other equally enjoyable spot. Regardless of where or how we propose to spend this time, there are a great number of "Summer Requisites" the acquisition of which, will greatly contribute to our enjoyment and comfort. To enable you to make the proper selection, your Tamblyn Drug Store this week is featuring "Hot Weather Necessities," a wide variety of such items being included in this list of

SOLDIERS HAMMER OUT 19 TO 11 VICTORY OVER THE COMBINES

Military Team Out In Front Of City League

In a game featured by heavy hitting and ineffective pitching the Soldiers hammered out a 19 to 11 victory over Combines in the City League battle for leadership at Riverside Park Tuesday night. The win put the Military Training Centre out in front in the loop race, dropping the Combines to second spot.

The argument between the two leading clubs was a knock-him-down-and-drag-him-out affair. Probably the cold weather bothered the hurlers; in any event it was a batters' night and both teams were swinging from the floor.

Combines, in absorbing their first defeat of the season actually out-hit the Soldiers 15 to 13 but they pay off in runs and the khaki team made their blows count. They had only three runners left on the sacks.

Sandulak led the attack for the winners. In five trips to the plate the Soldier second-sacker cracked out two homers, a double and single, drove in six runs for a new season's record and scored four himself. Ossie Anderson also had a homer for the Soldiers with a runner on and drove in another with a long fly to the outfield.

Murduff for Combines batted in four runs, coming through with a homer with two on in the fourth. Calladine and Nicholls each had three blows.

Tom Parsons went the route for the Military Training Centre, in spite of allowing fifteen hits and issuing four bases on balls. Lorne Dennie started for the losers, was derricked with nobody out in the first frame, and Sid Craig led out the rescue expedition. He too was hammered out in the fifth and Freddy Elliott had to finish the game.

Combines opened up on Parsons in the first as if he were a long-lost cousin. Calladine singled over second. Currie singled to centre and when McIlveen fumbled the runners advanced an extra base. Cal Nicholls got the first of his three hits, a single through short, scoring Calladine and Currie and going to second on the throw-in. Brockley singled to centre, the fourth straight hit. Walks to Caccavella and Murduff sent the third run in but Parsons finally got things under control and retired the side.

Soldiers came back with three in their half. Dennie walked Anderson. Sandulak doubled him home and Parsons walked. Craig took over the pitching and wild-pitched Sandulak home and Parsons into a scoring position. He went home on Taylor's fly to left.

In the second after Mortimer for the Soldiers had walked Anderson hammered to the score board, scoring Mortimer ahead of him. Sandulak singled to left. Parsons singled past third and when Brockley let the roller get away Sandulak scored and Parsons reached third to score while Nicholls was tossing out McKerrigan.

Murduff, who got on on Mason's miss, scored for the Combines in the third to make it 7 to 4, and in the fourth the losers staged a five-run rally after the first batter had been retired. Singles by Nicholls, Caccavella and Girard, and Brockley's double to centre sent two markers in and then Murduff hammered one over Mason's head, scoring Caccavella and Girard in front of him. That made it 9 to 7.

It was the Soldiers' turn in the fifth. McKerrigan opened with a double to centre, Taylor and McIlveen walked, loading the bases. Mason popped to Craig but Morgan singled to left, McKerrigan scoring. Mortimer scratched a hit to short, Taylor scoring and McIlveen also went in when the throw got away from Currie. Anderson's fly to right, after Elliott had relieved Craig sent Morgan across and Sandulak homered into right, Mortimer scoring ahead of him. Parsons flied out but the Soldiers had scored six and taken the lead again, 13 to 9.

They came right back with half a dozen more in the next frame. Doubles by McKerrigan and Taylor, an error by Nicholls, passes to McIlveen and Mortimer and Sandulak's second homer to right with two on the sacks built up the big innings.

Last scoring of the game was done by the Combines in the seventh when Elliott was safe on Sandulak's fumble. Calladine singled and Currie came through with another clean single to send the runs in.

Wins 1,500-Meter

Gilbert Dodds, of the Boston A.A., is shown winning the 1,500-metre senior A.A.U. run during the first day of the national A.A.A. championship meet at Randall's Island, New York. Covering the distance in 3 minutes 50 seconds, Dodds came home all by himself.

Volo Song Wins Matron Stakes In Grand Circuit

By The Canadian Press

Grand circuit racing was revised yesterday with the holding of the 33rd renewal of the Matron Stake on the opening day's card at North Randall track near Cleveland. The winner of the feature proved to be Volo Song and the strong favorite for the 1943 Hambletonian took it in its stride in two straight heats, doing the mile in the first start in 2.05½.

Volo Song, owned by W. H. Strang of Brooklyn, N.Y., was driven by Tom Berry who took the reins at the last minute after 70-year-old Ben White was taken to the hospital after complaining of dizzy spells. The son of Volo Mite needed little urging to win by a length from Worthy Boy, which is rated second choice for the Hambletonian, and actually was two seconds slower than his juvenile mark of 2.03½ in taking the heat. Worthy Boy broke in the early stages of the second heat to finish fourth, with the Nutcracker in second place two lengths behind the Strang entry. The winner's share of the purse was $2,645 out of the total of $5,439.

The 2:12 pace, The Cleveland Plain' Dealer Stake, $1,000 purse, was captured in two heats by Eddie D., owned by Mrs. James B. Johnston, of Rochester, Mich., covering the mile both times in 2:05. He was driven by Sep Palin. This is North Randall's first harness meet since 1936 and it will continue 22 days more.

Buys Pitcher.

Right-hander Dick Conger of the Toronto Leafs has been purchased by the Philadelphia Phillies in a cash deal, the amount of which was not disclosed in the announcement last night from the National League Club. Conger who is 22, has had seven victories and four defeats so far this season. He will report to the major loop unit July 7.

40 Rinks.

More than 40 rinks from scattered Ontario points have entered the Ontario Lawn Bowling Tournament scheduled to be held on Toronto greens August 9-13, with four trophies at stake. These include the Eaton Gold Cup and the Ontario Toronto and Henry Silverware.

Because of weather conditions at Hartford, Conn., the scheduled non-title bout between Jackie Callura of Hamilton, Ont., and Phil. Terranova of New York was postponed from last night to tonight by promoter Charlie Bennett. This is a warm-up contest for coming engagements in which the Canadian will defend his N. B. A. featherweight championship.

Pimlico November 1.

The Pimlico course of the Maryland Jockey Club will be the scene of a 12 day meeting commencing on November 1, according to a decision of the Maryland Racing Association. Pimlico's additional 18 days of racing have been allotted to Bowie, Laurel and Havre De Grace for a combined fall meet.

Four postmasters of the Dundalk Ont., district, skipped by Oscar Weichel of Elmira, won 22-20 in a challenge game on the Dundalk greens from a rink comprising newspapermen headed by Frank MacIntyre. Whether by design or no, the match was not decided until the last bowl. The weekly editors lost to the p.m.'s last year, too.

Brant Loses.

Frankie Brant of Toronto, known as Frank Brancetti outside the squared circle, failed to come out for the seventh round of his main bout with Lulu O'Connor, Montreal flyweight, and the latter was awarded the decision. The fight, on an outdoor card at Montreal, saw Brant on the canvas four times.

With two wins and a second place, LAC Wilfred Tilford of Cobourg accounted for the individual honors in the track and field championship of No. 5 I. T. S., R. C. A. F., at Belleville. Paul Pickard of Toronto was second in the points standing. Leroy Pietz of Crystal Beach flashed across the line to take the 100-yard dash.

Heavy Hitters

CHICAGO — (AP).— Guy Curtright of the Chicago White Sox is batting .368 after 144 times at bat, but the real leaders in the American League are Vernon Stephens, the Browns' shortstop, Oris Hockett, Cleveland outfielder, who are tied at .342 with more games played. Three Detroiters follow this pair, Dick Wakefield .311, Pinky Higgins .310, and Roger Cramer .298.

Jacobs Bewildered

NEW YORK — (AP).— Promoter Mike Jacobs is on the spot. He used to be pestered by all kinds of scrappers for a chance to show their ring wares, but he hasn't been able to stage a boxing show for almost a month. Further, he hasn't a match in sight for several weeks. To make it still worse, Mr. and Mrs. Fight Fan have plenty of money and no place to go—all because most of the headline punch-traders are in uniform for the big international tourney.

SPORTS – DAY BY DAY

By FRED D. CRAIG

Another lively battle in the City Softball League should be on the Cards tonight when the up-and-coming Switch Gear team will tackle the 4th Battery in a league fixture at Riverside Park. Manager Chambers' Switchers have won their last two starts, playing good ball and they are confident that they can make it three straight at the expense of the Gunners. The latter on the other hand have been beaten twice in a row and they are anxious for a win to start them on a climb up toward the top of the ladder. Manager Dormer of the 4th Battery will undoubtedly send Dave Wilson in after this one while Switchgear will use either Bert Harrison or Gene Reynolds against the Battery. Eddie Starr will be behind the bat for the Battery and Barney Ashmore will do the receiving for the team from the C.G.E. Both outfits will have their strongest lineups in for this clash and it should develop into one of the best battles of the season. Who will win? Well your guess is as good as this column's. The last few nights have shown that anything can happen in this hectic race. The loop is about the best-balanced in the history of the City League and right now there is little difference between the various teams. Any club is liable to come through with a win any time and the result is plenty of excitement for the fans.

Looming up in advance as one of the best games of the season the argument between Soldiers and Combines last night turned out to be something else again, the Military Training Centre team outpunching the Calladine-Currie combination in a high-scoring festival that resembled a picnic tussle instead of a clash between the two leaders of an intermediate O.A.S.A. loop. It must have been too cold for the pitchers. At all events they had little or nothing on the ball. Tom Parsons went the full distance for the Soldiers 19 to 11 but he yielded a total of 15 hits and only struck out one batter in taking the decision. The Combines had to throw in their whole staff before the thing was over. It was a peculiar game at that. In four of the eight frames they went to the plate the winners were retired in order. In the other four innings they scored three, four, six and six runs. Sandulak had a field day at bat for the Soldiers slapping out homers in successive innings, and adding a single and double to his string. Altogether he supplied transportation for six runs and that is high for the current campaign. Both his circuit drives, incidentally, were hit into right field. There were four homers during the battle, Ossie Anderson hammering one with a runner on and Murduff, Combine centre-fielder coming through with a four-cushion blow with two teammates crossing the plate in front of him.

Nearly Another War

Story in a Toronto paper yesterday about Hans Wagner possessing a bat carved out of a piece of wood from Commodore Peary's flagship the Niagara, prominent in the war of 1812-13, brings to mind an amusing incident in which a Peterborough ball player was a central figure. Peary's ship has been re-constructed as a memorial to the admiral and is one of the show places at Erie, Pa. One season Erie was represented in the Canadian League and the Petes had to play the opening game there. Erie folk were most hospitable to the visiting players and officials and on the morning of opening day the visitors were treated to a drive around the city. Naturally Peary's flagship was on the itinerary and when it was reached it just happened that your scribe and Stan Cresswell a young Peterborough-born pitcher with the Petes were together, the only two Canadians in that particular party. The guide who showed the visitors around happened to remark, "This is the ship Peary used one hundred years ago to lick the British," and almost precipitated another war. Cresswell shouted, "He never did anything of the sort," and strode off the ship. Remonstrated with afterward the young pitcher declared that he knew the guide was right but he "couldn't let him get away with anything like that," with an audience of Canadians.

Oshawa softball is making about the latest start on record and with the smallest number of teams. The intermediate loop which produced the provincial champions last season will get under way tonight and only three teams will compete for the Oshawa City honors and the right to enter the Ontario playdowns. An airport team had been counted on to make a fourth entry but that hope has fizzled out and the league will open with three contenders. Here is what George Campbell has to say about it all: "It had been previously planned to play the opening game of the Intermediate "A" season, at Alexandra Park, on Monday night but since there are now only three teams entered, it leaves a little more time, so the opening game has been called for Wednesday evening. Oshawa Colts, 1942 Provincial Intermediate champions, will clash with the Oshawa Merchants in the first game of the season. The Merchants, a newly organized club, is going to make things interesting for all concerned. As a matter of fact, those softball experts who have seen the Merchants working out, predict that they'll take the Colts in the opening game. The Colts are more than two weeks behind in their practicing and will not likely be in tip-top form until the end of July. However, they had better not take too long to get into shape, since there's only to be two teams in the playoffs. The "opening game" of the season, on Wednesday night, should prove a real softball battle at that, with plenty of hitting, even if the pitching and fielding is still below form."

Toronto Ace Stopped

Nick Strincevich, ace of the Toronto pitching staff, was gunning for his tenth win of the season last night but Syracuse Stars also led their trump, Thomas De La Cruz against the Leafs and the result was a 3 to 2 defeat for Toronto in eleven innings and Strincevich's third loss of the campaign. Fortunately for the Leafs, Newark, their closest contention for the leadership also were bumped off last night so that they did not lose any ground in that respect. The Toronto club has been making a good job of remaining in front of the field and it is rather surprising to find complaints from President Peter Campbell that the home attendance recently has been falling off. The Leafs have been playing colorful ball and have certainly earned the support of Toronto fans. Incidentally the announcement that Pitcher Dick Conger of the Leafs has been sold to the Phillies will bring regret to Toronto fans for Conger has won nine games for the Queen City club this season and has been a prime favorite. However Toronto has received the best price for Conger that has been obtained for a Leaf player since Dale Alexander was sold so the offer was apparently too good to be turned down.

Manager Ted Johnston's Genelecs who have dropped three games in a row are matched against the cellar-holding Cardinals in a City League game tomorrow night and the squad from the big plant had better watch their step, the Cards say. The latter point out that they gave the Switch Gear club about as good a game as did the Genelecs and they figure they are about due for a win anyway and they might as well start in tomorrow night. The Cardinals have been improving with every start and they are confident that they can give Manager Johnston's team a real battle. Don Isaacs will likely do the throwing for the Cards while the Genelecs will likely use Ronnie Akers. They declare that they intend to snap out of their slump and get back into the battle for the top of the heap again.

Watercraft Win Makes Second Straight

Watercrafts, in a City Industrial League fixture at the Bonner Worth Field, chalked up their second victory by beating the Brintons, 8 to 3.

The game was keenly played in every department. Good fielding on both squads and steady pitching. Kinningbeck, for Watercrafts, and Rose and Taylor for the Brintons handled the slab duties like pros. Long hard drives by the Watercrafts were handled expertly by the garden lads of the Brintons. The sailors grasped their opportunities while the breaks weer with the "carpet makers."

Johnson, Miller, Batten and Thompson played stellar ball in the respective territories, while the Corbet Brothers for the Brintons did likewise.

Teams:

Brintons: Rose, p, rf; Jones, lf; Byers, c; C. Corbett, ss; G. Corbett, cf; Phillips, rf; Dorrell, 2b; Carson, 3b; McMartin, 1b, Taylor, p.

Watercrafts: Paul, c; Batten, rf; Walker, 3b; Johnson, 1b; Killingbeck, p; P. Hewie, cf; Thompson, ss; Miller, rf; Boyd, 2b.

LAWN BOWLING

During the early part of the season it was the rain, then later on it was the heat, and now Tuesday evening it was the strong cool breezes. But in spite of the sudden change in the weather every inch of grass was in use, men's schedule games, ladies' schedule games, ladies' tournament and the odd single game. It all added up to this, that our bowlers will bowl in spite of anything.

Yesterday marked the half-way point in the ladies' schedule and it will be interesting to know just who is among the leaders. Of the night players, Mrs. C. Renaud and Mrs. J. Coursey have each won five and lost two, and of the day players Mrs. H. Beatty's rink leads with seven games won and two lost, with Miss Allen, Mrs. R. Dyer and Mrs. W. Hepburn next in line with six wins and two losses.

It will be men's rinks on Friday night.

Just a little in advance: Keep Monday, July 5th open. We'll announce the schedule for that day in to-morrow's column.

How about your entry for the provincial play-offs? There are several entries for the doubles, but none as yet for the rinks or singles. Harold Freeman is calling several of the singles games for Thursday night.

The ladies held a little tournament all their own last night, and in the face of a strong north wind they played right through two 10-end games. It was cold, no doubt about it. The winning rinks were skipped by Mrs. H. Beatty, Mrs. W. Hepburn and Mrs. W. Greenslade.

Scores:

H. Darling 20, J. Skinner 11.

Sports Spice

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.
Associated Press Sport Writer

NEW YORK, June 30 (AP) — Perusing what Ernie Lanigan claims is the oldest baseball book in existence, Charles A. Peverelly's "American Pastimes" (second edition, 1868) we find that baseball oddities are nothing new in the home town of "Them Bums" . . . Back in 1861 the Atlantics of Brooklyn played a ball game against the Charter Oak Club on ice skates at Washington skating pond and won 36-27 . . . Since the advent of Branch (the non-alcoholic) Rickey, any player who gets a skate on gets slapped down with a big fine . . . and Brooklyn's first ball team, organized in 1854, was originally named the "J.Y.B.B.B.C'S."—for Jolly Young Bachelors' Base Ball Club—which is quite a contrast to the current Dodgers who may be J. at times but aren't Y. nor B'S.

Today's Guest Star:

Bill Reddy, Syracuse (N.Y.) Post-Standard: "One of the men who didn't pick his job because it went well with his name is the blue-coated arbiter working here with Roy Van Graflan. The umpire's name is Robb."

Barkley up the Wrong Tree:

Wichita baseball fans insist this column was in error in saying that Red Barkley, the new Dodger shortstop, wasn't a "regular" on the Cessna semi-pro team last year just because he played only half his team's games in the national tourney. It was a leg injury that kept him out . . . Incidentally, Branch Rickey reports that Barkley has made himself popular with the Dodgers by cussing himself out when he returns to the bench after making a bad play . . . "I got the impression," says Branch, "that he was—well, kind of screwballish."

HUGE REPAIR JOB

The Ministries of Health and Works plan to repair this summer 40,000 houses made uninhabitable by raids on Britain. The cost is estimated at about the equivalent of $40,000,000.

Four Straight Victories For St. Peter's

St. Peter's made it five straight when they defeated the Immaculate Conception Beavers 17-9 last night at Memorial Park.

The winners cashed in for eight runs in the first inning, and from then on the issue was never in doubt. Gordon, who started for St. Peter's, allowed seven runs and as many hits in the three innings he worked. Father Wolff took over in the fourth and did some very fine relief hurling, allowing only two runs and four hits for the remainder of the game. Hughes with three hits for four and Laton were two for four were the big guns for the Beavers. Hec McIsaac led St. Peter's with four for five. Fielding features were two running catches by Mike Caccavella in centre field and a one-handed catch by Johnny Russell in deep short.

Wednesday night St. Peter's play the Cubs and Thursday night finds Beavers tackling the K. of C.

Lineups:

St. Peter's: Father Wolff, 2b, p; Conroy, c; Condon, 1b; Murphy, 3b; Russell, ss; Caccavella, cf; McIsaac, lf; Gordon, p, 2b; Herr, rf.

Beavers: B. Sullivan, cf; Laton, c; Hughes, 2b; B. Guerin, 1b; Spencer, ss; O'Heron 3b; O'Dette, rf; Fitzgerald, lf; Presque, p; Plumpton, lf.

DELACRUZ PITCHES 1-HIT 11 INNINGS GAME TO DEFEAT TORONTO

Orioles Defeat Montreal In Two Games

By The Associated Press.

Pitching was the big beacon in the International League last night with Tommy Delacruz, slender Cuban on the Syracuse staff, hurling a one-hit, 11 inning victory over Toronto, and Ed Klieman, young righthander with Baltimore, triumphing in both halves of a twin bill.

The lone hit off Delaruz a single in the second, brought Toronto two runs and all but cost Delacruz the decision despite his stellar elbowing. His mates didn't get their second run until the seventh and then needed four more frames before punching home plate again, to win 3-2.

Klieman compiled one of the league's oddest records. He started both games of Baltimore's twin bill with Montreal, was batted out of the box in the late innings of each, yet won both decisions.

In the first fray, Clyde Smoll came to his rescue in the sixth frame of the opener but quickly gave way to Steve Gromek who ended the activities in the 4-2 struggle with the tying run on the paths.

The young righthander, who authored 17 triumphs with Cedar Rapids of the Three-I League, started again in the second game and zoomed along easily until Gromek again rushed to the mound in the ninth to insure the 6-3 decison.

The victories were the 12th and 13th of the season for Klieman. The second game saw Klieman come to the plate four times without being charged with an official time at bat sacrificing three times and being walked on the fourth try.

The league's remaining two games also were pitcher's battles. Jersey City surprised even itself by downing Buffalo for the third straight time, 3-2, with the veteran Crip Polli the victor. George Barley, on the mound for the Bisons, didn't allow a runner beyond first base after the fatal first in which the Giants scored all their runs.

Tom Ananicz was on the mound in the ninth frame of the Newark-Rochester struggle when Gerry Burmeitser of the Red Wings dumped a single behind second base to drive in the winning run of the 6-5 affair. Ananicz was touched for three hits in the ninth after relieving Steve Roser in the eighth.

Seven In A Row For Candini New Mound Sensation

Milo Candini of the Washington Senators is the new wonder man of baseball. He is the leading pitcher in both leagues, having won six straight games. He was once a Yankee chattel and ironically enough he won the seventh straight game at the expense of these selfsame Yanks. LEFT ABOVE, he is shown displaying his victory signal, "Seven Straight" after the game with the Yanks at Yankee Stadium, New York. Candini started tearing through the league from scratch after one of the outstanding muscle repair jobs of the season, for up to now he had been suffering from chronic lameness of the right wing. That lameness is now gone and his unsullied winning streak continues. He is shown in action, RIGHT, ABOVE.

Cpl. Joe Brown Defeats Mell

OTTAWA, June 30 — (CP). — Cpl. Joe Brown of Ottawa who last month went five rounds here with LAC Dave Castilloux, Canadian lightweight champion, took a decision from Gussie Mell of Montreal last night in the first of two main bouts on a ring card here in which boxers from Montreal, Ottawa and Kingston, Ont., participated.

Brown and Mell fought at 135 pounds. In a 147-pound go, Maurice Lavigne of Montreal and Walter Hicks of Kingston fought to a five-round draw. Ottawa boxers took four and Montreal scrappers two of the six supporting bouts.

Joe Northmore of Ottawa decisioned Hoot Gibson of Kingston, fighting at 100 pounds. Keith Ross of Ottawa, 135 pounds, scored the only knockout of the card when he put George Pelletier of Kingston away at the 35-second mark of the first round.

Art Burrett of Ottawa, a 118-pounder, decisioned George Wilkins, Jr., of Montreal. In the 160-pound class, Jimmie Davis of Montreal won by decision from John Helferty of Ottawa, while at 130 pounds Jack Horan of Montreal decisioned Ronnie Bennett of Ottawa.

In the wind-up bout, Pat Gallagher, an Ottawa boy, scored a technical knockout to beat Pat Nolan of Montreal in the second round.

OTTAWA — (CP). — Announcement was made on Parliament Hill last night that the Department of Munitions and Supply had purchased more than $175,000 worth of sports equipment during last month for the personnel of Canada's armed forces.

Canadian Sport Snapshots

By CHARLES EDWARDS
Canadian Press Staff Writer

TORONTO, June 30 — (CP). — Signs of the golf times: The Western Canada Golf Association has prepared a bulletin to the member clubs telling them how to provide extra recreation and keep their few remaining caddies happy. Some players are afraid they will have to start carrying those big bags of clubs themselves. Many caddies have enlisted; others have gone into war work....The Thunder Bay open golf tournament may be held again this season, but if so it's a fair bet that Charlie Nixon of Port Arthur Strathcona Club will take the top money. Nixon is the only professional left in the field. Other professionals of the district have moved elsewhere.

Grid Grunts:

Bill Westwick of the Ottawa Journal says that if Ottawa Combines are granted a berth in the Ontario Rugby Football Union this fall, their coach will be Dave Sprague and not FO. Lew Hayman. Hayman was posted to Ottawa recently and speculation promptly tied him in with an Ottawa football effort. Westwick says the veteran Sprague is almost certain to get the job....Dave Dryburgh of the Regina Leader-Post says an obstacle to revival of football in Regina is lack of equipment....Regina Roughriders own equipment—also have a deficit from other years. They want payment for use of the stuff and Dryburgh comments: "The struggle to-day is to keep the game alive and it might prove to be a short-sighted policy keeping helmets and pads in storage while the Regina-Winnipeg gridiron rivalry dies out."

Incidentally:

Bill Douglas, ace basketball referee, is being transferred by his firm to Winnipeg from Edmonton ....Charlie Ralls, veteran United States jockey, is riding on British Columbia tracks....Moose Jaw Canucks, are building for the next junior hockey season. They have obtained Goalie Harry Barefoot, Defenceman Harry Hood, and Forwards Clare Parker and Dick Pratt from Winnipeg and George Rayment from Regina.....Porky Andrews, one of Canada's greatest basketball players with Victoria Dominoes championship teams, is reported headed for the Maritimes to serve in the Fleet Air Arm. He was with the R.C.A.F. in Saskatoon last winter....Wayne Sheley, stocky halfback Winnipeg Blue Bombers, obtained from the South Dakota football fields, is slated to join the United States Army on July 15.

Reinstated

NEW YORK — (AP). — Released as coach of the Brooklyn Dodgers last fall, Chuck Dressen has been reinstated by Branch Rickey who insisted that the club needed him and that the latest move was not admission of a previous mistake. "Leo Durocher likes Dressen's ability," declared Rickey.

Runs Against Haegg

BOSTON—(AP). — Bespectacled Gil Dodds, divinity student, is on his way to Chicago where he will meet the Swedish fireman, Gunder Haegg, in a two-mile run on Friday in the first of seven special races which form part of the scheduled campaign for the world's record-holder from across the pond.

Mahers Defeat Airforce 6-3

TORONTO, June 30 — Highlighted by Lefty Parfitt's three-run homer in the first inning, Maher Shoes increased their lead in the West Toronto Senior Baseball League last night by defeating R.C.A.F. Headquarters 6 to 3.

Parfitt, who has been performing admirably at centre-field for the Shoemen all season, touched off the necessary punch to assure victory when he laced one of Murray Allen's pet pitches for his four-play drive. The Airmen never recovered from that smash despite the fact that Red Heron, former professional puckchaser, duplicated Parfitt's effort by clouting out one of the longest homer seen at the park in years to drive in all of his team's three runs in the final inning.

Al Yarnell hurled steady ball to score another triumph, allowing only four hits. He received grand support from his mates, particularly Lefty Harper, who pulled off a pair of remarkable catches in right field. Dick Green was another offensive star for the winners with a pair of singles and two runs driven in.

The league executive has lined up an attractive doubleheader for Dominion Day holiday, with Maher Shoes meeting Morse Jewellers at three o'clock and Air Force playing C.Y.O. at seven o'clock.

Berg Scores Again

CHICAGO — (AP). — Continuing her golf comeback after suffering a severe knee injury in an auto accident 18 months ago, Patty Berg went into the second round of the women's Western open by defeating Mrs. Opal S. Hill, Kansas City pro, 5 and 3 for 18 holes.

War Demands Evens Up Pennant Race

By JUDSON BAILEY
Associated Press Sport Writer

The major leagues had a double reason to be "war conscious" to-day. The first was that this is the first of the two days this season set aside by all major league clubs for donating all receipts to the National War Relief Fund and the other was that the draft has just touched baseball anew.

Three top-ranking players were called for induction yesterday and out of the riot the army took one, Jimmy Brown, captain of the St. Louis Cardinals, and rejected two, Vernon Stephens and George McQuinn of St. Louis Browns.

This served to re-open discussion of the effect of the draft on the pennant races. Yesterday's developments should help the last place Browns toward their goal of finishing in the American League's first division and might slow down, but hardly could stop, the campaign of the Cardinals for another National League flag.

At the start of the season all clubs had been tapied by selective service in a remarkably equitable ratio. The strongest clubs were hit hardest and the weakest clubs lightest. This has evened up the pennant races till they are as tight as ever in history.

Some Clubs Shaky.

But all of the clubs felt shaky about the drain of the draft during the season, not knowing when or where it would strike first. As it turned out, the draft has touched the major leagues less since the season opened than most observers expected.

The loss of Brown in the spring would have been considered a crippling blow to the Cardinals but in the meantime the field leader of the world champions lost his regular second base berth to a rookie, Lou Klein, and his absence now will be felt only in reserve strength.

He plans to remain with the Cardinals two weeks longer, taking the customary furlough allowed inductees.

Stephens apparently was deferred because of a knee injury suffered a month ago and McQuinn because of a back injury.

Stephens for months had been in a quandry about his draft status.

Through all of his uncertainty he has managed to lead the American League batting and now that both he and McQuinn have had their futures cleared up, at least for the remainder of the season, the Browns should click at their best gait. Although in the cellar, they are only three games out of third place and with a two weeks home stand opening to-day, could easily vault upwards.

Draft calls are ending for key players of other clubs — for Babe Dahlgren of the Phillies, the National League's batting leader, for Johnny Vander Meer of the Reds, for Gerry Priddy and Mickey Vernon of the Senators and others whose loss before the season ends may have a direct effect on the final standings.

Portland, Me. — Frankie Nelson, 163½, Boston, outpointed Willie Hagan, 163, Haverhill, Mass (10).

Los Angeles — Jack Chase, 158, Denver, knocked out Miguel Madero, 161, Mexico City (3).

Want Bigger Purses

VANCOUVER, June 30 — (CP). —More than 40 horse owners, members of the West Coast Horsemen's Association, decided at a meeting here last night to withdraw their entries unless the Vancouver Thoroughbred Association raises its minimum purses from $400 to $500 in the 14-day meeting starting here on Wednesday. The entry list closes to-day and the horsemen have given the association until then to reach an agreement.

More than 200 horses are quartered at the Hastings Park Course.

Patty Berg Scores

CHICAGO—(AP).— In December, 1941, Patty Berg smashed her knee in an automobile accident only a few months after she had won the women's open golf championship. It looked as if her golfing days were over. Yesterday she posted an even par 76 and won medals honors in the women's western open. Only two others in a field of 111 scored below 80.

Sgt. Barney Ross Gets Decoration

NEW YORK, June 30 —(AP).— Sergeant Barney Ross, United States Marine Corps hero of Guadalcanal and former world's lightweight boxing champion, will be awarded the silver star medal for "conspicuous gallantry in action against the enemy," the Marine Corps announced to-day.

The presentation will be made on July 4 during "a tribute to America's heroes" program over the Blue Network.

The retired champion stood guard at risk of his own life, over three wounded comrades last November 19 after refusing to be evacuated with his marine unit, which had been ordered to the rear after being isolated in dangerous underbrush.

He remained in the advanced position and during the night fired more than 450 rounds of ammunition. He was credited with seven dead Japanese snipers and about 10 probables.

His courage won him a promotion on the field from private first class to corporal.

Ross has been on indefinite hospital furlough for treatment of malaria.

Sweepgold Lone Eastern Entry In Western Race

WINNIPEG, June 30 — (CP).— An Eastern-bred horse and two Western thoroughbreds loom as favorites for the third running of the rich $5,000 three-year-old Canadian Derby July 1 at Polo Park.

The Eastern horse is Sweepgold owned by Harry C. Hatch of Toronto, while the Western horses are Western Prince, owned by the Montreal Braeside Stable and Baby Broom, the property of H.A. Shepherd of Winnifred, Alta.

Hatch's Sweepgold will be the lone Eastern entry in the race which will pay the winner $3,300 and the breeder $250. A winner of $1,610 last year, Sweepgold comes to Western Canada well regarded.

Early this spring he set a record for a mile and 70 yards at Woodbine and in the recent 1943 renewal of the historic King's Plate he set the pace only to fall back in later stages to finish seventh.

Shipped here with a fever, the horse has only recently approached Derby form. In his first start, barely recovered from his sickness he finished seventh to Ebony Moon in the Western Canada Handicap.

Prince Was Champ

Western Prince was Western juvenile champion last year, posting five firsts, one second and four thirds to accumulate $3,145 in winnings. Shipped to Calgary for the Alberta Derby this spring the Prince beat other Derby candidates over a six and one-half furlough trial and wound up third in the Derby itself.

Baby Broom, bargain colt of this year's Derby as he was bought as a foal for $125, was the winner of the Alberta Derby.

Last year's Canadian Derby was won by Maginot Line, owned by Dr. L. H. Appleby of Vancouver. Maginot Line defeated a field which included the highly rated Ten To Ace. The Ace, owned by Harry Giddings of Oakville, Ont., was a 1-10 favorite but finished last in a six-horse race after leading the field for most of the mile and a quarter distance.

Seven and possibly eight thoroughbreds will start in this year's Derby. In addition to Sweepgold, Western Prince and Baby Broom, other eligibles are Buddy Marcus, owned by C. Patriquin of Calgary, Here's Harvey, from Austin, Texas Larry Junior owned by J. Yates of Calgary, Papan Pilot and Gloverdale, both from Calgary stables.

Manpower Talk Continues In Parliament

By JAMES McCOOK
Canadian Press Staff Writer

OTTAWA, June 30.—(CP).—Government members looked on with smiles in the House of Commons last night as Opposition parties departed from their criticism of government manpower policies to charge each other with changed viewpoints.

In the week-old debate on the Labor Departments $21,000,000 share of the war appropriation bill of $3,890,000,000, J. W. Noseworthy (C.C.F. York South) said that the Progressive Conservative party's manpower policy had "twistings and turnings and improvisations."

Gordon Graydon, Progressive Conservative House Leader, said the C.C.F. policy was "a confusing and conflicting picture." Because of C.C.F. changes, Mr. Noseworthy was able to speak with authority when he referred to "twistings and turnings."

During the afternoon sitting, Hon. R. B. Hanson ..(Prog. Con. York-Sunbury) said the National War Services Department, previously in charge of Mobilization Act regulations, had been a "washout."

Political Value.

He wondered if the War Services Ministry was being maintained for the purpose of political expediency, and to find a place for the present War Services Minister, Maj.-Gen. L. R. LaFleche, "who was put into office for the ostensible purpose of converting his compatriots to the principle of conscription for military service overseas."

Agriculture Minister Gardiner, who was the first Minister to hold the War Services portfolio, said he had estimated from the beginning of the war that Canada should be able to put 750,000 men in the armed forces.

Of 3,000,000 men in the appropriate age groups, about 1,000,000 now were on farms, about 1,000,0000 in the forces or doing work similar to that of the forces and about 1,000,000 in munitions plants and factories. The results indicated this was a proper division of manpower.

Mr. Noseworthy ran into interjections from Progressive Conservative benches when he said the C. C. F. did not oppose having a Canadian army overseas. He said, however, that the party believed Canada was in a unique position to make a contribution in food and munitions which would be more effective than anything could be done by way of an army.

Needs Overseas Army.

"I can certainly speak for myself, and I think I can speak for this group when I admit that we never at any time felt, as the honorable member for York-Sunbury (Mr. Hanson) apparently feels, that this (a large army overseas) was the way in which Canada could make her greatest contribution to her war effort.

"....I am nto suggesting for one moment that Canada should not have an army overseas."

Mr. Graydon remarked: "Your party said that before; that was your party's policy."

Mr. Graydon called upon Labor Minister Mitchell to give a explanation of the "migration" of about 19 men who left the Government Service after the resignation last year of Elliott M. Little, former Director of Selective Service.

He quoted from a letter written by Dr. Goldwin Smith, who had been brought from the United States to assist C. F. Needham, assistant Director of Civilian Selective Service.

Dr. Smith had resigned because of his conviction the work he was doing was of relatively minor value in the war effort. He had felt he was "an ineffectual angel in the corridors, my duties undefined, my responsibilities unspecified."

Mr. Mitchell replied that Dr. Smith was offered a position of some responsibility and "did not stay with the ship."

Mr. Mitchell then said that Selective Service was handling a large task and as time went on he expected an increase in number of compulsory labor transfer orders.

In view of the demand for manpower, it was inevitable there should be shortages, but he believed farm production would be maintained if weather was suitable. The coal production problem was vital, and he expected to have "something to say" about that situation in a few days.

Rode the Rods.

New Democracy Leader Blackmore said "the rank and file" were confused about Selective Service regulations. When it was announced in 1942 that farmers were not to be taken from the land, the statement was believed. But men had been taken from the farms.

"It is just a cheap, base kind of trickery or treachery or double-dealing," said Mr. Blackmore.

Clarence Gillis (C.C.F. Cape Breton South) said Mr. Hanson now had no choice but to support the Government on manpower policies because he had voted in support of steps taken in the past. When the war came a "disfranchized generation was on the rods from coast to coast." Had there been an effort to force them into military service there would have been a revolution.

Mr. Gillis said that when the Canadian army went into action it was likely that men in home defence units who had been called for compulsory service would be keen to go overseas. He discounted the idea that these men would have to be moved overseas by force.

He did not approve of those "who had a nice, comfortable living" and had made few sacrifices, urging that more men be in uniform overseas.

Ralph Maybank (Lib. Winnipeg South Centre) said that when it was argued men should be left on farms the need for men for other duties had to be considered. "Ill-natured Journals" had referred to a "manpower muddle" but there had been notable achievements. The Selective Service set-up had been criticized, probably even within the Labor Department, yet most people admitted the task was most difficult.

Many people asked for favors in respect to specific cases affected by Selective Service regulations.

"I understand that even the government's chief critic, the (Toronto) Globe and Mail, has asked for some such favors for itself," said Mr. Maybank.

During debate on an item of $3,000,000 for removal of Japanese from protected areas in British Columbia, Tom Reid (Lib. New Westminster) said that Japanese had "put it over" many people close to the government, and in some instances had "blinded" them with gifts.

Labor Minister Mitchell said Mr. Reid had cast a reflection by saying persons close to the government had taken Japanese gifts and should be more explicit.

Mr. Reid said he would give the Minister the names in private.

about 130 miles southwest of Paris, and normally has a population of 80,000. It is the site of chemical industries vital to the German war effort.

Damage Extensive.

The German-controlled Vichy radio, giving its version of the raid, said a town in Northern France had been bombed during the night by Allied planes and reported that at least 40 persons had been killed. The broadcast did not identify the town by name.

Later the Nazi-operated Paris radio reported that several neighboring villages had been hit, with some resulting casualties among the civilian population.

While the bombers were carrying the current Allied aerial offensive into its 11th successive day Britain enjoyed another raid free night. Not a single plane has now been seen over Britain for five days.

The magnitude of the Allied aerial offensive was emphasized, meanwhile by Captain Sir Harold H. Balfour, Under Secretary of State for Air, who told the House of Commons today that the R. A. F. now is dropping bombs on Germany at three times the 1942 rate.

Replying to a question, Balfour said that about 37,500 tons of bombs had been dropped on Germany in the three months ending June 26 as compared with approximately 12,000 tons in the corresponding period for 1942.

Of those three months it was believed June would set a record for the weight of explosives dropped, being over the 12,000 ton mark set in June. The R. A. F. and R. C. A. F. lost 269 bombers in the June raids to date.

British Repairing Own Damage

A bulldozer operated by a British soldier clears away some of the wreckage wrought by Allied bombers in the dock area on the island of Pantelleria. Engineers are rapidly turning the former Italian possession into a base to be used against the Axis.

of Sicily because of the "inevitability of Allied invasion" and has suspended private telephone and telegraph communications between the mainland and Sicily and Sardinia.

Unrest within Italy has become prevalent, Moscow reported, declaring approximately 65,000 workers had struck at 25 Turin factories demanding release of Fiat factory employees arrested in March for participating in a strike. The broadcast said troops had taken over some plants.

Several Targets

The Nazi-controlled Paris radio, mentioning again that there is "great naval activity" in the Mediterranean, said "nobody believes any longer that Italy will be the sole target." The Germans apparently backed this view, for Tass said they were continuing to clear the Belgian coast of everyone who might aid invasion forces.

Berne dispatches quoted Lyon advices to the Tribune de Geneve as authority for the report that Field Marshal Rommel has taken charge of the defences in France. Rommel was declared to be stationed at Montdole, from where he is said to set out frequently down the Rhone Valley to inspect "vast aviation fields under construction."

In the same area, "unending lines" of artillery and tanks were reported on the move.

The Fascists, trying to step up Italy's defences, have been forced to resort to their old-time castor oil cure, the German transocean correspondent in Rome reported in a broadcast heard by the Associated Press. A purge of the Fascist party also is "wide open," he said.

"The morale of the Italian people has been strengthened after a few weeks of this action," this correspondent declared.

A Berlin broadcast of a Rome dispatch, recorded by the Associated Press, declared that Italian newspapers today expressed the opinion that Italy is on the eve of being invaded.

The same broadcast declared that "according to the general opinion" in Rome neither Germany nor the Soviet Union will begin an offensive in the east and quoted Popolo Di Roma as saying:—

"There's no reason for the Axis attacking the Soviet Union again, and under the prevailing conditions the Axis powers will attain their object, namely annihilation of enemy forces, much sooner than by running after the enemy into the desert or steppe."

In Nobel Fire Four Men Dead

MONTREAL, June 30 (CP)—Defence Industries Limited announced Tuesday night that two men had died in hospital to bring to four the death toll of a fire at their Nobel, Ont., plant yesterday.

H. Lawson of Gordon Bay, Ont., and J. Pawis of Shawanaga, Ont., had died in hospital at Parry Sound of burns suffered in the fire.

Killed in the fire were L. G. Hudson of Barrower, Ont., and Arthur Bussell of Parry Sound. The fire, that broke out on No. 3 cordite range of the big explosive plant, injured 14 others, five of whom were still in critical condition as a result of burns last night.

A. Ramsay and E. Robitaille of Nobel and G. Brisson of Pembroke were listed as seriously burned, while H. Chenette of Nobel, R. Fleck, Bala, Ont., and L. Lyons, McKellar, Ont., suffered less serious burns. Three other men, H. Waring, V. Ball and J. Belrose of Nobel were able to return home after treatment.

Voting By Mail For U.S. Soldiers

WASHINGTON, June 30 (AP)—V-mail voting for members of the United States armed forces on foreign duty was proposed in legislation ready for introduction today by Senators Scott Lucas (Dem.-Ill.) and Theodore Green (Dem-RI).

To facilitate voting on State and Federal officials by soldiers, sailors and marines, the two Senators would have Congress direct the Secretaries of War and Navy to provide the fighting forces overseas with absentee ballots that could be sped back as V-mail.

(Ontario soldiers, sailors and airmen overseas will vote by proxy in the forthcoming Ontario Provincial election.)

The proposed United States ballots would be of the "write in" form, with the voter being instructed to write in the number of his choice for President, Vice President, Senators and representatives. If he wished to vote a "straight ticket" he could write in his choice of party.

Barrymore Clothes Sold At Auction

HOLLYWOOD, June 30—(AP)—To help defray some $200,000 in claims remaining against the estate of John Barrymore, the wardrobe and furniture of the late stage and screen star were offered at auction to-day.

The shirt in which Barrymore, once ranked among the foremost Shakespearean actors, played Hamlet, went for $7 as the auction opened last night. Other bids ranged from 50 cents for a tuxedo vest to $32.50 for a gray sack suit.

The black homburg hat that was so closely associated with the great profile brought $6.50.

Skunk Trouble

KINGSTON, Ont., June 30 — (CP). — Visitors to MacDonald Park the other evening called their dogs to heel, each tensely awaiting developments. But the skunk which had appeared in the park ambled unconcernedly to the shore and disappeared among the rocks.

On Long Side

FORT SILL, Okla., June 30 — (AP). — The United States Army broke one of its rules for this rookie—on his first day. Army regulations call for a soldier's full name, but the replacement centre settled for Charles Cleve Juelich. His full name: Karl Werner Ruduff Samuel Ben Jonas Israel Charles Cleve Juelich.

Rural Hydro Rates To Be Reduced

ATHENS, Ont., June 30 (CP) — Mrs. George T. Fulford, wife of the federal member of parliament for Leeds County, last night was chosen Liberal candidate for the Provincial riding at a convention held in this village 15 miles from Brockville, Ont.

Mrs. Fulford won the candidacy on the third ballot, defeating the runner-up, Alderman Thomas J. Davison of Brockville, by 67 votes to 56. There was one spoiled ballot.

Hon. Farquhar R. Oliver, Minister of Public Works and Welfare for Ontario, announced that the initial rate for rural Hydro-Electric service shortly would be reduced from six to four cents throughout the province.

Mr. Oliver defended Ontario's proposed system of voting by proxy in the forthcoming Provincial general election for servicemen overseas, and reviewed the record of his government over the past 10 years.

He said that since 1934 the Province had paid out of current revenue, "without entailing any debt on the future," approximately $70,000,000, and had spent this money on rebates of various kinds and in relieving municipalities of payments relating to highways, old age pensions, mothers' allowance, pensions for the bind and hog and cheese subsidies.

"This, he said, represented the greatest redistribution of wealth ever carried out by a provincial government in Canada. "This government makes no promises," he added. "Its record of the past is its promise of the future." He was introduced by Mr. Fulford.

Worms In Mail

OTTAWA, June 30 (CP).—The Post Office last night issued an official statement warning against shipping earthworms in damp sod in parcels for overseas. One bag of mail was found full of worms that had burst out. The worms were dead. Evidently they'd been shipped to some ardent fisherman.

Reserve Gunners Now In Training

PETAWAWA, Ont., June 30 — Gunners of Reserve Army batteries lobbed five shells over the bush country before a party of Montreal, Toronto and Ottawa newspapermen witnessing a demonstration of training given artillerymen at this camp yesterday.

The 32nd Field Regiment, Royal Canadian Artillery, of Toronto, had the stage on the vast range during the afternoon. Col. F. F. Arnoldi, who commands the regiment, also is Commandant of the 31st (Reserve) Brigade group.

Units of the Royal Canadian Corps of Signals from Toronto and Montreal were responsible for installing a telephone system for a Reserve Centre housing about 1,600 men, and Montreal's 2nd (Medium) Regiment boasts its own public address system.

Lt.-Col. G. H. Ellis, E.D., the Commander of the Reserve Army camp, described the work of the Signallers to the press party. The present camp is the first of five Reserve Artillery camps booked for Petawawa this summer.

Lots Of Berries

FREDERICTON, June 30—(CP).—This year's strawberry crop in New Brunswick is expected to be larger than the normal average of 1,500,000 quarts, M. P. Harrison of the Provincial Department of Agriculture reports. Picking is about two weeks behind schedule, however, due to weather conditions.

Royal Birth

LONDON, June 30—(CP). — A fourth daughter has been born to Princess Maria and Crown Prince Umberto of Italy, the Rome radio said last night. The child was named Maria Isabella. The couple also have a son, Prince Vittorio Emanuele, who would be in line for the Italian throne after his father.

Any Estate Plan today must take account of Taxation

SIX MONTHS . . .

Dominion and Provincial succession duties are a serious burden on an estate; rates are high and the duties are payable generally within 6 months. There are various workable plans which will enable your estate to discharge these heavy obligations without unduly sacrificing either its assets or the purposes you have in mind. Our Officers have a wide practical experience of planning an estate to take care of taxation. Consultations will place you under no obligation: we invite your inquiries.

There are no BOMB CRATERS in our fields . . . YET!

THESE are grim and dangerous days, grimmer and more dangerous than most of us realize. While a ruthless enemy is bending his best efforts to destroy our vital food supplies, we can still peacefully carry on our duties on the farm. We must make the most of our time, putting every available acre of our fertile land to work, to produce FOOD for our people, our armies and our allies.

FOOD IS VITAL FOR VICTORY

You may be a school teacher, or a student, you may be a business or professional man, office or factory worker, store keeper or clerk—no matter who you may be, if you have a few days, weeks or months of leisure this summer, you can make an important contribution to Canada's war effort by taking temporary work on a farm. It cannot be sufficiently emphasised how urgently the Nation needs additional farm help, YOUR help, to meet the ever increasing demands for FOOD. Every year Canada sends millions of pounds of food to feed our kinsmen and allies abroad, and with many thousands of our people in the fighting services and the war factories we ask you to help fill the gap. Knowing how our very existence depends on victory, and how much depends on FOOD to win that victory, we appeal to you to lend your willing aid.

FOLLOWED REQUEST.

The principal at Central school made an unusual request on Tuesday, the end of the school term He told his pupils that he wanted them to leave the school quietly but when they reached a certain point on the grounds they could really whoop it up. The children needed no second urging and when they reached the spot designated the cheers which filled the air startled many of the residents.

NO DECREASE.

The bank clearings for the week ending July 1 and those for the month of June are both higher this year than for the corresponding period in 1942. The 1943 weekly clearing is, $797,946 as compared with $684,595 in 1942, a difference of $113,351. The monthly clearings show an increase of $483,238. The amount cleared in 1943 was $4,343,662 as against $3,860,424 in 1942.

BLOOD DONORS.

Seventy-five persons gave blood at the Wednesday session of the Blood Donors Clinic. Outside communities represented included Lindsay, Fenelon Falls, Oakwood, Cavan, and Norwood.

INCOME TAX RETURNS.

Income tax returns must be delivered to the tax inspectors to-day or be in the mails by mid-night to-night. The June 30 deadline applies to persons and corporate income tax returns, but the new T-2 corporate questionnaire need not be filed before July 31 if accompanied by an auditor's certificate.

CHIMNEY FIRE.

The fire department was called to 377 Queen Street, residence of J. Black, to extinguish a chimney fire Tuesday, at 2 p.m. No damage was done.

UNUSUAL VISITORS.

There were unusual visitors on the farm of Pat. M. Condon, Douro Township on Monday morning. The Condon place is situated on the Warsaw Road, two miles west of Warsaw and around 7 o'clock yesterday morning Mr. Condon saw a doe and a fawn in the pasture field quite close to the barn. The animals took fright when he called to other members of the family and for some hours hid in a nearby swamp. Other Douro folk saw them later in the day.

as are needed to make the Japanese in their turn submit or bite the dust."

A Painful Road

Though confidently predicting final triumph, Mr. Churchill later, in a Luncheon at the Lord Mayor's Mansion House, said that "survival and victory are well within our grasp but hard and painful may be the process by which we shall arrive at a satisfactory conclusion."

Detailing the tremendous air punishment heaped upon Germany, Mr. Churchill in his Guildhall speech disclosed that the R.A.F. in the first six months of this year had dropped 52,500 tons of bombs on Germany. He added that "in the whole first half of this year the enemy has discharged no more than 1,500 tons of bombs at a cost of 245 planes."

Referring to the German invasion of Russia, he said: "Never was there such a case of the biter bitten." He predicted that the weight of the Russian air attack would "presently contribute an additional quota to the total blitz."

Mr. Churchill expressed the opinion that Axis worry over Allied plans "may have led to the remarkable long delay of opening the promised German offensive against Russia." He said he also did not propose to relieve that worry.

Must Surrender.

The Prime Minister, speaking in the historic hall where he was honored with the "freedom of the city of London" as the climax to a colorful parade through crowded streets, reiterated:

"We and the United Nations demand from the Nazis and Fascists and Japanese tyrants unconditional surrender.

"By that we mean that their willpower to resist must be completely broken and that they must yield themselves absolutely to our justice and mercy."

He declared it also means that "we must take all those far-sighted measures which are necessary to prevent the world from again becoming convulsed, wrecked and blackened by their calculated blows and ferocious aggression."

Bombing to Grow.

Standing in the glow of flickering arc lamps and in the centre of a panoply of gold, blue and black robes, Mr. Churchill told his cheering listeners that the Battle of the Ruhr soon would be spreading over all Germany.

"As the nights become longer and the United States Air Force becomes more numerous our strong arms will lengthen both by night and by day and there is no industry or military target in Germany that will not receive as we deem necessary the utmost application of the exterminating force.

"I have never indulged in shallow, fugitive optimism, but I have thought it right to make this statement because I am sure it will not lead to the slightest complacency or relaxation of that awful force which now is being brought into action.

"This force will be remorselessly applied to the guilty nations and their wicked leaders who imaginated their superiority of air-power would enable them to terrorize and subjugate first all Europe and afterwards the world."

In a fighting speech the length and vigor of which surprised most everyone on such a formal occasion, Mr. Churchill declared that "upon the association and intimate alignment policy" of Britain and the United States "depends more than upon any other factor the immediate future of the world."

Referring to the close association of the two countries, he said that the great power of the United States "aroused no fear" and its "pre-eminence excites no jealousy in British bosoms."

With thousands of admirers who seldom get a chance to cheer him in person lining the streets, Mr. Churchill was driven from the edge of the City of London to the Guildhall in one of the Lord Mayor's horse-drawn open carriages.

He was accompanied by Mrs. Churchill and their daughters Sarah and Mary, both in military uniform.

The parade route was kept secret until a short time before the ceremony when the street corner loudspeakers assembled the throngs.

The colorful procession went from Fleet street up Ludgate Hill, reminiscent of historic celebrations honoring many of Britain's conquering heroes.

Churchill Smiles.

The cheering crowds soon aroused the famous Churchill smile.

On arrival at the Guildhall—its walls still blackened from the Nazi fire raid of December, 1940 — Mr. Churchill inspected the guard of honour and then went inside to receive the tumultuous welcome of guests already assembled. A big cheer also was given Field Marshal Sir Archibald P. Wavell, newly appointed Viceroy of India.

The freedom of the city was represented by a plaque encased in a casket made from English oak salvaged from a burned portion of the roof of the Guildhall.

Mr. Churchill received the honour from Sir Samuel Joseph, the Lord Mayor, robed in traditional gold and black. Seated around him were the aldermen wearing red, black and ermine-lined robes.

A clerk reading the order directing the presentation used the ancient formula, declaring that Mr. Churchill "did not desire the freedom of the city so that he might defraud the king."

Future of World.

"Upon the association and intimate alignment of the policy of the United States and the British Commonwealth and Empire depends more than upon any other factor the immediate future of the world," he said. "If they walk or, if need be, march together in harmony and in accordance with the moral and political conceptions to which the English-speaking peoples have given birth and which are frequently referred to in the Atlantic Charter, all will be well. If they fall apart and wander astray from the lines of their destiny there will be no end or measure to the miseries and confusion which would mark modern civilization.

"....We and the Americans have waged war, sharing alike, taking the rough with the smooth, not as one people but certainly as though we were one army, one navy, and one air force. So we shall continue like brothers, certainly until unconditional surrender and until our goals have been achieved, and I trust until after all due measure has been taken so as to secure our safety in future years, safety from ill usage."

The general progress of war was satisqfactory, he said. "Two great battles were won by the Allies. Every one has heard of the battle in Tunisia.

There was another victory, a no less notable battle which was fought in May in the Atlantic against the U-boats.

"In May the German Admiralty made exertions to prevent the movement to Great Britain of the enormous convoys of food and materials which are continuously received from the United States and which we must bring in safely if our war-making capacity is to be maintained. Long lines of U-boats were spread to meet these convoys and 15 or 20 U-boats were concentrated in each attack.

"To meet this the British and American and Canadian forces of the sea and air hurled their strength at the U-boats. The fighting took place mainly around the convoys and also over a wide expanse of ocean It ended in the total defeat of the U-boat attack.

U-Boats Recoil.

"More than 30 U-boats were certainly destroyed in the month of May, floundering in many cases with their crews in the dark depths of the sea. Staggered by these deadly losses the U-boats have recoiled to lick their wounds and mourn their dead.

"Now as a result of the May victory and massacre of U-boats we have had in June the best month we have ever known in the whole 46 of the war. The prodigious ship-building exertions of the United States and the considerable contribution of Britain and also of Canada have produced an output of new ships which is somewhere between seven and ten times as much as our losses from enemy action in the month of June.

"Since the middle of May scarcely a single merchant ship has been sunk in the whole of the North Atlantic. In June also, although the convoys are not being seriously attacked at the present time, the U-boat losses have been most solid and encouraging.

Must Keep It Up.

"I give these facts purposely in a form which conveys the truth without giving precise detailed information to circles wider than those with which we ourselves are concerned. There are two conclusions to be drawn from them. The first is that we must not assume that this great improvement will be maintained or that bad patches do not lie ahead. The second is that, although encouraged by the growing success of our methods, we must redouble our efforts and ingenuity.

"Three years ago, Hitler boasted he would rub out the cities of Britain. Certainly in the nine months before he abandoned his attack we suffered very heavy damage to our buildings and grievous hindrance to our life and work. More than 40,000 of our people were killed and 120,000 wounded. But now those who sowed the wind are reapink a whirlwind.

2,000 Tons an Hour.

"In the first half of this year the R.A.F. alone has cast on Germany 35 times the tonnage of bombs which in that same six months of this year has been discharged on this island in one single night—nay in one single hour—we had cast on Duesseldorf 2,000 tons of terrible explosive and incendiary bombs for a loss of 38 aircraft while in the whole first half of this same year the enemy had discharged on us no more than 1,500 tons of bombs at a cost of 245 aircraft.

Mr. Churchill then turned to the Mediterranean, "Mussolini's Italian Fascists, seem to be suffering from the war of nerves of which they and their German masters have made so much use in former times," he said. "So far they have only been subjected to preliminary and discursive bombardments, but they already are speculating feverishly where the blow will fall and what will be its weight.

"It is no part of our interest to relieve that anxiety. They may remember how they themselves struck at the Turks in Tripoli, at Abyssinia and Albania and how they fell upon the Greeks and set out to conquer Egypt. And they may look back regretfully to the day when they used to disturb the peace of the world and when it rested with them which weaker community could be struck down first.

Future Risky

"I can do nothing to help them resolve their fears, which, communicated to their allies, may perhaps have led to the remarkable long delay of the opening of the promised German offensive against Russia.

"But I have some words of caution to say to our own people. First of all, great military operations are dominated by the risks and turns of the future. I know of no certainty in war that is particularly true of amphibious war. Therefore any mood of overconfidence should be severely repressed.

"Another point which should be comprehended is that all large and amphibious operations, especially if they require the co-operation of two or more countries, require long months of organization with refinements and complexities hitherto unknown. In war all impulses, impatient desires and sudden flashes of military instinct can not hasten the course of events.

"I can not go further today than to say this—very probably there will be heavy fighting in the Mediterranean and elsewhere before the leaves of autumn fall."

Veteran Head Of Liberals Is Re-elected

Dr. Donald Munro of Warsaw veteran president of the Peterborough County Liberal Association was re-elected on Tuesday night at the convention held in the Legion Hall. Dr. Munro for years was president of the Peterborough East Liberal Association and then when the East and West ridings were united he became the president of the joint organization.

Other officers elected were:

Honorary presidents, Hon. Harry Nixon, Hon. J. J. Duffus, Hon. G. N. Gordon, K.C., and F. D. Kerr, K.C.

1st Vice president, Col. J. A. Dewart, M.C.

2nd Vice president, Bruce Curtis, Havelock.

3rd Vice president, Charles Tanner of Lakefield.

4th Vice president, Gilbert McIlmoyle of Smith.

5th Vice president, W. F. Huycke, K.C.

Treasurer, Max Swanston.

Secretary, R. M. Glover.

Executive committee, Dr. E. M. Crough, P. McNulty, Mrs. C. S. Scott, Mrs. Dora McMillan, Mrs. Wallace Shearer and all township and ward chairmen.

Members of the nominating committee were T. F. Doughty, Rork Ferguson, W. W. Leonard, Frank Hughes, E. B. Fowler and E. Corkery.

Three resolutions were unanimously passed by the convention Erle Tully moved and Herb Tucker seconded the association's thanks for the work done by the retiring executive.

Rork Ferguson moved and Perrin Rork seconded the convention's confidence in the Mackenzie King government which commended the war effort, recognition of organized labor, two billion dollar gifts to Great Britain and the gearing of agriculture and industry for war production as well as the steps taken to prevent inflation and profiteering.

The third resolution was moved by Charles Tanner and Percy Davidson and endorsed the Nixon Government in the following terms:

"That the annual meeting of the Peterborough Liberal Association heartily endorses the policy of Premier H. C. Nixon and his Government and expresses its confidence in his progressive policies for all the people of the Province of Ontario.

"We are gratified that the problems which exist between the different jurisdictions of the Dominion and the province can now be settled in a friendly way between the Ontario Government and the Dominion Government in the needs of a Great War effort, and we appreciate the interest of the Government at Queen's Park, which is friendly in its attitude and ready to assist at all times in the war effort, with the Dominion Government.

"The life long experience of Premier Nixon as a farmer enables him to understand the problems of the men and women on the farm thoroughly and his active sympathy in the cause of the men and women on the farm.

"Premier Nixon and his government's well known sympathy and support merit the confidence and endorsement of all people who are anxious and concerned for a better way of living for the people of the province.

"The enlistment of all the adult members of Premier Nixon's family who are of military age, shows the splendid spirit of the premier and his family.

"This convention endorses unanimously and heartily, the progressive, energetic and far reaching policies of the Nixon Government."

Big Rush Made Filing Taxes

As the dealine for filing income tax returns draws near, many people are caught up in a last-minute rush of procuring and making out tax forms and purchasing money orders to accompany their returns in the mail.

Today, June 30, is the fatal day and all persons obligated to make a return who have not yet done so must have their forms post-marked before mid-night. The penalty for not complying is a 5 per cent fine.

The last few weeks have been trying ones for Peterborough's tax consultants, what with the great increase in numbers of taxpayers and the headaches of the now notorious "T1-General 1942."

T1-General is the form used for incomes over $3000 or for investment incomes of more than $1,500, and generally-speaking it applies to individual proprietorships, partnerships and private estates. The legislation on which the form is based was not made law until a few weeks ago, and the for itself has only been in print less than a month. This, added to the ingenious complications that T1-General presents, has given the chartered accountants some heavy days and grievous headaches throughout June.

Of course, a far larger number of people are filing this year than ever before, and a correspondingly larger number appear to have held off from attacking the job until the eleventh hour. The Post Office was still receiving requests for tax-blanks this morning, and had to replenish the supply of forms which was almost exhausted in Tuesday's activities. Long lines of taxpayers have been forming during business hours intent on purchasing money-order remittance to include with their returns.

Banks Are Closed On Dominion Day

Though Monday, July , has been chosen by the Mayor and City Council as the date Peterborough will celebrate Dominion Day, certain stores and institutions will observe July 1, and policy in regard to the city holiday varies, with some places of business not yet sure whether they will be open on the Monday.

All banks and the Customs House will be closed on Thursday and open on the following Monday; the Liquor Store is to be closed both days, and the Brewery Warehouse open on Thursday and not certain about Monday. The Post Office will be open for business with regular city and rural deliveries on Thursday.

Knitted Boards

TORONTO, June 30.—(CP)— F. G. Edwards, ardent checker fan, is doing something unusual for the boys overseas. He's knitting checkerboards. Made of hemp in the traditional red and black squares, they can be rolled into a tight, compact bundle, and they fit into a soldier's kit a lot easier than the wooden boards.

Theft Of Canoe Results In 10-Day Term

"You will be having half of Stoney Lake in jail" declared Hon. G. N. Gordon, K.C., in police court after Karl Pearson, Lakefield, whom he was defending had been convicted of stealing a canoe belonging to Fred Marshall from the Lakefield dock last Saturday night.

Although Mr. Gordon claimed that taking somebody else's boat to get across the lake when your own was missing was a more or less common practice around summer resorts, Magistrate Langley sentenced the youth to ten days in jail.

Phyllis Marshall, daughter of the owner of the canoe and Leona Magee who had accompanied her, told of paddling down from the Marshall cottage near Lakefield to the village last Saturday night. The canoe, they said, was tied to the dock and when they came back half an hour later it was gone. Miss Marshall identified the rope produced as one that had been tied to the canoe.

Sidney Hutt, Lakefield, who had been with Chief Constable Samis when Pearson was arrested on an island in the river at Lakefield early Sunday morning, said Pearson had been asleep in a tent when they reached the island. There was a canoe a few feet away from the tent. Hutt said that Pearson had said that his own canoe had been missing and he had taken the other boat to get across to the island.

Fred Marshall, owner of the canoe, told the court that the accused had come to his house and asked to have the charge dropped, saying that he had no intention of stealing the canoe.

Chief Garnet Samis told of Pearson's arrest around 2 o'clock on Sunday morning and in answer to a question from Mr. Gordon said that the accused had been brought down to the Peterborough police station.

"Why didn't you lock him up in Lakefield"?

"Because there is nobody there at night."

"Do you know that the village of Lakefield is responsible for the cost of his incarceration in Peterborough?"

"My instructions from the village council are to take prisoners at night into Peterborough."

"I'll see that you are sent a bill" said Mr. Gordon.

Pearson said that he had left his own canoe at the same spot at the dock where the Marshall canoe had been found. When he went to paddle up to the island where he had been sleeping and got into the canoe that was there he discovered that it was not his boat. He said that he returned to the dock and looked for his own for some time and then had used the other canoe to cross over to the island. His intention had been to return it next morning.

A. Gill was called by Mr. Gordon to give character evidence and that closed the defence.

After Magistrate Langley had stated that there would be a conviction, Mr. Gordon asked for a suspended sentence, arguing that it was not a very heinous offence around a summer resort to use somebody else's boat under similar circumstances.

Magistrate Langley pointed out that a suspended sentence was impossible because of the fact that Pearson had been previously convicted when 14 years old of stealing some wire.

Crown Attorney McElderry suggested that a fine might be imposed instead of a jail sentence.

"I would suggest that the fine should be about 10 cents" said Mr. Gordon.

"I am not sure whether I accept the accused's story altogether" said Magistrate Langley in announcing a sentence of ten days imprisonment.

St. George's Holds Picnic On Church Lawn

Instead of the usual trip up the lakes, this year St. George's Church Sunday School held its annual picnic on Saturday on the church lawn because of the cancellation of the Stoney Lake. In spite of this a fair crowd was present, and each child enjoyed himself to the utmost, as in former years.

Races were held and the results are as follows:

Mrs. Dorrell's class, girls—Patsy Green. Miss Dummitt's class, girls—1 Marion White, 2 B. Dow; boys—1 Jerry Strickland, 2 Morris Parry, 3 Bobby Bowen. Miss Wilson's class—1 Beverly Watkiss, 2 Elva Boulton. Miss Lorne's class—1 Pat Nixon, 2 Doreen Boulton. Miss Gibson's class—1 Bonny Strickland, 2 Reggie Curtis. Mr. Cole's class—1 Edwin Curtis, 2 Garry Jones. Mrs. Spencely's class—1 Donna White, 2 Shirley Watkiss. Mrs. Hamlin's class—1 Albert Arnott, 2 Morris Hughes. Mrs. Crouter's class—1 Edna McCormack, 2 Doreen Hamblin. Tossing the ball, boys—1 Douglas Herd, 2 Gordon Douglas; girls—1 Beverly Watkiss, 2 Doreen Hamblin. Ladies' race—1 M. Cacavella, 2 Mrs. C. Nixon. Men's race—1 W. Firth, 2 Rev. E. C. Moore. Boys' and girls' slow bicycle race—1 Jim Edwards, 2 Albert Arnott.

Supper was eaten after the races and those in charge of the picnic were Robert Pilling, superintendent, Mrs. Fred Dorrell, superintendent of the Junior Department, assisted by the teachers. Rev. E. C. Moore, M. Firth, Mrs. Fred Darnell, and A. Busby all helped to make the picnic a success.

Beer Situation Said Improving

TORONTO, June 30 (CP)—Hon. A. St. Clair Gordon, Ontario Provincial Treasurer and chairman of the Liquor Control Board of Ontario, said yesterday that an increased allotment of beer will be made available by the board in July although there will be no increase in the amount allowed the individual ration book holder.

Mr. Gordon said the increase will approximate the amount consumed in military establishments — which were placed under a separate quota of one gallon per soldier about three weeks ago by federal authorities—along with a carryover from the June civilian allotment. The June surplus results from cool weather early in the month which brought a reduction in consumption, he said.

The increased allotment will be divided equally between authority holders and home consumers, Mr. Gordon said, adding that the amount of the increase still had to be worked out and he was unable to give details.

The July allotment for individual ration book holders is the same as in June, with 36 pints the maximum amount which may be purchased.

Pupils Give Teacher Going Away Gift

Mrs. A. E. Young school teacher at S. S. No. 5, Otonabee, who lives at 140 Hunter Street West, Peterborough, is being transferred by the School Board to take charge of two senior rooms at the Keene School.

During recess on Tuesday, the last day of school, Ruby Staples, representing the pupils, made a surprise presentation of book-ends to Mrs. Young, and Jean Armstrong read an address in which the students expressed their regreat at severing connections with their teacher who has been with them for two years. The students said she had proved to be a splendid guide and her helpfulness and kindness would not be soon forgotten.

Until May, there were only ten pupils in the class, the oldest of whom was 13, and this small group through the sale of war savings stamps, and contributions to the Junior Red Cross and the British War Victims Fund managed to raise the sum of $66 during the year.

In a supporting affidavity she asserts Laurel is under contract to receive $50,000 for each picture he makes with his portly screen colleague, Oliver Hardy, and she asks $765 monthly for her support.

Presumed Killed

Sgt. Eric Ingram, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Ingram, near Campbellford, who was previously reported missing in April after a raid on Stuttgart, has been presumed killed in action, his parents have been advised.

Sgt. E. Ingram Believed Killed

Sgt. Eric Ingram, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Ingram of Seymour East, who was reported missing after a raid on Stuttgart April 14, is now presumed to have been killed in action his parents were notified Monday.

He had trained as an air gunner at St. Hubert and Mountain View, receiving his wing's at the latter. Sgt. Ingram had enlisted in September 1941 and went overseas in July 1942 where he was attached to a R. A. F. heavy bomber squadron. Besides his parents, he has two brothers, Douglas and Clare, and two sisters, Jean and Pauline living at home.

Wireless air-gunner with a bomber squadron overseas, Sgt. L. E. Schamehorn, son of Rev. and Mrs. W. R. Schamehorn, Madoc, has been reported missing after air operations overseas. He had served in the army for three months before transfering to the R. C. A. F. in July. He trained at St. Hubert, Valcartier, Montreal, Moncton and at Mountain View, and arrived overseas in December of 1942. A younger brother, Corp. Harry Schamehorn is with the R. C. A. F. at Belleville.

Campbellford Native Is Drowned In North

TIMMINS, Ont., June 30 — (CP)—James Ostifi, 24-year-old native of Campbellford, Ont., was drowned in the icy waters of the Mattagami River yesterday when he lost his balance and toppled into the water from a scaffolding beneath a new bridge spanning the Mattagami.

The powerful undercurrent of the stream, the fact that the workman was fully clothed and the element of shock upon striking the water are said to have contributed to Ostifi's death. Efforts of fire department officials and police to recover the body have failed.

Old P.C.I. Student Writes From Banff

The adage, "It's a small world," has been proven once again. A letter has been received by the Examiner from a former Peterborough resident, now in Banff, Alta., who is the daughter of the late Dr. Henry Pidgeon, M.R.C.S., of 240 Charlotte Street, commenting on Dr. H. R. H. Kenner's completion of 50 years of service at the Collegiate.

Mrs. A. G. Stewart went to the West in 1917 and she wrote that she would find the city greatly changed. She was a pupil at the Collegiate during Dr. Kenner's term of office, and studied under C. S. Browne. She also mentioned that L. J. Pettit, whom she liked very much, was still on the staff. Mrs. Stewart declared that she thoroughly enjoyed renewing acquaintances through reading the special features on the principal's celebration.

Canadian Legion Totals $1,372 For War Victims

Wednesday is always bingo night at the Canadian Legion Hall on Murray Street, when the veterans of World War No. 1 hold forth in the interests of their own welfare work, and when the Peterborough and District British War Victims Fund first began to operate, their president, G. Gimblett on their behalf pledged a portion of the proceeds from these same games to go as an assist to those who were suffering through the ravage of war caused by enemy air raids over Britain.

In the light of their previous answer to the call of Empire some 20 years ago, it is quite natural that they should again wish to do something to carry on in the present conflict and same readiness which prevailed at that time until victory was achieved has also characterized their help in this particular manner, for their pledge has been fully maintained, and once a month the fund has been able to count on a contribution from them, just as regular as the clock ticks off the minutes of the hour and day.

Their latest contribution amounting to $43.33 received through G. G. Torrance, their secretary-treasurer is listed today, and now makes a total of $1,372.39 they have given, which is well over half the amount needed to send one complete donation of £500 to England, well worthwhile achievement in the cause for which they offered themselves in a more active capacity in day's gone by.

Gilmour Class Helps.

Assistance to the fund knows no barriers of either age, creed or type of effort, for all classes have responded in a splendid manner to the call of this effort which is operated purely in the name of the residents of the city and district.

A day or so ago, a Sunday School class at Mount Pleasant sent a contribution; and this is now duplicated by the Gleaners Class of Gilmour Memorial Church close to the city sending in a like donation of $5.00 to help things along, adding to the previous assistance given by the same Church to help those who need it in the front line in Britain.

School days are now over, and recalling previous years at this time, young boys and girls might again in their own districts give a helping hand by staging an effort of some kind or other to help the boys and girls through the fund. Those who can do so, should get in touch with the secretary of the fund who will render what assistance and advice can be given to carry such to a successful conclusion.

Branch 52, Canadian Legion per G. Gimblett and G. G. Torrance	43.33

Speeder Is Fined

When he drove through Lakefield at a rate of more than 30 miles an hour he was hurrying to take a sick friend home, was the explanation made by R. D. Wood of Peterborough, after pleading guilty in police court today to a charge of driving faster than 30 miles an hour.

Wood said that he was travelling more than 30 but was not doing more than 35 miles.

Chief Garnet Samis said that the car had travelled through the village at around 40 miles an hour, with the horn sounding continuously.

Magistrate Langley imposed a fine of $5 and $7.50 costs.

Hastings Couple Mark Golden Wedding

HASTINGS, June 30—Mr. and Mrs. W. Tate of Hastings celebrated their golden wedding anniversary on Monday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Staples of Lindsay, Mrs. Staples being a daughter.

William T. Tate and Jennie Mirfield were married in Colborne on June 28, 1893, by Rev. Francis Johnson. The witnesses were Lillian Tate and John Dickey, both deceased. The pair have been members of Trinity church, Hastings, for many years, and Mrs. Tate was a faithful Sunday School teacher until a year ago when she relinquished her post because of ill health. Her husband has served as a member of the Official Board and is now one of the elders of the church. He is still active in business.

Mr. and Mrs. Tate have two children, Edna, wife of J. G. Staples, public school principal at Lindsay, and a son, William Tate, who is a C.N.R. train despatcher at Belleville. There are two grandchildren, Herbert Staples, a student at Toronto University, and John Tate of Belleville.

A dinner was held for Mr. and Mrs. Tate with decorations in gold and white, with pink and white peonies. They received many gifts and anniversary tokens from friends around the country.

Molly McCarrell Entertained

Mrs. John Dougherty (nee Muriel McCarrell) whose wedding took place Monday, was entertained several times by her friends. Miss Alicia Langley entertained for her at a dinner and bridge at her home. Miss Mary McPherson was hostess at a personal shower at her home; Miss Jean Dougherty held a linen and cup and saucer shower in her honor at her home; Miss Jane Strickland and Miss Margaret Lawrie were joint hostesses at a garden party and miscellaneous shower at the former's home. The bride's associates on the Inspection Board of the United Kingdom and Canada held a picnic and miscellaneous shower at the summer home of Mrs. W. Jopling in Chemong Park.

MODERN GIRL FIRST FREE TO MARRY MAN OF OWN CHOICE

Multitudes Wed Boys Who Can't Support Them But Feel Home Worth Price of Such Help.

A YOUNG man wants to know whether the modern girl is influenced more by love or lucre in picking out her husband than her Grandmother was, and whether she thinks more about what sort of security he can give her than she does about whether he will be a congenial lifemate than Grandma did about Grandpa.

You don't have to be a Quiz Kid to answer that question. The modern girl is the first one in all recorded history who is privileged to use her taste instead of her necessity in choosing a husband. She is the first woman who has ever been able to look at a man and see if he was desirable in her eyes, instead of at his pocketbook and trying to figure out how much was in it. Hence, when little Miss Up-To-Date says "yes" and cuddles down on a chap's breast, he may be very sure that he is loved for himself alone and not for his bank account.

Marriage Grandma's Graft

No blame to Grandma if she was always Sister Annie on the housetop, on the lookout for a good catch to come riding by. Marriage was not only her vocation, it was her graft. It was the only respectable way for her to make a living. A husband was a meal ticket and she had to get one by hook or by crook. Else she became one of the most piteous of all human beings—the old maid daughter who withers on the parent tree, forever buffeted by the reproaches of a disappointed mother who considered it criminal negligence in Sally or Sue not to have provided herself with an establishment via the matrimonial route.

Hence, there was the managing Mama who sold her daughters into marriage as frankly as any slave owner, and who taught her girls, from the cradle up, that while romance was a pretty thing to dally with in thought and read about in poetry and novels, the real thing was to get down to cases in marriage and pick out a husband who would be a good provider. For, argued great-Grandmother, in time passion cools and romance withers and husbands get to be just husbands, but the comforts and luxuries of life remain a never-ceasing joy.

No Unwilling Brides of Necessity

No girl nowadays has to marry for a living. She can roll her own. No girl has to become the unwilling bride of a man who is physically repulsive to her, or to whom she is so allergic that his very touch makes her flesh crawl, because he is the only living thing that stands between her and starvation. She can earn her own bread and butter and, if she has any spunk about her, she can add cakes and ale to her menu.

There need be no more of the blighted romances of the past in which a lovelorn maiden pined away and died because she could not marry the noble youth she adored whose salary, alas, barely supported one. The modern girl would simply add her pay envelope to his, and they would have a jolly little wedding, buy a bungalow in the suburbs and live happily ever after.

Multitudes of girls are marrying men who can't support them. They know perfectly well that they will have to work harder after marriage than they do before because they will have to add house-wifery to their other jobs. They know they will have less money to spend on good clothes and beauty shops and amusements. But they think that marriage is worth the price, and that it is more fun to sit at home with John of an evening than it is to step out dining and dancing.

New Social Setup Helpful to Girls

They couldn't have done that in Grandma's time because then a dowerless wife was a crushing burden to a poor boy. Nor could Grandma risk starving with even the most fascinating youth. She had to think of her stomach as well as her heart. So the money element entered into the marriage of the past much more than it does now.

Of course, not all girls are sentimentalists. There are still gold-diggers amongst us and shrewd little opportunists who keep their affections on ice until they get a chance to bestow them on some Sugar Daddy old enough to be their Grandfathers. But these are few and far between.

The modern girl is seldom avaricious. A lad comes down the street whistling a tune that catches her fancy and she gets up and follows him without even asking if he can pay for the next meal. For if he can't, she can.

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: What is your opinion of a suitable marriage? I have been married nine years to a fine husband who is a good provider. I have a beautiful home and all the comforts of life, and I have two lovely children. But I am bored to death. I married for ambition and money and I am starved for love and attention and fed up with domestic duties and staying at home every night with the children.

Perhaps the women who marry for love enjoy nights after nights at home with their husbands. They have companionship, but I have nothing to amuse me. Does love always die, as my mother says and am I really better off than some of my friends who married for love and are poor, because I have butter on my bread, a cold heart, but a warm fire?

WONDERING

With Money Woman Can Have Happy Life

ANSWER: My idea of a suitable marriage is one in which a husband and wife marry for love and then have enough sportsmanship to take the consequences and play the game. No marriage, whether you marry for love or for money, ever comes up to expectations, or brings all the happiness that the fatuous lovers expected of it. No woman is an angel in private life no man a romantic hero. Every married couple is composed of just two faulty, selfish, irritable human beings who look at every subject in life from a different standpoint, and who cannot avoid getting on each other's nerves at times.

And the only secret of even being reasonably happy though married is to have enough common sense to makes the best of the man to whom you are married, and with whom you must live and to adjust yourself for him or her as well as you can, and to keep your thoughts focused on his or her good points instead of the bad ones.

You married for money and the things that money gives you. Well you can buy a lot of pleasure with money. You get the comforts of life, good food, beautiful surroundings, ease, pretty clothes, amusements, travel. You are able to help people less fortunate than you. Avenues of culture open up to you. Surely a woman might content herself with these, even if she does not feel any romantic yearnings towards her husband.

Many a poor woman, overworked, shabby, harassed by bills and wondering how she is going to pay the rent, would gladly trade what's left of her love idyl for your security.

Being bored is something that depends upon you, not your surroundings. We must make our interests, our enthusiasms, our pleasures for ourselves. They are not handed to us on a silver tray. You can be bored, as you say with your domestic duties, or you can find an exciting and absorbing occupation in making a home. You can be bored with your children, or you can find in them a never-ending interest. It is up to you.

DEAR MISS DIX: I am 43. I go with a girl who has just turned 17. I am settled in my habits. Naturally she still likes good times and fun. I want her to marry me now. She insists on our waiting until after the duration. I know another girl who is more my own age for whom I could learn to care. Do you think I should try to forget the young girl and concentrate all my affection on the elderly lady who is much more settled?

MAHONEY

ANSWER: I certainly do, Mahoney. There is no mistake greater than for a settled man to marry a flighty young girl. Stick to your own age class.

THE STARS SAY . . . .

By GENEVIEVE KEMBLE

For Thursday, July 1

THE ASTRAL influences on this day give excellent impetus for applying splendid talents and energies into plans and projects of ambitious scope and long range significance. It is a time for considering agreements, contracts, new openings and ideas of personal ingenuity. But shun erratic confused or subtle entanglements, having dubious undercurrents.

Those whose birthday it is may anticipate a year of excellent progress, as energy, initiative and exceptional talents and versatility may have an opportunity for productive expression. This should attract the support of friends and others, with capital, influence or other promotional qualities. Approach these and all with wariness as to hidden, chaotic or doubtful complications, which might be detrimental to desired results. The social or sentimental angle is not to be neglected in pushing for cherished objectives.

A child born on this day may have exceptional talents and abilities, with energy and initiative to grasp opportunities for a progressive and productive career. Its life also may be romantic, and it should enjoy domestic happiness.

Millbrook

Congratulations are being extended to pupils of Mrs. L. H. Winslow, Millbrook, for their success in the Toronto Conservatory of Music examinations recently held at Peterborough. The list includes: Grade 1: Barbara Kennedy; Grade II, Kathryn Olan (honors); Grade III, Kathryn Bigelow, (honors); Grade V: Maretta Olan.

The community picnic, with proceeds for the Red Cross, held at the Mansion Grounds on Friday evening, brought a fair attendance, the extreme heat being a detriment, the draw for the doll's house, with its complete and dainty furnishings, being made by little Carol Ann Ridge: the lucky ticket was held by a resident of Hamilton, A. R. Payne having sold a book of tickets among the executive firm which he represents. The second ticket, entitling the holder to enough wall paper, like that in the doll's house, to cover any room in his or her home, likewise was held in the Ambitious City. Between forty and fifty dollars was made for the war work through the enterprise, T. A. Campbell, well known for his clever workmanship, having made the coveted dolly's home, with its furniture

Mrs. Grace Oliphant, of Montreal, is visiting her aunt, Mrs. C. M. Westmacott; Rev. Mr. Battersby, of Lindsay, was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Ford on Sunday, taking the work in Cavan parish, in the absence of the rector, Rev. A. E. Chevis, whose health still requires treatment, and who is now in Toronto. Mr. J. Edgar Burnham, of St. Petersburg, Florida, is at his cottage at Chemong Park, arriving from the South last week; his daughter, Mrs. A. C. Darling, and daughter, Betty, of Toronto, are with her father for the summer. Mrs. James Stewart is visiting Mrs. H. Sage, and other friends in Peterborough.

Brantford Shop Makes Mosquito Parts

By A. T. WHITAKER
Canadian Press Correspondent (Brantford Expositor)

BRANTFORD, June 30 — (CP). —The quickened tempo of war is clearly evident in Brantford with training centres for two of the armed services in and near the city and most of the 72 industrial plants geared to all-out war production, ranging from the manufacture of machine tools to the actual implements of war.

No. 20 Basic Training Centre of the Canadian Army is within the city limits while No. 5 Service Flying Training School of the R.C.A.F. is only three miles away and uniformed men and women from both are familiar figures on the city's streets.

Greatest influence of the war has been in industrial production reflected in the presence of hundreds of girls wearing slacks or overalls, most of them employed at the great peacetime agricultural implement plants —Cockshutt's and Massey-Harris.

Cockshutt moulded aircraft, an entirely new division of the former plow manufacturing concern, is manufacturing parts for Mosquito bombers. These parts formerly were made in California.

This branch is expected to be a great cushion for employment when peacetime production is resumed while Cockshutt's implement division and the Massey-Harris Company—which now makes tank parts —expect an expanded market for agricultural implements after the war as a result of restrictions on production in wartime.

200 Wartime Houses.

While employment figures may not be given some indication of industrial expansion may be seen in the program of Wartime Housing Ltd., which has constructed 200 temporary homes as well as a hostel for women. Workers have come from such widely separated parts of Canada as Saskatchewn and the Cape Breton area of Nova Scotia.

The wartime shortage of labor is all the more striking because Brantford spent $4,000,000 relieve unemployment during the depression years.

Greatest housing shortage is in one-family houses for war workers and small apartments for wives of officers and men at the flying school. Rents are high for single rooms or small apartments in former one-family dwelling.

The impact of war is seen even in the post office—not only in the volume of mail to and from members of the armed forces—but in delayed mail due to shortages of staff. There are fewer men and more women working as clerks in the stores whose shelves now lack such ordinary peacetime commodities as canned salmon, canned beans and condensed milk while there is a shortage of chocolate bars and candy.

No figures are available on enlistments in the armed forces. However in the first great war, Brantford and Brant county with a population of about 44,000 contributed 5,571 men of whom 609 were killed, to the armed forces, as well as a number of nurses. In this war the population is about the same and it is believed the proportion of enlistments is higher, including girls who have joined the women's divisions of the three armed services.

Many have won decorations in this war although there is no total available.

The first Brantford member of the R.C.R.F. killed in training was the son of a Jewish merchant. The first Brantford airman taken prisoner was the son of a Greek merchant. He was captured in the fighting in Greece.

The city and county have exceeded their objectives in each of the four Victory Loan campaigns.

Sausage Frikadelle

Here is a new kind of "meat ball" (FRIKADELLE in Denmark) that's different. With some foods rationed, you'll find this "FRIKADELLE" a welcome addition to your menu. The H.P. Sauce in the recipe is important. And don't forget this grand English type sauce is also good with meats, fowl, fish, stew, sandwiches, etc. Get a bottle today.

Mix 1 cup of sausage meat with 1 teaspoon of H.P. Sauce. Then divide into four. Wrap 4 hard-cooked eggs in sausage meat. Break up 1 cup of stale bread or crackers. Roll egg and sausage in crumbs, then in 1 well-beaten egg—then crumbs again, until sausage meat is covered with egg and crumb mixture. Fry in fat until golden brown. Serve on toast rings with tomato sauce if desired.

Goebbels Invents Four Freedoms

NEW YORK June 30 (CP)—The "four freedoms" enunciated by President Roosevelt and adopted by other United Nations leaders are freedom of speech and religion, freedom from want and fear.

The Berlin radio today broadcast Germany's "four freedoms," crediting their authorship to Propaganda Chief Goebbels. They are:

Freedom from Jewish world domination.

Freedom from the murderius system of Bolshevisms.

Freedom from capital exploitation.

Freedom from Anglo-American imperialism.

In its version for German consumption, the Berlin radio made the "fourth freedom" read: "Liberation of the world from Anglo-American imperialism which aspires to repute only by terror bombing."

Goebbels' "four freedoms" were said to have been adopted as "Europe's war aims" at a recent conference of Axis journalists in Vienna.

Alex Elliott

invaluable experience from studying the problem, and Col. Drew and his followers refused to sit in on the committee which made a detailed investigation, he maintained.

Collective Bargaining

"The passing of this Bill made certain that Trade Unions were recognized as lawful bargain agencies and that no employer could refuse to bargain collectively with his employees where there was a certified union, and where rival unions are in power, the employer can require a vote to be taken. The employees also can go before a labour court if collective bargaining is refused by any recognized agency.

"The C.C.F. suggested a three-man Board to deal with these problems, but this never works because two of the board always advocate the interests they represent and the chairman who is neutral is forced to make the decision. The Ontario Government felt it was much better to leave this administration to the Supreme Court, which is conducted by men of the highest honesty and integrity."

Citing Australia as an example where a labor legislation is well advanced, Mr. Cross declared the Government had there the most advanced labor legislation in the world. It is their custom to settle labor disputes by court for the board method failed and if it worked there it can be successfully handled here, he asserted.

Large Deficits.

Going back to the early days of the Hepburn regime, Mr. Cross stated that when the Liberals came into power the finances were in a deplorable state with annual deficits which had mounted for years. The Liberal Government determined to operate a balanced budget and they changed the book-keeping system which had resulted in a series of cross entries under the guardianship of the Henry Government.

A revision was made in taxation because of the heavy burdens imposed on many municipalities. Up to that time the municipalities had been asked to pay 50 per cent of the Mothers' Allowance costs, 10 per cent of the Old Age Pension and share to as high as 50 per cent in the maintenance and cost of Provincial Highways. The Government took over the collection of personal income tax, incrased corporation and gasoline taxation. This gave them the additional money to carry out the necessary social services and relieve municipalities of their costs.

"The results of these changes are being extensively felt to-day The Govrnment introduced a municipal subsidy of 1 mill, which it is still paying. In 1936 the Province assumed the whole share of the municipal cost of Old Age Pensions which has cost $7,000,000, and in 1938, the entire cost of the Mothers' Allowance, which was about $12,700,000. These have been increased this year by about 20 per cent.

We now give free medical attention to pensioners, and have a redistribution of wealth where money is taken in taxes from those who have to care for those who haven't.

"In addition, the Province has taken over the cost of indigent patients of sanitoria, and it would amount to more than $7,000,000 if the people of Ontario were required to raise money on real estate assessments. This has had a marked effect in reducing the death rate from consumption in Ontario to olwest in Canada. The money is well saved in building the health of the people.

Two Groups Formed

Attorney-General Cross reminded that in 1934, 38 municipalities were in default to the tune of $108,000,000 and yet not one dollar was lost to any debenture holder. He explained the function of the Department of Municipal Affairs, which was set up to aid municipalities.

It has assisted bankrupt municipalities and aided in placing them on a sound financial basis. Now $99,000,000 out of the $108,000,000 has been paid back on the municipal default. Peterborough and other communities are better financially since the Provincial municipal debt has been reduced from $500,000,000 in 1933 to $300,000,000 in 1942.

Mr. Cross paid tribute to the ability of Mr. Elliott and told of the keen interest he took in the affairs of the legislature and in the welfare of his riding. He related how he had argued in caucus for the right of Americans and to purchase patent rights on crown lands on which they might erect cottages and become regular summer dwellers, and he expressed the opinion that should he be spared to return his voice would be heard in the cabinet councils of the province.

The speaker described the Ontario premier, Hon. Harry Nixon, as the balance wheel of the Hepburn Administration and remarked that the country needs the benefit of his steady guidance, experience and wisdom today. He has been behind many of the policies carried out by the present government and as a member of the opposition in the Henry period he gained valuable experience. Roy Brown of Lakefield introduced Mr. Cross.

Dr. M. Crough, who nominated Capt. Elliott as the candidate for this riding pointed out some of his qualifications for the job and said that because of his unusual ability, the premier had early appointed him chairman of the Private Bills committee. Dr. Crough stated that Capt. Elliott had been responsible for getting the $40,000 fish hatchery operating in this district and has been largely responsible for the highway which has been completed as far as Bancroft. In particular he stressed the problem of rehabilitation after the war, and pointed out that his experience as a soldier would place the candidate in a fine position to know what service men and women needed.

T. J. Carley, K.C., president of the Peterborough West Liberal Association, spoke on behalf of Capt. Elliott. He thanked electors for their co-operation with the member since 1937 and explained that his duties had been arduous with many difficult problems facing the government, and Capt. Elliott did his share, Mr. Carley emphasized.

He dealt with the large increase in population and suggested that the members make the newcomers acquainted with the work done by the Liberal party in this district so that they would be in a position to know what they were voting on, and to have a clear idea of the issues involved.

"Capt. Elliott knows how to deal with problems, as a lawyer, an M.P.P. and a soldier, and his breadth of vision will enable him to give added service. There has been some sort of disfranchisement, but that is not the case here where the electors can put in a soldier as their member."

Mrs. Charles Scott was called upon by the chairman and in a short address urged the women to get interested in the affairs of the country and in developing this interest it would be surprising just what a steadying control they could exert.

Dr. Donald Munro of Warsaw, who has been president of the Peterborough Liberal Association for Provincial purposes for many years, acted as chairman and explained the election here was held at the request of the Central Office in Toronto. Adding variety to the program, Misses Margaret and Olga Westbye, accompanied by Gwen Craw, sang "Barcarolle" from "Tales of Hoffman" and "Gathering Daffodils."

Squadron Makes 100 Raids Without Loss

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN NORTH AFRICA, June 30 (AP). —A squadron of United States Flying Fortresses returned to base yesterday after raiding Leghorn, completing 100 combat missions without the loss of a single man.

The brilliant record was made by the squadron commanded by Capt. Robert J. Duval, 24, of Los Angeles, a former student of Los Angeles City College and an automobile racing driver.

It was an occasion of extra celebration for seven of the fliers for they had a part in the squadron's first combat assignment, the bombing of Rouen, France, last Sept. 5.

Some of the seven earned the right to return to the United States when they completed yesterday's flight. Others have a few more missions to go. The majority of the squadron's original personnel already have completed the required 50 missions and have gone home.

Giraud Coming

OTTAWA, June 30 — (CP). — Semi-official sources said last night that if Gen. Henri Giraud pays an official visit to Washington he will in all probability wish to visit Canada as well. Date of Gen. Graud's visit to Washington has not been disclosed.

Leather Substitute To Be Used For Shoes

MONTREAL, June 30 (CP).—G. Elmer Johnston, Federal Shoe Controller, told a meeting of the National Shoe Retailers Association last night, that the shoe leather shortage will be relieved soon because the Government is working on a substitute which is rated 25 per cent better than leather.

Mr. Johnston said that the substitute was known as "vinilytez." He spoke after members of the association expressed fear that the leather shortage would lead to shoe rationing in Canada.

A. J. Dugal, deputy retail administrator for Quebec, said that the shoes which will come on to the market next month will show an improvement of 20 per cent. The improvement, he said, is due to the fact that "military requirements have reached their quota and civilian production has now obtained a green light from Ottawa."

300 Teachers Work

TORONTO, June 30 (CP)—Officials at the General Engineering Co., Ltd., plant at Scarboro in suburban Toronto today said 300 women school teachers from Ontario and Western Canada points would start a special two-week instruction course here Friday to qualify them for regular routine jobs in fuse work.

The teachers have offered their services for six weeks. In the fall they will return to their schools.

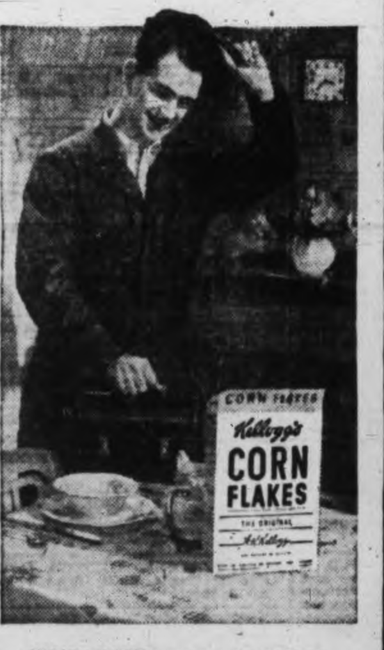
1 Man Hay Baler Newest Invention

CHICAGO, June 30 — (AP). — Development of a one-man pick-up hay baler, described as of entirely new design and intended to convert a large crew job to a one-man family-farm operation, was announced today by a farm equipment manufacturer.

The new baler will be put into production "as soon as machine tools and materials are again available," the Allis - Chalmers Manufacturing Company, Tractor Division, announced.

To operate the new baler, the tractor driver handles both tractor and baler, which operates automatically. The hay is rolled into a tight, compact bale similar in appearance to a rolled and wrapped strip of carpet.

FRY'S COCOA has the Real Chocolate Flavour



NIGHT SHIFT turns mealtimes topsy-turvy, but "When I come in tired after work," says Albert, "Kellogg's Corn Flakes are tops." Yes, Kellogg's Corn Flakes are always ready for a quick snack . . . and always welcome! Kellogg's famous flavour—voted first by 4 out of 5 Canadian housewives—sees to that. All across Canada, by an overwhelming majority, housewives interviewed by independent investigators say, "Kellogg's Corn Flakes is my family's favourite." They'll be the favourite in your family too. Get some tomorrow. Two convenient sizes at your grocer's. Made by Kellogg's in London, Canada.

POISE AND GRACE for the girl who studies fencing. Good exercise, too! Frances Shadbolt has been at it a year now, says it's wonderful. She's a commercial artist, fond of badminton, photography . . . and Kellogg's Corn Flakes. "In the morning, or for a snack anytime, Kellogg's are my favourite," she says. "They're ready in 30 seconds, and no pots and pans to wash up after." Kellogg's Corn Flakes are easy to digest, ideal for an after-game snack. You can use them to help "stretch" your meat ration, too . . . try mixing Kellogg's Corn Flakes in hamburgers, croquettes and meat loaves.

LEAD LETTERS "It's a thrill to see them turn into words on paper," says Gordon Blenkarn, learning printing at Ottawa Tech. "Takes a lot of thought and care to be a printer," says Gordon. Takes thought and care to be a good mother, too . . . but Kellogg's Corn Flakes can help no end . . . so quick and handy to get ready! And so delicious any time you're hungry.

TEST TUBE SOLDIERS. In laboratories all over Canada technicians like this are testing equipment . . . searching for new ways to Victory. On the job early and late . . . always in a hurry for breakfast. That's when Kellogg's Corn Flakes are tops! So quick to serve, taste so good . . . really a favourite anytime. Try a bowl of Kellogg's Corn Flakes at bedtime . . . easy to digest and just hit the spot!

NOW WE MUST ALL BUY MORE WAR SAVINGS CERTIFICATES

FARMERETTE Jeanne Kilmer does a man-sized job on her father's farm. "I eat pretty early in the morning," she says. "That's when a bowl of Kellogg's Corn Flakes tastes wonderful." Nothing like Kellogg's to get you off to a head start when minutes are precious and work's to be done . . . saves time, fuel and work. And economical too!

BEYOND PRICE is Canada's asset of youth. The Children's Aid Society is devoted to the development of the citizens of tomorrow . . . protects and cares for children, helps build up healthy family life, administers Child Welfare Legislation. Lucky indeed is Mrs. W. J. Crampton to be entrusted by the Children's Aid Society of Ottawa with the adoption of such lovely twins as Carrol and Carolyn. Support the Society in your community.

And think of how you died,
To think you could not say good-bye,
Before you closed your eyes.
The flowers we place upon your grave,
May wither and decay,
But the love for you who sleeps beneath,
Will never fade away.
—Lovingly remembered by Sister Millie and Family.

SMITH — In loving memory of Mrs. Herbert Smith who passed away June 30, 1940.

"Thy will be done" seems hard to say,
When one we loved has passed away,
Some day perhaps we'll understand,
When we meet again in that better land.
—Ever remembered by Husband and Family.

17 Marmora Donors Give Their Blood

MARMORA, June 30 —(ENS).— Doubtless due to the heat, the bi-monthly group of blood donors to visit the Belleville Clinic on Sunday was a little below the average. Seventeen made the trip, of which number there were seven making a second appearance.

The donors were:

Second donation—Mrs. George Mantle, Jr., Gregor Murray, Harold Price, Hugh Forsyth, Ernest Shannon, Hugh Brady and William Dickson.

First donation—Mrs. James Robertson, Mrs. Lloyd Williams, Cyril Tandy, John Lowery, Cecil Long, Bert Leonard, John McCann, Garnet McCann, William Pack and Harold Nayler.

Remember When—

By The Canadian Press.

The old master of the links, Bobby Jones, won his third United States open golf crown in the most lop-sided title playoff of all time, 14 years ago to-day. After posting identical scores of 294, Jones and Abe Espinosa went another 36 holes with honors going to the great Bobby by 23 strokes—141 to 164.

Want Swimming

GUELPH, Ont., June 30— (CP). —The Guelph Health Department erected "no swimming" signs along a stretch of the river here, but the signs were quickly removed and destroyed—apparently by someone who wanted to go swimming.

Needs Protection

CHICAGO, June 30 (AP). —John Toigo has designated his tree-shaded backyard a danger zone—in possession of a flock of blue jays. Since the jays moved into the half dozen trees on the back lot, Toigo has ventured out a few times, but each time was attacked by screaming formations of jays that attempted to take chunks out of his head. Toigo wants police permission to shoot the birds but police said they would investigate.

Cheese Demands Taxes Factories

OTTAWA, June 30 (CP).— The Dairy Products Board has prohibited the manufacture of skim-milk cheese in Ontario and Quebec on and after July 1, the Agriculture Department announced to-day. Cheese must not be made from "milk from which any cream has been removed" or from "milk to which skim milk has been added."

Canada has agreed to supply Britain with 150,000,000 pounds of whole-milk cheddar cheese by March 31, 1944, and the purpose of the Board's order is to see that as much as possible is available from the two provinces which produce more than 90 per cent. of the cheese for Britain.

Ompalo Wins

WINNIPEG, June 30 — (CP).— Ompalo, owned by H. C. Hatch of Toronto, defeated some of Western Canada's top-ranking two-year-olds in copping the Runatell Handicap over the 4½-furlong route at Polo Park yesterday. Ompalo finished in front of Broom Time, owned by the Braeside Stable of Montreal, with Divulge third in the 10-horse sprint. Ompalo paid $5.90 for a $2 straight bet, $4 to place, and $3.10 to show.

Another Victory For Westcolx

The Westclox club continues to roll right along in the Girls' Softball League. The Big Bens won their seventh game in a row last night when they defeated Brintons 24 to 4 in a fixture played on the Military Training Centre diamond.

The champs played good ball behind effective pitching by Nona Whetung who won her second start of the season, holding the Brinton girls to ten well-spaced hits.

Dot Laver pitched for the Brinton's and allowed 24 hits, including home runs by Isobel Bullock and Marg Watson.

Westclox opened up with a six-run splurge in the first inning and by the end of the fifth inning were in front 16 to 0.

Brintons did not break into the run column until the sixth when they got two counters, and they came back with another pair in the seventh.

not have any .300 hitters in the American League this season but they can still do quite well by themselves against Class D pitching for they banged out 24 hits, including homers by Gordon, Keller and Lindell.... Home runs have been scarce in the City Softball League this season but there was a rash of them last night, with Sandulak, Soldiers' second-sacker getting circuit clouts in consecutive innings.... The Westclockers added another win to their long list by defeating Brintons last night.... It was a victory for Nona Whetung who held the Brintons to ten well scattered hits.... The Big Bens play their last game before their vacation layoff Friday night when they clash with Aircraft at the Bowl.... There will be a Catholic Junior League game at the Quaker diamond tonight between the Yanks (East City) and the Falcons (St. Peter's) at 7 o'clock. The schedule for the league will appear in a day or two.... The winner of the St. John's-All Saints Church League bantam semi-final game tonight will meet George Street in the finals tomorrow night at the Oval.

Summer and Bright Curtains Go Together

NEW FRESH CURTAINS

Summer brings more light and more light shows up your curtains. All winter they didn't look too bad but with the bright sunshine they look drab.

Don't hesitate for a minute because you think it might be too expensive to buy new curtains or drapes. Make them yourself!

Even if you don't know how to make curtains it is easy to learn and the smart individuality that results from your handiwork is very chic.

Our 32-page booklet not only helps you choose the suitable materials for what you want, but it also tells you how to make various types of curtains.

If you can hem a dish towel you can make smartly styled glass curtains which will give your windows a well-groomed look from the outside and add beauty to the room within.

You will also be able to make cottage and casement curtains as well as drapery curtains and overdraperies which will harmonize with your room.

Bright fresh curtains add definitely to your room—so make them now!

For your copy of "NEW IDEAS IN MAKING CURTAINS AND DRAPERIES" send 15 cents in coins or stamps to the Peterborough Examiner Home Service. Be sure to write plainly your name, address, and the name of booklet.

DESERT RIBANDS

ALGIERS, — (CP) — Top-scoring fighter pilots, Wing Cmdr. D. Berry, D.F.C., and Squadron Leader Colin Gray, D.F.C., were celebrating the news of their award of the D.S.O., but they couldn't obtain medal ribbons. So they cut up Berry's red and blue silk dressing gown.

BARCLAY ON BRIDGE

WRITTEN FOR THE EXAMINER

By SHEPARD BARCLAY

"The Authority on Authorities"

BEWARE FOUR TRUMPS

WHEN THERE are six trumps held against you by the defenders you are usually safer if your seven-trump holding consists of five in one hand opposite two in the other than if it is made up of four opposite three. In case you have to ruff a trick in the hand with the longer holding, you are in great danger if this leaves you only three cards there, as one defender is quite likely then to hold a string of four, more than you do. But if you had a five-card suit, you still retain four after the ruff and may be able to drop the hostile ones.

North: ♠ Q J 9 ♥ J 2 ♦ 8 6 2 ♣ K Q 9 3 2

West: ♠ [illegible] ♥ 10 9 ♦ J 10 9 3 ♣ [illegible]

East: ♠ 6 4 ♥ 8 6 5 3 ♦ A K 7 4 ♣ A 10 5

South: ♠ A K 10 8 ♥ A K Q 7 4 ♦ Q 5 ♣ 6 4

(Dealer: West. Neither side vulnerable.)

	West	North	East	South
1.	Pass	Pass	Pass	1 ♥
	Pass	1 NT	Pass	2 ♠
	Pass	3 ♠	Pass	4 ♠
2.	Pass	Pass	Pass	1 ♥
	Pass	1 NT	Pass	2 ♠
	Pass	3 ♥	Pass	4 ♥
3.	Pass	Pass	Pass	1 ♥
	Pass	1 NT	Pass	2 ♠
	Pass	4 ♥

With the defenders' hearts and spades divided in the most likely way, four in one hand and two in the other, the worst bidding in those three sequences above gets properly penalized. That is the No. 1 sequence. Two diamond tricks by the defense, followed by a third diamond, which South must ruff, will reduce the declarer to three spades. He also must lose a club and a spade, so is down one.

Better bidding is that in No. 2, where North shows preference for hearts, knowing the side has the same number of hearts as spades, seven, but also that the hearts are five cards long from the suit having been bid first, so that the declarer may be able to stand a ruff. He makes his contract against any defense, with loss of two diamonds and a club.

Still better is that in Table 3, encouraging No Trumps if diamonds are stopped, but getting into to the proper 4-Hearts anyway.

Tomorrow's Problem

North: ♠ Q 6 ♥ Q J 6 5 3 2 ♦ J 7 2 ♣ A 10

West: ♠ A 7 3 2 ♥ K 9 8 7 ♦ A 6 ♣ K 7 6

East: ♠ K J 10 5 4 ♥ A ♦ 10 9 4 ♣ Q J 3 2

South: ♠ 9 8 ♥ 10 4 ♦ K Q 8 5 3 ♣ 9 8 5 4

(Dealer: North. Both sides vulnerable.)

After North leads the heart Q: what is West's best plan to obtain maximum results on his 4-Hearts contract in a big duplicate pair game?

20,000 People Flock Into City Of London

Written for the Canadian Press
By ED BOLES,
(London Free Press).

LONDON, June 30 — (CP).—An estimated 20,000 persons—one in every four here— have moved to London during the past three years, a shifting population being war's most visible mark in this city. A further 14,000 left the city during the same period for service with the armed forces.

Only by the number of men in uniform and the sight of girls togged in factory overalls would the stranger here know that London, like the rest of Canada, has come through four years of war. Superficially, the city still is on a peace footing. Underneath—and the native Londoner probably is only partly aware of this—the changes transcend any similar influence in the history of the city.

A centre of light peace time industry, London waited through the first 18 months of war for major war contracts and caught only the crumbs from Government orders that sent many Western Ontario centres rocketing into war booms. All this has changed.

Now local industry, operating on a near 100-per-cent war footing, is changing London from a centre of pre-war finance to what may become a centre of post-war manufacturing. Local industry has expanded. Labor is increasingly scarce.

Two large new plants have been constructed and put into operation in the past two years. One, central mechanization depot, a mechanical transport assembly plant, is manned entirely by soldiers of the Royal Canadian Ordnance Corps. The other, central aircraft limited, is one of the larger Canadian aircraft overhauling establishments.

Lot of Airmen.

Men in uniform are no curiosity here with thousands of soldiers, sailors and airmen stationed in and near the city. Headquarters for Military District No. 1 is located here. So is an air observers' school and a navy barracks, while nearby are air force bombing and gunnery and service flying schools and the army's camp Ipperwash. The Royal Canadian Air Force's technical school at St. Thomas, one of Canada's largest ground crew schools, almost daily spills hundreds of men into this city via the London and Port Stanley electric trains that run hourly all day and most of the night.

Transportation within the city is badly crowded now, was worse last winter and probably will be still worse next year, city officials predict.

The city is only just now feeling a shortage of houses and families with children are the worst off. Landlords here with a wider choice of tenants than ever before, more often draw the line at young children, forgetting, as Mayor W. J. Heaman said, "the boys overseas, now, are yesterday's children."

At least half a dozen Londoners have gained the Distinguished Flying Cross for service against the enemy and scores of others have received Efficiency Medals and citations of one kind or another. Those awarded the D.F.C. were Flt.-Lt. Robert R. Smith, Wing Cmdr. D. A. R. Bradshaw, Wing Cmdr. Keith Louis Hodson, Flt.-Lt. John Ingamells, Flt.-Lt. R. D. Grassick and Flt.-Lt. Bradley Walker.

An additional half-dozen from the city have been awarded the Order of the British Empire.

Omemee Man Weds Western Girl

OMEMEE, June 30 —(ENS). — A quiet wedding was solemnized at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Weir on Sunday afternoon when Dorothy Winnifred Wiedrick, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold W. Wiedrick of Saskatoon, Saskatchewan, was united in marriage to Howard Sidney Vaughan, B.A., of Aylmer, son of Mr. and Mrs. S. D. Vaughan of Omemee. Rev. R. M. Patterson officiated at the ceremony.

The room was attractively decorated with ferns, peonies, orange blossoms, iris and pink and white streamers.

The bride looked lovely in a white garbardine tailored suit with white and rust accessories and wearing a corsage of Talisman roses and maiden hair fern. Miss Rena Lewis of Montreal was bridesmaid, wearing a two - piece blue crepe dress with white accessories and a corsage of roses.

Cpl. C. Richard Vaughan, R.C.A.P.C. of Fort Frontenac, brother of the groom, was the best man.

A wedding supper was served at the home of the groom's parents.

Later the happy couple left on a wedding trip to Muskoka. On their return they will reside at Aylmer, Ont.

BRIDGENORTH

Teacher Leaves After 14 Years

BRIDGENORTH, June 30—(ENS) —The pupils and their parents of the Bridgenorth School had a social gathering on Friday afternoon as a farewell gesture to their teacher, Mr. George Ball. Mr. Ball has taught this school for fourteen years and is leaving to begin his duties at the King George School in Peterborough.

A short program was given by the pupils, with Rev. J. Trumpour as chairman. Inga Siedell gave a piano solo; a reading was given by Nancy Heard; a solo by Joyce Ray; reading, Ruth Mills; piano duet by Doris Jopling and Doris Fowler; a piano solo, Marjorie Forsythe; reading by Peter Chown. Cecilia Gravelle tap danced, and Jane and Annie McMannus sang a duet.

Ralph Connors read an address to Mr. Ball, and Sally Ann Hartman presented him with a travelling kit. In the address the pupils paid tribute to the work carried on by Mr. Ball, and extended their best wishes.

Personals.

Pte. and Mrs. Don Carter have returned to Kingston after spending the past two weeks with Mr. and Mrs. Marcus Fowler.

Mrs. Earl Blewett and Gene have returned home after spending the past month with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. Gibson of Toronto.

Mr. J. Glover, Ruth and John have left to spend some time at their cottage in the Adirondack Mountains.

Mrs. Bailey of St. Mary's is the guest of her daughter, Mrs. S. B. Bell.

Mr. Massey of Hart Avenue, Peterborough, overturned his car in McMannus swamp on the Chemong Road late Friday afternoon. Traffic Officer McClure investigated the accident.

Young Murderer

NEWBURYPORT, Mass., June 30 — (AP). — Edward F. Dow, 13 youngest person ever tried for murder in Massachusetts, was sentenced to 14 to 20 years in state prison Tuesday by Judge J. V. Spalding for the hammer slaying of Lydia S. Cook, 72-year-old spinster, last April.

The ruddy-cheeked boy had contended he struck the woman only after she had hit him with a poker when he had resented an allegation that his father took a ladder belonging to her.

Mess Room Chatter

By LOUIS V. HUNTER
Canadian Press Staff Writer

WITH THE R. C. A. F. SOMEWHERE IN ENGLAND, June 30— (CP) — Wing Cmdr. A. C. (Lucky) Deere, New Zealand ace who once commanded a Canadian fighter squadron, has been awarded the Distinguished Service Order. A double D. F. C., he is a Battle of Britain veteran who has destroyed 19 enemy aircraft.

Deere is an airman with "nine lives." He has been shot down five times and survived at least another four hair-raising advenures in midair.

When Flt. Sgt. Asa Clark of Brockville Ont. returned from a raid over Duisburg and said he thought he had been kicked by a mule. This is what happened.

His Lancaster was attacked by a night fighter. His right arm sagged, so with his left hand he lifted it and rested the elbow on his right knee. With his left hand he manned the guns in his rear turret.

Before the big bomb in the Lancaster was dropped bullets hit the bomb doors and the port wing. Elevator wires were severed and the aircraft went into an uncontrolled spin.

It took the combined strength of the pilot, flight engineer and bomb aimer to heave back the control column and bring the plummeting machine out of its dive.

Somehow, the Lancaster dropped its bomb and evenutally reached England safely. They almost had to use a tin-opener to get Clark out of his turret and it was only then the extent of his injuries was realized.

A bullet had passed through the bicep of his right arm and plowed across his stomach. Another fractured his forearm.

"We collected 57 holes that night," Clark said. "Fifty-four in the aircraft and three in me."

Sgt. D. A. McDougall, 25-year-old wireless operator-air gunner from Medicine Hat, Alta, flew from Britain to India, putting in a couple of months ops" in West Africa on the way. He isn't sure how many miles he clocked since he started flying, but whatever the total he has driven a truck more miles.

From 1937 to 1940, MacDougall drove a transport between Montreal and Ottawa and between Montreal and Hawkesbury, Ont. He piloted his truck some 200,000 miles in that time.

He's a member of a Wellington squadron operating against the Japanese on the Burma front. Three Canadians in his crew are PO. R. V. Hennel, Vancouver, captain; Sgt. P. Venoit Bathurst N. B., wireless operator air-gunner, and PO. Robert McLaughlin navigator whose home is in Ontario.

Neill's Shoe Store Will Be Open As Usual On Saturday Nights Until 9 p.m.

We believe that Peterborough must continue to cater, as a Saturday Night Shopping centre—and until such time as there may be a By-law (forcing us to close) we will continue to be open Saturdays until 9 p.m. only.

We do not know who started this move to close Saturday nights, nor why — but if it is to save electricity and merchandise—both of these can be accomplished by closing all day Wednesday or all day Monday. We will agree to close either of these days — but definitely not on Saturday nights.

It is somewhat embarrassing to come out with this statement, since we know it is very popular (at the moment) with employees from other stores in town who are also our good customers, but we believe we must take the long term view and remember that we are Retail Merchants who must cater to the shopping public, whenever that public wants to buy, no matter how short we are of merchandise. The war-worker and the country people, must be given their opportunity of choosing from that available merchandise.

From our own employees' angle—we believe we are as generous as possible, in the matter of store hours—since quite some time ago we shortened our staff hours to 46 hours per week—after a year's service our employees get two weeks' holidays with pay, are paid for all statutory holidays and are paid while off sick.

This statement is in no way intended to try to influence other merchants in a decision that we feel is strictly their own affair, but rather to state clearly our own position, as we see it.

Therefore; for the reasons stated above, our store hours will continue to be

Captain Elliott Is Chosen

The local Liberals have chosen Captain Alex Elliott as their candidate in the forthcoming Provincial election, a nomination which we are sure will receive widespread approbation. Captain Elliott won the Provincial seat here in 1937, and since that time he has served Peterborough well. He has shown that he is not a man of narrow party interests and has given his time and his ability unstintingly for the good of the community as a whole, and not merely for that part of it which elected him. In this way he has won the friendship and the approbation of many citizens whose political views are not identical with his own.

At present Captain Elliott is on duty abroad with the Stormont-Dundas-Glengarry Regiment, to which he has been attached for some time, and will not therefore be able to contest the election personally. It has been stressed that his experience abroad would give him an intimate knowledge of the problems which will confront our soldiers when they return to Canada once more. It is clear that they will expect to have a voice in any postwar legislation which concerns themselves and their families, however indirectly, and the advantages of having an M.P.P. who understands the situation are obvious.

Captain Elliott's career in the Legislature, though brief, has been distinguished. Elected in 1937, he was chosen in 1939 to be Chairman of the Private Bills Committee, certainly the most important of all the committees of the Legislature, and he was the first private member ever to be chosen for this responsible post; previously it had always been held by a member of the Cabinet. His labours for this constituency have been devoted and successful. Among other things, it was he who finally brought about the establishment of the fish hatchery at Deer Lake, which has served to re-stock the surrounding fishing grounds and has been invaluable to the tourist trade of this district.

The nomination of Captain Elliott should be generally popular, and his absence on active service should enhance, rather than detract from, his popularity.

Name Or Be Named

Last Friday the tempestuous Ligouri Lacombe, M.P. for Laval-Two Mountains, made a confused speech in the House in which he brought a serious charge against Cabinet members. He is reported in Hansard thus: "We have here in the Cabinet three new millionaires who have made their money since war's outbreak. We shall denounce them at the proper time and place. Fortunes are being built up". As the member spoke in French he may have hoped that his speech would pass unremarked by the majority of those present. If such slanders were overlooked in the House they would nevertheless make dainty feeding for the simpler folk in Laval-Two Mountains.

Mr. Lacombe now claims that his words have been wrongly translated, and it is true that in the official translation in Hansard the word gouverement is translated in some cases as "government" but in this case as "Cabinet," both of which translations are permissible. But whether the speaker mean Government or Cabinet the insult demands explanation.

The Prime Minister has demanded that Lacombe either prove his charges or withdraw them. If any denouncing is to be done the Quebec member will have to do it in the House; he must either name his three millionaires or be "named" himself by the Speaker. That disgrace was visited upon him once before when he spoke unwisely.

The Prime Minister is right. It is the easiest thing in the world to make vague charges against men in high political positions, and there are always people who are eager to believe them. There [illegible] folk who think it is a sign [illegible]sdom to assume that all [illegible] are grafters and crooks, [illegible]e Lacombe allegations are [illegible]k. The member for Laval-[illegible]s should either prove what [illegible] or suffer the indignities [illegible]ment provides for such

Food Shortage Scare

Col. Drew has threatened us with a food shortage: the Hon. J. G. Gardiner assures us that there will be no shortage. Perhaps the Canadian people would be happier if this exchange had less political ring about it. After all, if there were a food shortage, party allegiance would be a poor substitute for real nourishment. Upon the whole we are more inclined to believe Mr. Gardiner than Mr. Drew, for it is the latter's task to make matters seem as black as possible, and although the former may be optimistic he seems to have firm ground for his confidence.

Mr. Gardiner, in a recent speech, pointed out that there had been talk of a food shortage in 1941. It was said then that unless more labour were found for the farms there would be a serious lack of staple foods. However, nothing was done about keeping men on the farms and the food production for the year was in excess of the average, rather than below it. Of course Mr. Gardiner does not imagine that production rises in direct proportion to the scarcity of farm labour. But he does know the farming situation in Canada thoroughly, and when he says that there is no danger of a food shortage we believe that he knows what he is talking about.

We believe that there has been a slight—a very slight—improvement in the farm labour situation, and that farmers, though sorely pressed, are not working under quite such difficult conditions as they were a year ago. Naturally the situation varies from one district to another. But the lack of a sound manpower policy for agriculture has been obvious ever since the early days of the war, and there is no guarantee that the present easing of the situation will endure. The farmer's difficulties continue to be numerous.

Indian Summer Of Carriages

We see that a Toronto dealer is doing a brisk trade in carriages and carriage-horses, and one large hotel in that city has bought a tally-ho to carry its guests to and from the Union Station. But this enthusiasm for carriages can be but an Indian summer at best. The carriage is one lovely thing which has gone from this world for ever, except as an appurtenance of State ceremonies and the toy of wealthy fanciers of horses.

The motor car is infinitely more convenient than a carriage, and we should not quarrel with our luck in having cars to ride in. But no car can hope to achieve the grace and style of a really smart carriage. They had a magnificent air about them, and it was possible for those who rode in them to have an air also. Who can have an air when he is emerging from a car hind-foremost, or crushing his hat on the roof at every bump? But a carriage had plenty of room for hats, and a beautiful little pair of steps for ascent and descent.

And what a variety of carriages there were, to express the character of the owner! There was the discreet brougham, for professional men; there was the victoria, for the sedate and respectable; there was the dogcart for the sportsman, and the governess car (or "tub") for the family man of small means; there was the democrat, for picnics and pleasure parties; and there was the exquisite landau for the fashionable. Even public conveyances had their special characteristics: the four-wheeled cab (or "growler") was for those who were bent on business, but the hansom was the chariot of pleasure. Was any "masher" so dead to atmosphere, one wonders, as to press his suit in a "growler"?

Carriages are gone, and an age of superior stinks and speed has come. To yearn for carriages again is to try to swim against the current of the stream of time, but it is only reasonable to recognize that, although much has been gained, something of a rare and delicate flavour has been lost.

Can Our Cities Survive?

A Review of J. L. Sert's Book of this Title by S. D. Lash, Professor of Civil Engineering, Queen's University

HERE is a book that can be recommended to all, especially our city fathers.

In 1928 a group of modern architects got together and formed the International Congress for Modern Architecture. They were interested chiefly in low-cost housing and their first publication was a volume called "Dwellings for lowest income" which appeared in Stuttgart in 1930. From the interest in dwellings grew a desire to study the organization of dwellings into neighbourhood units. This led to the publication of "Rational Lot Divisions" in 1931. This widening of interest continued until the whole field of city planning was covered. At a congress held on a steamship en route from Marseilles to Athens in 1934 a "Town-Planning Chart" was adopted based on studies made in many different countries. This 'chart' which could be more accurately described as a manifesto forms the foundation of Mr. Sert's book.

THE history of the C.I.A.M. has been mentioned because it indicates the path that we must travel in Canada if we are to solve the housing problem. We naturally start by thinking of houses, but sooner or later we will finish up by thinking of towns, cities and even large planning units.

"Can Our Cities Survive," is an extended explanation of the "Town Planning Chart." There are over a hundred pages of illustrations admirably arranged and reproduced and the 'get-up' of this book is excellent. To a considerable extent the story is told by pictures but the text also deserves careful reading.

ACCORDING to the "Town Planning Chart" a modern city must fulfil four functions if it is to survive. It must provide adequate facilities for dwelling, recreation, work, and transportation. Detailed studies of thirty-three cities located in eighteen countries show that such facilities are being provided insufficiently and to an inadequate degree. This is due in large measure to the changes that have taken place in urban living during the past hundred years. These changes indicate the effects of mechanized production, mechanized transportation, new building techniques, new ideas on health and recreation, and vulnerability from the air. These influences acting on cities are built in the old manner have produced what Professor Gropius has so aptly termed 'a noxious anarchy.' Moreover people believe that cities must necessarily continue to be what they are. Sert believes the opposite, that unless our cities cease to be what they are, they will not survive. Industry and the population will move to twentieth century cities and the older ones will be left to decay.

IN the central part of our cities overcrowding is common and the density of population is too great. Such overcrowded districts are often poor residential land, low lying, exposed to dirt, vibration and noise and lacking in sunlight. On the other hand the newer residential districts have too low a density leading to unreasonable expense in providing public services and the like. Such newer districts are often poorly located and planned. Dwellings are built on traffic thoroughfares. The width of streets bears no relation to the traffic that will use them, the orientation of dwellings bears no relation to the incidence of sunlight. Recreational facilities are inadequate. Cities like Kingston will pay a high price for the disregard of town planning principles in these newer residential areas.

THE most serious handicap to proper planning is our system of distribution of land. With land divided up into small lots, owned by a multitude of individual owners adequate planning is almost impossible. Such a system profits nobody except speculators and real estate agents. Sert quotes from a report of the National Resources Committee, Washington, "Until the nation as a whole recognizes that land is a public utility instead of a speculative commodity, not much prospect exists either of obtaining adequate housing for the population or for re-construction of cities to make them fit for human living." This does not mean that public ownership of land is essential, although that is one obvious solution. Successful experiments in town planning such as Letchworth Garden City, Bournville and Radburn, N.J., have not involved socialization of the land. However, the neighbourhood must be the unit of planning not the individual lot.

We can have cities that are healthy, efficient and beautiful but such cities will not result from the type of development that has occurred in Canada during the past ten years. A study of "Can Our Cities Survive" will show the reasons why.

Unconsidered Trifles

An American had an invitation to a private shoot. Addressing the old gamekeper, he said: "I'm one of the crack shots in the States. Tomorrow you will be loading for me, and for every bird I miss I'll give you a shilling."

The following evening the gamekeeper met a friend and told him the story.

"If I'd had another blank cartridge," he said, "I'd have made just a pound."

Even the simplest orders, delivered in the sergeant's loudest voice, had missed fire, and the perspiring N.C.O. glared at the batch of raw recruits in despair. Then he had an idea. Disappearing for a minute round the corner of the barracks, he returned leading the regimental mascot—a sheepdog.

"There you are, boy," he said, patting the dog's head. "See what you can do with them!"

A man was eating a meal in a restaurant when another came up and spoke to him.

"Pardon me," he said, "but I think we met a fortnight ago."

The other looked him over and shook his head.

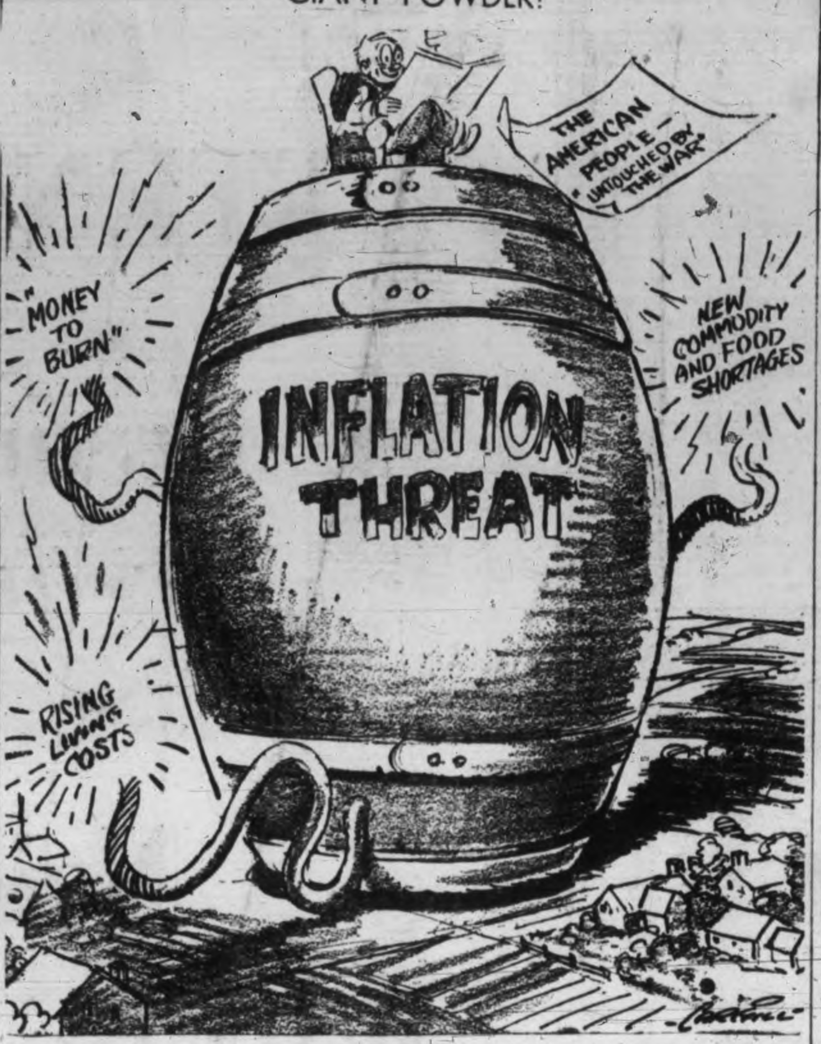
"Sorry," he said, "but I don't think I know you."

"Maybe not. I don't know you, but I recognized that umbrella you brought in with you."

"That's impossible, sir!" retorted the other haughtily. "A fortnight ago I had no umbrella."

"No," came the quick reply, "but I had!"

GIANT POWDER!



At the Centre of Empire

(By DOUGLAS AMARON, Canadian Press Staff Writer)

LONDON, July 1 —(CP)—Randolph Churchill, the prime minister's son, is a vice-president of the Oxford University Centre Society, a new "party" formed "to unite the more progressive minded people from every party and association."

Sir John Wardlaw-Milne, who led a parliamentary revolt against the prime minister a year ago, is another vice-president, while other members of parliament whose names have been associated with the society are Leslie Hore-Belisha, former war minister, Capt. A. S. Cunningham-Reid (Ind. St. Marylebone), and W. J. Brown (Ind. Rugby).

The party's aims include:—

Restoration to M.P.'s of freedom of voting and the end of the power of party whips, and

End of collective cabinet responsibility and substition of the principle of individual ministerial responsibility.

Coupled with this sign of independence, an outcrop of criticism voiced in the first half of 1942 but comparatively dormant since then, are indications that the House is growing impatient with some of Mr. Churchill's ministers.

Sir Walter Womersley, pensions minister, and Ernest Brown, health minister, have been subjects of attack from both sides of the House for what are described as "inefficiencies" in their departments.

Brown, leader of the National Liberal Party, is in the hottest water and there are reports he may be involved in a cabinet shuffle.

Six members, three Labour and three Conservative, tabled a motion declaring that "the problems of health, housing and local government, which become more urgent as the war continues, call for a minister of health with the zeal and determination necessary to secure the preparation and execution of effective plans for now and the postwar years."

The Conservatives later withdrew their names from the motion and a counter motion according Brown the House's "warm support in the continued extension of his exacting responsibilities" was tabled, but the records still show there is considerable dissatisfaction with the workings of the health ministry.

Britain's newly appointed minister to Moscow, John Balfour, is an unorthodox diplomat who likes to work in his shirt sleeves. He is an able mimic, too, and his caricatures of Hitler are said to be as good as anybody's.

Slim, fair-haired and just under 50, Balfour went to Eton and New College and learned to speak and write European languages during the First Great War, in a German prison camp. His appointment gives Britain both ministerial and ambassadorial representation in Moscow for the first time.

Major Henry Stockley, knighted in the birthday honors list, took the unusual course of changing his name when he received his honor. Known all his life as Harry, he requested that he become officially Sir Harry rather than Sir Henry.

A similar change was made some years ago when the late Sir Harry Stonor, gentleman usher to the King, changed his name from Henry on being knighted.

Three male members of parliament and three women walked out on a BBC program they were invited to record. They were Leslie Burgin, Commander Stephen King Hall and Tom Driberg, and Jennie Lee, Mrs. Mary Agnes Hamilton and Hilde Marchant.

Said Miss Marchant, Daily Mirror columnist:

"We believed the program was to be an open political discussion as the people taking part had been carefully selected for varying political points of view.

"When we arrived we found the 'discussion' was in fact a quiz on dates and facts, and was to be compered by Naunton Wayne, the humorist stage compere.... Following a discussion with the producer we withdrew saying we could not take part as we had come under a false impression"....

Lord Woolton, presiding over a press conference called to explain the food ministry's side of the queues and confusion attendant upon the new issue of ration books, was confronted by a reporter bandaged up like an Egyptian mummy. He had been in a blackout accident the previous night.

The minister looked him up and down, then inquired:

"And did you get your ration book?"

The Anonymous People of China

I ARRIVED in Chungking late in the afternoon, at an airport some miles from the city. Long before our automobiles had reached the city, the road on either side was lined with people. Before we reached the middle of the city, the crowds stood packed from curb to store front. Men, women, young boys and girls, bearded old gentlemen, Chinese with fedora hats, others with skullcaps, coolies, porters, students, mothers nursing their children, well dressed and poorly dressed—they packed eleven miles of road over which our cars slowly moved on our way to the guesthouse in which we were to stay. On the other side of the Yangtze River, they stood and waited. On all the hills of Chungking, which must be the world's hilliest city, they stood and smiled and cheered and waved little paper American and Chinese flags.

Any man who has run for President of the United States is used to crowds. But not to this one. I could discount it in my mind as much as I wished, but to no avail. The paper flags waved by the people were all of the same size, suggesting that the hospitable and imaginative Mayor of Chungking, Dr. K. C. Wu, had had a hand in planning this demonstration. It was perfectly clear that not all these people, many of whom were barefoot or dressed in rags, had any clear idea of who I was or why I was there. The firecrackers which were exploding on every street corner, I told myself, are an old Chinese passion, anyway.

But in spite of all my efforts to discount it, this scene moved me profoundly. There was nothing synthetic or fake about the faces I looked at. They were seeing, in me, a representative of America and a tangible hope of friendship and help that might be forthcoming. And it was an impressive show of the simple strength, in people and in emotions, which is China's greatest national resource.

I had seen a crowd like this one, but a little smaller, on my arrival in Lanchow, far into the northwest. I was later to see another, as impressive as any, which waited for hours in the rain on the streets of Sian, capital of Shensi province, because our plane was late. They never failed to move me deeply. It is impossible in a short trip through a country as big as China to make as many close and personal friendships as one would like, those relationships through which one generally comes to know the spirit and the ideas of a foreign people. But these crowds of Chinese people gave me a sure and lasting feeling that my surface impressions of China were backed by something no one could misread in those thousands of faces.

The Chinese I came to know well were, inevitably, leaders in one field or another. Some of them I will describe later in this account, and in high terms. But I know no praise high enough for the anonymous people of China.—From "One World," by Wendell L. Willkie. (New York: Simon & Schuster.)

Hitler's Face

Hitler's face, called an insult to mankind by Mussolini in 1934, was described recently by Professor von Durzwell who had the honor of painting it in 1923 and now again in 1943. "His features," he said,

"reflect his anxiety for the German people, together with his anxiety for mankind."

What, Hitler ponders, will hapepn to mankind when it loses me? On the other hand, Winston Churchill, pictured by Goebbels, displays "an impudent grin when he appears in public. The face alone reveals the guilty man." Whereas Hitler, also according to Goebbels, carries in his face "the furrows of all the deep suffering for the people and, in a broader sense, for humanity, of endurance and sacrifice, of bitterness and of strain." In short: He has the jitters.—Voice of Austria.

A Bible Message

Give ear to my words, O Lord, consider my meditation.... My voice shalt thou hear in the morning, O Lord; in the morning will I direct my prayer unto thee, and will look up. (Ps. 5: 1, 3.)

And when thou prayest, thou shalt not be as the hypocrites are: for they love to pray standing in the synagogues and in the corners of the streets, that they may be seen of men. Verily I say unto you, They have their reward.

But thou, when thou prayest, enter into thy closet, and when thou hast shut thy door, pray to thy Father which is in secret; and thy Father which seeth in secret shall reward thee openly. But when ye pray, use not vain repetitions, as the heathen do: for they think that they shall be heard for their much speaking. Be not ye therefore like unto them: for your Father knoweth what things ye have need of before ye ask him. (Matt. 6: 5-8.)

Thus saith the Lord of hosts; It shall yet come to pass, that there shall come people, and the inhabitants of many cities: and the inhabitant of one city shall go to another, saying, Let us go speedily to pray before the Lord, and to seek the Lord of hosts: I will go also.

Yea, many people and strong nations shall come to seek the Lord of hosts in Jerusalem, and to pray before the Lord. (Zech. 8: 20-22.)

That Matter of Culture

We have talked of the growth of civilization and culture, and we have seen the beginnings of this when people settled down to live in villages and towns. The greater quantity of food that they got gave them more leisure and they could thus think of other matters than hunting and eating. With the growth of thought developed the arts and crafts and culture generally. As the population increased, people had to live closer to each other. They were continually meeting each other and having business with each other. If people have to live together they must be considerate to each other. They must avoid doing anything which might hurt their companions or neighbours, otherwise no social life is possible. Take a family, for instance. A family is a tiny bit of society which will live happily if its members have consideration for each other. This is not very difficult as a rule in a family, as there is a bond of affection between its members. Even so it sometimes happens that we forget to be considerate and show that we are not very cultured and civilized after all. In the case of a larger group than the family, it is exactly the same—whether we take our neighbours, or the people of our city, or our countrymen, or the people of other countries even. So the growth of population resulted in more social life and more restraint and consideration for others. Culture and civilization are difficult to define, and I shall not try to define them. But among the many things that culture includes are certainly restraint over oneself and consideration for others. If a person has not got this self-restraint and has no consideration for others, one can certainly say that he is uncultured.—From "Glimpses of World History," by Jawaharlal Nehru. (New York: John Day.)

The old-fashioned farmer was hard to convince. "No," declared he, "I'll have no such contraption in my house. Planners are bad things."

"Oh, but father," protested his daughter, "this is an upright piano."

Parish Priest Honored On Anniversary

HASTINGS, July 1 — (ENS).— Our Lady of Mount Carmel Church was filled at 10 o'clock on Wednesday for the Jubilee Mass of the pastor, Rev. J. J. Garvey.

A procession of the clergy led by Rev. Leo. Rishea, P.P. of Wooler a cross bearer and two acolytes was held from the house to the street entering the front door of the church and proceeding down the main aisle to the altar where Mass was celebrated by Father Garvey with Rev. J. V. McAuley, P.P., Lindsay as deacon and Rev. J. J. McCarthy, P.P., of Douro as sub deacon.

Rev. Ken. Malane of St. Peter's Cathedral, Peterborough was master of ceremonies. Rev. J. J. O'Brien, pastor of the Sacred Heart Church, Peterborough, delivered an eloquent sermon on the priesthood and on the jubilarian's 25 years of faithful service in the church.

Following the mass, an address was read by Rev. Father Joseph P. Collins, Campbellford from the clergy of the diocese and a presentation made by Rev. C. J. Carroll of Norwood. The address from the laity of the parish was read by Mr. A. O'Shea and presentation made by Mr. Frank Walsh. A beautiful and touching address from the sanctuary boys was read by Vincent Herrington.

Father Garvey replied to the three addresses.

An excellent meal was served by the ladies of the parish at 12:30 at the Trent River Pavilion.

Rev. G. J. Maher of Cobourg acted as toastmaster. The programme consisted of toasts to, the Pope and the King; our diocese, Rev. J. V. McAuley, Rt. Rev. P. J. O'Sullivan, vicar capitular; our parish, Rev. L. Cleary, Rev. P. J. Kelly, LL.D.; our guests, Rev. V. G. McFadden, Very Rev. E. T. McCorkee, C.S.B., our town, Mr. Chas. Lynch, Mr. Iden Bond; our alma mater, Rev. J. V. Masterson, D.D., Rt. Rev. E. M. Brennan, D. P., V.G.; The Jubilarian, Rev. Dean J. B. Ferguson. Rev. J. J. Garvey made a fitting reply and thanked the clergy, and the laity of the parish for their loyal support. He also referred to the presence of former parishioners from Lakefield and Young's Point. He thanked the ladies of Hastings for the nice luncheon.

Steal Use Of Car

CAMPBELLFORD, July .. — (ENS).— Some joyriders picked up a car owned by George Moore late on Tuesday evening and ran it till the gasoline supply was nearly exhausted before abandoning it on Rear Street. Mr. Moore reported the car was missing to police about eleven o'clock in the evening. He had left it parked on Front Street. Constable D. Bowen located the car about 1 o'clock in the morning. No daamge had been done to the vehicle.

BANCROFT

Air Force Boys Given Cub Bear

BANCROFT, July 1 — (ENS)— Seven Air Force boys from the R. A.F. training centre at Picton had the time of their life at Trout Lake four miles from Bancroft over the week-end. The group comprising Lin Heese, Jimmie Little and Frank Timm of England; G. D. Drisbery and Gordon Gill of Australia, Stewart McLaughlin of New Zealand, were guests of Keith Storey, son of Inspector and Mrs. Storey of Belleville and also a member of the R. C.A.F. Mr. P. A. Kellar of the village very generously donated his cottage to the boys and John Wiggins his boat. The weather was ideal during the holiday and the boys spent most of the daylight hours on the beautiful beach. The boys were more than delighted when they were able to take back with them to Picton a mascot, a cub bear which they had given them while here.

WARKWORTH

Drowning Victim Is Laid To Rest

WARKWORTH, July 1.—(ENS). —Funeral service for Charles George Kelly was held from St. Jerome's Catholic church Tuesday morning. Rev. J. B. Ferguson sang the requiem mass.

Mr. Kelly's death, which was a shock to the whole community, occurred suddenly Sunday afternoon, June 27 as a result of a drowning accident at Castleton pond. After about one hour the body was removed from the water and several men applied artificial respiration for over an hour, but Coroner Dr. McGlennon of Colborne, pronounced life extinct and released the body, which was removed to Buchanan's funeral parlours, Warkworth.

He was the youngest son of Mrs. Catharine Kelly and the late James Kelly and was born in Cramahe township February 26, 1924. For the past two years he has been living with his brother, James Kelly, Colborne. He was a favorite with all his companions, who will sadly miss him. The many spiritual and floral tributes was a testimony of the high esteem in which deceased was held.

He is survived by his mother, two brothers, James, Colborne, and Lewis, Norham, and one sister, Mrs. E. Petticrew, Hastings. Pallbearers were Glenn Beavis, Harold Mathews, Jack Kelly, William Denny, Jim McKague and Paul Petticrew. Interment was in Warkworth Roman Catholic cemetery.

Naval Ratings Battle Police

VICTORIA, July 1 (CP) — Naval authorities today opened an inquiry into a riot in the heart of Victoria last night involving about 20 naval ratings, a naval shore patrol and city police reserves.

One seaman suffered a broken nose and cuts and bruises in the melee. Six others are being detained in naval barracks and another is held by city police on a charge of breaking a store window.

The argument started between the patrol and the ratings concerning the recent arrest of a cook off a naval vessel. Naval police intervened and then city police. No civilians were involved.

4th BATTERY TEAM RETURNS TO FORM TO SWAMP SWITCHGEARS

GunnersClubbed Three Hurlers In Eight Innings

The 4th Battery team, after a couple of inept exhibitions with the bat, found all its old-time power to bury the Switchgear club 24 to 0 in a City League game at Riverside Park on Wednesday night. The Gunners clubbed three Switchgear pitchers for 26 hits and a total of of 45 bases, scoring runs in clusters all through the eight-innings engagement.

Eddie Starr, running everything he hit to the limit, slashed out five hits in six official trips to the plate, his string consisting of four doubles and a triple and the Battery catcher trotted in with five runs. Jim Ellis had four for six, including three doubles and supplied transportation for five markers, while Joe Stewart came through with a triple, double and two singles in six times up.

Dave Wilson was on the firing line for the winners and backed by errorless support came up with the first shutout of the season. The big Battery pitcher was wild, walking nine batters and he was in trouble frequently, but the Switchgear hitters could not break through when hits meant anything and fourteen of them were stranded, eleven in the first four innings. Wilson allowed only six scattered singles.

Myles started for the losers, but he was shelled out of the box in the second after the winners had chased in six runs with only one out. Lionel Holmes was sent in to do the twirling and stopped the riot in that inning. However, in the fourth after the Battery had driven in two more runs the relief pitcher was hit in the abdomen by a vicious drive off the bat of Ned Vitarelli and had to leave the game. Gene Reynolds who finished had to take quite a shellacking from the Gunner batters who fattened their averages to the tune of 16 hits in the less than five innings he worked.

There was some good fielding in spite of the big score. Caccavella Switchgear second baseman, had a double play unassisted when he grabbed a low liner from Wilson and stepped on second to nip Jones. Both Maloney and Pagett came through with nice grabs of line drives that looked like sure hits.

Switchgear's best chance to score came in the first when they filled the bases with nobody out on two hits and a walk only to have Wilson strike out Ashmore, Whitehill and Caccavella in a row. The losers also crowded the sacks in the second and fourth, but with two out and on neither occasion was the necessary hit in sight.

Battery won the game in the second innings. Ellis walked, Vitarelli beat out a bunt, and Jones was safe on Caccavella's fumble filling the bases. A pass to Wilson forced in Ellis. Heal singled to right, scoring Vitarelli and Jones. Pryde rolled out, but Burton doubled to centre to send in Wilson and Heal. Starr tripled to right, scoring Burton and sending Myles to the showers. Holmes took over, Hollingsworth going to right field. Stewart tripled to left to drive Starr in with the seventh run, but Holmes got rid of the next two to end th disastrous frame.

The Gunners got three more in fourth on Caccavella's muff of Starr's high fly, a double by Ellis, a single by Vitarelli which sent Holmes out of the game and an error by Reynolds after Wilson had bunted safely.

The fifth saw two more Gunner runs cross the plate, and in the sixth the Battery really had an inning when fourteen men batted and ten of them scored. The winners hammered out nine hits in that frame, Heal batting twice to hit safely both times and score twice while Wilson also ran home twice in that scoring fest. Hits were exploding all over the park and runs came in bunches.

The winners added two more in the seventh to make it the even two dozen;

Game Postponed

As a tribute to Major W. Douglas Brown of the Lincoln-Welland Regiment, who died suddenly on Tuesday, President Bruce Hogg of the Fort Erie Senior Baseball League called off the scheduled game last night between Fleet Aircraft and the Lincoln-Welland teams. Major Brown, a baseball enthusiast, had sponsored the Lincoln-Welland club which won the league pennant last year.

Sweepgold Top Choice In Western Derby

By JIM COLEMAN.

WINNIPEG, July 1— Nine three-years-olds will go to the post Thursday afternoon in the $5,000 Canadian Derby. The winner won't necessarily be the fastest three-year-old in Canada, but it's a cinch that he'll be one of the strongest.

It will be the first time that any of the competitors has essayed to run 10 furlongs. And the mud on the Polo Park course has been deeper than a problem enunciated by Albert Einstein. The mud is so deep, as a matter of fact, that two touts who attempted to walk across the track to the infield yesterday disappeared from view completely, and a police rescue launch dragged for them for three hours without success.

But Don't Count On it.

The track has been drying out for 24 hours now, but this doesn't mean that it will be fast to-day. The weather out here can change faster than you can say "Gus Prada, popolous is a mealy- mounted little snitch."

R. James Speers, the prairie turf tycoon, wouldn't be surprised to wake up Thursday morning to discover the track under six feet of water and to see Noah's Ark tethered to the sixteenth pole.

The favorite in Thursday's race is Sweepgold, owned by Harry Hatch of Toronto. Sweepgold performed lamentably in his only appearance on the Winnipeg track last week, but eastern horses invariably are cracked down to favoritism in this neck of the woods.

Sweepgold's chief opponents appear to be Western Prince, owned by Mrs. D. C. Coleman of Montreal; Baby Broom, owned by H. A. Shepherd of Medicine Hat; and Gloverdale, owned by J. S. Glover of Edmonton.

Abar's Gift, the 37-cent filly which belongs to the celebrated A. G. (Scotty) Kennedy, will run as an entry with Western Prince. But sprinting is the little filly's racket, and its is more than likely that she is being entered in an attempt to race Sweepgold into the ground in the first six furlongs.

Sweepgold has drawn number two position with Bobby Broom fifth, Western Prince eighth and Omar's Gift on the extreme outside. The other starters will be Here's Harvey, owned by L. R. (Knifey) Knifong, of Austin, Texas; Ted's Fanny and Larry Junior, both owned by W. J. Yates of Calgary, and Paddygoeasy, owned by Dr. Lyon H. Appleby of Vancouver. Dr. Appleby, incidentally, owned Maginot Line, the long shot which won last year's Derby in sensational manner when Ten To Ace ran in the can.

Sweepgold proved that he is a fast colt when he broke the mile and 70 yards-record at Woodbine recently. His chief opponent, Western Prince, has been something of a dissappointment this season. In addition he is a son of Brooms and no Brooms colt ever showed a disposition to run ten furlongs. Indian Broom, one of the stallion's most noted sons, set a world's record for nine furlongs, but whenever he ran any further than that, he acted as if he was towing a tractor.

Blows Short Putt Loses Golf Game

CHICAGO, July 1.—(AP).—Elizabeth Hicks, who won the "duration" United States amateur championship in 1941, beat herself yesterday in the women's western open golf tournament on the 19th hole of her quarter-final match with Dorothy Kirby.

The petite pro of Long Beach, Calif., blew a five-foot putt for a win, then, in a moment of irritation, knocked her ball off the green.

Going to the 20th tee, she remarked to Mrs. Charles Dennehy, official referee of the match, that "I don't believe my six-inch putt was conceded by Miss Kirby. Guess I lost the hole."

Miss Kirby, Atlanta, Ga., star who had dropped a 12-foot putt for a birdie on the 18th to square the match, said she didn't remember if she conceded the putt.

No Alternative.

"I don't want to win by a technicality and I'll give her the putt now," insisted Miss Kirby.

Referee Dennehy had no alternative but to award the decisive hole to Miss Kirby, under rules of match play which make it imperative for each putt to be holed out, unless definitely conceded on the green.

Advancing with Miss Kirby to to-day's 18-hole semi-final round were Patty Berg, winner of the national title in 1938 and the western open in 1940, and two brilliant newcomers from the east, Catharine Fox of Glen Ridge, N.J., and Dorothy Germain of Philadelphia.

Using her putter as a cane as well as a potent golf weapon, Patty was even par through 14 holes to beat Mary Agnes Wall of Menominee, Mich., 5 and 4 in the morning session and was only one over regulation figures through 12 holes in the afternoon when she eliminated another Michigan star, Detroit's Marjorie Row, 4 and 3.

The Genelecs who have run into a tough streak during recent games and have dropped their last three starts with the result that they find themselves just a stage above the basement are on the spot tonight. They clash with the tail-end Cardinals at Riverside Park and a loss would pull Manager Ted Johnston's club down into the cellar. Genelecs, however, declare that they have lost their last game in some time and that they are about to inaugurate a new winning streak tonight at the expense of the Cards who are still looking for their first victory. The Cardinals, on the other hand say they are due for a win and they will have the strongest team of the season on hand to battle the club from the C.G.E. all the way. The only sure thing about the City League this season is that you can't be sure about anything so that the clash between Genelecs and Cards is a wide-open affair and should provide a good argument. Isaacs is slated to do the twirling for the Cards. Genelecs have not announced the name of their gunner for this engagement.

The 4th Battery have been due for some time to break out into a hitting rash. It finally came last night and the Switchgear team which has been doing quite nicely for itself since breaking into the City League happened to be the victims. Sparked by Eddie Starr who had five hits, all of them for extra bases, the Gunners simply teed off all night and slammed out a total of 26 safe blows, the season's high. The result was a 24 to 0 victory for the Artillery lads, who really looked like the champion Plazas, after a couple of off-color exhibitions. Dave Wilson, who incidentally joins the ranks of the benedicts on Saturday had the distinction of pitching the first shutout of the season. Wilson issued a flock of passes, getting into hot water repeatedly but when the ducks were on the rocks the big fellow was able to bear down and pitch himself out of trouble. Switchgear got but six hits and none of them came at a time when a blow would have meant runs. A feature of the game was the base-running of Eddie Starr. He slapped five drives to the outfield and stretched every one of them for extra bases, four doubles and a triple. Judging by the way most of the City League players run out their hits, the majority of them would have been satisfied with singles on the same raps that Starr lengthened each time.

The Blimp Is Coming

The Blimp, one of the greatest drawing cards and screwiest of all the wrestling celebrities is coming to Peterborough. Martin Levy, to give the Boston freak his right name is one of the biggest human beings in the world. Standing six feet tall, he tips the scales at 642 pounds or in other words he is more than twice the size of 280-pound Strangler Lewis who was here the other night and looked to Peterborough fans as about the biggest mat artist they had seen in action. The Blimp has been described as the world's worst wrestler but in spite of his size he can kick seven feet high and moves around the ring like a ton of jelly bouncing around a bumpy road. He has broken up more than one pretty fair grappler by the simple method of falling on them and on that account many of the wrestlers don't want anything to do with him. They are sure they can beat him but they are afraid that in handling his sheer bulk they'll break something. However Promoter Frank Tunney has found a wrestler who is willing to take a chance. He is Doc Tony Felice, a husky Yugo-Slav grappler who recently arrived from California. The Doc weighs about a third of the weight of the Blimp and will look like a schoolboy alongside the ponderous Levy but he says the bigger they are the harder they fall, and is ready to go with the Blimp next Monday night at the weekly show at the Summer Gardens.

The two chief rivals for the Girls' Softball League title will clash at the East City Bowl tomorrow night when the Westclox team and the Aircraft outfit will meet for the third time this season. The Big Bens who won the league last season are out in front with a record of seven straight wins. The Aircrafters have been beaten but twice, both times by the Westclox girls and there should be plenty of action in this bout before the winner is decided. It will be the last appearance of the Big Bens for several weeks as vacation time looms up for the Clock-makers and they are not scheduled to play again until July 19. They are anxious to finish the first part of the schedule without a loss while the Aircraft team is just as anxious to take a fall out of their old rivals. Norma Strickland will be the likely pitching choice for the Aircraft and Marg Watson looks like the probable starter for Westclox. Both teams will field the best lineups available and this looms up as the outstanding game of the season in the girls' loop. It rates a real crowd to see the rivals battle.

Hard To Get The Tenth

Mort Cooper, ace pitcher of the St. Louis Cards, is having a little trouble picking off his tenth victory. He registered his ninth win some time ago and looked like a sure bet to be the first major league twirler to stretch his win record into double figures but he has lost two chances since to grab off No. 10 and in the meanwhile Rip Sewell of the Pittsburg Pirates has beaten him to the draw. Cooper, used as a relief pitcher yesterday absorbed another loss when the New York Giants took a fall out of the Cards in the first game of a double-header. The Cards came up in the ninth with a two-run rally to tie up the tussle at three runs each but Cooper who went in in the ninth was unable to prevent the Giants from manufacturing the winning run in the tenth. Meanwhile the Brooklyn Dodgers, behind four-hit pitching by Curt Davis were whitewashing the Cincinnati Reds 5 to 0, grabbing off the win at the expense of Johnny VanderMeer.

* * * * * *

The St. Lous Cards are only five percentage points in front of the Brooklyn Dodgers as a result of yesterday's doings. The Cards managed to salvage the second game of their double-header with the Giants after Mort Cooper had blown the first one, Hank Pollet coming through with a brilliant six-hitter to blank the New Yorkers 5 to 0. Brooklyn grabbed off both ends of a twin bill with the Cincinnati Reds. In the American League another pitcher gunning for his tenth victory of the season found his ambition thwarted. Tex Hughson, Boston Red Sox ace, was tossed in against the Detroit Tigers and the Bengals refused to co-operate. They had Mister Hughson in difficulties before he retired in the eighth and Tex might have had a defeat pinned on him if the Red Sox had not rallied in the ninth to score three runs to tie up the game. Then the rivals battled three extra innings without breaking the deadlock and the umpires called it a day.

Murphy Wins Own Game With Single

St. Peter's defeated Cubs last night, 12-11 when Murphy won his own game by singling Conroy home who had tripled in the last of the seventh.

It was a close game all the way. Cubs scored two runs in the first inning with St. Peter's only able to get one back but the Cathedral boys exploded for four or five runs in the second and third inning respectively and seemed to have the game sewed up. The Cubs kept pecking away at the lead and tied it up with a four run outburst in the sixth only to have St. Peter's come back and win it in the seventh.

Conroy with two triples and a single in five, Murphy with a triple a double and a single and Condon with a homer and double in three led St. Peter's at bat.

Joe Caccavella and O'Donaghue with two for four led the Cubs at the plate.

Condon was put out of the game in the sixth for an argument with Umpire Mike English over a decision at first base.

Brampton Army Trims St. Kitts

BRAMPTON, July 1—Brampton Army Bullets won a wide-open scoring contest from St. Catharines Athletics, 19-13, here last night. The Bullets shot into a 7-4 lead in the first quarter and never relinquished it, showing front at the half, 11-8, moving ahead 15-9 at the three-quarter mark.

It was a clean affair with the boys attending to the business of getting goals. Tom White paced the winners with six, with teammates Bun White and Dixon accounting for four each. Morton, with five, was the leading goal-getter for the A's.

Bullets — Goal, Mortimer; forwards, Haney and Dixon; centre, T. White; defense, McMahon and Campbell; subs, Bun White, Burrell, Plumley, Ingram, Standeven, Bovan, St. Dennis.

Athletics—Goal, Whittaker; forwards, Wright and Gamble; defense, Coupland and Mackie; subs, Morton, Teather, Crooker, Worthy, Cunningham, Cheevers, Wilson, McDonald, Whitely.

Referees—Burrows and Gibson.

Yesterday's Stars

By The Associated Press

Curt Davis, Dixie Walker and Paul Waner, Dodgers—Davis shut-out Reds on four hits in first game; Walker and Waner each made three hits including homers, between them driving in seven runs in nightcap.

Hiram Bithorn and Bill Nicholson, Cubs — Former pitched seven-hit ball to beat Braves in first game and latter hit ninth-inning home run to decide second.

Ernie Lombardi, Giants, and Howie Pollet, Cardinals—Lombardi made three hits, one a home run, to lead winning attack in first game and Pollet pitched six-hit shutout in afterpiece.

Bob Doerr, Red Sox, and Mike Higgins, Tigers—Each hit ninth-inning home runs to bring about tie game halted by darkness after 12 innings.

Nick Etten, Yankees—Made three of New York's five hits against Indians, driving in two runs with double in 11th to win game after hitting homer earlier.

John Niggeling, Browns—Whipped Athletics with three-hit hurling.

Orval Grove, White Sox—Pitched five-hit ball against Senators to earn fifth victory without a defeat.

Elbie Fletcher, Pirates, and Ron Northey, Phillies — Former made three hits and latter drove in two runs as team battled to 11-inning tie in night game.

LAWN BOWLING

"If the mark be not removed from the bowl before it is played in the succeeding end, the opposing side may regard it as a burned bowl, and shall be entitled, before the next bowl is delivered but not afterwards, to remove it to the bank." This is our answer to the question pointing in the column, Monday last.

There were small crowds out to yesterday afternoon and evening's tournaments. The weather was just too cool.

As Monday, July 5th is to be celebrated in our city as Dominion Day our club will hold the usual holiday tournaments.

The men's will be schedule rinks or of rink calibre—3 15-end games. $2.00 per rink, commencing at 1.30 o'clock. The ladies will hold their draw from the board at 1.30 o'clock. They play 3 12-end games and the fee is 25c.

How about your entry fee for the Provincial Playoffs. To-morrow night is the zero hour.

Don't forget the men's tournament night at the usual hour.

All-Star Team Named For Annual Tilt

By DAVE HOFF
Associated Press Sport Writer

CHICAGO, July 1 (AP) — An American League All-Star team heavily laden with New York Yankees and Cleveland Indians was created today from nominations submitted by the eight managers for the 10th annual game with the National League stars July 13 in Philadelphia's Shibe Park.

The Yankees and Indians each placed six players on the 25 man squad, which will be directed by Manager Joe McCarthy of New York, leaving 13 spots for men from the six other clubs.

Those were taken by four Washington Senators, three Boston Red Sox, two St. Louis Browns and two Detroit Tigers, and one each from Philadelphia Athletics and Chicago White Sox.

Thirteen members of the American League team which beat the Nationals last year in the New York Polo Grounds, 3-1, placed again, including New York Catcher Bill Dickey, nominated for the 10th straight time—he's been named for all of them—and Yankee Second Baseman Joe Gordon for the fifth time. Dickey did not play last year because of injuries.

These were the manager's selections for 1943:—

Pitchers—Spurgeon Chandler and Ernie Bonham, New York; Tex Hughson and Oscar Judd, Boston; Emil Leonard, Washington; Harold Newhouser, Detroit; James Bagby and Al Smith, Cleveland.

Catchers—Bill Dickey, New York; Buddy Rosar, Cleveland and Jake Early, Washington.

Infielders—Ken Keltner and Lou Boudreau, Cleveland; Rudy York, Detroit; Joe Gordon, New York; Vernon Stephens, St. Louis; Dick Siebert, Philadelphia; Luke Appling, Chicago, and Bobby Doerr, Boston.

Outfielders—Charley Keller and John Lindell, New York; Chet Laabs, St. Louis; George Case and Bob Johnson, Washington; and Jeff Heath, Cleveland.

Coaches will be Lena Blackburn of Philadelphia and Art Fletcher of New York. Dave Keefe of Philadelphia was selected as pitcher and John Echulte of New York as catcher for batting practice. Eddie Froelich of the Yankees was designated as trainer.

Blimp Billed For Bout Here Monday

Run for your lives folks. Take to the hills. The Blimp is coming! Yes, Martin Levy, the world's largest human will appear here next Monday night in the Brock St. Arena and will wrestle (?) Doc Tony Felice, the California Yugo-Slav. While the Blimp with his six hundred and forty pounds amply qualifies for the world's largest title his claim that he is also a wrestler frequently receives nothing but scorn.

However it is a fact that the enormous mountain of flesh which legally goes by the name of Martin Levy, has managed to injure a remarkable number of second rate matmen and when the Blimp injures them they stay injured for quite a spell. Travelling is the Blimp's great problem. Before gas rationing he used to travel in a specially built trailer, but now the railroad has the worry. It seems the Blimp can't get into the ordinary passenger car and lately they have been carrying him in the baggage department where they have the big double doors.

Besides the fabulous Mr. Levy's stupendous size there is one other important fact about Monday night's whatisit at the Arena. This time the world's largest will not be meeting any set-up. This Doc Felice whom the Blimp will attempt to bump, is something of a goer himself. Having knocked over a powerful lot of heavies in the West the good Doctor is currently pounding out wins over the Eastern men he has met and promises to do the same for the Blimp. When their match was stopped here the other night by the fall out of the ring, Joe Maich and Pat Flanagan had aroused more interest apparently than any other bout Peterborough has seen this season. Flanagan's toe suffered a bad dislocation but was fortunately not broken, and Pat has agreed to take on Maich again on Monday.

Callura Loses To Terranova

HARTFORD, Conn., July 1 (AP)— Phil Terranova, sawed-off Bronx featherweight, making his first start since he was stopped by Chalky Wright in Madison Square Garden, knocked out Jackie Callura, N.B.A. featherweight champion from Hamilton, Ont., last night in the third round of a scheduled 10-rounder, non-title bout at the Auditorium's outdoor arena.

Floored by a left hook in the first round, Terranova climbed dizzily to his feet at the count of four and spent the rest of the round avoiding a hurricane of punches from Callura.

But in the second round he held the champion off with stinging left jabs, and in the third opened up close-range uppercuts. As Callura backed away, Terranova stepped in and nailed him with a smashing right to the jaw which had Callura grabbing the ropes.

His First Kayo

Winging away with both hands, the Bronx boy soon had the champion so dazed that Referee Joe Curry stopped the fight after two minutes and 45 seconds of the third round.

Callura has lost other non-title fights since becoming champion, to Tony Costa and Lew Hanbury, but this was the first time he had been technically knocked out. Both weighed 127.

TORONTO LEAFS TAKE BOTH ENDS OF TWILIGHT DOUBLEHEADER

Syracuse Beaten 3-2, 9-1; Clouting Heavy

TORONTO, July 1. — Digging deep with their victory hooks at the ronto Leafs overpowered Syracuse ronto eLafs overpowered Syracuse Stars in both ends of a twilight-lantern double-header and gained important ground in the International League baseball derby.

Three Games Up.

To-day they open a five-game series with Baltimore Orioles and enjoying a leadership edge of three games over Newark, four and a half over the Marylanders.

It took an eighth-inning homer by Al Rubeling to take care of a belated 3-2 decision in the first game of last night's double menu. The second game was a successful victory cocktail, the ingredients being supplied by Al Jarlett, and a timely display of plate fireworks by his supporting cast, Leafs won 9 to 1. The visitors garnished the lanternlight show by tossing six errors into the brew.

Although they outslugged Syracuse 9 to 5 in the opener, Leafs had to open the base-hit accelerator to overhaul the visiting firemen in an extra frame of a scheduled seven-inning contest. Trailing 2-1 going into the last of the seventh, the homesters balanced the scoreboard budget on Red Kress' pinch double and Lee Handley's triple.

Conger to Rescue.

The Stars looked nasty in the eighth and got a runner to third, but Dick Conger handled his relief pitching role neatly to put out the fire. With one out in the last of the same chukker, Rubeling nudged one of Lynn Nelson's pitches over the left field barricade and the game was over. Conger got credit for his ninth win of the season as a reward for his emergency excellence.

Jim Hooper set the tSars down with five hits in seven innings, but runs in the third and fifth looked big enough to bump the Leafs off. Ralph McCabe started the eighth, but was quickly thumbed out after walking the first hitter.

Heavy Base Traffic.

Leafs had so many men on the sacks in the second game that the Syracuse cast was tossing the ball at shadows in their six-error excitement. The lone Syracuse run was Pitcher Millard Howell's homer blast that cleared the right field timber in the sixth.

Only in the fourth and eighth did the Grimesmen neglect to clutter up the paths. Twelve of the boys were left stranded.

Ruebling and Van Robays provided the depth bombs that blew the Stars sky high. Van conked three singles and brushed home two runs, Rubeling got his second homer of the night in the fifth, clearing his favorite left field wall and sending Van across ahead of him.

Caught in the rip-tide of the Leaf base traffic, Pitcher Howell mussed up three plays, hit one batter and contributed a wild pitch.

Buffalo Splits.

Ken Trinkle, pitching with only two days rest, gained his second verdict of the series over the Bisons last night, 2-0, in the second half of a double-bill to give Jersey Giants an even break for the evening and four out of six on the series. Buffalo scored a 2-1 decison in the twilight tussle.

First game.

Butterfingers Kluttz Of The Braves

Heyes, New York Giants' first baseman, slides home safely on Bartell's grounder to Wietelmann, of Boston, as Catcher Kluttz of the Braves drops the ball in the seventh inning of the second game at the Polo Grounds, New York. The Giants lost the first game 10 to 1, but took the nightcap 6 to 0.

TORONTO, July 1 — (CP). — When stranger characters are found it will be on the racetrack. Elmer Ferguson of the Montreal Herald heard a pretty blond addressing a youngster as "Pimlico Benny" out at Montreal's Mount Royal Track the other day. He investigated and discovered a family of children named after racetracks. In addition to Pimlico Benny there was Agawam Bobby, Rockingham George, Woodlawn Douglas, and Dempsey Richard. The father explained: "Of course, Dempsey isn't named for a racetrack like the other kids. But he was born at Saratoga, not so far from the racetrack, so I guess he's a racetrack baby all right."

It developed the youngsters are children of O.D.C. Smith, owner of a string of racing horses at Mount Royal. Pop and Mom Smith have followed the races for years and the children were born in whatever city their dad's horses were running. Hence the racetrack handles. The family lives in a big trailer that they tow around the country, wherever the nags are galloping.

Quip of the week club:

Vic (Kitchener Record) McKenty: "John L. Lewis is probably the only man in the United States, where baseball is the national game, who doesn't know that three strikes spell 'out.'"

Incidentally:

If Cleveland Barons move up to the National Hockey League next winter, Owner Al Sutphin says the club's expenses will jump approximately $100,000 for the year and admission prices at the Cleveland Arena will range from $1.15 to $2.50 instead of 65 cents to $2.10 as previously.

Major Leagues Give Games To War Relief

By JUDSON BAILEY
Associated Press Sports Writer

The major leagues scored 100 per cent. for entertainment on the first of their two war relief days yesterday, but they failed to get more than a base passing grade at the box office.

An assortment of double-headers, twilight and night games in eight cities drew 134,578 fans who paid $147,391 into the treasury of National War Relief, Inc., and this might seem like a lot of people and a lot of money except that games for United States Army and Navy Relief in the same cities last year netted 289,412, or approximately twice as much.

Under last year's arrangement, when clubs were permitted to pick their own rivals and choose their own dates, Brooklyn Dodgers and New York Giants played each other ad wrote out cheques for $60,000 in Brooklyn and $73,000 in the Polo Grounds.

Lower Gate.

This year's plan of having all clubs meet on the same day had its good points, but it resulted in a gate of $32,000 at Brooklyn and $17,000 at New York.

However, there was plenty of competition—four extra-inning affaiar two of them in tie games, and good pitching and potent hitting.

At Brooklyn, before a crowd of 26,893 that was mesmerized by the tenor solos of Dixie Walker, the Dodgers handcuffed Cincinnati Reds twice 5-0 and 11-5. In the first game Curt Davis pitched a four-hitter and never let a runner past first. In the second Walker (who did not play the first game because a lefthander, John Vander Meer, was pitching for the Reds) made three hits, including a homer, and drove in three runs. Paul Waner did the same and Bobo Newsom earned his eighth victory.

This bootsed Brooklyn half a game ahead of St. Louis Cardinals in the National League standings. Although the Cards retained a slender percentage advantage of dividing a double-header with New York Giants. Mort Cooper, appearing in relief was beaten in the 10th inning of the first game 4-3, but Lefty Howie Pollet pitched a six- hit 5-0 shutout in the second session with his teammates hitting four home runs, two of them by Lou Klein.

Cubs Take Two Games.

Chicago Cubs captured two games at Boston 6-2 and 5-2. Two homers were hti by each team in the nightcap.

New York Yankees reinforced their hold on the American League with a 3-1 triumph in 10 innings at Cleveland in a night game as Nick Etten made three of the Yanks' five hits off Jim Bagby. Etten homered in the second and drove in New Yorks other two runs with a double in the tenth.

Orval Grove, rejected by the army yesterday, achieved his fifth victory without defeat for Chicago White Sox last night 7-1 by holding Washington to five hits before the biggest of the relief turnouts, 29,495.

John Niggeling pitched a three-hitter as St. Louis Browns beat Philadelphia 3-1 and dumped the Athletics into the cellar.

Ninth inning homers by Bobby Doerr and Pinky Higgins caused the Detroit Tigers and Boston Red Sox to finish in a 3-3 12 inning tie in a twilight game.

Pittsburg and the Phillies also played a 3-3 deadlock which was halted by the midnight curfew after 11 innings of their night game.

Player Dispute

There may be a "roll-back" over the sale of Dick Conger, right-handed hurler of the Toronto Leafs, to the Philadelphia Phillies. Previously, Toronto had bought Conger from the Pirates and President W. E. Benswanger of the Bucs stepped into the picture with the pointed remark yesterday that a part of the deal was the stipulation that Pittsburgh would have first choice on any Toronto player before September 1. Evidently he wanted Conger back. Later President Campbell of the Leafs declared Conger was not on the draft list.

RELEASED TO SERVE

More than 400 London bus drivers will be released from their work for service with the forces.

Yep It's Hank

Nope, you're not wrong. It's Hank Greenberg, the former slugging first baseman-outfielder of the Detroit Tigers, and Hank's working out in a Tiger uniform in Detroit. Hank, a captain in the army air forces, is on an inspection tour for the U.S. Army flying training command.

24,000 Japanese Burden To West Coast

By JAMES McCOOK,
Canadian Press Staff Writer.

OTTAWA, July 1 —(CP) —In a debate beginning Tuesday and continuing last night, Progressive Conservative, Liberal, C. C. F. and Independent members of the House of Commons all stressed that British Columbia is tired of carrying alone the responsibility of 24,000 Japanese. Some suggested that repatriation of all Japanese should be provided for in peace treaties after the war.

Labor Minister Mitchell said humane treatment of Japanese in Canada would be continued. The question of minorities doubtless would be a matter for post-war conferences.

The House, in committee, approved a Labor Department estimate of $3,000,000 for the movement of Japanese from British Columbia protected areas.

Discuss Nurseries.

Day nurseries for children of women war workers will be discussed during to-day's Dominion Day session.

For nearly two hours yesterday afternoon, the House discussed a motion by Prime Minister Mackenzie King that a charge by Liguori Lacombe Con. Laval-Two Mountains) in a speech in the Chamber last Friday be investigated by the Standing Committee on privileges and elections. Mr. Lacombe had said that there were three new millionaires in the Government since the outbreak of the war.

Mr. King finally withdrew the motion after Mr. Lacombe made a complete withdrawal of his statement and apologized for making it.

After considerable discussion, the House supported by a 120-43 vote a ruling by Speaker J. A. Glen that a motion by Frederic Dorion (Ind. Charlevoix-Saguenay) for the production of minutes and reports of a national finance committee meeting in 1936 was out of order. Finance Minister Ilsley said it was not in the public interest to table the documents.

In discussion of the Japanese problem, H. C. Green (Prog. Con. Vancouver South) traced the 40-year efforts of British Columbia to have Japanese immigration halted or severely checked. He said acts passed by the Provincial Legislature with this purpose were disallowed by the Dominion Government.

The Japanese government considered Japanese in Canada as citizens.

Ship Them Home.

A. W. Neill (Ind. Comox-Alberni) said "lavish hospitality" had been shown Japanese evacuated from protected areas. If they did not like a white foreman, the government "fired" him. There was no discipline. There had been a strike because they were not supplies asparagus tips for breakfast and because the rice was not the quantity and quality they desired.

"British Columbia and western Canada want to stop totally the migration of Japanese and Orientals into British Columbia and we want the repatriation at the end of the war of every individual of Japanese origin," he continued.

Mr. Neill said that if what British Columbia wanted were not done he would subscribe to a demand to break away from Eastern Canada and have a federation of provinces west of the Great Lakes.

Angus MacInnis (C.C.F. Vancouver East) said other provinces would assist in the war effort by helping in solution of the Japanese problem, which was no longer one for British Columbia alone.

He felt a good job had been done in moving Japanese from British Columbia protected areas.

G. A. Cruickshank (Lib. Fraser Valley) said that to have one Japanese in the Canadian army, as had been reported, was one too many.

The security commission in British Columbia was not "running" the Japanese.

"The Japanese are running your commission out there; they are telling you what you are going to do and what you are not going to do and so far they have been successful in getting away with it, he said.

Hon. Grote Stirling (Prog. Con. Yale) said Japanese had "seeped" into central British Columbia from the coast. The majority of the 24,000 Japanese in the province when the war started still were there, although many had been moved from protected areas to the interior, where they were not wanted permanently.

"Let it be recognized that this is not a British Columbia question, it is a Canadian question," he said. "And if we are to have unity within Canada we must settle the Japanese question this time once and for all."

Were Troublesome

T. J. O'Neill (Lib. Kamloops) said he was "emphatically" with other British Columbia members who advocated repatriation of Japanese after the war. They had been well-treated in interior camps set up for them but they had staged a succession of strikes and had to be moved away.

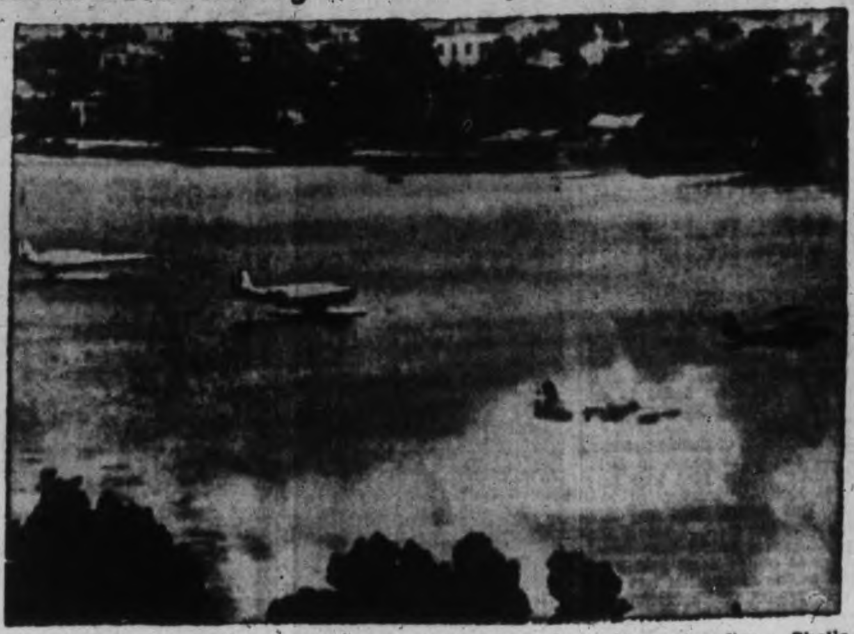
Mr. Mitchell said there was no racial prejudice in his department in respect to the movement of Japanese. The British Columbia Security Commission had done its work well. Through the Spanish Government, camps set up had been reported on to the Japanese Government. The inspecting agency had been satisfied.

"I hope that when the war is over and the story of our own flesh and blood who are at the moment prisoners of the Japanese is told, the same thing may be said of the Japanese government with regard to their treatment of our kith and kin who are at present prisoners in their hands," the minister said.

Mr. Reid said he wondered who was responsible for a selective service advertisement appearing in a British Columbia Japanese newspaper, while advertising was denied an old age pensioners' magazine in New Westminster.

Mr. Mitchell said he would make inquiry.

Italian Duck Hunting—Best 1943 Style



They wouldn't shoot real ducks on a pond but the R.A.F. Beaufighters who surprised these Italian seaplanes were under no obligation to hold their fire. That is, not for the two ships on the right which are being straddled with cannon-fire. Shells kick up spray and leave smoke around the victims. The two white hospital planes at LEFT are not being touched by the attackers.

used to bring other batches of proxies to Ontario. An Aug. 4 election means that a month, possibly less in the case of some of the proxies, is being allowed for the agents in Ontario to receive the proxies and have the names placed on the voting list.

In a statement issued by the Premier, it was explained that he decision of the Government to go to the country constituted "returning the Government of Ontario to the people of Ontario." Mr. Nixon referred to the 10 vacancies in the Legislature and declared these ridings should not be left unrepresented.

"We know of no precedent in the British Empire where a Parliament extended its own life against an Opposition vote," the statement read. "We do not propose to create such a precedent but seek to trust the people to give us their confidence on the basis of a record that is unsurpassed in the history of Provincial Government in Canada."

The election campaign, slow to get under way because of lack of a definite date, swings into intensive action next week with Opposition Leader George Drew making a Northern Ontario tour and Premier Nixon fulfilling speaking engagements in Toronto and elsewhere. The Premier speaks to-morrow night at Simcoe where Attorney General Eric Cross is likely to receive an acclamation for the nomination.

French Island

ated Press Correspondent at San Juan, Puerto Rico, in which he stated the terms under which his insular possession would join the Allies.

After the withdrawal of the American Consul - General from the island's capital city of Fort-de-France, Robert wrote another letter to The Associated Press protesting the action.

Th terms for joining the United Nations as stated in his letter to Dynan were:

1. That such a change of allegiance would "not mean the necessity of rebellion against the French Government."

2. "That the Allies permit the French who are fighting—instead of constituting two factions, one dominated by Britain and the other by the American Government— to form a unity under one single authority vested with sovereign rights."

Pin Removed

LONDON, Ont., July 1 — (CP)—Doctors, probing with a bronchoscope, removed a straight pin which two-year-old Judith Ann Geddes had swallowed at home. The pin was removed and the child returned to her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Geddes, the same day she was taken to hospital.

Convention Is Called To Name Tory Candidate

A convention to nominate a Progressive Conservative candidate to contest the riding of Peterborough in the coming provincial election will be held on Thursday, July 8, in Canadian Legion hall it was decided today. Who the speaker will be has not yet been announced but the convention is called for 8:15 in the evening. The Liberals have already place in the field Captain Alex Elliott now serving overseas and with the Conservatives calling a convention it is beginning to round out things for an election.

Honor Teacher With Presentation

BONARLAW, July 1 — (ENS). —On Monday evening of this week a large number of friends of Miss Marion Richardson, school teacher at School Section No. 5 for the past four years, gathered in the Sunday School rooms of St. Mark's Church and presented her with a purse of money and an address expressing the appreciation of the community of her activities in community work during her stay here and their regret that after the summer holidays she will be taking a school in the western part of the province. The address was read by Miss Frieda McLaren and the presentation made by Mrs. John E. Brown, Miss Richardson expressed her thanks for the gift and the expressions of esteem in a few well chosen words. Rev. A. B. Caldwell acted as chairman and in his opening remarks spoke of the splendid help Miss Richardson has been in the work of the Young People's Society of the Church.

M. R. Neal and W. J. Barlow gave short addresses. J. F. Baker contributed a solo and led in community singing. Games were played and the ladies served a splendid lunch.

Personals

A large number attended the Confirmation Service at St. Paul's Church, Marmora, on Sunday evening last.

Mrs. Jason Baker was admitted to Belleville General Hospital on Friday last for several days. She is much improved but still quite ill.

Mr. John Eastwood has been in poor health for the past few days.

The Young Peoples Society of St. Mark's Church held their annual picnic at Oak Lake on Thursday evening of last week. Nearly all the members were in attendance. Immediately after lunch President Carl Heath called the meeting to order and after expressing his regret that the Society is losing one of its most active members in the person of Miss Marion Richardson he presented her, on behalf of the Society with a beautiful cup and saucer. Miss Richardson, taken by surprise, was deeply touched and expressed her thanks for this kindness.

Ship-building

much damage to shipping," said Mr. Macdonald.

(Prime Minister Churchill in a speech at London Wednesday stated that more than 30 enemy submarines were certainly destroyed in May and that the destruction continues, with June "the best month we have ever known in the war."

(Canadian and American shipbuilding had reached a stage where the output of new ships "is somewhere between seven and 10 times as much as our losses from every action in June." Scarcely a ship had been lost since mid-May.)

While the navy was not experiencing a shortage of recruits in general, there was some difficulty in getting men qualified for mechanical trades, the Minister reported.

About 4,000 former Sea Cadets were serving with the navy and their earlier training was proving valuable.

In its expansion program the navy was looking to the future and —particularly at Halifax and Esquimalt, B.C. — was constructing permanent buildings in cases where the difference in cost was not too great.

Mr. Howe, in reply to questions, said larger quantities of war materials were being stored in Canada as a result of a change in shipping policy. Originally material was shipped directly to the United Kingdom. Now the material was stored in Canada until required and then shipped directly to the theatre of operations in which it was to be used.

Discussing Canadian participation in synthetic rubber production, Mr. Howe said he expected it will be some time before the natural rubber supply will be back to normal and even then use of synthetic rubber might be practical.

In any event, the synthetic plant now nearing completion at Sarnia could be used for manufacture of plastics or other materials, Mr. Howe said.

He decribed the gasoline situation in two words—"very tight."

Cut Truck Mileage

OTTAWA, July 1 —(CP) — An over-all reduction of at least 60 per cent has been made in the aggregate mileage of trucks delivering beer, it was reported yesterday in a Commons return.

Avoid Mistakes Of Versailles Lions Are Told

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont., July 1.—The necessity of the United States adopting and publicizing now the attitude that it will assume after the collapse of the Axis powers, and when the armistice is signed, was urged by Alexander T. Wells, New York City attorney, past president of the International Association of Lions Clubs, in an address before the twenty-third annual meeting of District "A" (Ontario and Quebec) Lions Clubs last night.

"This, so that the mistakes made at Versailles will not be repeated. So that the other powers may know that whoever represents the United States in the conferences to follow the military victory over the Axis powers is vested with full plenipotentiary authority; that our legislature will endorse whatever our representatives sanction, and that in support of all of this is the public opinion of the United States," he declared. The same necessity prevails in Canada and the rest of the British Empire, where public opinion plays such an important part, Mr. Wells said.

"Is People's War."

"Public opinion, and the attitude expressed thereby, is the key to the whole situation. This opinion must be so forcibly expressed that it will constitute a mandate to our respective Governments, in order that it may publicly endorse whatever attitude public opinion may adopt. This World War II is a people's war, and we must have a people's place."

"Another need for the early adoption and expression of the attitude of our peoples and Governments toward the peace now is the fact that we have reached a point in the war where political and economic factors have become most important in the strategy of winning the peace," he continued.

"It is in connection with these factors that I sense much difficulty both here and abroad. I hope that I am wrong in this, but, from time to time, certain news items have appeared in the press of the United States and of the other United Nations that have been somewhat disturbing, all of which, in my opinion, points to the necessity for a clarification of the atmosphere and the adoption of an attitude by the various United Nations toward the problems of the peace now."

L. W. Peterson, Windsor, international director, reported that the British Child War Victims' Fund was developed through the efforts of the St. Catharines Club and the district office in charge of Bruce Malcolm to the extent that the sum of $120,000 has been sent to England, providing care for approximately 1,000 homeless children.

King George Witnesses Re-Fight

Standing in an African vineyard, King George of Great Britain sees troops stage a street fighting demonstration for his benefit—a sample of the sort of action which won the Tunisian campaign. A brigadier-general of the U.S. Army, LEFT, explains the action for His Majesty. Lieutenant-General Mark Clark, U.S.A., is on the RIGHT.

Half-Tracks Bag 78 Planes

CAMP EDWARDS, Mass., July 1—(AP).—The United States Army today revealed details of its deadly half-tracks — part truck and part tank—and credited the speedy vehicle with a top-notch performance in the Allied victory in North Africa.

Brig.-Gen. Joseph E. Harriman, who saw active duty in the early phases of the battle, said half-tracks attached to the Second Corps downed 78 German planes for sure — possibly more than 100—in Tunisia in a three-month period starting in January.

Self-propelled by heavy duty engines and capable of travelling up to 60 miles an hour, the half-tracks are armed with 37 mm. anti-aircraft weapons and 50 calibre machine-guns.

The front of the vehicle looks like that of a heavy truck, with a drivers' seat, hood and two rubber-tired wheels. The rear resembles a tank, with caterpillar treads instead of wheels. Over the tread is an open-top, box-shaped metal body which carries the gunners and weapons.

Features of the half-tracks are its "remarkable mobility, intensive fire power and extraordinary adaptability to changing battle conditions," an army headquarters announcement said.

Dr. Bailey, professor at Toronto University, has arrived with his wife and son and daughter, to spend the summer at their cottage near Sylvan Lodge.

Mr. and Mrs. William Baccus of "Don Workin'" spent a few days in Smiths Falls this week.

Mrs. Hay and her mother and Winnifred Hay of Spencerpost, New York, arrived Thursday and are staying at "Ship Ahoy."

Mis. Jim Rogers opened the Log Cabin store on Friday for the season.

Mrs. I. Barlow of Havelock spent a few days recently getting her cottages in readiness for tenants expected this week.

Mr. Jim Barlow is having repairs done to his garage and cottage.

Dr. Morgan of Toronto who has been a regular visitor for years will be missed this year but he is now a captain in the army.

The cottagers regret the shortage of ice but due to lack of help Mr. Fraser was unable to secure the quantity in the winter required to supply the usual amount to the lake.

Dutch Soldiers Reviewed By Their Queen

GUELPH, July 1.—Although no civic reception was held in honor of the initial visit of Queen Wilhelmina of the Netherlands, thousands of Guelphites joined with officers and men of the Royal Netherlands Army in extending a royal welcome upon her arrival in the Royal City yesterday. She is the second member of the Dutch Royal family to visit Princess Juliana Barracks here since its establishment in Guelph little more than a year ago. Prince Bernhard, husband of Princess Juliana, inspected the troops and their quarters a few months ago.

Accompanied by a Provincial Police escort as well as by city police, Her Majesty reached Guelph shortly before noon, and was greeted by Major W. Th. Carp, commanding officer of the Royal Netherlands Army in Canada, and other officers from Princess Juliana Barracks. She was presented with a bouquet by little Margaret Van Berwhout, daughter of Lieut. and Mrs. Teding Van Berkhout.

Gowned in a flowered frock, white redingote with a white hat and white sandals, Her Majesty was accompanied by Major Vanerberg, who is attached to the Netherlands Embassy in New York.

Queen Wilhelmina inspected the guard of honor, and was welcomed to Guelph by Mayor R. Beverly Robson. She then inspected the dormitories and dining hall of the troops, and proceeded into the large arena, where she reviewed the officers and men of the Royal Dutch Army, of which she is the commander-in-chief.

Her Majesty attended a luncheon in the officers' mess, at which wives of the officers were present. Later in the Salvation Army canteen the relatives of the troops were presented and this was followed by tea in the officers' mess, with the Queen bidding farewell to her subjects here about 4 o'clock prior to her departure by motor for Toronto.

Prior to her arrival here the Queen visited four Dutch soldiers confined to Freeport Sanitorium, near Kitchener, and presented them with autographed gifts. She spent half an hour with the men, and gave two of them books, and the other two chess sets. Capt. Van Pritzelwitz of the Royal Netherlands Army here, welcomed Her Majesty at Freeport.

KEEP U-BOATS ON THE RUN

In a wire received by Gordon Monkman, chairman of the War Savings Stamps Committee, the Royal Canadian Navy has promised to do its part in keeping the German U-boats on the run and it is asking Canadians to do their part. On page five to-day is listed the stores, restaurants and hotels where stamps to purchase depth charges may be secured. Examiner carriers on Friday night will also have stamps available.

RE-APPOINTED

Aldermen of the City Council paid tribute to an embarrassed Mayor James Hamilton, Wednesday night at a committee meeting when they congratulated him on his re-appointment as a Regional chairman in the Canadian Federation of Mayors and Municipalities held in Montreal during the past few days. This is a post he has held for several years.

MILK FOR BRITAIN.

Pupils of Grade 1 of King George School, where Miss F. Bonnycastle is the teacher, have contributed the sum of $1.40 to the Milk for Britain Fund, a real contribution from boys and girls six and seven years old. The total to date for the fund is $10,518.55.

KIWANIS SPEAKER

James G. Wharry, Division Sales Manager of the Quaker Oats Co., will address Kiwanians at the Empress Hotel luncheon Friday.

THE COOL-OFF.

Paddling a canoe on Lake Chemong in the heat of Sunday afternoon, two boys who work at Genelco, Don Rosebush of Apsley and Jack Wiltse of Belleville, tipped over unintentionally with all their clothes on and got a thorough ducking. It was several minutes before a motorboat arrived on the scene to rescue them and tow the canoe to land. They were still soaking wet when they got home. At least two sets of teeth were chattering on Sunday.

OFF TO GOOD START.

The fishing season opened auspiciously for Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Cobourn, Douro Township, this morning. They were fishing in the Otonabee River a short distance below the waterwork dam when Mrs. Coburn hooked and landed an eleven-pound maskinonge. Previous to that they had had another strike, a musky taking a plug while they were casting.

NO REGULAR SESSION.

This being the statutory observance of Dominion Day ther was no regular session of the police court this morning. Howard Innis, charged with begging and Clifford Command with having been drunk on Hunter Street, Wednesday night appeared before Sgt. G. T. Puffer and were remande until Friday.

THE PRIZE WINNERS.

Prizes in the draw conducted by St. Peter's Softball Club which were drawn for last night, were won as follows: H. Anderson, R. R. 5, Peterborough, ticket number 433; Miss Edna Simmons, 473 Rogers Street, ticket number 785 and M. R. Sloan, 167 Romaine Street, ticket number 1038.

FAMINE OVER.

There is good news on the home front in the announcement that the potato famine is being definitely relieved. Several fairly large shipments of new potatoes, from West Virginia and other southern states, have arrived in town and of course found a quick market at four cents a pound, the ceiling price. By the end of the week dealers believe that enough potatoes will be available to take care of the community needs.

RANGER RECRUITS.

Five men from Peterborough enlisted in the Prince of Wales Rangers (RF) this week. They are: Orval William Wesley Smith, Wolsley Street; Jack Tedford Killingbeck, 157 Rutherford Avenue; Walter Douglas Hully, 133 Stewart; Donald Hope Dalton, 10 Grandview Avenue; and Albert Edward Ball, 717 George.

FIRE REPORT

Wax set on the kitchen stove of the residence of M. G. Hardill, 645 Weller street, boiled over Wednesday at 2:20 p.m. while no one was in the room, setting fire to the wall and ceiling and causing considerable damage before being brought under control. At 7:45 p.m. sparks from the chimney at 4 Kirk street, home of A. W. Archibald, set fire to the roof and caused damage estimated in the neighborhood of $25.

DOMINION DAY

The Post Office will be open for the transaction of all regular business from 8 to 10 a.m. Monday, July 5, which is the day to be celebrated as Dominion Day in Peterborough. All wickets will be open during these hours, while the Public Lobby is to remain open from 6:30 a.m. to 6:00 p.m. There will be the usual morning and evening collections from the street letter boxes and all mails will be received and despatched as usual. Special delivery service will be available, but no deliveries by Letter carrier or Rural Route carrier will be made, the Postmaster said.

Two Women Are Carried 85 Ft. On Engine

Trapped in their automobile after it had been struck by a C. N. R. passenger train and carried 85 feet on the front of the locomotive, two Otonabee women had a narrow escape from serious injury or possible death at the Charlotte and Bethune street crossing early Wednesday evening.

The car, driven by Verna M. Braden, Indian River, was travelling west on Charlotte street and drove out on to the tracks just as the Lakefield train moving south reached the crossing. The automobile was just picked up on the front of the engine and was still pinned there when the train was brought to a stop 85 feet farther south. The machine was badly damaged along its right side but the driver and her mother escaped luckily. The mother sustained a cut on her head and was taken to the Clinic for treatment.

The train was in charge of Conductor George Palmer, Engineer Martin Fox and Fireman R. J. Hope, all of Lindsay.

The trainmen declare the wigwag signal at the crossing was operating when the accident occurred.

J. K. Hughes Heads Auto Trading Co.

J. K. Hughes is being congratulated by his many local friends upon his recent election as president of the flourishing Provincial Automotive Trading Company, Limited.

Mr. Hughes who has been associated with the concern since its organization six or seven years ago, first as a director and last year as vice-president, was elected to head the company at the annual meeting of the shareholders and directors held recently in Toronto.

The company has had a good year and is in a flourishing condition in spite of the unusual problems with which the automotive industry is concerned, President Hughes intimated to-day.

Meatless Tuesday Bags Escaped Hun

MONTREAL, July 1 — (CP). — Hugo Forster, German naval captain who escaped from a war prisoners' camp in the Eastern Townships on Monday, was back in custody partly because of his lack of knowledge about meatless Tuesdays in Canada's restaurants;

Forster was taken into custody by Traffic Officer Alderic Noel of the Provincial Police about two miles from nearby Dorval Airport, on a tip supplied by Noel's brother and sister who operate a small roadside restaurant. The brother, George Noel, said their suspicions were aroused when the German ordered a hamburg sandwich and were strengthened by his accent when they engaged him in conversation.

While the sister, Marie Anne Noel, was explaining the meatless Tuesday situation and serving the escaped prisoner an order of French fried potatoes and a glass of milk, George sought out his brother and brought him back to make the arrest.

Carmen Beach Martin, 29, shown phoning from a Washington court, was found guilty on one of four counts on vice charges by an all-male jury. She testified that she had entertained diplomats.

City Is Nearing Agreement With Wartime Houses

After nearly two years of hold-ups the Finance Commitee of the City Council announced Wednesday night that an agreement with Wartime Housing Ltd. was very close to being a fact as the Government had agreed to amend the legislation holding up proceedings at the next session. In addition to spoken promises, a letter was received from the Hon. Eric Cross promising definite action.

It was moved by Mayor Hamilton and Alderman R. Glover that the committee recommend to the council that the city sign an agreement with Wartime Housing and accept payments of $24 and $30 a year from the company according to schedule of the agreement from the time the houses were occupied. These are to include houses now in the city being on Burnham's Point and Park Hill Road. The payments will be received in lieu of taxes as payment for municipal services furnished for the residents in the houses.

Alderman James Dutton opposed the idea of saying that the houses were getting good rent and that if the council accepted the money it meant a certain number would get preferred treatment. Once the agreement is signed, he declared then the city is responsible for all the streets.

The city has three graders which are not covered by insurance and the finance committee recommended that they carry insurance like that of other city vehicles. It was agreed that the machines needed some coverage for fire, public liability and property damage, after they considered the hazards with the machines in traffic all day. The value of the three is set at $3,239, $5,297 and $3,690.

Notify Heads

Alderman Max Swanston emphasized the need for more attention for complaints coming in directed to the wrong departments. He said that about two weeks ago it was reported to one of the city offices that a tree on George street had a bad split of about 8 feet, which constituted a real menace. At the time the call came in the two men who handle this work were away, he said, and in the press of work the memorandum was never forwarded to them, with the result that the first they heard of it was when it blew down in a severe wind storm. Alderman Swanston declared that it was a miracle that no one was injured and said that in future more care should be taken in making sure that complaints reach the proper sources. The Mayor was asked to send a letter to city employees requesting that complaints of an emergency nature be sent to the heads of the proper departments.

Mrs. James Shearing, Armour Road, applied to have her license for operating a booth renewed, following its withdrawal a month ago on complaints about rowdyism in the neighborhood where it operates. Investigations by members of the committee and the police have shown that the place is sanitary and during the month there have been no undue upsets. Mayor Hamilton pointed out that lots of older boys were brought in from other sections of the city to the police station on the same charges. The committee members decided to let the matter continue as it is for another month.

Lt.-Col. E. O. Keeler, M.C., V.D., officer commanding the Training Centre, wrote asking the council to pay the cost of the new stage in the drill hall amounting to slightly over $400. He pointed out that the city council had offered to pay $1,000 for band instruments earlier and the offer had been refused because there were not enough men to make it worth while, and that the stage had been built instead. After some discussion, Alderman Gordon declared that the stage allowed for bringing in entertainers which helped to keep the boys in camp and probably saved the city considerable money. A committee made up of Mayor Hamilton, Alderman Adams Sands and Alderman Floyd Curtis was appointed to investigate the matter and they were given power to act.

Post War Considerations

Resolutions from Bowmanville and Gananoque were endorsed requesting the Government to make more provision for these boys going to corrective institutions which have been taken over as internment camps. A rehabilitation committee composed of the Mayor, Aldermen Swanston, Sands, Glover and Gordon, was named for the purpose of meeting the council, co-ordinating committee and any provincial committee representatives to discuss this important question.

Before the finance committee adjourned, Alderman Gordon complained about the city jail being used for prisoners from outlying townships and towns, saying that it meant considerable work for the staffs on duty and often there were no city men in jail when these men arrived. He remarked if they wanted that kind of co-operation they could pay for it, and Alderman Dutton reminded him of the good neighbour policy, to which he retorted "we out not to have such neighbours." Mr. Gordon told the members that these men should be locked in the county jail when they are brought to Peterborough and the county treasurer could be paid.

A motion was made to instruct the chief of police of this policy.

Bridge Under Repair

The Board of Works committee of the city council met following the finance committee. The old bridge between the canal near Armour Road and Downer's Corners will be closed for a few days City Engineer Parsons informed the committee because there are parts in need of reconstruction, and he plans to do considerable reinforcing and to make the bridge from three to four feet longer on either end.

It was also reported that coal dealers had been given permission to drive up on the sidewalk when delivering their coal providing they made the proper approach and that they placed planks on the walks to make an equal distribution of weight. It was pointed out that one dealer made several infractions of the rules and it it should continue the committee will withdraw the privilege, it was stated.

The Parks committee considered a resolution from the Legion about the children playing on the Cenotaph. Although members felt that it was a difficult thing to correct they agreed to do whatever they could to make the people of the city conscious of what the monument stands for. The public is being asked to keep from abusing trees and parks.

In the past few days a spirit of vandalism has broken loose in some of the parks, Alderman Curtis, chairman of this committee reported. The Inverlea caretaker remained till 10 o'clock one night and left everything in good shape, he declared and the next morning it was a mess. He said the police had investigated but had not been able to do much. At the same time some of the benches in the East City Bowl had been shoved out into the water for about four feet. Alderman Curtis said there had been some complaints about allowing too small children to swim at Inverlea and the committee discussed drawing up a by-law limiting the ages for swimming there.

1943 Model Carriage Which Resembles Old Buckboard Is Built For Cottager

When early in the war restrictions were clamped on gasoline and tires, there were many jesting comments about returning to the good old days of the horse and buggy, and that statement has now become a reality in the form of a combination Democrat and Buckboard, built by H. B. McGinness of Peterborough.

Mr. Wilber of Toronto, who is a friend, requested Mr. McGinness to build him some kind of a carriage because of the scarcity of tires and gas made it impossible for him to go back and forth to his summer cottage on Lake Simcoe. He and his family go as far as they can be train and plan to use the 1943 model carriage to take them the 6 or 7 miles from the station.

The carriage is built in buckboard style with springs under the seats, which the builder felt would give plenty of knee action as their is considerable give to them. The owner wanted the steps to be as low to the ground as possible, so the flooring was built right on the axle, forcing the springs to be placed on top. There are three wide seats on top capable of holding two comfortably and three with a little crowding. The seats are more than a foot off the floor and that is the space to be utilized for luggage and supplies. The blue leather upholstery was put on by L. R. Groombridge, 464 Aylmer Street.

Mr. McGinness, who has made the plans after studying some old models, used fir and oak in the body of the carriage and fashioned the shafts out of hickory. The wheels, the back of the seats, and the edge of the carriage are painted in a fire engine red, making a striking looking piece of apparatus. This is no new job for Mr. McGinness because he works in the carriage factory and auto bodies shop at the corner of McDonnel and Bethune Streets.

Emily School Makes $43 For War Victims

The pupils of School Section No. 10 Emily, situated at Orange Corners, will have every reason to remember the finish of this school year, for they climaxed various efforts during the year on behalf of a number war charities, by bringing to a successful conclusion one of their best war assists by raising the splendid amount of $43.75 on behalf of the air raid victims in Britain through the Peterborough and District British War Victims' Fund.

This was facilitated through a donation of a fruit and juice extractor through Mrs. R. Whalon of this city, for which the pupils under the direction of their teacher, Milburn Jones, sold tickets, the draw for which was made at a concert, which they held on June 21, itself also an occasion to raise money for the fund.

This was held in beautiful weather on the school grounds, before a good audience composed of parents and friends, who were also invited to inspect the display of children's work in the school room.

The draw was made by little Fred Bothwell, who had only commenced attending school last Easter, and this resulted in Russell Fife of that centre proving to be the winner. Splendid leadership was given by the teacher, who offered prizes of war savings stamps to those who sold the most tickets for the draw, and since there were four pupils who ran neck and neck in this particular, all of them, in the persons of Norman Rendell, Howard Faulkner, Sherman Harrison and Gerald Blackwell, shared in this award given by him to stimulate their efforts on behalf of the fund.

One personal donation of $2.00 from Mandell Trotter was included in the amount above named, which is one of the best efforts from the district schools to be recorded this year. This school has twenty-four pupils ranging in age from 6 to 14.

Today's list also includes a donation of $7.50 in the name of the members of the local Old Age Pension and Mothers' Allowance Board of the County of Peterborough, being a divident cheque in a Government Bond handed over by the county clerk on behalf of the donor, who wished to remain anonymous.

Flower Holders

For particular use of those who wish to decorate the graves of loved ones at rest in Little Lake cemetery, a number of flower holders were made and donated by Bill Naish to be sold on behalf of the fund, which benefits 100 per cent from their sale, and there are still a few to be obtained from Isaac Harrison at the cemetery greenhouse, or the office close by, the staff of which also is helping in this matter.

The cost is small, and they quite fit into the picture for the purpose they have been made, and there is every reason to feel that when these are sold, it will not be possible to obtain any more for the duration of the war, which perhaps should inspire their purchase as against a future use or need.

25 Pictures Are Presented Training Centre

For a long time authorities have recognized a hungry feeling in the men and women of the armed forces for beauty to brighten the drab spots around the barracks and canteens and a short while ago 25 of Canada's foremost artists donated some of their work for reproduction in service camps.

The Citizens Co-ordinating Committee of Peterborough took charge of the 25 pictures which came to the local training centre and spent Wednesday afternoon placing them with a good deal of care in the Sally-Ann canteen and the new C.W.A.C. lounge. These pictures represent scenes taken from every section of Canada and the vivid coloring makes a pleasant impression in the stiff lounge rooms.

There have been 7,500 of these prints made and the method of reproduction is that of printing with oil paint through a silk screen, and experts say that it is difficult to tell the reproduction from the original. Different firms across the country have sponsored one picture and their names appear along with those of the artists.

There were eight pictures hung in the Salvation Army canteen, all chosen with a view to suiting the surroundings. These paintings are 30 inches by 40 inches and when hung changed the entire appearance of the room. A few of the soldiers who drifted in during the hanging process expressed themselves as quite delighted with the change.

Beautiful Scenes

Several of the pictures were of beautiful lake scenes in deep blue and green coloring. Others had splashes of gold or deep rust shades. One pictures which some of the boys expressed their admiration for was "The Plowman" by J. S. Hallam, which is so natural that any farm boy would feel he was back at home. "Wild Geese" is a typical man's picture done in bold shades of blue and gold. "Haliburton Village" and "Beechwoods" were two of the loveliest scenic views.

Two pictures, especially chosen with a view to feminine tastes were hung in the C.W.A.C. lounge. "Quebec Village" done in pale blue and pink and white shades was one of the ones chosen by members of the committee for the girls and a second one "Ontario Village" was picked because of the way its coloring suited the furniture in the new quarters. The remaining ten pictures will be hung at a later date in the Uptown Recreation Centre.

KINGSTON, Ont., July 1 — (CP).—Maurice Storey, 18, of Kingston, Tuesday was sentenced to one year definite and three months indefinite in the Ontario Reformatory when he pleaded guilty to a charge of impersonating an army officer.

Storey admitted obtaining a Canadian army staff car and driver under false pretenses.

Gas Consumers Show Increase Utilities Told

A decrease of about 300,000 gallons of water pumped for the month of May was reported by the Waterworks Department at the Utilities Commission meeting on Tuesday, with the pumpage for the month standing at 98,037,000 gallons as compared with 98,337,000 gallons in May 1942.

In addition, this department had the brick work on the Filter Plant buildings pointed and repaired, all trees received a routine spray by the Hydro machines and three new water services were laid and three relaid. Work was also done for Wartime Housing, planting trees and shrubs and seeding lawns at the West End projects.

The 1943 peak in the Electric department continues lower this year than in 1943, according to a report. Last year the peak for May stood at 12,250 horsepower and in 1943, it was 11,400 horsepower. During the month, the Canadian General Electric Company obtained an extra supply of power during the repair of their steam turbine.

Increase In Gas Sold

The Gas Department announced an increase in gas sold during the month of May, and the number of consumers also in increasing. At the present time there are 3,008 consumers as against 2,887 last year. Domestic and Industrial users show a substantial increase in the cubic feet of gas sold during May, but Commercial users are down. Domestic users had 2,620,800 in 1942 and 2,914,800 in 1943; Industrial 573,300 in 1942 and in 1943, 723,200 cubic feet; and commercial users had 665,200 cubic feet in 1942 and in 1943 they had 654,100.

Commercial Power showed an increase of 16.3 in the Kilowatt hours sold by meter in May, rising from 1,413,489 in 1942 to 1,643,835 in 1943. Domestic Lighting had a 2.9 increase with 913,287 Kilowatt hours sold in 1943 as compared with 887,421 a year ago.

Bank balances as at May 31 after provision for payment of current accounts, and pay of 31-day notes: Electric department, $43,839.73; waterworks department, $30,605.40; and gas department, $10,164.64. The interest and sinking fund to be paid this year is as follows: electric department, $30,547.38; waterworks department, $44,028.16; and the gas department, $19,320.00.

After studying a request from Curtis Brothers for a water service for Lot 28, which is a new subdivision immediately east of Armour Road at Park Hill Road, the Commission decided to build 280 feet of main along Park Hill Road at the present time. It will be 8 inches in sizes to fit into the final scheme. The cost of this section is estimated at $840. To serve all the lots on the new street, would necessitate laying mains at a cost of $2,618 and the remainder will be left until a later date.

Officers Attend Deloro Wedding

MARMORA, July 1 — (ENS).— St. Andrew's United Church, Marmora, was the scene of a military wedding at 2:30 p.m. on Saturday, June 26, when Grace Isobel Loveless, daughter if Mr. and Mrs. H. O. Loveless, of Deloro, was united in marriage to Lieut. Percy J. Gray of Peterborough, son of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Gray of Deloro. Rev. [illegible] W. F. Fletcher, pastor of St. Andrew's, officiated. The interior of the sacred edifice was prettily decorated with white roses, peonies and orange blossom. Wedding music was played by the organist, Mrs. W. H. Litt, and during the service Miss Beatrice O'Neill of Deloro sang "I Love You Truly."

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was beautifully gowned in white chiffon over taffeta, wearing a Juliet veil held with a coronet of orange blossom. Her bouquet was of red roses. Her maid of honor was her sister, Miss Marjorie B. Loveless, Reg. N., of Montreal, who wore pink chiffon, and halo hat to match, with veil, carrying pink roses.

Miss Doris McInroy, of Deloro, cousin of the bride as bridesmaid, was attired in pale blue chiffon, halo hat to match with veil, with bouquet of pink roses.

The duties of groomsman were carried out by Lieut. Jack Kincaid of Peterborough. Sgt. A. L. Jones of Marmora and Sgt. M. J. Corrigan of Deloro acted as ushers.

The buffet luncheon was served on the lawn of the home of the brides parents to 75 guests, which included several of the personnel of the Hastings and Prince Edward Regiment, of which the groom was a former member. The table was decorated with white candles and white roses.

Mrs. H. O. Loveless, mother of the bride, received in turquoise blue crepe, wearing a corsage of red roses. Mrs. Floyd Gray, mother of the groom, was gowned in pastel blue and wore a corsage of red roses.

The happy young couple later left on a wedding trip to Ottawa, the bride's travelling costume being a powder blue silk jersey dress with matching accessories. They will take up residence in Peterborough.

12-lb Lake Trout Caught At Bancroft

BANCROFT, July 1 — (ENS).— Fishing in and around Bancroft district has been very good during the past week. George Thomson of Bancroft and an employee of the Department of Highways, tried out his luck Thursday afternoon in Bay Lake, three miles southwest of Bancroft, and was fortunate enough to feel a husky tug on his copper line and when he reeled in his prize what a fish he had to his credit. It weighed 12½ pounds, salmon trout, measuring 32 inches in length, 16 inches in girth and had a tail span of ten inches. Mr. H. H. Loucks, public school inspector for Bancroft and district, was out the same afternoon with Mr. Wilfred Calver of Maynooth in Williams Lake in Maynooth vicinity and landed a 4¼-pound speckled trout, which is a large fish for that specie.

The electrical storm which swept over Bancroft and points east Saturday morning struck on the farm of Arnold Stewart of Boulter, killing four of his herd of cows.

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Price and daughter of Belleville spent over the week-end visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Stapley of Bancroft.

Mr. and Mrs. Alex Gordon of Eldorado spent Sunday visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. M. J. McGhee of Bancroft.

Miss Avis Fuller and Mr. Lawrence Leedy of Peterborough spent over the week-end at their homes in Bancroft.

Obituary

MARTIN CARROLL.

DOWNEYVILLE, July 1—(ENS).—The funeral of the late Martin Carroll was held from his late residence on Friday morning to St. Luke's Church where requiem mass was said by Rev. Father McFadden. The funeral was the largest ever in the church and people gathered from all the surrounding countryside to pay their respects to a highly esteemed citizen and neighbor. The prayers at the grave were said by Father McFadden, assisted by Rev. Father Gillogly of Ennismore.

The pall-bearers were his five brothers, Lorne, Walter, William, Charles and Philip of Rochester, N.Y., and a brother-in-law, Joseph O'Neill.

The late Martin Carroll was born on the farm where he died, 49 years ago, son of Mrs. Carroll and the late James Carroll, and was a highly respected man loved by all. The high esteem in which he was held was shown by the large numbers who called at the house and attended the funeral. His sudden and untimely death has cast a gloom over the whole community.

He is survived by his wife (Gertrude O'Neill), his mother, Mrs. James Carroll of Rochester, N.Y., and his five brothers, Lorne, William, Walter, Charles and Philip, all of Rochester.

The sympathy of the community is extended to the sorrowing relatives in their hour of sorrow.

Among those attending from a distance were Mr. and Mrs. John Harrington, Mrs. Thomas Whibbs, Rev. Father Perdue, all of Toronto, and from Omemee, Dunsford, Peterborough, Ennismore, Lindsay, Ops and Bobcaygeon.

Sailors Wreck De Gaulle Paper

ALGIERS, July 1 (AP) — Dissension between French military and civil authorities broke out anew today following reports that a newspaper at Oran was raided last night on orders of the French naval commander there.

Information reaching here said armed forces forcibly entered the offices of the Oran Republican, locked the doors, severed telephone wires and conducted a thorough search. Newspaper circles here said the official charge was "many de Gaullist activities."

Publication of the paper was delayed several hours. Its editors telephoned protests to the National Committee here and an investigation was started this morning.

At a session of the committee Gen. Georges Catroux, Governor of Algeria, was reported to have protested the overlapping of authority between the civil and the military and to have said that his "hands had been consistently tied" by the French General Staff.

June Building Shows Big Drop

TORONTO, July 1 — Construction contracts throughout Canada to the total value of $20,478,700 were awarded in June, 1943, according to MacLean Building Reports. This is considerably less than half the $46,756,200 last year.

All Provinces recorded a drop for the month. Ontario has a June 1943, total of $8,215,900 as compared with $16,029,900. Quebec contracts awarded totalled $4,990,400, as compared with $19,408,400. In the Western Provinces, June 1943, awards totalled $5,188,500 for June 1943, as against $8,914,600.

Residential construction continues to hold up, totalling $10,374,500 for the month as against $10,829,600 for June, 1942. All other classifications, commercial, industrial and engineering were considerably down from a year ago.

Contracts awarded for the first six months of 1943 total $102,126,800, a drop of $32,820,400 from the $134,947,200 in the first half of 1942.

St. John's Defeat All Saints' 19-9

St. John's bantams defeated All Saints' by the score of 19 to 9 last night in the Church League semi-finals. St. John's won the round two games to one. The game was close till the fifth when St. John's scored seven runs. After a shaky start Loftus pitched good ball and his mates supplied him with hits and runs:

St. John's: D. Lech, cf; J. Clarke, 1b; A. Willong, 2b; J. Green, ss; M. Patterson, 3b; D. Crowe, lf; B. Loftus, p; J. Airth, c; B. Gray, rf.

George St. Juveniles Take First Game

George Street Juveniles grabbed off the first game of the Church League Junior playoffs last night when they defeated All Saints in decisive fashion by 26 to 10 in the first game of the final series.

The second game will be played tonight at the Queen Mary School and a win for the George Street outfit will give them the championship.

They were good value for their victory last night. All Saints led 1 to 0 at the end of the first period but George Street roared back with four in the second innings and they were in front all the way after that although All Saints staged a four run rally in the sixth and made it close for the moment, only to have the winners chase eight runs across in the seventh and a similar number in the eighth to break the game wide open.

Springville Church Anniversary

SPRINGVILLE, July 1 (ENS) — Anniversary services were held at the United church on Sunday. Those privileged to attend felt that they had indeed been greatly profited by the stirring messages brought by the guest minister, Capt. D. De Mille of the Peterborough Training Centre.

Special music by the choir, assisted by Miss Lois Windrim and Mr. Henry Batten of Peterborough was much appreciated.

In the morning Mr. Batten contributed a beautiful solo and in the evening a quartette, consisting of Misses Lois Windrim and Joy Preston, and Messrs. Bernard Preston and Duncan Seymour, was enjoyed.

Teacher Honored

At the close of the Sunday School session on Sunday morning, Miss Marjorie Galbraith, who has been the teacher at Elmdale School for the past two years, was honored by members of the Young Peoples' Union and the Junior Bible Class. Miss Galbraith has accepted a position in Smith township.

Jim Hunter, class president, spoke on behalf of the members of the two organizations and expressed their appreciation of Miss Galbraith's services since coming into the community. He spoke of her co-operation and help in all activities connected with the church and community. He assured her that she would always belong in the circle of friends at Springville.

Charles Whittington, president of the Young Peoples' Union, then presented a beautifully bound Hymnary.

Miss Galbraith very graciously thanked her friends for the lovely gift and for their many kindnesses.

On Tuesday afternoon the pupils of her school (Elmdale) presented Miss Galbraith with a two strand necklace of pearls, as a token of their appreciation of her guidance in the past two years. The address was read by Eleanor Bowles and the presentation made by Joan Cooke.

Toronto Gets Three Players

TORONTO, July 1. — Marketing wheels did a fast spin for President Pete Campbell and Manager Burleigh Grimes of the Toronto Leafs in the last 24 hours.

Yesterday afternoon the Toronto management announced reinforcements in the form of two experienced southpaw pitchers and an outstanding centrefielder. It was good news that came in the wake of the announcement of the sale of Pitcher Dick Conger to Philadelphia Phillies.

Here's the marketing score card:

1. Purchased Lefthander Tom Ananicz from Newark Bears.

2. Obtained Outfielder Bob Lee Gamble, via the Cincinnati Reds.

3. Settled differences with Southpaw Pitcher Joe Sullivan, who reported to the club Wednesday morning.

Grimes Likes 'Em.

"It's the kind of player strength we've been looking for," Grimes said last night, "and the way the baseball market is these days we're fortunate to come up with such reinforcements. Now we've got a pitching staff that includes three lefthanders. And we've a capable centrefielder as insurance against the day when Lee Handley goes up to the Giants and Al Rubeling returns to his spot at third base."

Ananicz, a Brooklyn husky who has been in pro ball since 1939, is expected in Toronto today or tomorrow. He is a 200-pounder, stands six feet three. Newark had been using him largely in relief roles this season.

Joe Sullivan, a popular campaigner in Toronto regalia on several occasions, won six games, lost 14 with the Leafs last year. Eight of the setbacks were tough 1-0 and 2-0 shutouts. Last winter Leafs sold Joe to a Southern League club, but he refused to report. Instead, he remained at his Bremerton, Washington, home. He had been pitching in a Pudget Sound shipbuilding league until recently. He settled his differences with President Campbell a few days ago and immediately caught a train east.

Gamble Known Here.

Bob Lee Gamble is no stranger in these parts. He was formerly with Syracuse and also finished out a season with the Leafs when Ike Boone was the local skipper.

Generals Win By 25-10 Score

Johnson Motors are still gunning for their first win in the Girls' Softball loop, in spite of determined efforts by the Outboards to bring into the win column. They were beaten in a league fixture last night by the Generals 25 to 10.

The Outboards opened out in good style in the first innings, coming back with four runs after the Generals had scored three in their half.

However the girls from the C.G.E. pushed three counters across in the second frame and staged a nine-run uprising in the third that put them miles out in front.

Johnson Motor girls closed the gap a little with a five-run splash in the sixth.

Patricia Wilson pitched the entire game for the winners and was effective. Lillian Fowler was the gunner for the Motors.

Pearse-Milburn Wedding Pretty Ceremony At Knox

Knox United Church, beautiful with summer flowers, was the scene today of a pretty wedding when Ruby Veara Deane Milburn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Milburn, 274 Sherbrooke street, became the bride of Eric Cyril Pearse, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. O. Pearse, 435 Rogers street. Rev. H. J. Mahoney conducted the ceremony and Mrs Lloyd Wood of Lindsay played the wedding music, and Miss Evelyn James sang "Where E'er You Walk," before the ceremony and "Until" during the signing of the register.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was lovely in a floor-length gown of ivory-tone faconne crepe with a long torso bodice outlined in ruching which formed a swirl in front. It had deep V-neck, and bracelet length sleeves, and the full skirt was softly gathered. Her long veil of ivory-tone bridal illusion was held in place with a halo of shirred net embroidered with seed-pearls. She carried a cascade bouquet of bettertime roses.

Miss Elois Milburn attended her sister as maid of honor, wearing a long gown of blue embroidered Swiss sheer fashioned with a full skirt shirred at the waist, long full sleeves and a high neckline. She wore a crown of pale blue flowers and carried an arm bouquet of talisman roses. Miss Anna McKenzie and Miss Lila Smith were bridesmaids, the former wearing pale pink marquisette fashioned with a long full skirt, short puffed sleeves and a sweetheart neckline, the latter in pale blue sheer with a full skirt, long full sleeves and a square neckline. Both bridesmaids wore matching heart-shaped hats and carried army bouquets of tea roses.

Mr Charles Pearse was his brother's best man and the ushers were Mr. Harry Jewell of Lakefield and Mr. Barney Heslipp.

After a reception at the Empress Hotel, the happy couple left on a trip to New York, the bride wearing a chocolate brown sharkskin suit trimmed with white eyelet embroidery, white straw hat, white accessories, and a bracelet set with amethyst, the gift of the groom.

Mrs. B. W. Manning was hostess on Tuesday afternoon at her cottage on Chemong Lake to the members of the local W.C.T.U. who held a picnic there.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Whiteside of Bethany have announced the engagement of their youngest daughter, Leone Edaline, to Stephen Leonard, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Wilson. The wedding is to take place early in July.

Out-of-town guests at the Pearse-Milburn wedding which takes place today are Mr. and Mrs. G. Seabrooke of Ridgeway; Mr. and Mrs. Roger Reynolds of St. Catharines; Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Lawson of Toronto; Mr. and Mrs. Fred Wilson of Barrie; Mrs. T. Hearne of Sarnia; Mrs. Lloyd Wood of Lindsay; Mrs. H. Jewell and Mrs. O. E. Kingdon of Lakefield; Mr. and Mrs. S. Wakely of Port Hope; Bandsman Vic Smith of Trenton, and Gnr. Bob Milburn of Lansdowne Park, Ottawa.

Burns—Kimble

Sacred Heart church was the scene of the wedding, at nine o'clock Tuesday morning, of Alice Hazel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. Kimble, to Joseph, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. Burns, Lindsay.

The bride wore a street length frock of pink sheer and lace, with white accessories and a corsage of Dream roses and forget-me-nots. Miss Ermine Gurney, bridesmaid, wore a frock of rose sheer and lace with beige accessories and a corsage of Talisman roses and baby's breath. Mr. Victor Burns attended his brother.

Following the ceremony, the wedding breakfast was served at the Silver Moon, after which the couple left for a trip to Toronto and points west. For travelling the bride wore a dressmaker suit of powder blue wool with white accessories. On their return they will live in Lindsay.

Ferguson—Tarr

MILLBROOK, July 1.—(ENS).—A pretty early summer wedding of local interest, took place in the chapel of Moulton College, Toronto, on Saturday afternoon, when Eleanor Charlotte Tarr, daughter of Mrs. Tarr, and the late Stambury Ryrie Tarr, of Winnipeg, became the bride of Ian Galt Ferguson, M.A., elder son of Mrs. Ferguson, and the late Alexander Galt Ferguson, of Galt, and nephew of Mrs. Elinor Gabriel, principal of the Continuation school, Millbrook.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. W. A. Cameron, assisted by Rev. Dr. N. S. McKechnie, uncle of the bride, in the presence of about sixty guests. Given in marriage by her uncle, Dr. E. J. Tarr, K.C., of Winnipeg, the bride looked lovely wearing her mother's wedding dress of ivory crepe over taffeta, with lace yoke, and long lace sleeves; her veil of embroidered silk illusion was held in place by a coronet of the lace and she carried a cascade of swansonia, sweet peas and forget-me-notes.

Attending the bride was the groom's sister, Miss Mary Ferguson, who wore aquamarine crepe, with matching headdress trimmed in pansy shade, and carried a Colonial bouquet of pansies. Mr. Howard Stenson, of Norwich, was the groomsman, and the ushers were Messrs. Clarke Ferguson and Rae Stewart, of Kingston. A reception followed the ceremony, and upon their return from their wedding trip, Mr. and Mrs. Ferguson will reside in Owen Sound, where the groom has taken a position as principal of the High school.

Friends Entertain For Ruby Milburn

Miss Ruby Milburn, whose wedding took place today, was entertained several times by her friends, prior to her marriage: Miss Anne McKenzie and Mrs. D. Miller were joint hostesses at a shower and presentation at the latter's home, at which the bride-elect received a beautiful occasional chair; a shower of Pyrex and Flameware by the Porcelain and Plastics department of the C.G.E. was held at the Y.W.C.A.; she was presented with a hassock at a farewell party held at the home of Mrs. Fleetwood. The bride was the recipient of several pieces of fine china at a luncheon held by Mrs. Lloyd Wood at her home, 70 Bond street, Lindsay; Mrs. W. Morgan and Mrs. C. Ferguson were joint hostesses at a kitchen shower at the former's home on Rogers street; on severing her connection with the Canadian General Electric Company the bride-to-be was presented with a tri-lite lamp and two charming pictures; The Frances Watt Mission Circle presented her with a beautiful etching.

Parkhill Baby Band

The Parkhill Baby Band held a picnic on Wednesday afternoon which, due to the inclement and chilly weather, took place in Dixon House. A large number of members and their families attended and a very good time was had by everyone. The program featured races and games for the children, and a delicious supper was served.

DOROTHY DIX

HUSBAND MUST READ RIOT ACT WHEN WIFE, MOTHER JEALOUS

Man Between Battling Women Most Helpless Pathetic Creature Anywhere In World

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: I have been married a little over a year and my mother and wife have come to the point where they hate each other. They have had many arguments and called each other many names, liar among them, and now it has gotten so that my wife won't go to my mother's house although it is only three blocks from ours.

I am the unfortunate victim who is torn to pieces between them for my wife insists that I tell my mother off, and my mother blames me for the situation because I can't control my wife and make her do the way she wants her to do. Believe me it's a tough spot to be in the middle between two women you love and want to do your duty by when they are at each other's throats all the time. I have tried and tried to bring the two together, but I can't keep it up much longer.

My mother's blood pressure rises every time she talks to me about my wife, and the result is only one argument after another. And it is the same story with my wife. Sometimes I think they will actually drive me crazy. What can I do? —G. L.

Husband Must Take Firm Stand

ANSWER: I doubt if there is any more helpless and pathetic creature in the world than the man whose wife and mother stage a perpetual fight over him. For there is no move he can make that will not hurt one or the other and inflame their fierce and relentless jealousy still further.

How a mother who loves her son, how a wife who has one particle of affection for her husband can be willing to torture the man they both profess to love in order to gratify their selfish desires to dominate him, simply passes all comprehension. But it happens in hundreds of thousands of homes and is responsible for just as much misery and heartbreak as anything else in the world.

The mother cannot make up her mind to let her son go when he marries. She still wants to keep her clutches on him, to be the first in his heart and his thoughts to be the one he goes to with his confidences, to be the one he prefers above all others. And in order to do this she is willing to estrange him from his wife, to break up his home, to ruin his life.

If she hated him and was his direst enemy, she could do him no greater wrong. If she was a fiend incarnate, she could inflict no crueler punishment upon him. And yet, ironically enough, she is often a good woman, kind to others and she really loves her son. Only she loves herself better. And it is only her selfish mania for monopolizing him that makes her blind to what she is and what she is doing.

The wife also thinks she loves her husband, but, like the mother she wants to monopolize the man she loves, and she is so fearful that he will love his mother better than he does her that she is jealous of his affection for her and afraid of her influence over him, and so she also resorts to the tactics of a fiend to separate them, unmindful of the sufferings she brings upon the one she professes to adore.

How any man can deal with such a situation, I do not know, unless he reads the riot act to them and tells them that unless they keep the peace and behave like decent human beings he is going to leave them both. I have known one case in which a man did that, and when he convinced his mother and his wife that he was done with two such viragoes, and that he was leaving them both unless they behaved themselves he brought them to their senses and they lived together in peace the balance of their lives. Suppose you try the plan. But you have to put on a convincing act to make it work.

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: I have been married for almost fourteen years and have one child. We have been very happy until a few months ago when my husband hired a girl to do his office work once a week on Saturday afternoons. He calls for her at the office where she is working and takes her out for lunch then takes her home. I think the girl should come to the office by herself and get her own lunch.

My husband thinks he is doing only what every gentleman would do. He bought her jewels for Christmas. Was this the proper thing to do? I think he should have given her some money. Am I wrong? What about gossip? WORRIED WIFE

Sophisticated Boss Doesn't Entertain Secretary

ANSWER: Your husband may be acting like a gentleman in taking his office assistant out to lunch every Saturday, but if he is, it is a mighty sappy gentleman. A sophisticated man would know better. He would realize that it is no part of an employer's duty to feed his help and that the girl would be bound to put her own interpretation upon the cozy little lunches. Also, such a situation is bound to give rise to gossip and turn any ordinary wife green-eyed with jealousy.

I should certainly advise any married man who had made such a bad start in his relationship with his secretary to right about face. The best and least embarrassing way would be to fire the girl and hire a new secretary and begin with her on a purely business platform in which she would be paid for her work with no entertaining and joy-rides thrown in. The more formal the relationship that exists between an employer and his girl employees, the better.

DEAR MISS DIX: I am 16 years old and now completing the seventh grade at school. My parents want me to go to high school, but I fear I am a little too old. Do you think that I should continue going to school, or quit and go to work? How many grades does a person need to become a stenographer, or a teacher, or a secretary? SCHOOL GIRL

ANSWER: By all means finish high school, at least. If you apply for an job, even a menial one, the first question that will be asked you is how much formal education you have had, and if you have not graduated from high school, you will have to take a poor job with little pay.

In order to become a stenographer, or a secretary it is absolutely necessary that you have a good education. To become a teacher you will have to have a college education. Evidently you have not been a very good student heretofore, so now that you realize the importance of an education, perhaps you will have more interest in your books.

Jean Hanrahan Marries James Huggins

The marriage of Jean Catherine Hanrahan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Hanrahan, to James Clarence Huggins, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Huggins, was solemnized by Rev. Father Walsh on Wednesday morning at the Church of the Immaculate Conception, which was decorated with mixed summer flowers for the occasion. Mrs. McDonald presided at the organ and Mrs. D. Campanaro sang during the ceremony.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a lovely gown of white embossed marquisette with a sweetheart neckline, long sleeves, and a long full skirt. Her veil of white net was caught high on her head with flowers and she carried a bouquet of red roses. She was attended by her sister, Miss Dorothy Hanrahan, who wore a gown of pink organza, fashioned with a long torso, a full skirt, and a sweetheart neckline. She wore a matching hat and carried a nosegay of Sweet William centred with Pink Snap-dragon.

Mr. Jack Barnes was best man and the ushers were Mr. Don O'Connell and Mr. Joseph Collins.

After the ceremony a reception was held at Hooper's Palm Rooms, where Mrs. Hanrahan, mother of the bride, received in a blue frock with matching hat. She was assisted by Mrs. Huggins, mother of the groom who wore a green figured dress and white hat. Both wore corsages of rose-buds.

For going away, the bride donned a blue gabardine dress trimmed with pink embroidery, a wide-brimmed hat and beige and brown accessories.

How Many Birthday Parties Can One Mother Survive?

By MARY MOORE

By ten o'clock last Saturday night I thought I deserved a gold medal. Hundreds of mothers will know exactly why when I tell them about Peter's birthday picnic.

Eight boys in his class had been invited for months and when they were added to his cousins and immediate family the party amountted to twenty people.

From previous experience I knew I couldn't hope to pen up 12 boys in one house so our party was a picnic complete with races, prizes, weiners, ice cream and stomach aches.

Since I had to rehearse almost every race with them my muscles are still aching. (I wish I hadn't thought of those running backward and somersault races — by the time I'm raising grandchildren I hope I'll learn!)

But it's the menu I'm here to tell you about and how I kept five lbs., weiners warm without a fire at the picnic spot.

Peter's Birthday Picnic Menu

Hot Dogs and Mustard
Cold Green Peas and Lettuce and Radishes and Carrots
Fresh Strawberry Pie
Iced Tea (for adults)
Chocolate Milk (for children)

Our gallon thermos jug would not hold the five pounds of weiners so I boiled them ten minutes, poured off the water, put cover back on pot and wrapped pot in gray flannelette sheet and about 20 sheets of newspapers—and on the outside one heavy brown paper. The weiners were very hot 1½ hours later. We buttered only one side of the rolls of course.

The canned peas that I mentioned may not seem like much of an idea to you. But the children thought they were a rare treat. I put them in at the last moment because they were in the refrigerator and chilled in readiness for a jellied salad I was planning on making. You all have seen grocer's shelves well stocked with peas—so I've been trying every known method of serving them—they are very good protein food you know—a good point to remember while meat is rationed.

Each paper plate contained one hot dog, one well cupped lettuce leaf filled with drained cold peas, radishes and a whole carrot. One serving like this wasn't enough—one little lad ate four hot dogs, besides all the other trimmings, and most of them ate three.

The cold green peas are well-known to you in potato and other salads, but what I am trying to stress is serving them alone — if you stand a can in the refrigerator in the morning it is chilled through for the evening meal. Our youngsters like drinking the cold liquid.

Emem's Fresh Strawberry Pie

This is an oldtime favorite but has not been printed on this page for some time.

For perfection you should use puff paste, but in these days of rationed butter, make your best possible plain pastry and line the outside of a large pie plate with it and bake in very hot oven.

Wash, drain very well, and cap about 1 quart of berries— enough to fill your pie crust rounding full. Select about 1 cup crushed less perfect berries, and bring slowly to boiling point, then stir into then ½ cup sugar mixed with 3 tablespoons arrowroot and stir until thick, then cook over boiling water for 20 minutes. Sprinkle berries in pie with about three tablespoons berry sugar and strain very hot strawberry sauce over them, attempting to cover all the top strawberries. This cooks the berries just a little and some of the sweetness penetrates them. If you buy Jersey milk you can always salvage enough cream from the top to whip it and serve on this pie. If not and you can buy ice cream it is good with it to — but best of all is Devonshire Cream, which you can make yourself you know.

Perfect Iced Tea

Method 1. Make hot fresh tea, using 2 teaspoons of black or English breakfast tea to 1 cup boiling water. Fill tall glasses full of cracked ice. Over the ice sprinkle 1 teaspoon berry sugar, and 1 teaspoon lemon juice. As soon as tea has brewed 3 or 4 minutes pour it directly and boiling hot over the ice in the glasses. Glasses will not break. Garnish with slice of lemon and sprig of mint.

Method 2, Wartime: Make tea a little stronger than usual — about one pint and pour it off the leaves and let it cool. In a large quart pitcher put 2 ice cubes for each person to be served. When tea is cool pour it over the ice, add juice of 2 lemons and 2 tablespoons berry sugar and a few sprigs of mint and return to refrigerator to keep cold until serving time.

The last recipe for today's meeting is what I shook up for the boys before returning them home to their mother washed.

Chocolate Milk Shake

Two squares chocolate, ¼ cup sugar, 1 cup boiling water, 3 cups rich milk. Melt the chocolate in top of double boiler over hot water. Add the sugar and boiling water gradually. Stir until smooth then place over the direct heat and boil for 1 minute. Add milk and beat thoroughly to blend. Cool and shake well. These amounts will serve six.

QUESTION: At one time my family did not care for vegetables, so I found out the following way—besides I used to buy expensive beef, steak, but now this is what I find they like and ask for more: 1 coupon stewing beef, 1 can vegetable soup.

The beef is cut into small pieces, put into covered casserole with a little water and cooked until almost tender, then I pour a can of vegetable soup over the meat and finish cooking. This is very nourishing and tasty. A crust could be put over for a change or a layer of potatoes, but we like it without either.—M. M., a Reader of Your Page.

ANSWER: Thank you for this suggestion. I imagine there are other cooks who have to break down prejudices against vegetables that will try it. I feel that people who do not like vegetables miss so much eating-fun. Does your family eat plenty of salads? If so the cooked vegetables they miss are not so important. We would like to hear from you again if you have other good ideas.

QUESTION: Could you please send me a recipe for Apple and Strawberry Jam, Apple and Raspberry Jam, and for making pickles with saccharin tablets. Thanks for everything.—Ruby K.

ANSWER:

Strawberry and Apple Jam.

Wash strawberries, drain and remove tops. There should be 4 lbs. Wash and core choice red apples (skins may be left on if desired) and cut into ½-inch cubes. There should be 2 lbs. prepared apples. To the strawberries add 2½ lbs. sugar and let stand while the apples are cooking. To the apples add 1½ lbs. sugar, and heat slowly stirring, until the sugar is dissolved. Then bring to boil as quickly as possible and cook 5 minutes stirring constantly. Add the strawberries with their sugar and stir while boiling, for 15 minutes or until the jam is somewhat thick. Pour into sterilized jam jars and seat an once with coating of hot paraffin, adding a second coating when jam is cold.

Apple and Raspberry Jam

Make same as apple and strawbery jam, but reduce the amount of sugar on the berries to 2 lbs.

Saccharin Pickles

One gallon vinegar, 1 cup salt, 1 cup sugar, 1 cup mustard, 25 ½-grain saccharin tablets. If all ingredients are in perfect condition this solution may be heated without the saccharin tablets and poured over the perfectly clean and dry cucumbers (these amounts will cover from 6 to 8 quarts cucumbers depending on their size) just after stirring in the saccharine tablets enough to make them dissolve. But the cucumber skin is not toughened if they are just brought to boiling point when the skin will change color, and immediately drained and dried and solution poured over. Cover with weighted down plate to keep pickles submerged and keep in cool place in crock.

QUESTION: Could you send me instructions as to how to make rhubarb juice. I noticed rhubarb juice mentioned in the paper some time ago on the menu list.

Rhubarb Juice

Eight lbs. young rhubarb, 3 fruit-keep tablets (sulphur preservative to be bought in grocery or drug stores), water. Wash rhubarb well but do not peel it. Cut into 3-inch lengths and put through coarse knife of food chopper. Measure the ground rhubarb and juice. Put in enamel or earthenware vessel and add an equal quantity of cold water and let stand, covered, for 1 hour.

Strain through jelly bag, or through strainer lined with cheese cloth for 2 hours or overnight. Measure juice. For every 2 quarts of juice you will need 1 fruit-keep tablet. Dissolve the tablets or tablets in 2 tablespoons water and add to the fruit juice, stirring. The color in the rhubarb will disappear. Pour juice into very clean jars that have been rinsed in boiling water. Cover with rubbers and glasses that have been dipped in melted paraffin and screw on tightly with metal rings.

When ready to use rhubarb juice measure required amount and heat to boiling point. Color will come back into juice. To every 3 measuring cups juice add only ¼ cup sugar. Stir until sugar is dissolved and chill. Color may be enhanced by addition of red coloring, but if juice boiled covered for 15 minutes it will retain its own color.

Price Control Ration News

The Women's Regional Advisory Committee, Consumer Branch, Central Ontario, Wartime Prices and Trade Board, answers questions put to this paper regarding price control and ration regulations.

Q. In our community the canning sugar allowance is supposed to be 10 lbs. per person. We have four adults for only 30 lbs. Is this right?

A. It looks as though an error may have been made in your case. your local ration board office You should report particulars to promptly. If a mistake has been made, they will be glad to make it right with you.

Peterborough question:

Q. How is it possible to compete with higher food prices and not raise prices in cafes and boarding houses?

A. Restaurants are allowed to charge 5c extra for a beverage with a table d'hote meal when the beverage is furnished at the customer's request....Before making this extra charge the restaurant operator must first submit his menu to the Board's regional office...... This allowance was granted by the Board to help compensate for higher costs of operating restaurants with labor conditions and higher prices of foods not under the price ceiling....This allowance does not apply to boarding houses.

Q. Does every butcher have to have a beef price chart hanging in his store so that the customer may see what is the ceiling price on each cut of meat?

A. No, not all. Under Prices Board regulations it is against the law for any butcher not to display the official beef prices chart in the following Ontário areas: Toronto, Hamilton, St. Catharines, Welland, Niagara Falls, Brantford, London, Essex, Kent, Lambton.... Several butchers have already paid fines in the cours for not doingso....If you know of any meat markets within the above areas where the beef price chart is not displayed, please report particulars at once to your nearest Board office or to us. It will be iovestigated promptly.

Q. I sent in my application for be investigated promptly. have not received my card.

A. You should write the office of your local ration board, giving the serial number of your book and the serial numbers of the other books in your household.

Please send your questions or your request for a Price Ceiling Record Book (the book in which you keep track of your ceiling prices) mentioning the name of this newspaper to:

This Week's Best Wartime Recipe

Contributed By Mary Moore Readers

Dear Mary Moore: I went in a restaurant while I was downtown yesterday and there were soy beans on the menu and I had some and I think they were excellent. My daughter knows the dietitian at this place so I asked her to tell us the name of the strain of soy beans they bought—I thought I didn't have to ask how to cook them, for she might not have wanted to tell. But she merely said to ask for the new strain developed for eating and I went to a large grocery store and got some. Here is how I fixed them.

Boiled Buttered Soy Beans

(Contributed by Dorothy Crews)

Pick over beans and soak when washed, in water for 10 hours. Drain. Cover generously with fresh water, add small amount of salt and boil covered until tender—about 2 or 3 hours. When done drain off excess water but save it for soup, and put a little bacon fat or butter if you can spare it on them and some salt and pepper. We like them so much I have been serving them every other day during the shortage of potatoes.

Thank you, Dorothy C.—I am glad you brought the subject of soy beans up—watch for other soy bean recipes in the near future. They may be used just as you would use white or lima beans and are particularly good in chili con carne.

BABY'S TEETHING UPSETS QUICKLY CHECKED

YOUR BABY must "get a tooth." But he need not get a fever with it—if baby's mother is wise he won't.

Here is what one wise mother, Mrs. Archie Begbie, of Consecon, has to say: "We have not lost one night's rest through teething as I always use my old standby, Baby's Own Tablets. They are worth their weight in gold."

And Mrs. B. A. Sebine, of Galt, Ont., says: "I have given Baby's Own Tablets to my baby girl since she was three weeks old and, although she cut her teeth rapidly (all four molars at once) she has never yet wakened us at night. I would not be without these tablets."

Give these prompt-acting, sweet-tasting tablets at the first sign of teething fever. Easily crushed to a powder, if desired. Analyst's certificate in every package.

Also effective in Constipation, Simple Fever, Diarrhoea, Upset Stomach, Colic, Simple Croup and Fretfulness. Get a box today. Sickness so often strikes in the night. 25 cents. Money back if you are not satisfied.

The Experts Say . . . .

By The Canadian Press

OTTAWA, June 25 — (CP). — Hints from the experts to ease the summertime housekeeping chores of busy housewives:

THESE ARE UNRATIONED — Unexpected ration stretchers are provided in meat sandwiches and meat pies. Career girls, bustling home to get their own dinners, can still get two or three ham sandwiches without surrendering any meat ration coupons....The ration administration of the Prices Board has exempted meat pies, another "quickie," from the list of rationed meats.

BUDGET BENEFITS— A change in the basis of subsidy on imported fruits will save consumers from two to seven cents on the cost of oranges, depending on whether the housewives prefer the small juice or the larger eating orange....The increase in subsidy has been granted by the Prices Stability Corporation to cover an increase in the price of oranges in California.

GARDENING GOODIES—People growing their own vegetables this year will know the joy of having them really garden-fresh, and Laura Pepper, chief of the Agriculture Department's consumer section, points out that vegetables taste much better and retain more of their vitamins when the journey from garden to table is accomplished in an hour or so....When salad vegetables are brought in from the garden or market, they should be washed immediately, put into the crisper for an hour or two, and then on to the table as soon as possible. Consumers are advised to take advantage of locally-grown fruits and vegetables this summer.

HOT WEATHER TIP — Warm weather tempts us all to skip a meal here and there. When it's really "too hot to eat" it is important to get as many of the essential nutrients as possible in what you do eat....Marion Harlow, of Nutrition Services, suggests that there is no better way of getting maximum nourishment and still keeping cool than by using milk. "Make mine milk" is good advice for the "dog days" or any other days. When the mercury soars milk served very cold in a misted glass, a well-chilled egg-nogg or a frosty milk shake are always welcome.

SAVING THE ONIONS — Other pobs sometimes are found for salvage collected by volunteer committees in various parts of Canada before it is turned over to make war weapons. Recently, 25 tons of wire fence, light metal and tin cans collected by the Blenheim, Ont., committee, were used to save an onion crop near Erieau, Ont...... Lake Erie became so high and so rough that if the salvage material had not been used to support the marsh dyke, it is likely that a valuable crop of onions would have been flooded.

STAY AT HOME — The Munitions Department suggests that this years holidayers should spend their vacations at home, or as near to home as they can. The co-operation of every Canadian is needed to enable Canada's transportation facilities to meet the heavy volume of traffic this year, and the armed forces and vital war equipment must have priority rating....Vacation leaves should begin and end at mid-week periods to reduce travel congestion, the Department says. Holidays should, if possible, begin and end on Tuesdays, Wednesdays and Thursdays to alleviate the pressure of week-end travel, and it is even more patriotic to spend your holidays at home.

THE STARS SAY . . . .

By GENEVIEVE KEMBLE

For Friday, July 2

Being prepared for some sudden and quite unpredictable situation, and ready to grasp it with direct energy and courage as well as with skill should result in promotion, preferment or other high honor or favor. This may react upon the love life as well as on domestic and social or romantic adventures.

If It Is Your Birthday

Those whose birthday it is are on the threshold of a year of unlooked for opportunity for advancement or promotion in position, with preferment and favors from those in high places as well as from public, community or group sources. This propitious time should be grasped with clever and energetic attack, but within the bounds of logic and reason. Enhanced popularity and prestige should have happy reactions on the private affiliations, probably in sudden engagements or marriage, or sentimental, social or domestic celebrations of public importance.

A child born on this day should be richly endowed with forces and faculties as well as with exceptional opportunities to forge to the front in its career. It may enjoy a happy and romantic life.

Danger Is Past

LONDON, July 1—(CP). —Great Britain is removing many of her emergency defences, such as anti-tank ditches, barbed wire barriers and road obstructions, which were hastily thrown up when invasion seemed imminent in 1940.

Lord Croft, Undersecretary for War, told the House of Lords yesterday that Sir Bernard Paget, commander-in-chief of the home forces, had directed all commands to remove all obstructions which could be dispensed with "in view of the altered military situation."

IN MEMORIAM

HATLEY — In loving memory of our dear mother, Mrs. T. Hatley, who passed away one year ago to-day, July 1st.

Deep in our hearts you are fondly remembered,
Sweet happy memories cling round your name,
True hearts that loved you with deepest affection,
Always will love you in death
just the same.

— Ever remembered by Family, Alice and Jack, Audrey and Tom.

PAYNE—In loving memory of our dear parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ross Payne, who passed away three years ago July 1.

When all is still and silent,
And sleep forsakes our eyes,
Our thoughts are in the silent
graves,
Where our dear parents lie.
Our lips cannot tell how we miss them,
Our hearts cannot tell what to say,
God only knows how we miss them,
In a home that is lonesome
today.

—Ever remembered by Sons and Daughters.

FORD — In loving memory of a husband and father, Wesley Charles Ford, who passed away July 1, 1942.

He is gone but not forgotten,
And, as dawns another year,
In our lonely hours of thinking,
Thoughts of him are always near.
Days of sadness will come o'er us,
Friends may think the wound is healed,
But they little know the sorrow
That lies within the heart concealed.

— Ever remembered by his loving wife and two daughters, Mrs. V. Raymant and Mrs. W. Robinson and two sons—Leonard and Douglas.

HATLEY — In loving memory of our dear mother, Mrs. T. Hatley who passed away one year ago today, July 1st.

Hows we miss you mother darling
And we know you are free from pain,
In God's care you are keeping,
Till we all meet again.

— Ever remembered by Daughters, Lillian and Florence of Lakefield.

Joe Wants New Job

FORT CUSTER, Mich. (AP) — Sgt. Joe Louis, heavyweight boxing champion of the world and now in the U. S. army, wants to be with the police. Declaring that he could make use of his boxing experience as an instructor for the M. P.'s, he has asked for a transfer to the police training unit here from the Fort Riley, Kas., cavalry station.

Use Ball Bats

COLUMBUS, O. (AP) — Baseball and the U. S. Army Air Corps have virtually swapped headgear, according to Lieut. Charles F. Joe of the Lockburne traning base for Flying Fortress Crews. Diamond batsmen dapted the new army helmet for protection against bean balls and say the air officer, members of the bomber crews borrow anything that looks like the peaked baseball cap.

Potato Bug Epidemic

STRATHROY, Ont., July 1 — (CP)— Farmers in Caradoc and Adelaide Townships are facing the worst infestation of potato bugs in years, it was learned to-day. Millions of bugs are attacking the plants. The crop is large but the bugs present a serious problem.

Carp Tops List

ERIEAU, Ont., July 1.—(CP). — The fishing season in this area opened briskly but carp proved to be the most plentiful. More than 300 large size fish of this species have been taken in one day, it is reported. The carp are so numerous that they frequently swim close to the docks, so close they could be hit with a paddle.

Words Written and Loved and Read by All

IMMORTAL WORDS

In Flanders Fields the poppies blow
Between the crosses, row on row,
That mark our place; and in the sky
The larks still bravely singing, fly
Scarce heard amid the guns below."

Words immemorial written by Lieutenant Colonel John D. McCrae for those brave ones who died fighting for their souls and countries in the last world war. The words are timeless for they can refer also to our men in the battlefields today.

If you enjoy reading poems that are well known through the ages, do not hesitate.

Our 32-page booklet is full of poems that have reached the hearts of millions in all parts of the English-speaking world—also by translations in foreign countries.

They have been read and loved because they speak in simple language of the things which move us most deeply: love of one's fellows and one's country; religion, nature, childhood, and family affection.

If you're looking for courage and hope to bolster you in these war days read these poems and be enlightened.

For your copy of "WORLD'S BEST LOVED POEMS" send 15 cents in coins or stamps to the Peterborough Examiner Home Service. Be sure to write plainly your name, address and the name of booklet.

BARCLAY ON BRIDGE

WRITTEN FOR THE EXAMINER

By SHEPARD BARCLAY

"The Authority on Authorities"

FIND A DIFFERENT WAY

PLAYING IN a big duplicate game including a number of rather evenly-matched pairs, you need a goodly share of top scores usually to gain a prize. In your bidding and play, it will help you to figure out frequently what you expect will be done at other tables and try to see if you can't find something different which is equally sound. This should not be misinterpreted to steer you into unsound moves, but only into those just as logical ones which you do not believe your competition will probably make.

North: ♠ Q 6 ♥ Q J 6 5 3 2 ♦ J 7 2 ♣ A 10
West: ♠ A 7 3 2 ♥ K 9 8 7 ♦ A 6 ♣ K 7 6
East: ♠ K J 10 5 4 ♥ A ♦ 10 9 4 ♣ Q J 3 2
South: ♠ 9 8 ♥ 10 4 ♦ K Q 8 5 3 ♣ 9 8 5 4

(Dealer: North. Both sides vulnerable.)

North	East	South	West
Pass	Pass	Pass	1 ♠
Pass	3 ♠	Pass	4 ♠

As several tables of a big duplicate, the opening lead against this contract was the heart Q to the A. In all but one case, the declarer then sent the spade J to the A, the 2 back to the K, and then led the club 2 to the K and A. North fired back the diamond 2 to the A. In an effort to make six-odd, the declarer then led to the dummy's club Q and J. If the outstanding ones had been divided, the club 3 would have furnished a discard of the diamond 6, and so prevented any more losers. But it did not, so he lost a diamond and so scored a total of five-odd.

In the remaining case, West saw that most players would, by habit, play the clubs by leading first toward the K. So he led the other way deliberately. Hence North had to use his A without killing an honor. That made the fourth round of clubs high in the dummy, the J making possible a discard of the diamond 6. Consequently that declarer lost only one trick, to the club A, and was "high on the board."

Tomorrow's Problem

North: ♠ A K 6 ♥ Q 10 6 3 ♦ J 9 2 ♣ 5 3 2
West: ♠ J 8 4 2 ♥ 7 5 ♦ 10 8 3 ♣ K J 7 6
East: ♠ Q 10 7 5 ♥ 9 ♦ A K Q 6 4 ♣ 10 9 4
South: ♠ 9 3 ♥ A K J 8 4 2 ♦ 7 5 ♣ A Q 8

(Dealer: East. East-West vulnerable.)

After East had bid diamonds and South got into 4-Hearts on this deal, what is perfect defense against perfect play b South?

WARSAW

Young People's Choir Visit Stoney Lake

WARSAW, July 1 — (ENS). — The newly arranged Young People's choir of Zion Church were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Darling at their cottage at McCracken's Landing, Stoney Lake, on Wednesday evening. Ball games, horseshoe pitching, and contests were enjoyed and refreshments were served by the hostess.

The June meeting of United Church Women's Association was held in the church basement on Thursday afternoon. Fifteen women were present. The treasurer reported a balance of $94.97 on hand and the flower treasurer reported $5.01. It was decided to withdraw the July meeting as has been the custom for some years. Miss Clara McCracken offered to look after the flowers for the church for the month of July. The executive was named a committee to purchase materials and see that birthday cake was made in readiness for the anniversary. The 15th Psalm was read by Mrs. Arthur Payne and the lesson thoughts and prayer by Mrs. Weller.

Hostesses for the day were Mrs. Stuart Clysdale, Mrs. William Darling, and Mrs. Gordon Quirk.

Personals.

Mr. and Mrs. Flynn, of Smith's Falls, have opened their cottage at McCracken's Landing for the summer.

Mr. and Mrs. Barnett, Mr. and Mrs. Keilly and Connie of Peterborough were recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Harding.

Mrs. Ivan Drain and son Vance, Kenneth Drain, and Mrs. J. H. Vance, Peterborough, were Friday evening guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ted Rose.

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Judge and son, Toronto, are spending two weeks' holidays with Mrs. Judge's mother, Mrs. David Tucker.

Pte. Lois Clysdale, R.C.A.F. (W. D.), Trenton, spent the week-end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Stuart Clysdale.

Miss Zetta Wilson, Keene, is a guest this week of Mr. and Mrs. Elwood Garbutt.

Pte. Allen Sharpe is spending his furlough with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Sharpe.

Suffered Nine Years From Gas Indigestion; "Nerves"

Had Gassy Pains, Bloating, Acid Stomach After Every Meal. Got Dizzy Spells; Back Hurt; Felt Tired, Run-down. Says Syntona Gave First Real Relief.

"I have suffered for the last nine years from a badly disordered stomach and tried almost everything I heard of, but I got no real relief until I began taking Syntona a few weeks ago," said Mrs. Lillian Price, 48 Mars Avenue, Hamilton, Ont., in a recent report.

"Even the lighest foods disagreed with me. I had so much gas that it would bloat my stomach and crowd up in my chest, making me feel short of breath. I would have bad attacks of heartburn, followed by belching up of hot, sour liquids. There was a dull, aching pain across my back and I often got light-headed, dizzy spells. Although I always felt tired, fatigued and rundown, I couldn't get sound sleep at night, because my nerves were all on edge.

"It was through a friend that I first heard about Syntona and she persuaded me to try it. From the very first bottle it seemed to help me, so I kept on taking it. Then my food stopped souring. I began to have a better appetite to enjoy my meals. The heartburn grew less and less and I got rid of the bloated, full, heavy feeling in my stomach. The dizzy spells haven't troubled me lately and the pain has left my back. Also, my nerves are relaxed, allowing me to get restful sleep at night. As a result I am refreshed when I get up mornings and feel so much better in every way that even my work seems easier.

"I am very happy to be able to say this about Syntona, and I recommend it to other people who suffer as I did."

MRS. LILLIAN PRICE

Syntona is made from the pure liquid extracts of 12 of nature's finest herbs and roots. It acts on the stomach, kidneys, liver and bowels—aids in the elimination of excess acids and poisonous waste matter from the system and promotes better assimilation of food for increased strength and energy.

Syntona is sold and recommended in Peterborough at Elliott's Drug Store.—(Advt.)

Cagliari Hit Overnight By Raiders

Palermo Reported Almost Finished By Recent Raids

By NOLAND NORGAARD
Associated Press Staff Writer.

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN NORTH AFRICA, July 2 — (AP). —Allied airmen shot down four German fighters and slashed again at Axis Mediterranean shipping yesterday in the wake of an R. A.F. fire-sitting attack upon barracks and railway facilities of Cagliari, Sardinio's major port, it was announced to-day.

(The Italian communique said that Palermo, the Sicilian capital, was attacked again last night, and that the royal palace was "among the numerous buildings damaged." Catania, Sicily, also was raided, it said.

(A D.N.B. dispatch broadcast from Berlin reported that United States airmen "carried out a bombing raid against a bathing resort situated near Athens yesterday in full daylight" and that 38 persons were killed and 60 injured. Allied communiques did not touch upon such an action.)

Blocks Channel.

R.A.F. planes of the Middle East Comamnd again bombed a medium-sized Axis transport which was found listing heavily to port and blocking Levkas Channel entrance as a result of previous direct hits and shot up an enemy schooner off the west coast of Greece yesterday, a Cairo communique announced.

Successful attacks on two enemy schooners by British coastal planes of the North-west African Command on Wednesday were officially announced here. One was an 800-ton, two-masted vessel. The other was not described. Both were said to have been left sinking.

Wellington bombers, which have pounded away night after night for many weeks at vital ports in Sicily, Sardinia and Southern Italy, concentrated upon troops quarters and the railway station of Cagliari Wednesday night.

Hit Target Squarely

Many bomb bursts were seen in the target area. One of the several fires observed was started by a two-

31,000 Casualties

LONDON, July 2—(AP).—The Moscow radio quoted the Soviet army organ Red Star today as saying that Russian guerillas had killed more than 31,000 Germans in the last five months. In the same period, said the broadcast, which was recorded by the Soviet radio Monitor, the guerillas have derailed 238 German trains and smashed 222 locomotives and 1,809 boxcars.

Labor Channels More Men Into War Plants

OTTAWA, July 2 —(CP) — After July 15, additional thousands of men from certain wholesale activities, specialized manufacturing lines and miscellaneous trades will become available for more essential work under a new compulsory employment transfer order announced last night by Labor Minister Mitchell.

The new order, the third of its kind, applies to men in age groups subject to call for compulsory military service and also to youths of 16, 17 and 18 who were brought under provisions of such measures in a recent announcement by the Labor Minister.

It applies to men in the designated age groups who work in the following lines of business:

1. Any wholesale activity except the wholesaling of the following commodities: farm products other than tobacco; food products; lumber and building materials; plumbing, heating and ventilating supplies; electrical equipment for industrial use; machinery and equipment; gasoline, oils, and greases; fuel and ice; farm supplies, metals, minerals and chemicals; paper and its products; books, newspapers, magazines and sheet music; watches clocks and timing instruments; leather and leather goods; scrap metal, junk and waste.
2. Raising of special livestock like race horses, and dogs, cats and other pets.
3. Flower-growing.
4. Horticultural services, except tree surgery.
5. Leather currying, finishing, embossing and japanning.
6. Brewing.
7. Manufacturing in any of the following lines: Fur goods, robes and dressing gowns, neckties and scarves, curtains and draperies, metal household furniture; household furniture of other kinds, except mattresses and bedspring; metal office furniture; rattan and willowware; cigar boxes and fancy boxes of wood; mirror and picture frames; perfumes, cosmetics and other toilet preparations; and hand bags and small leather goods.

Under the order, no employer

Reds Blast Ports On Kerch Strait

Taman Peninsula Offensive Appears Underway

LONDON, July 2—(CP)—Russian bombers, continuing their heavy attacks on the German bridgehead on the Taman Peninsula, blasted the town of Senaya last night and reached across Kerch Strait to hammer the port of Kerch on the eastern tip of the Crimea, the Soviet midday communique announced today.

A large number of high explosive and incendiary bombs were rained on shipping in Kerch harbor and on enemy supply dumps, said the bulletin, which was broadcast by the Moscow radio and recorded by the Soviet Monitor here.

All the raiders were said to have returned safely.

The raids coincide with German reports of increased Russian activity opposite their lines on the Taman peninsula, which some observers interpreted as an indication that the Red Army might be about to break the four-month lull on the Eastern front with a determined effort to drive the Nazis from their last foothold in the Caucasus.

Senaya Hit Hard

Senaya, one of the targets of the Russian airmen last night, is about 25 miles west of Temyruk, where the Germans have reported the Russians have been massing landing barges.

A Soviet spokesman said last night that the recent increase in aerial activity in this area "heralds big engagements on land for which both sides are preparing."

Aside from the aerial activity on the southern end of the long front, the midday communique mentioned only minor operations in scattered sectors.

On the Smolensk front west of Moscow, the bulletin said, Red Army scouts raided German trenches, inflicted casualties and returned to their lines.

On the Kalinin front, a company of enemy infantry was reported repulsed in an attack on Russian outposts, losing some 30 men. This apparently was in the same general area where the midnight communique reported the Russians had captured a height of strategic importance and held it against 23 counterattacks which cost the Germans 600 men.

Minor skirmishes and activity by Russian snipers was reported in the Belgorod sector northeast of Kharkov and in the Sevsk area.

The communique also announced that Russian guerillas operating in the Orel region had killed 200 of the enemy in a three-day engagement, captured considerable equipment and derailed a supply train, smashing 33 cars and a locomotive.

R.A.F. Rakes Burma

NEW DELHI, July 2.—(CP). — Akyab in Western Burma yester- R. A. F. bombers raided Japanese storehouses and encampments at day while fighters shot up shipping along the coast and ranged inland to attack highway, rail and river transport, a British communique announced to-day.

No planes were lost in the forays, the communique said.

Speed Solomons Invasion Rendova Conquest Complete

Substantial Gains Registered On 700-Mile Front

By MERLIN SPENCER,
Associated Press Staff Writer.

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, Australia, July 2 — (AP) —Artillery shelling of the big Japanese air base at Munda in the Central Solomons, destruction of 101 enemy planes and the consolidation everywhere along a 700-mile front of Allied gains under a canopy of bombers and fighters were announced to-day as successes in the as yet young Pacific offensive.

Never before in this war has this area witnessed such co-ordinated blows of power, speed and surprise struck by Allied navy, ground troops and airplanes under the command of Gen. Douglas MacArthur.

In the two sections of action, New Guinea and the Solomons, the most immediate progress was reported for the Eastern arm of the two-pronged drive.

Garrison Wiped Out.

To-day's communique disclosed that the United States Forces which landed Wednesday on Rendova Island has destroyed the small Japanese garrison there by midday and with in two hours after debarking from barges were firing shore batteries at the Munda air base five miles away.

Seizure of the only harbor in the New Georgia sector, Viru, 30 miles from Munda, also was announced. Hard fighting preceded capture.

The Japanese poured medium bombers, dive bombers, torpedo planes and fighters at the landing parties and at Allied shipping.

"Latest advices do not indicate the total number involved in the action but 101 enemy planes were destroyed in the air combat and by anti-aircraft fire," the communique said.

"Seventeen of our planes are missing."

(Previous announcement had been made by the navy at Washington that the counter-attacking Japanese planes totalled 101 of which 65 were listed at downed. This announcement likewise acknowledged loss of 17 Allied planes as well as the sinking

Fear Invasion

STOCKHOLM, July 2 (CP) —German troops in Norway are conducting extensive anti-invasion exercises and have issued detailed instructions to the Norwegians on what it must do in the event of invasion, reports reaching here from Oslo said.

Norwegians were warned to obey the instructions under penalty of death, the report said.

Warns Japanese Planning Siberian Attack

CHUNGKING, July 2 —(AP) — The Chinese newspaper Ta King Pao declared to-day the Japanese have been rushing troops to Manchuria and said "it is plain as day" the enemy" is preparing to attack Siberia."

Three army commanders have recently been transferred to that area from the Pacific, the newspaper added. It also coupled a special Japanese military conference, which it said was now in session in Korea, with the Manchuria preparations.

Ta King Pao joined in unanimous press rejoicing over the new United States drive in the southwest Pacific and Prime Minister Churchill's avowal of Britain's determination to make Japan "submit or bite the dust."

Lose 55,870 Men.

The Japanese lost a total of 55,870 men in heavy fighting along the Upper Yangtse river between May 4 and June 30, a Chinese army spokesman declared to-day.

At the same time he reported a fresh outbreak of action near Hangchow, Japanese occupied capital of Chekiang Province about 100

123 Jap Planes Total Bag Americans Lose 25

SOUTH PACIFIC HEADQUARTERS, July 2—(AP).—Admiral William F. Halsey's South Pacific headquarters announced today that 123 Japanese planes were shot down over the New Georgia Islands Wednesday and Thursday against American losses of 25 planes and 15 pilots.

A total of 101 enemy planes were knocked out of the sky Wednesday, the day U.S. forces landed in the Central Solomons, and 17 American planes were destroyed but seven of their pilots were saved.

The next day the Japanese lost an additional 22 aircraft. American losses in the continuing air battle were eight planes, the pilots of three of which landed safely.

On the first day of the invasion, the enemy divided his attacks between ship and land targets. Land positions only were raided yesterday.

Army, Navy and Marine pilots thus practically repeated their remarkable performance over Guadalcanal two weeks before when the score was 94 Japanese planes destroyed to six American lost.

The navy transport McCawley, which sank without loss of a single man after an aerial attack on the first day of the Rendova landings, was the only American ship lost in the operation, headquarters announced. The McCawley was known widely as the flagship of the original Guadalcanal invasion transport fleet last August.

Marines Take Harbor.

Headquarters also disclosed that the occupation of Marines of Viru harbor of the main island of New Georgia (announced previously by Gen. Douglas MacArthur) was achieved after the American forces had fought their way through a jungle against "medium" Japanese opposition.

Those Marines, headquarters said, were landed as an advance element several days before the main push.

The Americans on Rendova were reported today to be engaged in mopping up the remnants of Japanese resistance.

The invaders were said so far to have encountered nothing stronger than patrols in the way of ground opposition, and the enemy's efforts to counter the landings were limited largely to air attacks on the American troops and their invasion craft.

The entire American operation was described officially today as "successful and proceeding according to plan." "Our forces are well established," the announcement added.

15-Year-Old Soldier Fired Will Return To High School

YONKERS, N.Y., July 2—(AP).—At 15 Walter Moravsky is looking forward to entering High School next fall for the first time, and looking back on the year he spent cruising around the Pacific on a United States aircraft carrier, shooting down Japanese dive-bombers.

However, the excitement was too good to last, and yesterday Walter came home, sporting three campaign stripes, a shrapnel wound and an honorable discharge from the American Navy.

Before getting bounced, Walter saw plenty. He joined the Navy September 28, 1942 — when he was just one day short being 15—and after that he travelled "just about all over the Pacific Ocean."

He passed safely through a couple of battles, including Guadalcanal, where his ship was credited with downing two enemy dive-bombers, but was wounded recently when shrapnel from an exploding airplane shell hit him in the back.

And that brought about the end of his navy days. While in the ship's sick bay officers began to have their suspicions about him despite his six feet of brawn, and just before his carrier returned to the United States, the executive officer called Walter before him.

"Just exactly how old are you?" he asked. "Eighteen, sir," Walter replied.

"How old," the officer asked again, and received the same answer. Then he bellowed, "How old are you?" and Walter meekly replied, "15, sir."

His discharge papers were awaiting him when the ship docked.

Convoys Moving Berlin Claims

NEW YORK, July 2.—(AP).—The Berlin radio, quoting dispatches from La Linea, Spain, reported today that a convoy of 25 Allied transports had arrived yesterday at Gibraltar and continued on into the Mediterarnean after a short halt to make way for another convoy arriving from the Atlantic.

The broadcast also reported that another convoy consisting of eight transports heavily laden with war material had left Gibraltar yesterday.

Uses Ox Blood

RIO DE JANEIRO, July 2 —(AP).—Discovery of a method of using hydrolized ox blood in place of human blood in transfusions for human beings was reported yesterday to the Brazilian Academy of Medicine.

It said the method was developed as a result of research by Dr. Raimundo Moniz de Aragao in efforts to find a more abundant and less expensive supply of plasma for increasing wartime needs.

Veterans Ask For Post-War Prosperity Era

OTTAWA, July 2.—(CP).— The Canadian Legion said to-day in an extensive submission to the Commons committee on post-war reconstruction and re-establishment that Canada "can never survive, nor indeed will her people tolerate, another period of depression such as they experienced before the war.

The brief, prepared for presentation to-day by Alex Walker, Dominion president, said:

"The cause of depression, now commonly believed to be due largely to the ignorance, short-sighted selfishness and stupidity of human beings, must be ruthlessly destroyed or the men and women who have served both in our armed forces and our war industries, will seek to change our economic system, and we believe the vast majority of their fellow citizens will help them change it."

The Legion "on the whole" agreed that measures already taken by the government "should assist materially in re-establishing ex-service men in the immediate post-discharge period," but improvements and modifications would be undoubtedly necessary.

Recalling the "disillusionment" that followed demobilization after the First Great War, the brief called for the preparation now of "well co-ordinated' plans, worked out in detail by Federal, Provincial and municipal authorities, with the Federal Government supplying financial assistance to the provinces and municipalities.

Essentials Here.

"We do not subscribe to the view that freedom from want and freedom from fear cannot be realized until we establish world markets," the brief said. "It is our belief that this country can produce all the food it needs to maintain the health of its people, and the raw materials to provide them with shelter and fuel...."

Discussing living standards, the brief said that unless the minimum wage is linked to the cost-of-living index and rigidly observed, "there will be many people who will fall into a condition of semi-starvation." The state should see that all unemployable and incapacitated citizens have adequate subsistence

R.C.A.F. Fighters Bag 3 Aircraft

LONDON, July 2.—(CP Cable.)—The R.C.A.F. Wolf Squadron's Dominion Day score was three enemy aircraft shot down in an engagement with five Messerschmitt 109's during a fighter sweep over Northern France.

The successful Wolf pilots are Sqdn. Ldr. Hugh Godefroy, D.F.C., of Toronto; FO. Norman Follow of Halfax and Flt. Sgt. Graham Shouldice of Chesley, Ont.

The plane shot down by Shouldice was about to attack Godefroy when it was blown from the sky by the Chesley pilot who was flying immediately behind his squadron commander.

Lower Price Requested Aluminum

Canadian Company Is Asked By States To Change Contract

By J. F. SANDERSON
Canadian Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, July 2 (CP)—An approach has been made to the Aluminum Company of Canada for a reduction in the contract price of aluminum delivered from its Arvida plant to the United States government, Commerce Secretary Jesse Jones said today.

He was testifying before a House of Representatives committee on a resolution sponsored by Representative John Coffee, (Dem. Wash.) calling for an investigation of the whole Shipshaw power and aluminum deal, by which Jones' reconstruction finance corporation advanced $68,500,000 to the Aluminum Company of Canada in advance of deliveries.

Jones said he had no objection to an investigation, telling Coffee that 99 9-10 per cent of his charges would be proven false.

Had No Choice

Jones said the original contract with the Aluminum Company of Canada was signed by him on instructions from the office of production management. He was instructed by O.P.M., later enlarged into the war production board, to sign a contract with the Canadian company and he had no choice in the matter.

The whole thing boiled down to the fact the United States needed aluminum, Jones said, and the facilities at Arvida were the best available source.

Questioned by Coffee, Jones said the original contract named a price of 17 cents a pound, later reduced to 15 cents. All aluminum contracts, however, contain an escalator clause by which the price may be increased if labor and raw material costs advance. Coffee said the escalator clause in the Canadian contract had been activated and Jones corroborated this although he did not comment on Coffee's statement the effective price now is 21 cents a pound.

"We are trying to get a lower price," Jones told the committee.

Italians Urged Resist Invasion

By THOMAS F. HAWKINS
Associated Press Staff Writer.

BERNE, Switzerland, July 2 — (AP).—Fascist propagandists, taking a new task in their campaign to bolster the Italian will to fight, were busily engaged today in developing the thesis that Italy has nothing to gain by a separate peace and her only course is to resist to the end.

No less an authority than Virginio Gayda, Italy's best known journalist, and a Fascist party spokesman, hammered home this idea in an article in the Giornale d'Italia which apparently reflected concern over Allied attempts to convince the Italian people they would do well to get out of the war now.

Gayda's article was a straightforward exposition of the theme which the Italian press has been harping on daily—that no matter what the Italian people wish they have no recourse but to fight and that their only hope is to string along with Fascism.

LONDON — A strong force of R.A.F. planes which observers said apparently included bombers crossed the southeast coast headed for France early tonight.

R.A.F. Paralyzes Canal Traffic

STOCKHOLM, July 2—(AP). — R.A.F. and R.C.A.F. heavy bombers, in blasting sluices at Duisburg May 12 and at Oberhausen June 14, paralyzed traffic on the Rhine-Herne Canal, eyewitnesses reports from Germany declared today.

Herne, a town in Westphalia, is situated about 22 miles northwest of Duisburg, which is located at the junction of the Rhine and Ruhr.

Witnesses said a great many barges, used mainly in transporting coal from the Ruhr to Rotterdam, either were trapped between those points by the attacks or smashed by explosives.

Police officially estimated that between 5,000 and 6,000 were killed and 20,000 injured, in that bombing, they declared, mainly because residents did not have time to reach shelters. Some 130,000 families were reported bombed out over an area of seven square miles and Barmen was said to have been levelled.

The raid left Barmen without water, electricity, gas, telephone service or street cars, the witness said.

The eyewitness, who also travelled through E[illegible]feld, claimed that at least five-sixths of that city was laid in ruins.

He said that he saw a grand scale evacuation in the Ruhr.

Clergy Deplore Ruined Churches

LONDON, July 2—(CP) — Rev. William Ralph Inge, former Dean of St. Paul's Cathedral, says he believes the Allies will be "very sorry" after the war that they bombed the "beautiful cities" of Cologne, Lubeck, Naples, Genoa and others in Germany and Italy.

"If bombing of Italian and German towns is a military necessity I suppose there is no more to be said," Dean Inge wrote in the Church of England newspaper.

"But when I think ....of the ruined Cathedrals o Lubeck and Mainz, of the Church of St. Gereon at Cologne, of the House of the Painter Durer, of the beautiful Patrician Mansions in the Hanseatic towns of Genoa, Naples and Palmero, I believe when the war is over we shall be very sorry for what we have done."

Complacency Slows U.S. War Workers

Good News From War Fronts Acts As Sedative To Workers

By DEWITT MACKENZIE,
Associated Press War Analyst.

While we are awaiting developments in the war theatres I have on hand an intriguing question which you might like to try your hands at answering, and it starts like this:

"Doesn't Htiler know that he will be beaten in the long run?"

When that was submitted to me I replied without hesitation:—

"Of course he does. And so does the German High Command, for they are top-flight soldiers, and the cards patently are against them."

"Well, then," persisted by questioner, "why doesn't Hitler quit now, and save unnecessary bloodshed and suffering for his country?"

That's not so easy to answer, is it? When you sit down to figure it out, a lot of different angles rush to the mind. The first thing that struck me was that my reply hadn't been complete and that therefore I was starting from a faulty premise.

Luck May Shange.

I should have said that Hitler and his military experts know they are beaten—barring some unforeseen development in the nature of a near miracle. The odds are vastly against them, but there's always a possibility that fate might give them a break. And so long as a whisper of chance remains, just so long will the Boche hang one—unless frenzy overcomes morale.

What then is there to encourage them in holding ou?

In answering this it's mighty important for us to remember that any straw is a liferaft to a drowning man. In brief we may say that any development which is unfavorable to the Allies is grabbed by the enemy as a potential means of salvation.

Just as we watch the Boche eagerly to see what hurts he has sustained and whether his morale is breaking, so he watches us. And in his despairing condition he is bound to magnify little straws of hope.

The Nazis take fresh courage from every breakdown in a vital industry in an Allied country. Strikes, race riots, political squabbles and what not in the United Nations are choice bits to be rolled under the facile tongue of Nazi Propaganda Minister Goebbels. His business is to make big issues out of little ones and he's pretty smart.

Staggering Loss

Americans are casting plenty of straws into the torrent for the enemy to grasp. One of the most disquieting aspects of the situation is the development of an undoubted complacence in some parts of the country. I refer you to the staggering statement made by Lt. Gen. Brehom Somervell, commanding general of the U.S. Army Service Forces, in the current issue of the trade publication Mill and Factory for specific evidence of this.

The general said that the army was so short of weapons and material that equipment employed in training soldiers was being sent abroad for combat use. He stated that the May output for the army's supply program was $106,7783,000

Shrapnel No Longer Made

Canister Shot On Crimean War Modernized

ST. LOUIS, July 2. —(AP) —Canister shot, fired with telling effect in the Crimean War, has been modernized as a type of tank ammunition—while shrapnel shells used in the First Great War no longer will be manufactured.

Col. T. C. Gerber, Field Director of United States ammunition plants, disclosed at St. Louis headquarters that Canister shot now is on the list of ammunition made to wipe out hostile machine-gun nests.

The modern military Canister is a tin can containing 122 balls three-eighths of an inch in diameter. When fired, centrifugal force destroys the can shortly after it leaves the gun's muzzle. The resulting burst of shot is highly effective at ranges of 200 to 400 yards.

British Worker Earns $25.57

Average Increase Over Past Five Years 27 Per Cent

LONDON, July 2—(AP). — The average weekly wage for the British factory worker is $25.57 for men and $12.89 for women, a Ministry of Labor survey showed today.

The survey was made among 6,250,000 workers in 50,000 manufacturing firms of all types.

Men's wages have risen 74.9 per cent. and women's 80 per cent. since October, 1938, according to the survey.

The average increase over five years ago was only 27 per cent., one official said, while the cost of living for the same period jumped 28 per cent.

The men in aircraft plants average $32.93, and are the best paid workers.

Coal miners were excluded from the survey, but a note in the Ministry of Labor Gazette showed that their average for six shifts was $24.40.

TERRIFIC BOMBING OF RUHR VALLEY CRIPPLES NAZI INDUSTRIES

Nazis War Output Declines

By R. E. BUNNELLE—Associated Press Staff Writer

LONDON, July 2—(AP).—Strained by nearly four years of total war and hammered day and night by Allied air power, German industry has lost the production race essential to victory, although Germany still has plenty of fight left, reliable British and foreign sources indicated today.

Figures gathered by these sources suggest that Germany has positively passed her peak as a warmaking power and now is on the downgrade because of a production decline. More conclusive evidence of this will appear within the year, it was said.

A steady fall in steel production, a narrow margin of oil reserves, an inability to replace vital railway equipment, reduction in tank and plane production and other important symptoms of industrial deterioration appeared in the available figures, the sources said.

Steel production which was at an annual rate of approximately 25,000,000 tons in January, 1942, fell to 92.5 per cent of that peak by the first of this year and was down to 89.5 per cent in May, according to the figures here.

Need More Oil.

Tied in with reported electric power difficulties, which were magnified by the R.A.F.'s destruction of the Moehne and Eder Dams, was an oil shortage.

The best sources estimate that Germany normally needs 12,000,000 to 13,000,000 tons of oil yearly, and Italy 2,500,000, while a comparative lull in fighting exists. Major operations naturally send this consumption skyrocketing.

Germany's present oil reserve is estimated at 3,000,000 tons and the British and foreign sources emphasized that is all she is likely to have to counter a prospective Allied invasion, since production is said to be just about keeping abreast of consumption.

According to the best information, the Reich now is getting around 5,000,000 tons of natural oil yearly from the Rumanian fields and between 5,000,000 and 6,000,000 tons from synthetic plants.

Hit Transportation.

Locomotives are another weak spot in Nazi war production. Simplified utility models are being turned out at about 300 monthly, but normal wear is estimated to force discard of between 150 and 200 monthly and in May alone the R.A.F. and R.C.A.F. shot up or destroyed some 150.

Plane production is reported to have dropped sharply this year. Up to last year it was estimated that the output was 2,500 to 3,000 monthly, half of them bombers. Now, according to the best information, the monthly output ranges between 1,700 to 2,100, of which two-thirds are fighters for defence. Italian production also is said to have fallen — from 1,200 monthly last year to 600 or 700 now.

Sources said also it appeared that the Reich is turning out between 600 to 1,000 tanks monthly compared with a much higher production a year ago.

Only in submarine production is Germany on the up-grade, these sources said. Between 25 and 29 are being launched each month compared with 16 to 19 a year ago, but better Allied defensive measures are said to be taking care of that increase.

O-K PURE WHITE CIGARETTE PAPERS

Ilsley Favors Wartime Subsidies

By JAMES McCOOK
Canadian Press Staff Writer

OTTAWA, July 2.—(CP).— Instead of sunshine, beaches and hot-dogs, House of Commons members spent the traditional Dominion Day holiday with day nurseries, canning sugar and the cost of living.

Many of them, weary from a session that started in January, the members ignored the July 1 holiday to continue plodding through war appropriation bill estimates.

They completed discussion of the Labor Department's $21,000,000 share of the estimated war expenditure for 1943-44—their study including payments to provinces for day nurseries to care for the children of mothers working in war industries—and the movement of farm labor from western Canada to the east.

At the evening sitting, the House took up an item of $14,300,000 for Prices Board Administration costs in the Finance Department war estimates.

Gain Is Slight.

Finance Minister Ilsley said in a statement the outstanding achievement of the Prices Board was stabilization of the cost of living. From Nov. 1, 1941, to May 1, 1943, the cost-of-living index rose only 1.5 per cent., while in the United States in the same period the gain was 12 per cent. In Canada, in the same period of the last war, the gain was 22.5 per cent.

Mr. Ilsley estimated the price control had saved Canadians $350,000,000 in ordinary outlays in 1942, and if prices remained stabilized throughout 1943 the saving would be $850,000,000.

Civilian consumption of goods was levelling off after major gains during the war years. The fact Canadians had been able to buy as much as they had, in spite of the Canadian contribution to the United Nations' cause, was a tribute to those engaged in production.

Some of the shortages experienced, such as those in jams, jellies and marmalades, were not due to decreased production but to increased demand because of "a desirable redistribution" of consumer purchasing power, with those whose standards of living were relatively low having gained a better position.

Mrs. Ilsley said that experience had convinced him that price control could be effectively maintained only by the judicious use of subsidies, estimated to cost $120,000,000 in the present fiscal year.

Hon. R. B. Hanson (Prog. Con. York-Sunbury) and Gordon Graydon, Progressive Conservative House Leader, inquired about salaries paid Prices Board officials and their travelling expenses.

Should Be In Army

Mr. Hanson cited as "useless travelling" a case where an Inspector had gone 45 miles from Moncton, N.B., to a General Store to investigate a charge of one cent above the price ceiling.

Mr. Hanson said the Prices Board had an "army" of young lawyers, a "good many of whom ought to be in uniform." He doubted whether value was being received for money spent.

The Board had forbidden export of New Brunswick strawberries without a permit when they were wanted in Maine. The berries would have to be sent to Montreal and that would result in breaking the market there. This condition was an illustration of "the ineptitude of this Board."

Mr. Ilsley said he was satisfied Board salaries were reasonable, and he believed the highest were less than $10,000. All the Prices Board solicitors but two had been appointed by the Civil Service Commission and their rates of pay were set by the Commission. Money spent on enforcement was well spent as it brought respect for the price ceiling.

Members discussed at length the allocation of canning sugar supplies and said there had been in-may, after July 15, continue to engage a man covered by the measure without a special permit from National Selective Service.

Expect Great Number.

Mr. Mitchell's announcement said it had not been determined how many men would be affected by the new order, but it was expected there would be the same "ready compliance" with the measure as was given under the first two orders, whereby more than 24,000 men have been interviewed.

In addition to youths 16 to 18 years, the new order applies to every man born in any year from 1917 to 1924 who has reached 19, regardless of whether he is married or single, and every man born from 1902 to 1916 who, on July 15, 1940, was unmarried, divorced or judicially separated, or was then a widower without children, even if he has since married; and also to any man who has become a widower since July 15, 1940, and has no children now living, as well as to men who since that date have been divorced or judicially separated.

As under the first two orders, men affected must call personally to an employment and selective service office.

Like its predecessors, the third order does not apply to men discharged after active service with the armed forces during the present war. Also men with dependents will not be required to accept transfers which would involve a change of residence.

and that those employed receive something additional to adequate subsistence for their work.

The brief expressed belief reconstruction and rehabilitation should be treated as part of the war effort and the necessary funds be raised by taxation. "The people of Canada generally are not prepared to accept a postponement of social progress because they are told that the country cannot afford it," it said.

The Legion recommended an immediate survey of war plants with a view to ascertaining which might be converted to peacetime manufacturing.

Advocating the principal of retarded demobilization, the Legion said "men should not be discharged from the armed forces except for gainful employment."

Preferential treatment in all categories of employment to ex-service men after the war was urged.

"The Legion desires to make the point that any plans of reconstruction that do not provide for preferential treatment of the fighting men will be regarded as unjust and will bring bitter reaction. We desire to put forward the proposal that provision shall be made for a general preference to discharged men in all employment, whether under private enterprise or under the Federal, Provincial or Municipal governments throughout the country."

The brief said the Legion believed Canada should maintain a navy, army and air force "at some considerable strength" after hostilities cease, and a policy should be adopted of subsidizing "shadow factories" for potential development of new military inventions.

Gradual relaxation of taxation and establishment of one taxing authority for the Dominion with distribution to the provinces also was advocated.

"Are you negotiating with the Canadian Company," Coffee asked.

"We are trying it," Jones replied.

Jones said he had been instructed to make the Canadian contract in a letter signed April 25, 1941, by William L. Batt, now the American representative on the combined Resources Board. He said the Reconstruction Finance Corporation had no alternative in the matter, merely followed orders.

Paid Back $20,000,000.

Jones said of the $68,500,000 advanced on the contract, the Canadian Company has paid back between $20,000,000 and $21,000,000, averaging $2,000,000 a month.

"When the contract first was signed, was aluminum available from any other source," Jones was asked.

"It definitely was not, in the opinion of the W. P. B. or in my own judgment," he replied.

Jones claimed he saved the United States treasury $15,000,000 in interest when he negotiated the lower price of 15 cents a pound. Of the total amount stipulated in the contract, 1,370,000,000 pounds, all but 850,000,000,000 or 900,000,000 pounds have been delivered and the contract should be fulfilled and all deliveries completed in 15 months. The company is substantially ahead of its commitments.

Jones said he could not tell what would happen when the contract is finished "but I don't think we will be stopping making planes."

All operations of the Northwest Africa, Middle East and Malta commands were reported carried out without the loss of a plane.

Spitfire pilots of the U.S.A.A.F. shot down four German fighters—one Messerschmitt 109 and three Focke Wulf-190s— off the North African coast. Routine sweeps and patrols were maintained from Northwest African bases. Malta-based fighter-bombers attacked the Biscari airdrome in Sicily, a Valletta communique said.

An Italian communique, issued yesterday, acknowledged that fires were started in Cagliari, the Sardinian capital, and several buildings in the central area of the town were said to have collapsed.

(A Berlin broadcast of a Rome dispatch, recorded by The Associated Press, reported meanwhile that the heavy Allied daylight attack on Palermo Wednesday had destroyed two churches and other buildings. "The heart of the city was particularly damaged," the broadcast added.)

The raid on Palermo, Sicilian capital located on the northern coast, was timed with assaults on four airfields on Sicily. Returning airmen described Palermo as about "finished."

(The Italian high command said Palermo was raided again last night and that "among the numerous buildings damaged is the royal palace."

("Losses among the civilian population are not yet ascertained," said the communique as broadcast from Rome and recorded by the Associated Press. "Anti-aircraft defences shot down four planes."

(Reporting raids on both Cagliari and the Sicilian port of Catania, the high command declared they were of a minor nature.

(Wednesday's raids by Allied squadrons were reported by the communique to have killed 64 persons and injured 286 in Palermo and to have killed 10 and injured 36 along the Messina Narrows and the Calabrian coast.)

14 Bombers Lost By RCAF In Week

By JOHN DAUPHINEE
Canadian Press Staff Writer

OTTAWA, July 2 — (CP) — A stiffening of enemy opposition to night bomber attacks on industrial centres was indicated today in an R.C.A.F. communique describing Canadian participation in major raids on Elberfeld, the Bochum Gelsenkirchen district and Cologne.

The communique gave indirect confirmation to reports that the Germans have markedly strengthened the defences of the Ruhr Valley, object of many attacks during recent weeks.

In at least one of last week's raids bombers fought running battles with night-fighters en route to their target and back again.

R.C.A.F. planes shot down seven enemy fighters during the week. R.C.A.F. losses were 14 bombers and two fighters.

The communique was issued by air force headquarters on behalf of Air Marshal Harold (Gus) Edwards, Air Officer Commanding-in-Chief of the R.C.A.F. Overseas and covered the week ended at noon yesterday.

That's a bad score, and the reasons for it are shocking. Gen. Somervell attributes the drop to several factors, including floods, labor shortages and turnover, work stoppage, but by far the greater part of the failure was due to the psychological let-down — the over-confidence that has swept the country with favorable news from the battle front."

In short, the United States is suffering from what the general describes as the "sedative effect" of good news from the war theatres. We shouldn't delude ourselves with the idea that the Boche doesn't know this, for his agents are everywhere.

Greek Boy Survives Four Years Of War

CAMP STEWART, Ga., July 2 — (AP) — His commanding officer thought Pte. Andrew J. Caparisos was too frail for anthing but limited service in the United States army, but changed his mind when he learned that: in the past four years, Caparisos, a former member of the Greek merchant marine, has been on three torpedoed ships, twice tossed adrift in the Atlantic, once for 16 days in an open boat in which three men died, again when he used the body of a dead man as a raft for three days; he was interned in North Africa for three months, underwent air raids in England and was wounded in the hand by shrapnel at Dakar. A native of Pensacola, Fla., he weighed 165 when the war started, lost 65 pounds, is back up to 135.

Planes Hit Enemy Vessel Twice

CAIRO, July 2 — (AP) — R.A.F. planes heavily damaged a medium-sized enemy transport vessel in Levkas channel off the west coast of Greece yesterday and shot up a schooner in the same area, a British communique announced today.

The transport previously had been attacked on June 27 and was left at that time listing heavily and blocking the channel, the bulletin said. Further hits were scored on her yesterday.

All planes were reported to have returned safely from the operations.

Combines Beat Lakeshore Lacrosse Team

TORONTO, July 2—A weakened Lake Shore lacrosse team, sans Coach Duke Harrison and with Annis Stukus directing operations, put up a plucky fight against Mimico-Brampton Combines last night before bowing 18-10 in a scheduled Ontario Lacrosse Association senior game.

Close to 900 persons watched the Shores, understaffed and all, carry the Combines to a 10-10 deadlock for three-quarters of the distance. In the last 15 minutes, however, Combines' strength told and they ran in eight goals to take the verdict.

Harrison, coach of the Lake Shores, has been posted to the R.C.A.F. station at London and Stukus will carry on as bench coach for the time being.

Combines — Harrison, Rock, G. Thompson, J. Bryans, McLean, Hayes, Isaacs, Brunskill, Masters, Bernie, Prosser, Graham, Christie.

Remember When—

By The Canadian Press.

Joe DiMaggio joined baseball's immortals two years ago to-day when he hit safely in his 45th straight game to surpass the record set by Willie Peeler in 1897. DiMaggio, now in the U.S. Army, went on to run the streak to 56 games.

Derby Winner Dies

LEESBURG, Va — (AP)— One of the great thoroughbreds of the American turf, Zev, winner of the Kentucky Derby in 1923, came to peaceful end at the age 23 on the estate near here of Brig. Gen. Patrick J. Hurley, to which he had been taken three years ago for his remaining days. Zev is best remembered for his victory 20 years ago over Papyrus, which had captured the 1923 Epsom Derby, in a $100,000 match race at Belmont Park. Zev, winner by six lengths, was ridden by Earle Sande while Steve Donoghue was on Papyrus.

Obituaries

MRS. MARY JANE WHITE.

CAVAN, July 2.—(ENS).— The funeral of Mrs. Mary Jane White, wife of the late Ephraim White, was held on Wednesday from the home of her daughter, Mrs. Donal Lowes, with interment in Gardiner's cemetery. Rev. A. W. Harding and Rev. W. E. Honey conducted the service.

Mrs. White had been in her usual health and was visiting her daughter, Mrs. D. Lowes, and Saturday became seriously ill and died Monday evening. She was a member of Ebenezer church and an ardent supporter of the Ladies' Aid.

Born in Manvers May 1863, a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Robert Griffin, she was married April, 1883, lived in Manvers until 1905, when she and her husband moved to Lot 2, Concession 11, Cavan. After her husband's death in 1938 she made her home with her younger son John on the home farm.

She leaves to mourn her loss three daughters, Ethel, Mrs. W. Finnie; Pearl, Mrs. Percy Stewart; Laura, Mrs. D. Lowes; and two sons, Messrs. Wm. and John White; two daughters, Miss Bertha and Carrie, Mrs. A. A. Veals, predeceased her some years ago; twenty-three grandchildren, Gordon and Mansell Finnie, Mrs. D. Berry 'Rowena,' Fledda, Ivan and Cpl. Clifford Veals, overseas; Arthur, Rae, Neil, Bruce and Donald Stewart; Malcona, Norman, Dorothy, Hubert and Margaret Lowes; Berenice, Harold and Hazel White; John White's family, Russell, Ronald, Velma and AC. Lloyd White, Trenton, William White's family, and five great grandchildren, Clifford Berry and Murray, Carl, Neil and Ray Finnie, Mansell Finnie's family, one sister, Lily, Mrs. Jas. Richardson, Pontypool, and three half-brothers, Messrs. James, David and Nelson McMullen of Lotus.

Pallbearers were six grandchildren, Rae and Arthur Stewart, Ivan Veals, Norman Lowes, Gordon Finnie and AC. Lloyd White.

Flower bearers, also grandchildren, Bruce, Neil and Donald Stewart, Harold, Hazel, Berenice, Russell, Ronald and Velma White, Dorothy, Margaret and Hubert Lowes.

ELIZABETH YOUNG.

The funeral of Elizabeth (Bessie) Young was held this afternoon from the family residence, Lot 10, Concession 4, Smith Township, followed by interment in Little Lake Cemetery. Rev. Dr. M. C. MacLean of Gilmour Memorial Baptist Church conducted the service.

Miss Young, who was in her 80th year, died Wednesday after an illness of nearly a year. Born in Smith Township the daughter of the late Andrew Young and Elsie Darling, she lived there all her life.

She was a member of Gilmour Memorial Baptist Church and a Life Member of its Mission Circle, in which she took a very active interest.

She is survived by three brothers, James of Smith Township, Thomas of Alexander, Man., John of Glenborough, Man.; and by two sisters, Mrs. John (Isabella) Archer of Smith Township and Mrs. James (Alice) Montgomery of Dundalk.

Pall bearers were Harold Archer, Noble Bothwell, Cameron Bothwell, Roland Scott, Kenneth Darling and Glen Mortgomery.

MRS. ADELINE J. BUCHANAN

Mrs. Adeline Johnson Buchanan, widow of the late John Buchanan, died Thursday morning in Nicholls Hospital after an illness of two months. She was in her 78th year.

Born in Anstruther township, Mrs. Buchanan lived all her life in Apsley except for a short period of residence in the United States. She was a member of Apsley United church.

Surviving are one son, John McCauly Buchanan of Port Huron and several grandchildren and great-grandchildren, as well as two brothers, Ernest and Matthew, who live in the States.

The body rests at the Belleghem Funeral Home, 190 Hunter street, and the funeral will be held Sunday at 2.30 p.m. from the Apsley United church, with interment in Apsley cemetery. Rev. Robb will officiate.

FRANK J. KENNEALLY.

His many friends in Peterborough will be grieved to learn of the death in Toronto, on Thursday, July 1, of Frank J. Kenneally, son of John Kenneally, 225 Sherbrookke Street, and a former well-known resident of Peterborough.

Mr. Kenneally had been ill for several months but death's call came suddenly. Born in Peterborough, he received his education here, afterward removed to Toronto where he had lived ever since. He was inspector for the Sutton-Horsley Company.

Surviving are his widow, Mrs. Margaret Kenneally, Toronto, his father here, one brother Martin J. Kenneally, Toronto, and three sisters, Mrs. James Judd, Philadelphia, Pa., Mae Kenneally, Rochester and Cecile Kenneally, Peterborough.

The funeral will take place on Monday morning, from 202 Montrose Avenue, Toronto, to St. Francis Church, Toronto.

Women Raise $2,500 In Superfluity Shop

COBOURG, July 2 (ENS)—Reports presented at the final meeting of the local branch of the Red Cross until next September, revealed that the Superfluity Shop has raised to date the sum of $2,500 for local activities. Mrs. J. W. Spragge, convener of the blood donors clinic, stated that there had been 126 donors at the last clinic and that the next one would be held the third week in July.

The work room report for June showed that purchases amounted to $105.19. Shipments during the month were 159 knitted articles, 149 hospital supplies, 3,260 surgical supplies, 20 leather coats, 70 bomb victims garments, 157 articles of clothing for Russia, 344 sewn garments, 1 fur coat, 17 large quilts, 1 afghan, or a total of 4,178 articles.

Need a Pitcher

HAMILTON, July 2—(CP).—The baseball squad of the Argyll and Sutherland Highlanders of Hamilton, recently returned from garrison duty in Jamaica, went down 13-3 in a holiday fiesta before the Hamilton senior team. The soldiers were badly in need of a twirler.

Negro Stars

VANCOUVER, July 2—(CP).—Stationed on the coast with the Canadian army, Mickey Berry, fleet Toronto Negro sprinter, proved the star of the 37th annual track and field meet of the Vancouver Police Association. Berry took the 100-yard open in 10.2 seconds and the century dash for service men in the time of 11 seconds.

Caddie Wins

SARNIA — (CP). — A former caddie of the Sarnia Golf Club, John Koval, rose to the heights on Dominion Day in the annual tournament by carding 145 for the two rounds to win the competition against the best that Windsor, Sarnia, Forest divot-diggers could accomplish. Koval won by a single stroke against G. Burt of the London Hunt Club. J. G. Carter of London copped the low gross prize.

Protested Game Must Be Played Again

By Canadian Press

For the second time this season, President Ford Frick of the National League has declared a protested game to be an unfinished fixture and the opposing clubs must start where they left off in order to settle the matter on the diamond. This time, the New York Giants and the Phillies must start "as of the 10th innings with the score 3-3" at the Polo Grounds Aug. 6 to win or lose the disputed overtime set-to of June 13.

From Stockholm came the report last night of a record-breaking performance by Arne Anderson, 27-year-old teacher, in winning the mile in 4:02.6 at the Swedish National Festival at Goeteborg, thus cutting two seconds from the recognized world mark of Gunder Haegg, now campaigning in the States.

Hull Wins

In the Interprovincial Baseball League, comprising Ottawa and Hull teams, the military clubs bowed to defeat once more, in the holiday double bill, to the civilian nines. The R.C.A.F. was pounded by Hull Volants while Royal Canadian Ordnance Corps tasted a 9-3 defeat at the hands of the Royal Canadiens.

The Amateur Trapshooting Association will stage its 44th annual grand national tourney at Vandalia, O., with all events crowded into the three days of Aug. 25-26-27 because even gunmen are restricted in wartime. Another condition this year is that all the would-be champions must "bring your own shells."

Waterloo Loses

Waterloo Tigers were no match for Kitchener Rangers in the Inter County Senior Baseball fixture on the holiday after Catcher Schneider suffered a split finger in the sixth innings. Rangers romped ahead to an 18-4 win, scoring 12 runs in their last two turns at bat. Dave Bauer of the losers made local history by playing three positions in turn—in right field, behind the plate and on the mound.

As a feature of the Eastern Ontario Firemen's field day at Smiths Falls, Dominion Day, the local railroaders took on the Kingston Ponies in an exhibition doubleheader, losing both ends by 2-0 and 7-1. Johnny Mackay performed the iron man stunt for Smiths Falls by pitching both seven-innings tussles but the fielders behind him were guilty of five errors in the two contests. Mackay allowed one hit in the opener and two in the nightcap.

Aerial Sweep Bags 8 Planes

LONDON, July 2—(CP)—Eight enemy fighters were destroyed by R.A.F. Spitfires and American fighter planes in separate sweeps over northern France and the Low Countries late yesterday, the air ministry announced today.

The Spitfires got four over northern France and the Americans the same number over northern France and the Low Countries. One United States plane was reported missing.

The R.A.F. lost four aircraft in the fighter sweep and an attack yesterday morning by fighter-escorted bombers on an enemy convoy off the Dutch coast. Three merchant vessels and four mine sweepers were said to have been damaged.

A German broadcast asserted six fighters and two bombers were shot down in the convoy attack.

Britain passed the night without an alert, rounding out a full week since this country has seen an enemy plane.

COBOURG

Summer Cottage Burns Cause Not Determined

COBOURG, July 2 (ENS)—Fire gutted the large summer residence of Mrs. Harry Rotenburg west of the town yesterday morning. Cause of the fire is not definitely known. Mrs. Rotenburg believed that a spark from the chimney set fire to the roof but firemen held the opinion that the fire started inside the roof. Shallow water and sand made it difficult for the firemen to get the pumper working at once but the fire spread so rapidly that it was impossible to get it under control until the whole house was ablaze. Most of the furniture was carried out before the flames reached it. Damage will run into several thousand dollars.

50 Years a Priest

ALEXANDRIA, Ont., July 2 (AP).—Very Rev. D. A. Campbell, dean of Glengarry and pastor of St. Raphael's Parish here, Thursday celebrated the 50th anniversary of his ordination to the Roman Catholic priesthood with a solemn high mass in the presence of Most Rev. Rosario Brodeur, bishop of Alexandria.

Father Campbell's first charge after his ordination was as an assistant in St. Columban's parish, Cornwall, Ont. Later he was appointed parish priest at Dickinson's Landing, Ont. He was transferred to St. Raphael's Parish in 1900.

Ready To Sink Subs

COBOURG, July 2 (ENS)—Cobourg is well away in its "Sink the U-Boat" war savings campaign. Of its quota of 14 depth charges, Cobourg has sold over $500 to date. The local committee in charge of the drive is made up of Lorne Anderson and G. W. Birmingham. The local service clubs will sponsor several depth charges and also St. Michael's Parish has undertaken to sponsor a number of depth charges.

New Allied Moves Make Axis More Jittery

Made more jittery by the newest Allied moves in the Mediterranean theatre of war, the Italians now are reported to have evacuated Castelrosso, easternmost of the Dodecanese islands off the coast of Turkey. This map shows the current situation in the Mediterranean, according to the latest reports. Bombings of Italy, Italian islands and Axis bases in Greece are continuing and concentrations of Allied troops and warships are reported at both ends of the sea and in North Africa.

Juvenile Series All Tied Up

The final series in the juvenile section of the Church Softball League is all tied up. The George Street team won the first game of the last round in decisive fashion and looked well away but All Saints' came roaring back last night to slap down the United Church lads 23 to 19 and now the series is all even.

The final game for the championship has been set for Wednesday, July 7, at Nicholls Oval.

Lats night's game was a battle all the way with the lead see-sawing in the early stages. George Street broke in front at the end of the high second but at the end of the high-scoring third the teams were on an even footing with seven runs each. George Street hammered seven runs over in the fifth to go out in front again but again the Anglicans fought back, and won the argument by scoring five runs in the eighth and final inning.

All Saint's: A. Menzies, c; McDougall, p; Burns, cf; Jones, 1b; B. Menzies, 3b; Ellis, lf; Chambers, ss; Sisson, rf; Doughty, 2b; Outram, 2b.

George Street: Bedford, Gaskell, MvNaught, Nicholls, Carpenter, Griffin, Burrows, Marshall.

Wins Harness Race

CLEVELAND, July 2—(AP).—For the second day of grand circuit racing at North Randall yesterday, the $3,022 American stake was captured by a classy two-year-old, Attorney, owned by C. H. Wilkinson of Longasport, Ind., a newcomer to the major league of harness racing. Victory, owned by William T. Mayberry of Dexter, Me., had been touted as the champion of two-year-olds and did win the first heat. The second went to Attorney and the pair alone came out for the third start which went to the Indiana flash by a length in the slow time of 2:11¼.

Gnr. W. Mouncey Laid To Rest

ROSENEATH, July —(ENS) — Funeral services for the late Gnr. W. Neil Mouncey were held on Wednesday afternoon at two o'clock from McMillan's Undertaking Parlours, Roseneath, and Roseneath United Church.

Gnr. Mouncey, a member of the 36th Field Battery, 23rd regiment, R. C. A., met his death accidentally while on duty. He was in his 21st year, the second son of Mr. and Mrs. William Mouncey of Cobourg, and one of the fourth generation of Mouncey's born in Alnwick Township. A resident here until two years ago when the family moved to Cobour, he enlisted April 1942, in the 36th Battery, Cobourg. Close surviving relatives are his parents and one brother Frank overseas.

Neil was a general favorite with young and old, and is one more of the many cut off in the flower of manhood in service to their country.

Military honours were accorded Gunner Mouncey, a reserve artillery unit from Cobourg commanded by Major Dundas, also R. S. M. Weir from Peterborough attended, a guard of honor stood at attention by the casket during the service, the flag covered casket was placed on a gun carriage born to Centenary Cemetery, where the last post was sounded and three volleys fired over the grave.

The pall bearers were: Gnrs. Joe Kelly, Rae Timlin, D. Clapperton and Gordon Kelly who accompanied the body home, and Clark Mouncey and Ivan Thackeray of Roseneath, the former a cousin and the latter a school chum.

The officiating clergyman was the Rev. E. H. Unstead, pastor of Roseneath United Church, he was assisted by Rev. Floyd Honey, pastor of Baltimore United Church.

Mr. Unstead speaking from John 11:25, "I am the Resurrection and the Life," brought a message of consolation to the bereaved, in the Christian conception of death as the opening door of a door into life eternal.

Misses Clarice and Betty Atkinson sang a duet, "Look to the Comforter."

Twenty four bearers were required to carry the flowers, the last offering of loving friends.

No Election Issue

Wednesday the fourth of August has been set as the date of the Provincial election, and in spite of the hullabaloo which has been raised about the proxy vote, about the stupid and inept speech of the ex-Speaker of the Legislature in Detroit, and about the possibility of a critical moment of the war coming at that time, we predict that the election will pass off quietly and that the Province as a whole will not find it disturbing or especially exciting.

There are good reasons for holding an election now, and they have been set out in these columns already. The life of the Legislature has already been extended, and as Mr. Nixon set his face against further extension before he became Premier he cannot change his tune now. There are several constituencies which have no representation at present, and which are anxious to have a voice at Queen's Park. The assumption that an election should be postponed until after the war is without grounds: South Africa has had an election; Australia, which is far more dangerously situated than we are, is reported to expect a dissolution of Parliament and a general election soon; Great Britain appears to contemplate some sort of political move before the end of the war, for she has made arrangements for a proxy vote for her soldiers. And, bye the bye, if the experienced British Parliament thinks that a proxy vote can be given to servicemen and women without attacking their rights as citizens, why should we in Ontario look upon it as the final iniquity? As we have said before, the great majority of proxy votes will be cast by relatives of the men overseas, and the rest will be cast by their friends. We think that the holders of proxy votes will consider their trust as sacred as though they were under oath, and will act accordingly.

The lack of a real issue in the election is dismaying to the Opposition, of course. They do not want an election, but since there is to be one they want a chance to win, and without a red-hot issue their chance is considerably diminished. The bare five weeks which remain before the election day give little opportunity for the sort of campaigning which would cover the distance between the 27 seats which the Opposition now hold, and the 63 held by the Government.

Pictures For The Camps

The excellent idea of giving reproductions of first-rate Canadian pictures to the camps and recreation centres which are the homes of so many of our young men and women these days originated with A. Y. Jackson, who is himself one of the best of living Canadian artists. Now the inspiration has been made a reality, and twenty-five pictures have been hung in the Salvation Army canteen, the C.W.A.C. lounge and the Recreation Centre in this city. The reproductions are of the finest quality, made by a special method which has been supervised by a competent artist, and as the pictures are 30 by 40 inches in size they have none of that meanness which is the common fault of copies.

We cannot praise this work too highly. Men and women who have left their homes for the duration of the war must often be depressed by the lack of anything that is cheerful or decorative in their surroundings. These pictures will go far toward supplying the atmosphere which they miss. We do not imply, of course, that the ideal camp would be something like a first-class hotel; that is neither desirable nor necessary. But institutional bleakness can be very dispiriting, and the pictures at the canteen, or in the lounge, will make a great difference to men whose eyes yearn for a touch of colour.

The pictures will be gratefully received by the men and women who already love pictures; they may also arouse an interest in pictures in those who have never seen a good picture before, of whom there must be many thousands. The paintings which have been reproduced have been chosen for popular qualities; they are of typically Canadian scenes. Tom Thomson's familiar Northern River is one of them, and A. Y. Jackson's equally familiar Quebec Village. Lawren Harris's Maligne Lake may introduce the troops to something which they have not seen before, and if they do not like its starkness they can turn to W. J. Phillips' more conventional Victoria Glacier. Hallam's The Ploughman, Robinson's Return From Mass, and J. E. Sampson's study of fishermen should all be well-liked; and A. J. Casson's Ontario Village will carry the charm of this province wherever it goes.

In fact, the men and women in the forces are to have an opportunity to live with fine pictures, and that is something which few of them had in civilian life.

Irreplaceable Locomotives

The news that a Peterborough man, Flight Officer Arthur Collins, has been distinguishing himself in the hunt for locomotives in Occupied Europe, draws attention to this skilful and specialized type of aerial warfare. It requires the greatest accuracy and daring, as attacks on locomotives must be made while flying at a high speed very close to the ground.

This sort of attack is unlike the machine-gunning of trains, which has long been a German trick. Their plan was to sweep the length of the train with machine-gun fire, in order to kill as many as possible among the passengers. Their intention was entirely terroristic, for the Germans have a high opinion of panic as an ally in war. The intention of the Allied fliers is to put the locomotive out of business, so that it cannot be repaired and will not draw any more trains loaded with Axis supplies.

Defending the great land area of Europe, Germany will have to depend upon rapid movement of supplies and men in order to meet invasion at whatever point it is made. Great numbers of locomotives will be needed for this work, and at present the skilled labour which is needed to repair locomotives is reported to be unobtainable in Germany. The workmen who are familiar with that sort of boiler-making and casting have been transferred to the shipyards to make U-boats. Therefore when a flying party picks off 19 locomotives in one trip, they have done vitally important work in assuring the success of our coming invasion.

More Advice On Generalship

Not long before the war Sir Archibald Wavell gave a series of lectures at Cambridge in which he set forth his ideas on the science and art of generalship. The lectures attracted attention, and when they were published in a pamphlet they were read by many thousands of people who had neither the desire nor the opportunity to be generals, but who were interested in the opinions of an expert on his profession. That is why we think that our readers will be glad to see these nine rules which Sir Bernard Montgomery has laid down as necessary for success in generalship:

1. Have a good chief of staff.
2. Go for simplicity in everything.
3. Cut out all paper and train subordinates to work on verbal instructions and orders.
4. Keep a firm grip on basic fundamentals—the things that really matter.
5. Avoid being involved in details; leave them to your staff.
6. Study morale; it is a big thing in war and without high morale you can achieve nothing.
7. When the issue hangs in the balance express confidence in the plans and in the operations, even if inwardly you feel not too certain of the outcome.
8. Never worry.
9. Never belly-ache.

Like all good advice this is hard to put in practice. And, incidentally, it shows how widely the good general is separated from the good editor, for the latter is paid to worry all the time, and to a greater or less degree he must belly-ache every day. His public expects it.

NOTE AND COMMENT

We don't object to men who are difficult to approach, but we actively hate those who are hard to get away from!

Because the weather has been made a military secret we see no reason for it to take unfair advantage of us.

Says the Dunville Chronicle: "The weaker sex is often the stronger sex because of the weakness of the stronger sex for the weaker sex".

We read that the cloth saved from men's trouser cuffs would carpet a broad path from Toronto to Windsor. So that is what they are going to do with it!

A contemporary says that people won't notice your old clothes if you wear a smile. We don't care whether they notice or not. After paying our income tax we have a tired face.

In the western provinces, we hear, the nearest neighbour may be 120 miles away. Out there, when a man buys a lawnmower it is practically his own.

Curtain Time—And No Curtain

By A. L. CUSHING in THE CHRISTIAN SCIENCE MONITOR

As our bus entered the post reservation at Fort X and headed for the Reception Center area, we were filled with importance. We numbered twenty-odd, actors and actresses and production staff of an amateur community theater, taking a play to a section of newly-inducted army. On our suburban home grounds, we were accustomed to a conventional stage and theater of modest proportions. But the Reception Center, we had been told, had a recently-completed outdoor theater, and we pictured it as a kind of blend of the Theater of Dionysus, Yankee Stadium, and Hollywood Bowl. We had played to soldier audiences before and knew them to be wonderfully receptive; so we looked forward in all modesty to a sylvan triumph.

The glow of confidence must have been palpable about us as we unloaded our suit-cases, properties, and make-up at the building which, as was supposed, housed the dressing-rooms. Where, we asked at once, was the outdoor theater? An obliging soldier in fatigue denims seemed doubtful. "I don't rightly know what you mean, Miss. There's a sort of bandstand down past that clump of trees—"

"Oh, no," we smiled indulgently. "We understand it's new; perhaps you haven't been there." We looked about us in the entry of the recreation building and saw a bulletin board. On it was tacked a large, carefully-lettered announcement of our play, at seven-thirty sharp in the outdoor theater. We were in the right place. Two soldiers stopped, read the notice.

"How about it?" one asked. "Want to go?"

"Why not? We can go down and see what it's like, anyway," said the other; and, as they started off through the screen and down a path, we followed them, just to have a look at the stage before going on with final preparations. It was exactly seven, so there was still time for make-up.

At the end of the path, set in a fairly large clearing, we came upon the outdoor theater. There was already a little gathering of soldiers on benches, ranged in a hollow square; and in the center was a high platform of new planking, open on all sides, with an assortment of card tables and chairs standing ready on it. There were no wings, no backing, no refuge of any kind for actors awaiting cues or for the frenzied operations of prop men and stage hands. The only apparent way to make an exit was to take a considerable jump from the platform to the ground and walk away in plain view of everyone.

All the importance and assurance of our mood exploded abruptly into a quick succession of feelings: panic, despair, and a suppressed hysteria. Then, standing by the wooden platform, surrounded by the nucleus of our noisy, friendly audience, we came grimly down to earth and the job at hand. We had a hurried conference (twenty minutes to curtain time, now) and enlisted the aid of some of our public. Under a tree a little way off, half-covered with an army blanket, was a piano which, having been left out in the rain the night before, was no longer a musical instrument; but, hauled to the edge of our stage with a long bench behind it, it would serve as a barricade between the audience and the waiting actors. An area behind that piano, only partly hidden from the audience, became "backstage." There some of us set to work busily arranging properties—dishes, suitcases, an assortment of small objects, ready to be carried on. Beside the platform, we placed benches to form steps for entrances and exits. The recreational director explained about the two flood lights suspended from trees out front; our stage manager arranged card tables and chairs to represent sofas, sideboards, and armchairs; we dashed back to the dressing-rooms for hasty make-ups, and it was curtain time.

Curtain time—and no curtain. In fact, by the time the cast had gathered for the first act on the bench behind the piano barrier, our audience had practically surrounded the stage. They cleared a little passage for our entrances; and, at our request, got down from the edge of the stage itself, where many of them had been sitting with their legs dangling. But any further organization of the crowd into a docile row-on-row audience was hopeless.

There was no time now to feel self-conscious about our little project; we were on our mettle. Somehow, in those first few minutes, we had to make out of that wooden planking, those bare benches, and our cluttered little "backstage" domain, a theater—an illusion, something to hold a few hundred men and boys from drifting back along the path to the recreation building. One of our group made a preliminary announcement in lieu of programs, somebody said: "Curtain!" and the first character in our play stepped up from the bench to platform, looked out at the wide circle of faces and at the bending trees, then delivered the opening line at the top of his voice.

How we loved that audience! How we blessed them for their easy acceptance of our make-believe, for seeing at our bidding a carved mantel instead of a high wooden bin marked 'Trash'; for stepping aside to let an actor make the long sprint back to the dressing-room for a quick change; for laughing and clapping and listening as audiences have always done.

Between the acts and afterwards, many of them came to us for eager discussion. One had taken a part in this play at college last year, another had been a prop man in civilian life, a third had spent years organizing and building up just such a community theater. They addressed us all by the names of the characters we played and, when it was all over and soldiers and actors mingled and chatted, dismantling the stage in the pool of floodlighting, play and audience became in truth one. Back up the path went the long procession, laden with all the outlandish objects which authors think up to bedevil poor prop men, talking still of the play—some of the illusion yet alive, though it had had so few trappings to preserve it.

We all got into the bus somehow, with our many belongings. The last thing we saw, as we swung around a curve away from the big bare building, was a part of our audience standing outside, waving and calling good-by. And behind them, bright on the tree branches, was a glow of yellow light. "Look," somebody said, "the lights are still on down at the theater." No one laughed or protested the phrase. It was a theater, and a good one, too.

People Like Liguori Lacombe

(OTTAWA JOURNAL)

In asking that the M.P. Liguori Lacombe either prove his charge that three cabinet ministers have become millionaires since the war started or resign his seat in the House, Prime Minister King is doing the right thing. Yet Ligouri Lacombe won't prove his charge and will try to wriggle out of resigning his seat, and probably no remedy will exist to give him his just deserts.

The charge, of course, was just drooling nonsense. Mr. King's cabinet contains men who have made mistakes, and who sometimes have been wrong, and sometimes on the wrong side; but no one who knows them and wants to be decent would ever charge any one of them with attempting to profit from this war.

More than that, no one with a grain of intelligence could ever imagine that any man in the cabinet could make a million dollars out of this war, even if he tried to. This for the simple reason that if he made the million out of dividends from some company that he got connected with the Government would take about $950,000 of it in income tax. Actually, the only way any individual could make—and keep—a million dollars would be to win a lottery to that amount or make it in the stock market; and with no million-dollar lotteries around and the stock market what it has been, that certainly would be some achievement.

In the circumstances, and keeping in mind the quality of Liguori Lacombe, Mr. King might well have ignored this charge. The trouble with that, however, is that Mr. Lacombe's remarks are on Hansard, and with no reply to them Mr. Lacombe could go back to his constituency, produce his copy of Hansard and say: "This charge of mine in the House brought only silence; no one dared try refute it."

Indeed, the unfortunate thing is that no matter what is done to or about Liguori Lacombe a certain number of people will believe him, anyway. There are people like that; people who are prepared to swallow any statement about Parliament and public men no matter how blackguardly it may be. Doubly unfortunate, there are people who will send to Parliament a man like Liguori Lacombe.

Mrs. Luce Slices It

(CHRISTIAN SCIENCE MONITOR)

The playwright is still taking a bigger hand than the stateswoman in the speeches of Representative Luce. But there is a third voice dictating them which may lower their level still further. That is the Party Politician. In her address to the House last week, and again in her keynote speech at the Wisconsin Republican State Convention, Mrs. Luce has permitted her utterances to descend from that level of intellectual integrity many people expect of her. She has let her gift for phrase—illustrated by the globaloney gibe—outshine devotion to any but a sheerly partisan objective.

Those who welcomed, because of its realism, her proposal in the House for an alliance between the United States and the British Commonwealth as part of a broader organization of world security after this war will doubt her ability to serve this cause as they discern the recklessness of her Wisconsin address.

Her attack on the inadequacy of American foreign policy during the last forty years may closely match the thesis of Walter Lippmann's sound and arresting book on this same subject. But her charge that the Administration had no foreign policy before Pearl Harbor is a remark a person of Mrs. Luce's position should not be guilty of. Is she unable to see what the average American knows so well, that United States foreign policy was clearly indicated in lend-lease long before Pearl Harbor?

Mrs. Luce follows a too familiar pattern when she refuses to call herself an interventionist or an isolationist because she asserts these terms to be meaningless. This is a line taken by some dangerously nationalist Republican leaders, to the detriment of their party. These last two speeches by Mrs. Luce are a distinct disappointment. We consider that they disserve the true interests of the United States and trust that they represent a minority—even though a thoroughly organized minority—in her own party.

Mignon Compliments With Her Art

Mignon had been waiting for him: she lighted him upstairs. On setting down the light, she begged that he would allow her, that evening, to compliment him with a piece of her art. He would rather have declined this, particularly as he knew not what it was; but he had not the heart to refuse anything this kind creature wished. After a little while she again came in. She carried a little carpet below her arm, which she then spread out upon the floor. Wilhelm said she might proceed. She thereupon brought four candles, and placed one upon each corner of the carpet. A little basket of eggs which she next carried in, made her purpose clearer. Carefully measuring her steps, she then walked to and fro on the carpet, spreading out the eggs in certain figures and positions: which done, she called in a man that was waiting in the house, and could play on the violin. He retired with his instrument into a corner; she tied a band about her eyes, gave a signal, and like a piece of wheel-work set a-going, she began moving the same instant as the music, accompanying her beats and the notes of the tune with the strokes of a pair of castanets.

Lightly, nimbly, quickly, and with hairs-breadth accuracy, she carried on the dance. She skipped so sharply and surely along between the eggs, and trod so closely down beside them, that you would have thought every instant she must trample one of them in pieces, or kick the rest away in her rapid turns. By no means! She touched no one of them, though winding herself through their mazes with all kinds of steps, wide and narrow, nay even with leaps, and at last half-kneeling.

Constant as the movement of a clock, she ran her course; and the strange music, at each repetition of the tune, gave a new impulse to the dance, recommencing and again rushing off as at first. . . .

The dance being ended, she rolled the eggs together softly with her foot into a little heap, left none behind, harmed none; then placed herself beside it, taking the bandage from her eyes, and concluding her performance with a little bow. . . .

She then lifted up the eggs, took the carpet under her arm, asked if he wanted anything farther, and skipped out of the door. — From "Wilhelm Meister" by Johann Wolfgang von Goethe (1795).

A Bible Message

"Be watchful, and strengthen the things which remain." Rev. 3: 2. (Read Rev. 2: 7, 17, 26; 3: 5, 12, 20, 21.)

The exalted Christ still draws all men unto Him through the love and devotion of redemptive minorites. The little company of twelve remained, but the multitude went away. The redemptive minority at Oxford, the Holy Club, pushed their boundaries to include a world parish. The boy's meager loaves and fishes came into the possession of Infinite Compassion toward the hungry. The broken sword of the discouraged soldier passed into the hands of heroic Faith. All along the shining highway of the Father's concern for His own, there have been conquering remnants. Gideon's three hundred. Elisha's "I, only, am left." My own loved one is taken; a business venture fails; a dependable leader moves away; fire destroys cherished possessions; a drouth shrivels up the fruit of the year's labour. Strengthen the things that remain, and put them into the hands of the Master, who is able to comfort you, and through you, a multitude.

Letter To The Editor

CONGRATULATES DR. KENNER

Editor Examiner:

Sir,—Was very fortunate in having a copy of your paper of June 10 forwarded to me. How I enjoyed it—especially the pictures of the teachers and pupils of 1899 and the hockey groups!

Although I didn't happen to be in any of "H. R.H.'s" classes yet I was a pupil at the time he came to Peterborough and so I wish to add my congratulations to him on his 50th anniversary of teaching and assure him it is with pleasure I look back on the days spent in the old Murray Street Collegiate with such wonderful teachers as were then on the staff.

Knights In Armor

A London firm, specializing since 1772 in the manufacture of swords, is now beating its product into something much more useful at the moment. It is making suits of mail for American air men.

The English Air Service announces that henceforth all crews of our heavy bombers stationed in England will be equipped with this new armor. Tests in battle over Germany have proved its worth. The bombardier of a Flying Fortress wore one of the bullet-proof vests in a recent raid over Whilhelmshaven. The shell of a 20-mm. cannon crashed through the plane and exploded two feet from him. Though the surface of his vest looked like a fire-blackened sieve there was no penetration. Other fliers report similar results, and already many lives have been saved. The vest consists of overlapping squares of 20-gauge steel attached to canvas and guaranteed to stop a .45-caliber bullet discharged at thirty feet. The full equipment, at first shunned as an encumbrance, weighs thirteen pounds. Now the entire service wants it.

Thus the cycle rolls around again, and American fighters, like the Yankee at King Arthur's Court, find themselves back in medieval armor. —New York Times.

Kathleen Foster Marries Paul Lavictoire

Murray Street Baptist Church was the scene of a pretty wedding on Thursday, July 1, when Kathleen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Foster, became the bride of Pte. Paul Edouard Lavictoire, R.C.A.S.C., son of Mr. and Mrs. Anthime Lavictoire of Clarence Creek, Ontario. Decorations of summer flowers formed a background for the ceremony, which was performed by Rev. J. H. Sutcliffe. Mr. Stanley Northrop played the wedding music.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was charming in a street-length dress of white silk jersey fashioned with a dirndl skirt and gathered bodice trimmed with bows of the same material and a sweetheart neckline. Her shoulder-length veil of white silk net fell to a point at the back and was caught with artificial gardenias. She carried a bouquet of premier supreme roses. Miss Joyce Foster was her sister's bridesmaid in a pretty frock of blue silk jersey. Mrs. W. Small of Norwood was matron of honor in dull gold silk jersey. Both wore veils to match their dresses and carried nosegays.

Cpl. D. Mortimer was groomsman and Mr. James Cummings of Peterborough acted as usher.

A reception was held at the bride's parents' home, 313 Stewart street, where her mother received in a gown of black and white crepe with a white straw hat and a corsage. Later Pte. and Mrs. Lavictoire left on a wedding trip to Ottawa, the bride travelling in a navy sheer suit with a white silk pique trim and navy and white accessories. They will live at 315 Bethune street, Peterborough.

Porter—Henthorne

The wedding took place at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. L. Henthorne, 129 Maude street, on Saturday of Eva Doreen Henthorne, youngest daughter or Mrs. Henthorne and the late William Henthorne, to Harold, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. Porter, Orpington road. Rev. F. W. Craik officiated and wedding music was played by Miss Vera Davidson.

Given in marriage by her brother, Mr. John Henthorne, the bride wore a floor-length gown of white slipper satin and a long veil caught with orange blossoms. She carried a bouquet of red roses. Miss Phyllis Ellis, bridesmaid, wore floor-length turquoise sheer with a shoulder-length veil of pink net caught with pink roses. She carried a bouquet of pink roses. Mr. Clarence Porter was his brother's best man.

After the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's mother, who received in a dress of navy printed sheer with white hat and accessories. She was assisted by the groom's mother, who wore blue crepe with white hat and accessories. Both wore corsages of pink roses.

On their return from a wedding trip to Toronto and points west Mr. and Mrs. Porter will live at 229 McGill street.

WOMEN DON'T UNDERSTAND MEN'S FAILURE TO GRASP THEIR WILES

Males Give Up Trying to Solve Opposite Sex's Behavior as Human Conundrums

A correspondent asks: "Which sex understands the other the better, the male or the female?" Neither one knows enough about the other to make a kindergarten primer, but, as between the two, women have a greater comprehension of men than men of women.

That is easily accounted for by the fact that, speaking by and large, women have always had to depend upon men for every good thing they got in life. Their houses, their clothes, their jewels, their jobs, their dates, their good times were the largesse bestowed upon them by their fathers, or their husbands, or their boy friends. Hence, it was inevitable that even a female moron would appreciate the necessity of studying the Dispenser of Gifts out of whom she had to wangle the things she wanted.

Men Didn't Study Women

Men, on the other hand, have been under no such compulsion to get a blue print of how women's minds work their wonders to perform. They were the appeased, not the appeasers. They gave and women took, and they didn't have to be diplomatic about it. So there was no use in their wasting any of the time and effort in trying to find out what made their wives' minds click when they might be figuring out some really important thing, like a new technique in golf, or trying to guess which way the stock market is going to jump.

Instead of being ashamed of not understanding the creatures of whom they were born and with whom Fate has destined them to spend most of their lives, men are proud of it and boast of their ignorance as if it were a credit to them instead of being a disgrace. You are forever hearing them say, "Nobody can understand a woman. You never can tell what one is going to do, or how she is going to take a thing. How are you going to deal with a person who sheds tears of joy when she is happy and smiles when you know her heart is breaking; who is scared blue over a mouse, but who will lie down on an operating table, where she knows death probably awaits her, without turning a hair; who will almost kiss your feet with gratitude if you bring her a few scraggly flowers that you picked yourself, and not even say "thank you" for the orchids that you telephoned a florist to send her?"

So most men give up the human conundrum that they call "Mom," or to which they are united in the holy bonds of matrimony, without even trying to solve it, and whether they do this because of laziness or sheer stupidity, or because it keeps them interested and amused to have a living cross word puzzle that they never quite work out, no one knows.

That men, whose happiness and peace and comfort depend so largely upon women, makes so little effort to try to find out how to please them, is a mystery. Look at the way they make love. Mass production. Same old line about where - have - you - been - all-this - time - that - I've - never-met-you; calling every girl "Beautiful," whether she is homely or pretty; same old gag about eyes being violets drenched in dew. Never delving under the girl's pompadour enough to ascertain that she has a few lobes of gray matter concealed there, and that she is just pining for some man to tell her that she is intuitive, or psychic, or intelligent, and that she is the companion he has been seeking as a lifemate and despaired of finding until he met HER. Many a girl says "no" to a suitor when she would say "yes" if he only told her she had a beautiful soul instead of a good complexion.

Flattery For Women Prevents Trips To Reno

And how much strife and unhappiness and alimony it would save husbands if they would only take the trouble to study their wives and find out how to work them. For it is not so much what a man says to his wife as the way he says it, nor what he does as the way he does it that keeps her with her fighting clothes on. She wants to be petted, flattered and admired, and her husband won't bother to dish her out the few compliments that would make her coo like a dove instead of throw tantrums. She wants to be treated like a Lady Love and he persists in regarding her as just a sensible middle-aged woman. Hence, these tears, these scenes, and only too often Reno.

The one thing about men that women never understand is why men don't understand them. They know that they are as transparent as a pane of glass and they live in perpetual wonder that men don't see through their little arts and wiles.

No, men don't understand women and women don't know much about men, which is, perhaps, the reason they interest each other.

Price Control Ration News

The Women's Regional Advisory Committee, Consumer Branch, Central Ontario, Wartime Prices and Trade Board, answers questions put to this paper regarding price control and ration regulations.

Q. We ordered two bags of potatoes for seed last week. The price quoted was six dollars and some odd cents for the two 75 lb. bags. Isn't this too high.

A. Yes. Since June 7 seed potatoes are no longer regarded as seed potatoes and come under the same maximum price regulations as table potatoes.... Maximum retail prices for old and new potatoes now are: Toronto, $2.57 per 75 lb. bag, 75c per 15 lb. peck; Hamilton, $2.58, 58c St. Catharines, $2.59, 58c; Welland, $2.59, 58c; Niagara Falls, $2.59, 58c; Oshawa, $2.57, 57c; Peterborough, $2.25, 57c; Lindsay, $2.55, 57c; Orillia, $2.58, 58c; Bracebridge, $2.59, 58c; Parry Sounnd $2.59, 58c; .... Potatoes sold in less than 15 lb. (or peck) quantity must conform to the per pound rate for pecks.

Q. Last weekend my husband journeying home on leave by train attempted to buy a bottle of pop and was refused unless he bought a bag of peanuts or a chocolate bar. Is this right?

A. No. The Prices Board has ordered discontinuance of the practice by merchants of refusing to sell goods in short supply to customers unless they also buy other goods ....Sale of goods must not be made contingent upon the purchase of other goods. The Board has ruled, however, that merchants needs not sell to any customer unless they so desire.... If you will report particulars in his case to the nearest Board office or to us, the matter will be investigated at once.

Q. Are June canning sugar coupons good until September 30.

A. Yes. Canning sugar coupons marked June may be used to buy sugar anytime until September 30. Similarly, coupons marked July, August and September are also good until September 30.

Q. I board a school teacher. Is this teacher supposed to leave her canning sugar coupons with me now that she is going to her home for the summer? Fresh fruits can be eaten during the two months that teachers are at home. It is only when boarding in the winter that they need to eat canned fruit.

A. This is a problem you and your boarder will have to work out together ....Teachers are not required to leave their canning sugar coupons with their landladies under Board regulations. Surely if you talk things over, you can come to some satisfactory arrangement between yourselves.

Ruth A. Sproule Is Bride Of S. S. Elmhirst

A quiet but attractive wedding attuned to wartime simplicity took place at the parsonage at Woodville on Tuesday when Ruth Agnes, second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Sproule of Woodville, pledged marriage vows with Samuel Scott Elmhirst, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Elmhirst of Hastings, Ontario. The double ring ceremony as performed by Rev. H. S. Warren of Woodville United Church, against a background of ferns, pink and white peonies, and delphiniums.

Given in marriage by her father the bride wore a silver blue corded taffeta jacket suit fitted at the waist and with peplum trim. She wore a matching miniature turban and carried a nosegay of Briarcliffe roses and bouvardia.

Miss Kathleen Campbell, the bride's only attendant, chose a summer suit of shell pink sharkskin with a white pompadour style hat trimmed with pink flowers, and carried a nosegay of pink and white sweet peas and baby's breath. Mr. Everitt Elmhirst was his brother's best man. Miss Myrle Campbell played the wedding music, and during the signing of the register rendered "Ave Maria."

After the ceremony a reception was held for the immediate families and close friends at the home of Mrs. Florence Leas, which was decorated for the occasion with baskets of pink and white peonies and bouquets of roses and syringa.

Mrs. Leas received in a gown of congress blue crepe with a navy picture hat and a corsage of red roses. A buffet luncheon was served.

When Mr. and Mrs. Elmhirst left on a wedding trip to the Highlands of Haliburton the bride was wearing her wedding ensemble and a white straw hat with blue flowers, and white accessories. They will live in Peterborough.

Isabel Young Entertained

Miss Isabel Young, whose wedding takes place Monday, was guest of honor at several showers recently. The employees of the Loblaw Store and their friends entertained at a dinner and shower at the Staff House; Mrs. A. Lacey and Mrs. W. Constable were joint hostesses to her neighbours at a miscellaneous shower held in her honor; her sister, Mrs. J. Morley, was hostess at a china shower attended by about 35 friends at which the bride received many beautiful gifts.

THE STARS SAY . . . .

By GENEVIEVE KEMBLE

For Saturday, July 3.

THIS SHOULD be a day to develop current interests, and put them on a firmer and more enduring basis, mainly by attention to details. Changes may bring unforeseen progress, but in all there is need to be wise in forming definite decisions, as in spots there may be doubts or mental confusion. Social, domestic, artistic and affectional associations give pleasure.

If It Is Your Birthday.

Those whose birthday it is may look for a fair opening to push desired plans and projects to a fortunate climax, largely by the employment of clever, original or unusual revisions, changes or even unique tactics. These should be founded on sound reason and good sense, with adherence to principle rather than expediency, as there is hint of an obscure, illogical plan or idea failing to give satisfaction. Deceptive factors may menace. In social, domestic and romantic affiliations there should be much activity and pleasure.

A child born on this day may possess an astute, shrewd and original mentality, with much stability of character which should carry it to security and success.

GENELECS SNAP LOSING STREAK TO SWAMP WINLESS CARDINALS

Winners Score 26 Runs To Cards Four

Breaking their losing streak after dropping three games in a row the Genelecs slapped out 23 hits and scored in every innings Thursday night to swamp the winless Cardinals, 26 runs to 4, in a City League fixture.

The youthful Cards seemed to lack even the ambition to hustle, and outside of the fielding of young Quigley at third their defensive work was sorry exhibition. They are credited with seven errors, but the misplay column fails to contain all the pop flies that were allowed to drop untouched or the rollers that were turned into hits through slow handling.

Genelecs showed plenty of power at the bat, sparked by Terry Woods and Jack Tucker. The Halifax member of the pitching staff who filled in at centre field for the winners had five safe blows in six trips to the plate while Tucker hammered out a double, triple and home run. Incidentally he was used at short stop and turned in a fine fielding card as well.

Manager Johnston selected Bill Moorhead as his gunner for the night and he pitched very effective ball, keeping the nine Cardinal hits well scattered and allowing only two bases on balls.

The game was a parade so far as the scoring was concerned. Genelecs broke in with three runs in the first after the first two hands were down on a double by Tucker, Mowry's timely single and Cadd's triple to centre on which the batter also scored when Patterson dropped the ball in tagging him at the plate.

A pass to Giardino and Woods' double to right added another in the second and in the third singles by Cadd and Woods, a fielder's choice, a pass to Giardino and a couple of errors were responsible for three more.

Tucker homered through Detlor in left field to add another marker in the fourth. Singles by Akers and Giardino and an error by Wade on Woods' roller filled the bases in the fifth. McNabb drove in two runs with a double, Moorhead's fly to left sent in Woods, Tucker got a triple on a high short fly back of third, McNabb scoring. Mowry singled to send Tucker in and he eventually scored himself on a passed ball.

The Genelecs hammered away until the finish, adding four runs in each of the last three innings they batted.

Cardinals scored two of their runs in the second. With two out Doughty scratched an infield hit and McVane singled over Tucker's head. Passes to Jackson and Thomas forced in Doughty. Wade singled to centre, scoring McVane, but Jackson was out at the plate, McNabb to Tucker to Mowry, when he tried to score from second on the play.

In the third Isaacs doubled to centre and scored when Quigley bunted and Moorhead threw low to first. Cadd was spiked on the hand in the play and had to retire for medical attention.

That was all the Cardinal scoring until the eighth when they added a fourth run. Patterson singled but was forced by Detlor. On Doughty's tap Detlor was out. McVane tripled to centre, scoring Doughty but Jackson fanned to end the agony.

The fur should be flying at Riverside Park tonight when two clubs, both smarting from a one-side trimming after a winning streak will clash. The battlers will be the C.G.E. Switch Gear team which was blanked 24 to 0 by the 4th Battery Wednesday night and the Combines who were on the short end of a 19 to 11 score when they met the Soldiers Tuesday. Tonight's tussle will have an important effect on the standing. Combines, by winning, can tie the Military Training Centre. On the other hand, should the Switch Gear come down in front they will climb up into second place. Here is the standing:

Soldiers	4	1	.800
Combines.	3	1	.750
4th Battery..	2	2	.500
Switch Gear.	2	2	.500
Genelecs..	2	3	.400
Cardinals	0	4	.000

Either Sid Craig or Freddy Elliott will do the throwing for the Combines tonight. The Switch Gear may start Lionel Holmes if he has recovered from the injury that sent him out of Monday night's game. It should be a lively battle.

The best game of the season in the Girls' Softball League should eventuate tonight when the two chief contenders for the loop senior honors, the Westclockers, leading the parade and the Aircraft, holding the second spot, will clash at the Bowl at 7 o'clock. There is keen rivalry between the two outfits and both are taking this battle very seriously. That was shown last night when in spite of all the games they have been playing the two outfits were both out for a pre-game workout. Both will dig out their strongest possible battle array and the tussle should be full of interest from start to finish. Neither manager has announced the name of his starting pitcher but a good guess is that it will be Marg Watson for the Big Bens and Norma Strickland for the Aircrafters. Isobel Bullock will do the catching for the champions and Annette DeCarlo will likely be behind the bat for the club from the C.G.E. The Westclockers will not be seen in action after tonight for over two weeks. The biggest crowd of the campaign will be out to see what looks like the toughest argument so far in the Girls' League.

A Promising Card

Promoter Frank Tunney evidently is a shrewd judge of what the wrestling fans around Peterborough want for he has re-matched Joe Maich, the Brantford grappler, and Irish Pat Flanagan of Toronto for Monday's show at the Brock Street Summer Gardens and he has promoted the brawl up to the head-liner slot. The boys earned that distinction by the classy argument they staged here last Monday when they put on what many fans regard as the best bout that has been seen here during the current revival. Maich is a speedy and clever grappler and Flanagan also has plenty of free-wheeling ability for a big man and the result is that every minute of their clash was packed with action. The lively tussle came to an abrupt ending when the two men rolled out of the ring and were hurt. Fortunately however, the injury to Flanagan was not nearly as bad as feared at first and he is ready to battle Maich all over again Monday night. With this classy main bout following the appearance here of one of the greatest freaks in the wrestling game, the huge Martin Levy, otherwise the Blimp, in a bizarre battle with the roughhouse Doc Felice, Monday night's card looms up as about the best Tunney has handed out here and it should pack in the customers.

Official scoring averages in the City League, not including last night's game show that 23 players in the loop are hitting .300 or better. The leader of the parade is Eddie Starr, peppery catcher of the 4th Battery club who is powdering the pill at a .619 clip for four games. The Gunners' backstop has cracked out 13 hits in 21 trips to the plate and his string includes two triples and seven doubles for a total of 24 base. Frank McCormick, centre fielder, and Cal Nicholls, shortstop of the Combines are next in line with .538 and .533 respectively. The figures show that the 4th Battery has several players in the .300 or better class, the Soldiers five, the Combines, Genelecs and Switch Gear three each and the Cardinals two. Starr of course leads the Battery hitters, McCormick is tops for the Combines, Tom Parsons heads the Soldiers, Jack Tucker the Genelecs, Barney Ashmore is out in front for the Switch Gear and Don Isaacs is leading batter for the Cardinals. Two of the youngest players in the loop, Jack Carpenter of Switch Gear and Bill Greatrix of the Cardinals are well up there, the former hitting .467 for five games and the latter .400 for four.

Reds Take Dodgers

Brooklyn Dodgers and the Cincinnati Reds must have been celebrating Dominion Day Thursday. At least they staged a parade of pitchers in a game that very much resembled one of the old time diamond tussles between the wine clerks and the cigar-makers. Cincinnati finally won the marbles when they pushed over the winning run by scoring two in the twelfth after the Bums had apparently salted the game away by pushing across a marker in the first half of the frame. The Reds had their batting togs on, hammering the Brooklyn pitching for 19 solid blows. It was old Buck Newsom who was finally tagged for the loss when he came in after a flock of other Brooklyn pitchers while the veteran Ray Starr, also interjected into the game late got credit for the win. Lonnie Frey of the Reds hit his first homer of the season. Another National League feature was the convincing five-hitter pitched by Schoolboy Rowe for the Phillies to beat the Pirates 6 to 1. It was Rowe's seventh win of the season. It shouldn't be news that the Chicago Cubs beat the Boston Braves again. If they only had to meet the Braves the Windy City club would be automatic world champions.

In the American League yesterday the Washington Senators lost a chance to pick up a game at the expense of the Yanks for while the New Yorkers were kicking away their contest with the Cleveland Indians the Washington club was being tied in knots by the effective pitching of Bill Dietrich and lost to the White Sox. The Yanks were in a generous mood when they met the Tribe and practically gave away the three runs that saw them beaten 3 to 2. Charlie Wensloff who seems to have plenty of luck but all of it bad was the victim while Al Smith won for the Indians, his sixth triumph of the campaign. The game at Chicago was a pitcher's battle between Dietrich and Early Wynn for the Senators. Dietrich allowed the Senators only four safe blows and the White Sox bunched hits on Wynn in the seventh for the two runs that meant the ball game. Don Black of the A's and Bob Muncrief of the Browns had another pitching duel, finally won by the St. Louis club when Black who had only allowed two hits weakened in the eleventh and was beaten 2 to 1. The pitching in the American League yesterday was effective all around and the bull-pen had an easy day.

Sporting Chili Con Carne: President Norman Lewis has called an important meeting of the executive of the City League tonight at Riverside Park....A full attendance is requested....Cliff Cadd, first baseman of the Genelecs had his wrist badly spiked in the third inning of last night's game....Quigley bunted and Moorhead threw low to first....Cadd was grabbing for the ball when runner accidentally stepped on his hand, puncturing the wrist....The teams in the girls' loop take their softball seriously....There was an off night in the schedule last night so three clubs the Westclox, Aircraft and Electrics all staged a practice as a sort of a bus man's holiday....There seems to be some reason for suspecting that the City Softball League is not a pitcher's loop this season. In the last three games the Soldiers, Combines, 4th Battery, Genelecs and Cards have piled up a grand total of 86 runs....The Church League juvenile final round is all tied up with All Saints coming through last

Lola Grattan Wins Free-for-All

PEMBROKE, Ont., July 2—(CP)—T. E. McCool, Pembroke horseman, won most of the prize money at the fourth annual race meet of the Pembroke Driving Club here Thursday. He won firsts in all three heats of the free-for-all and the hotelmen's stake for green horses, as well as a first and two seconds in the 2.18.

Ted Craig, of Kingston, Ont., won the 2.24 with Alf Lee, and drove Lola Gratton, winner of the free-for-all, and Captain Stout, which was in the money in all heats of the race.

Best time of the day was registered by Lola Gratton, which stepped 2.13½ to win the last heat of the free-for-all—about five seconds lower than the track record.

Lola Gratton took the free-for-all in straight heats with Pine Ridge Babe, owned by Art Potvin, placing second and Bert Patch's the Old Campaigner coming in third. Eleven Colts were entered in the stake race but only nine went to the post.

Captain Stout was the favorite, but his stable mate, Ivy Lee, took first money in the first two heats. Colonel Lee, owned by C. Sandrelli, of North Bay, Ont., was second in the first heat, but dropped back to third in the second heat. In the final, Ivy Lee broke badly and Captain Stout won, with Colonel Lee second.

After running second to St. Genevieve Girl in the first heat of the 2.24, Ted Crair's Alf Lee took the next two eats, with St. Genevieve Girl second and Miss Topic, owned by J. Shaver of Morewood, Ont., third.

The 2.18 went to McCool's Abbey Patch, with Shaver's Miss Mabel E. Peters second and Jimmie Gratton, owned by G. L. Reid, taking third money.

LAWN BOWLING

By HERB MARTIN

In the majority of schedule games played Thursday evening it was nip and tuck for about three-quarters of the game and then the break came. Usually it came following a well played shot and once or twice it was when Lady Luck helped a little. However, it's all in the game and besides one side has to win and one side lose.

The ladies started off on the second half of their schedule Thursday afternoon and evening and the way they are playing, we hesitate to even make a guess as to the outcome. Their rinks certainly have improved a lot since the schedule started and any one of them might make a "Whirlaway" finish.

Have you made your entry for Monday's tournament?
their old friend Walter Oke out

The boys were sure glad to see once more. They did give him a real welcome. Walter says he will be bowling shortly. We all hope so.

The men's tournament for tonight is scheduled for 7.30 o'clock. Be on time.

Over at Oshawa yesterday they held their annual mixed tournament with thirty-two rinks entered from all around this district. Our club was represented with three rinks. To Charlie Renaud's rink goes the honour of taking the prize for high two wins. He had with him Mrs. C. Renaud, Miss J. Walker and E. L. Sackville. The ladies received silk parasols and the gents windbreakers.

Patty Berg Moves Into Top Bracket

CHICAGO, July 2—(AP).—Sportswriter Dot Kirby of Atlanta, Ga., and the gallant comebacker, Patty Berg, of Minneapolis, shot sub-par golf at Glen Oak yesterday to dispose of their young Eastern rivals and move into the 36-hole championship round of the women's Western open.

The 23-year-old Southerner sharpshooter, returning to the peak of her game after making a name for herself with smashing successes in 1939, was two under par in defeating Dot Germain, long-hitting Philadelphian, 3 and 1.

Patty reached the best form of her comeback campaign in a 7 and 6 victory over English-born Catherine Fox of Glen Ridge, N.J. The former "Girl Wonder" was one below regulation figures during the match, keeping intact her record in this tourment—her first competition in 18 months — of never being pressed beyond 15 holes to win.

Today's final will be the first meeting between Patty and Dot Kirby since 1939, when they drew each other twice in two tournaments during the winter golfing tour in Florida. Patty was the winner the first time, but Dot eliminated her the second.

King Edwards Oppose Detroit Stars

TORONTO, July 2.—Soccer is rapidly becoming a major sport in the United States and recently has been the subject of much discussion in the American sports pages. The question is whether the faster type of game played by the Americans is more crowd-pleasing than the English or Canadian type of methodical play.

Toronto fans will have an opportunity to decide for themselves Saturday night when the first international game in years will be played at Ulster Stadium. This tilt will bring together the King Edward Hotelmen and Detroit All-Stars.

Undefeated in nine exhibition games this season against the top-notch R.A.F. and American clubs the All-Stars have scored 36 goals, with 17 against them.

Johnny Neilson, Detroit, centre half, is easily te most outstanding player. Joe Carrill, goalie, learned his football in Europe and played as a regular with Prague City in the Czechoslovakia League. He is one of the most colorful goalies in the United States and fans who watch him Saturday will thrill to the daring moves he makes to foil the oppostion.

The fullbacks are Williamson and Coombes, from Scotland and England, respectively. The right half is Jeff Coombes, another Englishman from Plymouth. The left half is Andy Clemen from Glasgow Cel-

The Sports Round-Up

By HUGH FULLERTON, Jr.
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, July 2— (AP). — Maybe you think things are a bit dull in the sports line, but the word is they're having a right good season in Northern Africa....We have this straight from Cpl. Vince Murphy, occasional contributor to this column and son of Sports Editor Jimmy Murphy of the Canton (Ill.) Daily Ledger.

V-Mail.

Probably the most interesting event yet pulled off in N. Africa, excluding Rommel's bicycle act," Vince writes, "was a softball game played recently for a $2,000 pot. It seems that a news story praising a team composed of a group of former Texas softballers playing under the name of 'Texans' was read by members of a mid-western unit whose ball club is called the "Omvacs." The Omvacs claimed a prior victory over the Texans and allowed they could repeat. Upshot of the discussion was the decision that each team would wager 1,000 skins on a winner-take-all basis. Partisans of both teams were quick to colect funds to back their favorites and the game drew 3,000 fans. The Omvacs took the decision, 6-4."

Best Bet.

Nat Fleischer, historian of the ring, whose latest list shows 3,068 professional boxers and about twice as many amateurs in the armed forces, also has been hearing from Northern Africa....weekly fight shows in Tunisia have been drawing big crowds he reports and when American soldier scrappers meet up with native boxers the boys really lay their dough on the line to back their favorites.

Domestic Dept.

Gloria (Ummm) Callen, the swimmer who recently turned pro, now is reported listening to an offer to do a female Tarzan for the movies ....When Clark Shaughnessy collected his first Pitt football squad for practice the other day, he told them, "we will have as many as 10,000 pass plays"....

Curtwright Holds .362 Average Tops Veterans

By JUDSON BAILEY
Associated Press Sport Writer

Since Joe DiMaggio swept through his spectacular 56-game hitting streak two years ago every other consqecutive - game hitting performance has been dwarfed into insignificance.

But a little known rookie outfielder for Chicago White Sox, Guy Paxton Curtright, right now is nursing a hot hitting streak that has reached 26 games and it rates attention from the fans not only because it is the longest of the year but because it has made Curtright currently the leading batter in the major leagues.

His average to-day was a glossy .362, 10 points better than Babe Dahlgren of the Phillies, the National League leader, and 24 better than Vernon Stephens of St. Louis Browns, who has been the American League pace-maker most of the spring.

Bats Right Hand.

Curtright is a chunky right-handed hitter whom the White Sox brought up from St. Paul this spring. He is 30 years old and except for the war might not yet be in the big league. Last year he batted .291 for the Giants and even though he hit 13 home runs, batted in only 45 tallies in 101 games.

He made only one hit yesterday, but this was a lusty triple and it kept his streak going even though it dd not figure in the Sox' 2-0 triumph over Washington Senators. Credit for this went to the effective four-hit hurling of Bill Dietrich. Both Chicago runs came on three hits in the seventh inning.

Yankees Lose

Cleveland Indians were given a 3 to 2 decision over New York Yankees when rookie Charley Wensloff walked two men with the bases loaded in the first inning to force in two runs and catcher Ken Sears fumbled a grounder with two out in the eighth to let in the Indians' other run.

Detroit, outhit 12-7 nosed out Boston Red Sox 3-2 when Ned Harris singled with the bases loaded in the ninth and St. Louis Browns trampled Philadelphia Athletics with a 2-1 11-inning victory.

In the National League Brooklyn lost a wild 10-9 12-inning verdict to Cincinnati and missed a chance to move fractionally ahead of the idle St. Louis Cardinals in first place.

The game lasted 3½ hours during which 32 hits were made off 10 pitchers and a total of 36 players saw service. Manager Leo Durocher using all but five of the 25 men on his squad, Brooklyn belted Bucky Walters off the mound with a four-run outburst in the second inning, then the Reds retaliated with four runs off Johnny Allen in the fourth, moved into a 8-5 lead and were caught in the eighth through a triple by Arky Vaughan, who altogether batted in five runs.

The Reds scored twice off Bobo Newsom in the 12th and Elmer Riddle gave one of these back but he snuffed out the threat in time.

Chicago nosed out Boston Braves 6-5 for the seventh time this season and Philadelphia divided a doubleheader with Pittsburgh. Schoolboy Rowe pitched five - hit ball to win the first game 6-1 and Bob Klinger nailed the second with seven-hit hurling.

Canadian Sport Snapshots

By CHARLES EDWARDS
Canadian Press Staff Writer

TORONTO, July 2 (CP) — Before the war a football manager losing a couple of players through retirement or residence change during the off-season would squawk to high heaven. His team would be "ruined". Now, with the great majority of athletes in the armed forces, moved hither and yon and back again almost over night, manager of any team counts himself fortunate if he sees one familiar face when the boys turn out for their pre-season work-outs Consequently there is no beefing in the Hamilton Wildcats football camp although Tommy Moore of the Hamilton Spectator says it would be possible to count the number of last year's Wildcat team that are still available for duty on the fingers of one hand.

But here's a beef:

Myrtle (Montreal Star) Cook questions choice of September 3 and 4 as dates for the Canadian championship swim meet to be held in Winnipeg She says the dates are too close to the opening of the Fall school term to permit some Easterners to make the trip.

Athletes at war:

LAC. Larry Haynes, former all-star end with Calgary Bronks and Vancouver Grizzlies in the Western Interprovincial Football Union and for one year coach of Bronks, is stationed with the R. C. A. F. at High River, Alta. Larry reports that Johnny McKee, former United States gridder who played a sensational game at snapback for the Bronks, is missing in action with the United States Army Force.... Gaye Stewart, the National Hockey League's rookie of the year in 1942-43 with Toronto Maple Leafs, has been training with the navy at London, Ont., but is being posted for an officers' training course.

Incidentally:

Karl Keefer, for 32 years professional of the Royal Ottawa Golf Club until his retirement this year, was presented with a $1,000 war bond as a gift of members ....Harness racing is enjoying a mild boom in the Maritimes. The Buctouche track, one of the most popular in New Brunswick is resuming operations after a two years' lapse .... Johnny Gottselig, Chicago Black Hawks veteran, was enabled to continue coaching the Racine Club in the All-American Girls Professional Softball League because the United States Army turned him down.

Racing Classic Goes To Empire

ALBANY, N.Y., July 1—(AP).—Transfer of the $40,000 Hambletonian, harness racing classic, from Goshen to the Empire City track at Yonkers in connection with a six-weeks meet sponsored by New York's major trotting associations, was agreed upon last night, due to travel restrictions.

The joint meet will run from July 26 through Labor Day with the Hambletonian, held at Goshen since 1930, scheduled for August 11.

President William H. Cane of the Goshen Mile Track Association, who had previously said he hoped to keep the Hambletonian at Goshen, was recorded in favor of the shift necessitated by Federal restrictions against pleasure driving.

The Goshen Association will sponsor its own three-day meet at Empire City, August 10-12.

Hagerty said the joint meeting is expected to be a grand circuit affair, featuring outstanding trotting horses, and added provision also will be made for half-mile-track horses "so necessary to the successful conduct of an extended race meet."

Conger Pitches 8-Hit Ball Beat Orioles

By The Associated Press

Dick Conger, star pitcher for Toronto Maple Leafs, apparently is determined to bow out of the International League in fine style.

Recently purchased by Philadelphia Phillies the right hander chalked up his 10th victory--and his second in two days—by twirling an eight-hitter against Baltimore last night for a 3 to 2 triumph. It was the fourth straight win for the league leaders, they have defeated the Orioles by the same score in a morning encounter.

Conger, who beat Syracuse in a relief role Wednesday night, yielded a run in the first inning on Bob Repass' double and George Staller's single, but held the Orioles safe thereafter until the ninth when Del Jones tripled and scored on Sammy Bell' one-baser.

Meanwhile, with Al Rubeling again contributing yeoman duty, the Leafs tied the score in the second on Rubeling's single and won out in the eighth on a single by Red Kress, a walk and hit by Rubeling and Harry Davis.

2 For Montreal

Montreal took both ends of a doubleheader from Syracuse, 8-3 and 3-0, behind the effective pitching of Bob Chipman and Hal Gregg. Chipman had a one-hitter until the ninth inning of the opener when he yielded three singles and a double good for three runs. Gregg turned in a three-hit shutout in the afterpiece.

A homer by Dixie Howell with the bases loaded climaxed a six-run uprising for the Royals in the seventh inning of the first game.

Adam Bengoechea's sixth inning homer gave Buffalo and Floyd Giebell a 2-1 victory over Newark in a nip-and-tuck struggle. Newark filled the bases with one out in the ninth, but Pinchhitter Drescher smacked into a double play.

Led by Al Schoendienst who hit a homer and two singles Rochester Red Wings shelled two Jersey City pitchers for 12 hits and an easy 11-4 triumph. A six-run outburst against relief twirler Bob Wells in the seventh put the game on ice.

Champion Meets Gunder Haegg

CHICAGO, July 2 — (CP).— A quiet, bespectacled minister of the gospel will meet Gunder Haegg in a two-mile race in Soldier Field tonight with a definite plan of defeating the Swedish shadow.

The clergymen is Boston University's Gil Dodds, National A.A. U. 1,500 metres champion. Dodds believes he can defeat Sweden's minister of good-will, making his second engagement in the United States, on the basis of his trials. Dodds tsepped a sizzling mile and a half in 6.45, fastest training mark ever seen in Harvard's Stadium, and if he can carry that pace two more quarters, he's fit to go after Haegg's world record of 8:47.8.

Dodds, always a front runner and an ideal type to force the skinny-looking Haegg out fast during the first mile said he came to Chicago to run his own race and vows that the pattern of his race will be "to beat Haegg."

Nationals Win 8-3

STRATFORD, July 2 — (CP). — Hugh McGillivray, shortstop of the Stratford Nationals, made a name for himself in inter-county senior baseball, by pitching his team to an 8-3 triumph over Ingersoll Combines, striking out 10 of the visitors in the process. Catcher Miskimmons of the Nats, leading swatsmith of the loop, failed to get a safety in four times up.

Scouting Party Wipes Out 100 Germans

LONDON July 2 (CP)—A strong Red Army scouting party, storming across a river into German trenches after laying a barrage on the positions, blew up two German blockhouses and other enemy installations in a sector of the western front, the Soviet noon communique announced today.

More than 100 Germans were killed in the foray and German guns in the area were put out of commission, the war bulletin said. It was recorded by the Soviet Radio Monitor here from a Moscow broadcast.

Five German bombers and two fighter planes were shot down out of a formation of nine bombers and three fighters that attempted to raid a town west of Rostov, and two more German bombers were brought down in the Leningrad area by gunners on a Soviet armored train which the Germans attempted to attack, the Russians said.

Earlier, on the Leningrad front, Red Army artillery wiped out attacking German infantrymen, the Russians announced.

A Moscow broadcast early today bore out German radio claims that the Kuban area of the Caucasus was stirring with new activity. Russian fliers were said to have pounded at Taman, on the Kerch Strait opposite the Crimea, an entry point into the Caucasus, and the Germans asserted their fliers were smashing at Russian shipping in the Black Sea and in the Sea of Azov.

The Germans also hinted they had submarines operating in the Black Sea.

The Russian midnight communique declared at least 1,000 Germans were killed and barracks and munitions were blown up in a Red air force raid June 23 on Pskov, near the Estonian border.

by combines enemy plane and submarine action of the 7,712 ton transport McCawley after its troops had been put ashore).

Allied casualties to date in the Solomons operations were said by a spokesman for General MacArthur to be light.

In heavy support of the Solomons operations, Allied naval units and planes blasted the enemy air bases at Vila and Munda while other surface craft moved even further up the Solomon chain to hit the Japanese in the Balance-Faisi area.

Land Without Loss

On New Guinea near Salamaua, fighting was reported without a clear indication of the progress. Forces which landed at Nassau Bay, 12 miles down the coast from Salamaua, did not lose a man in getting ashore, MacArthur's spokesman said.

Australian patrols in the Salamaua area were reported to be seeking a junction from a point inland with the Americans on the beach. Twelve miles south of Salamaua in the inland Mubo area, Australian patrols sought out enemy forces and succeeded in killing 26 as well as wounding many others.

Continuously striving to pin to the ground the enemy's potent air strength at Rabaul, New Britain, Allied bombers sent 22 tons of bombs down on its three airdromes Thursday, following up an attack Wednesday in which 23 tons were dropped.

Swarms of attack planes and medium bombers likewise afford effective support for the Salamaua invaders, machine-gunning enemy installations and troops.

Despite complete absence of reports concerning the unopposed landings off the Papuan Peninsula of New Guinea on Woodlark and Trobriand Islands, it was assumed early activity there would include construction of airdromes for use against New Britain to the north.

Other far ranging blows struck yesterday by Allied planes included the sinking of a small enemy boat off the Tanimbar Islands above Darwin, the damaging of two float planes over Buka passage in the northern Solomons and attacks on enemy Sampans in the St. Mathias group of islands northwest of New Britain.

Gaspe Coast Watchers Guard "Little Gibraltar" From Planes

John H. Renwick Dies In Toronto

TORONTO, July 2.—Prominent in church musical circles, John Henry Renwick, organist and choirmaster of Alhambra United Church for the past 14 years, died suddenly yesterday at his home, 63 Woodside Avenue.

As a boy, he sang as a chorister in the Church of St. George the Martyr, and his first position as organist was with Immanuel Baptist Church, Toronto. While organist and choirmaster at St. Philip's Anglican Church he raised the funds for the installation of an organ there. Later he was named by the late Dr. A. S. Vogt as his successor as organst at St. Thomas' Anglican Church. From 1901 to 1909 he was organist and choirmaster of Port Hope Methodist Church, and for 17 years served in the same capacity with George Street Methodist Church, Peterborough. Prior to returning to Toronto in 1929 he was organist and choirmaster at Simcoe United Church, Oshawa.

Mr. Renwick organized the Peterborough Male Voice Choir and also the Port Hope Philharmonic Society and Glee Club. In former years he was widely known in bowling and curling circles throughout Ontario.

Surviving are his widow, Alice Louise Klinger Renwick, former church soloist, and son, John F. W. Renwick.

equalities as between districts, the total amount available being distributed by local ration boards.

Mr. Graydon said the Board should never again advertise that housewives should undertake canning and give no indication that a limitation on the sugar supply would be imposed later.

Mr. Ilsley agreed that the idea of canning had been "over-sold" by advertisements.

Mothers Must Work

At opening of the sitting, Prime Minister Mackenzie King said in a Dominion Day statement that the new year of Canada's existence beginning yesterday would witness the country's supreme effort. He said the people during the year "may be called upon to pass through an ordeal greater than any our country has ever experienced" which would demand steadiness, determination and the utmost unity.

Labor Minister Mitchell made a statement on an item of $120,000 for payments to provinces in connection with organizing and operating day nurseries and like facilities.

He said the majority opinion tended to favor mothers remaining in the house rather than working, but war conditions made it necessary to accept the offers to work in industry made by women with children. A high standard of day nurseries had been demanded. In general, parents paid a fee of 35 cents a day for one child and an additional 15 or 20 cents for a second child cared for in the nurseries.

At present 14 day nurseries were operating in Quebec and Ontario cities, along with 16 school units, accommodating 1,750 children in all.

Mrs. Dorise W. Nielsen (Unity, North Battleford) said the accommodation provided was insufficient and arrangements must be made to continue the facilities after the war.

CAMPBELLFORD

Cheese Factories At Peak Production

CAMPBELLFORD, July 2 — (ENS) — Cheese factories of the Campbellford and Peterborough district have about reached their peak production for the season in the opinion of salesmen at the regular Board meeting here Thursday.

A toal of 2,700 boxes of white were offered by thirty-one factories and divided among ten buyers. The price was 20 cents, F. O. B. Campbellford.

The total offerings represented an increase of more than five hundred boxes over what had been sold at the board meeting on June 17. For July 8 practically the same amount of cheese was boarded and it will go to the salesmen who selected that particular factory for the current week.

The boarding was as follows with the second figure representing the amount offered for July 8— Avonbank, 120, 120; Beaver, 92, 92; Brae 39, 39; Craw Bay, 99, 99; Cedar Creek, 100, 100; Empire, 98, 92; Hoards, 99, 93; Ideal, 115, 115; I. The unit, 226 strong, is waiting for orders to proceed overseas.

Sweepgold Runs Sixth In Western Race

WINNIPEG, July 2—At Polo Park, Western Prince, a strapping bay colt, who was foaled only a few miles from this pleasant racing plant, ran a smashing race Thursday to win the third renewal of the $5,000 Canadian Derby.

Sweepgold Fades.

The aptly-named Prince won by a length and a half from Baby Broom, owende by H. A. Shepherd of Medicine Hat. Paddy Goeasy, a British Columbia-bred colt, was third, while Harry Hatch's Sweepgold finished sixth in an eight-horse field. Sweepgold was in front after the field had gone seven of the 10 furlongs, but he stopped badly when Western Prince swept past him.

Although Western Prince is a Manitoba colt, it was, in a sense, an Eastern triumph, because he is owned by Mrs. D. C. Coleman of Montreal. Western Prince was bred by R. James Speers of Winnipeg, the promoter of the Canadian Derby and he was sold to Mrs. Coleman as a yearling. The big colt has more than paid his way—his win Thursday was worth $4,755, while Mr. Speers received an additional $250 as breeder of the winner.

It was a horse race from wire to wire, and the 15,000 customers were standing up bellowing themselves hoarse while the seven colts and one filly fought it out over the gruelling mile and one-quarter route.

A Story Attached.

It was a horse race and there's a story behind it.

Western Prince ran coupled as an entry with Amar's Gift, the famous 37-cent filly owned by Scotty Kennedy of Winnipeg. Both horses are trained by Duke Campbell, the quiet personable horseman who is well known on the Ontario tracks Omars Gift is strictly a sprinter but Owner Kennedy entered her to run as a pacemaker for the big Prince.

Omar's Gift performed her task to perfection. Not only did she set the pace, but she took Sweepgold—the red hot favorite from the East—by the head and choked him off after seven furlongs.

Sweepgold came out of the gate like a cannonball, but before he had gone an eighth of a mile, Omar's Gift was running with him head-and-head. Jockey Gus Dye had Western Prince sailing along smothly in third place, 3 lengths off the pace.

As they passed the stands the first time, Omar's Gift and Sweepgold were racing like a team, but Jockey Gail Smith held Omar's Gift even with the Hatch colt instead of letting her take the field.

Then, when the front runners began to stagger, Dye clucked twice to the Prince. The big horse switched his tail and roared past them like an express train as the field mizzled down the backstretch. Three furlongs from home, the Coleman racer was three lengths on top—but the race wasn't over yet!

A Great Challenge.

A five-to-one shot named Baby Broom made a charge at the flying Prince. As they headed into the stretch, Baby Broom actually reached the Prince's tail. But then Dye knocked on Western Prince's left flank and the big fellow pulled out to increase his lead slightly in the drive.

Sweepgold was an odds-on favorite at nine to ten. Western Prince and Omar's Gift were held at three to two.

The race was run in 2:13—which was creditable enough in view of the fact that the track was very dull. In addition, none of the starters ever had essayed the 10-furlong route previously.

Western Prince will be shipped east in September to run in the Breeders' Stakes at the Woodbine.

Cavan Newlyweds Honored By Friends

MILLBROOK, July 2—(ENS).—A community gathering of peculiar interest, representative of the village and countryside and attended by well over one hundred and fifty guests, was held in the town hall, Millbrook, on Tuesday evening to do honor to a bride and groom of recent date, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence S. Ball, who have but newly returned from their honeymoon and taken up residence on the groom's farm on Fallis Line.

The stage was lovely with summer blossoms, J. H. McKnight acting as chairman, and inviting the guests of honor to seats on the platform, when Eric Fallis read an appreciative address, and Allie Fallis presented them with a handsome cabinet of silver in the Lovelace pattern. Mr. Ball made suitable reply on behalf of his wife and himself, and afterward dancing was enjoyed, music being furnished by Misses Maretta Elgar Dorothy Porter and Messrs. Bob and Jack Patton.

Police Arrest Murder Suspect

COCHRANE, Ont., July 2—(AP).—Provincial police said today they were holding Wilfrid Desroches, 23, on a charge of murder following the death in hospital here last night of Mrs. Jean Baptiste April of nearby Driftwood.

They said Desroches had admitted shooting the woman and her husband and tearing off her clothes.

April and his wife were brought to hospital here following the shooting and officials said the man stood a chance to recover.

Desroches was arrested as he was coming from the scene of the shooting in an alleged stolen car. Police first received word of the shooting when the wounded April drove his team to the store in Driftwood.

Police said Desroches admitted he had acted alone in the shooting.

Quake Hits Japan Houses Damaged

LONDON, July 2 — (CP). — A Tokyo broadcast, recorded by Reuters New Agency, reported to-day that buildings in Tokyo were shaken by an earthquake of a minute's duraion, which caused thousands of persons to run into the streets in search of safety.

A Tokyo radio broadcast, recorded by the Ministry of Information, said the center of the shock was located at Shimotsuma, about 50 miles northeast of the Japanese capital. In Tokyo damage was said to have been confined to the walls of older houses.

Dummer School Makes $22 For War Victims

For the past eight consecutive days, practical evidence of the interest children and young people have been taking in the welfare of those who have suffered through air raid attacks over Britain has been demonstrated in splendid fashion through one or more contributions appearing to their credit in this column on behalf of the Peterborough and District British War Victims Fund.

This has not been confined to the city only, for they have appeared from wide spread parts of the district, two more of which appear in to-day's list on behalf of the fund to amplify this particular phase of the activities sponsored by them to give help to those in need.

For to-day, School Section No. 4 Dummer takes the lead, where a dance was held in the Schoolhouse at Pleasant Plains on June 26 and in spite of very hot weather a capacity crowd gave their support with music supplied by local talent in the persons of Mark Freeburn and N. Hamblin from which the nice sum of $22.00 was realized and is credited in their name to-day through Mrs. McCaw, the teacher who undoubtedly gave good leadership on behalf of the cause for which they were working, and the results speak for themselves.

Then from John McKerchar, who represents the fund in the near-by centre of Lakefield comes four different donations which include $10 from School Section, No. 6, Smith, where Reginald McCormick of Lakefield is the teacher, a final act to their particular school year which should ever be remembered by the boys and girls, for it adds a touch which will ever stand as one of the worth-while features of their associations together in school life.

A nice personal donaiton of $5.00 is included in this list from Lakefield, which was given by Mrs. M. E. Spence, and two penny box collections were included which came from the Royal Bank, and the Coronation Inn.

Thursday's account of receipts in the main article credited the Old Age Pension and Mother's Allowance Board of the County of Peterborough with a contribution of $7.50, and in error the sum of $5.00 appeared in the figure column listed below the article itself, so in order to make no uncertainty, it is listed once more in to-day's column.

This Saturday, two members of the Get Together Club will be in attendance at the regular stall on the market to promote the sale of tickets for a draw they are holding on a quilt, the full proceeds of which is to come to the fund, and then two young girls, both of whom assisted only a short while ago in the tag day, in the persons of Barbara Luther and Doreen Goodfellow are holding a bazaar at 583 Park Street to again give a helping hand to the fund.

LIEUT. SYDNEY W. BRECKEN

Home after two years service in the Royal Navy, Lieut. Sydney Wilson Brecken, S.B., R.C.N.V.R., is visiting his father, S. S Brecken of Norwood He was one of three Canadian officers on board the Dorsetshire which was sunk in the Bay of Bengal on April 5, 1942. Lieut. Brecken was in the water 29 hours before being picked up by a British ship. For the past year he has seen some service in South Africa. He is a Norwood boy and is an honor graduate of Queen's University.

Seven men and one woman were taken into the Royal Canadian Air Force over the period of the last week, most of them coming from Peterborough itself. The men were: T. J. NOLAN, Claraday P.O.; P. D. DRAIN, 146 Hunter street; J. H. T. FERGUSON, 126 Lansdowne street; D. M. AGNEW, Wilberforce; G. J. ARCAND, 564 Charlotte street; J. A. KAY, 536 Chamberlain street; and C. H. FEE, 245 Princess street. MISS HELEN G. BULLIED, 162 Albertus street, is a recruit of the Women's Division. She was formerly employed at the Brinton Carpet Company.

A letter from Lieut. Donald Weese contains the information that CPL. TONY BASCIANO who went overseas with the Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry Highlanders from Peterborough, has been promoted to the rank of Sergeant.

His Worship Mayor Hamilton received a letter from ROLAND HALCROW in the R.C.N.V.R. which he read to the Finance committee Wednesday night. The letter suggested that Peterborough submit a request to have a corvette named after it. The writer apparently had not been informed that action was taken in this matter some weeks ago. Halcrow stated that he thought it would be a fitting tribute and would have the effect of making the Peterborough boys feel that their home town is backing the attack to the limit. He wrote that he had seen NORMAN BROWN, WILLIAM LOUIS, FRED GARVEY, LOUIS JACKSON and JAMES KING, all of Peterborough, and said that many of the boys had been taking part as guards of honor in the opening of new naval barracks.

FO. GERALD FITZGERALD

Word has been received by Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Fitzgerald, 254 Aylmer street, that their son, Gerald, has been promoted to the rank of Flying Officer. He got his commission as Pilot Officer when he got his wings at Malton as a navigator, and he has been in England for 8 months. FO. Fitzgerald enlisted in January, 1942, and he trained at Manning Depot, Mont Joli, I.T.S. Belleville, and Malton. He has been taking a course since he landed in England, so has seen little action over enemy territory. Prior to his enlistment, he was an employee of the Quaker Oats.

The first casualty in the 4th Anti-Tank Battery (A.F.) has just been announced. He is WILLIAM BRONSON, son of Harrison Bronson of Mount Julian, who went overseas with MAJOR HARSTONE'S unit some time ago. His father served overseas in the first World War with the 93rd Battalion, and a brother, Edward, is in England with an anti-aircraft unit. Gnr. Bronson was seriously ill for some time preceding his death, according to word received here in the past few days.

The 4th Field Battery (R) has a heavy schedule planned. It is expected that at least 96 of all ranks will leave this week-end for the annual two-week camp period at Petawawa, the advance party leaving two days earlier than the main body. The unit strength is now up to 190, just below full establishment. Approximately 210 all ranks of the 43rd (R) Field Regiment R.C.A. (of which the 4th Battery is one unit) will proceed to Petawawa under LT.-COL. D. J. LAWRIE, commanding officer.

SGT. BERNARD HAMLIN

Another Peterborough boy who is advancing overseas is Bernard Hamlin, son of Mrs. Rose Hamlin, 588 Division street. He signed up with the Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry Highlanders and has been overseas for about two years. A year ago he was appointed lance corporal, and shortly after that received his second stripe. Two weeks ago his mother received word that he had been promoted to sergeant.

TP. SGT. MAJOR L. J. (BABE) ANTHONY of the 4th (R) Field Battery R.C.A. has been promoted to the rank of acting Battery Sergt. Major, and SGT. F. E. JOPLING has been named acting Tp. Sgt. Major in recent unit orders issued. Taken on strength were Gnrs E. I. HATHERLY and D. LANGSTAFF.

2nd LIEUT. A. P. LASENBY

Word has been received by Mrs. A. P. Lasenby, formerly Gerarda Simmonds, that her husband, who has been serving overseas for nearly two years, was successful in passing his pre O.C.T.U. exams and will be promoted to 2nd Lieutenant. He is the youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. A. Lasenby, 257 Romaine street, and was formerly employed at the C.G.E.

F.D.R. Saves Stephan From Gallows

MILAN, Mich., July 2 — (AP). —Plucked back from the gallows' shadow seven hours before he was to have been hanged as a traitor, German-born Max Stephan kissed the hands of his lawyer and jailer and wept and shouted for joy until he collapsed — and to-day looked forward to some future Presidential commutation restoring his freedom.

President Roosevelt spared his life, commuting to a life term the death sentence which had been pronounced upon the one-time German army sergeant.

James E. McCabe, one of Stephan's attorneys, said he expected no further plea for clemency would be made for his client while the United States is at war.

In Detroit Federal Judge Arthur J. Tuttle had "nothing to say" about the President's assertion that the death sentence he thrice had pronounced upon Stephan "was too severe" and "did not take into account the statute which provides for the different qualities of treason."

"Oh, thank God," Stephan shrieked at 5:55 p.m. yesterday as Warden C. J. Shuttleworth of the Federal Correctional Institution brought him the news that the President had been merciful.

The gallows, built in sections and ready to be bolted together, had just reached the prison, to be thrown up for the hanging then scheduled for sometime in today's before-dawn hours.

"He fell all over us, kissing, and crying and laughing," said Salowich.

That was an emotionally different Max Stephan to the restauranteur who sullenly stood in court as a Federal court returned a verdict of guilty in his trial one year ago today and told his jailers, "a victorious Germany will not leave Stephan in jail" and "I will never be hanged . . . Germany will win."

The White House statement said President Roosevelt considered Stephan's crime of harboring and assisting Oberleutnant Hans Peter Krug, who escaped from a war prisoners' camp at Bowmanville, Ont., less serious than the crime for which six Nazi saboteurs paid with their lives in Washington.

Case Adjourned For Four Weeks

There was an echo of the Provincial election in police court this morning when Hon. G. N. Gordon suggested that there should be a long adjournment in a case in which he was acting as a defence counsel.

"There is a Provincial election on," said Mr. Gordon, "and I expect to spend some time in Western Ontario and up in the Owen Sound district. I am laying out a list of dates now."

Defence counsel had suggested July 30 as a suitable date for hearing the case and W. F. Huycke, K.C., who was prosecuting, expressed some surprise.

"I would assume that the election would just be about its warmest on the date suggested by my learned friend," he remarked.

The discussion was precipitated through a request from Mr. Huycke that there should be a week's adjournment in a charge against Pat Cheu, proprietor of the Victory Cafe, under the Wartime Prices and Trades regulations of charging more for meals than was just and reasonable.

This was the second adjournment asked for by the prosecution and Mr. Huycke told the court that a necessary witness who was in British Columbia had not yet returned from the coast. He would be back, he had been informed, at the end of this week, and Mr. Huycke asked that the case be enlarged until next Friday.

Mr. Gordon demurred, suggesting that the adjournment should be until July 30, to make sure that the witness would be here and also because defence counsel expected to be away for some time in the near future.

Mr. Huycke objected to the long delay.

"I am asking that the case go on today, then," said Mr. Gordon.

"We can't go on today," replied the prosecutor.

"Then I am asking that the case be dismissed."

Magistrate Baxter ordered an adjournment until July 30.

Dies In Britain

Mt. Julian Boy Dies Overseas

MOUNT JULIAN, July 2.—(ENS). —The first war casualty among the boys from Mount Julian district occurred on June 28th, when L/Bdr. William A. C. Bronson, died of a serious illness in a hospital in England.

He had enlisted with the 4th Anti-Tank Battery in Peterborough three years ago and had been stationed in England for about two years. L/Bdr. Bronson was twenty-seven years of age and is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harrison Bronson of Mount Julian, one sister, Mrs. William Shewen of Peterborough, and one brother, Gnr. Edward Bronson in England.

The deceased was a member of Holy Trinity church.

Otonabee School Remembers Teacher

The pupils of St. Joseph's School No. 8, Otonabee, presented their teacher, Miss Kathleen Powers, who is leaving the school, with a pearl Rosary. The presentation was made by Hilda Sullivan and an address was read on behalf of the pupils by Helen Fitzgerald.

The students said that it was with regret that their four years' association with Miss Powers was being broken and they expressed appreciation of her efficiency, patience and friendliness. In closing the address declared that the boys and girls realized their loss was another's gain and wished their instructress luck in all undertakings.

War—25 Years Ago

By The Canadian Press.

July 2, 1918 — Italian forces restored the old line in the Monte Grappa region and defeated the Austrians in Piave Delta, taking 1,900 prisoners. President Woodrow Wilson announced over 1,000,000 American troops have sailed for France.

A. J. McClellan Is Named Election Officer

Official announcement of the appointment of Arthur J. McClellan, insurance manager, of 599 King Street, as returning officer for Peterborough was made today. Mr. McClellan has opened up an office in the Kresge building and has already commenced work on plans for the enumeration of the city which is scheduled to take place starting Wednesday next, and to be completed by Saturday night. Enumerators will be appointed for every poll in the city and it will be up to them to secure the names of all voters.

Following the enumeration the election board which is headed by the County Judge will hold sittings to add names which have been left off during the enumeration.

The procedure in the rural districts is somewhat different, for there will be no enumeration but Part III of the Municipal Voters' List will be used and the election board will arrange sittings to add names which have been omitted.

Musicians Stall All Transcribing

NEW YORK, July 2.—(AP).—The American Federation of Musicians is no longer interested in negotiating a settlement with transcription companies and intends to stop the industry permanently, says James C. Petrillo, R.F.M. president.

Petrillo made the assertions yesterday after a 15-minute meeting with representatives of seven transcription firms, called by Labor Conciliator James W. Fitzpatrick in an effort to end the 11-month A.F.M. ban prohibiting its members from making commercial recordings.

The transcription firms last night telegraphed Dr. John R. Steelman, director of the Federal Conciliation Service, asking for immediate certification of the dispute to the War Labor Board.

Your Dog Deserves the Very Best of Care

PERT PUPPIES

Peering over a fence at the world are these two attractive puppies—a person would have to be hard-hearted indeed if these puppies didn't touch a cord of response in him.

Many people love dogs and think that their dogs are the best cared for in the world. Often their care, however, is not of the right kind and although well-meaning the dogs suffer.

Those who love animals do not need to be told the joy of owning a dog or the benefit to children of having one as a pet. But how to select a dog companion, then feed, train and treat this faithful animal—these are matters to be learned from an expert.

Our 32-page booklet was written by an authority on dogs and is intended to guide you in seeing that your dog has a happy life. It also tells of the breeds of dogs and helps you choose the dog best suited for your environment.

A dog for the country is not happy in an city apartment or close dwellings.

For your copy of "HOW TO CHOOSE AND CARE FOR YOUR DOG" send 15 cents in coins or stamps to the Peterborough Examiner Home Service. Be sure to write plainly your name, address, and the name of booklet.

NO PLAY UNIMPORTANT

THERE MAY be such a thing as an unimportant play, but you will come out better in the long run if you don't admit it. Treating each card played as if it may be the crucial one of the deal will save you from many lackadaisical slips which appear of no consequence at the moment, only to assume vital proportions a trick or two later. Isn't that a pretty good rule to follow anywhere in life? Treating each decision you make as if it is worth making correctly?

North: ♠ A K 6 ♥ Q 10 6 3 ♦ J 9 2 ♣ 5 3 2

West: ♠ J 8 4 2 ♥ 7 5 ♦ 10 8 3 ♣ K J 7 6

East: ♠ Q 10 7 5 ♥ 9 ♦ A K Q 6 4 ♣ 10 9 4

South: ♠ 9 3 ♥ A K J 8 4 2 ♦ 7 5 ♣ A Q 8

(Dealer: East. East-West vulnerable.)

East	South	West	North
1 ♦	1 ♥	Pass	2 ♥
Pass	4 ♥

East ripped off two diamond tricks and made South ruff the third, whereupon the declarer, a careful planner, gave himself every possible chance to make his contract. He settled the outstanding trumps in two rounds, took in the spade tops and ruffed the third one, so that he had no side suit cards remaining except clubs. He went back to the dummy with a trump and led the club 2.

Now just see what East did. He played his 4, whereupon South knew he was safely home. He put on the 8, and West had to win the trick with the J. South didn't care what West returned. If it was a spade or diamond, he could ruff in the dummy and discard the club Q. It happened to be the club 7, which the Q won, so he lost only one trick in that suit and made his contract.

East should have seen what South was up to, and should have put the 9 on the club 2 lead. That would have compelled South to try the Q finesse, which would have failed, beating his contract. Even if East had held only the 9, as a farly high club without the 10, he should have played it, to try to prevent South from saving his Q while making West win the trick.

Labor Shortage Serious At Woodstock

By H. VERNE MARSHALL
Canadian Press Correspondent.
(Woodstock Sentinel-Review).

WOODSTOCK, July 2.— (CP).—While municipal figures for Woodstock do not show any great gain since the start of the war, the expansion is here.

Early in the conflict, industry turned to war production. Surplus labor in the city was rapidly absorbed. Labor was drawn from nearby towns and villages of Oxford county while women donned slacks and took their places on the production line and farmers deserted their plows for the higher wages offered by industry in the city.

Now, with every industrial plant in the city working at an unprecedented pace, there still is an urgent demand for help. Selective service could place 250 men and 100 women in industrial plants in Woodsqtock while there are applications on hand for 168 farm hands and more could be placed if there were any prospect of them being available.
were conducted in machine work, particularly for women. Many were conducted by industries which later employed the students. Many women are engaged on inspection duty but others carry out multiple shop tasks—lathework, drill press operation and other lines—which formerly were exclusively ticketed "men only."

Use Vacant Plants

Aside from the decided boom, the industrial picture has undergone a complete change in other ways. Lines of production that in some cases have been carried on through succeeding generations have been discarded for the production of the materials of war.

Lafrance Textiles, formerly producers of plush and velours, as well as automobile upholstering of various types, now is making uniform material for the armed services. Eureka Planter Co., which for years made lawn mowers and other implements, is turning out hand grenades by the thousands. Massey-Harris Co., whose Woodstock plant had been idle for years, was recently in shell production and now is being retooled for the manufacture of bombs. Standard Tube Co., peacetime manufacturers of steel tubing for steel beds and other steel furniture, now is making steel tubing for all phases of the war effort. And so it goes throughout Woodstock's entire industrial directory.

A number of retail businesses have closed—chiefly because of the lack of help—but those that remain are doing a record volume of business. Shop workers have a lot to do with this with earnings probably at a higher level than ever before, but there is another reason — the Canadian Army Basic Training Centre established at Woodstock when the war was hardly a year old.

School Busy.

The school, which had a staff of 200 and personnel of about 600 at its establishment, was first a training centre for artillerymen and later was given its present classification of S5 Caandian Driving and Maintenance School.

Facilities have been steadily increased until now there are about 200 of all ranks on staff and course at all times. The payroll is conservatively estimated at $100,000 a month and large supplies of food and other materials are required for operation of the school. Woodstock retailers benefit materially from this.

Exact figures are not available, but upwards of 1,500 men and women from Woodstock have entered the Armed Forces and about 500 are overseas. One decoration has come to the city. Sgt. Tom Bibby, now stationed at London, Ont., was awarded the M.M. for carrying out first-aid activities under heavy enemy fire. He then was a private in the R.C.A.M.C. He was an attendant at the Ontario Hospital here before enlisting at the outbreak of war.

Water Wasted

KITCHENER, July 2 (CP)—Water—selling at less than four cents a ton—is the cheapest commodity in Kitchener, Marcel Pequegnat, water commission superintendent says, and that is why so much water is wasted in the municipality. If water were sold at a rate equivalent to gas or electricity, there would be less wastage, he added.

Quick Relief From Rheumatic Pain

Hundreds of Canadians suffering from the tortures of rheumatism, sciatica, lumbago, neuralgia and neuritis are happy over their discovery of Ru-Ma for they have at long last found a reliable, fast acting formula which speedily relieves those exhausting muscular pains and aching joints. If you want to again feel happy and contented in being free from rheumatic pains so you can work in comfort and sleep in peace be wise and try Ru-Ma to-day under our promise of "money back" if it fails to help you quickly and satisfactorily. Ask at Tamblyn's or any drug store to-day for Ru-Ma. You can't lose, because if you are not pleased you may have your money back.—(Adv.)

Alamein Club, Egypt's Gift To Eighth Army

The Alamein Club was recently opened in Cairo, Egypt, as Egypt's tribute to the British Eighth Army for throwing the enemy out of that country. The club is for British troops in Egypt and the fund raised in Egypt also provides for a permanent rest home in England. Pictured ABOVE are British sailors dining at the club. Their co-operation from the sea also made possible the success of the British army, and so they, too, share the club.

Mess Room Chatter

By LOUIS V. HUNTER
Canadian Press Staff Writer

WITH THE R.C.A.F. SOMEWHERE IN ENGLAND, July 2 — (CP). — Sgt. Ted Morgans of Brandon, Man., is looking for a return engagement with a Nazi night fighter who almost—just almost—downed his Moose Squadron Halifax.

The fighter's shells smashed his rear turret and he suffered three minor flesh wounds. His inter-com and the oxygen economizer were smashed and his oxygen tube severed. Morgans' survival was described by his skipper, Sgt. Dick Harrison of North Vancouver, as "nothing short of a miracle."

The four-engined bomber was holed all over. The crew knew Morgans had taken the brunt of the attack and it was with great relief that they heard him hacking away with his axe at the turret doors, blasted out of commission.

"Jerry's cannon shells tore such a hole in the turret entrance door that before Ted could get back to us he almost fell through it into thin air," Harrison related. "The part that made Ted maddest of all was that his turret was so badly shot up he couldn't return fire. A Jerry shell blocked one of Ted's guns and all the glass in the turret was shot away." One other member of the crew injured was Sgt. Gnr. Jimmy Duff of Toronto who was caught by a piece of shrapnel "where it hurts to sit down." Sgt. Eng. G. M. Goodman of Wellington, Ont., and Sgt. Navigator Bill Ledford, D.F.M. of Saskatoon, were the other members of the crew.

It was an "all-radio" wedding at St. Mary Abbot's Church in London when Leading Airwoman Jacqueline Mary Johnston of Winnipeg and Paul Johnson, formerly of Watrous, Sask., and whose parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Johnston, live in Edmonton, were married.

The bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Johnston of Altona, Man., is attached to the Radio Division at R.C.A.F. Overseas Headquarters in London and the groom is sound engineer with the overseas unit of the CBC.

FO. Jack Peach of Vancouver, head of the R.C.A.F. Radio Division, gave the bride in marriage, and during the service another member of the division, LAC. Ted Hockridge of Vancouver, sang.

Wing Cmdr. Douglas Bader, D.S.O., D.F.C., legless air ace who commanded the R.A.F.'s "Canadian" squadron and who now is a prisoner in Germany, is having trouble with his "tin-pins" — the name is his own.

His mother said new limbs have been going backwards and forwards in an attempt to find some that suit him. "They even tried over there to alter them to fit, but this didn't quite come off," she said. "Recently another leg and parts went out to him and I hope these will be successful."

Chinese Traitors Take Over Settlement

NEW YORK, July 2 —(CP). — Signing of an agreement between the Japanese government and the puppet Chinese regime at Nanking whereby administrative rights in the former International Settlement at Shanghai have been "restored to the Chinese" was announced by the Tokyo radio in a broadcast recorded to-day by the Associated Press.

The agreement was hailed by Japanese propagandists as "a major turning point in Chinese-Japanese relations."

Under the terms of the agreement, the Chinese puppet government will assume control of the Settlement Aug. 18.

Wrap Carefully Overseas Parcels

If you are going to send packages of preserves overseas, the Post Office says, please be careful how you prepare the contents for mailing. Many people seem to think that if they mail liquids or jams in papier-mache or cardboard cartons, in unprotected glass bottles or jars, or in receptacles sealed with wax or with lids merely pressed on, they have done enough to assure their gifts a safe arrival at the other end.

But this is not so, and Base Post Office officials can prove it. Constantly they are receiving soggy, broken parcels which have to be handed over to the Repair Section for reconditioning, and examination usually shows that these packages have come to grief because of careless preparation. Moreover, these officials emphasize, they are a liability to other, properly-prepared packages with which they come in contact, since they spread jam and damage in their wake.

One such parcel bore the forcible instructions "This Side Up; With Care." But if thought had been exercised in labelling the package certainly little thought or care had been devoted to preparing it, for it was the same old story of jam in a glass jar, sealed only with a thin disc of paraffin wax. The Post Office cannot guarantee to despatch a parcel overseas in a bag of military mail so that a particular end remains up all the time, and it would be ridiculous to suppose that it could.

The remedy lies with the sender and now that the preserving season approaches the Post Office asks those who contemplate sending items like jam and liquids through the mails to forward them in strong, leak-proof tin containers, using a lid tightly sealed in place with solder and the tin itself surrounded with some absorbent material.

The Right Name

CAMDEN, N.J., July 2 — (AP).—"Mr. and Mrs. Winston Churchill," the hotel register read. Winston Churchill of Camp Forrest, Calif., and Ann Windsor, 17, were married last night. Churchill was given his first name 19 years ago because of his parents' longtime admiration for the future Prime Minister.

America's East Coast Defended By Anti-Aircraft

Anti-aircraft weapons, 40MM Bofors, capable of firing 120 rounds per minute each, are manned by newly trained sharpshooters as Major-General Sanderford Jarman, of the U.S., and his staff, review east coast defences at Fort Totten, N.Y. The gunners are taking up battle stations along the Atlantic shore as part of the east's defences against any attempts by Hitler to send over suicide bombers.

Liberals Demand Withdrawal By CCF Members

OTTAWA, July 2.—(CP).—Noisy debate flared in the House of Commons Agriculture committee Thursday as Liberal members demanded that Robert Fair (N.D. Battle River) withdraw a statement they said he had made in the House yesterday that he had been "howled down' in the committee.

P. E. Wright (C.C.F. Melfort) said the C.C.F. experience was that its members had received less fair treatment in the Agricultural committee than in other committees.

E. E. Perley (Prog. Con. Qu'Appelle) said he had become so used to interruptions in the committee that he paid no attention to them.

Mr. Fair said he had made a withdrawal in the House at the direction of Speaker J. A. Glen and would do "no more withdrawing."

W. G. Weir (Lib. MacDonald), committee chairman, said the committee should read the Hansard record of yesterday's House proceedings to see whether Mr. Fair's withdrawal covered his charge he had been howled down in committee. The committee agreed that after the record had been checked a decision could be made on whether further action in respect to Mr. Fair's statement was necessary.

At one point Mr. Fair said J. M. Dechene (Lib. Athabaska) was one of those who had "howled" him down in committee.

"That is a damned lie," retorted Mr. Dechene.

Mr. Fair demanded an immediate withdrawal and some other members entered the discussion.

Lt.-Col. J. A. Ross (Prog. Con. Souris) said "nobody has the right to call Mr. Fair a damned liar."

Mr. Duchene said Mr. Fair could find nothing in the committee's records showing he had interrupted and that "I have been too silent many times."

"It is time we got through with our business and went home," Mr. Dechene continued. "I have been too long in political life to have lost my temper."

"I demand a withdrawal," insisted Mr. Fair, and Mr. Dechene replied: "I withdraw—not for you but for the committee."

Germans Claim Troop Transfers

LONDON, July 2 — (CP).— The German-controlled radio said today British troops stationed in Northern England and in in Northern Ireland had been transferred to Southern England" in anticipation, it is believed, of events scheduled for July 3."

Axis broadcasts since Monday have been alternately suggesting and discounting this coming Saturday as the possible date of an Allied invasion attempt. The Paris broadcast was recorded by The Associated Press.

Nazis Admit Retreat At Smolensk

Russians Hold Initiative On All Fronts

LONDON, July 3 —(CP) — Russian infantrymen continued to pound away at German positions along the Western front before Smolensk, the midday communique broadcast from Moscow and recorded here by the Soviet monitor revealed to-day.

Although the war bulletin reported no essential changes the announcement of hand-to-hand fighting in one sector of the front and the capture of arms, radio and mine detecting equipment in a surprise attack at another was partial confirmation of the Berlin radio admission that Nazi troops had "fallen back to strongly fortified new positions" near Dorogobuzh, 50 miles east of Smolensk.

On the Leningrad front Red Army units killed 150 German officers and men and destroyed 19 blockhouses and five observation posts by artillery and mortar fire, the communique said.

The heavy artillery barrage touched off numerous fires in enemy positions and about 30 explosions took place, the bulletin added.

Guerillas in the Kamenets-Podolsk area in the south-western Ukraine mined a German troop train destroying the locomotive and six passenger cars, the bulletin said, adding that it took the Nazis three days to repair the line.

The guerillas immediately attacked, derailing the first train to leave after repairs were completed and destorying a locomotive and 17 cars.

The noon bulletin was silent on activity in the Kuban Valley of the Western Caucasus where the Red Air Force has been ranging along the Taman Peninsula and across Kerch Strait to pound at shipping and troop concentrations.

Deputy Minister Inspects Canal

Senator J. J. Duffus and Commander C. P. Edwards, Deputy Minister of Transport, arrived at Chemong Lake by airplane from Ottawa to-day, where they were met by Aldermen R. Glover and Adam Sands and A. L. Killaly, superintendent of the Trent Canal.

Commander Edwards is here to make an aerial survey of the Trent canal.

BULLETIN

OTTAWA — (CP). — Prices Board officials said to-day they saw no immediate likelihood of relaxation of rationing of sugar, coffee and tea.

LONDON — (CP). — A great convoy recently crossed the Atlantic under a shore-to-shore air cover of land-based and carrier planes and one submarine was destroyed, another probably was sunk, and others "may have been damaged," the Admiralty and Air Ministry announced to-day.

No Paper On Monday

As Monday has been proclaimed a civic holiday by Mayor James Hamilton and City Council there will be no editions of the Examiner published. In to-day's paper will be found an extra comic page carrying those scheduled for Monday.

It's Expensive

OTTAWA, July 3 (CP).—A Toronto business woman, who had heard of the lack of accommodation in Ottawa, was more than surprised when she saw a card tucked under the glass top of the dressing table in a hotel here. The card read: "The price of this room for one person is $5 a day. For two people $4 each; for three, $3 each; for four, $2.50 each; for five, $2.10 each." What amazed her more was that the room was an ordinary "single" hotel room.

June Barrage Totals 15,000 Tons Of Bombs

LONDON, July 3 — (AP). — A record weight of 15,000 tons of bombs was dropped on Europe in June by Britain-based planes of the R.A.F. and R.C.A.F., the Air Ministry announced today as the Allied air offensive went into the third day of a new month with only secondary attacks reported.

Southeast coastal observers said a strong force of British aircraft apparently including bombers, headed across the Channel last night, but there was no immediate authoritative announcement.

The German communique said Allied planes flying singly dropped a few bombs in Western Germany near the frontier, damaging buildings. The High Command asserted that 614 Allied planes were destroyed over Germany and occupied territory in June, including 408 four-engined bombers.

During daylight yesterday RAF Boston bombers laid explosives across railway targets at Ghent and Courtrai, in Belgium, and Lille, France, while R.A.F. Typhoons sent flames shooting up 100 feet from an oil storage tank near Ijmuiden, Holland.

German planes stabbed toward Britain last night for the first time in a week. The Ministry of Home Security said one was destroyed off the South Coast.

So far this month, major forces of Britain's big Halifaxes, Stirlings and Lancasters have remained on the ground, marking a lull similar to the period of inactivity that prevailed for more than a week at the beginning of June.

Sets War Record.

Despite the late June start, however, the destruction spread through enemy Europe in that month surpassed any other planned devastation in world history.

Of the 15,000 tons of bombs carried to the continent by home-based British aircraft, the greater part was tumbled upon objectives in Germany itself. In seven assaults on the Ruhr Valley alone, 10,000 tons were loosed.

Jap Sampans Sunk By Bombs

NEW DELHI, July 3 — (AP). — R.A.F. fighter patrols operating over the Chindwin and Irrawaddy rivers in Burma smashed at the Japanese sampan supply line in Burma, a British communique said today.

The raiders, who returned to their bases without loss of a plane, sank ten sampans, damaged 50 more, sank a barge and damaged a river steamer in addition to striking at enemy factories located in the area, the bulletin said.

Blenheim bombers left a large fire burning after an attack on an enemy supply base near Kalemyo. Pilots said all bursts were well within the target area.

Little ground activity was reported.

Dr. R. Manion Dies In 62nd Year

Former Conservative Party Leader Defeated In 1940

OTTAWA, July 3 — (CP). — Death has ended the distinguished career of Dr. Robert James Manion, Director of Civil Air Raid Precautions for Canada, former Conservative Party leader and member of the Federal Cabinet in three consecutive administrations.

Dr. Manion died suddenly at his home here last night in his 62nd year after he had been stricken by a heart attack. He had been in good health until the time of his death and only three weeks ago has visited Toronto on A.R.P. business.

Survivors include his widow, the former [illegible] Desaulniers of Ottawa, [illegible] he married in 1906 and three sons, James, Paul and Robert. Funeral arrangements have not yet been completed.

Today, messages from Canada's political party leaders and from others across the Dominion came in tribute to Dr. Manion, whose attractive personality, hard work and administrative ability won him recognition as a statesman, surgeon, author and businessman.

Retired As Leader

Dr. Manion's two-year term as Conservative leader ended when his party met defeat in the 1940 general elections. He suffered personal defeat in Fort William constituency, which he had represented in the Commons from 1917 to 1935, and he submitted his resignation as party leader, retiring from political life.

In March, 1941, he was appointed by the Defence Department to consult with Canadian Army authorities in Britain to determine in what way the military heads could aid in the work of auxiliary services overseas. He was made acting colonel. Last year, he received appointment as Director of the A.R.P. organization.

Dr. Manion was born at Pembroke, Ont., Nov. 19, 1881, son of Patrick J. and Mary O'Brien Manion, both Irish - Canadians, and moved later with his parents to Fort William. He studied medicine at Queen's University, and the University of Toronto, settling in Fort William as a specialist in surgery after post-graduate work at Edinburgh and Glasgow.

He went overseas in 1915 and served at the front, first with the 21st battalion and later with other battalions and a field ambulance. He won the Military Cross at Vimy Ridge.

Served in Last War

While he was overseas Dr. Manion was nominated to run as Liberal candidate in the 1917 elections. The issue was conscription and Dr. Manion threw his lot in with the Unionists, favoring conscription, and was elected as a Liberal-Unionist.

In 1918, at 37, he became Minister of Soldiers' Civil Establishment in Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen's Union Government. He was re-elected in 1921 and again in 1924 and served as Postmaster-General in the short-lived Meighen Cabinet of 1926. Upon re-election in the 1930 voting Dr. Manion was appointed Minister of Rail-

Allied Forces Surge Ahead Along 700-Mile Battle Area

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, Australia, July 3 — (AP). — American and Australian jungle fighters menaced the Japanese air base of Salamaua on the northeast coast of New Guinea from three sides today in the growing Pacific offensive, while in the Central Solomons, at the other end of a 700-mile arc, pressure was maintained on the enemy air base of Munda. To-day's communique from headquarters of General Douglas MacArthur, supreme commander of operations, reported as the latest success a juncture of Australian patrols from Mubo, 12 miles south and inland from Salamaua, with the Americans who landed on the coast at Nassau Bay Wednesday. This completed the first phase of the new operations there.

In addition to patrols south and east of that enemy base, other patrols have been reported north of it in the vicinity of Malolo.

Realizing the peril posed at Salamaua, which has a good airdrome within easy fighter range of Japanese-held New Britain Island, the enemy sent 10 planes against the Allies at Nassau Bay on Thursday afternoon, the latest communique disclosed without further elaboration.

It was emphasized here that despite bitter jungle fighting in progress on a patrol basis along the New Guinea coastal front, this drive likely is not aimed at the immediate capture of Salamaua.

Any push along the coast from Nassau Bay northward would be almost impossible because of densely tangled jungle and swamps.

In the Central Solomons, where the Americans have seized Rendova Island from which shore batteries started shelling the enemy Munda airfield and where the important harbor of Viru on New Georgia was captured, no changes in positions were reported. To-day's communique told of an air battle on Thursday over Rendova in which 14 Japanese Zeros and eight dive bombers were shot down at a cost of eight Allied fighters.

Jap Navy Missing.

There was no further word of Allied naval action in the Northern Solomons. Friday's communique had told of surface units shelling Japanese positions on the approaches to Bougainville. Nor was there mention of any counter-action by the Japanese navy.

But the mighty Allied Air Force, whose widespread activity has been impressive from the outset of the new drive, continued to play a major role. Seeking to keep Japan's plane concentrations at Rabaul, New Britain, pinned to their fields, Allied heavy bombers dropped 33 tons of bombs there. That was the third straight night of raiding on Rabaul during which the bomb weight has totalled 78 tons. Last night's raiders started fires and explosions on Vunakanau and Rapopo runways, fought off enemy night fighters, weathered anti-aircraft fire and all got home safely.

North of Munda in the Solomons, medium bombers which had a fighter escort sank a 1,500 ton Japanese cargo ship at Bcuroko anchorage.

Supporting ground action around Solomon, bombers attacked Japanese positions at Kela point and along the trail to Logui village, starting fires and explosions. They also

Subsidy Program Hurdles All Opposition

By J. F. SANDERSON
Canadian Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, July 3 —(CP)— The United States Congress appeared to be in full retreat today from its once strong stand against government subsidized retail price roll-backs, conceding President Roosevelt a resounding political victory.

President Roosevelt put the issue squarely up to the lawmakers yesterday by vetoing a bill which started out as legislation to continue the commodity credit corporation for another two years, then grew into a proposal outlawing the administration's program to pay processors so prices to the consumer could be cut.

Though both branches had passed this bill by huge majorities, the House of Representatives refused to override the veto. The Senate put off action until today with sentiment growing for some curb on subsidies, rather than outright prohibition.

Cave-In Starts

The cave-in started after Mr. Roosevelt charged in his veto message that the action "blacks out the program to reduce the cost of living."

Mr. Roosevelt said he would not be responsible for holding the line against inflation if his veto were overridden. He said:

"This bill completely outlaws the recent reductions in the price of meat and butter....Congress will compel every housewife to pay five cents a pound more for every piece of butter that goes on her table and to pay higher prices for every pork chop, every ounce of beef, every slice of ham or bacon...."

Arguments that the public had surplus purchasing power failed to take into consideration, the president said, "millions" of salaried workers, teachers, clergymen, police-

A Costly Slap

NEW ORLEANS, July 3 — (AP).—A bus patron leaned from his window, planted a sound slap on one of two carriage horses standing at the curb. Police listed resultant damage from the frightened horses as one taxi fender knocked off, one fire plug battered, one parked police car damaged—a $150 spanking.

Photos Reveal Terrible Damage

By ALAN RANDAL
Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON, July 3—(CP). — High over the smoking ruins of Ruhr industry, Royal Air Force aircraft fly in daylight. They are the "eyes" of the R.A.F., photographic reconnaissance planes.

They follow the giant bombers. And the pictures they bring back have been termed "the most terrible ever published of the destructive power of the bombing airplane."

No picture taken of London during or after the blitz days was like these photos. The shots these reconnaissance craft took of Dusselrf, key city in Germany's great industrial valley, earned for that centre the newspaper description, "The dead city of the Ruhr."

Composite pictures show a litter of wrecked and roofless buildings over an area of more than two square miles. Some fires still smoulder. Fires have swept through the industrial area. Block after block of buildings have been burned out, the blackened areas of devastation dotted with whitened patches where heavy high explosive bombs removed everything standing.

It is the same in other Ruhr centres, Bochum, Barmen, Wuppertal. It means Hitler's arms cities

Husky Convict Aids Injured Child

PHILADELPHIA, July 3—(AP).— Nine-year-old Evelyn Henderson smiled up at the brawny man who is serving a life term for murder.

"Now, don't you be nervous," she said. "It won't hurt."

Daniel Donahue, 41, grinned back. "I ain't going to be nervous, honey," he said.

Then the two of them were wheeled into the operating room where Dr. Alma D. Morani transferred from Donahue's thighs to the blonde little girl's chest the skin that may save her life.

Evelyn was burned terribly when her dress caught fire last November. Despite four operations she was near death when another skin donor was sought among eastern penitentiary inmates.

No. 35,440—Donahue—convicted of killing a policeman during a holdup in 1929, was one of 30 who volunteered. "I'd like to do something for somebody," he said.

When the anesthetic wore off he went in to see Evelyn. She couldn't move her arms or legs but she raised her head, bobbing a green hair ribbon.

"Anything you want?"

"Nothing thank you. I—I hope the skin looks as nice on me as it did on you."

A group of trusties were waiting for him at the penitentiary's inside gate.

"Nice going," one of them said.

Then the gate clanged shut.

Case Dismissed

HUNTINGTON PARK, Calif., July 3 (AP).—Norman Freberg, 23-year-old bewhiskered merchant seaman, was up before Judge Stanley Moffatt on a drunk charge. He explained he had just returned to port, having spent 14 days on a raft after his ship was torpedoed on its return from Guadalcanal. "I think you're entitled to a celebration," said the judge. "Case dismissed."

Huns Dramatize Invasion Story In Broadcast

By LYNN HEINZERLING
Associated Press Staff Writer

LONDON, July 3 —(AP)—Nazi Propaganda Minister Goebbels, in a heavy-handed attempt at ironic humor, used the Paris radio today for a series of reports of an Allied "invasion" army after flatly announcing that the Allies had not landed.

The broadcasts apparently were designed to ridicule Allied plans of attack against Europe and, at the same time, to show that the Germans could be light hearted about such matters.

At 7 a.m., the Paris announcer said: "The hour of liberation is striking. Probably it will be only a matter of minutes."

The broadcast said reporters had been sent to all vital points to keep listeners informed on the situation "just in case the British should try to re-embark after landing."

Then the voice was brought from "Somewhere in France" to announce:—

"At 7 a.m. there is nothing to report for the time being. The Anglo-Americans will not attempt anything before breakfast time."

On The Hour

Later broadcasts:—

At 8 a.m.: "The British and Americans are still at breakfast."

At 9 a.m.: "We have just learned that the British and Americans have let the breakfast table. Further developments will be recorded duly."

At 1 p.m.: "Still nothing. Perhaps the English will make up their minds later in the day. It must be admitted that it is lunch time now, but that leaves them one more half day."

At 1.42 p.m.: "Still nothing to report. It is not possible that the Allies should keep us waiting so long. Well, let's wait a little more. Theyll surely land."

Light Bombers Raid Airfield

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN NORTH AFRICA, July 3.—(AP).— Following up a heavy R.A.F. attack against Palermo, Sicily, and Cagliari, Sardinia Thursday night, United States' medium bombers penetrated a heavy haze Friday to attack the Castelvetrano air field in Sicily.

More than 20 enemy fighters rose to attack the American planes which comprised the first medium bomber mission of the northwest African tactical air force since the fall of Pantelleria Island June 11.

Palermo, major city in Sicily, and Cagliari, the Sardinian capital, have been under repeated bombardment this week.

Fighter planes escorting the bombers over Castelvetrano shot down an enemy fighter, the war bulletin said.

The operations were carried out without loss to the Allied bombers, the announcement said.

100 Bombers Smash 3 Italian Bases

Biggest Offensive Launched From Cairo Field

By STEPHEN BARBER
Associated Press Staff Writer

CAIRO, July 3 —(AP).—Nearly 100 United States heavy bombers smashed at three air fields in Southern Italy yesterday in the biggest offensive action yet staged by the four-engined craft from the Middle East, dropping more than 400,000 pounds of bombs on the Italian bases at Lecce, Grottaglie and San Pancrazio.

Lecce and Grotzaglie are on the heel of the Italian boot. San Pancrazio is 35 miles north of Rome.

The lethal load included high explosive, fragmentation and incendiary bombs, a United States communique from Middle East Headquarters announced.

Lose Three Planes

Three American planes were lost in delivering the triple punch this relatively small figure equalling the entire United States losses for the month of June in this area.

Twelve Axis fighters were shot down out of clouds of Italian and German fighters that rose to challenge the bombers the communique said.

"At Lecce, bursts of smoke covered the field, indicating hits on dispersed aircraft," the announcement said. "Other hits were observed on hangars and runways. Fires were left burning behind the hangars and in the dispersal area. A very large fuel fire was observed in the southeast section.

"At Grottaglie, direct hits were scored on hangars and bursts were seen throughout the target area. The dispersal area was blanketed with fragmentation bombs. One enemy aircraft was seen to explode and at least one other was seen burning.

"At San Pancrazio, the target area was well covered with bursts."

Axis fighters trying to protect the Italian bases sought to bomb the American planes from above. Many German planes joined in the attack, among them Messerschmitts, Focke - Wulfs, Junkers and Heinkels.

A British communique said five Allied planes were lost during operations Friday, including the three Liberators.

(Squadrons of the Northwest Africa Air Command made new pre-dawn raids yesterday upon Palermo, Sicily, and Cagliari in Sardinia, Allied Headquarters announced and B-25 Mitchells of the tactical air force raided Castelvetrano airfield in Sicily. None of these craft was lost, and one Axis fighter was reported downed.

77 Are Killed

(The Italian communique, broadcast from Rome and recorded by The Associated Press, reported attacks on "various localities of the Salentina Peninsula" — the west coast area between Salerno and Naples—and on towns in Sicily and Sardinia and said casualties and damage were caused.

(The Italians asserted 24 Allied planes were shot down, "12 of which were four-engined planes between Lecce and Grotagglie." The communique listed 77 persons killed and 162 injured in six towns with the highest toll 32 dead and 68 injured at Palermo.)

Messerschmitt - 109s and 202s were among the Axis fighters challenging the Liberators over Lecce, Middle East Headquarters reported.

Both fields are on the "heel" of the Italian boot, east of the Taranto naval base, and near the Adriatic coast.

Zero Hour Of Invasion Likely Soon

Sicily And Sardinia Weakened By Terrific Aerial Blows

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
Associated Press War Analyst.

This is the date which the German controlled Paris radio has been persistently perdicting would produce the Allied invasion of Europe—but to-day, with the invasion still in the future, the Paris station scoffed at the Allies, sarcastically intimating that their plans had gone awry.

It was a patent effort to get out from under the forecast which the station had been drumming for a week.

Certainly prophecy is a tricky business, calling either for vast rashness or great cleverness. Still, had the Paris broadcaster singled out July 3 as the approximate rather than the specific date— and assuming that invasion doesn't come before midnight to-night—he might not have been so far off at that.

One suspects that the Allied High Command would agree with him broadly, for indications multiply that we are close to the zero hour or some sort of invasion in the Mediterranean. As previously pointed out, Sicily is a good bet, and the big sister island of Sardinia might be coupled with that for a double.

Convoys Move.

Dispatches from Spain report the heavy movement of Allied shipping into the Mediterranean. Two convoys of transports are said to have cleared Gibraltar yesterday, and another was stated to be arriving there from the Atlantic. A considerable Royal Navy unit, including the warships Nelson and Rodney, are reported anchored in the roadstead of the Rock. Meantime the Allies have destroyed more than 20 enemy ships in the Mediterranean during the past week.

Both Sicily and Sardinia—particularly the former — have been blasted with bombs to a point where they are in dire straits. "Palermo the happy," capital and chief port of Sicily, has been bombed until Allied airmen have reported that this city is about "finished." The airfields of Sicily which caused the Allies so much anguish during the fighting in North Africa, also have been blasted until the movement of Axis warplanes from them is said to be light. British and American forces possess supremacy in that theatre.

The three thousand year old city of Messina, which is one of the most strategic spots in the Mediterranean, has been once more torn to pieces — this time by bombs. It will be recalled that it was devastated by earthquake in 1908 when more than 77,000 people were killed and 90 per cent of the city was destroyed.

Cuts Supply Channel

British and American bombers have paid special attention to Messina because its ample harbor is the railway junction with the mainland. Trains are ferried across the Strait of Messina which at its narrowest point is only two miles wide. Naturally the Allies would need to sever this communication, to cut off reinforcements and supplies, before attempting invasion of Sicily.

The Anglo - American forces are proceeding methodically with

Women Hold War Records

Weaker Sex Show Courage, Proficiency

WASHINGTON, July 3.—(AP).— The weaker sex? Listen to Maj. Nola Forrest, training director of United States army nurses in desert manoeuvres under stimulated battle conditions:

A nurse established a speed record for crawling over a barbed wire course under fire.

Nurses were so proficient at gas mask drill some were assigned to teach the men.

Astonished generals and abashed soldiers on desert manoeuvres discovered that the army nurses outdid the rank and file in combat training, Major Forrest asserted at a press conference shared with Maj Edna Mahar, director of nurses in the South Pacific theatre who told how they keep right on taking it overseas.

Crawling under machine gun fire levelled at 36 inches above the ground and scrambling through barbed wire and over obstacles takes a hard man, yet:

"A nurse holds the speed record for all those on desert manoeuvres," Major Forrest declared yesterday.

With helmet, gas mask and full pack, the nurses did 20 mile hikes in temperatures above 120 degrees.

Nixon Defends Jas. Clarke

Claims Wartime Election Justified

SIMCOE, Ont., July 3 — (CP). —"Let us not forget the acid test that he was fighting for the Empire in the last war," declared Premier Harry C. Nixon in an address before a Liberal rally here Friday in defending remarks made by Major James Clarke, Windsor, at a recent meeting in Detroit.

"He was basing his remarks on a Gallup Poll which was taken and his remarks had nothing to do with the Province. Such polls should be supervised particularly in such issues which are likely to disturb the people. Major Clarke told me that his remarks had been misconstrued and that he did not advocate annexation of Canada by the United States but that he wanted more freedom between the two countries," said Premier Nixon.

Defending the holding of an election, Premier Nixon pointed out that nearly all of the provinces and the Dominion had held wartime elections and other Allied Nations are doing the same. He declared that they were only following the democratic course and that all of these countries could not possibly be wrong. He said that in the last session of the legislature, "Col. Drew and all his following voted against any extension of the administration yet now they are criticising the holding of an election."

HOME DRAFTEE ARMY DUBBED WARTIME HOAX ON CANADIANS

Bracken Raps Manpower Draft Plan

Says Put Draftees To Work On Farms, In Factories

TORONTO, July 3 —(CP)— John Bracken leader of the Progressive Conservative Party, last night urged "a rational system of compulsory Selective Service for the farms, factories and forces," termed the Government's present manpower policy "negative and partisan" and suggested the Home Defence Army of Draftees be put to work in agriculture and industry.

Of this he said: "As you all know we have in Canada a home army—I am not referring to the Reserve Army, which is a voluntary service. I am referring to the Home Army composed of large numbers of men who are under no duty or legal obligation to serve outside Canada. I found the question everywhere being asked: why is this double standard of military service being maintained? Why is this army not being made available for the tasks of the farm and the factory and the mine, if it is not being used where the fighting must be done?"

Introduced By Drew.

Mr. Bracken spoke after a four-month tour of observation across Canada. He was introduced to a Massey Hall audience by Lt. Col. George Drew, Provincial Party leader, who referred to Mr. Bracken's reputation "as the outstanding representative of our farming population."

Mr. Bracken had planned a three-weeks tour of Ontario, but indicated that "under present circumstances" —obviously the Ontario Provincial Election August 4— he would carry out immediate engagements and postpone further visits until later. He thus made it apparent he will take no part in the Provincial campaign.

In criticism of the home defence army, Mr. Bracken estimated the cost of this service at $150,000,000 a year and saic that in the face of a labor shortage "the men are out of agriculture, out of industry, out of the war and out of everything but the public treasury.

A Big Hoax

"It is my judgment that this home draftee army is not only an injustice to the men who are in it but it is the bigest hoax ever perpetrated on the nation."

In his cross-country tour, Mr. Bracken said he found many grievances and problems in every community, some the result of wartime controls and rationing but "it is my opinion that the confusion and lack of understanding is directly attributable to the failure of the government to give direct and courageous and co-operative leadership on certain of the main issues connected with the war."

He said the war policy of the Dominion government, having been "in too many of its aspects, prompted by political cowardice, couldn't help but result in....chaotic and wasteful conditions...."

A waste of manpower and a shortage of manpower exist side by side in Canada, he added.

DOROTHY DIX

NOTHING ABOUT DOMESTIC LIFE THAT TYPES GIRL AS WASHOUT.

Home-Lover With Pep Welcome To Man Weary of Restaurant Meals, Moving About.

DEAR MISS DIX: You are always tooting the horn for the home girl and wondering why the frivolous girl walks off with the man. It is easy to explain. The home girl knows she is good. It's her ace in the hole and she makes herself a martyr to the cause, and thinks that the reason she is neglected is because men don't appreciate virtue. She is always harping upon "I cook and slave" and blah, blah, blah.

The home girl generally has little or no personality. She is just like one cookie in a batch of cookies, sweetish, but with small appeal to the appetite. In a crowd she is never the life of the party. She is just "good old Susie," never anything else. She has only a slight sense of humor and it is never safe to tell her a joke or kid her because she takes everything as personal. She knows she can't hold her own in a crowd so she always wants to stay at home, and she looks upon every other female as a potential enemy and is jealous of her.

Yes, Dorothy, the home girl is greatly over-rated. The average man would much rather have part of a lifetime of fun than a whole lifetime of the everyday monotony the home girl can bring. I know. I married one.

FOOLISH.

Home Girl With Personality is Tops.

ANSWER: If by a "home girl" you mean a Dumb Dora, who smells of the kitchen instead of Channel No. 5, who never reads anything but the Cook Book, and whose conversational line is what Mama says and Papa thinks, then I agree with you that she is a bad bet as a matrimonial partner. For man does not live by hot biscuit alone, and being bored to extinction is a horrible way to die, it is so long and lingering.

But what I mean is a totally different specimen of the female fauna. She is a girl who is in the good-looker class, who is peppy and up-to-date and can keep any man entertained and amused, but who has kept her skirts clean, who doesn't go in for heavy petting and who, expecting to make marriage her career, has prepared herself for it beforehand instead of waiting to learn how to run a budget and cook a decent meal on some poor unfortunate man's pocketbook and stomach.

There is nothing about a girl having domestic taste, liking to cook, and really enjoying spending some of her time at home instead of being perpetually on the go and demanding to be taken continually from one place of amusement to another, that requires her to be a frump, or a washout, or a stick-in-the-mud. Quite the contrary. She merely adds one charm to another and, as you might say, dances the rhumba with one foot and rocks the cradle with the other.

Of course, men's taste in wives differs just as much as it does about drinks or cigarettes or neckties. What's one man's meat is another man's poison, in matrimony as elsewhere. So if a man's idea of a happy home is a cubicle, furnished with a can-opener and a cork-screw, in which nothing is ever cooked up but a cocktail and to which he and his wife only return to change their clothes to go out to a hot spot of an evening; and if his preference in wives is a Glamour Girl who is a good sport who doesn't see why merely being married should cramp either a husband's or a wife's style in little side affairs, and who would regard having to spend an evening at home with no other companion than the man she is married to as cruel and inhuman punishment — well, of course, the home girl is not his dish, and he is wise to pass her up.

But there are other men who have a domestic complex themselves. They are tired of gadding about and living on restaurant food and having no settled abiding place and they yearn for a peaceful and quiet home, with a wife who will feed them on home cooking instead of wisecracks, and who will be the joy of the home instead of the life of the party.

Such men find the play girl just as uncongenial a wife as you find your home-girl wife. So it is just a matter of taste after all.

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: My girl friend and I want to join the WAVES together. Her mother has given her consent cheerfully to her doing so, but my mother absolutely refuses to let me do so. She says that I won't like the navy after I have been in it a month and will come straight back home; that I won't be able to stand the grind, and that I am not old enough to know my own mind, although I am 21 years old and am earning my own living. She threatens to kill herself if I leave her.

I have two older sisters who are married and two brothers also older than I am. One of my brothers is in the service, the other sisters and brother live near enough to my mother to look after her. She has also a boy of 13 at home with her and her husband, my stepfather, so she would not be left alone.

I feel that if I join the WAVES I will be able to help my country and also to learn a trade that will assure me of a career after the war, but I hate to hurt my mother by doing something of which she disapproves so violently. What should I do?

TWENTY-ONE.

Girl at 21 Can Reach Own Verdicts.

ANSWER: I think a girl of 21 is old enough to make her own decisions, and that if she has intelligence and stability enough to hold down a good job and make her own living, she is competent to weigh the advantages and disadvantages of any plan that she has in mind and determine whether she is physically and temperamentally fitted to carry it out, or not.

You are aware that becoming a WAVE is no picnic. It is no mere matter of wearing a natty uniform and being a conspicuous figure wherever you go and having people cheer you and pat you on the back. It is hard work and often dirty and uncongenial work, and stern discipline such as you have never known, and doing without the luxuries and comforts you are accustomed to, and it may be running into danger and death. But your country needs you. Your country is calling for you, and it is up to you whether you listen to Uncle Sam or Mama.

Your mother is evidently one of the possessive mothers who want other women's children to go out and fight and protect them, while theirs stay at home and bear them company.

Coal Miners Urged To Return

WASHINGTON, July 3—(AP).—The leadership of the United Mine Workers admonished all members in the United States to-day to return to work because "there is nothing to be gained" by continued striking and "the war cannot be won without an adequate supply of coal."

Thousands still are off the job in the coal fields.

"By returning to work," said the lead editorial in the United Mine Workers Journal, "the mine workers are not forfeiting collective bargaining or their fight to negotiate a wage agreement with the coal operators embodying portal-to-portal pay and other benefits."

"Certainly, under these conditions, coal miners have nothing to lose by their resumption of work until such time as a satisfactory agreement can be reached or the policy committee is called into meeting again to canvass the situation and to determine a further course of action.

"We are at war. We must win the war. The war cannot be won without an adequate supply of coal."

One would expect a similar procedure when it comes to invasion of the Italian mainland, if indeed that is attempted. Australian troops pushing eastward across Komiatum track, although under fire from Japanese artillery established in the vicinity of Kela Point, gained advantageous positions on ridges near Francusco River.

American trops which had landed on the shores of Nassau bay June 30 contacted the Australian infantry force which was moving along the Mubo-Duali track to reach the coast at the mouth of the southern arm of the Bitoi River.

Four Men Killed In Midair Crash

OTTAWA, July 3—(CP).—Four men were killed in a mid-air crash of two airplanes near Pendleton, Ont., air station late yesterday, it was learned today.

Two of them were Flt. Sgt. V. A. J. Poulin, 23, and WO. J. M. Brownie, both of Ottawa. Names of the other two were not released but one was said to be an Ottawa man.

The planes were a Tiger Moth from Pendleton station and an Anson from Rockcliffe air station. Farmers who saw the collision said the planes were about 5,000 feet in the air when they met. The small Moth fell at once on the farm of Napoleon St. Jean, while the larger Anson crashed four miles to the west on the farm of Wilfrid Gour.

Brownie was a student in the Anson and Poulin was the instructor in the Moth.

For Sunday, July 4.

SUNDAY'S horoscope encourages the holiday spirit to the Nth degree, with the spirit of adventure and the quest for happiness greatly stimulated by the planetary operations. Romance and adventure are to the fore, relegating all else but parties and celebrations to the backgound. There may be unexpected gain, but be alert in business. In all connections suppress rash and impulsive conduct or recklessness.

Those whose birthday it is may prepare for a very active and enterprising year in which there may be unexpected gains or adventues out of the ordinary, with promise of much profit and unusual advantag. Increased prestige and popularity in both business and private affairs may be seen, but don't be unexpected gains or adventures ill-considered moves or indulgencies. Be alert to deceit or petty snares.

A child born on this day may have much talent and ingenuity for a successful career, perhaps in an unusual line of a creative or inventive nature. It will be popular, congenial and should gain through friends and elders.

For Monday, July 5.

MONDAY'S astrological forecast holds auguary of the breaking up of a long crystallized or static condition by some brilliant idea, applied with force, directness and a high degree of cleverness and resourcefulness. Originality counts.

Those whose birthday it is are promised decisive action, with promotion and cooperation or approbation, because of some stroke of special skill or invention. Force energy and direct attack should win against setbacks or treachery Persist in effort with resolution and determination. Elders and superiors endorse brilliant ideas.

A child born on this day should possess much ingenuity, mental and physical energy, and stability. It will earn the admiration and support of its elders, employers and be popular and attractive.

For Tuesday, July 6.

ACCORDING to very lively operations among leading planets this is a most propitious time for laying the ground work for lasting objectives and ambitions touching the entire life, in its business, domestic and emotional developments and accomplishments. It may require quick, and decisive action, using all the powers and faculties, toward this end. It may be necessary to use well organized strategies against subtle and elusive influences. Strike while the iron is hot.

Those whose birthday it is are urged to work with might and main for important objectives and ambitions affecting the future progress, position and happiness in private, professional and business life. Meantime it might be wise to be so soundly and practically organized as to circumvent subtleties and obscurities even in one's own inner nature. Romantic, domestic, social and public life may be included in these strenuous activties.

A child born on this day while being energetic and practical, intellectual as well as artistic, may have deep wells of psychic and emotional impulsion affecting its outer as well as inner life. It will enjoy happiness in its affectional as well as professional associations.

of the propaganda minister, and had utterly no basis in fact and no suggestion from Allied sources. The apparent reason for the German build up of the fictitious date for invasion was to arouse the hopes of the millions of Europeans in occupied countries, and allow these anticipations to be dashed in bitter disappointment.

Italy Will Fight.

On the Rome radio, an Italian military commentator said that Italy would defend her soil inch by inch, but that the European invasion "seems to have become a nightmare more for our opponents than for ourselves. They seem not to have made up their minds where and when to start."

He said Italy had decided to sacrifice everything in "this fight for life and death," and added:

"It is more than probable that the threat will materialize first against our country where they (the Allies) will try to open the first breach to invade Europe. Hard times are ahead and fighting undoubtedly will be the bloodiest ever seen, but we shall not falter."

in the Ruhr are crumbling away one by one, that paralysis, sown by the R.A.F. is moving inexorably over this great centre of German war production.

The panoramic strip composed of the series of Dusseldorf photographs is likely to become historic in that it covers practically the whole of the centre of the city and provides conclusive proof that the night saturation attacks are 100 per cent. accurate and deadly. The pictures are the answer to those who doubted the value of what had come to be known as "strategic bombing."

Calling Czechs

OTTAWA, July 3 —(CP) —The Czecho-Slovak legation yesterday issued a request to all Czecho-Slovak nationals in Canada to submit for registration their own passports and those of their families. The legation said the passports should be sent to the Czecho-Slovak consulate-general in Montreal.

New Law Curbs Canadian Radio Monopoly

OTTAWA, July 3 (CP).—Tightened control of licenses for private commercial broadcasting stations is provided in an amendment to radio regulations published today in the Canada Gazette.

The regulations now are extended to prevent control of a group of private stations by any one individual or interest. The amendment is in line with a recommendation made last year by the House of Commons radio committee.

The new regulations provide that "except with the permission of the Minister (Hon. C. D. Howe), given upon the recommendation of the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation, no person shall be licensed to operate more than one station and no licence shall be issued to a company owned or controlled by a company holding a licence."

The issue of a licence is also made conditional on the licensee being the owner of the station licensed and upon the ownership not being transferred directly or indirectly without the permission of the Minister.

The station must be actually operated by the licensee in person or by bona fide employees of the licensee, although this condition may be rescinded by the Minister acting on the recommendation of the C.B.C.

The regulations are also extended to enable the Minister to require periodic or other returns, to be made by the licensee, of the revenues, profits and expenditures of the station and any other information to ensure that the station is operated in the national interest and for the benefits of the community in which it is located.

In another amendment to the regulations private receiving stations operated by members of the diplomatic service are exempted from licence requirements.

Manion Funeral Be Held Monday

OTTAWA, July 3.—(CP).— The funeral of Hon. R. J. Manion, Dominion A.R.P. director and former National leader of the Conservative party, will be held from his Ottawa residence at 9 a.m. E.D.T. Monday, it was announced to-day.

Requiem High Mass will be sung at St. Joseph's church and interment will be in Notre Dame cemetery. Prime Minister Mackenzie King, members of the Cabinet, leaders of the Progressive Conservative party and other prominent officials will attend the service.

Dr. Manion died suddenly at his home last night.

Suffers Heart Attack

Dr. R. J. Manion, former Conservative party leader, and 3 times a Federal Cabinet Minister, died at his home in Ottawa Friday night. He was 61.

Persecution Of Jews Been Going On For 3,200 Years

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL

(The International Uniform Lesson on the above topic for July 4 is Exodus 1:1-22; 2:23-25; the Golden Text being Exodus 2:23, "They cried, and their cry came up unto God by reason of the bondage.")

THE LESSON today is about the early persecution of the Jews, which has been going on for the last 3,200 years, culminating in the present time, as the Nazis are trying to exterminate the race in Europe.

The first chapter of Exodus (which means "a going out" in the Greek), tells of the number of people who accompanied Jacob into Egypt, which is estimated at 70. However, this did not include many of the women and children, also servants and followers, so that one authority calculates there must have been several thousand altogether who came at Joseph's invitation.

But Joseph died, and all his brethren, and "the children of Israel were fruitful and increased abundantly, and multiplied, and waxed exceeding mighty; and the land was filled with them."

In the beginning, when Joseph persuaded his father and all his family to come to Egypt, they lived in the land of Goshen. But when they multiplied, they overran other parts of Egypt, too. Egypt was a healthy country, there was plenty to eat, hunger being practically unknown.

Egyptians Forget Joseph

At first the Egyptian kings looked with favor on the Israelites, who strengthened their eastern frontier , where they were most liable to attack, but after a time, a king arose who "knew not Joseph" and all he had done for the people of Egypt, and he was alarmed by the number of the nation, and said, "Behold, the people of the children of Israel are more and mightier than we (how soon do people forget favors);

"Come on, let us deal wisely with them; lest they multiply, and it come to pass, that when there falleth out any war, they join also unto our enemies, and fight against us, and so get them up out of the land."

In alliance with other Canaanite nations, the Hittites threatened an invasion of Egypt, and the king thought it possible that the Israelites might join with their enemies. So the Egyptians set them to the hardest kind of labor, building treasure cities, Pithom and Raamses. Strict taskmasters were set over them, who not only made them work terribly hard, but "made their lives bitter with hard bondage," regular slave labor. An overseer with a stick was put over them, and if he saw fit to punish he beat them severely with the stick. Sometimes even women and children were so beaten.

All this affliction did not kill off the Israelites. They continued to multiply. So the Pharaoh thought of another punishment—a dreadful one. He called the Hebrew midwives, who attended the women when their babies were born, and ordered them to kill all the male children as soon as they were born.

The midwives did not obey, however, and when the king discovered this, he asked the midwives why they had not done as he told them, and they made an excuse, that the Hebrew women bore their children so quickly and easily that they were in the world before the midwives arrived. The midwives feared God, and God looked with favor upon them for disobeying the king.

Orders Boy Babies Drowned

So then Pharoah told his own people that every time a boy baby was born they should throw him into the river, but if it was a girl it was to be allowed to live. His people did not co-operate very heartily in this, however.

In time this inhuman king died, but the Israelites were still treated as slaves and driven to hard labor and beaten, so that they "sighed by reason of the bondage, and they cried, and their cry came up unto God by reason of the bondage.

"And God heard their groaning, and God remembered His covenant with Abraham, with Isaac, and with Jacob, And God looked upon the children of Israel, and God had respect unto them."

How did He show His "respect unto" the Hebrews? By raising up a leader of their own people to lead them out of Egypt into the Promised Land. But that is another lesson.

Persecutions have a way not of exterminating the persecuted peoples, but of spreading them and their ideas over the face of the earth. It seems that our Maker cares for those who are afflicted and who turn to Him, listens to their cries, and comforts and helps them. This is for us, too, to remember in our times of trouble.

Christ's Idealism Is Put Into Practise By Himself

REV. E. R. JAMES

The Son of Man Came Not To Be Ministered Unto But To Minister. — St. Matthew 20:28.

Today Nazism places all the emphasis upon the word "authority." It teaches that the State is everything and the individual nothing. It is a step backwards in political philosophy. In the days of Our Lord's earthly ministry the Roman Empire was based upon that principle. The Jewish Church authorities accepted that principle when they angrily enquired of the new Teacher:— "By what authority doest Thou these things?" The Roman Centurian, trained in that principle, places himself on the same plane as the Lord Jesus when he cries: "I also am a man under authority: Lord, speak the word only and my servant shall be healed."

To rule and be obeyed were looked upon as signs of greatness. It is not true. Lord Acton, the great historian, writes: — "All power corrupts; absolute power corrupts absolutely." Moreover, the great Greek thinker Plato recognizes that power can never be trusted. Our Lord's Apostles had breathed in this principle of power and authority. Can you imagine how startled they were when their Teacher proclaimed His own personal ideal of action:—"The Son of man came not to be ministered unto but to minister."

THE SON OF MAN. This is Christ's own title for Himself. He does not say "I" but "The Son of Man." Let us take to heart the two clear, simple truths from this familiar title.

First He tells us that He is a real Man, "bone of our bone and flesh of our flesh." The very earliest heresy was a denial of His real Manhood. Men said he looked like a man but was not a real man. We have a hint of this in St. John's statement: — "Every spirit that confesseth that Jesus Christ is come in the flesh is of God." 1 St. John 4:2.

Secondly He does not say "a" but "the". The Lord defines Himself as separate from others. He does not call Himself the Son of David or the Son of Abraham, which would be true. But "The Son of Man'; the Man for all men to look up to as the Man who has the highest ideal for all men to follow. The Son of Man stands at the Head of a new Creation. "Behold, the Man."

MINISTER. Through the centuries the word has lost something of its original meaning. It meant simply a servant, a plain, everyday paid help. "Whether is greater he that sitteth at meat or he that serveth? Is not he that sitteth at meat? But I am in the midst of you as he that serveth," cries the Lord Jesus. Speaking for modern ears He says:— "I am a servant"; a striking contrast between the ideal of the world and Christ's. He is the Lord of life; He is also the Lord of service. He would teach us in simple language:— "I am the real, representative Man whose ideal is to serve and help." Truly a hard saying; who can bear it?

Moreover He practiced what he taught. "Jesus went about all the cities and villages teaching in their synagogues and preaching the Gospel of the Kingdom and healing every sickness and disease among the people."

St. John, the beloved Disciple, was a hot tempered man, to whom such an ideal was very hard to accept. Yet he gives us the most gripping story of Our Lord's idealism put into practice:— "Jesus knowing that the Father had given all things into His Hand, and that He was come from God, and went to God; He riseth from supper, and laid aside His garments, and took a towel and girded Himself and began to wash the disciples' feet and to wipe them with the towel wherewith He was girded." Will you read this whole passage over prayerfully and thoughtfully for your own development in Christian life and character?

I HAVE GIVEN YOU AN EXAMPLE THAT YE SHOULD DO AS I HAVE DONE TO YOU. IF YE KNOW THESE THINGS HAPPY ARE YE IF YE DO THEM.

Holiday Season Is Interfering With Blood Donations

The Blood Donors' Clinic will be closed on Monday because of the holiday, and the staff hopes that an extra effort will be made on Wednesday to make up the time lost. During this week the number of donors was below average, largely due to holidays, and the Thursday night clinic was cancelled.

There is a shortage of nurses available to carry on the work at the Clinic. In order that there will be a full staff at all times it is felt there are some registered nurses in the city who have not yet become identified with the work, and these are asked to volunteer their services and communicate with Mrs. C. J. Ray, supervisor, either personally at the Clinic or by phone 8633 or 8284, or with Mrs. Roy Taylor, technician, by phoning 6311 or 8284.

Attention is also drawn to the fact that some donors are disregarding the matter of diet for their breakfast on the morning they give a donation. Last week six donations were reported as containing fats in such quantities as to make the blood useless for the purpose of processing into blood plasma. The things not to eat are bacon, eggs, butter, milk and cream. A breakfast of dry bread or toast with tea or coffee without milk or cream. Marmalade or jam can also be eaten.

Monday's list of donors were:

A People in Distress — ILLUSTRATED SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON — By Alfred J. Buescher

Scripture—Exodus 1:1-22; 2:23-25.

Several generations after the death of Joseph and his brothers, a king arose in Egypt who did not know Joseph and told his people that the Israelites had grown mightier than the Egyptians and he was afraid of them.

He not only made them work hard, but he set cruel taskmasters over them, and finally told the Hebrew midwives that when they attended Hebrew mothers they should kill every boy child when it was born.

The midwives would not kill the boy babies, however, and so God looked with favor upon them, and the Israelites continued to multiply, and "waxed very mighty,' so that Pharoah feared them more than ever.

Therefore the king instructed his people, that when a son was born to an Israelite they were to throw it into the river, but when a daughter was born it was to be allowed to live.

Taxpayers And Parasites

There is a general belief in this country, which becomes even more popular in wartime, that every adult citizen cherishes the rights, the freedoms and the responsibilities which are his under our democratic system of government. Like most general and popular beliefs it is only true in part, but because we like to believe it, and because so much of our political thinking depends on that belief, we usually manage to blind ourselves to those instances in which it quite obviously is not true. Now and then these uncomfortable exceptions to our cherished belief force themselves upon our notice.

In the House of Commons on April 21 two members of the C.C.F. party, Mr. Clarence Gillis of Cape Breton South, and Mr. G. H. Castleden of Yorkton, Sask., drew attention to a difficulty which had arisen among shipyard workers. In ordinary times these men earn $32 a week, but the wartime rush has raised their week's pay (through overtime) to $56. After the workman pays his tax and his compulsory savings out of the $32 he has $24.10 left, but when he has paid his taxes out of the $56 he has only $37.35 left for himself. The result of this, the C.C.F. members pointed out, was that the men do not want to work overtime, as they feel that too much of their overtime money goes to the Government. In effect, they object to the graduated tax scale which has taken so much money from the wealthy, and Mr. Castleden and Mr. Gillis wanted the overtime earnings of workers exempted from this sort of taxation and taxed at the lowest level.

There are implications in this line of argument which we will not pursue. What interests us is that there seem to be many people in this country at present who have never paid income tax, and who deeply resent having to pay it now. Some of these were doubtless keen supporters of the theory of income tax before it reached themselves; when the governmental hand reached only into the pockets of the comfortably-off they applauded the justice of its demands. Now they show their resentment by refusing to do necessary work if they feel that the Government is going to tax their extra earnings. Indeed, we know of instances here in Peterborough in which workers will only do enough in a week to bring their pay up to the lowest possible tax-level; they refuse to prosper themselves if in so doing they have to make the Government prosperous too.

We hasten to say that these people are a minority, but they are a large enough minority to be a cause for concern. Comment upon the selfishness of their attitude is superfluous. They rank with those other featherbrains who buy a War Bond at every drive, only to cash it in as soon as they have paid for it through their payroll deduction plan. People who would rather lay off work than earn taxable money have no right to consider themselves citizens in the same sense as those who pay up what is demanded of them for a full week's work, and whatever overtime is necessary.

In a democracy there are no distinctions of citizenship. The good citizens who pay the taxes which are necessary must carry the burden of the feckless imbeciles who would rather loaf than earn taxable money. The men and women who enlist in the services must be prepared to defend their country for the benefit of these irresponsibles as much as for the workers who are solidly behind them, producing the weapons of war and keeping the country together. The citizen whose income incurs a heavy graduated tax must accept the fact that the money he pays is devoted to the good of those who will not pay taxes as well as to those who will and do. Because our ideal of democracy demands that we behave often as though things were true which we know in our hearts are only partly true, we cannot adopt strong measures against these voluntary defaulters. But we should remember that they exist, and if there should be a time of economic upheaval after the war they will be among the first to become charges on the state. They are the parasites of the nation, and no germicide will wash them away.

Mr. Lacombe Eats a Crow

It is seldom that a Member of Parliament is disciplined as Liguori Lacombe was disciplined by the House on Wednesday; the atmosphere was like that of a family council in which a naughty child is told that he may either apologize or take a spanking; the Prime Minister, indeed, had the cane ready and swished it several times. And Mr. Lacombe chose the wise, if humiliating course, and apologized in words which were suggested to him by Mr. King.

If there had been any truth in what Lacombe said he would certainly have defied the House and would have seized the opportunity to have his charge that Government members were making money out of the war thoroughly investigated. He protested that he would not get a fair hearing from an investigating committee, and this was dismissed as nonsense. Mr. Robert Fair, the member for Battle River, rose to say that in his opinion, if Mr. Lacombe went before a committee, he would not get the justice which would be his in a court of law, and the Speaker and the Hon. Angus Macdonald had to deal with that matter. French members spoke, condemning Mr. Lacombe for what he had said, but protesting (and with justice) that the translation which appeared in Hansard was not as close as could be wished; Mr. Pouliot made his point in this respect with great skill. Mr. Lacombe twisted and turned. But the Speaker and the Prime Minister were remorseless, and at last the member for Laval-Two Rivers made his humble apology to his colleagues of the House, and to the Cabinet, and Mr. King withdrew his motion for a Committee of Investigation.

The way in which this matter was handled will give satisfaction all through Canada. Mr. King would not be content when Lacombe attempted to prove that he meant something other than what he said. He was likewise implacable when Lacombe offered to withdraw his words "at the request of the Prime Minister"; clearly that would have freed him to return to Quebec and to say there that he had given in so that the country might be saved the expense of an investigation, but that what he had said was still true. The Prime Minister insisted that the words be withdrawn by Mr. Lacombe because "he had reflected upon his fellow members, and because he regretted what he had said". It was in those uncomfortable words that the withdrawal was made.

This is the second time that Mr. Lacombe has been compelled to eat a crow in the Commons. Unless he likes the taste he will be cautious in future.

Gold Lace From Moscow

A report comes from Moscow that the diplomatic representatives of the U.S.S.R. will soon receive an official formal uniform which they will wear when representing their country on state occasions. What the unform will be like is not yet known, for the design has not been completed, but we are assured that the Soviet Ambassador, by next year, will be—freely gold-laced,

In a uniform handsome and chaste like Gilbert's Heavy Dragoons. We await the announcement of the design with bated breath.

For is not this one of the most significant pieces of political news to come out of Moscow since the Revolution? The Russians, having tired of their revolutionary period, in which they never shaved and slept in their undershirts, have now moved toward the dawn of a gold-lace period. We need not expect, however, that it will be accompanied by any kid-glove diplomacy.

We applaud the Moscow news. Representatives of great countries should have fine clothes in which to perform their ceremonial duties. Our Canadian representatives wear their Court dress with an air, and are all the more impressive for it. Nor have we any fear that the U.S.S.R. will lose its balance on this matter. The gold-lace for the ambassadors will not mean a crown for Uncle Joe.

NOTE AND COMMENT

Bridge players are still protesting about the legal decision that bridge is a game of chance. Though they admit that a good deal depends on a good deal.

American circus owners complain of a shortage of dwarfs. Too bad, but we should be embarrassed if there were a majority of dwarfs.

At a recent funeral of a Nazi official in Munich the mourners drank so much that it had to be delayed for two hours. A clear case of putting the quart before the hearse.

A Tale Of Two Marshals

By SAMUEL MARCHBANKS

THAT lively and trenchant historian, Mr. Philip Guedalla, has written a book called "The Two Marshals," (which Mussons have published) in which he covers the lives of two Marshals of France, Achille Francois Bazaine, and Henri Philippe Petain. The book is a most interesting one, although the reader may feel that there is less to link these two men together than Mr. Guedalla imagines. Always an interesting writer, he has perhaps too high a regard for the paradox and the unusual juxtaposition, and he has found a unity in the careers of these two men which others may seek in vain. He begins thus: "This book is more than the story of two French soldiers, although that story is worth telling by reason of the strange inversion of their two careers. For one of them surendered Metz in 1870 and was sentenced to death, while the other surrendered France in 1940 and was sentenced to become its ruler. The first Marshal was made a scapegoat by his defeated country; and when the second Marshal came to power, the scapegoat was France." Discreet historians do not push their antitheses too far, and Mr. Guedalla drops his antithesis there. In the first part of his book he deals with Bazaine at length, for he has some new information about him and obviously finds him interesting; the latter part of the book—about a third—is devoted to Petain, about whom it is hard to discover facts at present and who is perhaps a less intrinsically interesting figure.

BAZAINE was born in 1811, and although he was destined to be a soldier he showed no early aptitude for that career. He was unable to qualify for a commission, and so he entered the army as a private soldier in 1831, receiving a commission for service in Algeria in 1833. He fought well in the Crimean War, in Lombardy and in Mexico, where he was sent to keep the unfortunate Emperor Maximilian on the throne; this latter task he accomplished with skill as long as he had forces to do it, and retired in good order when he had not; for this service he was made Marshal of France in 1864, and his glory was increased rather than dimmed by his cunning withdrawal from Vera Cruz when the Mexican adventure blew up in 1867. At the outbreak of the Franco-Prussian war he was given command of the Army of Lorraine, and five weeks later he was quite out-generalled at Metz, where he was invested with all his army; in two months he surrendered to the Prussians without a fight—a strange affair, surely, but perhaps not so inexcusable as the injured pride of the French made them believe. He was court-martialled and sentenced to death, with strong recommendations to mercy, and his sentence was commuted to 20 years imprisonment in Ile Sainte-Marguerite. He escaped very quickly, and fled to Madrid, where he spent the last 14 years of his life, much respected by the Spanish.

THIS story is exciting enough, and Mr. Guedalla has pumped it full of his own sort of fermented rhetoric, producing a rapid and exciting tale of adventure, ambition and history in technicolour. Obviously he has gone to great trouble to pierce to the heart of the Bazaine affair, and only an expert of the period would dare to question his findings; this book may well stand as the final estimate of an unfortunate man. With Marshal Petain Mr. Guedalla is not able to do so much. Indeed, no one ever appears to have been able to do much with Petain. But the historian sums up his career in a wisecrack—"Vidi, Vici, Vichy"—and makes a real attempt to understand an unsympathetic and complex man. Perhaps close students of the last war will think Mr. Guedalla too hard on Petain. He seems to have been a good soldier, and his men were deeply faithful to him; when there were mutinies in the French army in 1917 it was Petain who restored order, not by threats and thunder, but by the confidence which he was able to inspire. The brilliant Foch was never so loved, but brilliant men are often unloveable; it is one of the minor disadvantages of brains. The Marshal has never, if we may believe Guedalla, been burdened with original or penetrating intelligence; tradition and a noble grasp of the obvious have served his in place of that quality.

PETAIN has always been a defeatist—a dogged defender—and Verdun in 1916 and Champagne in 1918 are his victories, characteristics of the man. No one undervalues them, but they would not have won a war. Perhaps our ideas of the Marshal are too highly coloured by our knowledge that in March, 1918, he wanted to throw the British Army to the wolves in order to keep the French Army together. This led to his quarrel with Haig, and the elevation of Foch to the post of generalissimo. Mr. Guedalla believes that Petain's instransigent hatred of the British began at that time, and it seems reasonable that it should be so. But at last the war ended and Petain was able to indulge his gloom in peace, much honoured by his countrymen. How much better it would have been for him had he died in those happy days! For when he was 84, the age at which Mr. Gladstone retired from politics, he was forced to enter them, with those sorry results which we partly know.

Unconsidered Trifles

"Come, come, Joan, surely you know if the world is round or square, . . . Mary, tell her!"

"It's crooked, teacher," said Mary, darkly.

Two women met.

"Oh, I meant to ask you, my dear," said the first, "did you adopt my suggestion about curing your husband of walking in his sleep by putting a tub of water by his bed!"

"Yes," replied the other, somewhat grimly, "and it also cured me of putting a tub of water by his bed."

Mose, charged with theft, was on the witness stand, and the judge sought to discover if he knew the value of an oath. He said:

"Mose, if you tell a lie under oath, do you know what happens?"

Mose said: "Yassur, Jedge. I goes to hell."

"And if you tell the truth?" persisted the judge.

"I goes to jail," said Mose.

Nixon Goes To The People

(MONTREAL GAZETTE)

DESPITE the anguished howls which will doubtless be emitted today by a set of Ontario journals, we think few people will seriously question the propriety of Premier Harry Nixon's action yesterday in calling a general provincial election, the first our neighbour province has had in six years. We have set out our reasons for the belief several times already, and they are obvious anyway — suffice it now to congratulate the new Premier on executing so promptly his avowed intent to restore the processes of democracy to Ontario politics.

Mr. Nixon's choice of date is significant. Ontario will vote on Wednesday, August 4. Five days later, on Monday the 9th, opinion will be sampled in three other provinces, with Federal by-elections in Humboldt, Sask., Selkirk, Man., and two Quebec ridings, urban Cartier and semi-rural Stanstead. Data from all these events will give a clearer picture of Canadian political opinion than anyone can form at this moment.

Probably the Nixon announcement sounds the general Liberal keynote. He is fighting the election on two main planks—his Government's record, and its post-war plans. On the former ground he will be in a rather queer position, since his Government is but tenuously and in unique ways the heir of the Government whose record he calls "unsurpassed." The election itself, in fact, is a repudiation of the Hepburn-Conant regime's last act, the second extension of the Legislature's life. As for post-war plans, they are still pretty vague.

Progressive Conservatives are occupied with hurling red-white-and-blue bricks at Speaker James Clark of Windsor, who recently intimated that many Canadians including himself would like to be annexed to the United States. Speaker Clark has already watered this statement down as best he could, and other Liberals have disowned it, but this will not prevent it from being a major election issue.

Altogether, it looks like a hot summer.

Capital Closeups

(By JOHN DAUPHINEE, Canadian Press Staff Writer)

OTTAWA, July 3 (CP)—Just to keep the official record straight, that Morse code message around the new 12-sided nickels—"We win when we work willingly"—is there by "accident."

Or so says Superintendent R. J. Edmunds of the Royal Canadian Mint, the man who ought to know.

"It just happened that when we were working out the new design we decided to throw in a few dashes—and it came out that way in Morse," he said.

But there's another version to the story. It's to the effect that the mint wanted to put some kind of an inspirational message on the coin to build up the "V for Victory" symbol on the back. The difficulty was that the design of every coin is very minutely described in a proclamation and there can't be any unauthorized lettering.

However, on each coin there's a row of small "beads" on both sides of every coin, just inside the slightly-raised edge, and as Mr. Edmunds said: "The beading is never mentioned in the proclamation for a new coin; I don't know why—it's just one of those things."

So somebody thought up the bright idea of playing with the beading—and the dot-and-dash message was the result.

It's all a bit confusing, but both principals seemed content after this exchange in the House of Commons:—

War Services Minister LaFleche: "Is the honorable member indicating that the present Minister of National War Services is the one who gave out this report?"

M. J. Coldwell, C.C.F. Leader: "All I can say is. . . ."

Gen. LaFleche: "I hope he does not mean that."

Mr. Coldwell: "I'm glad the minister has said that he hopes I didn't mean that, because in effect I did mean that."

Gen. LaFleche: "In effect you are very much mistaken."

Mr. Coldwell: "I'm glad to know that, and I shall not say what I intended to say."

Rev. Dan McIvor (Lib. Fort William), at 70, has been spending a lot of his time playing baseball.

It's not big-league stuff. He plays on a wide lawn near the parliament buildings with the page-boy staff, between the afternoon and evening House sittings.

The other evening they didn't have a ball so what did they do? They all took off their shoes and socks and used one of the shoes for a rugby ball.

"There's nothing I like better," said Mr. McIvor, smiling broadly, "than running in the grass in my bare feet."

Miscellaneous intelligence: The average weight of a hog's liver is 3.15 pounds—and the man who found out is L. W. Pearsall, chairman of the Canadian Meat Board.

It came out at a meeting of the House of Commons agriculture committee. Until recently the accepted figure was 3½ pounds but when a packer was required to deliver that much from every hog he killed he undertook to prove it couldn't be done.

The meat board ran some exhaustive tests and found what Mr. Pearsall called "some very interesting information."

For instance, there's no relationship between the size of a hog and the weight of his liver; and for some reason—"I don't know whether it's due to the type of water they drink or what"—the eastern Canada hog has a bigger liver than one grown in Western Canada.

"Oh, well," said Mark Senn, Progressive Conservative member for Ontario's Haldimand constituency, "They've got more gall out there, anyhow."

Tom Reid (Lib. New Westminister) and his bagpipes are back in Hansard again. The House was discussing British Columbia's Japanese problem and Mr. Reid was arguing that Japanese born in this country aren't "truly Canadian."

"How ridiculous it would be to say that if a Japanese were born in Scotland he'd be a Highlander or a Scotsman!" Mr. Reid said, and John R. MacNicol (Prog. Con. Toronto Davenport) couldn't miss the opportunity.

"It wouldn't be fair to the bagpipes, would it?" he interjected.

Mr. Reid, who talks with a broad Scottish accent despite 34 years in Canada, let it pass.

Shakespeare Wrote About It

The power of suggestion is capable of achieving great things, sometimes in a subtle way, sometimes by a more direct approach. The following incident illustrates a rather nice combining of the two.

An Ontario bachelor-farmer was marrying a girl from back in the hills whose family members were noted for their outdoor vigour, lack of convention, and avoidance of work.

"You're marrying trouble tomorrow along with that girl," a friend warned. "They're a wild outfit, and lazy. You'll never manage to tame her. It's not too late to change your mind."

The bachelor thought it over. "I'm getting married," he decided. "I'll figure some way to handle her."

Next day he purchased from a neighbour a hopelessly balky horse, cheap, which he drove the twelve miles to his wedding. En route he detoured bridges which the horse refused to cross. At times he was forced to lead him.

The ceremony over, he started for home that evening with his bride. Half way, the horse came to a bridge and balked. The bridegroom spoke to it. Three times, in a calm and modulated voice, he ordered it to proceed. The horse just stood.

Without further word the man got down, unhitched, put the harness in the back of the buggy, led the horse off into the woods, took a pistol from his pocket and shot the animal.

He came back to his bride who looked considerably startled. "One thing I got no time for is anything that don't do what it's told," he remarked. "Better get out back there and push."

She did, briskly.—The Printed Word.

IN WAR TIME

1918 Permission has been granted to hold an Italian Red Cross Tag Day here.

Gunner Gerald D. Graham who went overseas with the 33rd Battalion is officially reported wounded.

The Medaille Militaire won by Sergt. Percy E. Andrews is presented to him by Judge Huycke.

Havelock branch of the I.O.D.E. may be charged with a breach of the food regulations for offering home-made candy for sale.

Pte. George Aboud, Norwood member of the 93rd Battalion has been invalided home from overseas.

A Bible Message

And when he came to his disciples, he saw a great multitude about them, and the scribes questioning with them. . . . And he asked the scribes, What question ye with them? And one of the multitude answered and said, Master, I have brought unto thee my son, which hath a dumb spirit. . . . And ofttimes it hath cast him into the fire, and into the waters, to destroy him: but if thou canst do any thing, have compassion on us, and help us.

Jesus said unto him, If thou canst believe, all things are possible to him that believeth. And straightway the father of the child cried out, and said with tears, Lord, I believe; help thou mine unbelief.

When Jesus saw that the people came running together, he rebuked the foul spirit, saying unto him, Thou dumb and deaf spirit, I charge thee, come out of him, and enter no more into him. And the spirit cried, and rent him sore, and came out of him: and he was as one dead; insomuch that many said, He is dead.

But Jesus took him by the hand, and lifted him up; and he arose. And when he was come into the house, his disciples asked him privately, Why could not we cast him out?

And he said unto them, This kind can come forth by nothing, but by prayer and fasting. (Mark 9: 14, 16, 17, 22-29.)

Tribute to the Pig

The pig—look at him. He roots in the swill pail, he rolls in the mud puddle, he smells like something putrid. You say, "Ugh, the filthy animal." And then he dies. And he becomes a benefactor. Someone twists a rope around his leg and shoos him up an inclined plane to the spot where a man smoking a pipe waits to cut his throat. And, still squealing in a diminishing gurgle, he drops down into the pit. . . .

Now look at him. He comes to your table in long, thin bacon strips, in delicious chops, in tender roasts, in suculent spareribs. He covers your hands and feet with his tough, durable hide. He lingers in the bottle of glue on your writing table. And he goes to war. He wraps his fat around the men who fight in Arctic cold. The Commandos shiver a little less because of that protecting fat layer. In icy water, clinging to a raft, the survivors are those with the most natural warmth, part of it gained from the pig.

When airplanes shoot straight and fast and enemy 'planes fall from the sky, the cartridges have his impress. His essence is in the huge shells that demolish the deadly submarines. His greedy feeding, his strength and vigor and warmth, are helping to win the war. Hail to the pig!—Leamington Post and News.

Some Visiting Is Necessary

If we are to keep up the morale of the people of this country business has got to go on, and a certain amount of visiting must be permitted. If the railways would co-operate a little more, many of the difficulties which now face travelers could be overcome.

People are paying just as much for railway tickets as they ever paid. But the personal service which they receive from the railways is largely distinguishable by its absence. Trains are long and all too often footstools are missing at the foot of the steps up to the cars. People who have to lug heavy suitcases or club-bags are given no assistance whatever by trainmen.

Women often have to climb onto the bottom step, which is 18 inches from the ground, tugging their luggage with them. After dragging it into a coach, they have to struggle to put it up onto a rack which for some strange reason is more than seven feet from the floor.—Kingston Whig-Standard.

Toronto Dotted With Vital War Industries

By JACK GRAY
Canadian Press Staff Writer

TORONTO, July 3 (CP) — Hub of a great semi-circle of war industries and assembly point for products of a great many Ontario factories, Toronto district is humming with an industrial activity which contributes enormously towards keeping Canada in fourth place among the United Nations as a producer of war materials.

Here is one of the largest arms plant in the British Empire, a huge optical factory which makes its own glass and turns it into fine precision instruments of war and an airplane plant working on the Axis-disturbing Mosquito bomber.

Toronto district's list of war material is almost endless—radio location and other radio instruments, naval ship engines, turbines and boilers, ships of war, motor vehicles, tanks, small arms, ordnance, ammunition, shells, chemicals, explosives, uniforms.

Some of the huge war plants which dot Toronto and district are government-owned, being built after the start of the war, while many of the privately-owned plants have huge additions, built with government funds. Thousands of other plants have been converted entirely to war production, while others keep their production of civilian supplies to a minimum.

Precision Instruments.

Listed here are a few of the vast array of the war industries and the material they produce:

Research Enterprises, Ltd.: A government-owned plant, it makes optical glass, fire-control instruments for ships, prismatic gunsights for field guns and other electrical and optical devices used by the army and navy; tank periscopes, navigation instruments, radiolocators and other radio instruments, telescopes and stereoscopes.

John Inglis Co., Ltd.: It has an estimated 15,000 workers and produces Bren guns, Boys anti-tank guns, Browning machine guns, marine engines for Corvettes, naval turbines and boilers.

Toronto Shipbuilding Co.: Information on much of this government-owned company's production is secret but it has been announced that it constructs naval vessels of the Bangor and Algerine types.

De Havilland Aircraft Company—Working on production of Mosquito bombers, Tiger Moth and Avro Anson training planes and the Sparrow, first Canadian-made and Canadian -designed glider.

Victory Aircraft: This government - owned aircraft plant at nearby Malton is tooled to produce Lancaster bombers.

At Oshawa, 30 miles away, tanks and motor vehicles of all kinds roll off the assembly lines of the plant of General Motors; there is a huge munitions plant at nearby Ajax; an estimated 4,000 workers are engaged in fuse-filling at the General Enginerring Co., plant in suburban Scarboro; while another suburb, Long Branch, is the site of Small Arms, Ltd., a government plant producing small arms.

All these plants and many like them are fed by hundreds of factories elsewhere in Ontario, which make finished parts and other materials.

Employment of women has been large, 110,838 having taken positions in industry in the last eight months. Selective Service officials say 24,749 of these have gone into war industry, while only 14,494 are part-time workers.

The women are working on machinery assembly, roofing construction, driving trucks in railway freight sheds, making radio valves and similar work. Some have taken training in war emergency classes and now are are in basic industrial jobs.

Board of Trade figures show that the population of Toronto and its suburbs has increased by more than 44,000 since 1939 to a total of 912,377. Various projects are under consideration to alleviate the resulting housing shortage.

While enlistment figures for the city itself are not available Defence Minister Ralston recently announced that there were 134,242 enlistments out of 408,700 eligible males in Military District No. 2 of which Toronto is headquarters.

In the Fourth Victory Loan campaign the city subscribed $272,000,000 compared with an objective of $238,000,000.

CAMPBELLFORD

C.W.L. Provides Strawberry Social

CAMPBELLFORD, July 3 (ENS) —Planned to take place when the berry season was at its peak the Catholic Women's League entertained young people from all sections of the township at a strawberry social and dance in the Parish Hall here last night. Plates of delicious, fresh picked berries with sugar and cream and an assortment of cakes were the menu for the refreshment period at the midnight hour. During this intermission the League President, Mrs. Charles Black, presented the euchre prizes, which went to Mrs. Robert Lee and Mrs. George Kelly. Mrs. George O'Sullivan was convener of the affair, and music for dancing was provided by Mr. and Mrs. Rae Archer and Mr. Tam Chadwick.

Moose Squadron Off With Anne's Bomb For Dusseldorf

A bombing raid on Germany is seldom a sentimental journey, but the attack on Duesseldorf, which marked the 1,000th sortie of the R.C.A.F.'s famous "Moose" squadron, had a sentimental touch. The Halifax crew pictured here carried a 1,000-pound bomb as a special gift from "Anne," a little Dutch refugee girl living in Woodstock, Ont. In the last Victory Loan campaign she sent $500 personally to Air Marshal L. S. Breadner, chief of the air staff, with the request that it be used to buy a bomb to drop on Germany. These boys and their Halifax delivered it. The trio in front are Flying Officer Beckwith from Buenos Aires, Flight Sergt. M. F. "Bill" Gray of Vancouver, the pilot; Sergt. Cliff Wilby of Winnipeg. In the second row are Pilot Officer Russ Harling of Winnipeg and Sergt. Gord Low of Edmonton. In the rear are Flight Sergt. Chuck Hancock of Strome, Alta., and Flight Sergt. Basil Saunders of Annapolis Royal, N.B., bomb aimer.

Anne Cornelia Van of Woodstock, Ont., little Dutch refugee girl, whose $500 bomb was dropped over Duesseldorf, great German industrial city, with telling effect. It was delivered by a crew of Canada's famous "Moose" squadron.

Members Fear Monopoly Canadian Radio

OTTAWA, July 3 — (CP). — Services of the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation and of privately-owned stations are "supplementary" and not competitive, Dr. J. S. Thomson, CBC general manager, said on Friday in evidence bfore the House of Commons Radio Committee.

Rev. E. G. Hansell (N.D, Macleod) suggested the control of radio in Canada might be handled by a body similar to the Board of Transport Commissioners rather than by a group primarily concerned with the CBC.

"There is no competition between the CBC and private stations; there is co-operation,' Dr. Thomson said.

Mr. Hansell said he was concerned that care should be taken to avoid any monopoly of Canadian radio either by the Government or otherwise.

Dr. Thomson said there now are 79 private licences in Canada. No new licences for private stations had been granted during the past year.

J. P. Tripp (Lib. Assiniboia) asked Dr. Thomson what effect on the CBC would result from establishment of a privately-owned national network.

"Whoever controlled any network in this country would wield enormous power — almost incalculable power—possibly almost more than that of The Canadian Press," Dr. Thomson replied.

The press had been careful to avoid monopolies and operated on a privately-owned network would be comparable to one newspaper serving all Canada.

Establishment of such a network would require an investment of at least $10,000,000, Dr. Thomson said. He expressed belief it would be inevitable that such a network would look largely to the United States for its program and so, in effect, result in one primarily Canadian and one primarily American chain serving the Canadian people.

Top Teamwork Features Papuan Landing

By WILLIAM F. BONI
Associated Press Staff Writer.

SOMEWHERE IN NEW GUINEA July 1 (Delayed)—(AP). — In a smooth piece of co-operation by the Allied ground forces, typical of the way all forces dovetailed on the latest South-west Pacific operations, the Australians now are driving toward Nassau Bay where the American troops established a beachhead in a hazardous landing yesterday.

(An Allied communique of July 2 reported that Australian patrols 12 miles south of Japanese-held Salamaua in the inland Muba area had killed 26 of the enemy and wounded many others. The Americans at Nassau Bay were 12 miles down the coast, south of Salamaua, and the Australians were seeking a junction with the Americans.)

The American troops landed in an amphibious operation springing from an advanced coastal base established in the period since the conclusion of the major Buna-Gona campaign six months ago.

The operation was executed under the cover of the blackness of a tropical night shortly after midnight. It required skillful navigation of landing craft and some boats had trouble withdrawing after putting troops ashore.

After landing, the Americans promptly fanned out with one contingent circling back against the enemy on the point at the end of the bay's southern arm.

For the present it is still a limited operation. The latest unofficial estimates give the Japanese a strong force in the Lae-Salamaua area—but the area it covers is steadily shrinking.

The United States forces have been working up the coast in the direction of Salamaua by stages. The latest operation, while on a relatively minor scale, represents the longest single step forward toward the eventual elimination of the enemy's holdings since the end of the Buna campaign.

French Resent Allied Interference

By RELMAN MORIN
Associated Press Staff Writer

ALGIERS July 3.—(AP). —The newspaper Echo D'Algier published Friday what it described as a joint resolution signed by 10 French political groups expressing "uneasiness caused by anything that might constitute limitation of national sovereignty."

Observers said they believed the resolution referred to the British and American role in retaining Gen. Henri Giraud as commander-in-in-chief of French forces in North Africa.

While this action was not directly designated as the reason for the resolution, the document dealt generally with the question of re-organizing the French army and deplored any "threat to the principle of equality between the Allies."

Prime Minister Churchill's statement in the House of Commons yesterday that Britain and the United States had asked assurances from both Gen. Giraud and Gen. Charles de Gaulle respecting the French army stirred great comment and speculation among the French here.

Meanwhile it was reported that Gen. Giraud would leave soon for Washington.

Signers of Friday, resolution proclaimed full agreement with Gen. de Gaulle regarding the necessity for re-organizing the French army. Among the groups signing the statement were members of parties and organizations known to be de Gaullist supporters.

Prices Of Fruits And Vegetables Show Marked Increase Over 1942

Housewives have been going quietly mad in the past couple of months over the increase in prices of fruits and vegetables which in some cases have soared to unheard of amounts and storekeepers have acknowledged that they blush when a customer asks for a price. It is a common practice for a housewife to walk briskly into a fruit store to purchase a quart box of strawberries or a cabbage and then on learning the cost, she decided to do without.

The summer stand-bys of fruit and vegetable salads have now become something to remember and dream about for many people as they find the costs jumping considerably. Women have been asked to do so much preserving as possible and already the strawberry crop has proved a failure and only small amounts have dribbled into Peterborough. One merchant, who got a small shipment this week was asking 35 cents a box and when they failed to sell lowered them to 30, the price he paid, and took a loss on them.

No Ceiling Price

Customers have asked indignantly if there isn't a ceiling price, as there is on oranges and potatoes. But the other fruits and vegetables are mainly being imported from the United States at the present time and there is no ceiling price there. If the people want the food, they have to pay for it, because the fruit stores have to pay an outrageous amount for their goods.

Father And Son Drown In Creek

BOURGET, Ont., July 3.—(CP). —Clinton Presley, 36 year old farmer of this Russell county district, and his five-year-old son Raymond were drowned Thursday night while attempting to cross a small stream on their farm.

Carrying his son, Mr. Presley was riding one of a team of horses with which he had been working in the fields. He had frequently crossed the stream in that manner, but recent rains had swollen it to unusual depth and the strong current swept the horses away, throwing the man and child into the water.

Ruhr Miners Become Gloomy

BERNE, Switzerland, July 3.—(AP).—The Swiss weekly newspaper Wettwoche declared Friday the destrutive bombing of the German Ruhr has had serious psychological effects, especially among miners in the valley.

The newspaper said the Ruhr miner considers himself in danger of losing everything and asks "what good is it to a worker to win the war if thereby he loses the means of livelihood" through destruction?

"Because of this feeling the British terror raids, as we learn from the Reich, awaken more and more a feeling of gloomy desperation and resignation which extends itself to relatives at the front of the people concerned," the article added.

"The destruction in the Ruhr area, from which Germany obtains about a third of her production of steel and iron, will have a corresponding weakening of the German army which can in no way be compensated for by moving industry."

Lovelace, chief of the aero-medical laboratory, Wright Field, O., made his test jump from 42,200 feet near Euphrata, Wash. It was his first parachute jump. Three sets of gloves jolted from his hands when his 'chute opened, causing one hand to suffer frostbite. He took 23 minutes 51 seconds to reach terra firma after one of the highest jumps on record.

CANADA— THE CAPITAL PRIZE

"What I mean," explained Reeve Pugsley, "Canada is the largest and richest sparsely-populated country in the world. Imagine! Three people per square mile! Why Old England has 700. In Germany they have 350. Italy has 360. And Japan has 492!"

"Gosh!" exclaimed Mr. Picobac. His imagination seemed daunted for the moment.

He puffed thoughtfully on a briar pipe into which he had packed the makings of a mild . . . cool . . . sweet Picobac smoke.

"Canada is a prize worth fighting for," agreed he after consideration. "And we ARE fighting for it — right now. Hitler'll never get it. Canada belongs to Canadians. And by the Lord Harry, we'll HOLD it!"

Mr. Picobac's teeth clenched on the stem of his pipe which gave out the delicious incense of smouldering Canadian burley.

Picobac is the pick of Canada's burley crop.

IN war as in peace, Brantford Roofing's full facilities are directed towards your security. In peace, Brantford Roofing produces asphalt shingles, roofing and siding to protect and beautify your home. In war, the same high quality products contribute to the nation's security in training camps, barracks and war industries.

Because these products have a petroleum base—and oil is strategic material nowadays—the supply of Brantford Roofing for houses is limited. Every effort is being made to distribute the available production on an equitable basis in all communities. To simplify inventories and increase supplies, all lines have been standardized on a minimum range of colours and styles.

When Victory is ours and hostilities have ceased, Brantford Roofing products will again be available in ample supply for civilian use. Plan now for your home's renovation when the war is done, with Brantford Roofing products for security and smartness.

AIRCRAFT GIRLS AND WESTCLOX TEAM BATTLE TO 7-7 VERDICT

Big Bens Held To Six Hits In Great Game

The Westclox girls can go on their holidays with their loss column still empty, but they had a close call Friday night, when in the best girls' battle of the season and before the biggest crowd since the schedule opened, the Aircraft team battled the Big Bens to a 7-7 tie.

It was a game crammed full of excitement all the way. Westclox were never behind but twice after the league leaders had opened up a margin the Aircrafters fought back to sew up the score again. The result was a contest that had the fans on the edge of their seats all the way through.

Norma Strickland, pitching effective ball, went the entire route against the Big Bens, holding the champs to six hits, and striking out six batters.

Westclox used Marg Watson as their starting pitcher and she was relieved in the sixth by Isobel Bullock who finished the pitching chore. All three pitchers suffered from errors at critical moments.

Westclox opened the scoring in the first innngs when hits by Isobel Bullock and Marg Hawthorne paved the way for two runs after the first two batters had been retired.

Aircraft bunched hits by Marilyn McCarthy, Norma Strickland and Marg. Selkirk to push over a run in the second. Then the rivals battled through two scoreless innings before the Westclockers broke loose in the first of the fifth to open up a 5 to 1 lead. They scored three runs in that frame without a hit on loose defensive work by Aircraft.

However the latter fought back in their half of the innings and carved two runs off the lead on hits by Annette DeCarlo, Eleanor Craig and Phyllis Bigelow, the latter coming through with a double.

That rally left the score 5 to 3 but in the sixth Aircraft pushed another run over to cut the margin in two. Isobel Bullock took over the pitching job with only one out in that frame and retired the side.

Back came the fighting Aircrafters in the seventh with a run that tied up the ball game. It came after Phyllis Bigelow had got on on an error and hits by Irma Perdue and Norma Strickland followed.

Then the Westclox open up a two run lead in the first of the eighth and apparently put the game on ice. A couple of errors and a hit by Aggie Anderson put the brace of counters across.

Aircraft were not through, however, and they came right back with two in their half to sew things up again. Walks to A. DeCarlo and Eleanor Craig started the trouble and although the next two batters fanned Irma Perdue came through with a hit at the right time and it was all even again.

Neither team was able to score in the ninth and the umpires called the game for darkness at that stage.

It was by long odds the best exhibition of the season. Barbara Rome was in the limelight with a fine catch and a Beryl Dobbin-Marg. Hawthorne double-play was another feature.

In addition to her good pitching Norma Strickland led her team at bat with three hits. Marg. Hawthorne had two blows for the Westclockers and was the only Big Ben to get more than one hit.

SPORTS — DAY BY DAY

Promoter Frank Tunney's weekly wrestling card at the Brock Street Summer Gardens should be a fitting climax to Peterborough's celebration of Dominion Day, inasmuch as it will supply plenty of fireworks for the windup of the holiday celebration. With the lightning-fast Joe Maich of Brantford hooked up in the main bout with Irish Pat Flanagan, who certainly isn't muscle bound himself, the liveliest mixup of the current revival seems certain. Most ardent followers of the game say that the 22 minutes Maich and Flanagan battled last Monday night supplied more action than any bout Tunney has staged here this summer. The two ran through a repertoire of about everything known in the wrestling art at top speed and there was not a dull moment. Honors were about even too, with Flanagan showing aggressiveness and skill enough to suspect that he will be installed in the popular fancy as favorite to take Maich in the main bout. Then of course the card includes one of the greatest freaks the wrestling game has ever known in the appearance of the Blimp, Boston's 642 pound contribution to the mat game. Doc Felice, Yugo-Slav roughhouse artist will oppose the Blimp and he would certainly seem likely to have his hands full in trying to do anything with the huge Levy. The latter may not know much wrestling but with that poundage he shouldn't need much knowledge to be a tough opponent.

There will be no game in the City Softball League on Monday night but a real battle will start the week's schedule on Tuesday when Genelecs and Soldiers will clash at Riverside Park at 7 o'clock. This promises to be a thriller. Genelecs need a win over the Military Training Centre to pull themselves up from near the bottom of the heap and anyway they are anxious to knock off the khaki lads in revenge for the trimming they took the last time they met the Soldiers. The Training Centre club is leading the loop and the only game they have lost this season was one to the Battery. They are confident of staying out on top of the league ladder and expect to add another victory at the expense of Ted Johnston's athletes. The latter will probably call upon Ronnie Aker's to stop the Soldiers while it looks as if it is Wilson's turn to throw for Harry Morgan's fast-going organization. One of the largest crowds of the season will be on hand to see this clash. The Soldiers have a big following and their supporters will be out in force rooting for another win for the Army lads.

Best Of The Season

The Girls' Baseball League came into its own again last night when by far the biggest crowd of the season gathered to see the champion Westclockers and the Aircraft team battle. The game was worthy of the attendance and packed in more thrills than any half dozen fixtures this season. Westclox had won seven straight games, including two victories over the Aircraft but the latter had plenty of fight last night and while the C.G.E. girls did not succeed in beating the Big Bens they made it very, very close and twice came from behind to tie up the game after the champs had opened up leads. The two teams are certain to face each other in the final series for the league championship and the right to continue on in the provincial playdowns and the kind of a game they staged last night indicates that the loop playoffs should be full of excitement. Both teams are playing good ball. They will be playing even better when the time for the final series arrives. The Westclox team will not be seen in action again for more than two weeks, until the plant holidays are over.

The Bible of baseball, the St. Louis Sporting News has gone stream-lined. The publication that is read religiously by thirty-second degree fans all over the world has appeared in a new dress after 57 years. It is now being printed in tabloid page in size. A number of reasons are given by the publishers for the change. For one thing the new size is more in keeping with other national weekly publications than it was in its old guise of a newspaper. The change, too, is in line with the government policy of paper conservation. But probably most important is that the new size is proving popular with servicemen many of whom receive the baseball weekly far from home and follow developments in their favorite game through the medium of the Sporting News. In its new form, as it was in the old dress, the paper continues as an authority on everything pertaining to baseball. The game would not be the same without the St. Louis Sporting News around.

Cutting Yanks' Lead

Washington Senators cut a full game off the Yanks' lead yesterday by nosing out the Chicago White Sox 3 to 2 in eleven innings while the Yanks were being slaughtered by the Cleveland Indians. As a result of these doings the McCarthyites are just a game and a half in front of the hard-pressing Washington club. The Yanks never had a chance in yesterday's argument. They were held to three hits by Reynolds while the Indians staged one of the biggest innings of the year to score 12 runs in the fourth. The final count was 12 to 0. Senators had a real battle on their hands to head off the White Sox but they finally turned the trick with a run in the eleventh after sewing up the game in the ninth. Candini was given a chance to win his eighth game but had to be relieved and Carrasquel got the credit for the win. Old Tommy Bridges was too much for the Red Sox and the Tigers defeated Boston 8 to 2 while St. Louis and the A's had a free-scoring argument that was finally captured by the Brownies to the tune of 8 to 7. Galehouse and Flores were the starting pitchers but neither of them was in there at the finish.

In the National League the St. Louis Cardinals moved a full game out in front of the Brooklyn Dodgers by nosing out a win over the Giants while Cincinnati's Elmer Riddle was being just that to the Bums. The Cards triumphed over the veteran Carl Hubbel and the Giants 5 to 3 with Gumbert going the full distance. The Cards' twirler pitched one-hit ball for the first six innings but weakened and the Giants, sparked by Manager Mel Ott's homer made it close on end. The Dodgers on the other hand never threatened. Riddle had them completely baffled, keeping seven hits so well separated that the Bums were blanked while the Reds scored eight runs themselves, helped by a two-run miss of a third strike by Mickey Owen who should be careful or the thing may become a habit.

Sporting Chili Con Carne: The Girls' League game billed in the schedule by mistake between Aircraft and Generals for July 8 will be played instead on Wednesday July 7....Teams are asked to note this change....There will be no games in the City League tonight or Monday owing to players being absent for the holiday week-end....Jack Carpenter, left-fielder for the Switch Gear team set a season's record for outfielders last night when he had eight putouts and an assist....He retired the side in the tenth....Rookie Everett Fagan of the Athletics was a real Santa Claus to the St. Louis Browns....He issued five passes in the ninth and the Brownies scored four runs to nose out the Mackmen 8 to 7. ....Boston Red Sox who threatened to make trouble for the leading Yanks and the Washington Senators are slipping back again....Their 8 to 2 defeat at the hands of the Detroit Tigers dropped them out of third place into a tie for fourth with the Bengals....Jimmy Ripple did his best for the Toronto Leafs last night hammering out two homers to drive in all three Toronto runs. It was a wasted effort however as the Baltimore Orioles garnered six markers to take the verdict....Guy Curtwright's consecutive hitting streak was stopped by Candini, Carrasquel and Mertz of the Washington Senators yesterday after the rookie had connected safely in 26 games....Frank Tunney's wrestling melee at the Summer Gardens Monday night is the only sporting event of the holiday, except the events at the C.G.E. picnic.

Combines Play To 6-6 Tie With Switchgear

Combines and Switchgear battled to a 6-6 stalemate in the City League battle at Riverside Park Friday evening, the game being called for darkness at the end of the tenth inning. It was the first fixture of the season to go an extra frame.

Combines were playing it the hard way. They not only lost two of their regulars Pat Calladine and Speed Currie in the second innings, when the pair were chucked out for arguing with Umpire Bob Batley, but they handed Switchgear two runs on wild-pitches and a third on a needless throw to second with two out on which the base-runner went all the way home. They had to hit in all their own six runs.

It was an interesting tussle, with some nice fielding plays. Jack Carpenter, youthful leftfielder of Switchgear covered a lot of country to spear eight flies and he saved the game when he cut off a run at the plate with a perfect throw to Ashmore. Pagett made a fine grab of a hard-hit liner, Murduff in left for the Combines ran a mile to gather in a foul and the Switchgear had two fast double-plays.

Bert Harrison pitched the whole ten innings for the Switchgear. Lorne Dennie opened for the Combines but was relieved in the fifth by Freddy Elliott.

The ejection of Calladine and Currie was a feature. Combines had the bases loaded in the first of the second with two out. With the count 3 and 2 on Currie Umpire Batley called the next one a strike, retiring the side. Combines claimed the pitch was too low and Currie and Calladine put up such a protest that the umps chased them out of the game. Girard had to go behind the bat. Craig came in from the outfield to play first and Manager Andy Delpellaro had to jump into the game at third base to complete the lineup.

Switchgear got an easy one in the first. With one down, Jamieson singled to right and Carpenter doubled to the same field. Ashmore was thrown out by Currie. Maloney walked filling the bases. Then Dennie uncorked a wild pitch, the ball going over the screen and Jamieson trotted in after which the batter rolled out.

Switchgear made it 2 to 0 in the third when Jamieson singled, went to second on Carpenter's roller to Dennie and scored on Ashmore's double over third.

Combines broke loose in the fifth to take a good lead. Elliott started it with a single to right, Delpellaro flied out to Carpenter, but Nicholls doubled to left, sending Elliott to third. Murduff singled to left, scoring Elliott and Nicholls, and the batter went to third on Carpenter's wide throw home. Caccavella's single scored Murduff. McCormick dropped a double into right, Caccavella going to third. He scored from there on Girard's long fly to Robertson in right. Craig and Dennie walked to fill the bases. Elliott beat out a tap for his second hit of the innings, scoring McCormick. Delpellaro popped to end the big frame.

That made it 5 to 2 but Switchgear evened it up in their half. Carpenter tripled to right to start the rally. Ashmore walked but was tossed out trying to steal second. Maloney walked and Freddy Elliott came in to pitch. Abraham got a double to centre when McCormick misjudged his long high fly, Carpenter scoring. Elliott slipped in a low wild pitch, Maloney scoring. T. Caccavella popped to second but Robertson cut a single through M. Caccavella to drive in the tying run. Harrison flied to Caccavella back of second.

Combines went out in front again in the seventh. McCormick walked and after Girard had flied to Pagett, Craig singled through short and Dennie bunted safely filling the bases. When Elliott's infield tap was fielded to the plate too late to get McCormick the run was in and everybody was safe. Carpenter however saved a lot of grief when he speared Delpellaro's fly to left and nipped Craig at the plate with a clothes-line throw as he tried to score after the catch.

Once more Switchgear tied it up but they had a lot of luck on the play. Maloney popped to start the inning but Abraham got a life when Nicholls missed his liner. Caccavella forced him at second on a tap to Nicholls. With two out Caccavella started to steal and Girard's throw went through to centre field and got away from McCormick, Caccavella got all the way home to sew up the game after which Robertson rolled out.

That was all the scoring neither team could put together a run in the next three innings and the battle was called at the end of the tenth.

TORONTO, July 3 — (CP). — Relations are a bit strained in the Homick family at Windsor, Ont. Joe Homick of Walker Metal Products had a no-hit game in his pitching pocket in the Windsor Industrial Softball League this week except for one measly pop single. And the Windsor Star says: "The ball almost certainly could have been caught had not the left-fielder pulled up when he got near it, preferring to play it safe." The left fielder was none other than Joe's brother, Casey Homick. The hit came in the first inning when there were no thoughts of a no-hitter. Otherwise Casey probably would have risked his neck to make the catch. Anyway Joe scored a 19-0 victory over Purity Dairies and Doug Sabine, the batter who spoiled Homick's no-hitter, was the Dairy pitcher who took all the punishment in return.

Oh, brother.

Maybe there's more to this all-American professional girls' softball league than mere softball, but who would want more than meets the eye? Just read this comment by a Chicago writer, Alma Overholt, about one of the Regina girls playing in the league:

"Tall and stunning in her dark beauty, perfect posture and the walk of a queen, Mary Baker, star catcher for South Bend, is a fashion model in private life." Who wants to see softball anyway?

Incidentally:

Drawing attention to the current patriotic salvage drive in Winnipeg, racing secretary George Schilling named races on Monday's card at Winnipeg's Polo Park, the Copper Purse, the Brass Purse, the Metal Salvage Purse, the Iron Purse, the Chromium Purse, and the Lead and Tin Purse. The Gold, 'tis assumed, is where you find it—at the pari-mutuel wickets....Now is as good a time as any to spike those rumors that Boston's Bill Cowley will be in the Navy, come next hockey season. The Navy turned Bill down because of his trick knee....Maybe the Navy will have some real hockey without Bill though. For example, six members of the Winnipeg Rangers Memorial Cup champions now are located with the tars in Victoria.

Yankee Maid Captures $4,299 Stake

CLEVELAND, July 3—(AP)—After Selka Spencer won the first heat for a $2 pari-mutuel refund of $116.20, Yankee Maid took the second and third heats of the $4,299 American stake for two-year-old trotters at North Randall today.

Owned by A. L. Derby of Wichita, Kan., and driven by Fred Egan, the Volomite-sired Yankee Maid was a surprise scorer, too. Third in the opening mile, she paid 17 to 1 in grabbing the second mile, but she was a strong favorite over the Spencer filly when only the two of them reported for the final round.

Bowling Tourney Starts Tuesday, July 6

HAMILTON, July 3—The 55th annual Ontario Lawn Bowling Association tournament is scheduled to commence on Tuesday evening and expectations are that a full entry of 32 rinks will be ready by starting time. Today 25 rinks had signified their intentions of starting, including Danny Howard's Roselawn four, winners of the O.B.A. in 1942. Alex Roughead's quartet, who went through the initial test with only one loss to take down the Blue Top Prize, Jack Blackwood of Ontario Hospital, holder of the Buckingham Trophy, and Dr. A. A. Walkey of Argyle, who annexed the Spectator Award last year.

Being deprived of the use of the 20-odd greens at the Roselawn Club for this year's event the committee had to scurry around for greens and the event will be staged at six local clubs and in Dundas.

Entries should be sent to Secretary Alan Archer.

"YES, IT'S BETTER THAN EVER NOW!"

If you think re-siding and re-roofing is a luxury, think again! Making your home beautiful by applying wooden shingles also makes it weather tight and water tight, and doubly protected against severe summer heat and winter cold. When you consider the fuel savings, the reduction of future repair bills, and the permanent added value to your home, it's cheaper to re-roof and re-side than not to!

PROUD YANKEES AND DODGERS HUMILIATED BY SHUTOUT GAMES

Giants 5-3; Cards Trounce Hubbell Loses

By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer

New York Yankees and Brooklyn Dodgers stand at the crossroads today. What they do against Detroit Tigers and St. Louis Cardinals over the double-header holiday week-end may well determine their final ranking in the American and National leagues.

Both clubs have looked bad in losing two in a row to Cleveland Indians and Cincinnati Reds, respectively. The Indians yesterday humiliated the once proud Bronx Bombers by not only shutting them out 12-0, on Allie Reynolds' three-hit pitching, but by scoring all 12 runs in a terrific fourth inning outburst.

Such a manhandling has not happened to the Yankees in years. To top things off the Yanks lost the services of left fielder Charley Keller who was accidentally spiked on the left knee.

In the murderous fourth 16 Indians batted. Nine of them singled, one doubled, three walked, one was safe on an error and the other two grounded out. The third out resulted when Ray Mack, who drove in four runs during the uprising, overran first after singling and was caught trying to get back.

Cards Move Up

Dodgers dropped a full game behind the Cards yesterday by getting blanked, 8-0, by Elmer Riddle. Riddle scattered seven hits in winning his ninth game of the year, but was aided by three Brooklyn errors.

Gallant Carl Hubbell of the Giants tried to beat the Cards for his fourth win of the year, but instead suffered his second defeat, 5-3. Harry Gumbert twirled one-hit ball for the Cards until the seventh when Mel Ott authored his ninth homer of the year with one on.

Washington came from behind to tie Chicago White Sox in the ninth, then won in the 11th, 3-2, on Jake Early's double and Johnny Sullivan's single.

Milo Candini, Washington starter, was saved from his first defeat when singles by Bob Johnson and Early knotted the count at 2-2 in the ninth.

Truett "Rip" Sewell of Pittsburg Pirates chalked up his 11th Victory against two defeats by outpitching Jack Kraus to beat the Phillies, 2-1. The Phils' run came on Coaker Triplett's eighth inning homer, one of the five hits Sewell yielded.

St. Louis Browns scored four times in the ninth to beat the Athletics for the third straight day, 8-7. Everett Fagan, Rookie A's pitcher, walked five men to force in two runs, then Vern Stephens singled to win the game.

Chicago Cubs defeated Boston Braves, 7-1, for the eighth time in a row behind Claude Passeau's four-hit twirling.

Baltimore Orioles Trim Toronto Leafs By 6-3 Count

By The Associated Press

Pinch hitters, those young men who spend most of their time in the cool of the dugout only to be jerked into the heat of battle at rare intervals, stole the spotlight in the International League last night.

Les Goldstein was the hero at Syracuse, his pinch blow with the bases loaded in the seventh frame giving the Chiefs a 9-7 verdict over Montreal.

At Rochester it was Walter Alston who batted in the 10th for Second Baseman Bill Barnes and lifted a fly to Howard Moss that brought in the run that meant a 1-0 verdict for the Red Wings over Jersey City.

Pinch hitters weren't needed in the remaining games, Newark romping off with a pair of lopsided decisions at Buffalo and Baltimore nicking the pace-setting Toronto Leafs, 6-3. Newark's wins were by 10-1 and 11-2 margins.

The double Bear win and the setback suffered by the Leafs cut the Toronto hold on first place to three full games. With all teams listed for twin bills on Sunday and Monday because of the July Fourth holiday and Toronto and Baltimore also tangling in a bargain attraction today, the standings could undergo a violent shakeup over the week-end.

Al Ott, young Buffalo hurler, proved a cousin to the Newark Bears in the doubleheader. He started the first game and he couldn't retire a single batter before he was pounded from the hill. He then came in as a relief hurler in the second fray and was touched for Frank Sulvanic's homer.

The Bears pounded nine runs across the dish in the first frame of the opener.

Baltimore also had a fat inning while trimming the Leafs, five runs coming in during a hectic fifth frame that wasn't stopped until the veteran Red Kress left his third base post and took over on the mound.

Tom Sunkel hurled another good game for the Little Giants, giving up only three hits in the 10 innings of action but Blix Donnelly proved stronger in the pinch. Each of the hurlers walked six rivals.

Montreal and Syracuse traded big innings, each club registering four times in the seventh but the three runs the Chiefs acquired in the first game gave them the edge.

Cornwall Wins Lacrosse Tilt

CORNWALL, Ont., July 3—(CP)—Rapping home five straight goals with a blistering overtime offensive, Cornwall St. Regis Combines handed Lachine, Que., Air Force an 18-13 defeat in a Quebec Senior Lacrosse League game here last night. It was the first win of the season for the home team.

In the wild struggle, 26 penalties were handed out, six of them majors and one a match penalty. Dunsmore of R.C.A.F. drew the match penalty for tangling with Referee W. Stewart in the first quarter.

Angus George and Louis Sunday led the Cornwall team with four goals each, and Johnny Jacobs scored three. Nelson, with four, was top man for the Airmen, and McKenzie came next with three goals. After trailing for most of the fourth frame, Cornwall finished with a rush to score twice and send the tilt into overtime. They ran away with the extra session.

Wild Female Fans Frighten Umpire

WATERLOO, July 3 (Special) — Mayor Frank Relyea has received a request from the Waterloo Park Board asking him to invest special constable powers on Umpire Fred Anderson.

It appears that interruptions at Waterloo Minor Baseball Association games have been too frequent and caused "mostly by ladies" who used "high and handsome" language, to quote C. J. Moogk, who brought the matter to the attention of the board.

The board suggested that Fred Anderson, co-organizer of the Waterloo Minor Association, be "provided with authority to eject persons from the park."

Swedish Flash Wins Race By Big Margin

By The Canadian Press

The Swedish flash, Gunder Haegg, made his second start in the United States last night and it was another easy victory for the youth who holds seven world's distance running records. This time was at Chicago, where he beat Gil Dodds of Boston by 30 yards in a special two mile race. Three other American runners were far behind.

The time was slow—9:02.8—compared with Haegg's own world record of 8:47.7 established in Sweden in 1942, but it was still the third fastest two-miles ever run in America and Haegg showed no signs of strain. His victory over Dodds was just as decisive as his triumph over Greg Rice in a special mile at New York two weeks ago.

Dodds, the national A.A.U. 1,500 metres champion, cut loose with two sizzling drives on the back stretch of the seventh lap—the race was over a quarter-mile cinder track in flood-lighted Soldier's Field — but each time the Swedish runner simply opened up and left Dodds staggering.

At Empire City.

The second-string three-year-olds of the American turf get their chance to-day in the $25,000 Empire City handicap at Jamaica on Long Island. The big shots, like Count Fleet and Ocean Wave, are on the sidelines while such hay-burners as Vincentive and Famous Victory go out for the 6½ furlongs gallop.

Out in San Francisco old Charley Root is pitching his 23rd season. He's managing and pitching for the Hollywood Stars in the Pacific Coast loop. He said last night he wouldn't mind getting back with a big league club. An old Chicago Cub stalwart, Root added: "I'd like to show some of those wise guys like Jimmy Wilson and Jim Gallagher that I can still pitch winning ball up there."

A new star flickered briefly in the National League yesterday at Boston. A 17-year-old high school star, Ray Martin, took the mound for the Braves in the ninth inning of their game with the Chicago Cubs. The game was already lost, but Martin retired Lennie Merullo, Clyde Passeau and Stan Hack in order — on seven pitches. The Cubs won 7-1.

25 Rinks Enter.

Twenty-five Ontario lawn bowling rinks have already entered the 55th annual Ontario championship, to be held at Hamilton next Tuesday. Defending title-holders are Danny Howard's Hamilton Roselawn rink.

The bay filly Yankee Maid won the $4,300 American Stake for two-year-old trotters at Cleveland yesterday, capturing the second and third heats of the feature for two-year-olds. Yankee Maid was third in the opener, paid 17 to 1 in taking the second, and was a strong favorite over Selka Spencer, only other starter in the final.

Expert Dies.

A well-known sportsman and authority on salmon fishing, Charles Phair, 68, of Ridgefield, Conn., died in New York on Thursday. He was said to be one of only three men who have caught more than 5,000 salmon in America. And the experts themselves called him America's No. 1 salmon fisherman.

Another fisherman died yesterday —Dean Sage, 68, of Bernardsville, N.J. He suffered a heart attack while fishing on the Restigouche River in northern New Brunswick. He was a prominent lawyer and philanthropist. He was found dead just 20 minutes after he had caught a salmon and retired for a rest. His father died under similar circumstances about 40 years ago.

1,500 See Game

MONTREAL—(CP) —More than 1,500 persons turned out yesterday for a Girls' Softball game in which Toronto Simpsons defeated Montreal Royals 4-0. It was the first of a week-end series, a benefit game for Servicemen's Sport Funds.

300 Compete

300 athletes of the Royal Canadian Air Force from all parts of Canada were engaged in a track and field meet at Varsity Stadium yesterday. It was the first Commanding Officer's Sports Day to be held at the Station—No. 23 Pre-Aircrew Educational Detachment. A 48-hour leave pass was the prize for members of the winning flight, flight 26.

Auto Racer In Bigger Game

Major Peter De Paolo, RIGHT, who was a buck private in World War One and who won the 500-mile Indianapolis auto race in 1925, is now motor transportation officer at Lowry field. He is chatting here with a student in the Army Air Forces technical training command department of photography. The student is Pfc. De Paolo, 19-year-old son of the major.

The Sports Round-Up

By HUGH FULLERTON, Jr.
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, July 3.—(AP). —George Strickler, the National Football League drumbeater, reports that during the recent meeting at Chicago a gent who frequently had put the touch on Buffalo's Charley Murray for meal money turned up for the first time in two years....He had heard the league had awarded Murray the Buffalo franchise and he wanted to bargain for a piece of it...."He had $10,000 in his pocket and the unconscious body of Murray on his hands," says George, "and when Murray recovered from the shock, he redoubled his efforts to get the franchise."

Eddie Arcaro, still under suspension at the hoss tracks, keeps in the pink of exercising nags in the early morning and keeps out of the red by spending his afternoons at baseball parks instead of those places with mutuel windows....The Women's International Bowling Congress, which bought a bomber and "adopted" its crew last spring, now plans to purchase one or more $80,000 ambulance planes during the coming year.

Patty Berg Enlists

CHICAGO — (AP).—Patty Berg had no sooner won the women's western golf championship yesterday than she filed an application for enlistment with the Women's Reserve of the United States Marines. She's afraid, however, that her knee injury may cause trouble when she takes her physical examination next Wednesday.

Wins High Jump Overseas

Clearing the bar at four feet four inches, Pte. J. H. Brooks, of Vancouver, B.C., won the running high jump at the recent sports day held in England by Royal Canadian Army Service Corps units of an armored division.

Redhead Patty Takes Western Title

CHICAGO, July 2 (AP)— Patty Berg completed her successful golfing comeback in vibrant tension yesterday winning four of the last six holes in a pressure-filled, subpar rally that gave her a 1-up victory over Dorothy Kirby and her second women's western open championship in three years.

The Minneapolis redhead relinquished a 1-up lead on the fourth hole of the morning round and never again was ahead of her Atlanta, Ga., partner until she coolly rammed in a 30-foot putt on the 35th green for a brilliant birdie. They halved the 36th with pars, Miss Kirby being left with a 25-foot putt which would have squared the match if it had dropped.

Patty, playing the most holes since crushing her knee 18 months ago, limped up to the 31st tee three down. The supple Southerner, whose lethal putter—one that was sent to her last winter by Patty—had accounted for 13 one-stroke greens, missed a six-footer which gave Miss Berg the hole with a par.

Patty was required to sink only three-foot putts on the next two holes for birdie wins and even the match. To prove she was still one of the greatest pressure players in the game, she planted a 150-yard approach three feet from the pin on the 15th.

Patty succeeded Betty Jameson as the women's western open titlist. Miss Jameson, now living in Mexico City, did not defend her crown.

Golf Club Leaders Rounding Up Teams

A lot of interest has been in evidence since the first mention of the President vs. Vice-President Match, being played at the Kawartha Golf and Country Club, Monday morning. It is understood that President Ed Riley, and Vice-President J. E. Girven are busy rounding up two evenly matched teams.

Every golfing member of the club is urged to be at the first tee, early Monday. The first foursome will get away at 9.00 a.m. with the others getting away at ten minute intervals. The match will be completed in time for the C. G. E. and Genelco members, to leave for the picnic.

Yesterday's Stars

By The Associated Press.

Allie Reynolds and Ray Mack, Indians—Reynolds blanked Yankees with three singles; Mack drove in four runs with two hits in big 12-run fourth inning.

Johnny Sullivan and Jim Mertz, Senators—Sullivan's 11th inning single and Mertz' relief pitching gave Nats overtime win against White Sox.

Vern Stephens, Browns— Singled with bases loaded in ninth inning to beat Athletics.

Tommy Bridges, Tigers— Veteran righthander fanned 11 in beating Red Sox for fifth win of season.

Rip Sewell, Pirates—Held Phillies to five hits in winning 11th game of campaign.

Claude Passeau, Cubs— Twirled four-hitter as Bruins beat Braves for eighth straight time.

Elmer Riddle, Reds—Won ninth game of season in white-washing Brooklyn on seven scattered hits.

Harry Gumbert, Cardinals, and Mel Ott, Giants—Gumbert pitched one-hit ball for six innings in beating Giants; Ott clouted ninth homer with one on in seventh.

Sport Shorts From Britain

By ALAN NICKLESON
Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON, July 3 (CP)—Generally speaking, Britain's post-war sport program calls for settling of many problems before things are normal. That means boxing, too, will have its headaches, but there certainly won't be a dearth of up-and-coming scrappers when the troops come marching home.

Just for example, the National Boxing Championships of the Air Training Corps took place before a packed house at London's massive Albert Hall and the boys in the ring, ranging in age from 13-17, were survivors of some 200,000 competitors in all parts of Britain. Perhaps some of the world's future fight greats were on display — certainly there were some future outstanding professionals in the bunch—but anyway the standard of boxing, in the opinion of experts, was high.

Most outstanding performance was that of Stanley Westbrook, a London cadet who had been boxing less than six months. The pale-faced lad, showing amazing ring-craft and a natural boxing ability, won the 112-pound senior title and went on to take the national crown.

Auburn-haired Ronnie Muir, 17-year-old from Edinburgh, was the crowd's favorite because of his ability plus an ever-present smile. Ronnie won the 108-pound national junior title by beating 14-year-old Billy Howick of London in the fastest bout of the lot. Billy, a protege of Dave Crowley, former British lightweight king, received a trophy as the best loser of the tourney.

The 64 finalists stepped through more than 10 hours of continuous boxing before a distinguished gathering that included Lady Sinclair, wife of the air minister; Capt. H. H. Balfour, undersecretary of state for air, and the Duke of Hamilton, known in his younger days as the "Boxing Marquis." Also present were high officers of the Royal Air Force and directors of the A.T.C., an organization to prepare air-minded kids for entry into the R.A.F.

High praise for the boxing ability of A.T.C. boys comes from Matt Wells, winner of four Amateur Boxing Association lightweight titles just before the First Great War. Matt is a boxing instructor for the cadets. "These youngsters are far in advance of the boys of my youth," he said. "Many of them reveal uncanny boxing skill and intelligence."

Matt, a fellow with a sense of humor, likes to tell the cadets of his first lesson in discipline. It came, rightly enough, from his mother. The night after he won the Lonsdale Belt in 1911 his mother remonstrated with him for staying out until the wee hours.

"I'm going to do just what I like now that I'm champion," Matt replied. The answer to that was a slap across the face and his lip was gashed by a ring his mother wore. "My opponent hadn't inflicted a bruise, but my mother did," Matt said. "She taught me a lesson I've never forgotten — never be impudent." That cut lip, incidentally, prevented Matt from accepting a fight for weeks.

Vagabond King Back After 16 Years

By GUY RHOADES
Canadian Press Staff Writer.

NEW YORK, July 3 — (CP). — Russell Janney brought "The Vagabond King" back to Broadway this week, back from the quiet attic where he had lain for 16 years, and the New York Herald Tribune said

"The King is dead."

The Schubert Theatre, where the lusty choruses once roused the blood of the male members of the audience and Dennis King the blood of the female members, was almost empty. The critics were there, and in the intervals few old duffers could be heard in the balcony, humming the music.

But it was not the same, just as most things aren't.

Rudolph Friml's music was the same music. Some said the singing of John Brownlee, borrowed from the Metropolitan Opera Association, was just as good as King's was. Some said the change of style from opera to operetta appeared to bother him. Nobody found fault with Frances McCann as Katherine de Vauchelles.

Sixteen years is a long time and maybe Luis Kroenenberger of PM was right when he said:

"The Vagabond King was really the last of the big, unashamed cloak-and-sword operettas. The kitchen stove went into it along with the kitchen sink, and there is a certain pleasure, even if not the highest kind, to be had from high-busted romantic folderol so long as it pretends to be nothing else."

Burns Mantle who does the theatrical pieces for the Daily News probably became more nearly enthusiastic than any of the writing crowd. He wanted to know why the Vagabond had not been revived before. He suggested it was just as good as "The Student Prince" or "Blossom Time," and went on to say that the comedy was even better.

LAWN BOWLING

All that is now necessary to make the holiday a success, as far as the Peterborough Lawn Bowling Club is concerned, is to have a big entry in both tournaments.

As for the ladies' tournament, the draw is from the board at 1.30 p.m., and the fee is 25 cents.

In the men's tournament you must choose your own rink, with the only stipulation, it must be schedule calibre. These games also start at 1.30 o'clock and the fee is $2.00 per rink. Now that's the program for Monday, July 5th, and we are going to spring this same old gag—"Be On Time."

There was just the regular crowd out Friday night. Just why no more bowlers were out is hard to say, it was a beautiful night for bowling.

RECORD RHUBARB LEAF

Mrs. C. Wood of 543 Edison avenue reports pulling a rhubarb leaf from her garden which measured 24½ x 28½ inches, surely a record for rhubarb.

A GRAND CATCH.

A 21½ lb. Maskinonge was hauled aboard Friday night by Stanley Harran, 376½ Water Street, while fishing at the head of Chemong Lake. The big muskie was caught on a Lucky-Strike plug bait.

LITTLE DAMAGE.

The Fire Department had little to report to the City Council Friday, for the past month, with the fire loss standing at $75. This covered all of June and is one of the lowest damage estimates of 1943.

TO MAKE CONNECTIONS.

The C. P. R. Sunday train has been delayed 10 minutes in leaving Peterborough in order to make connections with outlying district buses. It will now leave at 7 o'clok.

SMALL INCREASE.

On donation for the Greek War Relief Fund has been received since Wednesday at the Examiner. Mrs. A. J. Hall gave $5 bringing the total amount to $4,101.35.

WHAT HAPPENED?

Although the love bug seems to be working overtime these days he slipped up badly during the month of June according to a report given at the City Council Friday night when it showed a large decrease in the number of marriages in June of this year, over that of the same month in 1942. Last year there were 74 marriages recorded in June, but in 1943 there were 35; there were 97 births in 1942 and 86 in June 1943; there were fewer deaths also, with 39 in June 1942 and 34 in 1943.

HOLIDAY CHANGE.

There will be no meeting on Monday of the Rotary Club because of the holiday, members decided.

Food Problem Is Playing Big Part In War

Taking as his theme the dictum of American Secretary of Agriculture Wickard that "Food will win the War and Write the Peace" Jas. G. Wharry, Division Sales Manager of the Quaker Oats Co., addressed Kiwanians on Friday and spoke of the problems confronting Canadian agriculture and Allied industries in these critical days.

As the war proceeds, Mr. Wharry said, the demand by our Allies for the grains and live stock produced by us is on the increase. On the one hand, Great Britain is pressing us to supply her with ever larger quantities of flour and Russia has recently stepped into the picture with requests for huge amounts of grain; on the other hand, the United States, long known as the world's largest producer, has reached the point where it is consuming and exporting seven bushels of corn to every five grown and has thus become [illegible]endent upon the Canadian bank of grain to save it from serious shortage. All these needs we must do our best to meet, and do it, too, in the face of an inadequate supply of labor.

"It is a very, very serious situation on the farms of Canada," the speaker said, "and the quantity of products that food manufacturers can turn out is critically hampered by the lack of sufficient factory hands."

Feed Grain Moved East.

Mr. Wharry made mention of the huge bill incurred by subsidies required to move a vast amount of Western Canada's grain to the eastward for the purposes of raising live stock, and in this connection remarked upon the gratifying success which was being achieved by modern scientific feed-research. As against the 1,000 to 1,200 pounds of grain it took to produce a bacon hog in bygone days, properly balanced rations rich in vitamins had reduced the poundage to less than 700. "Hogs are better fed than humans," Mr. Wharry ventured.

The significance of this and other equally spectacular achievements was obvious. Such reductions in the volume of grains required to fatten live stock left more of our production to fill the war-needs of Britain and the United States, reduced the heavy burden on the already over-taxed capacities of railway freight, and incidentally would help to brighten the countenances of many careworn taxpayers.

"Yes, Food will win the War and write the Peace," Mr. Wharry reminded his listeners.

The speaker was introduced by Milt Hardill and the vote of thanks was extended him by Stanley Longhurst.

Steering Wheel Locks Two Cars Collide

When a steering wheel locked and an automobile went out of control on Highway 7, several miles west of the Chemong turn Friday night, two cars were damaged and the occupants had a narrow escape from injury.

Kee Lee, Sophia street, was driving west as a car driven by Elmer Hickey, R.R. 1, Omemee, came along travelling east. As the two vehicles drew near each other, the steering-wheel on the Hickey car locked and the driver was unable to prevent his machine from veering over to the north side of the highway. As a result there was a head-on collision between the two automobiles.

Lee's car was not badly damaged but the other vehicle suffered severely from the impact. Most of the glass was shattered and Hickey and his three children had a close call from flying fragments.

Provincial Traffic Officer L. A. McClure investigated.

Woman Is Fined $25 On Two Drunk Counts

Gabrielle Drouhout, the Ottawa woman who set something of a record here a few days ago by securing a permit from the Selective Service office to go to work, secured a job and landed in the lockup on a drunk charge all within three hours of her arrival in the city, is evidently finding Peterborough a tough spot.

When she appeared in police court the morning after her arrest she pleaded not guilty to being drunk and was granted an adjournment, intimating that she wanted to get time to obtain the money to pay her fine.

Friday night Gabrielle slipped off the deep end again and was once more arrested in a charge of being drunk.

She appeared before Magistrate Langley, K.C., in police court this morning, changed her plea to guilty on the first charge and was fined $10 and $2.50 costs or ten days.

Then she entered a plea of guilty to the charge of being drunk last night.

On that count she was fined $10 and $2.50 costs also.

Magistrate Langley informed her that if the fines are not paid, the ten days' jail sentence will run consecutively so that Gabrielle will be the guest of Castle Johnston for 20 days if she cannot dig up $25.

Wartime Houses Want To Discuss Annexation Of Certain Properties

At a meeting of the City Council on Friday night, further changes were made in the traffic rules by by-law restricting parking in special sections during the rush hours of the day.

As soon as the proper signs are erected and the Department approval given the following laws will be in effcet. Between the hours of 7 oclock at night until 8 o'clock in the morning there are no parking restrictions. From 8 in the morning until 7 at night the parking limit is 30 minutes on both sides of Charlotte Street between Aylmer and Water, and on Water between Simcoe and Charlotte Streets, with the exception of the hours between 11:30 in the morning until 1 o'clock in the afternoon, and 4:30 in the afternoon until 6 o'clock in the evening. This ruling applies to every week day and it will not affect the market.

The resolution passed by the Finance Committee Wednesday night that the Council make an agreement with Wartime Housing was opposed by Alderman Herbert Bradburn, who said he had not received a report and he would not like to see the Council plunge into the matter without being careful. He maintained that the Council was only signifying its willingness to sign an agreement, but that the form of the agreement had not been decided upon, and that it should be satisfactory to all members concerned.

Alderman G. N. Gordon said that Alderman Bradburn was showing his good business sense and that technically he was right about the wording of the resolution, but that nothing was final until the members passed a by-law. It was finally decided to change the wording to read "that City sign an agreement with Wartime Housing Ltd., to receive payments of $24 and $30 per annum from the Company, according to the schedule of the agreement."

Want Annexation.

Wartime Housing requested annexation for certain of their properties including the Staff House. The Council felt it was too important matter to be settled without considerable thought, and Alderman James Dutton said that the matter had been thrust upon them and it would have to be faced sooner or later and they might as well come to grips with it.

A motion was made that the City Clerk write to the Council of North Monaghan and ask them to meet them or send a deputation to discuss a communication from Wartime Housing, and the Peterborough Council would set aside a special night as soon as possible to discuss the situation.

V. Crebar, Ashburnham, lived on outskirts of city has acquired part of the Old Carton Estate at $2,500 asked for permission to build a house and tourist cabins. Mayor Hamilton was very much opposed to the idea, saying that it had been the policy of the Council not to allow cabins to be built in the city. Other members of the Council reminded that the property was on the edge of the city and that the owner was a reputable citizen, and permission was granted but left things so that the matter must be handled under the building by-law, and must be under the supervision of the City Engineer and the Plumbing Inspector.

Have Solicitors.

The City Clerk was instructed to write to the Ministerial Association, the Superintendent of the Children's Aid Society, the Police Matron, the Secretary of the Dependents Allowance Board and the Welfare Officer advising that two solicitors have been appointed for the purpose of advising on and assisting in, domestic problems and legal difficulties that persons may be involved in, and that the solicitors will advise and act for them in cases where the people are unable to pay regular solicitors' fees.

Two recommendations of the Legal Committee were endorsed by the Council members. The chairman of the committee, Alderman Sands was authorized to have proper signs prepared and erected giving notice to the public of the free parking area south of Charlotte Street, and the proper route to reach this area. The Council also decided that no change would be made in the definition of "parking" in the Traffic By-Law, but that the City Clerk write to other cities and secure the interpretation given the word "parking" in their by-laws.

Examiner Carriers Organize For Drive On Depth Charges

They are after you and you and you; and if they're as good as they have always been, your wallet or pocketbook is going to be a trifle lighter.

Examiner News Carrier boys met Friday afternoon in the Canadian Legion Hall to organize their campaign to sell enough War Savings Stamps to purchase 34 of the 67 depth bombs the city is striving to pay for by the end of July.

Bert Cowan, Circulation Manager, presided at the get-togehter and gave the youngsters a little pep talk. It was really just that—short and simple—because the determination and enthusiasm of all lads present was ample evidence that they don't need much prodding. Their reputation as salesmen is well established, and it looks as if this month they are out to surpass themselves.

A few technical matters of general interest were brought up in the meeting, explained by Mr. Cowan and discussed—where discussion was needed— till everything was quite clear to every Stamp-O-Gram salesman. It the end it appeared that very little discussion was needed. The vast majority of boys appeared already well acquainted with the details of the job they are embarking on with their youthful patriotism and energetic will-to-win and some even evidently looked upon the proceedings as one of those unavoidable matters of routine.

Charts were handed out showing the boys what ranks they can obtain in the Army of Junior Commandos by their sales of stamps, and badges corresponding with insignia of the Canadian Army will be awarded each one for his performance. A youngster who sells 25 stamps becomes a Cadet Commando, and the aggressive soldier who battles his way to the 300-stamp mark is named to a full generalship. If this army runs true to form, it will not be surprising if there are more general officers than non-commissioned ranks.

Charge Costs $90.

Every depth bomb costs $90, and each poster representing the cost price of an "ashcan" has on it 90 scpaces to be filled by Stamp-O-spaces to be filled by Stamp-O-and address. When completed, the posters will be despatched to Navy Headquarters in Ottawa and will be pasted on depth charges Canadian vessels will use in the relentless hunt of the underseas enemy.

The boys were asked to say how many posters they thought they could undertake to fill, individually or in groups of two or three. Some of the more daring and experienced feeling sure of their capacity to produce results, did not hesitate in committing themselves by large promises. Others showed an inclination to hold back, perhaps from excessive modesty. But 23 out of 34 posters were spoken for from the floor in a few minutes, and those who did not publicly announce their intentions at the meeting plus those who were unable to attend because of pressing engagements to swim or play ball will easily fill the quota.

Those who made poster promises on Friday are as follows: Bill Edgar 4, Nancy Leith 3, Gerald Rose 3, Don Padgett 2, Jim Grant, Keith Boorman, David Fenn, Miles Brooks, James Cournyea, Teddy Williams, and George Gimblett 1 each; and one poster between them for each of four pairs, Earl Wilson and Donald Doughty, Paul Jones and Gerald O'Neill, Murray Wight and Jack Hayes, Gerald Sutherland and Donald Fitzsimmons. The first four, who between them mean to account for 12 of the posters, are the carriers who went in May to Ottawa to be presented to Prime Minister Mackenzie King and the Minister of Finance Hon. J. Ilsley, in recognition of their outstanding work in the sale of War Stamps. Young James Cournyea, who plans to fill a complete poster by himself, has three brothers in the Canadian Navy.

Accident Brings Help To Others In Need

Little seven-year-old Jerry Frizzelle of 25 Frank Street was unfortunate in breaking his leg on May 20. His friends autographed the cast and placed a donation in the Peterborough and District British War Victims' Fund box which he is shown holding up to view. Thus out of his misfortune comes some good for others, which will soon be winging its way over to Britain in an amount of $5.55, when the next donation is completed.

Proceeds From Decoration Day Adds $54.45 To War Victims Fund

Nature always speaks as the work of an Almighty loving hand, giving of its beauty and bounty for the benefit of mankind, so what could be more fitting than that its surroundings and influence should be made the occasion for an act of good to others, which surely is fulfilling the command of the Great Creator to "Bear ye one anothers burdens."

Last Sunday was Decoration Day in this city, one which has become a tradition through the leadership of the Independent Order of Oddfellow Lodges in this city, who initiated this beautiful ceremony of remembrance, and have conducted it with unbroken sequence for well over half a century, in which countless others have joined who have loved ones lying at rest in Little Lake Cemetery.

As on the same occasion last year, the Otonabee and Peterborough Lodges of Oddfellows sponsored the taking of a collection to give aid to sufferers from air raids over Britain, in which they were assisted by the members of Golden Link Rebekah Lodge No. 81, who passed amongst those attending in the manner of by-gone days with properly prepared receptacles known as pokes, which resulted in the splendid contribution to the Peterborough and District British War Victims Fund amounting to $54.45 which appears to-day.

Could those for whom this lovely ceremony of remembrance is held but speak, in this hallowed spot, how well would they endorse this tribute to their memory and the act that made it the occasion to help others who are suffering through the destruction brought about by air warfare in Britain. Long may this annual remembrance under the leadership of the Oddfellow Lodges of Peterborough continue to function and flourish.

Little Sufferer Helps.

On May 20, little 7-year-old Jerry Frizzelle, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Frizzelle of 25 Frank Street had the misfortune to fall and break his leg in three places, which necessitated a cast being placed on it, and incidentally a silver plate, the latter of which will always have to remain. His friends and acquaintences autographed this same cast, and in so doing made it the occasion to place a contribution in one of the fund's boxes, so that from out of this little lad's misfortune, good might flow to others in need, and when the cast was removed a few days ago, the box was turned in and found to contain $5.55 which is listed in today's receipts, and it is hoped will shortly be on its way to fulfil its mission of mercy where the need exists.

The habit of thrift cultivated in the tender years has often proved to be the foundation of much greater things, and that is perhaps one of the reasons why some boys and girls have little penny banks. But when this is accompained by its being used to do some good for others, it teaches an invaluable lesson of far more intrinsic value transcending out of all proportion to the actual monetary value that might be involved. Little 6 year old Sammy Kingdon, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Kingdon has on quite a number of occasions emptied his penny bank so that the boys and girls who have been driven out of their homes in England might have a little help and in the days to come, he will benefit himself in character and gain much satisfaction from this memory of his childhood days.

Parents Made Responsible For Children

Children under 10 years of age will not be permitted to swim at Inverlea unless under the direct supervision of their parents or other adults, according to a resolution suggested by Alderman F. Curtis, chairman of the Parks committee and endorsed by the Council. The city solicitor has been ordered to draw up a by-law to this effect.

Mr. Curtis explained that the resolution was made to relieve the life guard, who was not a super man, and who when he had 400 children of all ages to keep an eye on could not be expected to keep track of all of them. He declared that this ruling would make for greater safety for the smaller kiddies and would make the parents shoulder the responsibility.

The amount being spent on relief is showing a steady decline, according to Welfare Officer A. G. Metheral. During the month of June the sum of $792.32 was spent on relief. During the same period City Engineer Parsons reported that 42 permits for building had been issued for buildings valued at $45,696. Six dwellings were estimated to be costing $25,000, garages $75 and miscellaneous $20,021.

There were 39 marriage licenses issued in June, amounting to $195 and the city licenses issued amounted to a total value of $649, the city clerk reported. He also dealt with parking violations. Some of the aldermen questioned if anyone was taking the traffic regulations seriously, and the Mayor pointed out that the answer was contained in this report. Since June 1, members of the Police Department have issued 146 parking tickets. Of these, 137 of the violators came to the clerk's office and paiad the penalty of $1. Nine remained unpaid and have been reported to the Police Department. Also during the month, there were 99 convicted in police court.

Cavan Friends Hold Dance For Newlyweds

CAVAN, July 3 — (ENS). — Over 100 friends and neighbours gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Morris McGee (nee Muriel Brians) on Tuesday night to congratulate and wish them happiness in their recent marriage.

The early part of the night was spent dancing with violin and guitar music furnished by two men from Peterborough. Later, Mr. and Mrs. McGee were escorted by Ned Ballantyne and Stanford Brown to Mrs. Stanford Brown who read an appropriate address. Two of the local boys presented them with a studio couch and Marie Ballantyne presented Mrs. McGee with a glass rolling pin.

A social hour was spent while lunch was served. Dancing was resumed until early morning.

Davis Came From Wales In 1920 Now Has Fleet Of Eleven Cars

Hugh Davis, owner of the Capitol Taxi concern, is not one of those men who feel women should not be in business, rather he candidly confesses that his present success is due mainly to the efforts of his wife, the former Blanche Flannery, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Flannery of Peterborough, who carried on after he enlisted in the 1st Midland Regiment in August 1940.

In 1935, Mrs. Davis began to work for her husband as telephone operator and bookkeeper in the George street office and so gained valuable experience. When she was married she gave up her work and only returned to it at the time her husband went into active service. Towards the end of 1940, Mr. Davis had a serious bout with pneumonia and spent five months in the hospital, after which he was discharged. If his wife had not been able to manage things during this period he claims he would have had no business to return to.

Born in North Wales, this taximan came to Canada in 1920 and spent a few years farming. He stayed for some time at Clinton and Stirling and came to Peterborough in 1923 and was employed by P. Slattery of Otonabee. From there he moved to the Quaker Oats and when his health broke down he got his first job as a taxi driver with Harold Dunsford. He has also worked for Herb Stinson, Harold Howell and Darell Rose.

First Taxi

During the depression, Mr. Davis took his first step at running his own taxi service and approached a local resident, whose faith in Mr. Davis business ability, led him to advance the necessary funds and he started off with an old taxi which had been used by Lingards of Port Hope. The first day on his own he took in $1.25, the second 25 cents and the third nothing at all, he recalled ruefully. But as time went on, in spite of the good and bad days things improved.

His first office was on Aylmer street below Hunter where a small antique shop now operates. Around 1935 he had three taxis running there and then business troubles developed and he had to sell all but one taxi and he moved to his present office on George street. The business gradually kept increasing even during the depression, and the reason the owner advanced for this was that he knew what people wanted and tried to give it to them. His policy has been to tell people the truth. If he can send them a car immediately, he says so, and if it will be 15 minutes later, he informs the customer and lets him be the judge as to whether he will wait.

Another of the Capitol policies is to give service for which the customer is not paying, and Mr. Davis says his drivers have been well drilled in that rule. He insists that his men take no chances with elderly people and in similar instances, they lend every assistance to the passenger both personally and with baggage. He pointed out that this not only wins the passenger as a friend, but it may influence a neighbor sitting on a verandah.

At the present time, the Capitol Taxi has 11 cars giving service. With wartime restrictions it has become the rule to operate half the fleet one week and half the next. Mr. Davis said that he does his best to give service, but they cannot do what they would in peace time. In order to avoid doubling up on trips, through the co-operation of stores and stands, his men phone into the office when they make a call in a certain district, to make certain there is nothing else in that particular section. In addition to his cars Mr. Davis also operates a cartage service and has trucks working for the government on different highways. The Bell Telephone Co., had arranged to install a telephone system for this taxi service at strategic points throughout the city, but because of restrictions and a shortage of supplies the idea has been temporarily abandoned.

Variety In Work

Taxi drivers have some varied experiences, Mr. Davis related. Some customers like their drivers to appear in uniform, others when they phone in, request that they instruct drivers to remove their caps when they come, and then they have had rush calls to the hospital. Mr. Davis said that little more than a week ago they had a case where a baby was born in one of their taxis just as it reached the hospital.

Prior to the war when taxis were used extensively for out-of-town trips, a frequent question put to taxi drivers was how did they adjust themselves to the speed suiting their passengers. This taxi man declared it was simple. He said that usually there was a carload and after leaving the city and increasing the speed rate, he had only to watch their reactions. As long as the group chatted among themselves he knew the speed limit was all right, but as soon as it didn't suit his customers the conversation stopped as they concentrated on what he was doing.

Mr. Davis stated that in his experience he has always found the majority of people very pleasant to work with and after the war if it is within his power to do, so he will endeavour to give the same service as was customary in pre-war days.

Recently Mr. Davis was appointed Examiner of Applicants for chauffeur and operator licenses.

Roseneath Pupils Honor Teacher

ROSENEATH, July 3 (ENS). — The pupils of Roseneath School held a picnic on closing day June 29. In the forenoon all journeyed to a nearby meadow where a creek and a sand pit provided amusement.

My Husband Has Joined The Reserves

By Dorothy Dumbrille and Contributed by Writers' War Committee

By HIS WIFE.

Our neighbor signed up first. I saw him come out on the porch one afternoon, in his uniform, and remarked to John that I didn't think anyone so old could join the Army.

"He's in the Reserve Army," my husband explained, not looking up at me. "Joined last week, and says he likes it."

The woman next door had a camera and we watched her taking pictures of the new uniform. She stood there looking after him, as he swung out the gate on his way to drill.

"By Jove," John chuckled, "the old boy walks as smartly as though he were twenty."

That was the beginning.

One night about a week later, John said casually at dinner "Think I'll drift up to the armouries and see what's doing."

I had finished my dessert and was looking through the evening paper, so I simply looked up and smiled—I had been expecting it—"All right, dear, I'll be nere to answer the phone and door-bell."

John is principal of the High School, and at this time of year, so many parents come to interview him about the Farm Option, or the exams or possibly of their boy or girl getting war work for the summer.

It must have been around eleven when he came home. I heard the car stop out in front, instead of going on down to the garage. His step was quick; he seemed glad to see I was still up, to talk to him. "O, I wondered if you were in bed—I'll just run out to the car and get something I have to show you."

He came back in a moment with a uniform over his arm—the rough battle-dress, glengarry, plaid tie, and officer's stick.

"I had to buy the glengarry, tie and stick, because I'm an officer, but the rest is the issue; they all get them. I'm going to think of getting a better uniform later. This one is the regular battle dress."

"An officer. How in the world—"

That old C.O.T.C. certificate I have. Remember? They want me to take over the drill here. I'm a lieutenant."

I was prepared when he told me they had to drill Sundays—that's the only day the Reserves have free. They can drill in the armouries in the evenings, but they have to have almost a whole day for the field mahoeuvres.

The first Sunday, when he came home, there was a lot of groaning and grunting as he undressed. They had spent all afternoon doing strange things in a field behind the town. I smiled when he told me they had been digging trenches, when I remembered we had paid a man three dollars to dig the garden last week. It was the same little joke I enjoyed every winter when I put on goloshes and went out to sweep the walk each time it snowed; he went up to curl every night—in fact, is quite an expert with a broom. There just isn't any sense to it—but people never react in the way we think they should. I quite realize, though, that the digging in the garden is not the same as the making of a trench—and trenches are necessary in war time.

At first John looked rather sheepish when he came downstairs in his battle dress. He weighs over two hundred, and when he first started drill, he was pale—a sort of putty color, from being in school all day and in his office most evenings. Now he has a beautiful tan, and looks ten years younger. His shoulders had a stoop—a tired look, and now he is so straight, and has a spring in his step.

I sewed the pips on his shoulders half an inch from the shoulder—according to direction—and I must admit I was rather proud of him when we set out for the armouries the first morning he was to go on a long route march. Some of the men were already there, looking a bit awkward in new uniforms. "We haven't all our equipment yet," he informed me, "it takes a few days to get going." At the last minute he had called to me, "Wrap up a knife, fork, and spoon; we are having dinner in the field." I hurriedly grabbed the utensils from the breakfast table, wrapped them in paper, and put them in the pocket of the car."

He looked nervous when he saw the men lined up along the street to start out. I thought to myself, "He needs a larger glengarry. That one doesn't fit; it shows too much of his bald spot."

Just as I was about to drive away he called, "Hey," and came running to the car. "Don't forget my knife, fork and spoon." I unwrapped the "tools," and he said, "Heavens, am I supposed to eat Soup with a teaspoon." Well, how was I to know? I giggled all the way home and nearly ran over an old man who was going to church. That sobered me, and as I ate my lunch alone, I wondered how I could get a large spoon out to John in the field, by remote control.

That night I stayed up till after midnight. He had things to do at the armouries after drill—secretarial work, and the men sat around talking. The captain lived some distance out in the country and they had a lot of things to discuss when they got together.

I heard his heavy boots on the porch—heard the front door open, and left my typewriter long enough to run to meet him—

"Well, did you have a good day?"

He groaned, and sank into a chair and began to unlace his boots. After I saw the horseshoes of metal on the heels — I think they call them "Massey-Harris heels"— and the pointed studs on the toes, I objected to having them on my hardwood floors.

He pulled off his boot, and laid it gently on the floor. If he had dropped it it might have gone straight through to the cellar—they weigh a ton, more or less.

"Say, we had a man there from England. He used to train the Commandos— and he darned near killed us."

He looked up and smiled at me. "But, do you know, I enjoy it—seeing the fellows— outdoor exercise. I feel I have a part in this thing now."

He groaned again as he got up and hung up his glengarry. Want to see what we were doing? Not many men my age could stand it; I mean keep it up all afternoon. Want to see?"

By this time he was sitting on the floor. I stood there with my eyes popping out of my head as se stretched out at my feet. He put his arms flat—I was glad my battleship linoleum was clean; because I was thinking of his uniform, but he tells me they do that right on the ground. That uniform material must be made to stand a lot. He began to make motions very much like swimming, and each time he drew up his knee it pushed him forward. "We have to do twenty-five yards in two minutes," he grunted. "No fun." He was turning his head from side to side as he slid forward, looking first at the pantry door and then the hallway, as though he expected a mouse to pop out at him at any moment; there was a look in his eye which said, "Where's the enemy? Wherever he is I have to keep out of sight—and I have to crawl every inch of the way."

In a few minutes he looked up, very red in the face. "And sometimes, even in training, they have LIVE ammunition, to make the men learn to keep their heads down, you know."

"And what if they don't?" I queried, but he was busy balancing himself in a squatting position. "Remember that Cossack dance we saw one night at the theatre? We use that when we have ambush about shoulder high. We have to run along this way—and go fast, too—like this:"

He began to stretch out one leg and then the other and it was simply amazing the speed he could make. It looked hard to do—"Were all tuckered out when we're through."

I stood open-mouthed. There was John, my John—John who used to think walking back and forth to school enough exercise, going through all sorts of queer antics, and seeming to enjoy it.

"If I make a good job of this I may get to be a captain," he puffed, as he rose to his feet again, "I'm beginning to love this stuff."

I stood there looking at him and I knew he was telling the truth. His eyes were bright, and he had a clean, hard look, aside from the proud satisfied look of a man who feels he is doing his duty.

It's going to mean every Sunday alone. It's going to mean two nights a week when I have to keep myself busy with my knitting or other war work while he is at drill. It's going to mean two weeks this summer when we might be holidaying at the cottage, whereas he will be at the camp, I am quite satisfied. That's a wife's job.

I feel a lot happier now when I think we are going to have an Army right here at home—an Army aside from the boys we are sending overseas. I'm not so nervous now about the enemy invading Canada—John has joined the Reserves.

Awards Given Pupils At Picnic

NORTH SCHOOL, July 3 (ENS). —The annual school picnic of S.S. No. 1, Belmont, was held on the schol grounds Tuesday afternoon.

The picnic dinner tables were set under the shade of a large elm tree, when about thirty-five children and adults sat down to a bountiful dinner.

After dinner races, contests and bingo were much enjoyed by young and old.

The teacher, Mrs. Charles McConnell, awarded prizes for work throughout the year.

For punctuality and attendance, Joseph Harnden. Highest number of marks in tests during year was won by Randall Logan. General proficiency, Velma Buchanan.

The children then presented the teacher with a beautiful set of book-ends. The address was read by Anderson, and the presentation by Velma Buchanan.

Brown-Lundy Vows Taken At George St.

Mixed summer flowers decorated George Street United Church on Friday evening for the wedding of Jane Adelia Elva Lundy, daughter of Mrs. P. E. Lundy of Whitney, Ontario, to Cpl. Jonathan Alexander Brown, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Brown, 793 Water street. Rev. H. L. Roberts officiated and Mrs. C. Renaud played the wedding music while Miss Iris Whalon sang "Through the Years" during the signing of the register.

The bride, given in marriage by Mr. A. E. Lewis, a friend of the family, was gowned in white sheer with Swiss embroidery and wore her mother's three-quarter-length wedding veil caught with orange blossoms. She carried a bouquet of red roses and baby's breath. Miss Pearl Lundy was her sister's bridesmaid in a gown of turquoise sheer with pink accessories and a bouquet of pink roses and baby's breath. Mr. William Hunt was best man and the ushers were Cpl. Jack Junkin and Pte. Joe DeNoble.

The reception was held at the home of the groom's parents, where his mother received in a blue ensemble with matching accessories and a corsage of roses. The bride's mother was unable to be present. For travelling the bride wore a rose tweed suit with white accessories, when the happy couple left on a trip to northern Ontario.

Hundreds Attend Reunion At Young's Point

For the third consecutive year, the descendants of Robert Tedford and Jane Woodhouse gathered on the grounds of the P. P. Young estate at Young's Point on Thursday for their 8th family reunion.

There were 111 for meals, and William Tedford was elected as president, the president for the last year having passed away. The family members assembled decided to hold their reunion on Dominion Day in the future, and a vote of thanks was moved to William Tedford and Cephas Bullock, who provided the tables and to Fred Young who allowed them to use the grounds.

During the afternoon a number of races were run off and the winners are listed here: children, 5 years and under, 1 Bobby Dubay, 2 Ronny Ward; girls, 10 years and under, 1 Sheila Petrie, 2 Anne Richardson; boys, 10 years and under, 1 Garth Duff, 2 Keith Tedford; girls, 13 years and under, 1 Hazel McIntosh, 2 Anne Richardson; boys, 13 years and under, 1 Kenneth Fife, 2 Bruce Duff; young ladies, 1 Zetta Wilson, 2 Thelma Tedford; young men, 1 Rodger Tedford, 2 Joe Watts; married women, 1 Edith Payne, 2 Real Lloyd; married men, 1 Max Tedford, 2 Stewart Tedford; 3 legged race, girls, 1 Dora Tedford, 2 Jean Bennett; 3 legged race, boys, 1 Earl Lloyd, 2 Oswald Little; eating-a-cracker contest, 1 Ralph Arnold, 2 Jimmy Fawcett; necktie race, 1 Jean Bennett, 2 Jimmy Fawcett; nail driving contest, Vera Bell; guessing contest for children, Carl Stabler.

The tug-of-war, which is always a centre of attraction each year, was pulled by men and women. The married ladies finally broke the tie and won over the single ladies.

Mr. Dick Fawcett and Rollie Tedford chose sides for the men and Rollie Tedford's side broke the tie and were winners.

In the boys softball game the "Bears" won over the "Wildcats" by a large score.

The girls also enjoyed a game.

The longest married couple on the grounds was Mr. and Mrs. William Frankish, 47 years.

The oldest person present—Mrs. Elizabeth Fawcett, 75 years.

The youngest person — Margaret Ann Tedford, 9 months.

Among those present were:—

Toronto: Ralph Arnold, Bruce, Garth and Joy Duff.

Warsaw: Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Watts, Mary and Joe Watts, Jean Bennett, Donnie Watts, Mrs. Richard Tedford and Alma, Laura Nelson, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Payne and Lulu, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Payne.

Young's Point: Mr. and Mrs. William J. Tedford, Mr. and Mrs. Francis Tedford, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Tedford and family, Mrs. Freeborn, Elmer Tedford, Mr. and Mrs. Cephas Bullock, Addie MacNaughton, Mary Scollard, Mr. Fred Young, Aileen Young.

Knox W.M.S. Meets

The regular meeting of the W. M.S. of Knox church was held in the church parlour on Thursday afternoon. Because the date of the meeting fell on Dominion Day the hymn "Lord of the Lands" was sung, and the prayer by the president, Mrs. J. Gerrard, asked for a united Canada and the establishment of a Christian Brotherhood among the people. The theme of the worship service, conducted by Mrs. J. Morrison, was "The Stewardship of Time." Mrs. S. Thexton, Mrs. H. Clegg and Mrs. E. Johnston read Scripture passages which revealed God's plan for the use of time. Mrs. Morrison gave a reading entitled "That Is Not Mine." The meeting closed with prayer by Mrs. Granged.

For Summer Evenings

(Courtesy Saks Fifth Avenue)

By ALICE ALDEN

THE YOUNG girl likes short skirts, slacks and shorts for daytime wear, but come the evening of the country club dance or the big date with the man of her life, she yearns for a long-skirted dance frock, for she knows that dressed that way she is the star attraction of his memory album. White pique and organdie is used for this pretty dress with big coin dots applique on the bouffant organdy skirt.

Gwen Varcoe Becomes Bride Of Samuel James Black

ROSENEATH, July 3.—(ONS).—Roseneath United church was the scene of a pretty summer wedding on Wednesday at four o'clock, when Gwendolyn Marie, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Varcoe, Roseneath, became the bride of Samuel James, only son of Mr. and Mrs. James Black, of Warkworth. The altar, banked with white and pale pink peonies, tall spikes of delphinium and pale pink canterbury bells against a background of ferns, provided an effective setting for the ceremony. The guest pews were marked with white ribbon and pink roses.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was lovely in a floor length gown with slight train, of white triple sheer over white taffeta, trimmed with silk lace and with bracelet length sleeves. Her finger tip embroidered veil of white net was caught in a halo with white satin rose buds; white gloves, an arm bouquet of red roses, and a double strand of pearls, the gift of the groom, with silver shoes as the 'something old' in the bridal costume, completed the picture. Miss Maxine Comfort of Hamilton, cousin of the bride, as bridesmaid. She wore shell pink painted organdie over taffeta trimmed with blue velvet, with puff sleeves. A hat of blue net, shoulder length veil, elbow gloves, silver shoes, and a colonial bouquet, completed the costume. She wore the groom's gift, a brooch. Little Bernice Calan of Peterborough, cousin of the bride, was flower girl. She was dressed in a floor length ruffled blue taffeta dress, with a head dress of pink and blue flowers. The basket, filled with pink roses with pink ribbon streamers, introduced a touch of sentiment, for it was the basket carried by the bride's aunt at the bride's parents' wedding, and carried by the bride when she was two years old at her aunt's wedding in Roseneath church. The flower girl wore a gold bracelet, the gift of the groom. Max Thain of Warkworth, supported the groom.

Mrs. Stewart Alger of Oshawa, cousin of the groom, was the soloist. Preceding the ceremony she sang 'My World,' and during the signing of the register 'Because.' Mrs. Alger wore blue sheer, a blue hat and a corsage of roses and snapdragons.

Miss Margaret Atkinson, organist, wore a gown of maize chiffon, with a white hat and a corsage of white roses. As the bridal party proceeded to the altar she played Lohengrin's bridal chorus and after the ceremony Mendelssohn's wedding march.

Rev. E. H. Unstead of Roseneath United church, was the officiating clergyman. He was assisted by Rev. W. E. Smyth, pastor of Warkworth Presbyterian church.

Elwood Moore, of Castleton, and Donald Weatherson of Warkworth, were the ushers.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the bride's home, the bride's mother receiving wearing a jacket dress of blue crepe with blue embroidery, rose hat and corsage of roses. She was assisted by the groom's mother, wearing mauve printed sheer white hat with mauve veil and a corsage of yellow roses.

Mrs. K. Hazel of Campbellford, sister of the groom, and Mrs. S. Thackeray of Roseneath, aunt of the bride, poured tea from the dining room table, centred with the three tiered wedding cake flanked with flowers.

Four friends of the bride, Mrs. J. Pacey of Campbellford, Miss Mona Breckon of Toronto, Mrs. C. Parker and Miss Shirley Brisbin, Roseneath, served a buffet supper. They were assisted by Mrs. L. Sherwin and Mrs. E. Waldie. The house was tastefully decorated with pink and white peonies, pink and white streamers and bridal bells.

Later Mr. and Mrs. Black left by motor for Belleville, Kingston and the Thousand Islands. For travelling the bride wore a two-piece dress of blue crepe with top of pink fascinee, buttoned in the back from neckline to hem; small blue and rose hat and blue accessories.

Mr. and Mrs. Black will reside near Warkworth.

Hardy and Becoming

Saks Fifth Ave.

The slacks are pure wool, navy blue, and cut along easy, uncostumey lines. The mannish skirt is a most feminine shade of cinnamon pink; the knitted sleeveless cardigan with waist-flattering ribs, a kelly green wool.

By PRUNELLA WOOD

THIS is an ensembled costume, a three-piece outfit of which all parts can be used separately with many other items in a wardrobe.

For the woman taking over a Summer of gardening, housework and relaxation in fairly even division, slacks are a common denominator, also shirts, also warm jackets which do not bind and which can be pulled on and off without mussing.

What You Eat Is Important for Good Figure

EAT RIGHT FOODS

This is no way to gain a lithe, smart figure! If you insist on satisfying your sweet tooth to the extent, of eating in between meals and gorging on starchs at meals you can never hope to be slim.

Everything depends upon yourself. In the sketch above it can be seen that there are only 313 calories in the toothsome luncheon of one-half a cup chicken salad, one-quarter head of lettuce, slice of melba toast, one-quarter cup raspberry ice and iced tea—while there are 350 calories in a small square of chocolate cake.

Especially in hot weather you should eat lightly and moderately to be comfortable.

Only by sane, healthy eating—the right sort of food in the proper proportions—can you have a vigorous, healthy body — well-proportioned, handsome, and efficient.

To look well, feel well, be well, consider the food that you eat. Food is the stuff of which the body is built.

Our 32-page booklet with its helpful pointers on diet and exercise, show the way to the much coveted slender figure and the pep that sells youth.

For your copy of "THE NEW WAY TO A YOUTHFUL FIGURE" send 15 cents in coins or stamps to the Peterborough Examiner Service. Be sure to write plainly your name, address, and the name of booklet.

Sailors Are Warned To Conserve Smokes

OTTAWA, July 3 (CP).—Sailor, beware—don't give away duty-free cigarets ashore in Canada, or else ...published today in Canadian war orders and regulations is "Naval Order 2840 Cigarets—Illegal Disposal."

It warns naval personnel that the Revenue Department knows "junior officers" attached to sea-going vessels take advantage of the duty-free cigaret privilege by "giving these cigarets to their friends, mainly civilian, and to persons who are their guests in ward rooms."

And the Revenue Department also says that some officers bring ashore enough duty-free cigarets when on leave to distribute some among their friends.

So Capt. Pennington issues this instruction:

"The practice of giving away duty-free cigarets ashore in Canada is to cease forthwith and appropriate action will be considered in any cases of infraction of this order."

No Coal Left

OTTAWA, July 3 —(CP).—Pity the poor civil servant: From now on he washes his hands in cold water.

Government departments are voluntarily discontinuing the use of hot water in Ottawa office buildings and Government offices across the country are expected to fall in line.

And Coal Controller J. McG. Stewart in a Munitions Department statement, recommended that private business offices limit heating of hot water "to a minimum for essential uses."

BARCLAY ON BRIDGE

WRITTEN FOR THE EXAMINER

By SHEPARD BARCLAY

"The Authority on Authorities"

SPEED IS NOT THE GOAL

SPEED ARTISTS are interesting to, watch at the table, but they drop plenty of tricks by their racing proclivities. For some odd reason, which only a psychiatrist could explain, there is a type of person who thinks that displaying quick action by his mind indicates he has a superior intellect. If such a fellow only knew it, he advertises an inferiority complex thereby, a fear that you may not think he is smart. Getting right down to it, what is the sense in playing a game like bridge unless you are willing to really use your wits instead of trying to show off a quality you do not possess? In trying to show off, you only show yourself up.

In the West sat the kind of player who seems to think of the other three as principally kibitzers who are there to be edified by his hair-trigger mind. When in addition there is an out-and-out kibitzer, really observing his work, he is greased lightning on a rampage.

After North led the club K, which held the first trick, West saw without much study that he was sure to make his contract, with the loss of only one trick in clubs and one in diamonds, plus either one or none in hearts, dependent on whether or not the finesse of the Q would work. So there was no use wasting any time. For the second trick, North switched to his diamond 7, and the A scored for South, who returned the diamond 5. West won with dummy's Q, then raced through the spade A, K and Q, without stopping to consider that he should have left two trumps in dummy to ruff clubs.

With only one trump left there, he was confronted with the certainty of a second club loser, so that making his contract depended now on winning the heart finesse. When that failed, he was set.

How easy that contract would have been if West had merely made sure of ruffing two clubs in dummy, with airtight high trumps if he wished, before taking the third round of trumps. Haste certainly makes waste, pride goeth before a fall, and what have you?

Learn to Tell Fortunes and Be Popular

CRYSTAL REVEALS FUTURE

You look into the crystal ball and see lots of things! Would you like to learn fortune-telling? It is not as difficult as it seems.

There are many fascinating ways of looking into the future and you may choose the way that appeals to you most.

You may care to use the crystal-gazing, as pictured above, or perhaps teacups, or cards, may be your choice.

If you observe keenly, have imagination, and a good memory, you'll soon be able to tell your friends what secrets fortune-telling methods, old and new, reveal.

Our 32-page booklet will help you develop whatever fortune-telling method you wish, by the teacup, the cards, by the stars, by crystal-gazing, or any method you wish.

Have fun entertaining your friends this way! Nothing amuses people so much as having their fortunes told.

Everyone wants to know the future and tries to find out as much as possible about it.

Send 15 cents in coins for your copy of FUN WITH FORTUNE-TELLING to Examiner, Home Service, Peterborough. Be sure to write plainly your name, address, and the name of booklet.

CHICAGO, July 3 — (AP).— A meeting sponsored by the Republican Nationalist Revival Committee, Secretary William Grace announced today, adopted a resolution last night calling upon Col. Robert R. McCormick, publisher of the Chicago Tribune and Advocate, of the plan that Canada become one of the states in the United States Republic "to stand as a Republican candidate for President" in the Illinois presidential preferential primary next April "against Wendell Willkie, who personifies internationalism."

Becomes Champion

BRANDON, Man., July 3—(CP)—Sunhill Mayflower, entered by W. F. Parker of Waterford, Ont., captured the grand champion cow award at the Manitoba Provincial Exhibition while entries by F. H. Deacon of Unionville, Ont., and John Gardhouse of Weston, Ont., also took prize ribbons. In the Shorthorn division, Gardhouse's Glenburn Goldcup was voted reserve grand champion.

Fear Post-War Era

MILTON, Ont., July 3 —(CP).— The most serious thing in Canada to-day is the evident fear of security and unemployment in the post-war period John Bracken, National Progressive Conservative leader, said last night in an address to the Halton Federation of Agriculture. He reported on his recent trip across Canada and into the Yukon.

BARCLAY ON BRIDGE

ON LEADS OUT OF TURN

NO DIVISION of the new Laws of Contract Bridge shows greater improvement, along the lines of common sense, than the regulations applying to leads out of turn. These are much more thoroughly, more clearly and more equitably covered than in the past codes. Here are the laws on the subject:

1. If declarer leads out of turn from either hand, either defender may call attention to the irregularity, but only the defender to the left of the hand from which declarer has led out of turn may decide whether or not it should be corrected, and the declarer may not withdraw the lead until that defender requires a lead in turn. That defender may treat the lead out of turn as a correct lead, and must treat it as such if, before he has required a lead in turn, either defender, deliberately or inadvertently, plays.

If declarer is required to correct his lead out of turn, the card wrongly led is replaced in the hand to which it belongs; and (a) if it was a defender's turn to lead, there is no penalty; (b) if declarer has led from the wrong hand, he must, if he can, lead a card of the same suit from the correct hand. Correct procedure under (b) dictates that the lefthand defender, when requiring declarer to lead from his own hand, should name that suit which declarer is by law obligated to lead; if that defender fails to do so, and if neither defender, before his side has played, questions declarer regarding a possible revoke if he leads another suit, the lead stands as a correct lead.

2. If a defender leads out of turn, declarer may treat the card so led as a correct lead, and must treat it as such if he plays a card from either hand, deliberately or inadvertently, to the lead. If he requires a lead in turn, he may (a) if it was the other defender's turn to lead, treat the card led out of turn as a penalty card, or require or forbid the correct leader to lead a specified suit; (b) if it was a contractor's turn to lead, treat the card led out of turn as a penalty card, or announce that he will impose a lead penalty when next it is a defender's turn to lead, at which time he may require or forbid the lead of a specified suit. If he selects the penalty-card option, any card may be led; if he selects the lead penalty, the card wrongly led may be picked up.

If the wrong defender makes the opening lead (a) should dummy expose any of his cards before declarer has named the penalty, declarer may treat the card led out of turn as a penalty card, but may not impose a lead penalty unless the card is a jack or higher (if it is, he may forbid the opening lead of that suit, in which event the penalty card may be picked up); (b) should declarer expose three or more of his cards, play continues as if no irregularity had occurred and dummy becomes declarer; (c) should declarer treat the out of turn lead as a correct lead, dummy should forthwith expose his hand.

Potato Question Engages House Members

By JAMES McCOOK
Canadian Press Staff Writer

OTTAWA, July 3 — (CP) — Potatoes, in short supply in many districts only a few weeks ago, now have appeared in embarrassing plenty in North America, the House of Commons heard last night.

The potato question was one of a series surveyed by members as the discussed Agricultural Department 1943-44 fiscal year estimates and completed study of 30 of a total of 32 items covering an outlay of $8,390,000. A major item approved was that of $2,000,000 for Prairie farm rehabilitation act operations.

Monday, the House will discuss a resolution to seek amendment to the British North America Act to delay until after the war the constitutional redistribution of House seats following the 1941 general census. On the basis of this census, the loss of population in some Prairie areas would have resulted in fewer members in the chamber.

Members from British Columbia and New Brunswick, both provinces which produce potatoes in quantity, were interested in an order announced yesterday providing for the removal of the 10 per cent war exchange tax and three-per cent special excise tax on potatoes and similar vegetable imports from non-British countries.

Remove Taxes

G. A. Cruickshank (Lib. Fraser Valley) said he was concerned as to the effect of removing the taxes on the sale of potatoes produced in Canada.

H. H. Hatfield (Prog. Conservative Victoria-Carleton) said he had just received a telephone message from Washington stating there were 5,000 cars of potatoes on track in Philadelphia, New York and Boston at the close of business yesterday and asking if he could open a starch factory in Maine to process them.

"This is almost unbelievable, coming only a month after there was such a shortage of potatoes all over America," he said. "But the potatoes of North Carolina and Virginia, which had a floor of $2.25 a 100 pounds, went below that floor, and these supplies all were turned over to the (United States) Government, which does not know what to do with them.

"This represents more than a week's supply of potatoes for the country; yet in spite of that situation the Prices Board takes off the import tax on potatoes coming into Canada just when the Ontario new crop, the Quebec new crop and the British Columbia new crop are coming on our market.

". . . They are paying a subsidy on imported potatoes today. I can get these potatoes for 50 cents a bag, delivered in Canada."

"This is a serious situation, with the new crop in Canada coming on the market."

A Big Muddle

Mr. Gardiner: "But I would say it was a very serious situation just a week or two ago on the part of my honorable friends when we had 30 carloads on this side they wanted to get over to the United States. These 30 carloads went to the United States. We cannot have those things both ways. If we are going to have arrangements to have potatoes to go to the United States when we are short in Canada, probably somebody has to do something to get some back here."

Mr. Gardiner told Gordon Graydon, Progressive Conservative House Leader, that to get bacon in the quantity required for the United Kingdom the standards had been lowered and, generally speaking, they would not be high enough to compete with the bacon Denmark was sending to Britain before the war.

Mr. Gardiner said that while cheese production was down as compared with last year exports were higher because of the large production of 1942.

Under the Prairie Farm Assistance Act, the Minister said about $30,000,000 had been paid out and more than $6,000,000 collected previous to this year under a levy on grain marketed. He hoped this year's collections would bring the revenue to a total of $9,000,000 with none being paid out.

Must Make Rubber.

In discussion of research activities, Mr. Gardiner said he would not advocate the manufacture of any commodity in Canada without regard to the cost when it could be obtained more economically on a trade basis from other countries.

At moment, Canada had to make synthetic rubber regardless of the cost, but this did not mean that when the war was over and rubber might be obtained more cheaply elsewhere. the production would be continued.

It did not follow that because rubber might be produced with alcohol made from wheat that Canada should make rubber without regard to the cost, he said in answering inquiries about the use of grain alcohol.

Mr. Gardiner said that Canadian wheat might be traded for rubber after the war.

He understood, however, that there was something to be said for the production of butadiene rubber from grain alcohol, especially when the cost of the plant was taken into consideration. Such a plant could be built more cheaply than one using the petroleum process. A pilot plant to use grain alcohol in the process now was being constructed by the National Research Council Laboratories.

The R.A.F. night bombers scored hits on the Catania railway yards, the communique said. Bomb bursts were seen all over the sidings and in the industrial area, including a section where sulphur refineries are located. Four small fires were said to have been started at this east coast Sicilian city.

R.A.F. long range fighters, continuing their attacks on enemy shipping in Aegean waters, shot up a schooner in Kyllene Harbor off the west coast of Greece yesterday, the bulletin said. On the previous day Allied fighters attacked two dredges in the Levkas Channel in the same area where a ship had been sunk, blocking the channel.

At the same time, in sweeps along a canal in that district, the Allied planes silenced several gun posts, the announcement said.

For the second successive day the Trobriands and Woodlark Islands were not mentioned in the official communique, but a headquarters officer commented that in this case "no news probably is good news."

From this it was believed that these operations had been completed. No Japanese counter-attack whatever had been reported.

Acquisition of the Trobriands and Woodlark Islands gives the Allies new bases with which to move his bomber line forward.

With fighters based on the islands, bombers such as those that pounded Rabaul on New Britain in another heavy raid yesterday could have fighter cover which they have not had thus far.

American Named Island Commander

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN NORTH AFRICA, July 3.—(AP).—Brig.-Gen. A. C. Strickland, veteran United States army airman, has been appointed garrison commander and military governor of Pantelleria, the Italian island which surrendered June 11 under the Allied aerial offensive, it was announced to-day.

Wing Commander J. D. Bisdee of the R.A.F., occupies a similar post at Lampedusa, which capitulated the day after Pantelleria fell.

Appointment of the air officers to command the strategic isles guarding the Sicilian Straits underlined the importance of the two bases to the Allies in the continuing air war in the Mediterranean.

Obituary

PETER NICHOLLS

Peter Nicholls died today at his residence in Bridgenorth in his 69th year. He has been ailing for about six years.

Born in Ennismore the son of the late Peter Nicholls and Abigail Mann, he resided in Bridgenorth and the Peterborough district all his life. He was a carpenter by trade, working for many of the contractors in this area, a member of Bridgenorth United Church, and a member of Peterborough Lodge, I.O.O.F. 111, and of the Canadian Order of Foresters.

Surviving is a sister, Miss Minnie Nicholls of Bridgenorth.

The funeral will be held on Monday at 2 p.m. from the late residence, Rev. Mutton of Bridgenorth United Church officiating. Interment at Bridgenorth Cemetery.

Big Contingent Of Fliers Reach Britain

A BRITISH PORT, July 3 (CP)—The largest draft of R.C.A.F. personnel ever despatched overseas debarked recently at this busy port after an uneventful Atlantic journey, it was disclosed last night.

Pilots, navigators, bomb aimers and gunners predominated the draft, but there was also a large number of ground crew men and administration personnel.

With them, too, was another group of the R.C.A.F. Women's Division.

Most prominent among the arrivals were the instructors who had served a lengthy period in the British Commonwealth Air Training Plan and who are at last going "operational." They are taking their combat places among many youngsters they had helped to groom to man the giant bombers that are devastating the Ruhr.

Flt. Lt. J. H. (Sonny) Acer of Montreal, Flt. Lt. V. W. Haines of Halifax, Flt. Lt. Wilson Averson of Winnipeg, and Flt. Lt. C. F. B. Stevens of Westmount, Que., were previously chief navigation instructors at Canadian training stations.

"It's certainly been a roundabout way of getting here," grinned Sqdn. Ldr. R. A. Ashman of Winnipeg as he stood at the dock with his baggage.

His route to the overseas action took him first to Newfoundland, where he served with the Coastal Command, and then came a tour of duty to Alaska.

"Where do they play ball, and I don't mean soft ball, in this country," inquired Joe Krakauskas, Hamilton, Ont., former American League pitcher with the Cleveland Indians and the Washington Senators.

Joe, however, didn't pack his glove or ball in his kit before he sailed because, he said, "this radio mechanic job I've got is a full time business."

Girls Enjoyed Crossing

Many aircraft women who were aboard the big troopship were teleprinter operators and wireless operators and soon will be posted at operational locations. The girls are under the charge of Section Officer Isobel Broomfield of Toronto, whose husband is serving overseas.

"The girls were about 98 per cent seaworthy and enjoyed the crossing immensely," said FO. F. M. Douglas of Winnipeg, of the Women's Division.

The journey was just another trip for Sqdn. Ldr. S. H. (Gus) Nanton of Montreal, who is making his 23rd Atlantic crossing since the war started.

It was a big day in the life of PO. Andy Huchala of Blairmore, Alta., who enlisted in August, 1939. He is now a full-fledged pilot, but he admitted his ambition was fulfilled only after a "long, hard pull."

Ground Crews Take to Air

At least one complete torpedo bomber crew is composed of former ground men, including PO. W.G. Valk, Calgary, pilot; PO. W. G. Colville, Toronto, navigator; PO. N. F. Lewis, Grande Prairie, Alta., wireless operator-air gunner; and John C. Sprott, Winnipeg, wireless operator-air gunner.

"I barely got under the wire, but it was surely great to get this wing," beamed PO. W. P. (Wally) Shephard, quarterback for Montreal's Big Four team in 1925-31. Shephard, who was a former Regional Control Officer for the Atlantic and Pacific coasts, admitted he would never see his 38th birthday again.

The highlight of the voyage was a variety show recruited aboard the ship. The players gave four shows daily, Cpl. Joe Strathard of Montreal bringing down the house with his feats of magic.

The medical officers aboard included Sqdn. Ldr. A. G. Crisp, Vancouver; Flt. Lt. C. O. Baker, Edmonton; Flt. Lt. W. E. Hutchinson, Sarnia; Flt. Lt. J. D. Rogers, Ottawa, and Flt. Lt. W. K. Russell, Toronto.

THESE are grim and dangerous days, grimmer and more dangerous than most of us realize. While a ruthless enemy is bending his best efforts to destroy our vital food supplies, we can still peacefully carry on our duties on the farm. We must make the most of our time, putting every available acre of our fertile land to work, to produce FOOD for our people, our armies and our allies.

FOOD IS VITAL FOR VICTORY

You may be a school teacher, or a student, you may be a business or professional man, office or factory worker, store keeper or clerk—no matter who you may be, if you have a few days, weeks or months of leisure this summer, you can make an important contribution to Canada's war effort by taking temporary work on a farm. It cannot be sufficiently emphasised how urgently the Nation needs additional farm help, YOUR help, to meet the ever increasing demands for FOOD. Every year Canada sends millions of pounds of food to feed our kinsmen and allies abroad, and with many thousands of our people in the fighting services and the war factories we ask you to help fill the gap. Knowing how our very existence depends on victory, and how much depends on FOOD to win that victory, we appeal to you to lend your willing aid.

RUSSIANS FLING BACK GERMAN PUSH

30 Fighters Shot Down By Fortresses

Furious Air Battle Over Gerbini During Raid On Sicily

By RELMAN MORIN
Associated Press Staff Writer

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN NORTH AFRICA, July 6 — (AP). —Allied air forces which shot down 30 German fighters, struck paralyzing blows at Axis resistance yesterday in battles for air supremacy over Sicily and Sardinia, it was announced today.

The smashing aerial offensive against the Italian outpost islands went through its third straight day with bombers roaring over Gerbini, Marsala, Licata, Sciacca and Catania in Sicily and Villacidro in Sardinia — all of them bases for the defending Axis aerial fleets.

42 Enemy Shot Down

In 24 hours ending yesterday, 42 enemy planes were shot down against a loss of 12 Allied planes, it was stated officially.

More than 60 U.S. heavy bombers based in the Middle East joined in the devastating raids, shaking Messina in Sicily with nearly 375,000 pounds of bombs, a communique of the U.S. Ninth Air Force declared.

Hits blanketing the ferry terminal installations in Messina "caused extensive damage," the communique said, and bombs were laid on railway tracks, a roundhouse, a warehouse, freight yards oil tanks and barracks by the Liberators striking in three waves. One string of bombs "fell across the Lazaretto mole."

The Liberators downed three enemy planes and returned without loss themselves.

Flying Fortresses striking at Gerbini won what is considered one of the greatest single-mission victories of the entire Mediterranean campaign by knocking down 30 out of more than 100 German fighters attacking them.

Reached Gerbini

Despite the spectacular and seemingly suicidal tactics of the Germans the bombers successfully reached and bombed Gerbini, where they showered explosives over the main airfield and nine satellite fields.

Less than 30 of the big four-engined craft participated in the raid. Outnumbered about four to

Toronto Division Registrar Is Charged With Conspiring Against Service Act

TORONTO, July 6—(CP)—R. A. Irwin, division registrar of the mobilization section of National Selective Service, and three other men were arrested today by Royal Canadian Mounted Police on charge of conspiracy.

The others arrested were: Robert A. Allen, former Toronto alderman and former Liberal M.P.P. for Toronto Riverdale; Naiffe M. Stephens and Norman Stephens, brothers.

The four are charged with conspiring to impede the National Selective Service Mobilization regulations.

Police gave no details, an R.C. M.P. spokesman saying: "We are under orders not to discuss the case. There will be a statement from the Labor Minister and I must refer you to him."

The charges arise out of deferments from military service, it is stated. At least 40 other men of military age who are alleged to have obtained deferment may be charged as delinquents failing to report for service. It is reported that other arrests are unlikely.

The men were arrested this morning and taken to R.C.M.P. headquarters. They will not appear in court until tomorrow.

R. J. Davis, inspector with the Selective Service branch at Ottawa has been appointed temporary division registrar here.

Women's Clothing Sales Increase Of 98 Percent

TORONTO, July 6—(CP).—Sales of women's clothing in the first three months of 1943 were 98 per cent. greater than in the corresponding period of 1939, Florence Lamon of the Standards section of the Prices Board told the Canadian Home Economics Association today.

Citing that upswing in buying as an example of the increased demand on Canadian supplies, Miss Lamon said that demand was not as great in the First Great War but by the end of that conflict clothing prices had advanced 81 per cent.

She said quality in relation to price has been maintained "far more successfully" in Canada than in most other countries.

"That control of prices must be accompanied by control of quality has always been recognized by the board, and guarding the price-quality relationship is one of the most important responsibilities of its administrators," she added.

Outlining steps taken by the board to ensure quality is maintained, she said simplication has resulted in greater production of standardized lines. "People are becoming increasingly conscious of quality. They want to buy the best they can afford because they believe good articles last longer."

Canadian Navy Aided In Push

By DOUG HOW
Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON, July 6—(CP).—Three thousand men and 29 ships—that in cold statistics, was the Canadian naval contribution to the conquest of North Africa.

To them in the Mediterranean the figures credit three sunken enemy submarines, the probable sinking of a fourth, the probable damaging of a fifth. From their ranks, the figures say, fell the corvettes Louisburg and Weyburn.

Of these ships, 27 were corvettes and two were destroyers.

Of these men, more than a score won decorations, including two D.S.O.'s, three D.S.C.'s, and two D.S.M.'s.

The human story of these seadogs and their diminutive fighting craft is the story of harsh action on the sea and in the air, of shepherding convoys, of combatting the forces that endangered the line of supply, of landing American shock troops on a dubious seacoast.

Canada's Navy, as world navies go, is a fleet of flyweights. Her work is the tedious, thankless, testing task of the convoy. Her role in the African victory was that of protecting the supply line which nourished the British divisions in the field.

She first sent 17 corvettes into the struggle, scattered through a vast British fighting force. One combined escort group came out of the campaign with a record of 12 convoys conducted to their destinations with the loss of one merchantman.

The new corvette Ville de Quebec got the first enemy submarine on January 13 by a combination of depth charges, gunfire, and ramming. Six days later, the Port Arthur depth-charged another U-boat to the surface and a British destroyer gunned it to defeat.

The count rose to three February 8 when the Regina pounced on an Italian submarine. The damaged U-boat was credited to the Camrose and the "probably destroyed" to the Woodstock.

Nazis Blame Britain For Bombings

German White Paper Forgets All About Laying Waste Coventry

LONDON, Jly 6—(CP)—The Germans who laid waste to Warsaw, Rotterdram, and Coventry climaxed their sympathy-seeking campaign against the bombing of their industrial cities with a foreign office white paper today charging Britain with "sole guilt" for what it termed attacks on civilians.

Without mentioning the 40,000 British civilians killed and the 120,000 wounded in German air raids on Britain, the white paper blandly asserted that "German efforts have failed to affect the determination of the enemy to use air terror as a plan thought out in the last detail for the destruction of Europe."

Asserting that the destruction of of towns and the deaths of thousands of women and children were a "flaming accusation against the two mainly responsible for the war —Churchill and Roosevelt"—the Nazi white paper threatened to exact "eye for eye, tooth for tooth" reprisals.

The white paper was described by D.N.B., German news agency, in a Berlin broadcast during the reading a ghost voice gave a running commentary asking "why is no white book published on Hitler's crimes and barbarism?"

In its effort to prove Britain's guilt, the white paper went back to the disarmament conference of 1932 when it said the German delegation's proposal for limitation of armaments was rejected.

Bombing of Ruhr

While Neville Chamberlain, who preceded Winston Churchill as Prime Minister of Britain, rejected the idea of "intentional" attacks against civilians in June, 1938, the white paper said that at a secret meeting of the "Allied War Council" Nov. 17, 1939, the bombing of the Ruhr was discussed. Chamberlain was quoted as being reluctant to begin "attacks against open towns" because "it is impossible to hit them without involving the

EXTRA!

LONDON—R.A.F. Spitfires destroyed seven German fighter planes in a sweep over Northern France this morning, it was announced. None of the R.A.F. planes was lost. The Berlin radio reported raids on Germany last night by R.A.F. bombers.

Nuisance Raids Over Germany

LONDON, July 6—(CP).—Allied planes, including many squadrons of fighters, roared over the Channel toward the French coast in brilliant sunshine this morning as a Berlin broadcast was reporting raids on Germany last night by British bombers.

There were no immediate British announcements concerning any night activities over the Reich, but the Berlin broadcast, recorded by The Associated Press, asserted British planes had carried out "nuisance raids" over western and northern Germany.

The daylight squadrons, flying high in weather so clear the French shoreline was easily seen from the British side of Dover Strait, were observed heading for the area between Boulogne and Calais.

During the night an R.A.F. plane damaged an armed vessel of about 500 tons in a low level attack off the Dutch coast, the Air Ministry news service said.

Meanwhile, the Air Ministry news service reported that photographic experts had confirmed "heavy industrial damage" was caused June 28 and July 3 when the R.A.F. and R.C.A.F. returned to hammer much-bombed Cologne in Germany.

The news service said those two raids within a week sent down "well over twice" the weight of bombs delivered in the 1,000-bomber attack on that city a year ago.

Nazi Able to Pierce Line In Only Isolated Sectors

MOSCOW, July 6 — (AP). — Vicious German thrusts by armored divisions and infantry have been flung back with heavy losses all along the 165-mile central front from Orel to Belgorod, the Russians reported today as the long-expected Nazi summer offensive moved into its second day. Despite terrific destruction to their armored units, amounting in some cases to as high as 50 per cent of total attacking strength, the Nazi army kept boring into the heavily defended positions. In only isolated sectors, however, have they managed to penetrate the defence lines, Red Army leaders said.

The Russian midnight communique said that in the initial hours of the battle Red Army units destroyed 586 tanks and 203 planes.

The midday communique reported an additional 152 tanks were knocked out of the fight, including a number of the new 60-ton Tiger tanks. In one sector alone in the Orel-Kursk area, the bulletin said, Soviet troops destroyed 50 out of a German unit of 100 tanks. The communique also reported 4,000 Germans had been slain in this area and 2,000 more in one sector of the Belgorod front.

Acknowledge Break.

The Russians acknowledged that the Germans had broken through their defence lines at one point on the Belgorod front, capturing two populated places, but said the enemy had been dislodged by counter-attacking Red Army forces.

"Hundreds of enemy dead remained on the battlefield," said the war bulletin.

Southwest of Mtsensk, which is about 50 miles northeast of Orel, the Germans flung two regiments of infantry against Russian hill-top positions which the communique described as "of great tactical importance."

In the beginning, the communique said, the Nazi troops succeeded in occupying several Russian trenches. Counter blows struck by the Red Army, flung the Germans back, however, and the Russians regained all lost territory, the bulletin added. German losses in the battle were 600 dead and prisoners were captured, the Russians declared.

(The Vichy radio, referring to Russian reports of heavy fighting in the Orel sector, said today in a broadcast recorded by Associated Press that "Berlin comments insist this operation is of strictly local character.")

Use Usual Tactics.

Meanwhile dispatches reaching Moscow from the front told of the start of the battle just after dawn yesterday.

The Nazis, these advices said, used classic tactics—a smashing artillery barrage coupled with heavy air bombardment designed to destroy Russian men and guns and blast a path through the Russian line for the German infantry and armored divisions.

The Germans were firing with everything they had—long range batteries, medium range cannon, howitzers, multiple-barrelled mortars and even short range weapons.

Withering Fire

Russian batteries countered with withering fire and as the artillery duel continued the Germans attempted various strategems—such as suddenly switching targets—in an effort to confuse the Russian troops.

The dispatches said the first

Northern Ontario's Tourist Attraction Dionne Quintuplets Closed To Public

NORTH BAY, Ont., July 6 (CP) —Keith Munro, business manager of the Dionne quintuplets said today that, with travel restrictions reducing the number of tourists in this vicinity, it had been decided to stop admitting visitors to the grounds to view the five little girls.

Mr. Munro said that although the Dionne nursery had formerly been Northern Ontario's major tourist attraction, and the quints had made scheduled public appearances twice daily, it was felt by their parents and guardians that it was no longer fair to them to be exhibited to the public in that manner.

He added that tourists going by on the highway will still be able to see the quints playing about the grounds of the nursery, but the scheduled appearances have been terminated.

Japanese Cannot Last More Than 2 Years Chiang Says

By SPENCER MOOSA—Associated Press Staff Writer

CHUNGKING, July 6—(AP).—Gen. Chiang Kai-Shek told China today on the eve of the sixth anniversary of the outbreak of the conflict with Japan that the time limit for utter defeat of the aggressor "cannot exceed two years."

"In the seventh year of our war of resistance," he said in his anniversary message, "an offensive that will deal crushing blows to the enemy will be started in various theatres of the world and there will be an unending stream of victories."

"Our war of resistance and the world war situation on this day have reached the highest peak of our uphill struggle," he went on.

"One step beyond will be smooth sailing for us."

His message was one of a series of confident predictions from Chinese leaders of a complete Allied victory and elimination of Japan as a military power.

Outcome Assured.

Declaring that the situation in the Far East has changed greatly for the better in the past year, General Ho Ying-Chin, War Minister and army chief of staff, said that the outcome of the struggle is now assured beyond all doubt.

While the United Nations are growing stronger daily, he asserted, Japan is facing an acute manpower shortage, is far weaker in sea strength, has been surpassed in the air, and is running into difficult material and food problems.

The War Minister placed the total number of Japanese casualties at around 3,000,000 men, including the losses inflicted by British and United States forces.

Estimating Japan's first line planes at not more than 3,000, General Ho declared it should not be difficult for the United Nations to wipe out the enemy air force and cover a direct attack on Japan when the time comes.

China was described by H. H. Kung, vice-Premier and Minister of Finance, as "the most convenient advance base from which the war can and must be carried" to Japan. China, he said, is just biding her time "to launch a general offensive."

Cost-Of-Living Shows Increase

OTTAWA, July 6 (CP)—The Dominion Bureau of Statistics reported today that the cost-of-living index advanced from 118.1 at May 1 to 118.5 at June 1, but the change did not affect the cost-of-living bonus paid to workers.

Next date for adjusting the index is Aug. 15, on the basis of the cost-of-living index for July 1. The adjustment is made quarterly.

The greater part of the increase during May resulted from upward movements in the prices for foods, but prices for fuel and light, clothing and miscellaneous items registered fractional gains, the bureau said.

"The food index advanced from 129.9, to 130.9, the bureau said. "Prices for eggs, meats, potatoes and oranges were higher, although butter averaged a cent a pound lower.

"The fuel and light index mounted from 112.7 to 113.0, while scattered increases in men's wear and piece goods advanced the clothing index from 120.2 to 120.4. The miscellaneous groups moved from 108.0 to 108.2, following an upward change in motor operating costs.

"Other group indices remained unchanged, rents at 111.5 and home furnishings and services at 117.8."

Naval Battle Reported In Solomons

Southern Pacific Is Rapidly Taking On Marks Of Offensive

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, July 6 —(AP)— The United States Navy reported today that on the basis of incomplete information U.S. naval forces apparently had caused the Japanese extremely heavy damage in the battle of Kula Gulf.

Details of the action, fought yesterday (Solomon Islands Time) and apparently all over now, still were lacking, but there was no disposition in authoritative quarters here to consider it as a major encounter with decisive bearing on the Solomons campaign.

The impression prevailed rather that it was an action between fairly light surface forces of cruisers and destroyers.

A navy communique said that "sufficient details have not been received to give the results of this engagement, but it is believed that, while some damage was suffered by the United States force, considerable damage was inflicted on the enemy."

At the same time the navy announced that the United States destroyer Strong was torpedoed and sunk Sunday night while engaged in a previously announced bombardment of Japanese installations at Vila and Bairoko on Kula Gulf, which lies between New Georgia Island and Kolombangara Island in the Munda airbase area.

Commissioned Last Year

The naval engagement, first announced last night, followed that bombardment.

The 2,100 ton destroyer Strong, commissioned only last year, carried a normal complement of about 250 men.

With the loss of the Strong, following by about five days the torpedo sinkings of the Troop Transport McCawley in the Rendova Island area, the United States navy has invested a total of about 40 ships in the Solomon Islands campaign, which began last Aug. 7 and went into a new phase with the invasion of the Munda area June 30.

The Japanese, on the other hand, have lost around 65 to 80 ships, some of those reported as hit having been listed as only probably sunk.

Even in the absence of word yes-

15 Men Are Lost Aboard Tug

HALIFAX, July 6 — (CP). — Rolled over by a freighter with which she was running parallel, the Halifax Shipyards Ltd., tug "Erg" was sent to the bottom in Bedford Basin here this morning and is believed to have taken 15 men to their deaths with her.

The 55-foot tug, generally used to carry welding equipment for repairing ships, was conveying a large crew of welders and electricians to a ship in the basin when the accident occurred. She was believed unofficially to have had 27 men on her at the time. Twelve have been accounted for, seven of them picked up by the freighter itself. It was originally believed that 18 had lost their lives.

According to the information available, the tug was travelling alongside the freighter with about 20 yards separating the two vessels, when they suddenly came together, side on. The tug was rolled over several times as the freighter continued its course.

Still Probing Double Murder

TORONTO, July 6 —(CP) — FO. Walter E. Telfer of the R. C. A. F. who returned from overseas reportedly to aid the Ontario Attorney Generals Department in investigating the murders of Walter Cunningham and Mrs. Tony Fardella has been released from the investigation to report back for air force duty, it was learned to-day.

The bodies of Cunningham, Toronto law firm investigator, and Mrs. Fardella, Cobourg resident, were found with gunshot wounds in a ditch on the highway near Cobourg last November 25.

FO. Telfer is head of a Toronto law firm and a brother-in-law of Mrs. Fardella. He said to-day he regretted he would be unable to continue on the case as in his opinion the investigation had been proceeding "satisfactorily," although it was difficult.

Deputy Attorney-General, Cecil Synder, K. C., said that the case definitely is not closed but it as impossible for him to discuss it. He said that the Ontario Provincial Police were grateful to FO. Telfer for "rendering valuable assistance for many weeks."

Offensive May Signal Breaking of Storm

Major Operation In Russia Has Already Produced Fierce Fighting

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
Associated Press War Analyst

The opening of the heavy German offensive along a 165-mile front in the Orel-Belgorod sector—the bloody cockpit in the Russo-Nazi battle-line south of Moscow—may signal the breaking of the great storm which has been hanging over Europe for weeks.

Whether this is a final all-out attempt by a desperate Hitler to crush the Russian armies isn't yet apparent. But it's a major operation which already has produced fierce fighting, and it might easily develop into the big show-down.

In short, this may be the crisis which should disclose in the near future what the duration of the Hitlerian portion of the world war is likely to be. The Nazi chief will have to put his resources on parade.

The Germans probably have been impelled to undertake this belated offensive either for the purpose of forestalling a Russian drive—which Berlin has been predicting—or because they have decided that they are fairly safe from an immediate Allied invasion of western Europe. Both factors may enter into the situation.

Part and parcel of this attack undoubtedly is the phenomenon of the sudden appearance of fresh Nazi aerial support for the Italians in the battle for Sicily. Apparently Herr Hitler's harassed intuition has done a sudden back-flop and made him revise his decision to leave it entirely to Benito (soft-underbelly-of-Europe) Mussolini to stand off the Allied invasion which has been bearing down on him.

The Nazi chief's recent attitude has been that of abandoning his partner in crime as no longer useful to the Axis cause. Hitler's change of mind, if not of heart, is easily understandable in view of the opening of the Russian drive. He has decided to impede the Allied operations in the Mediterranean as much as possible while he is engaged in Russia.

It isn't yet clear how much air power Hitler has shifted to Italy or may be prepared to send there. He has been conserving his Luftwaffe for emergencies. He not only has been considering the feasibility of inaugurating a final grand offensive against the Reds, but has had to figure on a probable Russian offensive if he himself didn't strike first. There also has been the threat of invasion of Western Europe by the Anglo-American forces.

However, he undoubtedly can spare a limited amount of air power to help Mussolini—providing he is safe from invasion across France. This aid might change the Mediterranean picture considerably in that it would make the Allied task of invasion tougher than has been anticipated.

U.S. Forces Take Vangunu

Stubborn Japanese Resistance Is Encountered

SOUTH PACIFIC HEADQUARTERS, July 6 — (AP). — American forces have gained control of Vangunu Island, southeast of New Georgia, in addition to Rendova Island, it was disclosed today.

(General Douglas MacArthur's headquarters in Australia announced yesterday that U. S. troops had captured important positions on Vangunu, but there has been no previous indication that Americans were in complete command of the island, an area of perhaps 200 square miles.)

Stubborn Japanese resistance was encountered on Vangunu, in contrast to the opposition on Rendova which wilted after little more than an hour of land fighting June 30.

Although the Japanese air force has suffered extremely heavy blows the last three weeks, it was believed still capable of producing a strong kick with several hundred planes based in the Solomons and more which can be flown step by step from other bases and from Japan itself.

Powerful aerial opposition was expected to continue, since the Japanese are not inclined to give up anything without a fight.

Plane Drops Gasoline Drums

22 10-Gallon Drums Carried Each Trip To Camp

MONTREAL, July 6 —(CP) — A transport plane of Canadian Pacific Air Lines is being used to drop drums of gasoline to a mine development camp in Northern Quebec and plans have been completed to move 2,500 gallons of gas into the isolated region by this means, it was learned to-day.

An official of the company said the gasoline was being moved from Mont Joli, Que., to the camp on a small lake about 400 miles north of that lower St. Lawrence town and explained that because of the distance to be flown and the smallness of the lake at the mining site, float-equipped planes used for transporting other materials could not carry sufficient gasoline to make the flights worth-while.

In their place, a Douglas DC2 transport is being used, carrying 22 10-gallon drums each trip. Over the northern lake, the plane drops to 100 feet and drops its cargo, which floats after the drums hit the water.

ALLIED CAUSE HEAVILY SUFFERED IN DEATH OF POLISH PREMIER

Polish Leader Killed In Air Crash

Tribute To Sikorski Paid By Churchill In House Of Commons

LONDON, July 6 — (CP). — Prime Minister Churchill told the House of Commons to-day that the death of General Wladyslaw Sikorski, Premier of the Polish Government in London, who was killed on Sunday in an air crash at Gibraltar, is "one of the heaviest strokes we have sustained."

At the same time the House was advised that Brig.-Gen. J. P. Whiteley, a member of Parliament, was among the 16 persons killed in the crash of the Liberator aircraft which was bearing Sikorski home from an inspection of Polish forces in the Middle East.

Whiteley, who was 45, was a veteran of the First Great War, and had been in the Commons since 1937.

Representatives of the Polish Government looked on from the galleries as the Prime Minister solemnly told the House that "we learned yesterday that the cause of the United Nations has suffered a most grievous loss."

"He personally directed the movement of resistance which has maintained ceaseless warfare against German oppression in spite of sufferings as terrible as any nation ever has endured," the Prime Minister said.

Resistance Will Grow.

"This resistance will grow in power until at the approach of the liberating armies it will exterminate the German ravagers of the homeland."

Sikorski's body, meanwhile, lay in state to-day in the Roman Catholic Cathedral in Gibraltar.

Beside him lay the body of Gen. Tadeusz Klimecki, Chief of the Polish General Staff, who met death in the same accident.

The crash of the four-engined Liberator took the lives of 13 other persons, including Gen. Sikorski's 29-year-old daughter, Mrs. Sophia Lesniowska; Col. Andrzej Marecki, Chief of the Polish Army Operational Section and an expert in military science; Col. Gralewski, Lieut. Fobiewski, Sikorski's naval aide; Adam Kulakowski, the Premier's private secretary; and Col. Victor Alexander Cazalet, a member of the British Parliament.

Only survivor of the crash, the cause of which has not officially been determined, was the pilot of the plane, said to have been a Czech, whose name was withheld by British authorities at Gibraltar.

Lakefield Institute Plans Year's Program

LAKEFIELD, July 6 —(ENS)— Mrs. John Murphy entertained members of the Women's Institute for their July meeting on Thursday afternoon.

Mrs. S. Windsor conducted the meeting. A letter of thanks was read from Mrs. Howard Bullock for a plant sent to her during her illness. The main part of the meeting was taken up with a discussion of the program for the coming year, led by Mrs. A. Davis. Many helpful suggestions were given. It was decided to have programs printed for the members.

The roll call was answered by a wartime recipe. A picnic supper, to which each members had contributed, the hostess serving strawberries was held on the spacious lawn.

During the tea hour Mrs. S. White read a report of the district annual meeting held at Peterborough. The members are invited to Mrs. Howard Bullock's home for the August meeting.

Wood-Fuel Subsidy Is Being Continued

The Wartime Prices and Trade Board has been advised that the $1 a cord wood-fuel subsidy authorized by the government and scheduled to expire June 30 will now continue for an indefinite period, it was anounced to-day by W. E. Foley, local manager.

A farmer who slaughters livestock for use on his own farm or for sale to other farmers for use on their farms, must notify the local Ration Board in writing now, giving his name and address. He will then receive, Mr. Foley said, a farm slaughterer's registrataion certificate from the secretary of the local board. It is illegal for a farmer to slaughter his own livestock after June 30 unless he has this certificate.

Recently announced is a regulation whereby all commercial vehicles must be marked with the name of their owner and the registered address of the vehicle, Mr. Foley said.

Justice Minister Accused Of Racial Strife

By C. R. BLACKBURN
Canadian Press Staff Writer

OTTAWA, July 6—(CP)—A resolution asking the British Parliament for constitutional authority to postpone redistribution of federal representation until after the war was adopted in the House of Commons last night after a short but stormy debate.

Justice Minister St. Laurent, who moved the resolution was accused by his own Quebec colleagues of raising language, racial and religious issues without provocation, and heard the same charge from Gordon Graydon, Progressive Conservative House leaders.

Jean Francois Pouliot (Lib. Temiscouata) likened the minister to a man "throwing oil in a fire.'

There was one division, in which seven Liberals and two Independents, all from Quebec, stood against all other members. Among them was Hon. P. J. Cardin (Lib.-Richelieu-Vercheres) a former minister of the present government. All official opposition groups supported the government in its proposal.

Mr. Graydon took Mr. St. Laurent to task for introducing such matters as racial and religious controversies, Quebec's contribution to the war effort and failure of English-speaking members to learn the French language.

M. J. Coldwell, C.C.F., leader, and E. G. Hansell (N.D. MacLeod), speaking for their respective groups, supported the government but urged the advisability, at the proper time, of Canada seeking the power to amend her own constitution.

Amend Own Constitution

Mr. St. Laurent said he hoped that the time would come when it would be possible for Canada to deal with these matters without going to the throne with petitions such as that before the House.

The resolution was a petition, which will be embodied in a similar Senate resolution, asking the King to have the British Parliament amend the British North America Act so that redistribution need not be proceeded with until the first session starting after the war ends.

The act provides that this readjustment must be made every 10 years, based on the last decennial census, in this case the census taken in 1941. The last re-distribution bill was in 1934.

Cost West Seven Seats

A redistribution this year on the basis of the 1941 census would cost Saskatchewan four seats and Manitoba three. It would mean that Quebec, whose representation of 65 members was fixed by the B.N.A. Act, would remain unchanged while the total representation dropped, thus increasing Quebec's proportionate power in the House.

The resolution was introduced, Mr. St. Laurent said, because of the desirability of avoiding in wartime the bitter controversy that would arise from the attempts to do justice to all provinces on the complex question.

MORE ABOUT—

Naval Battle

terday regarding what forces were engaged, the naval battle had been regarded here as of great significance for it showed the Japanese fleet compelled to fight.

No Details of Action

The United States Navy Department's announcement of the battle said merely:

"Brief reports from the South Pacific indicate that a naval battle is in progress in Kula Gulf, north of New Georgia Island. No details of the action have been received."

The situation appeared to be somewhat similar to that during the fighting for Guadalcanal last fall which culminated in the decisive battle of mid-November when American task forces smashed a Japanese sea borne drive to reconquer the island. The Japanese strategy at that time was to use increasingly larger forces until the climactic action was joined.

Jap Fleet Divided

While official sources have not commented on the Japanese fleet dispositions, the best opinion here is that the enemy's naval strength is divided about equally between a home fleet based on Japan itself and a South Pacific force probably based most of the time on Truk island. Any great weakening of the South Pacific force probably would strain Japanese defence over the entire area since it is considered unlikely that the enemy would draw heavily on his home fleet to strengthen the southern squadron.

The present fighting, therefore, confronts the Japanese with risks which they can ill afford even in lighter units such as light cruisers and destroyers, ordinarily considered expendable.

It would not be surprising if the Kula Gulf battle started with a brush between scouting forces or raiding parties. How fully it may develop beyond that must depend on the importance which both sides attach to a naval decision in the present stage of the American offensive.

Pupils Honor School Teacher

YOUNG'S POINT, July 6—(ENS). —The pupils of the senior and junior rooms, S.S. No. 8, Young's Point, bought during the 1942 and 1943 school year, 695 War Savings stamps, the value being $173.75. This amount is considerably more than last year's sales.

Prior to the closing of the Young's Point School, Miss Ruth Worsley was entertained by the ladies of the Young's Point United Church and was given a beautiful hand-painted picture. The pupils of both rooms also remembered Miss Worsley with a lovely necklet. Miss Worsley, who has been the senior teacher at the Young's Point School has had her application accepted on a teaching staff at Toronto.

Rev. and Mrs. E. C. Moore of Peterborough and daughter, Mrs. S. Jacques, of Windsor, spent a couple of days at their cottage in the village.

Flt.-Lt. N. D. Knox spent his two days' leave with his wife and family in the village.

civilian population."

The white paper went on to quote French general staff papers, said to have been captured after the fall of France, which detailed the Anglo-French bombing of Germany which in the last phase was to be directed against economic and industrial targets.

The paper also cited Hitler's orders to the German air force in response to President Roosevelt's appeal against the bombing of civilians that operations be restricted to military objectives.

The procedure of the United States Army air force, the white paper went on, proved that Mr. Roosevelt's appeal was "purely designed to mislead the public."

The paper declared that a statement in the House of Commons Sept. 9, 1939, confirmed that the Luftwaffe in Poland was attacking only military objectives, but despite frequent appeals by Hitler for humanity and reason, the R.A.F. began a series of attacks "against the civilian population."

"In spite of this the Luftwaffe was extremely restrained in the fight against England at the beginning of operations in the west, British air attacks on non-military objectives in Germany quickly increased."

one, they shot down an average of one enemy plane apiece and destroyed an estimated 25 more parked on the ground.

Three were lost.

They handed the Germans such a savage mauling that throughout the rest of the day only about 10 enemy fighters rose to meet succeeding bomber formations. Fighters downed five of these.

Bombers of the R.A.F. and South African Air Force along with other groups of U.S. planes ranged far and wide over Sicily and Sardinia. They reported meeting little fighter opposition but some anti-aircraft fire.

Villacidro in Sardinia and Catania in Sicily were raided by night bombers.

The 42 enemy aircraft lost in 24 hours included only those shot down by planes of the Northwest African Air Forces.

Nazi's Salary In Thousands

WASHINGTON, July 6—(AP)—A former bookkeeper for George Sylvester Viereck, alleged Nazi propagandist, told a district court jury today that his employer received "thousands of dollars annually" from the German library of information in New York, in addition to a regular salary of $6,000 a year from that institution.

The witness was Harry Abramowitz, who said he had known Viereck since 1927 and had set up a bookkeeping system for him. He explained in detail submitted income accounts for 1940 when, he said, Viereck received $500 a month from the library, plus a total of $22,871, entered variously as "special editorial work on books, literary services, white book, professional services."

Viereck is on trial a second time charged with violating the Foreign Registration Act. The supreme court reversed his conviction at the first trial.

Churchill's "VLR" Bombers Range OverNorth Atlantic Protecting Valuable Convoys

Wing Commander C. L. Annis, O.B.E., of Highland Creek, Ont., commands an R.C.A.F. squadron which uses the new "VLR" bombers to escort shipping and hunt down U-boats far over the Atlantic. Here he pauses for a chat with Group Captain L. E. Wray, A.F.C., of Ottawa, who commands the northeast coastal station from which the squadron operates.

ABOVE is one of the giant VLR (very long range) bombers to which Prime Minister Churchill recently gave much of the credit for the increase in U-boat killings this spring. Royal Canadian Air Force and U.S. Army Air Force units, operating under the Canadian Northwest Atlantic Command, now, are flying these aircraft from east coast bases, giving new protection to ship convoys far out at sea. These big aircraft are being flown by one of the largest R.C.A.F. squadrons in action anywhere, a squadron of veteran sub-hunters who flew Wapitis before the war, later were equipped with Digbys and more recently with Cansos. Now, flying the biggest of them all, they constitute a new menace to the U-boat packs. LOWER picture shows crew of one of the bombers perched on its wing. In the REAR ROW are Pilot Officer W. J. Olson, Toronto; Pilot Officer R. R. Stevenson, Edmonton, and Pilot Officer Burpee Palmer, Ottawa. FRONT ROW: Flight-Sergt. Larry Hollinger, Pembroke, Ont.; Warrant Officer Pete Burroughs, New Glasgow, N.S.; Warrant Officer John Perry, Georgetown, P.E.I., and Warrant Officer Bruce Henry, Bracebridge, Ont.

Special training in trans-Atlantic flying is given by two veteran trans-ocean T.C.A. pilots—J. L. "Lindy" Rood of Pointe Claife, Que., LEFT; and G. B. Lothian, Vanconver. Their pupils fly the new long range bombers out over the Atlantic in the war against submarines.

FishermanHooks Large Trout

CAMPBELLFORD, July 6 — (ENS) — One of the largest speckled brown trout ever caught in this vicinity was hooked by Howard Hannah of Hamilton on Saturday. This beauty was taken from the Springbrook Creek ten miles North of Campbellford and the lure used was a grey mouse fly. The fish weighed 5¼ pounds and measured 23½ inches in length. Mr. Jack Runions of Campbellford was with Mr. Hannah when he made the catch.

BETHANY

Dieppe Fighter Arrives Home

BETHANY, July 6 —(ENS) — A large number of friends and neighbours on Friday evening gathered at the Orange Hall, Bethany, to welcome back Leading Air Craftsman Ronald Gillies, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Gillies who has served overseas for two years, and also to congratulate him on his recent marriage to his finance who awaited his return at Toronto.

The major entertainment of the evening was spent in dancing to music provided by an orchestra from Peterborough.

Miss Bailey read a nicely worded address which was followed by a presentation of a purse of money to the bride and groom. In replying, Ronald gave thanks to his friends for their kind thoughtfulness and expressed how happy he felt to be once more among his former friends and family, telling briefly some of his experiences over in France, being one of the crew to rescue our soldiers from the Dieppe raid and later taking part in the war in South Africa.

Ronald was wounded and spent some time in hospitals before being sent home to Canada, and will carry on here in the war effort.

I'M FINDING WAYS TO MAKE COFFEE GO FURTHER

FIRST—I've learned to buy coffee that gives me more flavor ounce for ounce ::: Chase & Sanborn Coffee. It's super-rich!
And I make sure the coffee container is air-tight—that the coffee-pot is scoured clean. Of course, I measure the coffee and water accurately for exact strength—and I make not one bit more than the amount I need. And I serve coffee as soon as I can after it's made.
But my best rule, I think, is that first one: Get Chase & Sanborn Coffee. And, remember, quality coffee goes further.

The Uses Of Censorship

When Miss Agnes MacPhail referred to the judges of Canada as "political heelers" in a recent speech she was soundly rebuked for her silliness in the press. And when the Minister of Justice, the Hon. Louis St. Laurent, said that he would direct the attention of the censors to the despatch containing Miss MacPhail's speech, in order that they might arrange to prevent publicity of such incidents in future, the press took the Minister to task roundly. The last thing which we want in this country is a prying and repressive censorship.

Now it may be that some readers will interpret the wrath of the press on this matter as an attempt to protect their own interest; certainly that is true, but it is not the whole truth. The press does not want to be hampered or muzzled, but it does not want anyone else to be hampered or muzzled in spreading opinion or news either. It was obvious when war broke out that there would be many pieces of news which could not be made public, as they would be valuable to the enemy; there was also agreement that matter harmful to public morale should not be given publicity. The censorship regulations were drawn up to take care of these matters, and upon the whole the co-operation between the censorship and the press has been excellent. But when the Hon. Mr. St. Laurent made his reference to the possibility of suppressing such remarks as Miss MacPhail's, he interpreted the morale clause of the censorship regulations very broadly—too broadly. The people of Canada are not fools, and they know when Miss MacPhail is talking through her hat; also, the press is ready and competent to deal with such misleading and unfounded statements. Indeed, we venture to say that the press knows what the morale of the Canadian people can stand better than the censors or any other body in the country.

It was significant that at the time when Miss MacPhail's speech and the Minister's reference to it were receiving wide publicity, a letter was published in the Toronto Globe and Mail from Dr. W. J. Edmonston Scott, who was Canadian censor of central and western European languages from 1939 to 1942; Dr. Scott made public a memorandum which he said was issued to censors on May 1, 1942, which read thus:

"All letters observed in the mails containing information regarding women's political activities in all parts of the world and women's activities in connection with post-war reconstruction should be specially submitted to this office and the file reference C. 11292-38 quoted."

If there has been no mistake about this, it is it is a most disturbing disclosure: It can only be described as monkeying with the people's mail, and that is a thing which a democratic state hates, almost more than any other sort of government prying. If information of one sort is collected from the mails, why not information of other sorts? And if the mail entering and leaving Canada is examined in this way, how long will it be before there is similar snooping in the mail within Canada? People will connect the Minister's remarks with Dr. Scott's revelation, and they will want to know how far this matter has gone. The person to tell them is the Minister of National War Services, and the place for the statement is in the House of Commons.

Censorship in wartime is necessary, and almost everyone admits it. And in order that all necessary points should be covered the powers given to the censors should be wide and capable of varied interpretation in emergencies. The censors and those who direct them must be trusted to do their duty where it may be necessary, and to encroach upon our democratic liberties as little as possible. Recent events have created doubt on this latter score, and that doubt should be dispelled as quickly as possible.

The Late Robert Manion

The sudden death of Dr. R. J. Manion will be a source of regret to many thousands of Canadians who watched his political career. He was a man of dynamic personality and strong opinions, and although his political adventures were not attended by the highest success he achieved the post of Federal Cabinet minister three times, and was for a time leader of the Conservative party. He was respected and liked personally by many men who opposed him publicly. He was nicknamed "Fighting Bob", but he fought without meanness or rancour. He began his political life as a Liberal, but later altered his allegiance, and the greater part of his career was spent in the service of the Conservative party, in good days and bad. After his retirement in 1940 he accepted the post of National Director of Civilian Air Raid Defence in Canada, under the present Liberal administration, and in the course of his duties he visited Great Britain in order to study civilian defence there. His life was filled with incident; perhaps the most notable single affair of importance in which he was engaged was his struggle to straighten out the affairs of the Canadian National Railways when, as Minister of Railways and Canals in the Bennett government, that Herculean task fell to him; he earned the gratitude of all Canadians on that occasion. His death was unexpected, but he died while he was busily serving his country, and he will be remembered with respect and affection. He would not have asked for more.

Mr. Churchill At The Guildhall

When Mr. Churchill spoke at the Guildhall on Wednesday he made certain observations which we might all ponder with advantage to ourselves. The desirability of a strong Anglo-American friendship was stressed, as it always is with Mr. Churchill, and he spoke also of the strength—greater even than we realize—of the Empire and Commonwealth. The two great English-speaking nations, he said, could "acting together, help all nations safely into harbour; if we divide, all will toss and drift for a long time on dark and stormy seas". The Empire, he said, showed no sign of a crack after Dunkirk, though "then surely was the moment for the Empire to break up". The sort of solidarity which never thinks of a break is the sort that endures through the ages.

Touching on India, Mr. Churchill pointed out that in that country which has been represented by both our friends and our enemies as the very cesspit of imperialism there is an army of two millions, not one of whom was conscripted or compelled; they are volunteers, every man of them. Surely this speaks as loud, if not louder, than Mr. Ghandi?

Little Lord Fauntleroy

There are men still living who, in their childhood days, were dressed in the style created by the illustrations of Frances Hodgson Burnett's sticky romance, Little Lord Fauntleroy. Those who have read that book will remember young Fauntleroy as a child of surpassing virtue, a monster of goodness, who was a great comfort to his mother and the means of softening the flinty heart of that rugged old nobleman, his grandfather. If we recollect aright, he was popular with his playmates, a group of rough boys who played rough games. And he did all these things in a velvet suit with a lace collar, and his hair hung about his shoulders in ringlets. The book contained many pictures of this distressing child, drawn by Reginald Birch, who died in New York about a fortnight ago.

In our childhood we hated Lord Fauntleroy, and we have not softened toward him with the passing years. But after all, children have to be dressed in something, and a velvet suit is as adequate a covering for nakedness as anything else, though not very practical. The problem of what to put on children has vexed many a parent, since the eighteenth century, when they were simply dressed in smaller versions of the clothes that their parents wore. The modern child cannot be dressed to look like his father or mother. If he is so dressed, he will look as ridiculous as Fauntleroy. All too often the modern child is dressed so that he looks like a little tough. What are parents to do? What is a child to wear? A designer of suitable clothes for children, which are proper to their tender years (and yet not silly) and practical (but not made exclusively of leather or canvas) is badly wanted. The Lord Fauntleroy suit has gone forever, but the problem of what to put on children remains without satisfactory solution.

NOTE AND COMMENT

A German writer has proved that Adam and Eve were Aryans. They raised Cain because of it, too.

A contemporary accuses reformers of having narrow views. Could this be called righter's cramp?

We read that Dr. Goebbels is superstitious, and thinks it unlucky to look into a mirror over one's shoulder. He did it once, and there he was!

Farming News and Views

By
HON. DUNCAN MARSHALL

FARMERS from different parts of the province are pretty well agreed that Ontario will not have much more than half a crop this year. I saw John Miller from Ashburn and he said he sowed his first grain this year, a field of oats, on June 3. He seeded the field to a mixture of alfalfa and timothy on the same date, and now the clover and grass is higher than the oats; the latter seemed to have stopped growing. On June 10, he sowed a field of barley which has grown rapidly and looks like making a good crop. This is very good evidence that a quick-growing crop like barley was best for a spring like this. A great many farmers were trying to bet buckwheat to sow but had difficulty in securing seed. Buckwheat, put in with the same care as other grain crops, will yield very well.

Senator Donnelly, who farms several hundred acres in Bruce, reports crops in South Bruce very good and catching up with the season—hay being quite heavy in many sections.

Alfalfa and other clovers are not so good on heavy land, and in many cases clovers headed-out when short and are yielding not more than a ton to the acre when cut. This was a good year for rolling land where the soil was inclined to be light. The plan now should be to save all the silage possible, to sow pasture crops to carry the livestock along and to depend on Western oats and barley for grain to feed next winter.

REPORTS would indicate a heavy wheat crop in Saskatchewan this year, and also a very largely increased crop of flax (linseed). The wheat looks very promising at the present time and the problem of storage may be the most difficult one. Some additions to elevators may be erected, but lumber and nails are not easily secured and the housing of our excess food may not be managed except with difficulty.

The storage of flax offers even greater difficulties. Flax is a slippery grain, cannot be stored on the ground and requires more protection from wet weather than wheat. The war effort is calling for linseed oil and it is important for us to produce it; but we have limited facilities for milling flax and it now looks as though storage adds another and a greater difficulty. These war problems are cropping up on every hand, and, while much fault can easily be found with many of our present practices, it is well to keep in mind some of the difficulties which those charged with public duties have now to overcome.

THE United Nations Conference on Food and Agriculture, which met in Hot Springs, Virginia, at the call of the United States, consisted of representatives from some forty-four nations, and useful discussions resulted from the assembly. Very few, if any, of the delegations from these countries were instructed by the governments they represented upon matters of important policy. The British delegation was not even in possession of some agricultural propositions which their Ministry of Agriculture had been promising to put before the British people, but had not done so.

Some idea of the problems the meeting took into consideration may be gleaned from one sentence which I have culled from several pages of proposals. It is this:— "The post-war readjustment of agriculture to achieve a progressive and balanced expansion of production and consumption throughout the world." Just read that over again and realize what it means, and don't miss the three last words as they take in a good deal of territory. When the war ends, we will be well-advised not to try to make over the world in an afternoon, and we are going to have not a little difficulty in getting "all the countries of the world" to follow any cut-and-dried policy. Each nation has ideas and plans of its own, which it will be bound to want to follow; but, there surely is one thing all the "civilized" nations will agree upon, that war and murders, such as shooting "hostages" etc., shall cease. There must be an International agreement to "abolish fear," and some authority set up that will act promptly when any nation lays plans for killing its neighbours; that such nation shall be dealt with in a summary fashion for planning such murders and shall be rendered, quickly and effectively, incapable of carrying out its designs.

When this is done, the reason for many of the maladministrations of trade and business as among nations of the world will disappear. We will then get the business of producing things to improve living conditions to replace the business of preparing for war, which has cost more than anyone can calculate. We can go on from there, each country doing the sensible thing when it is safe to do it.

A BATTLE AREA, which has been taken over by the government, in the East Riding of Yorkshire, in the North of England, has displaced the grazing of over 6,000 Border Leicester sheep, many of them purebred. Among these sheep are some of the best registered sheep in the Border Country. This is one of the side injuries resulting from the war, and a serious loss will likely be suffered by the owners of these sheep. The finding of new grazing is much more difficult now than it would have been before the plowing policy of the British Government had greatly reduced the pastures in Britain. Some of the finest flocks in England are in this district, and their owners are busy now moving their sheep, as they are able to get accommodation for them. One farmer who has a flock of 200 registered ewes is moving them by truck to where he has secured temporary keep for them until August, when he will have to move them again. Incidents of this kind serve to remind us of how grateful we should be that we are living in Canada and not in the active war zone, and how little we should complain of our trifling inconveniences.

DRIVING out to Aylmer, Quebec, I saw a good deal of hay being put up under difficulties from wet weather. Hay will be well worth saving this year. Any that goes into barns should have some salt or lime scattered through the mows to save the leaves of clover and alfalfa from the results of dampness.

The corn on the Experimental Farm looks much better than some of the spring crop, and will make up in fodder what hay may lack, though heavy swaths of hay are being cut in that locality.

"We shall be glad," wrote the firm to the Minister of Labour, "if you can assist us in retaining this man for a little longer. He is the only man left in the firm, and he is carrying on with 15 girls."

A GREAT LITTLE MONK—WHEN THE GOING WAS GOOD

The Fabled Isle Of Corfu

A SEA of brilliant, luminous blue, an atmosphere whose perfect transparency suggests some interior of pearl and alabaster; the very faintest hint of golden light in the crystal air, and cliffs of richest violet, rose-shadowed, rising against the sky,—a country in which, as Euripides pictured, one is "ever delicately tripping through the pellucid air"; an aereal country, whose valleys and defiles are all aglow with pink of oleander blooms, and where the fragrance of orange-blossoms burdens the breeze.... This is Corfu!

The Mediterranean voyage, if it does not, indeed, abound in enchantment, offers the voyager renewed pageantry of beauty; wonderful Algiers, a city of sun-flushed marble, on emerald hills, overlooking the resplendent waters; Taormina, a dream of loveliness seen against the snow-crowned peaks of Mount Etna; ..these and other of the dreams of beauty the traveller knows; and still, with his first view of Corfu, new visions arise....

From whatever direction the island is approached, it is equally beautiful, with the mountainous heights rising in irregular and picturesque masses; with its myriads of valleys covered with the luxuriant verdure of vines, and the gray-green olive-trees. Corfu is enshrined in legend and romance. It is the land where Ulysses sought safety after his disastrous voyage from the island of Calypso, and where he encountered Nausicaa and her maidens, who befriended him. The fabled gardens of King Alcinous, the father of the Princess Nausicaa, still exist in the imagination of the visitor; nor is it difficult to identify them with the entrancing gardens of the present, with their tropical luxuriance of magnolias, which seem to be in perpetual bloom, and the stately palms, the eucalyptus, the orange and lemon trees whose blossoms make the air all fragrance, the papyrus, fig, and olive trees....

The charm of Corfu can as little be captured and distilled into language as the perfume of a rose, or the shining of a star. It is the Isle of Enchantment. It is the romance of Europe. —From "Athens, The Violet-Crowned," by Lilian Whiting. (Boston: Little, Brown.)

The Honours List

THE PRINTED WORD

MINGLED with the sincere congratulations towards those whom the King has delighted to honour are a few questions. While there is no suggestion that the 625 Canadians on the list are not worthy of their orders and decorations, one must feel that other Canadians who received no mention were equally worthy. It is natural to inquire how the names were chosen. Were the names of all eligible candidates dropped into a revolving drum and drawn by pretty nurses, in the fashion of the Irish Sweepstakes of bygone years? Or were the names selected by the Cabinet or the Prime Minister personally after nominations had been made by heads of Government departments and others?

There is some evidence in favour of the theory of pure chance, for it is at first difficult to see any other reason why the names of the Minister of Labour and the Chairman of the Wartime Prices and Trade Board were not on the list. No one is better known to the mass of the people than these two gentlemen, but not an O.B.E. has come their way.

The suggestion has been made that honours added to the powers already possessed by Messrs. Gordon and Mitchell would be something of an anti-climax. They have issued orders such as no British king since the Stuarts would have imagined. What value has the Order of the British Empire beside an Order of the Wartime Prices and Trade Board?

Another possibity is that great honors are reserved for some prominent Canadians who were not mentioned in the first list. The old question of titles for Canadians has again been raised, and we again realize how ridiculous it is to object to call a man Sir Tom, Sir Dick or Sir Harry after he has done the state some service, when he can get the title of Doctor from some little university that needs a new gymnasium.

It titles are to be revived in this country, as they were for a short time a few years ago, some of them should go to those omitted from the most recent honours list. For some, it might not be going too far to revive hereditary titles, so that the memory of thei achievements during the war would never fade.

An Acclamation for Alex Elliott

To The Examiner:—

In a recent issue of your paper I note the Liberal Party of Peterborough County, in convention unanimously selected Capt. A. L. Elliott, as their candidate in the forthcoming Provincial election.

While not a supporter of Ex-Premier Mitchell Hepburn in the last Ontario contest I can heartily endorse the action of the local Liberal convention and would suggest that the voters in this electorial district of Peterborough might well forget, (for the time being at least), all differences of party, race, or creed and give Capt. Elliott a hearty and unanimous acclamation as the member for Peterborough.

From our knowledge of the activities of our former member in the Legislative Assembly and from the tributes paid him by his fellow members of all political parties we are fairly well agreed that he has made a worthy representative and entitled to at least another term in Toronto.

After all, in the coming provincial election, there are really no outstanding issues at stake. The Globe and Mail while severely criticising Premier H. C. Nixon for the calling of an early election, and for his efforts in co-operation with the Federal Government at Ottawa is not creating much support for its attacks. Apparently the issue the Toronto paper is trying to create is whether we, the people of the Province of Ontario, are willing to support the attitude of the Globe and Mail and accept the Hon. H. C. Nixon, as premier for an indefinite period upon a majority vote of a party convention or would we prefer to have a government in power at Toronto by the vote "of the people," "by the people," "for the people," of all Ontario. In the spirit of democracy let the Globe and Mail answer that one.

Col. George Drew in recent addresses has apparently tried to make a political issue from the recent misguided, mistatements of Ex-Speaker Clark at Detroit. As Mr. Clark has now (rather belatedly it is true) pulled himself out of a rather embarrassing situation by claiming he was "misreported," the Hon. Mr. Drew remembering the disastrous consequence of his "wrongly reported" Edmonton address, should at least have a "fellow feeling for a fellow being." Shake hands with Mr. Clark and sign off. No issue there.

To many of us who know something of the financial, physical and social sacrifices many local men have made and are making in this war our own efforts back home seem very puny and often far from generous or unselfish. It takes unswerving loyalty to one's convictions for men like Col. Dewart, Major Honey, Capt. Elliott and many others to turn the back on an enterprise it took hard years to establish, leave the comforts, the social life, and the security of the home to face like good soldiers all the hardships, hardness and dangers of military life.

The coming election in the provincial riding of Peterborough is not a testing time for the former member, it is the voters of Peterborough who are now on trial. These times have proven the courage, the manhood, the loyalty of Alex Elliott. By any man's standard he is a Big man! When it comes to giving him an acclamation, How Big Are We?

A Bible Message

Moreover, brethren, I would not that ye should be ignorant, how that all our fathers were under the cloud, and all passed through the sea; and were all baptized unto Moses in the cloud and in the sea; and did all eat the same spiritual meat; and did all drink the same spiritual drink; for they drank of that spiritual Rock that followed them: and that Rock was Christ....

The cup of blessing which we bless, is it not the communion of the blood of Christ? The bread which we break, is it not the communion of the body of Christ? (I Cor. 10: 1-4, 16.)

For as often as ye eat this bread, and drink this cup, ye do shew the Lord's death till he come.

Wherefore whosoever shall eat this bread, and drink this cup of the Lord, unworthily, shall be guilty of the body and blood of the Lord. But let a man so examine himself, and so let him eat of that bread, and drink of that cup. (I Cor. 11: 26-28.)

Mr. Petrillo to Mr. Lewis

Most of us have come to the conclusion that there couldn't be much good in John L. Lewis, the gentleman who called three strikes in the eastern mine fields and held up the production of war materials, steel for one. There was nothing good that could be said about him. The United States Congress manifested a marked distaste for the man and his methods. It began to look as if John L. Lewis didn't have a friend, at any rate in any of the Allied countries. Then James C. Petrillo came to his rescue.

Petrillo is to the musicians' union what Lewis is to the United Mine Workers. He is the boss. He tells the people of the United States what music may be played, through what medium, and when and where. What he say goes. He was in his office a day or two ago on Lexington Avenue in New York, discussing a charge put forward by makers of radio transcriptions that he was avoiding a conciliator from the Department of Labour. The disk dispute is ten months old. Mr. Petrillo said his attorneys would see the concilator, after which he talked about John L. Lewis. He said: "When we call a strike, we call a strike. He calls a strike every two weeks and where has he got? He is busy trying to be President, the Secretary of Labour, or something." The New York Times reported him to this effect.

As we have mentioned, the popularity of Mr. Lewis had dropped to an irreducible minimum. But James C. Petrillo dislikes and scorns him. Must we revise our judgment? If Petrillo is not the friend of Lewis there must be in the latter's compositon some good quality, some redeeming trait of which, unfortunately, we were unaware. —Montreal Gazette.

C.G.E.-Genelco Employees Hold Most Successful Picnic With Several Thousand Attending

Marred only by two brief showers of rain, the annual Dominion Day outing of Canadian General Electric and Genelco employees and their families took place Monday at Nicholls Oval.

Thousands swarmed out to East City in the early afternoon and were greeted by warm, sunny weather after the rain that had threatened in the forenoon appeared to be gone for good. It was not until after the children's races had been run off and the crowds of picnickers were eating their suppers and awaiting the beginning of the evening's events that the first shower came. Though sudden and intense, the rainstorm was fortunately brief, and though it caused some minutes of uncertaintly and made a veritable sea of mud of the busy sections of ground around the stands and the stage which are not seeded with grass, still it did not interfere with the program of entertainment as planned.

As was to be expected on a day so warm, the consumption of refreshments was prodigious, and a continuous stream of soft drinks, ice cream cones and miscellaneous summer delicacies was crossing the counters of the three refreshment booths hour after hour. These booths were housed in large tents and manned by a numerous staff of attendants, who despite their numbers had plenty to attend to right round the clock.

Well Organized

The organization of the picnic was of the same general excellence that has been a characteristic of these popular outings over a period of years. Arranged with faultless precision, event followed event in orderly manner, with no confusion or loss of time. The running off of the score or so of boys' and girls' races was a job very efficiently performed, and the sports committee headed by R. M. Hanscom deserves considerable credit for the skill with which it handled this difficult assignment.

The program of the earlier portion of the day was truly a "children's hour," and every effort was made to see that the youngsters received the maximum of attention and enjoyment. From looking at the faces of only a few, one could see with ease how grand an occasion it was to each and every little boy and girl and how earnestly they intended to make the most of it.

To begin with, each child under 14 years of age was provided with a strip of free tickets, 30 cents worth, which had been distributed to their parents at the plants, and these tickets entitled them to that amount in free bus transportation, free carnival rides and free refreshments. The rides included a merry-go-round, a chairoplane and a round-about with musical background filled in by the traditional calliope. These rides were centers of attraction throughout the day, with long lines of customers forming outside the entrance gates and the group next in order for a ride waiting inside anxiously to take over the places of the kids who got there first.

Two variety shows for the children were given in the course of the afternoon, each lasting a half hour. The children were amused by the antics of clowns and the feats of acrobatic performers and contests were held among boys and girls coming up from the audience measuring their different prowess in the playing of bagpipes and leading of the band.

Band Concert

Following supper an hour's concert was given the public by the Salvation Army band, playing marches, waltzes, overtures and a few compositions for solo instruments.

As the evening dusk came on the major entertainment of the gala outing, an extensive vaudeville revue, commenced. Well-known names of stage and radio were represented among the entertainers, and the various acts held the interest and won the applause of a large crowd gathered before the elevated stage platform There were Al and Bob Harvey, a team of singing comedians who formerly starred with the B. B. C. in London, Pat Bailey, C. B. C. star who won her audience with a charming personality and sweet singing voice, a team of tight-rope artists, "Les Marcelles" refugees from occupied Belgium, who performed on a slender wire, and others who contributed their share in making the revue a splendid success.

After this portion of the program was concluded there was dancing to an orchestra on the stage platform vacated by the entertainers, and the merrymakers kept the ball rolling till past midnight.

A first aid tent was operated on the grounds by members of the St. John's Ambulance Brigade, Mary Greer, R.N., the District Supervisor in charge. Attendants cared for children with cuts and bruises and a number of people who suffered from headaches or prostration brought about by the heat. Several children were treated for cuts received from broken bottles, and one of these, Gerald Johnson of 344½ Charlotte street, who cut his knee had to have three stitches take and be sent home in the care of a doctor.

The major prizes of the day were won as follows: vacuum cleaner, Mrs. G. R. Newman, 15 Fleming Place; and refrigerator, Pat McTague, 200 London Street.

Committee members consisted of S. Valentin, general chairman of picnic; R. M. Hanscom, chairman sports; E. G. Hardie, chairman of property; R. H. Perks, general secretary; T. McCabe, chairman of transportation; J. E. Thomas, chairman draw committee. Officials were: J. E. Girven, S. O. Shields, announcers: D. Grant, starter; D. Menzies, A. L. Malby, J. Begley and E. MacDonald, judges; F. Robinson and Committee, prize distributors; S. W. Daniel and J. H. Clarke, public address and radio services; C. Jay, Ted Chambers, J. Taylor, W. G. Shiner, W. Wright, E. Foley, O. Price, C. B. Muir, A. Rooke, W. Bennett, D. Emery, J. Cameron, L. Calladine and A. Taylor track and race supervisors; C. Cadd, C. Krug, volley ball; A. E. Hutchinson and H. D. Allen, horseshoes.

Winners of Races

Winners of the races and other events were as follows. In the girls' races: five years and under, Patsy Caccavella, Dorothy Kitchen, Barbara Weese; six years, Ann Menzies, Barbara Jones, Eleanor Jessup; seven, Helen Fitzgerald, Betty Carroll, Shirley Panter; eight, Katheryn Fitzgerald, Colleen O'Brien, Patricia Peel; nine, Joan Conners, Fay Harries, Betty Lalonde; 10, Lois Fredericks, Audrey Collins, Joan Coombs 11, Dorreen Gilmour, Barbara Hall Frances Cameron; 12, Gwen Cooper, Margaret Deal, Madeline O'Connor; 13, Jean Jackson, Devina Collins, Carrol Noyes; 14, Ola Smith, Thelma Batley, Shirley Hopkins.

Air-Train Makes History As Glider Flies Atlantic Laden With War Supplies

W. S. LONGHURST

F. M. GOBEIL

A glider like the one pictured LEFT ABOVE has been towed across the Atlantic at a speed of 125 miles an hour, carrying war supplies for Britain and Russia, thus making air history. RIGHT, ABOVE, is a view of the interior of forward end of such a glider. Not for a minute can the glider's pilot take his eyes off the tow plane or the tow rope, keeping the glider always 20 feet higher than the towing plane. This first trip across the Atlantic was made by a Waco plywood glider towed behind a twin-engined Douglas Dakota. Two of the four pilots of the planes were Canadians. Squadron Leader F. M. Gobeil, R.C.A.F., of Montreal, was co-pilot of the glider and Flight-Lieut. W. S. Longhurst of Outlook, Sask., was pilot of the tow plane.

NORWOOD

Scouts Hold Annual Outing

NORWOOD, July 6 — (ENS). — The annual Scout camp of the 1st Norwood Troop, Boy Scouts of Canada was held from June 29 to July 3 at the farm of P. P. Armstrong on the shores of the Indian River, about 2 miles south of No. 7 Highway.

The troop was in charge of Scoutmaster A. J. MacNaughton, assisted by Assistant Scoutmaster David Lemon. Scouts attending were from three patrols—The Bear Patrol, P. L. John Weir, Robin Mainland, and Donald Wright; the Wolf Patrol, P. L. Gordon Fennell, Morris Blodgett, Joe Rae, and Johnnie Rae; the Eagle Patrol, P. L. Clarence Hubbel, Neil Cameron, Bernard Mullin and Jimmie Hood.

The camp was located under some fine elm trees close to the bank of the Indian River. Each patrol was quartered in its own tent. In front of each tent the boys built a fireplace from flat rocks. A camp flag pole flew the Union Jack, erected in the centre of the camp. Ideal sanitary and refrigeration facilities were provided.

The first day of camp was devoted to setting up tents, building fireplaces and in general putting the camp into shape. That evening the boys had their first dip in the cool waters of Indian River. Instruction was given in semaphore, first-aid, compass reading, cooking, and the Scout pace. Among the boys who passed various tests were included:

Neil Cameron, full second class tests, 2 proficiencies.

Donald Wright, semaphore, 2 proficiencies.

John Rae, semaphore, 1 proficiency.

Joe Rae. Kim game, Scout pace, 1 proficiency.

Robin Mainland, Scout pace, Kim game, 1 proficiency.

Morris Blodgett, Kim game, Scout pace, 2 proficiencies.

Gordon Fennell, 2 proficiencies.

John Weir, 2 proficiencies.

Clarence Hubbel, 1 proficiency.

Bernard Mullin, tenderfoot tests.

A banner was given to the patrol which came first in points awarded for badge work, tests, and inspection of tents for each day. The Wolves were successful in holding the banner for two days, the Eagles won it on Friday, and the Bears tied the other patrols for it on Saturday.

Their chaplain, Rev. R. E. Lemon of Christ Church, Norwood, visited the camp, and a paper chase was held, the boys travelling north of the highway through the fields to the C.P.R. tracks. The paper chase came to an end at the farm of Henry Borland. This brought to a close a seven-mile hike.

Life-saving and first-aid instruction was part of the Scout program. Walter Webb of Norwood, local representative of the H.E.P.C., dropped in on the camp, and in the evening a weiner roast was enjoyed by the troop and many friends of the surrounding district. The sing-song and games were jointly led by Allan Borland and the A.S.M.

The sunnier side of the camp was seen in John Weir, the ever-complacent patrol leader, Joe Rae, the mammoth tart eater, and Bernard Mullin.

Heavy Toll

LONDON, July 6 — (CP)—British naval observers said yesterday Germany now is losing at least one U-boat built by slow and costly precision methods, for every mass produced Allied freighter sunk by the undersea craft.

LONDON, July 6 —(CP) —Prof. Albert Speer, Nazi Minister of Munitions, was reported by the German radio yesterday to have acknowledged that German workers in some instances are manufacturing munitions in the open air "under the most primitive conditions."

Omemee Centre Entrance Results

The following is a list of the High School Entrance candidates who are eligible for High School Entrance standing at Omemee Centre. Pupils who have been released for farm labor have not been listed among successful candidates. They will receive due consideration when the High School Entrance Appeal Board meets in August, provided their employers have submitted farm labor certificates for them. The marks of unsuccessful candidates have been mailed. Those who failed may appeal for a re-reading of their papers any time before August 23, 1943. Appeals must be sent to R. F. Downey, 298 Boswell Ave., Peterborough, with a fee of $2.00. Candidates who have failed are discouraged from appealing as all papers of those who are reasonably near the passing mark have been re-read. Candidates having a low total are especially requested to refrain from making an appeal.

The following passed on the teachers' recommendation: Brown, Robert Curtin, Bertram; Curtis, May; Ellis, Gertrude; Everson, Robert; Green, Elizabeth; Guiry, Rose Marie; Harris, Stephen; Jones, Audrey; Lucas, Caroline; Mitchell, Marie; Murtha, Bazil; Nurse Lois; Ruth, Bernice; Sharpe, Winona.

The following passed on the Departmental Examination: Dorgan, Mary; Fitch, Audrey; Parker, Bill; Skuce, Norman; Spitzer, John.

Passed under regulation 10 (5)—Lance, Clifford.

WHEN a girl enlists in the R.C.A.F. she soon realizes how important a part she is playing in winning the war. She sees that unless women "take over," men anxious to fight may not get their chance to fly.

It will take woman-power as well as man-power to attain victory. That's why you are needed now. Decide to join this adventurous fighting service! You'll serve your country today, and prepare yourself for a successful tomorrow. The training is not only interesting. It is valuable. What's more, when peace comes . . . you, who have served that men may fly, may be rightly proud of your record.

The R.C.A.F. needs girls, ages 18 to 45, with at least High School Entrance. Apply at your nearest R.C.A.F. Recruiting Centre, bringing proof of education and birth certificate. EXCELLENT OPPORTUNITIES FOR PROMOTION.

PAT FLANAGAN TAKES FRANK TUNNEY IN BEST OF THREE FALLS

Footwork Pays Dividends For Irishman

Pat Flanagan's educated toe stood him in good stead in Monday night's feature bout on Frank Tunney's weekly wrestling card at the Brock Street Summer Gardens, although for a while it looked as if his kicking might cost him the bout.

The popular Toronto Irishman used his mule-kick specialty to win the third and decisive fall in his battle with the clever Joe Maich of Brantford so that in the long run the footwork paid dividends. But drop-kicking cost Flanagan the second fall, acting as a boomerang when the wily Maich quickly grabbed the big Irishman's feet and applied a giant swing that terminated in a fall for the Brantford grappler, squaring the match. Flanagan had taken the first after 21 minutts torrid wrestling.

The bout was one of the best of the present series. The two are clean, powerful, fast and clever and they really turned it on especially in tre tussle for the first fall.

They ran through an extensive repertoire of holds and strategy, working at top speed and both men gained laurels for the quality of the wrestling shown. The honors were about even in the first twenty minutes. Flanagan had Maich in difficulties with a step-over toe hold but the Brantford boy finally broke it and then he gave Flanagan a tough five minutes when he tied him up with a double self-strangle hold, which the Toronto Irishman had a lot of trouble getting away from. Finally however Flanagan managed to get a figure four arm scissors on the slippery Maich and after flopping his opponent around the ring for several minutes pinned his shoulders to the mat for the first fall.

Maich took the second fall after ten minutes of spirited action and it came as a surprise. The Brantford boy had had an arm hold on Flanagan and had been on the aggressive for some time. Finally however Flanagan launched a drop-kicking attack that looked as if it might wind up the bout in a hurry. Twice he bowled Maich over with accurate kicks. Then he hurled himself off the ropes with a third kick. This time, however Maich, grabbed him by the ankles and turned tre drop into a giant swing that took Flanagan for a merry ride. By the time the swinging was over all Maich had to do was to drop on his opponent to take the fall.

The only unorthodox stuff of the bout occurred during the battle for the final fall. The two were sparring for a hold and Maich protested that Flanagan was punching him. In retaliation he swung a series of elbow slams and punches at the Toronto mat artist that had Flanagan apparently softened for the kill. However when Maich rushed in to complete the job, his opponent suddenly vaulted over his head and then cut loose with his celebrated mule kick. It landed right on the target, Maich was bowled over and before he coull recover Flanagan had dropped on him for the third and winning fall.

They Were Right

They billed the Blimp as the world's worst wrestler—and they were right. They also advertised him as the biggest in the game and they were not far wrong there. If Promoter Tunney could pack the Summer Gardens thoroughly as the jersey and wrestling tights worn by the Blimp were packed Peterborough would have grappling shows three times a week. Martin Levy, to give the Blimp his proper title weighs 642 pounds and that is why he is out there.

So far as wrestling goes, the ponderous Levy apparently only had a couple of ideas. One was to stand on his opponent's foot and the other to try and push him over by sheer weight. Doc Tony Felice, the big Californian who was matched with this freak of the mat finally settled the argument with the Blimp's own strategy. Levy had both Felice and Referee Phil Lawson packed into the corner of the ring and for a while it looked as if the ropes would not stand the pressure. When Lawson grabbed the Blimp's hair to

By FRED D. CRAIG

One of the best battles of the season in the City Softball League should be the meeting tonight between Soldiers and Genelecs at Riverside Park at 7 o'clock. Ted Johnston's club from the big industrial plant came to after a bad slump the other night and played good ball both at the bat and in the field to crush the Cardinals. The Genelecs say they are distinctly on the up-grade now and that they will prove it with a win over the powerful Soldiers. The Military Training Centre team of course do not see it that way. They have won four out of five starts and are counting on keeping right on winning at the expense of Genelecs. They can't both be right but tonight will answer the argument for the time being. Both Soldiers and Genelecs are lining up their best available batting order for the tussle and there should be plenty of fireworks before a winner is decided. Wilson will likely be Manager Harry Morgan's choice to do the throwing for the Soldiers while Ted Johnston has Akers, Woods and Moorhead all ready for duty against the Camp team. It looks like one of the best attractions of the season and should pack in the customers at Riverside Park. The schedule is rapidly being completed and every game from now on is going to be important in deciding the playoff berths.

* * * * * *

There may be only three clubs in the Oshawa City Softball League but they are evidently strong and well-balanced judging by the opening games in the loop race. Says George H. Campbell in his Oshawa sports column: "This league opening on Wednesday night at Alexandra Park, with Oshawa Merchants scoring two runs in the 9th to tie the score 4-4 against Oshawa Colts and it stayed at that, until the game was called after 10 innings of play. Last night, in the second game of the schedule Oshawa Merchants had a 5-0 lead on Oshawa Laundry but the "Cleaners" came back strongly at the finish, tied the score with single runs in the 8th and 9th and then won the game with a thrilling storybook finish in the 10th inning, 6-5. Herbie Cooper, hard-working playing-manager of the Oshawa Laundry team played a big part in his team's win, scoring the tying run in the 9th and driving home the winning tally, in the 10th, with two men out and two strikes on himself at the time. It certainly looks as if the local Intermediate softball race is going to be a mighty keen affair. Two 10-inning games for the first two games of the schedule is definite indication that it's a well-balanced league race and with only two teams in the playoffs, every game is going to be mighty important. Dean McLaughlin pitched 3-hit ball for Colts on Wednesday night and Pete Opychany held the Colts in check nicely for ten innings. Last night, Hillier pitched no-hit, no-run ball for four frames and although he tired towards the end, he showed that he'll be a big factor before the schedule is much older. Doug Keeler started badly, then straightened away to pitch the Laundry team to their opening game win. All three clubs have other strong pitchers. Batters are going to have their troubles this season."

A Battling Marine

Peterborough wrestling fans saw three new mat personalities last night. In addition to the ponderous Blimp they caught a first glimpse of a roughhouse performer from the Pacific Coast in the person of Doc Tony Felice and they also had a chance to see a veteran of the present war in action. He was Wilbur "Toar" Morgan who battled big Jerry Monahan on last night's card. Morgan was a former United States Marine, in fact he was a member of the Marine detachment which wrested Guadalcanal from the Japs and is credited with having killed over a score of the little yellow men when the Marines landed at Tulagi. Morgan who had been a professional wrestler before enlisting and had a record of seventy straight wins came out of the Guadalcanal affair with a bad case of shell shock and was invalided back to the United States and discharged. However he has swung back into condition rapidly and it is to be imagined that Monahan found him in good shape in last night's torrid tilt.

* * * * * *

The main bout last night which saw Pat Flanagan take two out of three falls from Joe Maich of Brantford justified the action of Promoter Tunney in making it the chief feature on the card. The two boys packed in all kinds of action in their 39 minute mill and there were few dull moments. They had speed as well as power and used them both to advantage in a battle in which there was not a great deal to choose. It would not be surprising if the good showing made by Flanagan in his series of bouts here and his clean-cut win over Maich last night has not earned him a chance against Whipper Billy Watson the British Empire champion. A match between Watson and Flanagan would be a natural. They have a lot in common in the matter of speed and tactics and a clash between them ought to bring out all kinds of fireworks. Flanagan has won a lot of friends here and they would like to see him matched against one of the game's high-rankers.

A Bad Week-End

Over the week-end the Dodgers took a real lacing from the league leaders. Mort Cooper pitched the Saturday fixture which the Cards took 5 to 3 and thus the St. Louis ace finally attained his tenth win. Sunday the Bums were held to exactly two runs in two games which the Cardinals won neatly. The first was a thrilling pitching duel between Howie Pollet, St. Louis left-hander who allowed only three hits and Curt Davis who blanked the winners until the tenth, only to weaken in the extra frame and lose the decision 2 to 0. The second game was the Cards all the way. They were swinging for the fences and Walker Cooper, Danny Litwhiler and Whitey Kurowski all cracked out homers as St. Louis with Lanier pitching six-hit ball won 7 to 2. New York Yanks had a tough week-end, too, and they can thank the St. Louis Brownies for enabling them to start this week in first place. Detroit outbattled the Yanks twice on Saturday, beating them 6 to 5 in eleven innings and 10 to 9, scoring seven runs in the last two frames of the second game. Fordham Johnny Murphy, relief pitcher, dropped both fixtures. Sunday the Yanks managed to momentarily check their losing streak by nosing out the Tigers 1 to 0 in the first game but slipped back in the second and were blanked 6 to 0 when Rookie Overmire held the McCarthyites to five hits. All that saved the New Yorkers was the fact that the Washington Senators dropped both games of a Sunday double-header to the Browns.

* * * * * *

Both the New York Yanks and the Brooklyn Dodgers regained a little lost ground yesterday. The Yanks took a double bill from St. Louis Browns, beating the Brownies 3 to 2 in eleven innings in the first game and taking the night cap 8 to 5. At that the McCarthyites almost lost the first game in regulation time, had it not been that the umpires reversed a decision that would have given the Browns the winning marker had it been maintained. The best Washington could do was to break even with Detroit, thus dropping a full game off the pace. The Tigers climbed to within half a game of second spot by taking the morning fixture 10 to 3 but the Senators bounced back to grab the second 6 to 4. Augie Galan, formerly of the Chicago Cubs, put on one of his best shows playing for Brooklyn against his old teammates and the Dodgers took both ends of a twin-bill from the Cubs. Buck Newsom went the route in the first game to get his ninth win of the year. Another player sold up the river came back to haunt his former owners yesterday when Coaker Triplett playing for the Phillies slammed out successive innings homers to drive in five runs against the St. Louis Cards. The Phillies took that game 15 to 2 but the world champions came back with a 4 to 3 victory in the second with Krist getting the honors over Schoolboy Rowe.

Betting Record $2,564,124 On U.S. Tracks

(By The Canadian Press)

Big things, in a sports way, developed at the racing plants of the United States in the 5th of July holiday features. A betting record for a seven-race card, totalling $2,564,124, was rung up by the largest crowd of the day, 41,792 persons, at Jamaica, New York, the program being sponsored by Empire City Club. The new mark wiped out the previous high of $2,232,285 which had been set at the same track only last Saturday.

The day was marked by the biggest daily double of the season at Arlington Park, Chicago, when 19 persons each collected $3,047 on the winning combination which included May, a 41 to 1 shot, in the first event, and Song Spinner, 10 to 1 winner of the second dash.

The fans had to go back to July 5, 1939, to find the existing double-payoff record for Arlington, $5,835.20, paid on a couple of equines known as Hard Loser and Bluefield. The alltime world's record for a double, however, was established at another Windy City oval, Washington Park, Aug. 14, 1939, when the reward was $10,772.40 on the combined efforts of Joy Bet and Merry Caroline.

The most bountiful races of the holiday were the $50,000-added Stars and Stripes handicap at Chicago which was copped by Rounders, Irish-bred four-year-old, on a muddy track, and the $50,000-added Massachusetts handicap at Suffolk Downs in which the winner was Lou Tufano's $500 bargain, Market Wise, after a stirring stretch drive in sloppy going. A contender, Attention, was scratched from this event because he had kicked himself during the previous night and was not in condition.

Grand Circuit Race

Plenty of action was seen in Grand Circuit racing at North Randall, O., in the running of the $9,205 American stake for three-year-old trotters when Volo Song, heavy favorite and 1942 champion two-year-old, finished 11th and last in the first mile, second in the next heat and concluded by taking the last two heats to win out. Volo Song had to travel in the fast time of 2:03¼ to beat Phonograph in the third mile. The driver of the winning horse was 70-year-old Ben White.

Playing coach and star player last season, Dave MacKay of the Nanaimo Clippers in the Pacific Coast Hockey League has gone to Edmonton prior to enlisting in Canada's armed forces. Last winter MacKay was awarded the distinction of being the most valuable player in the circuit.

George Street Wins Bantam Title

George Street won the Church Bantam honors last week in a sudden death game with St. John's, the final count being 26 to 24. The lateness of the season and the fact that the boys were scattering for the summer resulted in the championship being decided in one fixture instead of a series. The battle proved one of the most exciting of the season.

The lead see-sawed until George Street found themselves needing five runs to win when they went to bat in the last innings. They came through like champions to turn the trick, the winning run finally coming in on a wild pitch.

Len Agnew, past president of the league, and Sergt. Ted Brook did the umpiring.

TORONTO LEAFS CAPTURE DOUBLEHEADER AGAINST ROCHESTER

Four Ball Games Finish Up With 5-2 Score

By The Associated Press.

When a playboy makes his first roll of the dice and the 5-2 combination pops up you can expect somebody in the audience to say "it's a natural."

And when four International League baseball games in one day end with a 5-2 score, you know it is highly unnatural.

But that is what happened yesterday as the eight members of the Shaughnessy circuit put on their own version of the Fourth of July. Jersey City and Newark divided a festive twin bill with identical, 5-2 scores; the second half of Toronto's sweep at Rochester was decided by the same count and the first of Buffalo's two wins over Montreal had the same numbers coming up.

The only series not touched by the 5-2 combination was the Baltimore-Syracuse games but the first of the Chief's two wins was 7-4 — which totals 11.

Toronto moved further out in front in the league race on the masterful pitching of Luke Hamlin and Joe Sullivan. In the first game, Hamlin allowed but five hits while shackling the Rochester Red Wings, 9-3.

Sullivan gave up four hits in the aftermath and his mates hopped into a 3-0 lead in the opening frame when they touched Kemp Wicker for four ingles. The final score was 5-2.

Bisons Win Two.

Hot pitching also characterized the Bisons two verdicts over Montreal. Rufe Gentry gaining his 10th decison of the year in the first by scattering five hits. George Barley did even better in the second, holding the Royals to a pair.

Blows off Gentry, recent no-hit no run hurler, included Norm Deweese's homer with a mate on base The score of that game was 5-2 while Barley's triumph was by a 3-0 margin.

Joe Page's wildness contributed to Newark's third straight defeat to Jersey City's awakened Little Giants but Frank Hiller stopped Gabby Hartnett's crew in the second on four hits.

Generosity of the Baltimore hurlers brought the Chiefs both their verdicts. In the first frame of the opener Elmer Burkart walked five men to give Syracuse a big start towards its 7-4 victory while Roland Van Slate walked two and uncorked three wild pitches in the opening frame of the nightcap which the Chiefs took, 4-2.

Threatening weather kept the attendance below expectations with the day's smallest crowd—1,959— at Syracuse and the holiday's largest—6,312 —at Rochester.

Money No Good

ATLANTA —(AP)— Players are at a premium and money might as well be potato chips, declared President Earl Mann of the Atlanta Baseball Club in the Southern Association. What everybody wants is players. Once, he said, he could wave $5,000 and get more players than he knew what to do with. Now, every club wants players in exchange.

Dodgers Take Two Games From Chicago

By JUDSON BAILEY
Associated Press Sports Writer

Now that baseball's booming Fourth of July bombardment is over the major leagues can turn their attention toward next Tuesday's annual all-star game— and some of the stars already have.

In the holiday celebration yester no fewer than 10 of sluggers selected for the dream game at Philadelphia fired home run rockets for what might be considered signals to Managers Billy Southworth and Joe McCarthy that they are ready for all - star action.

The most spectacular fireworks was set off by Augie Galan of Brooklyn Dodgers. He pulled the Dodgers out of a five-game losing streak by hitting a triple with the bases loaded in the first game and a grand slam homer in the second for a double victory over Chicago Cubs 6-3 and 8-2.

Other Big Sluggers

Bill Nicholson of the Cubs, Stan Musial of St. Louis, Mel Ott of New York and Vince DiMaggio of Pittsburgh were other National League all -star nominees who punched round-trippers.

Musial's blow in the seventh inning decided the second game of a doubleheader at Philadelphia in the Cardinals' favor 4-3 and gave Howard Krist his seventh victory against one defeat after the world champions had been shellacked 15-2 in the opening contest. The Phillies scored seven runs in the second inning and altogether made 16 hits, including two homers by Coaker Triplett and one by rookie catcher Bob Finley.

Giants Beaten

In the day's other National League show Pittsburgh bunched six runs in the third inning to beat New York Giants 8-4 and then was shutout 9-0 by lefty Ken Chase on six hits in the nightcap, when Ott hit his 12th homer of the season and fourth in four days for the Giants.

Cincinnati at Boston was postponed because of the weather.

In American League New York Yankees reinforced their grasp on first place by sweeping two games at St. Louis 3-2 and 8-5, but the first affair was not won until Joe Gordon smacked his ninth homer in the 11th inning.

As a matter of fact, the Browns thought they had bagged the game with two runs in the ninth and were in the clubhouse eating ice cream when they learned they hadn't. They thought they had tallied the winning run on John Lindell's throw into the St. Louis dugout, but after first allowing the run, the umpires yielded to the protests of Joe McCarthy that Milt Byrnes was entitled only to go to third, and called the Browns back onto the field.

Besides Gordon, Chet Laabs and Vernon Stephens of St. Louis, Rudy York of Detroit and Bob Johnson of Washington, all American League all-stars hit homers.

York's blow with two on figured in Detroit's 10-3 triumph over the second place Senators in a morning game played before 10,514 fans at Detroit. Johnson's, with one on, provided the margin of Washington's 6-4 victory in a twilight game played for 20,019.

Chicago White Sox split two with the Boston Red Sox, beating Tex Hughson 4-2 in the opener with the help of four Boston errors which let in three unearned runs, then losing the second 6-1 on six-hit hurling by Yank Terry.

A pair of four-hit pitching performances by Don Black and Luman Harris gave the Philadelpia Athletics twin triumphs over the Cleveland Indians 2-1 and 7-0.

The seven doubleheaders Sunday attracted 131,058 paying customers and the same number yesterday brought out 123,960, with inclement weather holding down attendance at some parks.

Walker Cooper, left, and brother, Morton

Coopers, Current No. 1 Brother Team In Baseball Against Leading Cards To Another League Flag

By WALTER L. JOHNS
Central Press Canadian Sports Editor

The Cooper brothers, Pitcher Morton Cecil and Catcher William Walker, the current No. 1 brother attraction in the big league, are leading the Cardinals to what may be another pennant.

Big Mortie, who tossed 22 victories for the Cards last season to help his club win the pennant and then the world series, already chalked up nine victories and his brother Walker is contributing some time hitting to push the Cardinals to the top of the National league heap, ahead of their bitter rivals, the Dodgers.

The Coopers are just one of many brother combinations still in the big leagues but a colorful pair because they form the first brother pitcher-catcher battery since Wesley Ferrell and Rick Ferrell did the tossing and receiving for the Boston Red Sox and later the Washington Nats several years ago.

Careers of the Cooper boys have been strikingly similar.

Both were born at Atherton, Mo., Morton in 1914 and Walker in 1915.

Coopers Come Up

Mort broke into baseball with Des Moines of the Western league in 1933. He moved on to Elmira and then was sent to Columbus. His minor league career ended at Houston in 1938 and it was the Cardinals from then on. Cooper enjoyed his best season last year, winning 22 games.

Walker, at first an outfielder with Rogers of the Arkansas State league, toured the country as a minor leaguer. He was with Springfield of the Western association, then Sacramento in the Pacific Coast league, Mobile; Houston, Asheville and finally Columbus.

Other well-known brother combinations now active in the big leagnes are Paul and Lloyd Waner of the Dodgers and Fred (Dixie) Walker of the Dodgers and Harry Walker of the Cardinals.

Deans Ride High

Probably the most famous of all the brother teams in recent years has been the DiMaggios, Joe of the Yanks, Vince of the Pirates and Dominic of the Red Sox. Only Vince is now active since Joe and Dominic are in the service.

The Deans, Dizzy and Daffy, had their day in the sun. Dizzy and Daffy rode the crest of the hero wave when they hurled for the Cardinals a few years back. Jerome (that was Dizzy) undoubtedly was one of the star pitchers of all time even though he didn't stay around the majors as long as some of the greats of the past. Daffy (that was Paul) began this season with the St. Louis Browns after being down in the minors for a couple of seasons.

Wes and Rick Ferrell long ruled the roost as a brother combination. Rick is still active in the majors as catcher for the St. Louis Browns. Wes Ferrell enjoyed his best season with the Indians, winning 20 or more games four years in a row.

Johnny Cooney, veteran Brave star, is still agtive. He is a brother of Jimmy Cooney, infielder with the Boston Americans and other major league teams over 20 years ago.

Other Brother Pairs

Bill Dickey's brother George is a well-known ball player, his last major connection being with the Boston Red Sox. Lee and Gene Handley were another brother pair, Lee playing with the Pirates for several years. Johnny Hopp, Cardinal player, is the brother of Harry Hopp, who pitched in the minor leagues. Elmer Riddle, Cincy Red pitcher, is a brother of John, Birmingham manager.

Sewells Were Three

The Sewell boys, Luther, Joey and Thomas, were among the 'big names' of baseball. Luke, now manager of the Browns, played for many years with Cleveland, Washington, Chicago and Brooklyn. Joe was an infielder with Cleveland for 10 years and later with the Yanks, Tommy was with the Chicago Nationals in 1927.

Emil and Bob Meusel were leading outfielders with the Giants and Yanks, respectively, in the 1920's. Stanley Coveleski and his brothers Frank, John and Harry, were leading players. Stan pitched for Cleveland in 1916-25 and Frank for Philly in the old Union league in 1907. John was a minor league infielder and Harry a pitcher in both the American and National leagues.

Among the other famous brother combinations of baseball were the Gleasons, Harry and Bill; the Tannehills, Jesse and Lee; the O'Neills, Mike and John; the Wiltses, George and Lou; the Delehanty's, Jimmy, Frank and Ed, and the Wrights, George and Frank.

GORE'S LANDING

Alberta Pastor Explains Need Of Bale Gifts

GORE'S LANDING, July 6 — (ENS).—An interesting letter was received from Rev. George Pattison of Fairview, Alberta, to the W.A. members of St. George's-on-the-Hill, thanking them for the bale which was sent to his parish this spring.

Mr. Pattison mentions the meat shortage and fact that the rectory stocked up 100 baby chicks this year and a hive of bees for canning honey. Mrs. Pattison's family are noted pioneers of the north and they canned hundreds of quarts of vegetables and fruit each year. Out of the 175 quarts which the Pattison family canned last year, they only lost one quart of beans.

Mr. Pattison continued: "I am planning a trip to the north of the parish this summer. I will take the car as far as possible (a little over 50 miles) then travel by horses for 20 miles to Clear Prairie. I will take some of your gifts. I know they will be welcome.... Transportation is a real problem in this Diocese. It costs each clergyman over $300 a year to maintain and run his car after it is paid for.... Your "white gifts" meant so much to our Sunday School."

Mr. Pattison enclosed a letter from a 13-year-old girl who had received one of the "white gifts" sent by St. George's. He said this was a sample of many letters he had received. This small girl, Miss Arline Wolfe, Whitelaw, Alta., wanted a pen pal, so the letter is receiving the attention of the Sunday School scholars.

High School Entrance Results For County of Peterborough

The following is a list of the High School entrance candidates who are eligible for High School entrance standing in Peterborough County. Honors are indicated by H following the candidate's name. Stella Wilkinson, Havelock (teacher George E. Jones) stood highest in the county. Pupils who have been released for farm labor have not been listed among successful candidates. They will receive due consideration when the High School Entrance Appeal Board meets in August, provided their employers have submitted farm labor certificates for them. The marks of unsuccessful candidates have been mailed. Those who have failed may appeal for a re-reading of their papers any time before August 23, 1943. Appeals must be sent to R. F. Downey, 298 Boswell Avenue, Peterborough, or to L. W. Copp, Court House, Peterborough, with a fee of $2.00. Candidates who have failed are discouraged from appealing as all papers of those who are reasonably near the passing mark have been re-read. Candidates who have a low total are especially requested from making an appeal.

The following candidates have passed on the teacher's recommendation:

wave of German tanks and infantry to reach the Russian positions found that the heavy barrage designed to hack lanes through the Soviet lines had failed and that the Russian infantry was still there.

The succeeding steps in the assault apparently found the Germans employing the familiar pattern of attack by tank units, followed by infantry with small groups of bombers supporting from the air.

Large German infantry forces rushed into the battle on a narrow sector of the front. Leading the way, front line reports said, were more than 200 German tanks of all sizes and descriptions. Including the heavy Tigers such as the British and Americans have already faced in Tunisia.

Low-flying groups of bombers numbering from 20 to 30 in a flight came ahead of the advancing ground forces.

The battle was joined and immediately developed into one of extreme sharpness and intensity both on land and in the air.

Small Boy Drowned

HAWKESBURY, Ont., July 6 — Lucien Poulin, six-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Ovila Poulin, was drowned here late Monday when he fell into a small creek 500 yards from his home.

The boy had been picking berries on the outskirts of the town with his four-year-old sister and was on his way home when the drowning occurred. Robert Chapman, working nearby, pulled him from the creek but resuscitation attempts were unsuccessful.

Justice Minister

resorted to a seldom-used parliamentary device to prevent introduction of amendments which would open the way for discussion of matters not definitely contained in the resolution.

After opposition group leaders had endorsed the resolution, Mr. King moved that "the question be now put," which, while it permitted each member to make a formal speech on the resolution, prohibited any amendments to it.

When the discussion ended late last evening, the division was on the Prime Minister's motion which carried 115 to 9.

In moving the resolution Mr. St. Laurent said that under present circumstances not only would representation drop in some provinces but Ontario would retain 82 members, 17 more than Quebec, with only 458,000 more population, or about one member for each 27,000 of population.

To make the adjustment now would give Saskatchewan 17 representatives instead of 21 for a population of 595,992, while Ontario with 458,840 more persons than Quebec, would have 17 more members than Quebec's 65, said the Minister.

"That would not be fair nor would it be fair to reduce Manitoba from 17 to 14 with a population of 729,744," he added. It had been argued that many from Manitoba and Saskatchewan had gone into Quebec and Ontario and other provinces to work in war industries.

Demand Like Consideration

Nor would it be fair to leave Quebec with a unit of 51,213 for each of its representatives. If a measure was introduced to relieve the unfairness to Manitoba and Saskatchewan, it would be expected that Quebec would demand the same consideration.

"And who would there be to gainsay them if they said that British fair play meant fair play for all British subjects whatever their race or religion?" Mr. St. Laurent asked.

Mr. Graydon accused Mr. St. Laurent of bringing in "by the back door' propaganda which he believed essential to his argument, and of pre-supposing a division of opinion on issues which did not exist.

Interrupted by Speaker.

He interrupted Mr. St. Laurent on the three occasions when the minister was speaking of language matters and Quebec's contribution to the war effort, and prompted Speaker J. A. Glen to ask the minister to confine himself to the resolution itself.

The House made some progress in the last hour with agriculture items in the war appropriation measure which will be first item of business to-day.

Earlier, the Prime Minister said that he refused to answer further questions by Wilfrid LaCroix (Lib.-Quebec-Montmorency) on the Canadian flag and urged members to remember that great events might take place even "in a few days."

"Is a flag controversy to be added to other factors that make for disunity at a time when unity above all is needed?" asked Mr. King.

He said he believed that before the summer was over the House would see good reason why controversies should not be allowed to arise.

Events the like of which none could contemplate might take place. The members must realize that the condition in the world was more serious than had ever existed before.

On a question of privilege the Prime Minister also said that John Bracken, Progressive Conservative leader, spoke "untrue and offensive words" which could not have been used in the House or any legislature when he said in Toronto last Friday that the war policy of the Dominion Government had been "in too many of its aspects prompted by political cowardice."

"Had Mr. Bracken, as leader of the Progressive Conservative party, been a member of this House of Commons, I should to-day immediately have asked you, Mr. Speaker to see that Mr. Bracken was obliged immediately to withdraw his charge of political cowardice," said Mr. King.

"As Mr. Bracken is not in the House, I suppose I must content myself by saying that a charge of 'political cowardice' comes with ill grace from a leader of a political party who, throughout the whole of a session of parliament, following his appointment as leader of his party, has avoided attempting its leadership on the floor of the House of Commons."

Boat Runs Aground

PICTON, Ont., July 6— (CP) — A Norwegian freighter, carrying a partial load of wheat, Monday ran aground in Lake Ontario at Sandy Bay, near here. The vessel was not damaged and it was understood it would proceed to its destination after being released by a salvage tug.

Wins Quilt

OTTAWA, July 6—(CP). —The R.C.A.F. announced on Friday that Mrs. K. Molt-Wengel of Pointe du Bois, Man., has won the Margaret Bishop "Famous Names" quilt, embroidered with the signatures of many notables. The quilt, which was displayed across Canada, earned more than $12,000 for comforts for men of the R.C.A.F.

GORE'S LANDING

Neighbours Hold Old Time Charivari Party

GORE'S LANDING, July 6 — (ENS) — A charivari was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Pratt on Tuesday evening, when friends and neighbours gathered with the usual fanfare of horns and tincans to welcome the newly married couple to the vicinity.

The evening was spent in playing progressive euchre and the hostess served lunch which included a piece of wedding cake.

Those present included: Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Wallace, Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Buttars, Misses Evelyn Brisbin, Eileen MacIntosh, Gwendolyn Harris, Emily Pratt, Philip Pomeroy, Mr. and Mrs. Melville Harris, Mrs. Meggs, Kenneth Harris, MacLean Herriott, Bob Meggs Mrs. Ball, Mrs. MacIntosh.

On Wednesday evening, a dance was given by Mr. and Mrs. Victor Harris in Burrison's Pavilion, Rice Lake Blvd. A large crowd was present from Oshawa, Port Hope and Harwood as well as local residents.

During the evening an address was read by Mrs. Lyle Wallace and George Lander presented Mr. and Mrs. Harris with a coffee table from the charivari group.

Rugs Are Expensive

OTTAWA, July 6—(CP). —The Government has spent $318,256 on rugs, carpets, linoleum, and other floor coverings since January 1, 1941, it was reported on Friday in a return tabled in the House of Commons.

THE MILDEST CIGARETTE YOU CAN SMOKE

Because they're made from Cooler-Burning Tobaccos

Many smokers confuse taste with strength. Actually the pleasant taste you find in a Buckingham comes from a blend of riper, more mature tobaccos and this satisfying taste can readily be distinguished from strength, as by proven test Buckingham is the mildest cigarette you can smoke.

Also important is the fact that the riper Virginia, Burley and Turkish leaves used in Buckingham are scientifically blended to produce a cooler-burning cigarette — a cigarette that is cooler on the throat.

Smoke a blended Buckingham and enjoy the taste that satisfies, a mildness that is truly Throat Easy.

The Peterborough Examiner

VOL. LXXXVIII, No. 4 — PETERBOROUGH, TUESDAY, JULY 6, 1943

MAIN STREET TOPICS

USING NEW INCINERATOR.

Since fires were lighted ten days ago in the new incinerator, tentatively at first to dry-out the new unit, garbage has been gradually transferred from the old burning plant until approximately half the day's load is now going into the new building, City Engineer Parsons informed the Examiner this morning.

EMERGENCY COUPONS.

Deputy City Clerk Florence Johnston issued ration cards to fifteen American tourists Saturday afternoon, a convenience that was gratefully acknowledged. Five or six others received their coupons this morning at the City Hall, apart from the others who applied at the central office in the Barrie Building.

NEW CONSTABLE STARTS.

Constable Allan Edmison, newest member of the Peterborough police department, began his duties this morning. He was appointed at the last meeting of the Police Commission and is the second of the two extra officers whose appointment was requested by the city council in a resolution sent to the Board of Police Commissioners.

SOLD FIRST DEPTH CHARGE.

The depth charge chart placed in the Bank of Montreal was completely filled today, indicating that $90 worth of stamps had been sold sufficient to purchase a depth charge. This is the first time of the 67 to be sold in the city this month to finally complete all sales of stamps. The chart will now go forward to Ottawa and thence to the Royal Canadian Navy with a depth charge.

BOY ESCAPES UNHURT.

Ronald Healey, 11, of 330 Euclid Avenue, had a narrow escape from serious injury this morning. Healey was carrying a bottle of milk from a truck across Aylmer Street, between Sherbrooke and King Streets, when a car driven south on Aylmer Street by Jack Connolly, home on leave after a year's service with the R.C.A.F. in Alaska, came along. Connolly applied his brakes quickly and almost stopped his car before it reached the boy, but the road had been flushed shortly before and the surface was wet. Young Healey was hit and knocked over but received no injury from the accident.

MANY WINDOWS BROKEN.

Small boys are blamed by the police for the breaking of 26 panes of glass in the basement of the Prince of Wales School over the week-end. This is the third or fourth time windows in this school have been shattered recently. Police think that a pop-gun, shooting small stones, may have been used in this latest bit of wanton damage.

FOOD PLANNING.

The Government is endeavoring to interest women in fruit conservation and in order to assist the women of Peterborough the Red Cross and the W. V. S. organizations are bringing Miss Rogers of the Department of Agriculture in Ottawa to give a demonstration of the fruits and vegetables. This demonstration will be given Friday at 8:15 p.m. in the Y.W.C.A.

A MINOR ACCIDENT.

There was a minor accident early Sunday morning on Highway 7, three miles northwest of the city when an automobile owned by H. J. Buchanan and allegedly driven by a girl driver, and a car driven by Milton Dunlop, R. R. 2, Omemee sideswiped each other. No one was hurt in the accident and the damage done was not extensive.

HEAVY TRAFFIC.

The week-end traffic on the highways of this district was heavy, Provincial Traffic Officer L. A. McClure reported this morning but in spite of the unusually large number of cars on the road there were only a couple of minor accidents. The heavy traffic is accounted for partly by the fact that Peterborough celebrated Monday as a holiday and partly to the number of Fourth of July visitors from across the line.

FIRE REPORT.

Except for two minor alarms on Saturday, the Fire Department also had a holiday. Saturday morning at 11:20 a chimney fire occurred at 42 Lansdowne Street, home of Mrs. J. Radey, and in the evening at 9:20 an alarm was turned in from 536 Patterson Street, residence of Geo. Cannon, where rubbish was burning in the yard. In neither case was any damage incurred.

AT CHEMONG PARK.

On a charge laid by Constable English, of Chemong Park, J. E. Johnston pleaded guilty in police court this morning to a charge having been drunk at the Park and was fined $10 and costs by Justices of the Peace E. B. Fowler and Vincent Eastwood.

SECOND OFFENDERSH.

Arrested on Saturday, Archie Barbeau, Roy Wright and Carl Venn appeared before Justice of the Peace Sergt. Gordon T. Puffer in police court, Monday morning, charged as second offenders with having been drunk. All three were remanded until Wednesday.

LEGION HALL ROBBED.

Around $50 was the loot garnered by a burglar who broke into the Canadian Legion Hall, some time during last night. Entrance was obtained by forcing a window on the west side of the building. Then the invader entered the Legion beverage room and broke into the drawer of the cash register, taking approximately $50 in bills and silver.

2 Conventions Set This Week

Two political meetings in this midsummer week should give definite and perhaps ultimate form to the present campaign in Peterborough county.

C.C.F. will name a candidate Friday evening in Paragon Hall. This is a convention meeting at which the president, W. S. Johnson, will preside.

Co-Operative Commonwealth Federation are not inviting an outside speaker for this business of selecting a candidate, and although it is a public meeting the voting is restricted to members in good standing.

A member of the C.C.F. executive told the Examiner today that there was no doubt about contesting this election, but he declined to suggest possible choices of the party for the convention ballot.

"We are not having an outside speaker," he said; "we are just going to settle the business of a candidate ourselves, and then get into action."

The public has been rather expecting W. C. Grant, lawyer and secretary of the C.C.F., to get the assignment of standard bearer, but that idea springs only from main street, however correct it may eventually turn out.

Gossip, too, is mentioning J. K. Hughes and Alderman Adam Sands as Progressive Conservative posibilities to pick up the trail of Captain A. L. Elliott, the present representative of the riding, who is absent overseas.

Greek Relief Fund

Three contributions to the Greek War Relief Fund have been received by the Examiner.

Willing Workers, Junior Fund Norwood	$8.00
Mrs. P. Minogue	1.00
P. W. J.	2.00

Contributions are being received by the Examiner and the Royal Bank.

The people of Greece have been defenders of democracy from immorial time. It is probably true that the ancients of Hellas begot the democratic idea, fashioned and developed it, put it into practice, and left it as a bequest to universal postrity. They were far in advance of the political thought of their time, a shining civilization in the narrowly confined world of the centuries before Christ. And having conceived this political ideal, the Greeks also defended it from the clouds of enemies in Asia Minor even as they have only yesterday defended it against the barbarians from western Europe.

Rainfall Helps Peas

COBOURG, July 6—(ENS) — Heavy rain during the week-end proved a boon to farmers, particularly those who were growing peas. Hot weather had dried the stocks of peas in many fields, although the pods still remained green. Rainfall was required to round out the crop and a plentiful supply on Sunday met the situation. Other crops benefitted from the rainfall.

Women Being Used As Enumerators

"The bulk of the enumerators are women. We couldn't get men, and any way the women will make a good job of it," said A. J. McClellan, returning officer for the provincial electoral riding of Peterborough, this morning.

Listing of voters in the city begins Wednesday (tomorrow) morning and will be completed by Saturday night, Mr. McClellan said.

"We are including in the city enumeration the Wartime Housing communities at Burnham's Point and Jackson Park. The other areas, at the Hatton property and on High Street (the race track group of houses), are part of North Monaghan, and there is no enumeration outside the city, comprising the townships and villages."

For the convenience of the Wartime Housing tenants it is likely that a new poll will be opened election day at Burnham's Point and two in the Jackson Park-Park Hill Road section, with two in North Monaghan, one at the Hatton community and the other for the High Street district.

30 Years' War

LONDON, July 6 — (CP).—The Rome radio, in a broadcast recorded by the Associated Press, declared to-day "We are preparing for a 30 years war."

The statement came at the end of a broadcast which said Germany was preparing an autonomous bomber fleet which would be employed against Britain.

ABRAHAM'S CITY

The city of Ur, in Iraq is the most ancient city in the world yet discovered.

Pte. J. Mannell Dies In Prison Camp

Pte. John Wesley Mannell, whose wife lives at 564 Chahmberlain St., has died of illness while a prisoner of war in Japanese hands, it was reported Monday in the latest casualty list of the Canadian (Active) Army.

Pte. Mannell was one among 39 men whose names are contained in the list, and all are said by Defense Department officials to have been soldiers captured by the Japanese, after the fall of Hong Kong.

Pte. Mannell, who was born and lived most of his life in Toronto, enlisted in the Winnipeg Grenadiers at the commencement of hostilities and was sent to Jamaica in 1940, where he stayed a year and a half. Returning to Canada, he spent a few weeks furlough in Peterborough before going overseas to the Orient. He was 29 years old.

He is survived by his wife, Katherine Mannell and a four year old son.

Bus Overturns Near Haultain

James Reid, Lakefield, driver for the Ferguson Bus Line escaped with bruises when his passenger car over-turned on Highway 28, near Haultain late Saturday night, as Reid was endeavoring to dodge two wandering horses on the highway.

Reid was driving south and as his car came over the brow of a hill, the driver was confronted with the two horses. When he slammed on his brakes and tried to turn the automobile did a complete roll on the road and same to rest on its wheels. One of the horses was hit but not badly hurt.

The driver got off luckily with shock and bruises and the damage to the car was not as heavy as might have been expected.

Schools Hold Joint Picnic

The annual picnic of Lily Lake School took place recently and due to the difficulty of transportation Brailey's school joined them in an enjoyable affair. The mothers of the pupils were greatly instrumental in helping the success of the picnic by contributing a good lunch.

A ball game was first on the program. The Smash Hitters defeated the Knock Outs by a score of 21 to 7.

A big surprise followed for Mrs. Lawrence, teacher of Lily Lake School. The pupils presented her with an eleven piece Pyrex Gift Set and a fancy cake plate. Miss Joyce Nicholls read an appropriate address to which Mrs. Lawrence replied thanking the pupils sincerely for their lovely gifts.

Wants Nurseries

OTTAWA, July 3 (CP). — Mrs. Dorise Nielsen (Unity North Battleford) in the House of Commons yesterday urged the extension of the day nursery plan, now operating in Ontario and Quebec, and recommended that the plan be regarded as a permanent institution.

45 Fined

OTTAWA, July 3 — (CP). — The Prices Board's enforcement administration announced last night 45 persons have been convicted during the past week of offences against Board regulations, the most frequent offence that of overcharging in retail and whole sale potato sales.

Obituaries

JOHN RONALD McPHATE.

The funeral of John Ronald McPhate, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas McPhate, 551 Douglas Avenue, took place this morning from the residence of the parents. The service was conducted by Rev. Dr. F. Grant of the Sacred Heart Church, and interment was held at St. Peter's Cemetery.

John Ronald was 20 months old and an only child.

HERBERT PHILIP PANTER.

Herbert Philip Panter of 81 Monaghan Road died Monday at Nicholls Hospital after a short illness. He was 78 years old.

A resident of Peterborough for 55 years, Mr. Panter was born in England, the son of the late Joseph and Sarah Panter, and came to Peterborough upon his arrival in Canada.

For 40 years he was employed at the Canadian General Electric Co., and worked also for a time with the Colonial Weaving Co. He was a member of All Saints' Anglican Church, of L.O.L.; Otonabee Lodge I.O.O.F., and a veteran of the last war.

He leaves to mourn his loss his wife, the former Rose Bond; four daughters: Mrs. H. Metcalf of Hamilton, Mrs. R. Millard of Dundas, Mrs. J. Stoddard of Peterborough, and Helena at home; and four sons: Tom, William and George of Peterborough, and Edward, overseas. There are also two brothers, Fred and George, and one sister, Mrs. Bennywith, all of Peterborough.

The funeral will be held on Wednesday at 2 p.m. from the Comstock Funeral Home, 305 Water Street, with Rev. Wm. A. Filer conducting the services. Interment will be at Little Lake Cemetery.

Public Schools Give Aid To War Victims

Summer holidays for boys and girls of school age are now in full swing, a period to which they have looked forward for some time, for it marks another step on the upward grade if they have been attentive enough to their work so as to merit promotion, and it also brings that relaxation and play which only they themselves can appreciate to the full.

In reviewing the books of the Peterborough and District British War Victims' Fund, the accounts reveal that no less than twenty-three different groups in the city and district public schools have given help to the victims of air raid attacks over Britain through the fund, since June 24, and collectively, they have rolled up the fine total of $205.69 between them in that time, which for them should make the holiday season a bright one, for it has been all the more earned on that account.

Six Items

Today's report for the fund includes no less than six different items from public school children, among which the pupils at King George School, with F. E. Kerr as principal, takes the leading place. There are two donations listed to their credit, and it should also be stated that two other items appeared only a few days ago.

One of those listed today in an amount of $17.23, comes to the fund as a result of a paper collection, and the other for fifty cents comes from Grades 5 and 6.

Then the Home Economics class at Central School made a contribution of $8.55, and Prince of Wales School is represented through the youngest of its attendants in Grade 1, Room 12 who added another $1 to the day's receipts.

From the district surrounding the city come two nice contributions from school children, both of them from the township of Otonabee, and both of whom have appeared in this column for the fund on previous occasions.

In this, the pupils of S.S. No. 5, Otonabee, taught by Mrs. A. E. Young, take the lead with a donation of $8.55, and the Lang School, which is No. 2 in the Otonabee School area presided over by Miss Lillian Bowie as teacher added another $3.55 to supplement their previous good work for the fund.

Personal contributions always speak of a personal interest, and in a large way general experience has shown that these continue to come from those who have given in the same manner on previous occasions, two of which are listed today, with $10 being received from Mrs. A. J. Hall of 457 Mark street, and the other for $3 being given under the initials "M.A.H."

Pigeon Race Leaves City

Pigeon racing is still a popular sport and clubs have been formed across the country which make a regular practice of shipping their birds miles away and letting them fly home. Twenty birds belonging to the Association Colombophile "Le Nord" in Montreal were released at the C. P. R. station Sunday morning at 6 o'clock.

The pigeons were shipped up in two baskets and explicit instructions were given for their release. Half an hour before they were turned loose, the birds were given water, and then just before they were let out, the strings on the big doors of their baskets were cut and the wooden pins loosened. Exactly at 6 o'clock the wooden pins were pulled releasing the 20 birds at one time and after circling in the air three times, the pigeons unerringly shot off to the North East.

At the bigger racing clubs the birds are modernized to the last degree and when they fly in at their home station they are clocked in in somewhat the same manner as the workers at any industrial plant. As they fly through the doors of their little houses the time is marked on the card, and these are collected by the secretary of the racing club and locked up until they have all been collected.

People are constantly amazed at the instinct which can make these racing birds find their way home in such a straight line. It is a common practice in their training to ship the birds 20 miles away on their first trip and have them fly back. They are then given a week's rest and perhaps the next time shipped by train to a point about 50 miles away, then 150 miles, and after a two-weeks rest they will be sent out for their big cross country jaunt.

Pigeons are always shipped to a point west of their home club and fly east, because the prevailing winds are generally from the west. When they are released for their flight back, the Club is immediately notified by wire about the time they werre set loose and the prevailing weather conditions. This is one of a number of racing clubs which have shipped their birds to Peterborough so far this year.

Miss Canada Girls Man Old Fire Truck

The old fire truck which is kept at the Hall, and which has not seen service for a number of years, is coming out of its honorable retirement to do its bit for the war effort, in playing a part in the selling war saving stamps for the depth charge campaign.

Saturday morning, the old truck appeared on Georeg Street after it had been decorated in red, white and blue, by Roy A. Wilson of the Canadian Departmental Stores, carrying six of the Miss Canada girls supplied by the W. V. S., and driven by one of the firemen. It stopped first at the corner of George and Charlotte streets and then at Hunter and George and by noon the six girls had sold $70 worth of stamps that will go to the Navy in the form of depth bombs.

It is planned to have the truck make the rounds with the Miss Canada girls every Saturday morning in July and perhaps in the afternoons, manned by Sea Cadets, Girl Guides and Boy Scouts.

Car Rolls Off Dock

BELLEVILLE, July 6 —(CP) — Police said yesterday they had arrested Pte. Jack Thompson of Kingston, Ont., on a charge of dangerous driving after he had allowed an automobile to roll back off the Deseronto ferry dock east of here. Thompson was in the car at the time with three friends, Pte. M. Dick of Kingston and Fred Babcock and H. Brant of Deseronto. All four escaped after the car disappeared in nine feet of water.

Men From City Needed To Aid Farmers

Farm "commando" labor is only a nominal resource of help this season, G. A. Gillespie remarked to the Examiner this morning and he worried about the appeals for strong-armed aid in the emergency that is now approaching the first peak of harvest time.

As local director of efforts to obtain temporary help for farmers of the county and district, in co-operation with F. C. Paterson, agricultural representative, Mr. Gillespie said: "We have nothing like the help that was available for this work last year. So far we have received from the Canadian General Electric Company the names of fifteen men who are willing to go out and pitch hay in the evenings, and that is about the extent of our list.

"Last season we had a group of men from the Utilities Commission who did a fine job, but the Commission is not carrying on as much work as they were a year ago, and they simply haven't the men to draw from."

Mr. Gillespie called at the Peterborough Training Centre this morning to suggest to some of the men in uniform that they spend their week-end leaves at farm work. Some help may be enlisted from that quarter, but it is still uncertain.

Farmers have a big hay crop to pack into their barns, and this job is an immediate problem.

"The week-end rain, followed by the showers Monday, have given us a day's grace," Mr. Gillespie said. "With the sunshine today the hay will be dry again and ready for moving. That means a pressing need of help for Wednesday. It will continue all this week and probably through next week. There is a heavy crop, and if the city people can do anything their assistance is most needed right now."

Mr. Gillespie's telephone number is 8620.

That number represents a challenge to urban Peterborough. It is a local abnormal condition on the farm front; here at our own doors, not in western Canada or in some other far-off place.

"Possibly we can get some of our Silverwood's men to use part of their spare time helping a few farmers, but that is only a drop in the bucket."

Sunday's Rain Of Great Help

The weather man did a perfect job of that Sunday rain, and with that to his credit he might have omitted the heavy splash of late Monday afternoon that was so much excess moisture in the agricultural reckoning and otherwise spoiled the fun of a lot of young folks at the C.G.E. picnic. Several thousand of them were drenched in a few minutes, and their elders came through with just a thorough a soaking.

But, getting back to the so-called "million dollar rain," its timing was incalculably helpful to the advancing crops, spring grains, fall wheat, potatoes and other roots, and likewise the raspberries.

Farmers now need a week or more of sunny days to cut and rake the hay. Many fields are already cleared, especially by those farmers who had the help and who also follow the newer order of cutting the grasses greener than their fathers did.

So heavy has been this yield that haycocks seem almost within jumping distance of each other. The labor problem has been aggravated by the rank growth with a lack of strong fibre to stand up to the mowers. On some farms the hay stalks have become weary and leaned over on the other fellow, displaying a general lassitude resulting in a falling of the crop that demands too much scything, and that much more manual work. Some farmers say the mowers simply passed over it without getting a chance to bite into their job. Finally they had to go at the grass with scythes, just as if they didn't have enough to do around the place without that extra complication.

Crary-Young Vows Taken In Lovely Ceremony

St. John's Church, Peterborough, was beautifully decorated with summer flowers on Monday for the wedding of Isabel May, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Young, to LAC Ray (Dids) Crary, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. Crary. Rev. E. Rigby officiated. Mr. F. G. Mann, L. Mus., organist, played the wedding music and during the signing of the register Mrs. J. Morley sang "O Perfect Love."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride looked lovely in a gown of stiffened white marquisette over taffeta, fashioned with high neckline, fitted embroidered waistline, and a long full skirt. The back was fastened with tiny covered buttons and the sleeves were long and full. Her fingertip veil fell from a heart-shaped halo of white ruching. She wore white satin and silver slippers and carried a shower bouquet of red roses. Her only ornament as a R.C.A.F. emblem gold pendant, the gift of the groom.

She was attended by her sister, Mrs. J. Morley, as matron of honor, Miss Audrey Crary, sister of the groom, and Mrs. George Long as bridesmaids dressed in street-length dresses of point d'esprite with lace insets, the matron of honor in aqua and the bridesmaids in pink. Their tiny hats were of matching shades of flowers and ribbon and they carried ring bouquets of snapdragons and cornflowers.

Little Miss Dale Nicholls made a charming flower-girl in a blue silk dress, smocked in pink, wearing a posy of flowers in her hair and carrying a nosegay of summer flowers.

The groom was attended by his brother, Bandsman Del Crary, and the ushers were Mr. Gordon Young, brother of the bride, and Mr. Walter Crary, brother of the groom.

The reception was held at Hooper's Palm Room, where the bride's mother received in a dress of navy triple sheer, navy hat and white accessories, and wore a corsage of white carnations. The groom's mother, who assisted her, wore blue sheer crepe with white accessories and a pink corsage.

Later the happy couple left on a wedding trip for Toronto and Hamilton, the bride wearing a dusty rose two-piece dress, with matching hat and white accessories, and carried a delft blue coat with honey beige fur collar.

Wilson-Kerr Bridal Vows Pledged In Hastings

HASTINGS, July 6—(ENS)—A charming wedding was solemnized in St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, Hastings, on Saturday, when Dorothy Evelyn Kerr, elder daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Grover Kerr of Hastings, was united in marriage with David Alexander Wilson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Allan Wilson of Peterborough. The Rev. Campbell of Keene officiating.

The church was decorated with ferns, orange blossoms, moss roses and peonies.

The bride entered the church on the arm of her father to the wedding music played by Mrs. Harold Wilson.

The winsome bride was charmingly attired in a floor length gown of white sheer, with a long full skirt falling from a fitted bodice with sweetheart neckline. She wore a shoulder length veil of English net in Marie Antionette style and carried an arm bouquet of sweet heart roses.

The bride's attendant was her sister, Miss Vivian Kerr of New York City, who wore a floor length blue sheer bodice shirred in basque effect with swet heart neckline and a full gathered skirt. She wore halo of Butterfly roses and carried a colonial bouquet. The groom was attended by his brother Harold Wilson.

The ushers were Mr. D. Clapper and Mr. Douglas Mortimer.

During the signing of the register a solo was rendered by Miss D. Gallery of Kingston.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the bride's home on Front St. Hastings.

Mrs. Kerr, the bride's mother received in a gown of Beige Jersey, white hat, and accessories and a corsage of pink rose. Mrs. Wilson, the groom's mother received in a gown of printed blue crepe with accessories to match, her corsage was red roses.

Buffet lunch was served by Miss Mary Kerr, Trenton; Miss Gallery, Kingston; Miss Mary Sprott, Watertown; Mrs. D. Clapper and Mrs. Joe Jones Hastings. Tea was poured by Mrs. Gallery of Kingston.

Rev. Campbell, proposed the toast to the bride, which was responded to by the groom; Miss Gallery proposed the toast to the bride's mother, Miss Mary Kerr proposed the toast to the groom's mother, each replying in turn.

Later Mr. and Mrs. Wilson left for a motor trip to Montreal and Ottawa. On their return they will reside in Peterborough. For travelling the bride chose polka dot suit, blue hat, beige bag with white accessories and corsage of pink roses.

Guests were present from Kingston, Stratford, Trenton, Peterborough, Ottawa and New York.

Trent River Man Wed In Toronto

TRENT RIVER, July 6—(ENS).—A very pretty wedding of much local interest was solemnized at St. John's Church, Norway, on Saturday evening, June 26th, when Miss Thelma Bell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. Bell of Toronto, became the bride of Douglas Carnrite, son of Mrs. Robert Carnrite of Toronto, formerly of Trent River. The bride was given in marriage by her father, and wore a dress of white sheer and lace with white accessories, and carried a bouquet of red roses. The matron of honor, Miss Marjorie Smith, wore a dress of pink sheer with blue accessories and carried a bouquet of pink and white carnations. The groomsman was Mr. Jack Pearson. Rev. Briarley Brown performed the ceremony.

Following the wedding a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, where Mrs. Bell received in a dress of orchid with white accessories and a corsage or red roses. She was assisted by Mrs. R. Carnrite in a powdered blue sheer dress with white accessories and a corsage of red roses. Miss Alice Bell in a dress of blue lace and Mrs. I. Booth in beige lace poured tea.

The groom's gift to the bride was a gold locket, to the matron of honor a purse and to the best man a wallet.

Following the reception the happy couple left for a short honeymoon at Trent River. On their return they will reside in Toronto.

Craik-Quigley Nuptials In Montreal

Standards and baskets of pink and white peonies, delphinium and syringa decorated Calvary United Church, Montreal, for the marriage of Gwyneth Joyce, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard J. Quigley, of Halifax, N. S., to Lieut. James Norman Craik, R. C. N. R. V., son of Rev. Frederick W. Craik and Mrs. Craik of Peterborough, Ont. The ceremony was peformed by the father of the bridegroom, assisted by Capt. the Rev. T. W. Jones, uncle of the bride. Miss Vera Jamieson was at the organ and Mrs. T. W. Jones, aunt of the bride sang.

Given in marriage by her father the bride attended by her cousin, Mrs. Guy Eon, while Sub-Lieut. Ronald Perowne, R. C. N. V. R., was best man. The ushers were Surgeon Lieut. C C. MacDonald, and Pay Lieut. J. M. Belanger, both of the R.C.N.V.R.

The bride wore a gown of blush satin, trimmed with Chantilly lace and made with sweetheart neckline, long pointed sleeves, and very full skirt. Her finger tip veil of tulle illusion fell from a Mary Stuart headdress and she carried a colonial bouquet of white carnations and baby's breath.

The matron of honor was in a floor length frock of mist grey crepe, with harmonizing hat of tulle, having a shoulder length veil and she carried a colonial bouquet of Talisman roses.

Mrs. Quigley, mother of the bride, was in a street length dress of aqua crepe with dark brown hat and accessories, her corsage bouquet of Talisman roses. Mrs Craik, mother of the bridegroom, wore rose beige chiffon with beige accessories and a corsage spray of Joanna Hill roses.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the Blue Room of the Ritz-Carlton, where pink and white flowers formed the decorations. Lieutenant and Mrs. Craik left later for Ste. Marguerite on their honeymoon, the bride wearing for travelling a suit of pale blue Munro tweed with brown and white accessories.

Among the out-of-town guests at the wedding were Major and Mrs. R. E. Burton and Mr. Russell Burton, of Lennoxville, Que., and Mrs. Walter Mitchell, aunt of the bride, and Miss Eunice Mitchell, of Derby, Vt.

The wedding took place in the vestry of Mark Street United Church on Saturday of Mildred Ruth Hanwell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Hanwell, to Pte. Dennis Earl (Bud) Miller, son of Mr. W. Miller. Rev. E. W. Rowland officiated.

The bride was charming in a street-length frock of white lace, fashioned with a torso length bodice, the back fastened from the sweetheart neckline to the waist with matching buttons. She wore a shoulder length veil and corsage of red roses. Miss Olave Hanwell attended her sister, wearing a frock of blue silk jersey with matching hat and a corsage of pink roses. Mr. Bob Miller was his brother's best man.

After the reception held at the home of the bride's parents, the couple left on a trip to Toronto, the bride wearing a blue two-piece dress with blue and white accessories. On their return they will live at 292 Brock Street.

Edna M. Godfrey Is Wed To Harry Pinn

The marriage was solemnized by Rev. Rigby in St. John's Anglican Church on Saturday of Edna May Godfrey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Godfrey of Keene to Harry Pinn RCAF, son of Mrs. George Pinn of Peterborough. Mr. Frederick G. Mann L. Mus. presided at the organ.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride looked charming in a two-piece frock of white crepe with lace trimming on peplum and lapels, and a cape-length tulle veil which hung from a tiny white hat. She wore a corsage of red roses and myosotis. Miss Audrey Oliver was bridesmaid in a similar two-piece frock of gaiety blue crepe with white trim, and a cap of white velvet flowers. She wore a corsage of pink roses and myosotis. Mr. Albert Pinn, brother of the groom, was the best man.

A reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, where her mother received in a dress of powder blue lacey crepe with a white straw hat and a corsage of yellow roses. The groom's mother, who also received, wore a dress of black and white sheer with a black straw hat and a corsage of yellow and white roses.

When the newlyweds left for a wedding trip to the Highlands of Haliburton the bride wore a two-piece navy dress with white accessories.

The groom's gift to his bride was a set of travelling bags, to the bridesmaid a gold compact and to the best man a billfold.

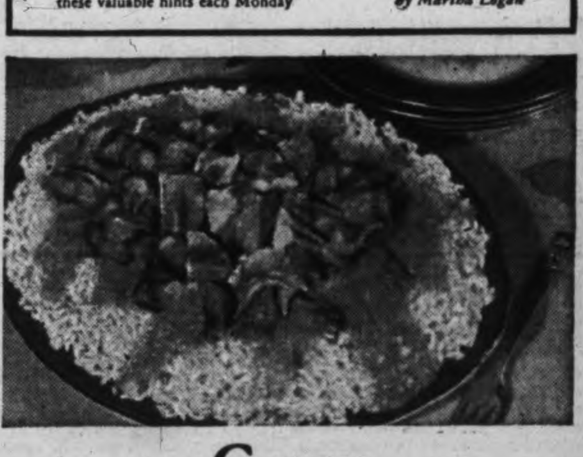
WEEKLY WARTIME NUTRITION HINTS

Martha Logan, Swift's famed home economist, whose weekly, wartime cooking column is a regular feature of this page. Look for these valuable hints each Monday

by Martha Logan



Curry

Here is another dish that helps s-t-r-e-t-c-h meat as well as use leftovers

Here in Canada we have in the past regarded curry as rather an exotic dish—reminiscent of Anglo-Indian Colonels and dark-skinned native cooks. But in a time like this, curry comes into its own. In the first place, lima beans, peas, and other meat alternates—not to mention sea food and eggs—all take very kindly to the curry treatment. Then the most assorted and miscellaneous collection of meat leftovers can assume new glamour in a curry. Finally, curry offers the perfect treatment for the less tender and tasty cuts of meat.

1 pound lean meat, diced
4 to 6 good-sized onions
2½ cups stock or water
1 cup diced tart apple, or sliced carrot with juice of ½ lemon
2 tablespoons curry powder
Salt and pepper

Cook the onions, sprinkled with half the curry powder, in a little hot dripping or other cooking fat, until tender and delicately browned. Add the stock and apple or carrot, bring to boil, reduce heat, and simmer, covered, for two hours or until meat is tender. Add salt and pepper to taste. Pour off and measure liquid, and thicken smoothly with flour blended smoothly with cold liquid—allowing 1½ tablespoons flour for each cup of gravy. At the same time, add remaining curry (more or less, to taste). Connoisseurs consider curry best if cooled overnight and reheated . . . the "hot" flavour becomes mellow. Serve with fluffy hot rice, and chutney.

The basic recipe we give here can be varied to suit your family's taste. If they like "hot" foods you can double or treble the quantity of curry powder. The important thing is to allow yourself plenty of time and plenty of onions. Any vegetable leftovers can be added with benefit, both to the dish and your diet.

QUICK RICE

Into a big saucepan of rapidly boiling, salted water, filter the dry rice so that the water never ceases to boil. When soft (20 minutes), strain in collander. Pour another kettle of boiling water through the rice. Drain thoroughly and serve in a pre-heated dish.

NORWOOD

Christ Church Observes 90th Birthday

NORWOOD, July 6 — (ENS).— The Ninetieth Anniversary of Christ Church (Anglican), Norwood, was observed on Sunday morning. Owing to the war, the celebration was limited to the Service of Holy Communion at 11 a.m., the celebrant being the rector, Rev. R. E. Lemon, assisted by Rev. Ramsay Armitage, M.A., D. D., M.C., principal of Wycliffe College, Toronto. Members of the Church were present from Havelock, Hastings and Westwood.

The Chancel of the Church was decorated with a profusion of flowers. The altar was adorned with pink and blue Canterbury Bells, Delphinium and ferns. A quarette consisting of Mrs. G. H. Wright, Mrs. H. G. Carleton, David Lemon and Kenneth Wright sang "Within Thy Gates" by Herman von Berge. Hymns sang during the service included "Faith of Our Fathers," "Let Saints on Earth in Concert Sing" and "Behold Us with Thy Favor." The organist was Mrs. G. H. Wright.

The sermon was delivered by the Rev. Ramsay Armitage who spoke of the great importance of observing anniversaries, also on the striking names which this church bore, "Christ Church," pointed out that a congregation could not have named their church after a higher person. Mr. Armitage also mentioned the fact that Dominion Day had just passed and described vividly the way in which this country got her name from the Bible. He said that this Dominion is Canadians high destiny and reminded the congregation of their loyalty to the Dominion and the Church.

"We must carry on and in this way furnish a true remembrance to those pioneers who built this Church 90 years ago," the speaker asserted.

Early History

The first services were held sometime in the early thirties but the exact date is not ascertainable as no records were kept at that time. Mr. Harper's house and afterwards the Orange Hall were used as meeting places for members of the Church. The Venerable Archdeacon Wilson of Grafton, the Rev. Rural Dean Beck, afterwards Rector of Peterborough and Rev. Mark Burnham were among the first clergymen to hold services during the early settlement of this district.

The first resident clergyman was the Rev. John Hilton. It was during his encumbrency that the Church was built. This was 1853. The style of the church building was plain but the interior was attractive and ecclesiastical in its appointments. The Rectory was built in 1884 and the Chancel was built in 1891. In it there is a memorial window to the memory of the late P. M. Grover, Esq. This window was made by Lyon of Toronto. New windows of Cathedral glass variegated tints have been erected.

Early Clergy

The following is a list of the early clergy of Christ Church: Rev. John Hilton, Rev. Sowart, Rev. M. A. Farrar, Rev. John Gibson, Rev. J. McKee-McClennen, Rev. F. E. Pickford, Rev. John Bushel, Rev. N. H. Noble, Rev. T. J. O'Connor-Fenton, Rev. E. Worrall and the present Rector Rev. R. E. Lemon.

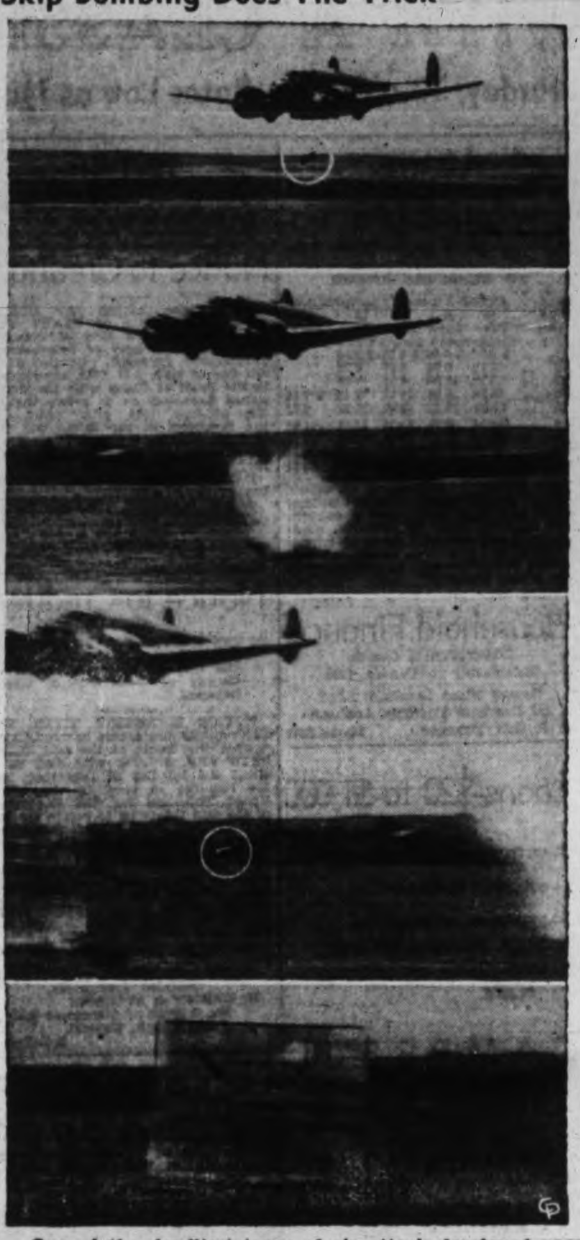
Skip Bombing Does The Trick



One of the deadliest types of air attack developed recently by Allied army fliers is skip-bombing. These photos, taken at Lake Childress, Tex., during a demonstration, show its effectiveness. The bomb is dropped from the plane, TOP, low over the water. In the second photo it hits the water with a splash. Continuing on its way, it skips into the air like a flat stone hurled across a pond. The bomb tears right through the target screen, BOTTOM. In real battle it would explode against the target. The method can be used on land, also.

Giants Easy Win Over Falcons

In a hard-fought game at the Memorial Park Friday night the Immaculate Conception Giants trimmed the St. Peter's Falcons by a score of 17-5 in a junior tilt.

Bud Guerin for the winners pitched good ball all the way, striking out eight. Sullivan, for the losers, struck out eight but also issued nine walks.

R. Fitzgerald was the big gun of the Giants, hitting two homers and a single. F. Sheehy led the losers with three hits.

force him to let go and the big fellow started to back away Felice suddenly charged him, caught him off balance, toppled him over and took the fall before the mountain of flesh could roll over.

A Popular Win

Toar Morgan, the battling Marine, who only recently got back from the fight at Guadalcanal, won a popular victory in the opening bout when he defeated big Jerry Monohan, after sixteen minutes of hectic tussling. Monohan, much the heavier, was the bad man in this bout and he cut loose with a lot of rough stuff that had the crowd yelling for his scalp. There was joy amoong the fans, finally, when the Marine opened out on the Buffalo grappler with some of his own medicine and took all the gimp out of him with series of elbow punches and body slams and then flopped on him for the winning fall. The loudest cheer of the present cycle of wrestling greeted the win.

Phil Lawson was referee and Fred C. Scates was the announcer and timer.

LAWN BOWLING

Notwithstanding heavy showers that came between the hours of five and six o'clock on Monday afternoon the Peterborough Lawn Bowling Club successfully staged the annual Dominion Day tournaments. True, it may not have been a record entry, but it was a dandy response by bowlers, ladies and gentlemen. Both tournaments got under way about 1:45 p.m. and two games were played before the supper hour. They were played on the high vs. high system with no limit on the score. They were wide open in every respect.

It was a perfect day for bowling and we believe that all enjoyed the day's play and the best part of the whole program was that it was all over by ten o'clock.

The men's and ladies' schedule continues this evening.

Men's Winners.

Warm Tribute Is Paid To Dr. Manion

OTTAWA, July 6—(CP)—Warm tributes from leaders of the House of Commons followed solemn ceremonies of the Roman Catholic Church Monday as funeral services were held for Hon. R. J. Manion, former leader of the National Conservative party, who died here Friday night.

At Dr. Manion's funeral from St. Joseph's Church in the morning, Cabinet Ministers, party leaders and members of Parliament mingled with hundreds of civil servants and veterans of the first Great War.

When the House met in the afternoon, Prime Minister Mackenzie King, one of the pallbearers at the funeral, spoke of Dr. Manion's qualities as an administrator and a leader, and if the warm personal friendship which existed between them despite their political differences.

Mr. King's tribute was warmly endorsed by Gordon Graydon, Progressive Conservative House Leader; M. J. Coldwell, C. C. F. Leader; John Blackmore, New Democracy Leader, and Hon. P. J. A. Cardin, dean of the House.

Buried At Eastview

Dr. Manion, born at Pembroke, Ont. reared at Fort William under pioneer conditions, and widely travelled as student, soldier, statesman, was buried in Notre Dame Cemetery at near-by Eastview, the burial place of Sir Wilfred Laurier, the former Prime Minister who became one of his friends and sponsors when he first came to Ottawa as a hospital intene.

Rev. Joseph Birch said in the funeral oration that Dr. Manion "brought to bear on the task allotted to him all the strength and gifts of mind with which God had endowed him because he saw in such wholehearted accomplishment the line of Christian duty."

Father Birch chanted the Solemn High Mass of Requiem and Bishop R. Brodeur of Alexandria said the prayers at the close of the Mass. Mgr. J. A. Myrand met the body when it entered the Church and Rev. E. W. Connolly read the prayers at the graveside.

More than 1,000 A. R. P. wardens wearing arm-bands and helmets formed a guard of honor lining the short route of the funeral procession from the Manion home to the parish church. Many were veterans of the last war or civil servants who worked under Dr. Manion as a Minister.

Prominent Pall-bearers

Now they were paying a last tribute to him as a national director of A. R. P. for Canada, the post to which the Government assigned him when he offered his services for the duration of the war after retiring from politics.

Pall-bearers with Mr. King were Pensions Minister Mackenzie, Col. Harold Daly, G. C. Cowan and Dr. J. R. O'Brien o Ottawa and Angus Robertson of Montreal.

Those attending the funeral included John Bracken, Progressive Conservative Leader; Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen, former leader; Mr. Graydon, the House Leader; Lt.-Col. George Drew, Ontario Conservative leader; Defense Minister Ralston, Navy Minister MacDonald, Resources Minister Crerar, State Secretary McLarty, Labor Minister Mitchell and Fisheries Minister Bertrand.

Hon. Robert Laurier, Ontario Minister of Mines, represented the Ontario Government.

Welland Wins 5-0

WELLAND—(CP)—Eddie Runge, manager and firstbaseman of the Welland nine in the Niagara Senior Circuit, led the attack against Hamilton seniors with a home run and two singles to enable the locals to register a 5-0 whitewash in an exhibition affair. Bill Buntrock and Sal Maglie held the visitors to four hits.

pion of the American turf, made his last track appearance during yesterday's Arlington card at Chicago when he was paraded before the 35,000 fans by his exercise boy, Pinky Brown. Because of a leg injury, Whirly is now to be taken to a stud farm to live in retirement.

The two leaders among the six Canadian pitchers in the All-American Girls Softball League around Chicago are Doris Barr of Winnipeg, with seven victories in 10 games for South Bend, and Helen Nicol of Calgary who has pitched nine wins in 13 starts with Kenosha. Gladys Davis, formerly Toronto, is the leading slugger with an average of .363. Shortstop Davis smashes 'em for Rockford, Ill.

Tommy White, former pro twirler with London Army in the Inter-County Baseball Association, held the Terriers to three hits in the curtain-raiser of a doubleheader at Galt to win the tilt 4-1 but was charged with the loss of the second encounter when he went in as relief pitcher in the eighth innings with the score tied. The Terriers emerged victorious 2-1 on a squeeze play for the deciding tally in that innings although White did not allow a hit during the stanza. The winning run resulted from a walk, infield out, wild pitch and the squeeze.

The longest price of the day at Polo Park, Winnipeg, was paid by Celebrate owned by the Lewis Stable of Dallas, Tex., when it won the $2,000-added handicap feature from the favorite, Son of War, of the Anita King string, Beverley Hills, Calif. Celebrate paid $25.60 for a $2 straight bet.

Twenty-seven rinks have been entered in the Ontario Lawn Bowling Association competition which opens this evening on the greens of the Fernleigh Club, Hamilton. Despite restricted travel, this 55th annual tournament is expected to be a genuine success, according to Allan Archer, secretary of the event.

Canadian Sport Snapshots

By CHARLES EDWARDS
Canadian Press Staff Writer

TORONTO, July 6 —(CP) — Some fans still labor under the delusion that sport is being carried on, at Government request, to maintain public morale. It is to laugh! Sport is dead in Canada deader than most people realize because it died gradually.

True, a few fairly important leagues still function here and there but the big national and international spectacles that made newspaper readers turn to the sport section first, have practically disappeared. Many newspapers that carried two and three pages of sport before the war now are reduced to one page, and that none too interesting.

Some readers may not agree. But think back to pre-war days of colorful sport. In Canada alone there were the major tournaments in golf and tennis—all now cancelled for the duration. There was the annual meet of the Dominion Rifle Association (The Canadian Bisley), the National Championships in track and field, boxing and wrestling. There was the Dominion Badminton Tourney. All these have disappeared and with them the columns they occupied in newspapers. Most provincial meets in the same sports have been cancelled, too.

The classics of international sport have gone. There are no international golf matches for the Ryder and Walker cups. Davis cup tennis and the big tournaments at Wimbledon are a thing of the past. There now are no big cricket matches between England and Australia for the mythical "ashes." Old country football has become nothing but a skeleton of its pre-war body. We have no Lipton cup yacht races, no big heavyweight title fights. No Indianapolis auto races.

Only important sports left to us are Major League Hockey and Baseball and a bit of salvage from our former football activity. Even hockey and baseball are fading. All the minor hockey leagues have folded except the American League and word of its demise is expected any day. The minor professional baseball leagues—Western International, Northern, Pony and Canadian-American—have withdrawn from Canada or folded altogether Only the International League continues to operate in Canada and there have been rumors even that long-established circuit will vanish before another summer comes.

Basketball and lacrosse leagues still function, curtailed because of manpower shortages Horse racing is flourishing where tracks can be reached by street car but many of the remote tracks have closed. Professional boxing and wrestling is doing fairly well.

Aside from these, nothing. It is small wonder the sport pages seem barren of interest.

Remember When—

Suzanne Lenglen posted her fifth world's women's single tennis championship at Wimbledon 20 years ago to-day, defeating Kathleen McKane, No. 1 Brittish player 6-2, 6-2. The great French star won the crown again two years later.

Galt Juniors Win

PRESTON—(CP)—It took 11 innings for Galt juniors to work out a 10-8 victory over Preston Riversides in an Inter County tussle in which the losers outhit the visitors by 16-11 but countered their stickwork by making eight errors Pitcher Torti went the route for Preston, striking out 12—but getting the loss charged against him.

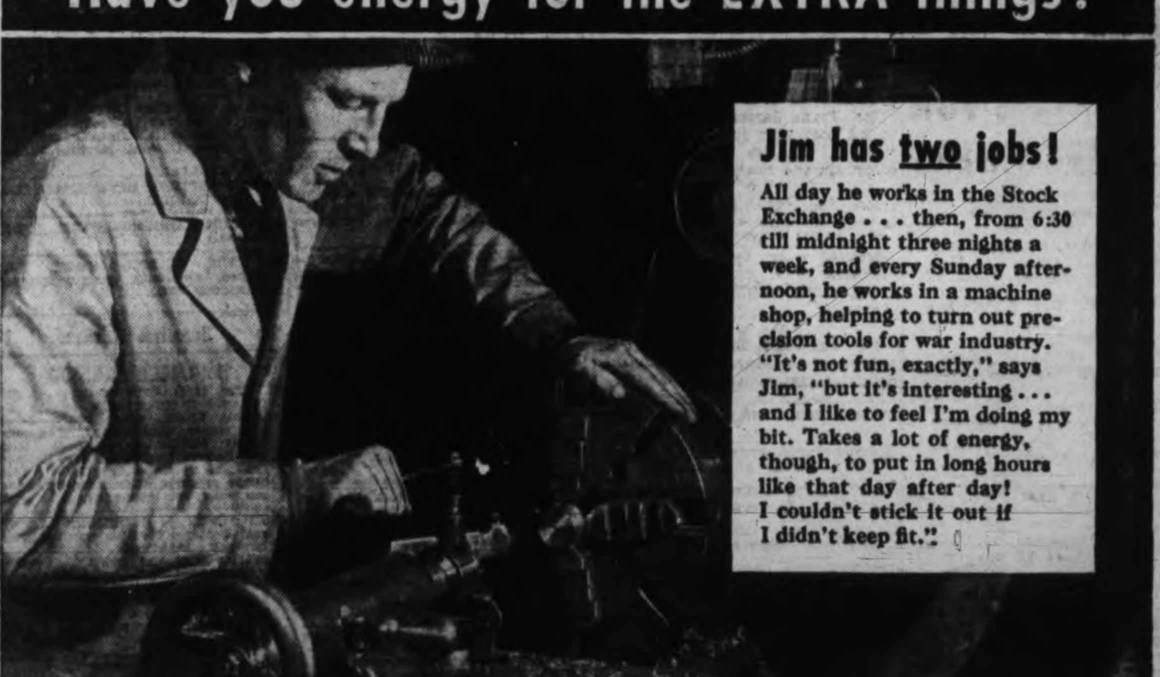
Have you energy for the EXTRA things?



Jim has two jobs!
All day he works in the Stock Exchange . . . then, from 6:30 till midnight three nights a week, and every Sunday afternoon, he works in a machine shop, helping to turn out precision tools for war industry.
"It's not fun, exactly," says Jim, "but it's interesting . . . and I like to feel I'm doing my bit. Takes a lot of energy, though, to put in long hours like that day after day! I couldn't stick it out if I didn't keep fit."
He works nights AFTER WORKING ALL DAY!

"I've been at the Stock Exchange 14 years, operating a tele-register—that's a machine to record quotations. You have to be quick and accurate on it. Both my jobs are tiring, but no real exercise. So I'm careful about my habits. But no harsh cathartics for me! Instead, I keep fit by making sure I get plenty of 'bulk' in my diet. I start every morning with a bowl of Kellogg's Bran Flakes. They're so crisp and delicious . . . and they help keep me fit to do my extra work too!"
If YOU want to keep fit for extra things, take these two steps to health: 1. To get well, see your doctor; 2. To keep well, watch your habits. Guard against incomplete elimination. Gently laxative, Kellogg's Bran Flakes With Other Parts Of Wheat help supply valuable minerals and proteins too. And they're so crisp and appetizing you'll want to eat them every morning! Ask your grocer for the golden-yellow package—either the regular or the new Family package. Begin tomorrow. Made by Kellogg's in London, Canada.

DOROTHY DIX • • •

GIRLS, DON'T PAY HIGH PRICE FOR SUMMER'S FUN WITH BOYS.

Good Conduct Code as Vital in August as December, in War as in Peace Times.

The good old summer time in which our morals and our manners melt down with our collars, and in which we do things we would be incapable of doing at other times of the year, is upon us and it behooves us to watch our steps if we want to save ourselves a lot of grief.

Especially do girls seem to think that the dog days are the open season when they are free to swat Mrs. Grundy in the face, and to go about with no more clothes on than Mother Eve had before she got enlightenment and made herself that original fig leaf confection. So to the little lovelies I offer a few DON'Ts that may possibly prevent them from going soft and mushy just because the weather is that way.

The first and most important DON'T of all is: Don't park your code of conduct along with your fur coat and put it in cold storage. You will need it just as badly in August as you do in December. Maybe more so, and more this year than ever before in your lifetime, for never before were there so many wolves dressed up in sheep's clothing, seeking little lambs whom they may devour. They look so handsome and frisky it will be a temptation to play about with them but after they are done with you there will be nothing left of you but your bones and a few shreds of a damaged reputation.

Patriotism Poor Cloak for Follies.

Don't try to make patriotism a mantle to cover up your follies. Don't think it is any safer to pick up a sailor or a soldier on the street than it is any other man. A uniform doesn't change a sinner into a saint, or make a bounder into a gentleman. Put on your prettiest frock and dance with the boys at the service balls. Pour coffee for them and feed them on cookies at the canteens. Do what you can to cheer them up and make them think of the girls back home. But do your girl scout good deeds in the light and not in dark places, and under the eyes of the chaperons.

Don't go out alone on dates with strangers of whom you know nothing. They may be Sir Galahads with whom you would be as safe as with your own brother. They may be Jack-the-Ripper from whom you are lucky to escape alive. Anyway, no man feels he has to respect a girl who doesn't respect herself enough to make him show his credentials.

Don't drink with the boys anything that is stronger than weak tea. Don't listen to the tempter who tells you that one small drink can do no harm and that you have to drink to be sociable, and that you are spoiling the party and being a wet blanket by not taking as many highballs as the others are. As long as a girl keeps cold sober she is safe. Drunk, she is any man's prey. Cleopatra isn't the only woman who has dissolved a priceless jewel in a wine cup. Many a girl wraps her whole life's happiness in a cocktail glass.

Don't let your heart go haywire. Right now, when the war has made us all a bit hysterical; when we are filled with anxieties and forebodings and a sort of this-may-be-our-last-chance-of-happiness feeling, it is imperative that every girl should keep the safety valve on her emotions in good working order and be able to clamp down on it tight and hard when necessary.

Girls Mistake Fancy for Grand Passion.

For she is keyed up to a high romantic pitch, and it is so easy for her to think herself in love with any good-looking chap who comes along and who has a keen line of sentimental patter. So we have the girls who mistake a passing fancy for the grand passion and who marry strangers for whom they have lost their taste even before their wedding cake grows stale. And we have the girls who think it is so romantic to go off and spend the week-ends with soldiers and sailors because the poor dears are about to sail for somewhere on far-flung battle line.

Don't think you are being noble and heroic by rushing into a hasty furlough wedding with a boy who knows as little of you as you do of him, and who only thinks he is in love with you because he is girl-hungry and you are the best-looker in sight; or that you are conferring any blessing on a lad by getting engaged to him when you know that he is only asking you to wait for him because he is homesick and wants some woman's hand to cling to.

You are only messing up the boy's life, for the little flash of passion will burn itself out with him as quickly as it did with you, and there will be other women with him as there are other boys with you, and it will all end in the sordidness of divorce and broken engagements that will leave a bad taste in the mouth that neither will ever get over.

The sum of all these DON'Ts is: Don't pay too high a price for your summer fun, girls. One good time can cost you a life time of repentance, and it isn't worth it. Don't do anything away from home that you wouldn't do at home. Don't marry in haste. Wait and look him over when he gets back and see if you still want him. Just be as good a girl in August as you are in January. After all, the summer is only three months long, but there is a long, hard winter that we have to live through.

The Stars Say

For Wednesday, July 7.

WHILE THINGS on all planes of endeavor may continue at high tempo, urged on by energies, forces and faculties greatly stimulated and pushing on toward the attainment of progressive goals, yet there may be sudden disruptions, strange reversals or peculiar quirks, calling for determination, shrewd management and quick action to avert disintegration. Erratic impulses, nervous strain or overtaxed energies might prove detrimental. Maintain poise and practical constructive methods and sound plans for definite success and satisfaction.

If It Is Your Birthday.

Those whose birthday it is may be keyed up to high tempo for grasping most promising circumstances for putting the future with its activities, progress and practical achievements on an enduring and solid basis. There may be a disruptive or disintegrating forces to cope with, arising suddenly and having strange or peculiar angles to manipulate with skill and ingenuity. Keep calm, balanced and practical and all should succeed.

A child born on this day although having high ideals, with originality, initiative and constructive ability, may be sensitive, overweight or erratic, with reactions on its success and happiness.

Sports Day By Day

work in recent local shows....There is no game in the Girls' League at the Bowl tonight but Brintons and Generals will clash at the Military Training Centre....Tomorrow night Generals and Aircrafts meet at the Bowl....The attraction in the City League at Riverside Park Wednesday night will be the 4th Battery against the Combines....Mel Ott, great little leader of the New York Giants is heading the major league home-run parade with twelve....Tex Hughson's chances of adding another game to his long string vanished yesterday when the Red Sox kicked in with four costly errors behind their ace....Toronto Maple Leafs spoiled the Fourth of July celebration for the Rochester fans by taking both holiday games from the Red Wings. Luke Hamlin and Joe Sullivan were the winning Toronto pitchers....Oshawa Softball League seems to be strong on pitchers....We could use a few of them here....The local loop is very much a batters' league this season with a couple of dozen players in the 300 class.

Overcome Shyness and Be a Public Speaker

SPEAK ON THE RADIO

Have you always wanted to be a radio personality? Is this your secret ambition? You must have a good voice, of course, and above all you must be able to speak in public.

Do you tremble at the thought of standing up and making a speech, or even a little talk in front of people? You must overcome this feeling if you want to succeed as a speaker, either in public or over the radio.

So many people get stage-fright at the sight of an audience waiting to hear them. Others lose courage when they get in front of a microphone.

No need to be in the background! Practise will soon give you the confidence and self-reliance you need to appear before people.

Our 32-page booklet will help you to make a friend of your voice, to develop it and put your character in it. The booklet tells you how to make your audience like you as well as how to prepare and deliver your speech.

If you're toastmaster at a function, don't worry about it—read our booklet with instructions.

Parliamentary order is also included.

Send 15 cents in coins for your copy of PUBLIC SPEAKING SELF TAUGHT to the Examiner Home Service, Peterborough. Be sure to write plainly your name, address and the name of booklet.

BARCLAY ON BRIDGE

"The Authority on Authorities"

GET OUT OF THE WAY

CONTRACT upon contract gets made because one defender fails to unblock the suit of his partner. Many a fair player hates to throw away a pretty good looking intermediate card, under a higher one which is already on the table, and so winds up play of the suit holding the highest outstanding card of it. With that he has to win the last trick in the suit, whereas if he had tossed his intermediate away, his partner would have been able to take that trick and then score an additional small card.

North: ♠ 9 5 3 ♥ A K 7 6 3 ♦ K 9 6 5 ♣ 5

West: ♠ Q 8 6 4 2 ♥ 10 4 ♦ 3 ♣ K Q 8 7

East: ♠ 7 ♥ Q J 9 2 ♦ J 10 8 2 ♣ J 10 4 2

South: ♠ A K J 10 ♥ 8 5 ♦ A Q 7 4 ♣ A 9 6

(Dealer: South. Both sides vulnerable.)

South	West	North	East
1 ♠	Pass	2 ♥	Pass
3 ♦	Pass	3 ♥	Pass
3 NT

On a hand just shortly previous, a defender had failed to throw his blocking card under his partner's winner, so it was a real pleasure to see the sound thing done on this deal by Clarence Budington Kelland, noted author and Republican leader The club 7 was led by West and Mr Kelland used his 10 to force the A. South decided that a hold-up would do no good, since he reckoned the suit was divided on a 5-4 basis.

With eight positive tricks in sight, the declarer first sought the ninth in diamonds, taking the A and leading toward the K. West's spade discard showed that this would not work, so the only remaining chance was in winning a spade finesse. West took this with his Q and scored the club K, followed by the Q. On those tricks Mr Kelland put first his 4 and then his J, though he also had the 2 left.

Consequently, the 8 was high enough to win the fourth club trick, and the 3 set the contract. If Mr. Kelland had played the 2 on the third club and kept the J, he would have had to win the fourth club trick, and consequently the declarer would have made his contract.

Tomorrow's Problem

North: ♠ 8 5 2 ♥ 9 5 4 3 ♦ None ♣ A K J 9 5 2

West: ♠ J 7 3 ♥ K Q J 10 8 6 2 ♦ 7 5 3 ♣ None

East: ♠ K Q 6 4 ♥ None ♦ 10 9 8 6 2 ♣ Q 10 6 3

South: ♠ A 10 9 ♥ A 7 ♦ A K Q J 4 ♣ 8 7 4

(Dealer: East. Both sides vulnerable.)

If West bids hearts twice, South diamonds twice, North clubs twice, and then the heart K is led against South's 3-No Trumps, what should East discard in trying to beat the contract?

ALLIED BOMBERS PLASTER GERBINI

By DANIEL DE LUCE—Associated Press Staff Writer

Allied Headquarters in North Africa, July 7 (AP)—Heavy bombers from North Africa and others from the Middle East command poured hundreds of tons of high explosive and fragmentation bombs on Gerbini Airdrome in southern Sicily yesterday as the air siege of that vital enemy base roared through its 36th hour. The all-out effort to knock Gerbini and its four satellite fields from the map appeared nearing completion, photographs revealing terrific damage to administration buildings hangars, parked aircraft and landing strips from the relentless poundings of the last two days and a night.

It was at Gerbini that Flying Fortress gunners of the northwest African command destroyed 41 enemy fighters on Monday, and at least one more Axis plane was shot down during yesterday's double daylight blow.

285,000 Pounds Dropped.

A Middle East communique said that approximately 50 four-motored bombers participated in yesterday's smash, dropping more than 285,000 pounds of high explosive and fragmentation bombs on the Gerbini fields, covering runways and dispersal areas and leaving large fires burning. One enemy fighter was reported destroyed and two damaged while every bomber returned safely.

Heavy bombers from this base struck shortly after dawn and reported hits on an ammunition dump, administration buildings, hangars and five landing strips. Five planes of the northwest African force were reported missing from the day's operations, against two enemy aircraft destroyed.

During Monday night R. A. F. Wellingtons hammered at Gerbini starting five fires, while Biscari and Milo airfields were assaulted by South African and British medium bombers. The same night heavy British Bombers of the Middle East Command poured railway installations at Catania, Eastern Sicilian port.

Opposition Fades

Axis fighter opposition which reached a crescendo Monday, when more than 100 war planes attacked a single formation of 27 four-motored bombers, dwindled yesterday to almost nothing, returning pilots reported. The fourth day of the concentrated attack onSicily's air fields from here saw the score stand at 119 Axis craft destroyed against an Allied loss of 19.

Veteran observers cautioned against jumping to the conclusion

Long Range Bombers Remain At Bases For The Second Night

LONDON, July 7 —(CP)—Canadian - manned Mosquito bombers pounded away at their favorite targets—railways—in France last night while the R.A.F. concentrated on sowing mines in enemy waters, the air ministry announced today. One bomber was lost.

The long-range bomber fleets stayed quietly at their bases for the second successive night, letting R.A.F. and R.C.A.F. fighter planes break into the news, with one Spitfire, piloted by a Canadian, demanding most of the attention.

Prowling along the French coast yesterday, light bombers and fighters attacked and damaged two minesweepers and an armed trawler, to round out a day that saw R.A.F. and R.C.A.F. fighters knock eight German aircraft out of the skies over France.

Poles Down Five

Five of the Focke-Wulf 190s and Messerschmitt 109s fell before the blazing guns of revenge-minded Poles piloting R.A.F. aircraft, and three were victims of R.C.A.F. planes.

Canadian headquarters said no losses were suffered, and hidden in that brief announcement was an aerial feat performed by Sqdn. Ldr. R. W. McNair of North Battleford, Sask., that experts say creates a record for operational flying.

As leader of a Spitfire squadron ranging along the French coast, McNair had his plane engine go dead on him while 30 miles away from home, and over enemy territory. By rights he should have ended in a casualty list, but instead he glided to safety, part of the way through heavy anti-aircraft fire.

Strike Ties Up Copper Mine

BINGHAM, Utah, July 7 —(AP)—Members of the Order of Railway Conductors (A. F. L.) refused last night to operate cars transporting ore produced at the Utah Copper Company and the world's largest open-pit copper mine was expected to shut down within a few hours as a result.

Copper Company officials said that lack of transportation facilities to move the ore from the mine to nearby mills would force suspension of all work some time today.

The action was taken by 125 members of the Railway Conductors Union. Approximately 5,000 workers in the mine and mills will be affected. The company produces almost a third of the United States vitally needed copper.

The action was taken at a mass meeting at which M. H. Barney of San Francisco, Calif., vice president of the Order of Railway Conductors, appealed to the men to continue work and attempt to mediate the dispute.

B. H. Richardson, spokesman for the Conductors, said the work stoppage resulted from a seven-year dispute with the Copper Company. He said the men were not on strike and asserted they were employess of the Bingham and Garfield Railroad, not the Copper Company.

They refused to haul ore for the company, because, he said, the company classified them as employees of it and not of the railroad. By such action, he asserted, they were deprived of benefits of the Railroad Retirement Act.

Wages or union membership were not at issue, he emphasized.

Copper Company officials declined to comment.

Empire's Largest Naval Base Trains Hard-Hitting Crews

By A. D. MERKEL—Canadian Press Staff Writer

H.M.C.S. CORNWALLIS, Deep Brook, N.S., July 7—(CP).—Canada's great $12,000,000 naval training base, reputed the largest and most modernly equipped of its kind in the British Commonwealth, has begun to function at its new moorings on the shores of Annapolis basin, made famous by the early voyages of Samuel de Champlain.

Grouped about the quarter-million dollar estate of the late E. P. Morse, which the Navy purchased for $26,000, are some 90 buildings, housing the various schools of seamanship gunnery, navigation and engineering as well as the living quarters, hospitals, stores, recreation and administration buildings.

Late in June, the training establishment had a complement of 5,200, including 3,444 under training of which 147 were officer candidates and 60 Wrens taking specialized courses. In addition 1,400 civilians were engaged in construction within the area. Drafts of 200 arriving each week from the various recruiting schools across Canada were taking the accommodation already provided.

Complement Of 10,000.

But additional buildings were under construction and with the early drafts nearing the end of their 10-weeks' course, the mammoth plant was rapidly approaching full production. When this is reached Cornwallis will have a complement of 10,000 and with H.M.C.S. Nadan, on the Pacific coast will be turning out, it is estimated, a sufficient number of thoroughly trained seamen, gunners and stokers to meet the ever-growing needs of Canada's hard-hitting navy.

Apart from its size, its spread of development and its imposing staff there is a spirit about the new Cornwallis that is fairly breath-taking. Unmistakably this enthusiasm for the job at hand, which permeates everything and everybody about the establishment, derives from the command as well as from the commodious living quarters, the excellent food, the full-scale equipment of the classrooms, and the all-embracing recreational facilities. Evidences everywhere around that Cornwallis is a happy and efficient ship.

First Hand View.

Recently a group of newspapermen were guests aboard H. M. C. S. Cornwallis for two days. They saw them on and off parade, at work and at play. They were whisked through the longest gun battery in the world, explored the temporary hospital wtih Surgeon Lieut. J. L. Johnston, Stratford, Ont., noted for his work in combatting immersion foot, dread of shipwrecked seamen; and they toured the gunnery school with Lieut. Tom Pullen, R. C. N., of Oakville, Ont., one of the heroes of the sinking of the Canadian destroyer Ottawa.

To round out the picture they were taken aboard the whalers and ships which complete establishment

Irwin Remanded Without Plea

TORONTO, July 7 (CP)—R. A. Irwin, division registrar of the mobilization section of National Selective Service, appeared in police court today on a charge of conspiracy in connection with military call-ups and was remanded without plea on bail of $20,000.

Three other men charged with Irwin—Robert A. Allan, former M.P.P. for Toronto Riverdale, Naiffe M. Stephens and Norman Stephens, brothers—were also remanded without plea on bail of $20,000 each.

The remand, to July 14, was requested by John J. Robinette, special crown prosecutor.

The specific charge was that the four conspired to impede mobilization regulations.

Three other men also appeared on charges of breaches of Selective Service Regulations and it was learned their cases were linked with the four charged with conspiracy. They were also remanded to July 14.

They were Epiphany Kocha, George A. Corey and Moses Shamandy. Bail for Kocha was fixed at $1,000 and bail for Corey and Shamandy at $500 each. The three were arrested last night and released after bail was posted.

Irwin, Allan and the Stephens brothers were arrested yesterday by Royal Canadian Mounted Police after three weeks investigation and it was learned the charges involved deferments from army service.

Germans Fear Invasion Of Balkans

Fresh Troops Sent By Nazis To Hold Dodecanese Islands

LONDON, July 7 —(AP)— The Germans were reported by the Algiers radio to-day to have sent fresh troops to the Dodecanese Islands—potential Allied stepping stones to any invasion of the Balkans—and Berlin declared that Yugoslav and Greek guerillas were being wiped out in another step to strengthen Axis defences.

The Yugoslav and Greek Governments in London acknowledged heavier Axis opposition against guerillas, but said the claims they were wiped out were fantastic.

(The BBC in a broadcast recorded by CBS in New York, said martial law had been proclaimed in Greece after strikes and demonstrations that threatened "to lead to a general uprising.")

Berlin intensifed propaganda efforts to convince the German people that the Allies had been balked in plans for invasion of Southern Europe.

Deadly Risk Is Claim.

A DNB (German News Agency) dispatch recorded by the Associated Press said the Allies "cannot launch a real invasion" in the Mediterranean, that Southern France and Italy are so well protected "that even an invasion under cover of battleships or other heavy units must be considered an absolutely deadly risk"

It added "conditions are the same in Greece and the Aegean Sea, particularly so since the Luftwaffe is exercising effective control. A large-scale operation against the west coast of Greece or the Albanian coast has lost much of its attraction for the Allied General Staff after the annihilation of Guerilla bands in Croatia and northern Greece."

The Germans still had made no announcement of the British commando raid Sunday night upon airdromes in Crete, but one broadcast hinted by saying that a "sabotage attempt" against an airfield had been frustrated by German guards.

The Germans said ships leaving Gibraltar yesterday included four battleships, two cruisers, eight destroyers and two aircraft carriers.

China Calls For Action At Once

CHUNGKING, July 7—(AP)—General Chiang Kai-Shek issued a call today to the United Nations to strike at once in force against Japan because now, he declared, is the opportune moment "to reap great results" in reducing the time and cost of final victory.

In a message to the people of the Allied Nations on the anniversary of the day six years ago that China was attacked, the war leader asserted Japan now "is at her weakest as her ready resources are approaching a point of exhaustion."

"Should we let her have further respite to complete impregnable defences and to wage a long drawn-out war with us," he added, "the time and price the Allies will have to pay to defeat her will be many times longer and heavier than what are required today."

(In anniversary greetings sent from London, Prime Minister Churchill told the general the successes in North Africa and on the Yangtze gave "tangible evidence in the east and the west of what is to come" and said "the pattern of events is now becoming clear."

General Chiang, who told his own people in another message that the time limit for utter defeat of the Japanese invasion armies "cannot exceed two years" urged full support of the Churchill - Roosevelt agreement to "wage the war on the Japanese

8-Hour Visit To U.S.

London, Ont., July 7 (CP)

OFFICIALS of the mobilization section of the National Selective Service office here said today that permission for men of military age to enter the United States now is limited to one eight-hour visit a month.

Until recently, it was stated, permission was given to cross the border for 24-hour periods.

It was reported that applications to make border crossings are being received from men of callable age at the rate of from 50 to 60 a day.

National Selective Service regulations state that single or married men of military age must apply for written permission from the department before leaving the country.

Plane Output Hits New High

WASHINGTON, July 7—(AP).—Production of planes and naval vessels in the United States reached new highs in May, the War Production Board's monthly report showed to-day, but the over-all output of munitions remained unchanged from April.

W.P.B. Chairman Donald M. Nelson's report noted declines in ground ordnance, miscellaneous munitions and merchant vessels, which he described as a "very serious matter." The decline in merchant vessels was based on the value of work put in place in shipyards, however, and not on the basis of actual deliveries, which in May were the highest so far with nearly 1,800,000 deadweight tons.

Of the four major programs, merchant ships led in the first six months of the year, with 44 per cent of the 1943 goal achieved. Army ordnance and the output of naval vessels and equipment were estimated at 40 per cent of the 1943 goals, and aircraft 35 per cent.

"We have reached a point now where gains in production will be won only through most thoughtful and determined effort on the part of all concerned," Nelson said.

Dusseldorf Ruins

London, July 7 (AP)

TWO THIRDS of the central areas of Duesseldorf containing the chief business buildings have been burned and smashed by R.A.F. raids, the air ministry news service announced today.

Duesseldorf is regarded as the leading commercial city of western Germany and the administrative centre of scores of steel, heavy engineering and armament firms operating in the Rhine and Ruhr areas.

Photographs taken after the great raid of June 11 showed that among the buildings destroyed was the Stalhaus, the administrative headquarters of a large part of the German steel industry. The news service said its destruction would interfere seriously with the operation of plants throughout Germany.

Canadian Boys Play Big Part In RAF Fighters

By DOUG HOW
Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON, July 7 (CP)—Wherever British fighters fought and planes flew in North Africa, there were Canadians there as members of Royal Air Force crew.

Into the two massive aerial arms Britain conceived to crush the Axis — the Western Desert and the Northwest Africa Air Forces — the Dominion poured her aviators in liberal supply. Official figures place their number in the vicinity of 2,000.

Only one R.C.A.F. fighter squadron operated as an entity but few R.A.F. squadrons were without Canadian representation.

In the air, Dominion crewmen fought from El Alamein to Tunis. They scourged the retreating enemy, bombed his bases, joined battle with his fighters, carried the war out to sea and harrassed his shipping.

From their ranks emerged the inevitable greats, two of them to mature into leaders of R.A.F. Spitfire squadrons in the Tunisian fighting.

These were Sqdn. Ldrs. Jimmy Walker, 24-year-old bank clerk from Edmonton, and George Hill from Pictou, N.S., two youngsters who hold the D.F.C. and Bar.

Walker went to Africa with two planes to his credit, shot down 8½ more. Hill had 9½ when Africa fell.

A 26-year-old Listowel, Ont., athlete who went to Britain in peacetime to play hockey fought the campaign as Wing Cmdr. J. R. Thompson of a Boston bomber squadron.

In this Western Desert force, too, were Flt. Lt. James Francis Edwards, D.F.C., D.F.M., North Battleford, Sask., who ran his score of destroyed aircraft to 10.

Canadians in this Western Desert force, exclusive of those in the R.A.F. proper, won 36 D.F.C.'s and 5 Bars and 21 D.F.M.'s.

The toll Canada paid has not been finally computed but 132 were reported killed and missing in the Western Desert force and the figure in the Northwest Africa group again would probably coincide roughly.

Canadians Aid In Sinking Subs

LONDON, July 7 (CP Cable).—Stories of the sinkings of two U-boats in which three Canadians played active parts were disclosed to-day by the Air Ministry News Service.

The Canadians are PO. Ernest Hammill, 23, of Toronto, Sgt. Vincents Morrow, 22, of Moncton, N. B. both wireless operator - air gunners in the Mediterranean coastal command and PO. W. F. Emery of Edmonton, navigator aboard an Atlantic coastal command long-range heavy bomber.

The Scottish pilot of the plane in which Hammill and Morrow were flying found a U-boat on the surface and attacked it almost at deck level. The Canadian gunners raked the decks and conning tower and after a few minutes the bow rose from the water although the submarine continued to fight back without effect. The Canadians saw the crew leap from the submersible before it slid to the bottom.

Emery's plane was flying to join the escort for a large convoy when a submarine surfaced three miles away. From a height of 80 feet depth charges were planted around the U-boat, which disappeared, but timber and metal cylinders shot up to the surface amid a spreading patch of oil.

Six Warships Lost By Japs In Solomons

American Ships Are Victors In Battle Waged In Kula Gulf

By C. YATES McDANIEL
Associated Press Staff Writer

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, Australia, July 7—(AP).—A United States naval victory in the Solomons—probable sinking of six Japanese warships and damaging of four others out of a cruiser-destroyer force at a cost of one cruiser—was announced today, one week after the outbreak of the current Pacific offensive.

The triumph, recorded by guns of American ships which flashed in darkness of July 5-6 in the Kula Gulf above New Georgia Island, was sketched in a communique from Allied headquarters.

Details Omitted.

Although bearing out an earlier announcement from Washington that the Kula Gulf battle definitely was a victory, today's communique left many details to be filled in, including how many of the enemy ships hit were cruisers and how many destroyers. One definitely was a destroyer, blasted by 500-pound aerial bombs after it had been beached by damage suffered in the naval engagement.

("The Japs have taken another damned good licking," United States Navy Secretary Frank Knox told cheering shipyard workers at Bremerton, Wash., Tuesday).

The communique also said that Allied forces on Rendova Island seized at the outset of the new drive in the Central Solomons June 30, now have been reinforced and that frantic efforts of the Japanese air force to checkmate the offensive by fresh raids on Australia, New Guinea and Allied Solomon holdings have been broken up.

Munda Is Threatened

Defeat of the Japanese naval forces left imperiled the most immediate objective of the Solomons operations—the enemy air base of Munda on New Georgia.

Above it, Bairok anchorage, main source of supply, had been battered by United States warships in a bombardment from the Kula Gulf the night before the naval battle.

The United States destroyer Strong was lost during that action.

Below it, the reinforced garrison on Rendova has been shelling it from five miles away. And on New Georgia American forces at Viru

Plan Restricting Sale Of Coal

OTTAWA, July 7—(CP)—Restrictions on the sale of coal aimed at ensuring equitable distribution of tight supplies for next winter are expected to be announced almost immediately, it was learned here today.

The restrictions will not be "rationing," it was said in authoritative quarters. There was some belief that coal buyers might be limited, however, to a percentage of their normal supplies, so as to spread the available coal over as wide a section of the population as possible.

Coal control authorities have been working for weeks on the details of the plan for restricting coal sales, it was said. Early in June in an address to the Canadian Retail Coal Dealers' Association in Toronto one coal controller predicted some action would have to be taken.

Assurance Against Depression is Asked

Why Were Hundreds Of Thousands In Want Prior To War Labor Asks

OTTAWA, July 7 — (CP)— The Trades and Labor Congress of Canada said to-day in a brief prepared for submission to the Commons Post-War Reconstruction Committee that its combined membership of 264,375 looks for "some assurance" that when this war is won there will not be another depression in "a country of plenty."

Any Canadian could justly feel proud of Canada's achievements on the production front while nearly 700,000 of her citizens were in the armed forces, the brief said But it asked:

"If all these things can be done, now, why was it that hundreds of thousands of our people were in want prior to the war period? And why is it that we even have to contemplate the possibility of fear and want again in Canada?"

There is only one solution to unemployment and that is employment, the brief said. There are lots of urgently-needed public works from one end of the country to the other. There is hardly a city, town or village which does not need local improvements.

"We go without hospitals, schools, starve our universities and libraries, risk the lives and health of people and children with poor roads, poor water systems and inadequate sewers and a million other wants that we all have to do without," the brief added.

"All this in a land of plenty with practically an unlimited supply of raw materials and all the needed labor, technical, skilled and unskilled."

For many years the Congress had been advocating the inauguration of public works in periods of depression, it said, adding:

"We cannot too strongly urge upon your committee the vital need for the immediate commencement of such undertakings at the cessation of hostilities to avoid an unemployment period while changing from war to peace-time economy."

The public works undertaken should be of "a magnitude unthought of previously.

"Full recognition must be given to the fact that we are living in a machine age; that the machine is doing the work and all of our people have a right to participate in the benefits of the machines.

"During the last depression, public works were undertaken without using machinery, work on a task basis and if such crazy thinking was followed through it meant that twice as many could be put to work if a half-size shovel was used.

"We can state emphatically that the workers of Canada want no more of that kind of treatment The people of Canada are through with unemployment relief. They want, and have a right to expect, useful creative employment with a decent standard of living in balance with our times and productive ability."

Island Wants Liberty

LONDON, July 7—(AP).—Morocco radio yesterday reported that Martinique "has just joined the French Committee of National Liberations."

Occupying Jap Held Islands

Will Not Be Necessary To Re-occupy All Islands

LEEDS, England, July 7 (CP).—H. V. Evatt, Australian Attorney-General and Minister for External Affairs, said today a separate attack on every Japanese-held island in the Pacific would be "preposterous" and unnecessary.

Evatt, who arrived in Britain three weeks ago, declared, however, it is essential to attack and reoccupy "some islands of crucial importance" and then apply pressure on Japan from all directions including China and the Pacific.

Speaking at a ceremony in which he received the freedom of Leeds, the Australian official referred to the successful "island hopping" in the Mediterranean and said "it obviously is desirable in the case of some islands in the Pacific."

"In the Pacific as well as in Africa and Europe progress is unmistakable—all the world can see it," Evatt declared.

Canada's Generosity Praised

Tribute To Canada Is Paid In British House

LONDON, July 7 (CP Cable).—Canada was praised in the House of Commons today for her "unprecedented generosity" in connection with financial and other gifts to the United Kingdom which Rt. Hon. F. W. Pethick-Lawrence, Labor member for Edinburgh, said had made it possible for Britain substantially to reduce her total outlay.

Two other members allied themselves with Pethick - Lawrence's tribute during discussion of the Finance Bill.

Sir Arnold Gridley, Conservative member for Stockport said "we owe a great debt of gratitude to the Canadian people whose generosity is unprecedented on the part of a Dominion to the Motherland."

Sir George Schuster, Liberal National member for Walsall added that not enough had been said about the generosity of Canadians.

GERMANS PAY HEAVILY IN THEIR DRIVE ON THE RUSSIAN FRONT

1,271 Tanks, 314 Planes And 10,000 Dead Claimed

MOSCOW, July 7 — (AP). — The German army has paid a terrific toll in tanks and manpower as the price for the "insignificant gains" achieved in two days of bitter fighting in the 1943 summer offensive on the Orel-Kursk-Belgorod front, the Russians said to-day. While acknowledging the loss of two unidentified towns near Belgorod at the southernmost end of the revitalized 165-mile front, the Red Army announced last night that in two days its artillery had smashed 1,271 enemy tanks and shot down 314 planes while the German loss in dead exceeded 10,000.

The Russians counted the German loss in tanks at 586 for the first day's fighting. The midday communique yesterday boosted the figure by 152, and last night the Soviet information bureau added another 423 in a special communique.

The regular midnight communique later listed 110 German tanks destroyed, in the Orel-Kursk sector.

Two Centres Evacuated

Battlefront dispatches said that German armored battering forward in great weight on a narrow sector forced the Russians to evacuate two populated places, but that two hours later the Soviets counter-attacked, halting any further enemy advance and somewhat restoring the Soviet positions

No separate Russian noon communique was issued today and there was no immediate announcement as to the reason or whether this marked a permanent new policy.

Advices from the front, however pictures great battles taking a terrible toll in blood and armor. Four German infantry columns were reported to have attacked near Mtsensk 30 miles from Orel, to be driven back with 600 men killed. One column won and held Russian trenches briefly before falling back in a Soviet counter-attack.

Russian airplanes hammered again and again at German concentrations of men and supplies behind the lines, and the Russians said the Germans, apparently husbanding their planes, used aircraft principally for direct support of infantry and tanks in battle, and were not striking at the Soviet rear.

(The Germans, however, declared they had "effectively bombed" targets behind the Russian lines. One Nazi broadcast said the Soviets had been forced back 25 miles between Orel and Tula).

Heavy Attacks.

Advices from the front indicated the German High Command was sending wave after wave of armored units and infantry, against the strongly defended Soviet positions, making no appreciable headway.

(The Soviet Monitor in London reported that the customary Russian midday communique was not broadcast today. The exchange-telegraph in London said the Moscow Radio had announced that the midday communique would no longer be broadcast, but there was no immediate explanation.)

The attacks all along the front were strongly supported by the German air force and the Russians said they believed large forces of German planes had been shifted from western European bases for the drive.

22 Pilots Captured

The Russian midnight communique reported the destruction of 111 German planes and said 22 pilots had been captured. One of the prisoners was said to have told Red Army officers he had been based in Yugoslavia prior to the start of the new German offensive.

The Russians said that despite the heavy reinforcements to the German air forces the enemy had failed to achieve air superiority and that in one sector alone 45 planes were downed.

Front line dispatches said the Germans were striking again and again in an effort to find weak spots in the Russian defences. Tank divisions and infantry struck then recoiled to be regrouped for a thrust again on the same front but in a different sector.

Principal factor in the success of the Soviet defence seemed to be the Red Army heavy artillery which rolled back the constant onrush of the heavy German tanks. As the armored divisions faltered and turned tail, Red army infantry dashed from dugouts and slit trenches to engage the enemy in hand-to-hand combat.

Suitable Terrain

The German army, obviously planning for a major blow, picked its battlefield with an eye to providing terrain most suitable for the massing of its armored strength. The land around Orel, Sevsk and Kursk is flat, similar to that around Bryansk about 90 miles to the west where the Germans flung their heavy equipment against the Russians a year ago.

The Germans sent 300 to 400 tanks into the battle at a time only to have them smashed back by the Soviet artillery and low-lying Stormoviks, battlefront reports said.

Frequently on the Orel-Kursk front they would switch from frontal attacks to attempts at flanking operations. In one clash the Russians were said to have exerted pressure on the flank of attacking Germans sending them reeling away into a Soviet minefield where they lost 31 tanks and 600 men killed.

Trains Collide On River Bridge

MONTMAGNY, Que., July 7 — (CP). — Railway crews, cleaning up after last night's spectacular mid-bridge head-on collision here resulting in one death and minor injuries to 15, hoped to have the right of way clear and regular service restored by noon.

Canadian National Railway investigators were interviewing train crews in an effort to find the cause of the collision which stood the locomotives of the Maritime Express and a coal freight on end and spilled more than 20 cars over the 30-foot bridge into the shallow Montmagny River.

A coroner's jury was being selected to conduct a civil investigation into the death of freight engineer Joseph Levasseur of nearby Riviere du Loup.

The collision occurred at 3:30 p.m. on the bridge just outside Montmagny which is 30 miles east of Quebec. An officer of a army basic training camp said one of the train crew told him "the freight was travelling faster than the passenger train and when they met in the middle of the bridge the two locomotives jumped 15 feet into the air and then settled back on the bridge, standing perpendicularly."

Officers and men of the army camp took charge of rescue operations. They set up a field hospital, treated the injured, reunited separated families and transferred luggage and passengers to an emergency train which was sent from Levis.

They posted sentries too but one officer said "there was not the slightest suspicion of sabotage."

that the Allies have won complete air supremacy over SICILY, but the sudden falling off in enemy fighter interception indicated that the Germans had lost most of their Sicilian-based land planes and were in need of reinforcements.

Since the fall of PANTELLERIA on June 11 the northwest African Air Force alone has destroyed 275 enemy aircraft in the air and has lost 83. Add to this the enemy planes wrecked on the ground— estimated by observers at several hundred— and the ratio of plane destruction goes up to 6-1 or 7-1 in favor of the Allies.

A dispatch from Cairo disclosed that 85 American heavy bombers took part in Monday's assault on Messina in Sicily and dropped a record total for the Middle East Command of nearly 500,000 pounds of bombs on the big ferry terminal. It said that "aerial photography now indicates that damage to terminal facilities and railway facilities was even more extensive than first reported.")

Price Control Blocked By U.S. Senate

WASHINGTON, July 7—(AP).— In a sudden and dramatic turnabout, the United States Senate rose up to do battle with the administration again today over the Government's plan to roll back retail food prices by paying subsidies to processors.

Chance of starting a mid-summer recess by nightfall faded as lawmakers of both Houses went into a huddle over a bill continuing the life of the Commodity Credit Corporation but blocking the subsidy program.

The formidable task of the conferences was this: To reconcile diametrically opposite proposals in the Senate version and the House of Representatives-approved bill which lifted all subsidy-rollback restrictions objected to by the administration.

Climaxing a seldom-seen demonstration of about-facing, Senate opponents of the rollback voted voted late yesterday for subsidy restrictions similar to those which drew a vigorous veto from President Roosevelt only last Friday.

The bill as it went to conference would continue CCC until January 1, 1944, and increase its lending authority from $2,650,000,000 to $3,000,000,000, but that was virtually a side issue.

Gone were administration-sanctioned provisions which would have authorized six-months rollback expenditure up to $525,000,000 and clamped ceilings on existing subsidy payments to stimulate production of essential crops, import essential commodities, increase output of war minerals and compensate for war transportation losses.

The Bill now would invalidate the present subsidy-rollback on retail prices of meats and butter.

General Disagreement.

Lawmakers disagreed generally on what final form it would take after the House-Senate Conference Committee finished with it. But most agreed on one thing: That if it retains the anti-subsidy provisions the President will veto it again.

Others contended, however, that since a veto would act to kill C.C.C. and its important lending activities for crop production and farm transportation the President "surely wouldn't want to do that with Congress in recess."

While the administration has declared the subsidy program vital to stave off inflation, Senator Walter George (Dem. Ga.) started off the Senate runaway with a shouted denunciation of the whole idea, with which Canada has arrested inflationary factors in the Dominion.

The Finance Committee chairman declared that subsidization of consumers invariably brought "nothing but destruction of the political institutions of the country that tried it."

Axis Mops Up Slav Patriots

NEW YORK, July 7— (AP) The Berlin radio claimed yesterday that Axis troops were mopping up scattered Yugoslav patriot forces after several weeks of fighting and declared that operations also were progressing satisfactorily against Greek patriots.

The broadcast asserted remnants of "strong Serbian-Communist partian groups" had fled into roadless mountains south of Moravia and were being pursued and annihilated by German and Croatian troops.

Recent advices from Allied and neutral resources have told of heavy fighting in both Yugoslav and Greece. The latter advices, however, have indicated the Germans were having hard sledding in their efforts to stamp out the patriot forces.

WINNIPEG, July 7 — (CP). — Sharp advances at Chicago and heavy buying here sent wheat and rye futures to new highs on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange on Tuesday.

Rye futures, reaching the dollar mark, were the highest since November 4, 1929.

It was a 2,000,000 bushel trade-day in the wheat pit, with all futures touching new seasonal highs. There was a slight drop at the close, July finishing at $1.03⅞.

United States and local buyers took the bulk of the offerings, with considerable spreading during the day.

A sharp advance in rye prices at Chicago was reflected here. At the high for the day, July was quoted at an even dollar, with the October future advancing to $1.00½.

Check Workers On Ice Breaker

MONTREAL, July 7 — (CP). — The lists and data of all men who worked on the Government ice-breaker Lady Grey before she sank at her dock in the yards of Canadian Vickers here on July 1 are being investigated to "ascertain if enemy hands were responsible" for the sinking.

T. R. McLagan, Vickers general manager, said that the sinking "could be sabotage." "It is quite possible that sea-cocks were opened by enemy hands,' he said. The sinking occurred when an overhauling and refitting job that was to prepare the Lady Grey for additional duty had been practically completed.

Censorship prevented publication of details of the sinking until last night.

Mr. McLagan said that there also was a possibility that the sinking was due to a water valve which may have broken. "But this seems remote," he said.

The 733-ton ship, built 37 years ago, was not constructed to naval specifications and had no watertight compartments which could have been used to isolate the intake of water and keep the ship afloat.

No lives were lost in the sinking.

Vickers officials said that the ship will be raised and that it is not anticipated damage will be excessive. The officials estimated that it will be several weeks before the ship could be raised and repaired.

Heavy Attack Is Made On Gerbini

Italian Airports Are Heavily Bombed By U.S. Formations

CAIRO, July 7—(AP)—A strong formation of United States heavy bombers from the Middle East Air Command attacked enemy air fields yesterday at Gerbini in Southern Sicily, it was announced today.

During the previous night R.A.F. heavy bombers raided rail installations at Catania, Eastern Sicilian port.

Both forays were completed without loss of a plane, the communique said. At Gerbini, where heavy bombers from the Northwest African command shot down 41 enemy fighters Monday, at least one more was destroyed yesterday.

Runways and dispersal areas at this much-bombed objective and a number of fires were started. Hits were observed by the British fliers in the areas of the railway station and assembly yards at Catania.

As a side issue, the R.A.F. night bombers took a crack at the enemy's anti-aircraft defence positions in the Catania area.

(Other extensive raids on Sicilian objectives yesterday possibly by aircraft from French North Africa and Malta, were reported in the Italian communique broadcast from Rome and recorded by the Associated Press.

(Listed by Rome as attacked here Palermo, Trapani, Porto Empedocle, Catania, Marsala and several other minor localities both in Sicily and across the Messina Strait in Calabria province. The communique asserted 17 Allied planes were shot down by anti-aircraft fire. Two four-engined bombers were reported victims of Axis fighters.

(Rome also said an Allied submarine was sunk in the Mediterranean by Italian and German naval units.

(The Italians said 40 persons were killed and six injured in Catania province while at other places casualties ranged downwards from five killed.)

U.S. Navy Lost Cruiser Helena

WASHINGTON, July 7—(AP).— A United States naval task force bombarded the Japanese base on Kiska Island last night, the United States Navy announced today, in an attack apparently co-ordinated with the United States offensive against Japanese defences in the South Pacific.

A United States Navy communique also disclosed that the American cruiser lost in battle with Japanese forces in Kula Gulf on the morning of July 6 was the 9,700-ton light cruiser Helena.

The Helena was under command of Captain Charles Purcell Cecil of Louisville, Ky. Neither the fate of the skipper nor the safety of individual crew members was reported.

The cruiser, which had been damaged at Pearl Harbor and was restored to service during the first 12 months of war in the Pacific, was the only announced American loss in the battle, in which six Japanese ships were "probably sunk," and several others, presumably four or more, were damaged.

PORT HOPE

Police Matter Confidential Passed To Chief

PORT HOPE, July 7 (ENS) — With a gallery of spectators agog over the rumour that there would be a sensational disclosure at last night's meeting of the Town Council in connection with the Police Department, the Town council held a very brief session which was far from sensational. If there is something of serious nature in connection with the Police Department it was not revealed. All the council did was to dump the whole matter back into the lap of the Chief with the suggestion that if he saw fit to lay charges in "the proper channels" with evidenec under oath.

The tense air of expectation which suficed the spectators when the Council entered the Council Chamber, relapsed like a flat tire, when the Council disposed off the matter so swiftly and with no mention as to what it was all about.

Avoid Libel.

Accordin to Deputy Reeve E. Saunders, pre-amble to the resolution of police committee, there were certain things in 2 confidenital reports handed to him at the meeting, June 28, by Chief of Police Gordon Hardy, which were of such a nature that the Council felt it unwise and from legal standpoint make them public or to take any direct action. It appeared from the Deputy Reeves statements that the Council didn't want to get tangled up in a libel action. Councillor Henry Burri, who at the previous meeting said that "Council had heard only one side, we have not heard the Chief's story at all" was not present at the meeting last night, having been called away on business yesterday morning.

The connection between Councillor Burri' statement at the previous meeting that only one side of the case had been heard, and that the Chief's story had not been heard with Deputy Reeve's statement last night that the question had to do with two confidental reports, from the Chief of Police was not made clear at the meeting.

Referred to Chief.

However, Council endorsed unanimously the recommendation of the Police Committee that it be referred back to the Chief of Police, before the resolution passed. Deputy Reeve Saunders made the following statement to the Council. Your Worship and members of the Council; law and order is the very foundation of every municipality and upon the shoulders of the Police Committee rests the greatest responsibility of any committee of the Council. I may add that it is the only committee that finds it necessary to keep accurate minutes of the committee meetings for future reference. Police matters are very delicate problems as they are associated so closely with the courts of justice and must be dealt with understanding, experience and confidence."

"On the evening of our last Council meeting of June 28 at three minutes to eight the Chief Constable placed in my hands two confidential reports dated June 21 and June 24 of this year. These reports wer addressed to the Police Committee. Inside the railing of the Council Chambers the members have the privilege and certain rights by law with regard to remarks and statements.

In my humble opinion if I had been foolish and had read these confidential reports in public, as an elected representative of Corporation I would have placed the Town of Port Hope in the great danger of an action in the civil courts. That was my sole reason for not making these confidenital reports public.

Full Reports.

Immediately after the last Council Meeting of June 28 I made arrangements for a meeting of our Police Committee which was held the following afternoon June 29 at 1.30 o'clock with a full attendance of committee members. After considering the reports carefully our committee recommended unanimously that these reports be referred back to the Chief Constable so that he may lay such charges as he may think proper as it is the wish of our committee that the whole matter be definitely cleaned up by being dealt with through proper channel where evidenec can be taken under oath.

"Our duties as Councillors do not include those of a judical board and in no way can we receive evidence under oath as it is beyond our jurisdiction," declared the Deputy Reeve.

Nova Scotia's $12,000,000 Base Trains Fighting Seamen

Covering 800 acres on the shores of Annapolis basin in Nova Scotia, a $12,000,000 naval training station has been erected by the Royal Canadian Navy. It will be one of the most modern and efficient of its kind in the world. It will take semi-trained ratings from basic training establishments and rapidly turn out practical seamen and ratings with sea experience, able to operate and maintain complicated naval equipment. For new entries who have volunteered for naval service, mail time is eagerly awaited. Two of the establishment's 900 Wrens (UPPER LEFT) sort parcels from home. High on a rooftop, above columns of marching men (UPPER RIGHT), Sig. T. Operator George Moreau of Winnipeg practices visual signalling.

Rural Schools Have Lost Many Teachers

Rural schools have been particularly hard hit with the change-over in teachers which is taking place across the country and in the Peterborough district, as many of the schools have lost their teachers and some have experienced difficulty in filling their posts. Teachers have come into their own again under the influence of war conditions.

In the Peterborough East Inspectorate, Leo Copp estimated recently that about 29 out of 77 teachers had left his rural schools. This is an approximate figure and the inspector was not in a position to say how many of these vacancies have now been filled.

The following table gives some indication of the way the different areas are affected, and the movement of teachers involved. In Asphodel Township, there are 3 out of 5 teachers leaving; in Belmont, 5 out of 11; Burleigh, 2 out of 6; Chandos, 3 out of 7; Douro, 4 out of 11; Dummer, 4 out of 8; Otonabee, 5 out of 13; and 3 towns, 3 out of 16 are leaving, making a total of 29 out of 77.

Peterborough West.

The situation in Peterborough West and Victoria East is improving, according to Inspector R. F. Downey. He said that one six-roomed school needed a principal, but that by now the matter might have been fixed up, and there are ten or twelve rural schools still without teachers.

"Married women are returning to the profession and by September doubtless all schools in the inspectorate will be supplied with qualified teachers. Boards of Trustees are working faithfully in an endeavor to secure properly qualified teachers for their schools and it is hoped that these efforts will bear fruit," the Inspector went on.

Inspector Downey said that in Harvey Township Schools 4 and 8 are in the doubtful list about having teachers, as are 8, 12 and 15 in Emily Township, and 7, 8 and 10 in Verulam Township. While little Johnny may have envisioned some extra holidays because of the scarcity of teachers, the Inspectors have expressed their confidence that the schools will be fully staffed at the beginning of the new term.

CAMPBELLFORD

Council Boosts Wage Rate For Employees

CAMPBELLFORD, July 7 (ENS) —The trend towards increased wages caught up with council again last night when at their July session members decided to boost the rate paid to town employees from thirty-five to forty cents an hour.

The question was opened by Deputy Reeve MacMillan who recalled that similar action had been taken by the council of the United Counties at their last session. "I think our laborers in town are entitled to this same wage rate," he said. Mayor F. F. Long characterized it as "a move in the right direction." In their motion to increase the wage rate council made the new scale of wages retroactive to June 16.

A communication from Mr. A. D. Bennett requesting sewer and water service for a residence he had recently acquired on Mill street was referred to the Road and Bridge Committee with power to act. It was estimated about 120 feet of sewer and water pipe would be required and council intimated the work would be done under the same terms as other recent installations of this type—the town to supervise the work and provide pipe and tile while the owner arranged for the labor.

Snow Removal

The council discussed the problem of removing next winter's snow. On at least two previous occasions the corporation had contracted with the highway snow ploughs to remove snow as it passed through town and on each occasion residents of certain sections deluged council with complaints that the snow was being thrown from the road on their freshly shovelled walks. A year ago they discontinued the practice of having the highway ploughed through town but when last winter's heavy snow produced headaches of another kind the matter was again pushed into the foreground with the result that ploughing was taken up with the Department of Highways through their resident engineer at Port Hope while the reeve and deputy reeve were attending the June County Council session.

To solve the trouble of spraying sidewalks, the engineers had given assurance that ploughing speed would be reduced inside the corporation. Reeve Calver suggested the town should do the necessary sanding as it could be done at less cost than if the department did it. To compensate for the fact the county rate had been increased by .18 per cent which means an increase of approximately $236 to this town, there were increased grants to the High School amounting to almost $350 this year.

Need Relief Officer

With the retirement of J. J. Lewis Hay, who is now with the Wartime Prices and Trade Board, the town had no relief officer and it was suggested that the council should appoint another man to carry on in this position. Councillor O'Sullivan objected.

"We do not need a relief officer when there is but a single family on relief. I'm not in favor of throwing away $17 a month for nothing." He added that the administration costs were exceeding the cost of relief.

Other members took a long range view of the question feeling it would be well to have a man who understood the duties of the office. It was pointed out that in addition to relief there was considerable work done in connection with the Mothers' Allowance Board and other duties. On motion of Councillor Donald the office was turned over to the tax collector J. C. Birmingham whose income had been considerably decreased by the falling tax rate. Mr. Birmingham's salary was set at $15 per month, a reduction of two dollars from the former salary paid.

Assessor R. H. Townsend reported on the assessors' convention in Toronto and submitted several suggestions. One of these was that the assessment should be based on the replacement value of property. From the tax colector's department came the monthly report of J. C. Birmingham listing $5,931.91 which had been collected in current taxes during the past month. In addition to this $207.92 had been paid on arrears. Mr. Birmingham, who also acts in the capacity of town engineer, reported a government boundary monument at the corner of Bridge and Rear streets had been completely hidden from view by the placement of a sign by the Imperial Oil Company. This he said tended to make survey work very difficult. The clerk was instructed to write the oil company a letter asking that the monument be restored to view.

Safe Bathing Spot

Sparked by a recent drowning the question of providing children with a safe place in which to bath was aired before council by Mr. Ronald Hazell who was assured of definite action within a short time. He said an opportunity was now at hand to acquire just the place for a wading pool and this could be made available at very small cost. His suggestion was that the cement foundation for what was once the United Church shed, should be repaired and water and drainage service installed to make it suitable as a pool. The shed was recently torn down and the property could now be purchased for about $25 he said.

The drawback to the proposal was what the town's responsibility would be in case of an accident. It was pointed out that Peterborough had solved this problem of responsibility at a similar wading pool and members felt this town could do likewise. Looking at the sewer and water project Deputy Reeve MacMillan saw in the proposal an opportunity to provide water service to house on 30-Foot Lane and felt that the matter of bringing the water from Garry street should be considered.

When the question of Deputy Reeve MacMillan's resignation as chairman of the Road and Bridge Committee was opened under the heading of unfinished business the deputy reeve reiterated his opinion that it was useless for any committee to try and function without the backing of council. Referring to the Rear street sewer project which had brought about his decision to resign, the deputy declared "I would hate to be a party to a proposal that was costing the town from $500-$600 and have no remedial result. Mayor Long again expressed his regret at the resignation proposal and declared the Road and Bridge chairman's work had been well handled and "to the satisfaction of a majority of the citizens." Councillor Fowlds suggested acceptance of the resignation be left in abeyance until there was a full council. A motion to this effect was carried.

Something ought to be done about the wreckage of the old curling rink on Rear street, according to Councillor Fowlds who termed the place as a "disgraceful mess and a fire trap." A motion was made authorizing the clerk to write a letter to the owner asking that some action be taken to clean up the place. Another matter council felt should be attended to was the re-painting and re-placing of road and street signs in town. This was left with the property committee with power to act.

Deputy Reeve MacMillan said he had been talking with members of the Police Department relative to holidays. It was decided that the chief and night constable should take their two weeks each at a time mutually agreeable and that all holidays should be terminated by September 1.

Petherick's School Holds Lawn Picnic

CAMPBELLFORD, July 7—(ENS)—Pupils of Petherick's School held a picnic on the lawn at the home of Mrs. J. Simpson on Monday afternoon when the pupils had as their guests, parents and younger brothers and sisters.

The program included a series of races, and prize for the mother's race was won by Mrs. Earnest Petherick. Mrs. J. Simpson won the prize for being the oldest lady on the grounds. The big event of the day was a presentation to the teacher, Mrs. M. V. Brisbon. The address was read by Rosemary Pirie and was followed by the presentation of an attractive table lamp by Aileen Petherick.

Tribute was paid to Mrs. Brisbon who was regarded as a "faithful teacher, always cheerful and willing in all your work". The presentation was made because Mrs. Brisbon is retiring from Petherick's school this summer. The children spent the remainder of the afternoon playing games. Later refreshments were served from tables on the lawn.

Mr. Bracken Fires a Gun

Mr. John Bracken, the leader of the Progressive Conservative party, made a strong speech to a Toronto audience in Massey Hall last Friday night, which has since been widely quoted by those who are displeased with the way in which the present Government is carrying on our part in the war. Mr. Bracken has been travelling through Canada for the past four months, looking into every sort of problem which could affect the war effort of this country, and in his Toronto speech he gave the country the benefit of his conclusions. His criticism of the Government was severe, particularly when he spoke of its manpower policy and the Home Defence Army. In fact, Mr. Bracken, who has taken so long to find the range and light his match, has fired the first gun of his leadership full at the Government.

The gun would have been more awesome if it had been discharged at close range. It is clear to everyone that one of the chief needs of the present Government is a larger and more vigorous Opposition. Mr. Bracken's gun which he fired from the stage of Massey Hall was too far from Ottawa to be effective; there are still nothing but pop-guns and pea-shooters on the left hand of the Speaker in the House of Commons. If Mr. Bracken's gun is to do anything more useful than make a loud noise, it will have to be mounted in the House directly opposite the Prime Minister; then we shall see how much of its charge is shot and how much is powder.

• • •

Mr. Bracken's idea in travelling through Canada, seeing what he could see, was an excellent one, and it is clear that he has made the very best use of his time. We are not altogether bowled over, however, to hear that he disapproves of the way in which the Government is running our share of the war. We should have been considerably more surprised if Mr. Bracken had found anything to praise in the Government's war effort. After all, he was not chosen leader of the reanimated Conservative party in order to praise, or even approve, the works of a Liberal administration. His jobs is to oppose the Government at every opportunity, and the sooner he becomes Leader of the Opposition, and abandons his present anomalous position as the leading private citizen of the Progressive Conservative party, the better everyone will be pleased. As the Prime Minister has pointed out, Mr. Bracken could not use quite the same picturesque vocabulary in the Commons that he does at Massey Hall, but what he said would be more effective; not only would he have daily opportunity to attack those Government measures of which he disapproves, but he would be in a position to oppose and possibly to forestall other measures of a similar nature.

The present Government has made many mistakes, and has done many things which no Government can do if it hopes to retain its popularity. The manpower policy which Mr. Bracken attacked is a weakness which no one will attempt to deny, but the solution to the problem has still to be found, and Mr. Bracken was no more ready with a scheme than any other critic of the administration. The advisability of keeping a Home Defence Army may be in doubt now, but we do not recollect any condemnation of it when France had fallen and the gloom-mongers saw a Nazi conquest of Canada before the autumn. As Mr. Churchill has pointed out, nothing is easier than to make policies when there is no obligation to carry them out. The Government has established a network of controls and a system of rationing, both of which create dissatisfaction and set up an echo for any cry of "bureaucracy". But we should have chaos without these unpopular measures. It is not difficult to criticize the Government, which is doing the job of fighting the war as well as it can, considering that it is made up of men who are fallible and who have human limitations; it would be much harder to do a better job.

Therefore, although we are glad that Mr. Bracken has fired a gun, we wish that he would take steps to fire it at point-blank range next time. We think that the Government badly needs the spur of an alert Opposition and it looks as though Mr. Bracken were the man to provide it. But so long as he is content to hurl defiance at the Government from the stage of a public building 250 miles from Ottawa he is not even professionally engaged in proving the Government unworthy of the trust which has been reposed in it. He should get a seat in the Commons as quickly as he possibly can and take up the duties which are expected of him. For, as he himself said in Toronto, "the times are grave", and "to give political consideration priority over the nation's interest is intolerable and unforgiveable".

Six Years Of War

Today marks the beginning of the seventh year of China's war with Japan, and the Chinese enter it with high hearts, in spite of the heavy burdens which war has brought them. Perhaps the most serious problem which the Chinese face at the moment is the inflation which has disorganized the country's economic life, increasing the cost of living in an already overburdened country and threatening to add famine to other misfortunes. China provides a lesson in the dangers of inflation which the other United Nations should not neglect.

China enters her seventh year of war with more allies than she has had before, but with less practical help than she has enjoyed for some time. All the main roads leading to China's allies are blocked by the Japanese, and the newly planned road through Iran and Chinese Turkestan is still only a plan. The only paths by which aid can reach China at present are the long and dangerous "silk route" from Russia, and the aerial route —never very effective—from India. Materially, China is not well off.

But in courage and resolution she is strong, and her recent victories have given her now hope. The Japanese attempt to seize Chungking and the "rice-bowl" district was sturdily repelled, thanks to the courage of Chinese troops and a timely loan of airpower from American sources. The Chinese are confident that they can rout the Japs out of any of their strongholds if they can secure enough support in the air. President Roosevelt has promised that support, and a major offensive in the Pacific, under the direct command of General McArthur, is under way and has achieved notable successes.

And so, although the Chinese are still hard pressed, they are full of confidence in what the seventh year of their struggle will bring. Preoccupied with our own European struggle we often forget the matchless heroism which this ally of ours has shown in a fight against a ruthless enemy. The Chinese have had a large and bitter portion of defeat, loneliness and ill-luck. That is all the more reason that we should assure them of a lion's share of the sweets of victory when at last the war is won.

Poland Loses a Patriot

Canada will feel the most sincere sympathy with the Polish people, who have suffered a grievous loss in the death of their Premier in Exile, General Wladyslaw Sikorski, who died in an airplane crash off Gibraltar on the fourth of July. Since the fall of Poland General Sikorski has kept the spirit of the Polish people alive by his great example, by his diplomacy, and by his expert organization of Polish forces to fight with the men of the other United Nations. The lot of the leader of a government in exile is often a bitter, unheroic and humiliating one, and only a great man can invest it with dignity; Sikorski was such a man, and he was held in the highest respect by the leaders of countries friendly to the Polish cause.

The tragedies of war are many and vary so greatly in degree that some are forgotten almost before the newspaper which records them has been discarded. But for the Polish people the loss of Sikorski will remain one of the great catastrophes of the war. There are other Polish patriots who will carry on his work, and we venture to say that they will do so with success. But the loss of a man who typified the soul and the aspiration of a suffering country must be a heavy burden to a people who already have more than their share of burdens.

NOTE AND COMMENT

While Hitler speaks no language but his own, Mussolini is said to speak good German, but rather slowly. But that is one language in which he has learned to listen very rapidly.

Writing of a particular movie star a press agent says, "At one time half the girls in Hollywood wanted to marry this man". And probably the other half had already done so.

The First of Many Romances

By SAMUEL MARCHBANKS

THE name of Hervey Allen is known to almost everyone who does any reading at all, for it was his novel "Anthony Adverse" which began the modern cult of the best-sellers. In a remarkably short time that lengthy novel sold more than a million copies, and it is still selling. Margaret Mitchell's "Gone With The Wind" has the record, I believe, for rapid sales, but Allen's book was first in the field. It was more than a best seller; it brought the long historical novel back from the limbo to which current taste had banished it, and unleashed upon the world a host of books some of which were good and some of which were bad, but all of which were unconscionably long-winded.

THERE is much to be said for the long novel. It gives a writer a chance to work on a very large scale, drawing a detailed picture of his characters and the background against which they perform. And such books have a leisurely charm which makes them good reading. The vogue for brief and compressed novels was no more sensible than our grandfathers' craze for four-volumed romances. An author needs enough space to say what he has to say—no less and no more. One man may need twelve hundred pages and another may tell his tale in one hundred; the writer must judge for himself, and in time the public will tell him how well he has done. There is nothing wrong with long books unless they are dull. Hervey Allen knows better than most writers how to keep his books from the sin of dullness.

HE is now at work on a great project, a monster novel which will appear in several volumes. Its title is "The Disinherited," and the first volume, which is called "The Forest And The Fort," has reached me from the Oxford University Press. It comprises 344 pages, and if the books which follow it are as good the success of Mr. Allen's venture is assured. He has a quality of teeming imagination which is rare among modern writers, and he has filled the first section of "The Disinherited" with a richness of incident and detail which makes it wonderfully good reading. He never stints, and his narrative pours out with a copiousness which is refreshing and reassuring. With so many writers we sense the strain which composition imposes upon them, but not with Allen; he is a positive geyser of tragic, comic, horrifying and edifying happenings. There is seemingly no limit to his gusto.

THE hero of "The Forest and The Fort" is Salathiel Albine, son of a white settler in eighteenth century Pennsylvania, who is stolen by a Shawnee Indian chief when he is still a child. His captor, Kaysinata, brings him up as Little Turtle, his own son, and makes a young 'scalp' of him. Salathiel learns all the arts of the forest, and until he is eighteen or so he is a young savage and nothing more. Allen does not sentimentalize about his Indians, and anyone who wants twaddle about noble red men should look elsewhere. Clearly he is deeply versed in Indian lore, but he is not beglamoured by it. He does the Indian justice, but he never permits his readers to forget that the North American Indians were cruel and savage people, without pity and of severely limited intelligence. The conspiracy of Pontiac plays its part in this book, and it is most skilfully introduced. "The Forest and The Fort," though an historical novel, never crams history down the reader's throat.

WHEN he reaches manhood, Salathiel determines to rejoin his own people, and makes his escape under the pretence of taking a message from Kaysinata to Fort Pitt, which appears to be on the site of the modern Pittsburg. He has learned some English from a captive missionary, and he has no difficulty in attaching himself to the settlement at the fort, as an assistant to the valet of Captain Ecuyer, the Swiss mercenary who commands it. Ecuyer is perhaps the most carefully drawn character in the book; he is essentially a creature of civilization, loathing the squalid life of the forest, despising the Indians and the Quakers who take advantage of them. But he is an honest man, and keeps his bargain with the English king at great cost to himself. Allen's views on the Quakers are novel; he represents them as a group of godly hypocrites, taking all the protection which the Crown can give them, but insisting on their rights to sell rum and firearms to the Indians.

THE underlying theme of the book is the rise of the desire for complete independence among the American colonists. The author's sympathy is not wholly with the Americans. They were glad to take what they could get from the Crown, but they were loath to give anything in return; the atmosphere of the new country was antipathetic to discipline and obedience, and the fate of the soldiers who were sent into the wildness to protect the colonists was a miserable one. He illustrates the difficulty of their position in a score of ways, and presents a picture of the American colonial scene not unlike that which is found in "Oliver Wiswell," an earlier best-seller. If we may judge from the first volume, "The Disinherited" should be a fine production, and a contribution to the not very large shelf of first-rate historical novels.

A Bible Message

And one of the scribes came, and having heard them reasoning together, and perceiving that he had answered them well, asked him, Which is the first commandment of all?

And Jesus answered him, The first of all the commandents is, Hear, O Israel; The Lord our God is one Lord: and thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy mind, and with all thy strength: this is the first commandment. And the second is like, namely this, Thou shalt love thy neighbour as thyself. There is none other commandment greater than these.

And the scribe said unto him, Well, Master, thou hast said the truth: for there is one God; and there is none other but he: and to love him with all the heart, and with all the understanding, and with all the soul, and with all the strength, and to love his neighbour as himself, is more than all whole burnt offerings and sacrifices.

And when Jesus saw that he answered discreetly, he said unto him, Thou art not far from the kingdom of God. (Mark 12: 28-34.)

THE TIMID SOUL

Trend In Canadian Labour

(MONTREAL STAR)

THE number of strikes, illegal and otherwise, in Canada since the war has served to reveal in an unpleasantly significant manner the influence which foreign union control exerts in this Dominion. The Star has steadfastly opposed this, and will continue to do so, believing that the future welfare of Canadian labour and the improvement of relations between capital and labour will be better served in the long run if the control of unions remains in Canadian hands, and if there is no affiliation—which is a euphemism for control—with labour unions outside this Dominion. That there is in the ranks of Canadian labour itself a steadily growing conviction of this faith has been strikingly revealed in numerous briefs presented before the National Labour Board since it began its present inquiry into labour conditions in the Dominion.

The importance of the recommendations made in these briefs will be realized when it is pointed out that according to the Department of Labour's latest official figures the total membership of foreign-controlled unions in this Dominion is less than 350,000, that is to say, less than seven per cent. of Canada's total workers and wage-earners, and that recently organized independent unions and associations, exclusive of all company unions, already record a membership of over 200,000, and are making rapid headway in increasing that membership.

A striking feature about the briefs presented by these virtual unanimity as to the principal causes of labour unrest in the Dominion, and also as to the remedies which should be applied to eliminate these causes. As for the causes, they may be summed up as follows: Bad leadership; disregard by unions of agreements entered into; responsibility of unions for their acts through not being corporate bodies; failure of the Government to penalize for illegal strikes; insistence on "closed shop" conditions, and jurisdictional disputes.

The independent unions are united in their determination that every worker and every employer should have perfect freedom to join or to remain outside any organization; that no union should have any powers of compulsion; that severe penalties should be imposed on all guilty of instigating or helping in illegal strikes. There is also a strong feeling that all labour organizations should be required to obtain a charter under the laws of the Dominion and to submit annually a complete financial statement; that the funds of no labour union should be legally available for use in connection with an illegal or sympathy strike (in some instances the freezing of union funds in case of an illegal strike is urged—a plan The Star has unreservedly endorsed): and that the closed shop be not recognized as legitimate ground for dispute.

It is quite clear from a perusal of the independent briefs that a very substantial body of Canadian labour is honestly endeavouring to establish industrial peace and harmony instead of fomenting class hatred, discontent and strife; is definitely in favour of Canadian as against foreign control of unions in this Dominion; and while standing firmly for the maintenance of all legitimate rights of labour, is just as firmly opposed to labour being made the tool of professional organizers and racketeers for the latters' personal aggrandizement.

A good many of the briefs presented before the War Labour Board by organizations other than labour, that is to say, by organizations representing employers, strongly support the principal recommendations of the independent unions. It will be most interesting to see what impression these recommendations make upon the Board in the drafting of its final report. The public hearing closed last week.

Whitehall Notebook

(By DOUGLAS AMARON, Canadian Press Staff Writer)

LONDON, July 7 (CP)—Strange and memorable acquaintances are struck up aboard ship in days of war, but none so interesting as those made with members of the merchant navy.

You meet these men every time you board a passenger vessel and almost instinctively can pick them out from other persons on the ship by the crow's feet which seems to set their eyes in a deep clear setting.

They are browned by a lifetime facing gales and speak with the rich dialects of the Tyne, the Clyde and those other shipping rivers of Great Britain which are marked by their own accent.

This story concerns six officers, five of them from the same ship and all holding different responsible positions. Because merchant navy men prefer anonymity, we will call them only by the names they go by at sea—Chief, Doc, Captain, and other similar identifying captions.

They were passengers on a liner going to Canada, five of them to join a new Canadian-built ship and the sixth to become doctor on another ship at New York. All were veterans of the merchant navy, though the Doctor, a fresh-faced Cornwall man was only 25.

They had this in common, they all had faced death at sea—four of them had lost three ships by bombing or torpedoing; the Doctor had been interned in Algeria. Only the oldest, the Chief Engineer, had not been a victim of enemy action, yet of them all he had lived the fullest and most dangerous life.

Tynesider, the Chief was of that rugged, taciturn stock for which Newcastle, South Shields, Gateshead and other North Sea towns are famous. He was in his 50's but looked 10 years older.

No officer among these merchant navy men had a greater fund of stories than the Chief, nor a richer sense of humor. He sailed first under sail and called those who refer back to "the good old days" nothing but "damn fools."

When this war began he was on coastal vessels plying the dangerous waters of the English Channel, the Straits of Dover and England's east coast. These were his most dangerous voyages, he declared, and in common with other seamen he praised the balloons coasters carry now as the sailors' greatest boon.

The Captain also came from the Tyneside and spoke only when he had something worthwhile to say. It took a month's acquaintance to learn that the Distinguished Service Cross and O.B.E. ribbons he wore on his tunic were for gallantry on the Murmansk run.

He sailed in convoy and he sailed alone carrying munitions to Russia. He was bombed and attacked by submarines, but the story he liked best to tell concerned him only indirectly.

An American ship was sunk by bombing and this captain stayed behind to pick up survivors. He found only one, a debonnair purser picked up from a raft where he had made himself comfortable with a book and a cigar.

Though the Murmansk run traverses some of the coldest Arctic waters, the purser was attired in an panama suit and hat. His first words of greeting when resuced were: "Hiya cap, have a cigar!"

The Chief Steward was another Tynesider, tall and more talkative than his mates. He, too, had lost ships by enemy action but he shrugged them off with the comment "A bump (torpedoing) now and then is all part of the game."

The First Officer came from the Isle of Skye and had sailed before with the Captain. He had little to say but his silence inspired confidence, confirmed by the Captain's assurance that "He is one of the best."

"Jock" was Second Engineer, unpopular when the voyage began because of his fondness for the bottle, but a favorite at the end when a week's sobriety proved him a worthy seaman who knew his job well.

A Glasgow man, Jock had two weaknesses apart from his love of Scotch whisky. He couldn't tell a story in fewer than 15 minutes and he didn't know any good ones. He was in his element, however, when reciting poetry, some excellent stuff of his own and all of Bobby Burns.

Last on the list was the Doc, youngest of the group and one of the most popular. His "bumping" came on the Malta run and sent him to a French internment camp in Algeria for two months. His comments on the treatment he received would not improve international relations. Sufficient to say he was "happy" when released by the Allied North African invasion.

These are some of the men on whom the continued existence of this island has depended since the war began. None of them considers he has done anything outstanding. Yet each, in his own way, has made a contribution, the extent of which history alone will be able to measure.

Letters To The Editor

KEEP THE OLD SATURDAY NIGHT.

Editor, Examiner.

Sir,—May I get my nickel's worth in regards this Saturday night closing. Who started this unrest among Peterborough store-workers anyway? I have worked at nothing but stores ever since I finished school. Am now married and have a family and do part time in one of our local stores. We have always worked Saturday nights, so why the fuss now when everybody needs to be on their toes trying to help the other guys. It's much easier for store-workers to get a few minutes or hours off (if you have a good boss) to do their shopping than it is for workers in a factory. We are all working for one good and that is victory, but how can it be attained with so much unrest among employees? Why don't you store managers see through it that the clerks are all willing to meet you half-way, so why not give part of your staff Saturday night off one week and part another. If it's a big store divide the staff in three and a third go each Saturday at their regular supper hour and stay home. It is being done in some of the stores, why not all? We all would like the odd Saturday night. This is only a suggestion but it might work out and clear up a good deal of the unrest that someone very foolishly has started.

And now a word to you factory-workers. Come up town and get in and do your shopping early. Don't wait until you've seen the show or gone in and had a few beers (apologies to those who don't drink). Nobody wants to wait on you when all the air is beered. You really don't get good service then. Come in first, then do your drinking so that we can get things straightened up and the store closed at a decent hour.

A STORE-WORKER.

WELL TREATED IN ENGLAND.

Editor, Examiner.

Sir,—I am writing this letter in hopes that you will print it in your paper. I come from Buckhorn, Ont. My people take the Examiner from the paper boy in our village.

I came to England July, 1941, and my idea in writing this letter is to show the people back home just what the English women are doing for the Canadian soldiers over here.

Where we are now stationed is one of the loveliest spots in England. We have here a W.V.S. canteen, run by the lovely people of this village. The Canadian Legion is also in the same building. The W.V.S. is open every evening from 5.15 to 9.15, and without our canteen I don't know what we would do.

The ladies make things as comfy here for us, the same as we had it at home. They have lovely easy chairs in the reading room. Chairs from their own living rooms. The food consists of spam, cheese and lettuce sandwiches, home-made apple, raisin and date pies, plenty of tea and cakes.

The women in this country deserve plenty of credit for what they are doing. This is happening all over England, and I only hope our people are doing as much for the boys of the R.A.F. out in Canada.—Thanking you, I remain,

C-858 Gnr. Fulton, G. E., 29th B.H.Q., 11th A.F.R., R.C.A. (Canadian Army Overseas).

CROCHET YOU'LL LOVE

Pineapple—the all-around favorite in crocheted design. Small wonder when it makes such lovely doilies as these (one is 18, the other 13 inches in diameter) that have so many uses. They cost so little to make, too. Pattern 628 contains directions for making doilies; illustration of stitches; list of materials required.

S. A. Newlyweds To Head Corps In Campbellford

CAMPBELLFORD, July 7—(ENS)—A wedding of considerable local interest took place in the Earlscourt Salvation Army Citadel, Toronto on Saturday July 3 at three o'clock in the afternoon when Captain Iva Brown daughter of Mr. and Mrs William Brown 44 Hansan Road, Toronto, became the bride of Captain Alexander Turnbull of Campbellford, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Turnbull, Clydebank, Glasgow, Scotland. Lieutenant Colonel Rufus T. Spooner officiated and Adjutant C. Everitt played the wedding music while during the signing of the register Miss Constance Templeton sang. The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore the Army's traditional uniform and carried a bouquet of Joanna Hill roses and sweet peas. Sre was attended by Captain Nellie Halder and Miss Mable Brown, a sister. The attendants likewise appeared in uniform and carried bouquets of talisman roses and sweet peas. Captain James Sloan assisted the groom and Messrs Alan Austen and Kenneth Tye were the ushers.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the lower hall of the Earlscourt Citadel and the bride's mother received wearing a navy and white sheer gown with white accessories and corsage of red rose and white sweet peas. Later the couple left on a wedding trip to Peterborough and for travelling the bride chose white with white accessories. They will reside in Campbellford where Captain and Mrs. Turnbull will assume charge of the local Salvation Army Corps.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold McConnell of Hastings have announced the engagement of their daughter, Elizabeth Uldean, to Nelson Davis, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. James Davis of Omemee. The wedding will take place at the bride's home, "The Evergreens," on July 14.

DOROTHY DIX

Dear Miss Dix: For eighteen years I have been married to a woman who has been a perfect wife and mother, but somehow I took her too much for granted and neglected her shamefully. As I am not of a demonstrative nature, it never occurred to me that she craved any expression of affection.

Now she tells me that all these years she has been starved for affection and very lonesome, and that she has met another man who has taken my place in her heart. He shows her the little attentions I should have shown her, and tells her all the nice things I should have been telling her all these years. This man is a fine fellow and he has convinced me that he has no intention of breaking up my home, and says that he will not see my wife again, although he loves her.

Now my problem is this: I have lost my wife's love and although I have done my utmost to win her back, it is without result. She does not want a divorce because we have children, and she feels that it is her duty to take care of them, but our home is not a home. I feel like a stranger in it, and although we go out together, ehere is a world between us.

Is there anything I can do to convince my wife of my affection? I want her now more than I ever did, and she is lonesome, too, for love, yet we can't get together. Why?

A HEART-BROKEN HUSBAND.

Only God Can Resurrect Dead Love.

ANSWER: When we let a flower die of neglect, we cannot bring it back to life, no matter how much we water it with our tears. Only God can work the miracle of a resurrection. We poor mortals have no such power. We can only break our hearts mourning over what might have been.

In all the world there is no other spectacle so pitiful and so tragic as that of a married couple who have ceased to care for each other. Yet it is so common that at every wedding as we watch the bride and groom leave the church, starry-eyed and trailing clouds of glory behind them, we cynically wonder how soon they, too, will be a disillusioned, disgruntled husband and wife, snarling at each other, or sitting up in silence, not daring to speak for fear of starting something.

They begin so happy, so hopeful, so confident, so filled with romance, so much in love with each other, and then so often, so soon, somehow between them, they have murdered love and made the life that should have been so beautiful an earthly purgatory, or else just a grim, barren endurance test.

Why do they do this? Why, when they have perhaps seen the misery of their own parents' loveless life, don't they determine to make every effort to keep their own love affair alive? Why, when they have seen so many of the marriages of their own set come to grief almost before the honeymoons were over, do they not bring all of their intelligence to bear on making their own marriage a success?

Nobody knows the answer to this vital question. We see love starve to death by a husband not showing his wife any of the little attentions a woman craves, by his never giving her a tender word, or a caress, or a kiss that is not an insult it is so perfunctory. We see husbands killing their wives' love for them by turning them into slaves and servants. We see wives killing their husbands' affection for them by nagging and fault-finding and complaining, and disillusioning them by turning into slovens and failures. And we see husbands and wives together murdering love by senseless quarrels.

And why do they do it, we do not know, when they must pay such a bitter price for their crime, or their folly. For it is such an easy thing to keep love alive, but it is so impossible to revive it when it is dead. A little tenderness, a little consideration, a few compliments would save practically every marriage, and yet the great majority of husbands and wives are too stupid to use even such a simple precaution to save the wreck of their marriage. What a pity.

Dear Dorothy Dix: What should be the status of a second wife? Should she not have the privileges of a first wife?

We are three working women who are married to widowers with children. We earn our own living and are not dependent upon our husbands for support. On the contrary we help with the living expenses. But our husbands do not give us the privilege of spending any of their money. Nor do we have the right to supervise our households. We have to sit back and let our husbands' children take charge of everything. Otherwise, our husbands are very nice men.

What is your advice to women placed in the position we are? What does the future hold for us?

THREE UNHAPPY WIVES.

Second Wife Has Same Rights As First.

ANSWER: A second wife is just as much a man's wife as his first wife, and entitled to the same privileges, though a lot of widowers who remarry do not seem to think so.

The second wife is entitled to a share of the husband's earnings, and certainly to be the mistress of his house and sit at the head of the table, and his children should recognize her authority instead of running things themselves.

If a man considers his children above his wife, it shows that he has little respect for her, and she is certainly very foolish if she lets him get away with putting her in such an inferior position, and she is positively idiotic if she spends her money on helping to support his family.

My advice to you three put upon wives, is to go on strike and demand better treatment.

Dear Miss Dix: I am a girl 19 years old and think I am in love with a married man, but I am not sure because I have never been in love before and don't know what the symptoms are. This man is at least ten years older than I am and has three children. He and his wife are good friends of my family and he doesn't know how I feel about him.

Is what I feel for him love?

A SILLY GIRL.

ANSWER: No. It is just the passing fancy of a girl who is in love with love and who hangs her affections on any man in sight and imagines him to be her Fairy Prince.

Wake up from your little pipe dream, my dear, before it is too late, for nothing more disastrous can happen to a girl than for her even to think she is in love with a married man. If he is a decent man who respects her youth and ignorance of life, it is something of which she is always ashamed. And if he is a cad who takes advantage of her lack of sophistication and ability to protect herself, it makes her commit follies that break her own heart, that often wreck a home and that smears her name with scandal.

Higgins-Junkin Nuptials At St. John's, Lakefield

LAKEFIELD, July 7 — (ENS) — St. John's Anglican Church was the scene of a lovely wedding on Saturday afternoon when Colleen (Billie) Junkin, daughter of Mrs. Thomas Junkin and the late Mr. Thomas Junkin, became the bride of Robert Higgins, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robter Higgins, Peterborough.

Given in marriage by her uncle, Clayton Montgomery, the bride was charming in a floor length gown of white sheer, wtih shirred bodice and long full sleeves. Her fingertip veil of tulle illusion was held in place by a feather cap. She carried a bouquet of red roses and bouvardia.

Mrs. Jacqueline McCulloch sister of the bride was matron of honor. She wore a floor length gown of pink sheer, similar to the bride's and matching hat, and carried yellow roses.

Barbara Wideman, of Toronto, neice of the bride was bridesmaid, wearing a floor length gown of white eyelet embroidery and matching Dutch cap. She carried pink roses.

William McEwen of the R. C. A. F. was best man. Fred Mortlock of Oshawa and Eldon Jewell were ushers.

The church was decorated for the occasion with tall baskets of roses, white daises and delphiniums.

Rev. S. A. R. Wood officiated for the ceremony.

During the signing of the register Mrs. William Millage sang "I love you Truly." Mrs. J. Twist played the wedding music.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the bride's home. The bride's mother received in a mauve printed silk suit, with black accessories. She wore a corsage of pink roses. The groom's mother assisted in a gown of navy blue lace, navy hat and white acessories and corsage of red roses.

Later the bride and groom left for Toronto and Niagara Falls. For travelling, the bride chose a two-piece suit of printed silk jersey, with matching hat and white accessories Her corsage was of red roses. They will live in Peterborough.

Hutchinson-Insley Vows At St. Paul's in Warkworth

WARKWORTH, July 7—(ENS)—St. Paul's United church was beautifully decorated with flowers and ferns on Friday, July 2 for the marriage of Mary Bernice elder daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Insley, Warkworth, to Flying Officer Gordon Edward Hutchinson R. C. A. F. Vancouver son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hutchinson, Norham.

Rev. Rr. J. R. R. Cooper performed the ceremony and the wedding music was played by Miss Elaine Grant. Mrs. W Grant was soloist.

The bride who was given in marriage by her father wore a street length dress of white sheer, white hat and shoulder length veil. Her bouquet was of pink carnations and rosebuds.

Miss Norma Hutchinson, Toronto sister of the groom was bridesmaid. She wore a white dress and carried a nosegay of mixed flowers.

Mr. John Insley, Port Credit brother of the bride was best man and the ushers were Mr. Elton Hutchinson, Peterborough, and Mr. Lorne Watson R. C. A. F. Campbellford.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents where about forty guests were received by the bride's mother, who wore printed crepe with black accessories and the groom's mother, who wore black crepe with white accessories.

The dining room was attractively decorated in pink and white and the bride's table was centred with a tiered wedding cake.

Later the happy couple left on a short honeymoon. For travelling the bride wore a green printed two piece dress with white accessories.

The Stars Say . . . .

By GENEVIEVE KEMBLE.

For Thursday, July 8.

THIS APPEARS to be a day in which ideals, dreams, glamor and abilities born of emotional impulses and aspirations become manifest in the world of reality. It may be difficult, under such lofty impulsion, to concentrate the energes and efforts on the workaday, when the fine creative faculties clamor for expression. This may disturb or aggravate elders, but the strategic use of personal charm or heightened magnetism may wear away all antagonisms. It is wise to conserve these delicate forces and faculties, lest they undermine health.

Those whose birthday it is may enjoy a year in which the higher and finer phases of creative expression may clamor for constructiveform in a world of reality rather than ideals. Beauty, charm, emotional as well as physical and psychical forces are under splendid impetus for accomplishment.

A child born on this day may be richly endowed with artistic, musical and intellectual abilities and be idealistic and perhaps psychic or mystical.

Brintons Win Neat Tilt From Generals

Brintons, playing steady ball, came from behind in the later stages of Tuesday night's Girls' Softball League game at the Military Training Centre and defeated the Generals 11 to 7.

It was one of the best-played games of the season, with both outfits getting good pitching and fielding more steadily than usual.

D. Laver went the route on the hill top for the Brintons, and pitched effective ball, while Ruth Thomas also twirled well for the losers, although she weakened a bit toward the finish.

Brintons broke in front by scoring a run in the first inning but the Generals slammed out four hits and scored three times in the second to take the lead 3 to 1. Brintons closed the gap with a run in the fourth and tied up the game with another marker in the first of the fifth.

However, the Generals retaliated with another three-run uprising in their half of the inning and were again in the van this time by 6 to 3.

Brintons increased the excitement by coming back with three runs themselves in the first of the sixth to again sew up the count at 6-6, but once again the losers struck back in their end of the same frame to squeeze in a run and take the lead 7 to 6.

However, that was their last scoring and the Brintons came on in the last three innings to forge ahead and stay there. Beryl Lee, shortstop for the winners, started them on their way when she opened the first of the seventh with a home run that tied the score. Brintons kept up the attack and crossed the plate twice more in that inning. Then they cinched the game with two more counters in the ninth.

Nice catches by M. Ogden in left field and Helen English in centre for Generals featured the fielding.

War Hurts Turf Meet

CAMDEN, N.J., — (AP).—Garden State Park, which cost $2,000,000 to construct, is opening today for its second year's operations with what is hoped to be a 50-day turf meeting. How the fans will respond, however, is a real question because no train, trolley, taxi or bus service is available, the Federal authorities have ordered the closing of the parking lot and no telephone or telegraph lines can be installed because of war priorities.

Johnson Is Replaced

NEW YORK, (AP). — Si Johnson, proficient pitcher of the Phillies, told President Ford Frick of the National League he did not care to appear as the batting practice twirler at the majors' all-star feature Tuesday night. As a result Frick announced Ace Adams of N. Y. Giants had been named to replace the veteran Johnson.

LAWN BOWLING

By HERB MARTIN

The games that held the attention of the "onlookers" last night were the two Provincial playoffs. This is an annual event of our club and it always attracts a good deal of interest. The local boys fight, and fight hard, for it means if they are successful here then they go on to the next stage, and if successful, they then go on to Hamilton for the finals.

In the rink contest George Coleman, Jr., was pitted against George Gimblett, and so completely did the Coleman's put on the "Father and Son" act, aided by Joe Detcher and George Soulby, that they completely outclassed the Fire Chief and his "brigade." At one time the score stood 12-0, and the farther it went, well, it kept right on. The winning team played a grand game offensively and defensively, and every other way. It was their day and they made the best of it. As for the losers, they tried hard but just couldn't click.

In the doubles game, Harold Coleman and Wm. Jeffries, last year's winners, came from behind to beat the two veterans, Ross Downey and Nels Routley. This was by far the better game to watch. It was close all the way through, and it was only on the last two ends of the twenty-one end game that the winners were up. The bowling in this game was real bowling, and if one side lagged a bit the, other side took advantage.

Where our boys go next we don't know as yet, but we expect Chairman R. F. Downey will let us know in a few days.

It's a good thing that the boys can see the funny side of bowling. We'll let you in on a good one. While we were driving down from the green last evening, with the Fire Chief, we were talking about the game, and he said: "I knew something was wrong, I have this damn hat on backwards."

The rinks were:

G. Soulby	P. Moore
J. Detcher	Judge S. Smoke
G. Coleman, Sr.	H. Freeman
G. Coleman, Jr.	G. Gimblett

The Sports Round-Up

NEW YORK, July 7 — (AP). — Arne Andersson, Sweden's newest mile record-breaker, is due to try for another of Gunder Haegg's records to-morrow and this time the track fans hereabouts will be ready .....Since Arne's 4:02.6 mile last week they've heard a lot about various Swedish steppers.

Where's the plate?

Discussing some of the young flingers in the International League, baseball historian Ernie Lanigan recently unearthed a yarn about Charles Comiskey's pitching career to prove that the modern kids have fairly good control.... The "Old Roman" one of the games greatest first baseman, broke in as a hurler with lots of speed and not much else....In his first game in the old American Association in 1882, he beaned three Columbus players and after the game Chris Von Der Ahe, owner of the St. Louis club, advised him to quit pitching before he was arrested.

One minute sports page:

Old Johnny Risko, discharged from the Army because of a game leg and advanced age, has pared his weight down to 200 pounds, but says he isn't thinking of a comeback unless they want to toss him in with Tony Galento. "He's one guy I could still trim," says John ......Gordie Bell, the 17-year-old goalie who turned in so many shutouts for the Buffalo Hockey Club last winter, has enlisted in the Royal Canadian Navy and reported for training yesterday.

To-day's guest star:

Reese Hart, Raleigh (N.C.) Times: "Grid material at Fordham is reported to be so scarce that they may use a player next fall named Smith."

Tigers Triumph In Junior Battle

Last night at Quaker Diamond, Tigers beat Falcons 16-8 in a red-hot Catholic Junior League tilt. Falcons banged out 7 in the first to get an early lead but the Tigers fought hard and the game remained tight at 8-6 until the seventh when the Tigers slammed in ten runs to clinch the nod.

Murphy on the mound for Tigers pitched sterling ball backed by good support. Conroy twirled smooth ball for the losers until he weakened in the seventh being replaced by Caccavella. Good fielding was dished up both by Fergus Sheehy and Jim McDonald.

Big guns for the winners were Wade with a triple and single and B. Sheehy with two doubles. Willow benders for Falcons were Conroy with a triple and single, Ferren wtih a homer and single and John McDonald with three singles.

Winners Play Smart Ball Behind Akers

Playing smart ball behind steady pitching by Ronnie Akers and cashing in on every Soldier misque Ted Johnston's Genelecs handed the Military Training Centre club an 8 to 3 trimming in a City League fixture at Riverside Park on Tuesday evening.

The Soldiers came up with four errors and they figured in all the Genelec scoring. On the other hand the khaki team had to earn all their three runs.

It was a nice pitching duel between Akers for the winners and Jack Wilson for the Soldiers. Akers allowed two more hits than his opponent while Wilson issued six passes as compared with two dished out by the winning hurler. Up to the last of the fifth when the Soldiers started the scoring by squeezing a run over the rival pitchers had allowed but one hit each.

There was nothing doing in the scoring line until the second half of the fifth. Then Morgan started off with a single off Hawks' right hand on a drive down the third base line. Lenahan singled to right centre, sending Morgan to third. Anderson's sacrifice bunt to Don Holmes allowed Morgan to score. Herrick also tried to bunt, but popped a fly which Mowry took and Lenahan was doubled off second on the catcher's quick throw to Giardino.

Genelecs came back with two unearned counters in the first of the sixth. McNabb opened with a walk. Holmes fanned and Tucker flied to McIlveen but Mowry singled to the right centre, sending McNabb to third and taking second on the throw. Playford raised an easy fly to Lenahan for what should have been the third out, but the second baseman dropped the popper and McNabb scored. Moorhead promptly drilled a clothes line single to left, scoring Mowry. Hawks popped to Morgan.

The winners added another pair in the seventh. With one away Giardino singled to right. McNabb beat out a bunt and when the throw to first was wide he ran to second and Giardino pulled up at third. He was in position to score when Don Holmes drove a fly to McIlveen in left. Tucker bunted safely down the first base line scoring McNabb. Mowry bounded to Wilson to end the frame.

The Soldiers wasted three hits in their half. With one gone Morgan singled to third and Lenahan to left, Morgan stopping at second. Anderson singled to right, Morgan halting at third and Anderson was nipped at first when he rounded that bag and had to go back.

Genelecs made sure of the game in the first of the eighth. With one out Moorhead walked. Lenahan made a nice play on Hawks' roller to second forcing Moorhead, but with an easy double play in hand he threw high to first, putting Hawks on second. Akers then singled to centre, driving in Hawks and taking second on the throw to the plate. Giardino laced a single over second, sending Akers home, and taking second on the toss in. McNabb raised an easy fly to Parsons and the centre fielder muffed it, Giardino scoring. Don Holmes walked and Tucker promptly slapped a single into left to score McNabb. Mowry popped to McKerrigan.

Soldiers got one back in their half. Parsons singled through short and went to second on a wild pitch. The next two were easy but Wilson dropped a double on the left field foul line, scoring Parsons. He was out a moment after for leaving second too soon.

The Military Training Centre made it 8 to 3 by grabbing off a run in the ninth. Taylor tripled over Moorhead's head and scored when Morgan dumped a short double into left. Lenahan flied to McNabb. Hawks made a nice catch of Anderson's foul fly, and Herrick flied to Moorhead for the final out.

Manager Harry Morgan led the hitters, with a double and two singles in three official trips to the plate. Parsons and Lenahan had two blows each. For Genelecs Tucker and Giardino each had two safe hits.

SPORTS – DAY BY DAY

The battling Combines who have only been beaten once in five starts in the City League race will stack up against the 4th Battery club at Riverside Park tonight in what should be one of the tidiest struggles of the season. The team managed by Andy Delpellaro handed the Gunner an 8 to 6 defeat the last time they met and the Battery team is out for revenge while on the other hand the Combines need the win to keep in front of the Soldiers. The result should be plenty of excitement all the way down the line. The Battery will be without the services of big Dave Wilson who is honeymooning and the pitching burden will be thrown on the shoulders of Bob Crowe while the Combines have Sid Craig who beat the Artillerymen the last time out ready to throw for them in this important tilt. A win for the Battery would materially tighten up the league race and the Ellis-Starr outfit will be out there working their heads off to come down in front. There is no love between the two clubs and the argument looks like one of the hottest tussles of the whole campaign. One of the biggest City League crowds of the season should be on hand when the rivals tie into each other.

* * * * * *

The City League race tightened up considerably as a result of Genelecs' 8 to 3 triumph over the Military Training Centre last night. The win for Ted Johnston's team pulled the Soldiers out of first place and sent the Combines back to the top of the standing while it elevated the Genelecs into a three-cornered tie for third place with 4th Battery and the Switch Gear club. The race is so close right now that only a game separates the first five clubs. The Battery plays the Combines tonight, Switch Gear and the Soldiers clash Thursday night and the Gunners and Genelecs meet Friday so that by the end of the week the standing may have quite a different look. Anything can happen and probably will. Anyway here is the standing up to date:

	Won	Lost	P.C.
Combines	3	1	.750
Soldiers	4	2	.667
Genelecs	3	3	.500
4th Battery	2	2	.500
Switch Gear	2	2	.500
Cardinals	0	4	.000

The Combines can increase their first-place margin with a win over the 4th Battery tonight. On the other hand the Gunners by winning would shove Soldiers back on the top of the heap and climb up to a second-place tie with the Combines. The race is just that close and every game from now in should be a battle.

Would Be A Honey

The expectation that Whipper Billy Watson, present holder of the British Empire wrestling championship and idol of the Toronto wrestling fans may be brought down here next Monday night as the head-liner for Frank Tunney's weekly mat festival at the Brock St. Summer Gardens has local fans all het up. Watson one of the fastest and cleverest wrestlers before the public today was seen in action here several years ago but good as he was then the fans who saw him perform will be surprised at the skill and poise and mat lore he has developed since then. He is rated as one of the best of the modern crop and he does about everything that any of the major mat-artists can do and does them all well. He will be pitted against the popular Irish Pat Flanagan, a grappler after his own style and while the Whipper should rate as the favorite in a match with the Toronto Irishman. Flanagan is strong and fast and clever enough to be formidable opposition even against the powerful British Empire title-holder. He should make Watson produce his best stuff and that should mean about the classiest bout of the season. Manager Tunney is giving Peterborough some of the best of the wrestling talent he has to offer and the signing of Watson for next Monday is proof of that fact.

The Aircraft girls whose fine showing against Westclox the other night when they tied the champions in the best battle of the year won the admiration of the fans will be back in action tonight at the East City Bowl with the Generals as their opponents. The Aircrafters who are the chief opposition the Westclox have to face for the senior loop honors, have a powerful club and their good work in their last appearance has won them a lot of support. The fans will be anxious to see them perform tonight and another big crowd is expected. The Generals, another club from the C.G.E. have some clever performers in their cast and if they happen to come up with one of their better games are liable to give the second-placers a torrid argument for the honors. Either Marilyn McCarthy or Norma Strickland will get the call to do the pitching for the Aircraft. Generals have not announced their pitcher but Patricia Wilson may be the choice for this important argument. The game is scheduled to start at 7 o'clock sharp.

Some Neat Pitching

Harry Gumbert who is having a good season with the St. Louis Cards came up with one of his finest pitching efforts of the campaign yesterday, holding the Phillies to three hits and as a result the Cards came through with a 4 to 0 victory, with Krause as the victim. It was Gumbert's sixth win of the season. His was not the only classy bit of pitching in the National League yesterday however for Al Javery for the Boston Braves and Ray Starr, veteran Cincinnati Red twirler had one of the neatest duels of the season. Both pitched six-hit ball and the Braves took the decision by the smallest possible margin, the final count being 1 to 0. Javery has already won eight games this season and has dropped seven. Starr has exactly broken even, his loss in this tight tussle being his seventh and he has won seven.

Longest game for some time in the majors was the 16-innings battle at Detroit which the Tigers finally won 4 to 3, dropping the Washington Senators three full games behind the Yanks. It was an exciting struggle with no scoring after Washington had pushed over two runs in the fourth to tie the score until the 16th inning. Then the Senators apparently won the game by scoring a run in the first half of the frame but they immediately proceeded to hand the laurels back to the Bengals in the second end of the inning. It took an error by Gerald Priddy to let the tying run in and Scarborough blew up to pass two batters and force in the winner. Meanwhile the Yanks were nosing out the St. Louis Browns 5 to 4, with Marius Russo winning his first game of the season. Brooklyn Dodgers were bumped off 9 to 4 by the Cubs in a night game and are now four games behind the Cards—and likely to stay behind.

Sporting Chili Con Carne: The City Softball League has decided to make next Tuesday night's game between the 4th Battery and the Military Training Centre a benefit for the Greek War Relief fund and every cent of the proceeds will go to that worthy cause....Sandulak, fast-fielding second gaseman of the Soldiers is away on furlough and he was missed last night. Lenahan who took his place had two errors and they cost the Soldiers exactly six runs....By one of those morning-after-the-holiday slips this page had a head yesterday that told of Pat Flanagan taking Frank Tunney in a wrestling bout....Promoter Tunney was here all right Monday night but the only thing that tossed him for a loss was the attendance....Howie Dalton, third baseman of the Soldiers is still out of action but his injured arm is coming around and he may be back in there soon....Chet Laabs of the St. Louis Browns hit his fifth homer in four days against the Yanks last night....Lefty Gomez has reached the end of the trail....The once-great southpaw has been unconditionally released by the Washington Senators....Al Smith of the Cleveland Indians has won seven games this season and is only credited with two losses. He came up with a four-hit shutout against the Athletics last night.

Play Commences This Evening In Kawartha City Golf League

Play will begin in the new City Golf League, at the Kawartha Golf and Country Club tonight. A few years ago a C.G.E. Shop League flourished at Kawartha, and when talk of reviving this league, was broached, it was decided to enlarge the idea, to take in all golfers, who would be interested. As a consequence, the Kawartha City League was formed and invitations to Peterborough Club golfers were extended, to enter teams.

At a meeting held a week ago, a committee headed by Ken Currie, chairman was elected to guide the destines of the league through its first season. Charlie Low is secretary of the league, and C. H. Crowe and Dave Price are members of the executive.

Sixteen teams of five men, divided into two groups, will begin digging the divots of the highway layout, in competition which will last seven weeks, during the height of the season. These matches will be played every Wednesday evening. There is plenty of incentive for the golfers, as the Committee has arranged to provide four prizes each night.

With the course rounding into mid-season form, 18 holes are now open for play, this competition should be one of the most successful that will be held during a busy season. All players are asked to be on the first tee by 6:00 or 6:15 p.m. in order that the matches may get away in time.

The playing days for this league are Wednesdays, at the Kawartha Club.

That Extra Something!
...You can spot it every time

THEY'LL tell you at ship's service departments how much ice-cold Coca-Cola means to the men in refreshment, in enjoyment and in morale. You read and hear similar things every day.

When people feel about a soft drink that way it's got something special. Coca-Cola has. A taste all its own. A drink that adds refreshment to thirst-quenching. Nothing refreshes like an ice-cold Coke.

A Coke and a sandwich! Everywhere you see that combination, you see something that is Canada in distant lands.

MONTREAL ROYALS DIVIDE DOUBLE BILL WITH TORONTO LEAFS

Gromek Whips Syracuse For 4th Time

By The Associated Press.

Steve Gromek, late of Cleveland Indians but now of Baltimore Orioles, defeated the Syracuse Chiefs for the fourth time this season last night. He is the only Baltimore hurler to have turned the trick even once.

Manager Jewell Ens tried to halt the Gromek whammy by starting Tom Delacruz, the slender Cuban who had blanked the Orioles in his previous two outings.

Delacruz was hammered from the hill in the seventh when the Orioles connected for a trio of runs that clinched their 6-3 decison.

Montreal and Toronto demonstrated that they weren't worn out by the recent collection of double-headers and staged another twin bill that was divided by identical, 5-4 scores.

In the night's other games, Young Fred Schmidt of Rochester, stopped Buffalo, 6-1, and Walt Dubiel blanked Jersey City, 2-0, for the Bears second straight over the Little Giants.

It was the third time Young Bubiel had whitewashed Gabby Hartnett's crew and made it the 17th scoreless defeat for Jersey City this season. Gene Corbett won the game in the first inning for Newark by lashing out a homer.

Schmidt, who now has won five blows while his mates, especially Red Schoendienst, found Lyle Parkhurst, Joe Roxbury and Al Ott no puzzle at all.

The Newark officials announced that a morning game would be played with Jersey City on July 21 and that next Sunday had been designated as Irvington Day, honoring Frank Hiller. Hiller, a rookie pitcher with the Bears, is a resident of the Newark suburb.

Glorious Gloria; She's A Professional Now

GLORIA . . . PRETTY AND PRETTY GOOD, TOO

Glorious Gloria Callen, the Nyack, N.Y., schoolgirl who holds more than 30 American swimming records, has turned professional and will tour as a featured performer of the Water Follies of 1943. Gloria, selected last year as the outstanding female athlete in the U.S., shattered all of Eleanor Holm's backstroke marks during her short career as an amateur swimmer.

Canadian Sport Snapshots

By CHARLES EDWARDS
Canadian Press Staff Writer

TORONTO, July 7 —(CP) — The first professional hockey league in history, the old International League, was recalled during the weekend when Roy Brown visited Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., for the first time in 36 years. He has lived in Brantford, Ont., since that time.

Ross MacKay of the Sault Ste. Marie Star says Brown was "perhaps the most popular individual hockey player in the history of this community, not even excepting the stars of the Greyhounds who won the Allan Cup 19 years ago." Brown was a star point player (defence) in 1905 and in 1907 was captain and coach of the Sault team.

The league, which preceded the old National Hockey Association, forerunner of the N. H. L., by four years, comprised the Canadian Sault Michigan Sault, Pittsburgh and the Michigan centres of Houghton and Calumet.

Few modern fans remember the league but its players included some of greatest in history. There were for instance, Cyclone Taylor and Hoddie Stuart, whose names always are mentioned in discussion of all-time stars.

Other player whose names have gone down in hockey history were numerous. They included Newsy Lalonde, Didier Pitrie and Jack Laviolette, all of whom were later with Montreal Canadiens; Con Corbeau, later with Toronto; Riley Hern of Montreal Wanderers Joe Marks of Quebec Bulldogs; Marty Walsh of Ottawa. There was Oliver Seibert, father of Earl Seibert, star defenceman of the present Chicago Black Hawks.

Those were the days of seven-man 60-minute hockey (two periods of 30 minutes each) when the regular players went through without substitution unless seriously injured. But Brown told MacKay that the old game had certain advantages over the present game. "Hockey, with the teams each carrying three forward lines, should be a faster game now. But the too frequent shifting of the lines and of individual players has the effect of slowing it down from the point of view of the spectator while numerous regulations connected with the lines that mark the ice up like a checker board these days have something of the same effect."

Brown thinks stickhandling now is almost a lost art. He recalled the wizardry of Lorne Campbell, who played centre for Pittsburgh in the old International. "He could nurse the puck down the ice without ever moving his stick more than six inches."

And in Brown's opinion, Tommy Phillips, captain of the Kenora Thistles who won the Stanley Cup in 1906, was the greatest player of all time at his wing.

Southworth To Manage National League Team

NEW YORK—(AP) Billy Southworth of the St. Louis Cards is managing the National League squad which will oppose the American Leaguers in the All-Star game at Philadelphia next Tuesday night. In this, his first appearance as an All-Star pilot, Southward has made two decisions—he says he will make no effort to get all the National League players into the line-up and no club will be asked to keep a pitcher out of a league tilt for use in the dream fixture.

Yankees Take 5-4 Win From St. Louis

By JUDSON BAILEY,
Associated Press Sport Writer.

New York Yankees went west a week ago and lost four games in a row. They nearly skidded out of first place and they caused some hasty comments to the effect that maybe the McCarthy men weren't miraclemen after all.

But the Yankees were just teasing their rivals. The champs have won three games in the last two days and suddenly zoomed back to a three game lead.

They wacked out a 5-4 decison over St. Louis Browns last night to give Marius Russo, the sore-armed southpaw, his first victory of the season in spite of the super-heated hitting of Chet Laabs.

Laabs drove in all four of St. Louis runs and collected his 10th home run of the year and fifth in four days. But this individual display was wasted because the Yanks bunched a single and three doubles for a four-run rally that sewed up the game in the fifth inning.

16 Inning Game.

The Yankees were helped by the slump of second place Washington Senators, who dropped a 16-inning 4-3 game to Detroit Tigers yesterday for their sixth defeat in eight games of the western trip.

After tying the score at two-all on Bob Johnson's homer in the fourth, Senators battled 11 scoreless innings and took the lead with a run in the top of the 16th. Then they gave the game away in the Tiger's turn at bat as Gerry Priddy let in one run on an error and relief Pitcher Rae Scarborough forced in the other with two walks.

The victory lifted the Tigers within half a game of second place.

Lefty Al Smith of the Cleveland Indians shut out Philadelphia Athletics 2-0 on four hits in a mound duel with Orie Arntzen which was decided when the Tribe scored the only runs of the game in the eighth inning.

St. Louis Cardinals boosted their National League lead back to four games by blanking Philadelphia Phillies 4-0 on three-hit hurling by Harry Gumbert, who earned his fourth straight victory and sixth of the season. The Cards scored three runs before a man was out in the first inning.

Meanwhile Brooklyn Dodgers were humbled 9-4 by Chicago Cubs, who acquired their first triumph of the year in Ebbets Field. Claude Passeau going the route for his seventh win, was tapped for 13 hits while the Cubs made only 10 of three pitchers, but the Bruins bunched theirs for three runs in the first two in the second and four in the seventh.

In the day's only other game Boston Braves nosed out Cincinnati Reds 1-0 in a pitching battle between Al Javery and Ray Star. Javery singled home the only run.

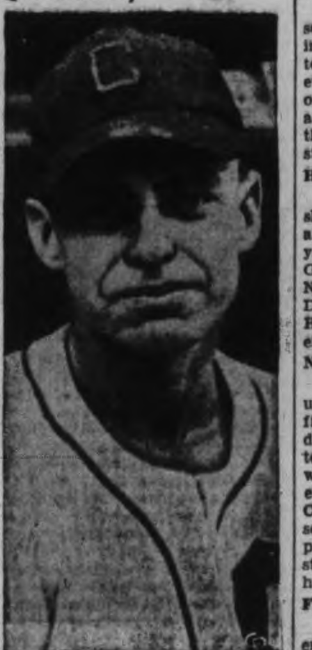
Flier Loses Crown

CALGARY, July 7 (CP).—Gordon Rutten of the R.C.A.F., formerly of Lethbridge, came close to winning the Alberta Provincial golf crown. In the final round at the Calgary Golf and Country Club, Pat McFarlane of Wetaskiwin defeated Rutten one up to take the title.

Quite a Guy



Meet Guy Curtwright, rookie outfielder of the Chicago White Sox, who was just stopped after hitting safely in 26 games. Curtwright was purchased from St. Paul, where he hit .291 in 101 games. Now he is the leading hitter of the American League.

BETTER THAN RECORD — By Jack Sords

Here and There in Sport

(By The Canadian Press)

The public wants baseball during wartime, declared President George M. Trautman of the American Association at its mid-season directors' meeting at Chicago yesterday after reports had been received regarding attendance figures. No pessimism was apparent among the Association moguls.

Trautman brought out that the Spring weather had been the worst in years and transportation formed a problem, yet the league was running 10 to 11 per cent. above last year's attendance figures. The patronage during last holiday weekend had "certainly been the best in the last 10 years," he announced. Milwaukee and Indianapolis, first and second in the league standings, were leading the clubs in attendance gains.

The Association directors confirmed an earlier decision to abandon the annual all-star game for this year because of travel conditions but, otherwise, the diamond solons agreed to carry on in scheduled fashion.

Must Get Insurance

Because farmers' hayracks and other horse-drawn vehicles were transporting the public to and from the track of the Niagara Racing Association and had become public carriers, the town council of Fort Erie last night adopted a bylaw requiring owners of the carryalls to secure liability insurance for the protection of passengers and other road-users.

Must Report Immediately.

The Boston Red Sox purchased George Metkovich, outfielder of the San Francisco Seals of the Pacific Coast League, on condition that he report immediately. The National League club also came across with a player to complete the deal, Outfielder Dee Miles, previously obtained from Philadelphia Athletics.

Gomez Released

Vernon (Lefty) Gomez stepped out of major league company yesterday when he was given his unconditional release by the Washington Senators whom he joined last May after he had been released by Boston Braves. The once-famous southpaw had started only one game for the Senators. For 12 years he had been a pitching mainstay of the New York Yankees.

Fat For Admission

The Brooklyn Dodgers are doing something new again. For the coming Saturday matinee, when the team will be host to the Pirates, every lady who brings half-a-pound of fat—the kitchen kind—will be admitted free. This is said to be the first of fat salvage admission stunts for ball.

Holes Tee Shot

Ronald Johnson holed his tee shot, the first ace of the season around the Royal City, on the 181-yard seventh hole at the Guelph Golf and Country Club, using a No. 5 iron. He was playing with Dutch Hiller, pro hockey star, and Harold S. Compton, also of Kitchener.

No Good for Baseball

Physical jerks in the army build up muscular fitness for combat efficiency but the training does not develop baseball players, according to Lieut. George R. Tebbetts who was seven years in the majors before enlisting in the U.S. Army Air Corps. At the Waco, Tex., flying school, Tebbetts said the physical program was good for football stalwarts and boxers but would not help baseball.

Faced By 21 Batters

Hat Johnson of Fort Erie, Ont., entered the baseball Hall of Fame for the Niagara Peninsula yesterday. In a municipal senior baseball fixture, Johnson, on the mound for Fleet Aircraft, was faced by only 21 batters in a seven-innings affairs against the Hortons, the score being 10-0. Second baseman H. Renshaw secured the only safety against Johnson but was caught stealing second.

No College Football

At Washington yesterday, Rep. Samuel Weiss of Pennsylvania told Congress that unless the U.S. Army reverses its policy the place to see football next autumn would be the nearest high school gridiron. Former Duquesne star and pro football referee Weiss urged the Army to permit soldiers to engage in college games. Military officials replied in the negative, however, with the comment, "This is a war."

Enters Softball Team

After an absence of two years from the Ontario Softball Association, Niagara Falls, Ont., has decided to have a team in the provincial organization to play in the Intermediate "A" series. The Cataract nine will have a bye into the playdowns but has scheduled many exhibition games with New York State and district clubs.

Councillors Ask For Supplies From Controller

HAVELOCK, July 7 — (ENS)— A special request for oil for completing repairs on George Street is to be sent by the Clerk to the Oil Controller, it was ordered on Monday night at the council meeting. Reeve Seeney presided over the meeting and Councillors Sanderson, Ketchen and Martin were present.

On motion by Councillors Martin and Ketchen that the Clerk write the Quaker Oats Company, Peterborough, regarding the earnings of Mr. Edward Dafoe as it is considered that his salary is sufficient to meet this small hospital account.

In the matter of the Bell Telephone Company's request for some changes on Oak street and permission to do this work to be made satisfactory by W. J. Akins and a copy be forwarded to them on motion by Councillors Sanderson and Ketchen.

Asked For Changes

Mr. Gordon Young asked the Council about filling to be placed in the hole in front of his residence and Mrs. James Craighead requested that the water be run from this spot, and the Council agreed to look this matter over in the near future.

Regarding the matter of Mr. Houston renting the Hall for the Milk for Britain Fund on July 1, the clerk was instructed to write and reduce the rent to $5.00 because of the worthy cause, on motion by Councillors Martin and Sanderson.

Purchase Lots

A request was received from Mr Harry Tinney to purchase lots No. 7 and No. 8 and 44 and 45 on the west side of Concession street and south of Princess street for $10.00 and that he would clean them up, and on a motion Councillors Martin and Ketchen this was accepted.

The relief officer's report for June was accepted and an account of $6.56 was ordered paid, on a motion by Councillors Ketchen and Sanderson.

The following accounts were ordered paid on motion by Councillors Sanderson and Martin.

W. J. Akins, salary and phone, $87.50; Bank of Toronto, hydro bill, $10.28; George Jones, street work, $16.35; Harry Tinney, street work, $6.15; Roy Davis, cartage, $24.00; Ed Fennel, insurance renewal, $19.50; A. Glided to England

As McNair, a holder of the Distinguished Flying Cross, explained it, he had just shot down a Messerschmitt when his engine went dead. He was some distance inside France at the time—but was well over 20,000 feet.

He took the shortest route, although it lay over the strongly-defended town of Boulogne.

Ack-ack fire bounced his gliding plane but he managed to keep going, finally making the Channel and an airfield in England.

His one comment was: "It was wonderful flying alone, so peacefully and without any noise."

Britain continued to enjoy a two-week break in the aerial offensive except for the diversion caused when two German fighters flew over East Anglia last night and machine-gunned one area. No persons were seriously injured.

Cost Of Living Index Said Inaccurate

By C. R. BLACKBURN
Canadian Press Staff Writer

OTTAWA, July 7—(CP). — Finance Minister Ilsley told the House of Commons last night that ways and means are being studied for overcoming the technical difficulties of including a wide range of commonly-used fruits and vegetables in the cost-of-living index.

Replying to protests from many quarters that the cost of living had increased far beyond the small percentage reported by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics, Mr. Ilsley said it was possible the index was not absolutely accurate but it was as good as that of any country.

But, apart from oranges, potatoes and onions, it was so far technically impossible to include other fruits and vegetables because of the seasonal nature of their appearance and the methods of sale, he said.

Stanley Knowles (C.C.F. Winnipeg North Centre) raised the question, and said a survey in Winnipeg had shown a 7.71 per cent. increase in about 10 weeks of this year, and a total increase of 48 per cent. since the war started.

Just Ask Women.

Angus MacInnis (C.C.F. Vancouver East) said every woman in Canada who buys for her family knows that the increase in the cost of living is far more than shown in official figures.

The House spent the afternoon on agriculture items in the war appropriation bill for the current fiscal year and devoted the evening to finance items, particularly the $14,300,000 item for the Prices Board.

John Diefenbaker (Prog. Con. Lake Centre) declared there was lax enforcement of Price Board regulations but Mr. Ilsley said there had been 3,335 prosecutions since December 1, 1942, with convictions in 94 per cent. of the cases.

Mr. Knowles said many items of food now were off the market and people were forced to buy foods more expensive than those to which they were accustomed. Also, buyers got less value for the same money due to deterioration in the quality of goods, particularly wearing apparel.

Mr. Ilsley suggested the reason people were buying more expensive grades of food was because there was more purchasing power being distributed.

Mr. Knowles said the reason was because the cheaper grades had disappeared from the market. The higher-priced goods were all that were available.

"Where is the rest of it?" Mr. Ilsley asked.

"I do not know," Mr. Knowles replied.

Thomas Reid (Lib. New Westminster) claimed the Government was taking advice from Eastern packers which discriminated against independent meat packers in British Columbia.

Mr. Ilsley said the Meats Administrator was from Alberta and the manager of one of the British Columbia packing houses on whose behalf Mr. Reid spoke was a member of the Advisory Meat Committee and was frequently consulted. The difficulties were technical and were being worked out.

Mr. Diefenbaker said he expected 1943 to place the greatest test on price ceiling and anti-inflation policy with the national income increased by some $400,000,000 and possibly $500,000,000 less civilian goods available.

"Unless there is the strictest enforcement aided by the co-operation of the Canadian people as a whole, inflation will progress by leaps and bounds during the present year," he said.

"Does the minister think that the prosecution of 3,300 people in 16 months represents a serious endeavor to enforce the Board's regulations?" Mr. Diefenbaker asked.

"It never occurred to me that 433 prosecutions in one month was a small number," Mr Ilsley replied. "You cannot be prosecuting everybody all the time and we are prosecuting quite a number."

He said thier were 894 prosecutions for infractions of price regulations, 952 for rental infractions, 465 rationing, 225 for other prices board order violations, 467 for violating of gasoline regulations, 263 for tires and 63 others for violations of the munitions and supply board regulations.

Fines Too Small.

Mr. Diefenbaker said also that fines were too small. He suggested the fixing of a minimum penalty.

During the afternoon sitting, Mr. Gardiner told members who criticized the export of dairy cattle to the United States that so long as the cattle population of Canada was not being lowered he would not move to prevent this export.

There had been heavy exports but at the moment there were more cows in Canada than ever before. So long as that situation could be more maintained it was.

He said in reply to other questions that in spite of lowered production resulting from backward spring cheese exports overseas had been maintained according to contract, and he looked for a close to normal production season.

There was no intention of increasing the price of cheese to the farmer, Mr. Gardiner said. Nor was it the intention of interfering with the price of butter which was selling at a price which would not permit competition with outside markets.

The fact Kula Gulf is only 15 miles long and about eight miles across it at its widest point made it obvious that the battle was between limited and comparatively light sea armament. (In Washington, unofficial comment was that "the decisive naval action of the present offensive in the South Pacific apparently is still to be fought," with neither side as yet thrown in its battleships and aircraft carriers.)

Seven Planes Downed

In air battles over the Solomons fighting scene, seven more Japanese planes were reported downed, bringing enemy losses there alone to 164. Eighteen raiders inflicted some damage yesterday on Allied Rendova positions but three were destroyed by ground defences. The other four were bagged by planes over Kula Gulf as they attempted to break up the bombing of the beached destroyer.

Twenty-seven enemy bombers with an escort of 21 Zeros tried a daylight raid on Darwin, Australia, causing slight damage. R.A.F. Spitfires manned by Australians and British pilots downed five bombers and two Zeros. Seven Spitfires were lost but three pilots were saved and three others were seen to bail out.

Fifteen Japanese planes raided the Nassau Bay area, 12 miles down the coast from Salamaua, New Guinea, where Allies landed June 30 in another daylight stab, but the enemy planes failed to inflict either damage or casualties, the communique said.

In still another Japanese aerial effort, nine bombers and four fighters went after the Bena Bena area 90 miles northwest of the Salamaua front where the Allies perhaps possess landing fields known to have been built there before the war. The raid was characterized as ineffective.

The Allied air force also was busy. Flying 500 miles northwest of Darwin, two-engined bombers set off explosions at the enemy airdrome of Penfoe at Koepang, on Dutch Timor. Other Allied planes struck at Lae, in the vicinity of the Salamaua fighting, and at enemy bases far to the northwest on Dutch New Guinea.

SETS MILK RECORD

The Jersey cow, Springville Raleigh Girl, 84944, owned and bred by S. S. Staples, Ida, and owned by Perry Neals & Sons, North Monaghan, has recently completed a splendid R.O.P. record, producing as a seven-year-old 12,692 pounds of milk, 632 pounds of fat, in 365 days, with an average test of 4.98%.

BLOOD DONORS

Fifty-four persons gave blood at the Blood Donors Clinic today. Dunsford, Minden and Lindsay were outside communities represented in the morning's activities. As usual, contributions were made by employees of a number of local industries. It is thought that the period of summer vacations is largely responsible for the decrease in the numbers of donors in recent weeks.

CAR IS STOLEN

During Monday night an automobile belonging to Dr. W. S. Fitzpatrick was stolen from the rear of Preston's service station on Charlotte street where Dr. Fitzpatrick has been parking his machine. Hood and Cumming's service station was also broken into during the night and a quantity of naptha gas stolen and police believe that the same parties were concerned in the two cases.

SWITCH STAND DAMAGED

A C.N.R. switch stand near the Bethune Street-Brock Street crossing has been badly damaged by a hit-and-run truck. The machine which struck the stand is thought to have been a light panel truck, the driver of which failed to report the accident. C.N.R. Constable Ray Morden of Lindsay is here investigating the affair.

HAD NO LICENSE

Driving without a license cost Elmer Hickey of Omemee a fine of $10 and $2.50 costs in police court this morning when he entered a plea of guilty to the charge. Herb. McKay also pleaded guilty to not coming to a full stop before entering a through street and was fined $2 and $1 costs.

Kinsmen Send $1,500 To Headquarters

Peterborough Kinsmen under the chairman of the Milk for Britain committee, Howard Shimer, sent to headquarters on Tuesday a donation of $1,500, making a total of $5,290 contributed through the Kinsmen and Kinettes since the first of the year. Of this sum the Kinettes have been responsible for $1,273 and the Kinsmen $4,017. This amount will purchase 52,900 quarts of milk.

Today is also reported the proceeds from the shopping certificate draw which amounted to $1,133.86.

Failed To Return To Scene Of Crash

Pleading guilty to a charge of having failed to return to the scene of an accident Jack Cunhill was fined $25 and $1 costs by Magistrate O. A. Langley, K. C., in police court this morning.

The charge against Cunhill originated in a recent accident outside the Albert Street gate of the Genelco Limited. According to the police report Cunhill was the driver of a car that pulled out from the north curb just as a motor cyclist drove by. The motor cycle went out of control and struck a pedestrian on the sidewalk on the south side of Albert Street and both he and the cyclist was injured. The police stated that Cunhill had driven away and did not return to the scene.

"This is not so serious," commented Magistrate Langley after reading the police report of the accident and then imposed the minimum fine under the section, $25.

Adjournment Ordered Price Ceiling Case

When a charge against Mrs. Margaret Hartley, Smith Township of selling ice cream, soft drinks and peanuts between September 1, 1942 and May 12, 1943 at prices higher than were just and reasonable under the Wartime Prices and Trades regulation was called in police court this morning, Mrs. Hartley entered a plea of not guilty.

She was defended by W. J. Arthur Fair.

W. F. Huycke, K. C., prosecuting for the local branch of the Wartime Prices and Trade Board, said that he understood there was going to be a plea of guilty and accordingly had not called any witnesses for this morning.

"I object to that remark going into the records," said Mr. Fair "There has never been any intimation by my client that she was going to plead guilty."

An adjournment was ordered by Magistrate Langley until July 21.

MOSCOW'S CHANGED LINE

LONDON — (CP). — Moscow now begins and ends all broadcasts in foreign languages with the slogan: "Death to the German invaders." Before the Commintern was disbanded the slogan was: "Workers of all Lands, Unite."

Ontario Farmers Busy Harvesting

Ontario farmers are caught up in the swirl of harvesting, according to the weekly report of the Ontario Department of Agriculture.

"Yields on the average are heavy," says Ontario County. York too, Halton, Simcoe, in fact all the way across the province.

"All crops were stimulated by the rain last week, and prospects are exceptionally good." That's from Grey.

Pea-viners are operating in Hastings, but the crop is going to be light. They were still planting late potatoes in Frontenac toward the end of last week.

"Grain crops are growing well," says Lennox-Addington. "Everything is late, but the outlook has improved a great deal."

In the Lanark district excessive rain last week did a great deal of damage, filled ditches and creeks to the level of last spring and added the loss of delay to the actual financial setback to the crops.

Bruce farmers report some rust in the fall wheat. Dufferin live stock is doing well on excellent pasture. In South Simcoe farmers are trying to hire buck-rakes or hay pressing outfits in order to handle their heavy hay crop.

Farmers are hindered by lack of help, is recurrent note throughout the review from most of the counties of the province.

9,000 Miners Out

PITTSBURGH, July 7 —(AP)— United Mine Workers district officers reported fewer than 9,000 —all of these in Pennsylvania — of the 521,000 miners in the United States remained away from the pits yesterday. Union leaders predict the two-week strike's ending to-day.

MORE POLISH DIE-HARDS

LONDON — (CP). — A former Lord Mayor of Warsaw and the 70-year-old widow of a one-time Polish ambassador to Berlin and Ankara were among 70 Poles shot after the Gestapo found a secret printing press in a Warsaw house.

Bag Jap Sub

Wellington, New Zealand, July 6 (Delayed)—(CP)

PRIME MINISTER Peter Fraser announced today that a Hudson bomber manned by a New Zealand crew operating from Guadalcanal in the Solomons had sunk a large Japanese submarine.

There is reason to believe that an air attack on another enemy submarine also was successful, Fraser said.

Church Schools Give Aid To War Victims

One of the very happy features of the work connected with the rasing of money to relieve the distress of air raid victims in Britain through the Peterborough and District British War Victims Fund has been the support given by the public at large, from young to old in all walks of life without distinction of class or creed, showing a unity of purpose which has spoken so well in the amount that has been raised and sent to the Lord Mayor of London.

For the past two weeks almost every day has seen an account of how children in the public schools have been working to help those in need, and this day sees two different groups of children from the church schools in this city turning in the results of their work for the same objectives, and what a splendid work for them to be associated with each other in doing.

When the fund made a special appeal at Christmastide last year, the Church schools of this city responded 100 per cent, to which they added further contributions later on, and now in to-day's receipts St. Peter's School through the principal Sister Lucretia is once again represented with a contribution of $10.60 which was raised through a paper sale, and salvaging of victrola records, while the pupils of St. Mary's Convent through Sister Philomena, their principal gave another $7.00 to add to their previous gifts to help the boys and girls in Britain.

Recital Brings $6.90.

Another group of students in a somewhat different sphere, that of striving for cultural advantage in the study of music are also listed in to-day's receipts, when the pupils of Mrs. R. C. Searles utilized the occasion of a recital held recently as the means of raising money for the fund under her leadership.

This was done through means of a collection and it netted the sum of $6.90 being at least the 5th occasion when this same group has contributed in a similar manner by the same means, itself a wortwhile achievements, besides the success they made of their performance at the event itself, in which they were assisted by Bernard Holloway, cello soloist.

The fund is now getting close to the time when it can send another £500 to London, there being $2,087 on deposit to its credit in the bank, leaving the sum of $153 required to complete and make it an established fact.

Building Licenses Granted Senators

OTTAWA, July 7 — (CP).—Permits were issued to four Senators for residential construction in the period September 1, 1942, to June 1, 1943, the Munitions Department reported on Tuesday in a House of Commons return.

There were no licences issued to members of the House of Commons during that period, the Department said in reply to questions by G. K. Fraser (Prog. Con., Peterborough West).

Licences granted to Senators were: Senator A. C. Hardy, Brockville, Ont., repairs to building, $3,000; Senator C. W. Robinson, Moncton, N.B., repairs to building damaged by fire, $1,500; Senator J. J. Duffus, Peterborough, Ont., $5,000; Senator P. R. DuTremblay, L. Aboord-a-Plouffe, Que., repairs $4,996.

Charged

N. M. Stephens is one of the four men charged with conspiracy in connection with the Selective Service military call-ups. It is alleged that 40 men of military age have obtained deferment. Stephens has been remanded.

Long Adjournment Granted Farmers

Fred Demofski and Alfred Haugen, the two young Saskatchewan men, brought here under the government's farm help scheme to assist in the Ontario harvest were liberated this morning on a long adjournment when they appeared in police court to answer two charges each. They were immediately taken out of court by George A. Gillespie and despatched to the farms where jobs were awaiting them.

The two men were arrested Monday night after complaints had been received by the police of two men breaking bottles on Hunter street.

Demofski was charged with having been drunk and also with depositing glass on a highway and his companion was arraigned on a vagrancy count and also for putting glass on the street.

Pleas of not guilty were entered and Hon. G. N. Gordon, K.C., who appeared for the accused said they were ready to go on with their trial.

"These men were brought down here from Saskatchewan under the government scheme to assist in the harvest," said Mr. Gordon, "Mr. Gillespie is here to put them to work and I am defending them without charge and if the crown keeps them away from their jobs, it will be defeating the government's effort."

F. D. Kerr, K.C., who appeared for the crown said that he was willing to agree to a long adjournment to see how the two behaved and by consent Magistrate O. A. Langley, K.C., adjourned all four cases until August [illegible].

Muskie Weighing 18 Pounds Is Quite Live Main Street Topic

"Some soldiers were manoeuvrin' around in a field, and I was watch-reelin' it in, thn giving it a quick reelin, it in, then giving it a quick cast and watch the soldiers over in the field. This time I know I'm at the end of the line, so I give another cast; didn't wait to see where ithit; and I look over at the soldiers again, and something nearly pulled my right arm off."

Cliff Woodcock didn't get a look at that "something for at least half an hour.

"As I say, I wasn't paying much attention to fishin' just lobbing them in there, out where I knew there was a bunch of weeds, and then all of a sudden this big fellow nearly pulled me into the canal."

Mr. Woodcock held up the muskie in front of the Churchill restaurant last night.

"How much does itweigh? he asked a reporter.

"Around twelve pounds," was the hesitant and inexpert estimate.

"Twelve pounds," Mr. Woodcock repeated with something like a tincture of humor and mild derision in his tone. "Eighteen if it's a pound."

Someone suggested weighing it on the after-dinner scales in the restaurant vestibule. The platform was not wide enough for the muskie, its head and tail resting on the floor at either side.

So, Mr. Woodcock weighed first, without the big fish, some one holding it by the gills while the machine stopped at 150 pounds. Then Woodcock plus the muskie showed 168 pounds. That meant an eighteen-pounder, and humiliation for a brash reporter, whose one and only muskie was a celebrated specimen of eight pounds.

This fish was caught in Thompson's Bay in the canal south of Nassau, and Mr. Woodcock took two out of there Monday, and then brings home this eighteen-pounder.

"There was quite a lot of weeds and lily pads, just the right spot for this time of year. They're losing their teeth and they look for soft food, frogs and that kind. I nailed this fellow with a silk line and one hook, special for fishing in weeds. And he struck and battled an opening round on the surface, he takes down and winds the line around weeds."

Mr. Woodcock lives at 80 Victoria Avenue, and fishing these urban waters above and below the city has got him various mentioning in the Examiner and its Tourist Edition, just about every year. He contends that you can get all the fish you want right around Peterborough.

He did not reach the end of his comments on Peterborough's rating as a muskie centre because a genial drunk drifted right into the centre of the monologue and took over from there on.

"What town am I in?" he asks, and when some one said 'Millbrook' he answers out of the fog, 'never in Millbrook before'.

All hands knew him. According to his wandering story he was at a poker party, including three local professional men, and he left the house for a minute, and apparently took a long detour thinking he was retracing his steps.

"I've got to get back there," he continued, pulling out a wad that looked like a century or more. "I thought I was headin' back to house and here I am. Were you ever so drunk you didn't know where you were... I've got to get a taxi to take me back there."

"Where'll you tell the taxi man to take you?" some one asked.

"I don't know, but I gotta get there; they'll wonder where I've gone."

May be the Woodcock story is complete any way, but at that stage of the drunk's woozy maundering, the reporter moved away as a young airman came out of the restaurant.

"Hello there sergeant. Where am I anyway? Pardon me, I see you're a corporal; flying officer one of these days I'll bet. They tell me I'm a swell fellow when I'm drunk...."

Obituaries

JOHN P. FLOOD

John P. Flood, formerly reeve of Ennismore and a resident of that village all his life, died Tuesday at St. Joseph's Hospital following a short illness. He was 72 years old.

Born in Ennismore the son of the late Thomas Flood and Eliza Galvin, he came of a pioneer family and was a cheesemaker for the community for more than 25 years. He was an ardent worked in St. Martin's Church, a member of the Holy Name Society and the Altar Society, and sang in the choir for 30 years.

Surviving are his wife, formerly Clara Scollard, a brother, Peter of Toronto, and a sister, Mrs. Margaret Murphy of Peterborough.

The funeral leaves the late residence at 9:45 a.m. Friday for St. Martin's Church, where Mass will be solemnized. Burial will be in St. Martin's Cemetery, Ennismore.

THOMAS FOX GROOMBRIDGE.

Thomas Fox Groombridge, 461 Bolivar Street, died at his home Tuesday after an illness of a year. He was 75 years old.

Born in Ramsgate, Kent, England the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. William Groombridge, he crossed to Canada in 1924 and came directly to Peterborough to live. He was a member of St. John's Anglican Church and of the Oddfellows and Buffaloes in England. For a number of years he was employed at J. J. Turner & Sons, and then for a time worked with his son Leslie in the Groombridge Auto Body Supply Shop.

He is survived by his wife, the former Martha Bailey, and by three sons and three daughters, George, Leslie, Mrs. Harry Bassett, and Mrs. J. Douglas, all of Peterborough; Mrs. H. G. Thompson of Toronto, and Sydney of Ramsgate, England. A brother, James, also lives in Ramsgate.

The funeral will be held on Friday at 2:30 p.m. from the late residence, with services conducted by Rev. Canon W. P. Robertson of St. John's Church. Interment will be at Little Lake Cemetery.

Factory Starts Packing Peas

Packing of the new crop of peas was begun at the C.P.C. plant on Tuesday afternoon, and according to E. S. Ford, in charge of that department, the supply of Devon and York brands may be larger than last year.

"If we could get some extra help for the next three weeks, we would not have much of worry about," Mr. Ford said. "We've had to take on boys of 12 to 14 years. They are willing lads, but they are only youngsters, and they can do only so much.

"We started the viners into operation yesterday, and the first peas came right to the plant. Usually we have depended on the farmers for help at the viners, but they are up to their necks in the hay crop—and there we are."

The week-end rain did the pea crop substantial and visible good. The pods filled up more quickly, and "you could notice a difference even in two days."

Present estimates suggest that Canada Packers will turn out as many cases of peas as last year, possibly more.

If a bystander's comment is permissible, it might point to the anomaly of this Canadian democracy, permitting all kinds of unessential work to proceed while the storing up of food for next winter has to beg for a few men and get only school boys on their holidays.

$5 a Day For Miners

OTTAWA, July 7 — (CP).—The National War Labor Board, in a judgment made public last night, ordered that an interim pay rate of $5 a day be set for underground miners in the bituminous coal mines of the Edmonton and Carbon, Alta., areas. Previous rates were $4.41 daily in Edmonton and $4.20 in Carbon.

Fishing Lures Tourists Despite O.P.A.

Three significant and potent letters, "O. P. A.," are likely to bar the familjair and luring way into Kawarthas for many Americans whose thoughts are turning these sun-splashed days to a major question of summer time: "I wonder how the fish are biting up there this year?"

The habit of nine successive years was too strong for M. T. Newell of Burghill, Ohio.

"I decided that all they could do was to turn me back at the border, and so I set out with my wife and son for Rice Lake. We found the border open. Not a sign of O. P. A. and we've been up here about ten days. Fishing, I might add, is just fair, but we're hoping it is going to improve." Mr. Newell told the Examiner this morning

O. P. A. means the Office of Price Administration, one of whose official interests and duties is to enquire into the supply of gasoline for the trip over the Canadian border.

"Probaly a lot of people would head off in this direction," Mr. Newell explained, "if they felt sure the O. P. A. wasn't laying in wait for them to turn back."

"We came up to Frank Elmhirst's, but we found some of the local people had taken cottages because they thought there wouldn't be many come up from the States this season. Just now we are at Hiawatha. I counted six Ohio cars around there this morning. At the border they gave us application forms for rations tickets, and we got the coupons when we arrived here. So everything was all right."

With Mr. Newell this morning was Claude Cumberland from Warren, Ohio, whose party left their cars at home and travelled by train. Four of the vacationists at Elmhirst's also came by rail instead of the usual mortoring.

Cottages around Belmont Lake filled up last week, taken mostly by Ohio people, and although the Fourth of July tourist volume was only a fraction of peace time numbers, reports indicated that the "regulars" found a way of getting up here for a rest in spite of the restrictions.

YMCA Sponsors Vacation Club

Movies, ball games, swimming and other educational and sporting activities are just around the corner, for youngsters who join up for the 1943 edition of the Y.M.C.A. Vacation Club.

The club this year will be in session from the 12th to the 23rd of July, and registration day is the 10th, at the "Y" building, 475 George street north.

Ninety boys between the ages of 7 and 14 enlisted in the club last year.

Outstanding among the features arranged for these days of fun is a half-day's hike in the company of Alec Kay, noted bird-fancier, who gives frequent talks over radio station CHEX.

A softball league is to be organized and all the teams will meet each other to decide the championship. Every morning and afternoon there will be swimming in the filtered pool at the "Y". Educational and comic movies are to be shown for the boys' entertainment, and a number of visits to local industrial plants have been planned. The day's activities will begin with a half-hour given over to a devotional period and Bible study.

The director of the Vacation Club is D. T. Crawford, his assistant A. J. Noftall, and swimming instruction will me in the hands of Gordon Minty.

Britons Paying Third For War

LONDON, July 7—(CP).—Reporting that the average Briton last year paid about one-third of his income to support the war, Sir Kingsley Wood, Chancellor of the Exchequer, told the House of Commons today that he hoped a pay-as-you-go tax plan could be devised for Britain.

Sir Kingsley, replying to demands inspired by the Canadian and United States examples of pay-as-you-go taxation, promised a statement by early autumn.

He disclosed these tax facts at the end of a debate on a finance bill:

The budget expenditure this year will be eight times that of 1933-34.

Taxes last year took 40 per cent. of all private income.

Taxes now are paid by 12,500,000 Britons, of whom 10,000,000 are small taxpayers.

The war expenditure already has doubled that of 1914-18.

Britain already has borrowed a sum more than double the size of the national debt before the war began.

The nation must borrow half the money it spends this year.

Fishing Season Opens Report Good Catches

TRENT RIVER, July 7 (ENS)— Maskinonge and bass fishing opened last week, and was one of the most successful openings in years. Good catches were reported by practically every party, many getting their limit of muskies early in the day. The largest muskie reported to date was a 16½ pound beauty caught by Mr. Hall of Toronto on Saturday.

Drive Planned To Extend Hospital Care

Preparations for the extension in Peterborough of the Plan for Hospital Care were completed by its local sponsors at the Empress Hotel Tuesday evening in a final conference with its promoters, N. H. Saunders, director, and G. W. Ralph, enrolment organizer, both of Toronto.

Five industrial firms are reported ready to undertake this service in behalf of their employees by means of explaining to them the benefits of the service, its participant costs and other details preliminary to its adoption by local groups.

Mr. Ralph will remain in Peterborough for the next month or six weeks interviewing prospective subscribers. He has recently completed a similar canvass in Owen Sound, where three thousand people signed up for this Hospital Care.

The attractiveness of its appeal is suggested by the fact of the high percentage of the Owen Sound response, 3,000 persons in the total population of approximately 13,000.

The local sponsors include Mayor Hamilton, Judge Smoke, Warden P. J. Mather, D. G. H. Melton, F. J. Overend, G. A. Macdonald, H. L. Garner, Alderman Dutton, Alderman Sullivan, Gordon K. Fraser, M.P., Dr. C. M. Scott, G. S. Matthews, W. G. Ovens, E. B. Fowler, J. R. Corkery, Major V. M. Eastwood, Frank Kitney and J. J. Dorris.

Supported By Chamber.

The Plan for Hospital Care has been supported in its introductive stage by the Peterborough Chamber of Commerce. It was inaugurated in Ontario in March, 1941, and has more than 200,000 participants. The standard hospital ward charges are 50c a person and $1 a month for an entire family of children under sixteen years, regardless of their number. For semi-private wards the monthly rates are 75c a month for one person and $1.50 for a family. If private room accommodation is preferred, the subscriber pays the difference in the hospital charge. For example if the semi-private room charge is $4.50 a day and the private room rate $5.50, the participant desiring the private room pays the difference of one dollar a day to the hospital.

Benefits of the plan include: 21 days of hospital care in each year; the average stay is about ten days.

21 Days' Care.

Twenty-one days' hospital care for wife, or husband and each child under sixteen. A family of five in hospital as the result of an accident or epidemic would be entitled to twenty-one days' care each, a total of 105 days.

Other benefits include meals and dietary service, general nursing service, use of operating room as often as necessary; drugs, dressings, anesthesia and so on.

No physical examination is required of subscribers, nor is there age limit for adults; no enrolment fee; no exclusion of types of illness or injury requiring hospitalization.

Mr. Ralph said he hoped that civic employees would be one of the first groups to take advantage of this plan of assistance.

HALL—In ever loving memory of a dear father, J. Warren Hall who passed away, July 7, 1942.

The flowing stream of life rolls on
But still the vacant chair
Recalls the love, the voice, the smile
Of him who once sat there.
His life was one long sacrifice,
His heart was true and tender
He toiled so hard for those he loved,
Then left us to remember.
—Sadly missed by his Family.

Have a Supply of Games on Hand for Entertaining

Games Are Fun

Are you having a party and are at a loss because you have few games to entertain your friends? So many people these days are entertaining service men and games add so much fun to their enjoyment.

For example, a new twist to the traditional "Bite the Apple" game is pictured above. Instead of just apples hanging from the ceiling, candles are added. Both apples and candle ends swing easily from the ceiling. Invariably the player bites the candle and when he does so, must pay a forfeit.

It really isn't hard to keep a crowd amused—you need very little material.

Our 32-page booklet is full of a supply of games that suit every taste; rollicking action games; fascinating brain bafflers and guessing games; fortune-telling stunts; new versions of the ever-popular spelling bee.

Begin the fun the minute the doorbell rings, and make your party the success you want it to be!

Don't give the ice a chance to form. As the crowd arrives, start a lively game to get everyone acquainted and dispel shyness. You'll be known as "the perfect hostess."

Send 15 cents in coins for your copy of PARTY GAMES FOR ALL OCCASIONS to the Examiner, Home Service, Peterborough. Be sure to write plainly your name, address, and the name of booklet.

"The Authority on Authorities"

MANUFACTURE AN ENTRY

SOME OF the prettiest plays in the game are those defensive ones whereby a keen analyst looks ahead and sees that the fate of the contract probably depends upon his manufacturing an entry in the hand of his partner Usually action of that kind, to be decisive, must be at the earliest possible moment. In other words, the player cannot wait for later tricks to get confirmation of his size-up, but must do it on the basis of meager information, plus his own deductions.

When Richard H. Simon, publisher of books extraordinary, led his heart K, he gave his partner, Grantland Rice, famous sports writer, a chance to make one of the greatest plays of his life And he rose to the occasion. Confronted with the necessity for a discard, he saw he could not spare a club, as that would limit him to only one instead of two stoppers in the suit. He could not give up a diamond, since surely he would have to furnish the sole protection against the long cards of that suit.

So it had to be a spade. But what spade? In that suit lay the only chance to find his partner with an entry, if South's diamonds happened to be solid. In the hope that West had the J, he discarded the spade K. South won the opening heart trick and finessed the club 8, losing intentionally to East. Mr Rice returned his spade 4, and South, unable to chance West getting the lead, scored with his A. When he then finessed the club 9 to the Q, Mr Rice led his other small spade, the 6, which West won, enabling him to slaughter the declarer with hearts.

South could have limited himself to down one instead of three, by running his diamonds and two high clubs. But the point of this deal is that his cause was hopeless after the discard of the spade K, whereas discard of a small spade, a diamond or a club would have enabled him to make his contract, if he was merely willing to let East score tricks with the spade K and Q, using his A only when a small spade came along

Morrissey Barn Raised In Emily

DOWNEYVILLE, July 7—(ENS) Mr. and Mrs. Morrissey entertained all their neighbors and friends at a dance attended by over 100 people on Friday night. A very enjoyable time was spent by all with music supplied by Charles Lucas and Thomas Smith on violins and Martin Herlihey and Harry Bradt on guitars. A dainty lunch was served by the ladies and dancing continued until morning.

On Thursday afternoon over 100 men gathered at the barn-raising on the farm of Thomas Morrissey. It was an ideal day, warm and calm. The barn is on a cement wall that was put up last fall, and Joseph Gooselin was the carpenter. When the barn was up Mrs. Morrissey and about 30 ladies assisting her served lunch on the lawn.

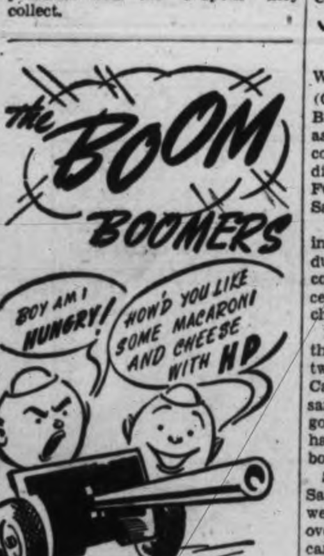
On Wednesday evening a large crowd gathered at S.S. No. 15 Schoolhouse for a presentation to Frank Harrington, who has joined the Navy. A purse of money, wallet and bag was given the young man, who made a suitable reply. Dancing was enjoyed by all with music supplied by Charles Lucas, Thomas Smith, Martin Herlihey, and H. Bradt.

Boarders, Hotel Users To Surrender Coupons

OTTAWA, July 7 (CP).— Prices Board announced today its ration administration has ruled that persons living in hotels or in boarding houses which are registered as quota users of rationed goods must surrender their ration books or temporary ration cards to the proprietors whether or not they eat their meals there.

The ruling applies to persons living in such establishments for a week or longer.

The announcement said the few Canadian hotels not registered as quota users must also collect ration coupons and surrender them to the ration administration. Rooming and boarding houses not operating under quotas are not effected by the new regulation and will continue to purchase with the coupons they collect.



The "boom" of the dinner gong is welcome news when the boys get Macaroni and Cheese with H. P. Sauce. Are you "fed up" trying to think of new menus? Just put a few drops of H. P.—that grand English type sauce—on meats, fish, fowl or sandwiches and watch the pleased expression of the family. Economical—thick—fruity H. P. Sauce brings out the hidden flavours. Insist upon H. P.—the sauce that made the English dinner famous.

Mess Room Chatter Of Canada's Airmen

By LOUIS V. HUNTER, Canadian Press Staff Writer.

WITH THE R. C. A. F. SOMEWHERE IN ENGLAND, July 7 — (CP) — If, perchance, you think the British aren't sending over Germany as many aircraft as they say, just consult a crack crew of the Canadian Moose Squadron skippered by FO. Phil Weedon of Paddockwood, Sask.

His boys say it's bad enough trying to evade Jerry's searchlights and duck his flake without having to contend with being bombed by incendaries from one of your own machines.

And, it isn't the first time such a thing has happened. Not more than two months ago a Halifax of another Canadian squadron underwent the same- experience, caught fire but got home safely. Mid-air collisions have been reported, too, during bomber raids.

Sgt. Cliff Nevins of Moose Jaw, Sask., Weedon's engineer, said they weer just letting their bombs go over Duisburg when an incendiary came through the back of the fuselage and wrecked the ammunition racks. "So we couldn't have had much fire power if we'd had to use our guns," he said.

"We also knew we had been hit on the starboard wing and that our main fuel lines were cut on that side. After we got away from the target area, we found an unexploded incendiary in the back of the kite against the ammunition boxes, so our bomb aimer (FO) Kearney Shield of Redditt, Ont). went back and dumped it out the flare-chute.

"All our motors were perking on the way back but as we reached our 'drome circuit we were out pe-t rol n one side and just as we were asking for priority landing the two starboard motors cut. The plane was coming down so Phil aimed the kite for a field.

"We hit a low tree between the inboard motor and the fuselage and knocked off our port wing. We spun across the field and one tank blew up on the port side and the wing burned. The rest of the kite was pretty badly damaged up but it didn't burn."

Three of the crew climbed out the front and three out of the back. The rear gunner, Sgt. Dorland Plyley of Rodney ,Ont., was trapped but his companions managed to turn the rear turrett and he was able to fall out backwards.

Nevins said the feat of bringing back the damaged aircraft was a "great piece of wrk on Phil's part." When the ground crew inspected the bomber later incendiaries were found sticking in the starboard wing. One was right through the main gas line.

Nevins escaped with a torn trouser leg. None of the crew was injured and they sipped coffee during interrogation as calmly as other crews.

LAKEFIELD

Mrs. A. Boyce Hostess To WMS

LAKEFIELD, July 7—(ENS)—The Women's Missionary Society of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church held their July meeting at the home of Mrs. Arthur Boyce on Wednesday evening. Mrs. J. M. Simpson presided for the business portion and Mrs. A. H. Clark was convener of the program.

Mrs. T. W. Chaplin read an interesting character sketch on Madame Chiang Kai-Shek, followed by a piano duet by Elveen and Ruth Boyce. Mary Elizabeth gave a recitation; Mrs. Clark gave a very interesting address on "India's past and present"; Jean Clark contributed a solo, "Does Jesus Care".

A social hour followed the meeting when Mrs. Boyce served delicious refreshments, featuring strawberries and cream. Mrs. Davis tendered a vote of thanks to the hostess. This was the closing meeting for the summer.

Allies Blast Munda Airfield

This is an aerial view of Munda point in the Solomons, which will go down in history as a starting point of one of the most important of the Pacific offensives against the Japs. It was made by a U.S. Navy photographer during a bombing attack on the Jap airfield there, previous to the actual landing. Smoke from blasting by planes, is still rising along the runway. This airfield, according to late dispatches, is now under assault by American shore batteries.

WITH THE BOY SCOUTS

SCOUTERS CLUB MEETS.

Here we are with the Scouters Club meeting right on top of us and not one request for transportation. So we can only say, we will be seeing you out at the grounds. Don't forget to bring your lunch with you. The date, Wednesday, July 7, at 7 p.m., on the Scout grounds. Come along and join the fun. Maybe you will be able to knock some nails in the new building.

Active Service.

We have started to do some checking on the Scouts on active service who have been registered at Dominion or Provincial headquarters, and we find that one young man who had been in the service for some considerable time and was assistant Scoutmaster has not yet been registered. I appeal to every parent whose boy was in Scouting up to the time of his going into th service to give me names and particulars so that I can carry out my investigations. It is my plan to visit every Scouter and give a proper check from all angles, but your assistance will greatly help to speed up this work.

With St. John's.

The Pack met this week at Akela's, and from that point hiked to Little Woods. Many wild flowers were seen and games enjoyed, with a sing-song to finish off the evening. Next week the Pack will meet at the Sunday School at 6:45 sharp and will proceed to parts unknown. Boys are requested to be on time.

Scout Grounds.

We can do with all the assistance that can be obtained this week at the Scout grounds and should anyone be able to go out and spend the day, that is any day this week, Mr. Hope will be able to utilize your aid in the building of the Scout hut. We understand that Scouter Pete Dominik is home on furlough, and is spending his first week at the grounds, also that one or two of the Scouters will be on hand. The Sacred Heart Scouts are also reported to be camping out there this week. Your Scribe expects to be out there on Wednesday evening and will be able to give a write-up on the progress of the work. During the past week two or three groups were out and the posts were placed and floor joists put into position. We would like to thank our friend, Mr. Rivard, for his kind assistance, and trust that he will keep up the good work.

St. Luke's Pack.

The Pack met in the Scout hall last Tuesday, where Ross Barker led the grand howl to open up the evening. Telescope relay was first on the list with test work following, during which Billy Davis and Jack King passed skipping, Bob Harvey knots. The Brown Six won the honors for last month. During the evening an investiture ceremony was held, at which Gordon and Ralph Barker became full fledged Tenderpads, and started out on the jungle trail into the World Brotherhood of Scouting. Good hunting, boys. The Cubs are reminded to earn and save money during vacation time for the Chins-up Fund. Bring this money to the first meeting in September.

Seen Around Town.

We note the following around town this week-end: Seaman Tom Littlefair from Kingston, Seaman Bud Groombridge from Toronto, Seaman Jim Hooper from Toronto, Gnr. Ken Brown from Barriefield. We hear that Seaman Ron Gynane has been transferred to Toronto to take up an instructor's course.

Patrol Leader Gord Best is now in the Air Force stationed in Toronto, and AC2 Sergeant is living up to his name and is now Sergeant Sergeant. Congratulations, Sgt. Akela Quirt McKinney worked digging postholes at the camp grounds. Mrs. Baxter and Peggy Lawless are getting ready to pack their grips for Gilwell.

Bob Lyons, late assistant Scouter at George Street, is taking up a summer course at the University of Toronto, and at the end of the course will join his parents in the States.

18-Pound Muskie From CroweRiver

MARMORA, July 7—(ENS)—The fishing season for maskinonge and bass opened well here on Thursday with several local anglers reporting nice catches. Honors however went to a Marmora youth namely Frank (Rinky) Reynolds, who after a more experienced angler had left his position just below the dam on Crowe River, tried his luck and landed an eighteen-pound muskie. This is the largest fish to be reported on the opening day's fishing for some years.

RCAMC Appeal Fails Soldiers Sentenced

OTTAWA, July 7 — (CP). — Petitions of three oifcers and one soldier from sentences imposed by a court-martial at Quebec for alleged offences in the administration of the Royal Canadian Army Medical Corps have been dismissed by the Governor-General-in-Council, it was learned to-day.

The men concerned were some of a group of Army personnel found guilty some time ago. They were the only ones who appealed, and, under Army regulations, their appeal brought the decision of the court before the confirming authority, which is the Governor-General-in-Council.

MONTREAL, July 7 (CP).—Suspension of summer tourist fares on all Canadian railways was announced yesterday by Transport Controller Lockwood, effective at midnight last night. Special week-end and other excursion fares already have been suspended.

Betty Grable Weds James

BEVERLEY HILLS, Calif., July 7— (AP). — Actress Betty Grable worn by hours of desert travel and the excitement of a pre-dawn marriage ceremony, returned here yesterday with her bridegroom trumpet tooter Harry James, relying on getting a few hours rest before she faces the cameras today.

Miss Grable said she had been continually on the move since 8 a.m. Sunday when she boarded a train for Las Vagas, Nev. where she was married to swing musician at 4:15 a.m., yesterday. She had to make the most of the arrangements for the ceremony herself, she said because James was en route from New York by train, and didn't reach the Nevada city until less than an hour before their marriage.

After the ceremony the newlyweds and their party grabbed a hasty breakfast and set out by private automobile on the 350-mile ride home, much of it over desert. And the studio told her she'd have to be on the set this morning.

They were married in the Little Church of the West by Rev. Dr. C. H. Sloan, Baptist minister.

Miss Brable is the former wife of Jackie Coogan, former juvenile film player now in the U. S. army air forces. The band leader was divorced in Mexico last week by the former Louise Tobin, who once sang in his band.

Taxis Are Suspended

BATHURST, N. B., July 7 — (CP)— D. A. Ross, transit controller for New Brunswick, has ordered 10 of Bathurst's 18 taxi operators to suspend service. 8 taxis were considered sufficient to accommodate the town's population. Similar action is expected in other parts of the Province. Bathurst has a population of about 3,500.

You Women Who Suffer From HOT FLASHES then CHILLY FEELINGS

If you—like so many women between the ages of 38 and 52—suffer from hot flashes, weak, dizzy, nervous feelings, distress of "irregularities", are blue and depressed — start taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound at once. It's one of the most effective medicines you can buy that's made especially for women.

Pinkham's Compound does more than relieve distress. Taken regularly —it helps build up resistance against such symptoms. It also is a fine tonic for the stomach!

Thousands upon thousands of women—rich and poor alike—have reported benefits. Time and again Lydia Pinkham's Compound has proved some women's happiest days can be during their "40's". Helpful for younger girls, too! Made in Canada. Worth trying!

WE CAN HELP AVOID RATIONING

If no one ever buys more than they really need chances are we can avoid rationing in many lines. And that is a great help to the war effort since each new commodity rationed means more people taken out of productive work to look after the job of rationing it. Let's not buy anything we can do without.

GERMAN THRUST IN RUSSIA FALTERS

By WILLIAM McGAFFIN—Associated Press Staff Writer

MOSCOW, July 8 — (AP). — Fresh Nazi reserves were reported pushing through smoke and dust along paths marked by wrecked machines and the dead today to bolster the Kursk Plains offensive which the Red Army, fighting more brilliantly than ever before, has limited to small gains in the Belgorod sector. Russian forces killed 30,000 Germans, destroyed or damaged 1,539 tanks and shot down 649 planes in the first three days of the battle, it was announced officially.

Nazi air force squadrons are attached constantly to the invasion armored columns under a new German plan of attack by which Hitler's High Command hopes to pinch off the 60-mile-deep Soviet salient extending westward from Kursk. The immediate assignment of the Germans obviously is to attempt to push north from Belgorod and south from Orel, 165 miles apart, to a junction somewhere behind the Russian-held rail city.

(A Berlin military spokesman declared in a radio broadcast that tank battles yesterday in the area of Belgorod and south of Orel were "the greatest ever fought on the eastern front.")

Soviet dispatches said the Germans were finding their objectives packed with Red Army men determined to fight to the death rather than give an inch. The Red Air Force was declared to be on at least an equal footing with that of the Germans.

Tanks Against Tanks.

The Russians for the most part are fighting tanks with stationary artillery, but also are employing tanks against tanks, a throwback to earlier tactics. A Tass correspondent said Soviet medium tanks made in Britain had engaged a group of 60-ton Tigers — approximately double their size—and destroyed four.

(A transocean dispatch broadcast by the Berlin radio said air forces were used by both sides in masses hardly ever witnessed before and that both Germans and Russians "now are employing tanks in unexampled numbers." The broadcast was recorded by The Associated Press.

(The German High Command communique, also broadcast from Berlin, declared army units, artillery, fighter-bombers and tactical air forces destroyed more than 400 Soviet tanks and 193 planes yesterday.)

The strength of Russian forces is so great, according to Soviet dispatches, that even where the Germans succeeded in penetrating Soviet positions they have been unable to consolidate for long. Soviet counter-attacks have served to throw the shock troops off balance.

Advances In One Area.

The Russians declared Belgorod was the only area in which the Germans made any advances, and these were limited to regions where good roads and vast stretches of open fields handicapped the defence.

In one action Russian infantrymen crouched in their trenches until 50 tanks had crossed and recrossed the earthworks in an effort to crush them and open the way for Nazi riflemen to follow. Despite the hot dust and stifling exhaust fumes, the Red Army men stayed put until the armored group considered that mission completed and moved on. Then the Russians sprang up and hurled grenades into the treads to immobilize the bulk of the enemy.

Directly behind the battlefront, Russian soldiers are helping peasants bring in the harvest. To the Russians, victory in the grain fields is as important as that on the battlefields. They have men to spare for both.

Near Belgorod, said a special communique issued this morning the concentrated German strength has "succeeded in driving a wedge, to an insignificant distance, into our defences," enveloping several villages at a cost of "tremendous losses."

(In a D.N.B. broadcast a German propaganda agency, the International Information Bureau, asserted the Nazi forces had destroyed 400 Soviet tanks and knocked down 193 planes in the Belgorod and Orel sectors. The broadcast, recorded by The Associated Press, also said that deeply encircled Russian positions had been broken).

While the German losses in men and material were regarded here as the greatest single blow ever inflicted upon the German war machine, the Russians warned against undue optimism.

"It would be wrong for us to under-estimate the strength of the German troops conducting the big offensive," said the communique. "German forces here are great. Today it is too early to formulate a final conclusion concerning the outcome of the battle."

The special announcement reported the Germans had hurled approximately 450,000 men, or 30 divisions—14 tank divisions, one motorized and 15 infantry—into the attempt to capture Kursk, one prong driving southward from the Orel region and another northward from Belgorod.

(In a Berlin broadcast heard in London last night by The Associated Press, Lieut. Kurt Jeserich, transocean military commentator, described the fighting as "the battle for Kursk," and made the first German admission that the Nazis had launched an offensive. Nazi propaganda previously had held to the line that it was the Russians who opened the attack the morning of July 5.

(The Germans asserted they had made gains in the Orel sector at the northern end of the line as well as at Belgorod despite resistance of "400,000 crack Soviet troops sup-

New Fighters Rolling Off Factory Line

10,000 Planes Monthly Objective Set For 1944 In States

WASHINGTON, July 8—(AP)—New super-secret fighter planes designed to meet up-to-the-minute conditions have started rolling off the assembly lines in the United States to take their place in the stepped-up aerial offensive of the Allies.

Disclosure that new fighter types are in production was made by Charles E. Wilson, executive vice president of the War Production Board, who declined, for security reasons, to reveal any details whatever.

Asked at a press conference late yesterday whether the new sky battlers are entirely new jobs or modifications of existing ones, Wilson replied with a laconic "both."

W.P.B. Chairman Donald M. Nelson said it was these changes in types, necessitated by combat experience, that presented the greatest single obstacle to greater volume production.

Wilson expressed confidence the new fighters would prove effective in battle "or we wouldn't be producing them."

When all present production facilities reach their ultimate maximum, Wilson predicted the United States will be able to turn out "in excess of 10,000 planes monthly." This peak will not be reached until some time in 1944. (Plane production in May exceeded 7,000, the highest so far announced).

While June production figures still are incomplete, Nelson said the output would not be much better than in May.

Nelson and Wilson told reporters June output of planes was about the same as in May "in numbers," but greater when figured on the basis of weight. This indicated a continuing trend toward heavier planes, including four-engine bombers.

Axis Sea Losses Reported Heavy

LONDON, July 8 — (CP). — Dingle M. Foot, Parliamentary Secretary to the Ministry of Economic Warfare, told the House of Commons today that during the past year the Axis lost at sea 30,000 tons of rubber, 5,000 tons of tin, 25,000 tons of edible oils and considerable quantities of quinine and tungsten.

Since the Allies occupied North Africa, 700,000 tons of Axis shipping have been sunk and 300,000 tons severely damaged, Foot said in a debate on the economic warfare being waged against the enemy.

In the spring and summer of 1942 several ships were able to run the blockade between Germany and Japan but this has been virtually halted in the past eight months, he revealed.

With the Allied blockade of Europe working effectively it will not be relaxed to give food and other relief to the peoples of the occupied countries, because any relaxation would inevitably be exploited by the enemy, the Economic Warfare Secretary advised Commons.

C. N. R. Submits Post-War Plan

OTTAWA, July 8—(CP).—The Canadian National Railways today placed before the Commons Reconstruction Committee a "tentative post-war program aimed at relieving unemployment—involving capital expenditure of $640,443,000 and providing employment estimated at 95,000,000 man-days—which might be undertaken by the C.N.R. "if post-war conditions should necessitate such expenditures."

The program, attached to a brief prepared for presentation before the committee, included:

1. Capital works expanding the company's field of operations: $59,500,000—8,800,000 man-days.

2. Self-liquidating projects: $206,773,000—30,800,000 man-days.

3. Desirable but economically-marginal projects: $270,000,000—40,200,000 man-days.

4. Projects desirable but not productive of economy to railway: $103,537,000—15,500,000 man-days.

R. C. Vaughan, C.N.R. president, introduced the brief, which was prepared and read before the committee by Vice-President S. W. Fairweather, and said the suggested post-war program was given "because we have been requested to furnish such information as an indication of the employment that might be provided on useful works if it should be necessary for the Government to appropriate public money in the post-war period to prevent unemployment."

47,000,000 Man-Days

In his presentation of the brief Mr. Fairweather summarized the employment opportunities afforded by the C.N.R. and said that if in the post-war period the annual national income remained at $8,000,000,000 — the present figure—normal operating and capital expenditures of the C.N.R. would total $397,000,000, providing direct yearly employment estimated at 47,000,000 man-days.

Of the total of 47,000,000 man-days, Mr. Fairweather estimated that 33,000,000 of them would be on the payroll of the C.N.R. with the additional 14,000,000 employed in supplying the railway with goods and services in the ordinary channels of commerce. He added that "beyond this there is a great deal of more remote employment arising from secondary distribution of purchasing power."

He gave the following breakdown:

1. Assuming a national income of $8,000,000,000, the C.N.R. normal direct employment is estimated at 47,000,000 man-days for operating and normal capital expenditure of $397,000,000.

2. For an addition of $1,000,000,000 to the national income, the direct employment would be increased by 4,100,000 man-days.

Court Ruling Gives Shareholder's Of Abitibi New Lease Of Life

TORONTO, July 8 — (CP). — A spokesman for R. S. McPherson, liquidator of the Abitibi Power and Paper Company said today the Privy Council's ruling allowing the appeal of the Abitibi Company from a judment of the Ontario Appellate Court and Mr. Justice W. E. Middleton has "definitely given the common and preferred stockholders a new lease on life."

Mr. Justice Middleton had directed sale of the Company's assets at public auction and held that the Abitibi Power and Paper Co., Moratorium Act, passed by the Ontario Legislature in 1941, was ultra vires of the legislature. These orders and the rulings of the Ontario Appeal Court to-day were set aside by the Privy Council's Judical Committee in London, England and the motion for sale dismissed.

Legislation Valid

The Privy Council ruled the Ontario Legislation was valid, setting aside the Ontario Appellat Court ruling that it was ultra vires of the Legislature.

The act had been passed to prevent the sale of the Abitibi property and assets.

G. T. Clarkson, receiver and manager of the Abitibi Company, said he would make no comment on the Privy Council's judgment.

Likewise, officials in the Toronto office of the Montreal Trust Company, said they preferred to withhold comment until they had received a full report of the Council's findings.

Lengthy Litigation.

The Abitibi Power and Paper Company, Limited, has been involved in litigation almost since the time it went into receivership in 1932.

In March, 1942, the Ontario Appealate Court, upheld a decison of Mr. Justice W. E. Middleton directing that the assets of the company be sold. He simultaneously held that the Abitibi Power and Paper Company Limited Moratorium Act, passed by the Ontario Legislature in 1941, was ultra vires of the Legislature.

The Moratorium Act was designed to stay until December, 1942, proceedings which were taken under Mr. Justice Middleton's order directing sale of all assets under a mortgage made by the company. Bills passed by the Ontario Legislature in 1942 extended the act until June, 1943, and gave the company the right to take its case to the Privy Council if necessary.

Application for sale of Abitibi's assests was made by the Montreal Trust Company, trustee under the bond mortgage, and was opposed by R. S. McPherson, liquidator of the company, and by the Province of Ontario.

Air Assault On Sicily Relentless

10 Axis Airplanes Bagged As Fighters Opposition Weakens

By RELMAN MORIN
Associated Press Staff Writer.

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN NORTH AFRICA, July 8 — (AP).—The relentless Allied air assault against Sicily and Sardinia went through its fifth consecutive day yesterday with heavy bombings of airfields and other military targets, it was announced officially to-day.

Enemy fighter opposition was reported to have been on a "reduced scale," but nevertheless Allied fighters shot down 10 Axis planes for a loss of five of their own.

Gerbini in Eastern Sicily, scene of a titanic air battle between the American heavy bombers and more than 100 enemy planes on Monday, was battered 10 more times yesterday by heavy and medium bombers, and they did not encounter a single enemy aircraft.

Scored Six Planes

American fighters escorting R. A. F. bombers in a raid on Borizzo in Western Sicily gained six of the day's victories. They hovered over Borizzo airfield for almost an hour.

While all of Western Sicily felt some of the weight of the bombardment—fighters even went down to strafe isolated military targets in the countryside—the great network of airfields in and around Gerbini was the main theatre of Allied operations.

Following the day raids, R. A. F. Wellington bombers carried the assault into the night with attacks on Palermo and Sciacca. They dropped a great weight of bombs on the railway yards at Palermo and left large fires raging.

Defenders Swamped

Returning crews reporting the weakness of ground fire over Palermo indicated that the defenders were being swamped by the unceasing storm of eyplosives and incendiaries.

Nineteen times within 24 hours formation of allied planes were in the sky over Gerbini. Bombs fell in layers. They tore uplunways all of Gerbini's 10 airdromes, smashed revetments and ploughed dispersal areas with eyplosive and fragmentation bombs.

The Swarm of German and Italian defenders that rose to fight the big bombers 3 days ago was nowhere in sight, and except for some anti-aircraft fire yesterday's attackers worked unhindered.

R. A. F. planes had to dive through a layer of clouds to bomb Milo airfield on Sicily, but once they found it they did a thorough job, causing one large fire that the crews thought was from a fuel dump.

Later American fighter-bombers attacked a rail centre and warehouses at Mazara on the coast of Sicily. Other fighter-bombers went out twice on 'hunting-trips.' They machine-gunned a train and saw four freight cars burning fiercely as they left.

American medium bombers unloaded 30 tons of bombs on the Biscari airfield and other fighter-bombers raked the battered air base at Sciacca.

Nearly 50 tons of bombs were dropped on the enemy airdrome at Comiso in Sicily.

War Output Of Allies Doom To Axis

War Production Of United Nations Outlined By Nations

TORONTO, July 8 — (CP). — The war production of the United Nations speaks to the world "in a big voice," Donald M. Nelson, chairman of the United States War Production Board, said today in an address prepared for delivery to the Canadian Club of Toronto.

"And if the Nazi and the Jap warlords are not completely insane, they will recognize that the voice is the voice of doom," he added.

Mr. Nelson told of the output war materials in the United States and Canada. Since the outbreak of war, almost 115,000 planes were produced and before the end of this year "we will be producing a completed plane every 4 2/3 minutes around the clock every day of the month."

Already Made

More than 175,000 larger calibre guns of all kinds for the ground armies; nearly 1,500,000 machine guns and 6,000,000 rifles and submachine guns have been manufactured. Almost 200,000,000 rounds of artillery ammunition—exclusive of ammunition for naval guns have been made and about 25,000,000,000 rounds of small arms ammunition, "enough to let us fire over 1,500 bullets at every soldier in the Axis armies."

1,600,000 Trucks

Close to 60,000 tanks and tank chassis have rolled off assembly lines and more than 1,600,000 trucks, he said.

"I should like to point out to the Axis that Canada alone has turned out half a million trucks—or about one third of the total—although her population is only about eight per cent of the combined populations responsible for this record production," he added.

Of the 70,000 scout cars, armored cars and similar combat vehicles produced annually, Canada is supplying close to 20,000.

"As for ships, I can tell you that our combined production of ocean-going merchant vessels since the start of the war now has reached 20,000,000 deadweight tons, and today our rate of production is over 22,000,000 deadweight tons a year.

"Not counting Mosquito craft and auxiliaries, naval vessels totalling more than 2,000,000 displacement tons have been completed. At current rates of production, these fast, modern fighting boats will be joined every month by sister ships totalling an average of about 200,000 tons....

"I think at this point we should

LONDON, July 8 — (CP). — The Berlin Radio reported to-day that battle units of the Allied Mediterranean fleet, reinforced by recently arrived American cruisers and aircraft carriers, had left Gibraltar, leading "to the supposition that the American Allied commander is preparing for an attack against Europe."

The broadcast recorded by The Associated Press, declared that the Allies, in addition to strong concentration of warships and transports, have 44 infantry divisions and 15 to 20 tank formations poised between Morocco and Syria

These forces were said to include parachute battalions and airborne troops whose task, the broadcast declared, "would be to create at first one or two bridgeheads."

The broadcast, by the propaganda agency known as the "International Information Bureau" declared that among the fleet units leaving Gibraltar were two British battleships of the King George class — which includes the King George V, Duke of York, Anson and Howe.

Giraud Visits Ottawa In Week

OTTAWA, July 8 — (CP). — Prime Minister Mackenzie King today told the House of Commons he expects Gen. Henri Giraud will visit Canada within the next week or 10 days.

The Prime Minister said that a month ago, when he learned Gen. Giraud was expected to visit the United States, he communicated to him the hope that he would visit Canada during his stay on the continent.

Mr. King said he had received word that Gen. Giraud, joint chairman of the French Committee for National Liberation would attempt to so arrange his plans as to permit him a visit to Ottawa within a week or 10 days.

The House applauded Mr. King's announcement.

India's Food Shortage in Critical Stage

125,000,000 Indians Suffering From Malnutrition As Food Prices Soar

By DeWITT MACKENZIE,
Associated Press War Analyst.

India's food shortage, which I reported to you early this year might develop into a serious situation for this sub-continent of 400,000,000 population, now is said to have reached a critical stage.

Word from New Delhi, the capital, is that the Government has called a conference, representing all parts of the country, to devise means of bringing emergency relief. This action follows widespread appeals for food, almost daily reports of lootings of grain stores.

It's estimated that 125,000,000 Indians—more than a quarter of the population— are suffering from malnutrion. Prices of food have zoomed up three to eight times above prewar levels.

People Always Hungry.

Such a crisis is particularly grave at any time for a country like India, where the majority of the people always are hungry. I realize that's a strong statement, but it's the outcome of personal investigation on the ground. Untold millions never know what it is to have a full stomach.

When I left India in February, observers were apprehensive lest the already bad food shortage worsen. They were fearful that designing people might contrive to merge this crisis with the grave political situation which had grown out of the Indian leader's rejection of the British Government's proposals for Dominion status after the war.

Should this happen there was no telling what the result might be. Already the break-down of negotiations between the British authorities and the Indians had been followed by widespread rioting, bloodshed and destruction of property and thousands of people were in jails.

Government Prepared.

However, at that time I was authoritatively informed that the Government had the lid well clamped down on disturbances and there was no fear for the future. The food shartage likewise was said to have been provided for, with grain ordered from Canada and Australia.

There was unofficial talk among business men that the United States also might be called on to send food.

Naturally anything which affects India is a matter of particular concern to the United Nations, for that great country not only is the arsenal of the Orient but is one of the most important of the Allied bases. It is from India that the Allies will have to invade Burma to oust the strongly-entrenched Japs, thus open up a route through which supplies can be sent to hard-pressed China. India may be the key to victory over the barbarians of the Rising Sun.

Too Many Girls Is Problem

10,000 Girls On Waiting List For Service Centres

CHICAGO, July 8—(AP). — The Chicago service men's centres, rated among the top places of entertainment for men in the armed forces in the United States had a girlpower problem today—too many.

A controversy over the dropping from the centres' membership lists of more than 300 girls disclosed that some 10,000 girls are waiting for a chance to go to the centres and dance with the service men.

About 6,000 girls, between 18 and 30 years of age, have been granted membership in the centres and their duties consist of general social activities, including dancing, playing games, and talking with the service men one night a week.

The girls' committee of the Women's Advisory Board of the centres last week ruled that more than 300 girls, many of them members since the first of the three centres opened two years ago, should be dropped to make room for some of the 10,000 girls on the waiting list.

Kitchener Boy Receives Second Military Award

OTTAWA, July 8 — (CP). — Defence Minister Ralston to-day announced award of the Military Cross to Capt. William Harold Victor Matthews of Milne's Landing, B.C., and the Military Medal to Sgt. George Alfred Hickson, D.C.M. of Kitchener, Ont., for "gallant and distinguished services in North Africa."

Hickson, who won the Distinguished Conduct Medal at Dieppe, thus became the first Canadian soldier to win two battle decorations in this war.

Capt. Matthews, 26, enlisted in a Scottish regiment from British Columbia.

Sgt. Hickson, also 28, won the D.C.M. at Dieppe when his platoon commander and senior non-commissioned officers became casualties and he led the platoon against strongly-held enemy positions.

Under his direction an enemy gun crew was wiped out, and a six-inch naval gun and two machine-gun destroyed before he ordered his party to withdraw. His own personal fighting ability won special attention when accounts of his exploits reached headquarters.

ALLIED JUNGLE FIGHTERS BATTLE TO WITHIN SIX MILES OF MUNDA

U.S. Fighters Nearing Jap Air Base

Nine Jap Warships Lost In Battle MacArthur Announces

By MURLIN SPENCER
Associated Press Staff Writer

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN AUSTRALIA, July 8 — (AP). — United States jungle fighters battled today within six miles of the Japanese air base of Munda from two new landing points on New Georgia Island, in the Central Solomons area where the enemy's hold has been weakened by a crushing naval defeat.

The new landings were disclosed to-day by Gen. Douglas MacArthur in a communique which also said that in the naval battle nine and possibily 11 Japanese cruisers and destroyers were sunk against the loss of the cruiser U.S.S. Helena.

In the jungle fight on the approaches to the Japanese air base of Salamaua, New Guinea, veteran Australian troops captured Observation Hill between Salamaua and Mubo after its Japanese defenders had been killed or demoralized by 106 tons of bombs dropped in less than 45 minutes by medium and heavy bombers.

The new landings which increased the peril to Munda were made Monday. The troops swarmed ashore at Rice Anchorage, four miles northeast of Bairoko under cover of a naval barrage.

Monday night, other forces stormed ashore at Zanana, six miles east of Munda.

Cruiser, Destroyer Force

Before dawn the following morning American warships made contact in the Kula Gulf above the scene of the latest landing operations with a Japanese cruiser and destroyer force.

Today's communique said that in the first phase of the engagement, four or five hostile destroyers were struck by smashing broadsides that within five minutes "destroyed or set afire" the entire group.

"Three or possibly four enemy light cruisers were then taken under fire. All were either sunk or afire within 15 minutes. One was beached."

warn the enemy not to take too much comfort from the so-called sagging of the home front in the United States in recent days," Mr. Nelson said. "It would like to be the last to attempt to minimize the serious effects of spasmodic strikes and riots on the war production program.

Exaggerate Strikes

"On the other hand, there is a tendency to exaggerate the implications of these disturbances. The great bulk of war producers, both managers and workmen, in the United States have not been diverted from the essential tasks. For the first five months of 1943, for example, only 7-100ths of one per cent of production was delayed by strikes."

He said the war production schedules for this year and next "will tax us to the utmost." Every individual who plays a part either directly or indirectly in war production, will be expected to contribute a burst of energy to carry through to the conclusive defeat of the enemy.

"This renewed effort is aimed to defeat the enemy so crushingly that his spirit will be broken and the day of his uncondition surrender hastened. In accomplishing this purpose, we must do so at as low a cost as possible in the lives of our fighting men....

"We plan to produce an umbrella of safety and put it over the heads of the fighting men of the United Nations. We plan to lay down a barrage of safety before them as they advance. We plan to carry them safely through all the waters of the globe on their way to the fighting fronts.

"We cannot satisfy ourselves that we have done enough until we have done everything that we can do to conserve their young lives for the peacetime world to come," he said.

Meat Waste Heavy

Windsor, Ont., July 8 (CP)

W. F. THOMSON, secretary of the Retail Food Merchants Association of Essex County, said today 26 meat shops in the county had a waste of 2,981 pounds of hamburger, sausage and plate and flank beef in the week ended July 3.

The normal waste is 316 pounds, he said.

"A seasonal shortage exists now," he added, "but had there been no waste we would have come through the shortage period all right."

Giraud Plans Taking Over Of Martinique

By RICHARD G. MASSOCK,
Associated Press Staff Writer.

WASHINGTON, July 8 — (AP)— Installation of a Pro-Allied Administration in trouble Martinique was one of the prime subjects for discussion to-day between Washington officials and Gen. Henri Giraud, co-chairman of the French Committee of National Liberation.

(Demonstrations at Fort-De-France, Martinique, in which crowds of 15,000 persons demanded a break with Vichy and an alliance with the Allies, were reported in a dispatch from Port of Spain, Trinidad, to-day.

(The demonstrators, favoring the Fighting French leader Gen. Charles de Gaulle, were reported to have taken possession of the streets of Fort-de-France for two days. Gendarmerie sent to disperse them, the dispatch said, left the demonstrators unmolested as they shouted "Vive de Gaulle" and sang the French anthem "Le Marseillaise.")

Gen. Giraud is in Washington as the Government's guest, on a military mission. He arrived late yesterday. En route from Algiers, he stopped at San Juan, Puerto Rico, and learned from Vice Admiral John H. Hoover, United States Commander of Carribean Defences, of the offer by Admiral Georges Robert, Vichy French High Commissioner at Martinique, to negotiate a change of authority.

Power to Negotiate.

The Algiers Committee, which Gen. Giraud heads jointly with Gen. Charles De Gaulle, has invested Henri Etienne Hoppenot, Gen. Giraud's diplomatic representative in Washington, with extraordinary powers to negotiate with Robert.

As he left the White House after visiting President Roosevelt yesterday afternoon, Gen. Giraud was asked if he had stopped at Martinique. He answered vigorously "no, no, no."

Persons in close touch with the move to bring Martinique and Guadaloupe to the side of the United Nations said it was probable Algiers Committee eventually would appoint some one to replace Robert as High Commissioner. They said Hoppenot might himself take charge temporarily at least.

Hoppenot is a 52-year-old career diplomat who was French Minister at Montevideo when he resigned last year in protest against the calling of Pierre Laval to power at Vichy and the shipment of French workers to Germany. He later came to Washington as chief civilian official of the French military mission.

1,199 Planes Downed

Fleet Air Arm Claims 1,004 Axis Airplanes

LONDON, July 8 —(CP)—British naval and merchant ships and aircraft of the fleet air arm have shot down a total of 1,004 Axis planes in the past three and a quarter years, the Admiralty announced today.

In addition the Royal and Merchant Navies probably destroyed an additional 321 planes and damaged 593, the announcement said.

Coal Controller Has Resigned

OTTAWA, July 8 —(CP) —Coal Controller J. McG. Stewart has resigned and will be succeeded by E. J. Brunning, director general of the Ammunition and Gun Production Branch of the Munitions Department, Munitions Minister Howe announced yesterday.

The Minister expressed regret at the resignation of Mr. Stewart. He said the seriousness of the coal situation meant that the pressure of work on the Coal Controller had been steadily increasing and "for business reasons Mr. Stewart is unfortunately unable to give his full time."

The new Coal Controller is an engineer who during the last war, supervised shell production for Canadian and United States Companies. He is president and general manager of Consumers Glass Co. in his new post he will become chairman of the Emergency Coal Production Board.

Mr. Howe announced establishment of the new post of Associate Coal Controller, and the appointment of Ian MacLaren of Toronto to fill it. Mr. MacLaren, born in Saint John, N. B., in 1896, is a graduate of the University of New Brunswick. In 1928 he joined the staff of Rochester and Pittsburgh Coal Co. (Canada) Ltd., Toronto, and for nine years has been its president.

3. For a decrease of $1,000,000,000 in the national income, the decreased direct employment might be expected to be 4,400,000 man-days.

4. Extraordinary capital expenditures designed to relieve unemployment on a scale of $100,000,000 per year would furnish direct employment of 15,000,000 man-days.

Referring to the suggested program for post-war works, Mr. Fairweather said:

"Any program of this nature on a scale sufficiently large to afford substantial relief to widespread unemployment must be accompanied by many reservations, and should be considered at this time as only indicative of what might be accomplished if a policy of undertaking works for the relief of unemployment were to be adopted.

Small Firms Receiving Special Care

Stores Better Off With Fair Supplies No New Opposition

By C. R. BLACKBURN
Canadian Press Staff Writer

OTTAWA, July 8 —(CP)—Prices Board officials have "leaned over backward" to ensure that small businesses are fairly treated under wartime regulations, Finance Minister Ilsley told the House of Commons last night.

Replying to charges by John Diefenbaker (Prog. Con. Lake Centre) that because of the board's tendency to favor large business organizations small independent firms were being forced out of existence, Mr. Ilsley said policies of the board had kept the small businesses in a better position than they would otherwise enjoy, and they had been ensured a fair allocation, based on past business, of the available consumer goods.

Quotes Figures

He read from a maze of statistics, from statements of business association executive, and from a statement published last year by the board, to support his assertion.

Such claims as those of Mr. Diefenbaker were "a favorite procedure" of those who criticised the board, the minister said, but they could not be substantiated. The board was helping small business by equitable allocation of available consumer supplies, by restrictions on the opening up of competitive businesses and by anti-inflationary measures.

Board's Demand

Mr. Ilsley's argument was made during a day devoted entirely to consideration of the $14,300,000 item for the prices board in the finance department's war appropriation.

No progress was made and today the House will consider the estimates of the agriculture department when the House meets at 11 o'clock for the first forenoon sitting of the session.

Operations of the prices Board were under discussion throughout the afternoon and evening, and there was a cross-fire of questions and answers on numerous items of price control and commodity regulations.

R.A.F. Pays Visit To Jap Camps

NEW DELHI, July 8 (AP)—R.A.F. dive-bombers loosed explosives yesterday in the centre of a Japanese army camp at Thaungdara, near the Mayu River 20 miles north of Rathedaung, followed up with machine-gun attacks and left a fire burning, a British communique announced today.

Hurricanes escorted the dive-bombers on this mission.

Beaufighters shot up Irrawaddy River shipping and, at Naunghla, They set an oil storage tank afire, it was announced.

Despite heavy cloud and rain of the Monsoon season which restricted operations the past six days, a number of attacks has been made on enemy supply craft and troop positions and every R.A.F. plane has returned, the communique said.

Court Ruling

The sale, ordered to take place in February, 1942, without a reserve bid, was held up pending disposition of the appeal. A previous sale in 1940, also ordered by Mr. Justice Middleton, failed to dispose of the company's assets when the lone bid of $30,000,000 failed to equal a reserve bid, the amount of which was not announced.

Royal Commission

Following failure of the 1940 auction sale, the Ontario government, interested because of the province's control of timber limits and water powers leased to Abitibi, appointed a royal commission to find a plan of reorganization "equitable to all concerned."

Passage of the moratorium act by the legislature emanated from the commission's report. The action which went to the Privy Council concerned the constitutionality of the act.

During the appeal of the liquidator and the Ontario Government against Mr. Justice Middleton's order of December, 1941, the Montreal Trust Company, through its counsel, challenged the right of the province to pass legislation which prevented "access to the courts."

Government counsel held that an opportunity should be given to all parties concerned to consider the commission's plan, because of the commission's finding that the shareholders might have a substantial equity in the property if the current rate of earnings were maintained. The act was not intended to "destroy rights," but merely to postpone their enforcement, they declared.

The claim of the bondholders now amounts to approximately $65,000,000, including interest, in Canadian funds, from the date of default in 1932. Assets of the company are valued at more than $120,000,000. When the bondholders instituted the foreclosure action some three years ago the claim amounted to between $76,000,000 and $77,000,000.

During the war years the company has made substantial profits and under court direction approximately $11,000,000 has been returned to bondholders.

Abitibi, one of the largest producers of pulp and paper in Canada, was incorporated in 1914 and owns newsprint mills in an area stretching from Beaupre, Que., on the east across Northern Ontario to Pine Falls, Man.

Retail Sales Up

OTTAWA, July 8 (CP)—Canadian retail sales were reported yesterday to have averaged two per cent higher in May 1943 than in May of last year, but a drop of three per cent in dollar volume from April was registered.

Citizens Want Clarke Back

TORONTO, July 8 —(CP) —Professor George A. Cornish, who represented the York Township Board of Education on a board of reference which inquired into the dismissal of Bruce W. Clarke as principal of Runneymede Collegiate, has issued a statement summarizing the minority report he made as a member of the board. His findings differed with those of the majority report which exonerated the former principal.

"There is no question but that with Mr. Clarke's long list of provocative actions he richly deserved being removed from the leadership of Runnymede, and to put him back into the school would be one of the greatest disservices that could be inflicted on this long-suffering community," says the Professor's summary of his report.

Meanwhile a mass meeting of a citizens committee last night passed a resolution calling for immediate reinstatement of Mr. Clarke as Principal of the Collegiate.

The 59-page majority report was read to the meeting by William Wright, a teacher. The reading took two hours and 20 minutes.

Eight Now Held In Irwin Case

TORONTO, July 8 (CP)—Hymie A. Kirchenbaum, charged with neglecting to report for military service, was remanded to July 14 when he appeared in court today.

He was released on bail of $600.

After conversing with James Butler, assistant divisional registrar, who appeared for the department, Crown Attorney James McFadden said:

"I understand that the accused is connected with other cases which were remanded yesterday."

Royal Canadian Mounted Police, who arrested Kirchenbaum late yesterday, described him as a clerk in the National Selective Service, labour division office.

The arrest brought to eight the number arrested by R.C.M.P. since Tuesday.

Abitibi Appeal Is Allowed

By SCOTT YOUNG
Canadian Press Staff Writer.

LONDON, July 8 (CP Cable). — The Privy Council's Judicial Committee to-day handed down a judgment allowing the appeal of the Abitibi Power and Paper Company, Limited, from the judgment of the Ontario Appellate Court and Mr. Justice W. E. Middleton who directed that assets of the Abitibi Company should be sold at public auction.

In addition to directing the sale of the assets, Mr. Justice Middleton also held that the Abitibi Power and Paper Company Moratorium Act, passed by the Ontario Legislature in 1941, was ultra vires of the Legislature.

The orders of Mr. Justice Middleton and the Ontario Appeal Court were set aside by the Privy Council's Judicial Committee and the motion for sale was dismissed. In addition the plaintiff, the Montreal Trust Company, was ordered to pay the costs incurred by the Abitibi Company not only during this Privy Council appeal but also during the previous litigation in Ontario courts.

The order issued by Mr. Justice Middleton and upheld by the Ontario Appellate Court was that the company's property and assets be sold subject to a reserve bid with liberty given the bondholders to bid.

Sandy McIntyre, Famed Prospector Of Northern Ontario Passes Away

TORONTO, July 8— At 74, death came yesterday in Christie Street Hospital to a figure whose discoveries in the rich gold fields of Ontario's northland are almost legend—Alexander (Sandy) McIntyre, dicoverer in 1910 of the McIntyre Gold Mines, nucleus of the McIntyre Porcupine Mines. Death was a result of his service, despite his age, in the last war.

"Sandy" enjoyed the unique distinction of "striking it rich" as a young man and repeating the performance three decades later. Often in the North it is recalled how the original claim he sold for $125, later brought $300,000.

"Sandy" McIntyre wasn't always his name, though he's much better known by it than the name he was born with—Alexander Oliphant. He was working as a moulder in the north of England about the time Dome Mine was discovered , so the story goes, sending part of his wages home to his wife in Glasgow. A misunderstanding due to a delay in the mails is said to have caused him pack up his belongings and come to Canada, changing his name at the same time to "Sandy" McIntyre.

Made First Strike

He progressed from a job on a T. and N. O. construction gang to the status of a "lone wolf" prospector within a year, intrigued by the lure of gold, prospected around Porcupine and through the early days of the Cobalt era. He made his first gold "strike" where now is the Teck-Hughes Gold Mine. Years later, in 1926, the Red Lake gold rush, like many before it, called him and, more recently still, he was associated with Kirkland Lake development. He lived through the terrific bush fire that destroyed so many of the camp buildings three years after gold was found at Porcupine.

The adventurous story of "Sandy" McIntyre's search for buried riches in the Far Northland is the story of its own amazing discovery and growth. Men who took part in the Larder Lake gold rush knew him, as did the first invaders of Swastika. Bourkes on the T. and N. O., was known as Scotty Springs when he was a "squatter" there back in 1906.

He was with Hans Buttner on his way into Porcupine from the silver area of Gowganda when he met Benjamin Hollinger and Alex Gillies coming out to register their claims. Buttner staked two claims at haphazard, sold them for $10,000 and went back to the Old Country.

McIntyre was determined to get as close as possible to the Hollinger-Gillies claims and, pitching his tent on Peal Lake, (where he almost burned to death the first night when the tent caught fire), he worked his way around the area with great thoroughness.

Eventually, while pulling back the overhanging branches of a drooping cedar, he saw a quartz vein. He investigated; staked.

Sold Interests Cheap

But he had little enough idea of what his find meant. In the following summer (1910) he sold a quarter interest in his claims for $300. The same day he sold another one-eigth interest for $25, to James Hughes, later of Teck-Hughes, and finally disposed of a half interest for $500, with an additional option for $60,000. The latter he never realized, and in the end, as far as ever became known, he received not more than $8,000.

Development of the mine was rapid. It started milling in 1912, and to March this year had produced bullion to the value of $142,175,856. Payment of dividends was commenced in 1917, and the aggregate return to shareholders with the last disbursement $31, 659,647.

The first evidence of his wealth was when "Sandy" bought a team of black horses. Then he went to Scotland for a visit, but it was thought that he did not look up his wife, Rose, whose unjust incriminations had driven him to Canada in the first place.

On his return to Canada he resumed prospecting, but enlisted in the first Great War in the Machine-Gun Corps; and his overseas companions have said that had he enjoyed a somewhat better reputaton for accepting military discipline he would have been awarded a D. C. M., as he invariably displayed complete indifference to the dangers involved in his missions at the front.

McIntyre was a native of Glasgow. A brother John O. McIntyre, lives in Montreal.

Farmers Refuse To Market Corn

By WILLIAM FERRIS
Associated Press Staff Writer

CHICAGO, July 8 — (AP). — Failure of corn to move to market is causing a scramble for substitute grains by manufacturers of commercial feeds for livestock and poultry, grain men in the United States said to-day.

Barley, wheat and oats are most wanted to takes place of corn and there has been some experiments with rye. The demand has created a substantial advance in prices for these grains.

Efforts of the War Food Administration to get corn stocks off farms by guaranteeing that farmers sending their grain to market now will be compensated if ceilings are raised before Oct. 31 has had no apparent influence in expanding shipments.

There were no sales of corn in the Chicago market yesterday or Tuesday. Most of the grain arriving, owned by the Commodity Credit Corporation, went directly to industries.

Meanwhile, the Women's Christian Temperance Union added its suggestion to the rapidly growing list of proposed solutions to the tight corn situation.

Mrs. Ida B. Wise Smith, president of the W.C.T.U. in the United States said industrial alcohol could be obtained by redistilling exisiting whisky stocks, thus reducing the use of corn for manufacturing such alcohol. She said "there is enough whisky in warehouses to replace nearly 500 million pounds of corn and corn products in the manufacture of industrial alcohol."

Millbrook News

Flight Sergeant Burton Russell, R.C.A.F. and Mrs. Russell are spending a two weeks' vacation with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Russell; also Master Tommy Ashby of Peterborough is holidaying with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Russell. Mr. and Mrs. Graham Russell, and two boys, Harold and Billy of Toronto visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Russell, for the week-end.

C. S.M. F. L. Edworthy of the Training Centre, Peterborough, and Mrs. Edworthy of Millbrook, have announced the marriage of their only daughter Leitha May, C.A.S.C., (W.D.), at present stationed at Washington, D.C. to Marine Leonard William Mansell, of the British Royal Marines, Chatham, Kent, England, the event taking place at Washington, May 30.

Miss Mae O'Brian, who was home for two weeks, has returned to Buffalo, N.Y., with her cousin, Dr. F. Lugsdin and Miss Bessie O'Brian. A local War Relief Society was organized this week at a meeting held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Ford, the objective in view being to raise money to send parcels to the boys overseas. The executive is: President, Mrs. Franklin Bannister; secretary, Jean Burnham; treasurer, Miss Beatrice Fallis. The membership fee has been set at 25 cents, and everyone is invited to join. To date, an amount over one hundred dollars has been raised through vountary subscriptions, and a pot luck supper for this worthy purpose, but some more definite effort is needed to secure a steady remittance of parcels; those having relatives in the active service, and wishing them so remembered are urged to leave their correct addresses at the Red Cross Rooms, or with one of the officers of the organization.

Teacher home for the vacation include Misses Bernice Smith who will have a position next term at the Omemee Public School, having resigned at Newcastle, Ruth Ball of Oshawa, and Muriel Ball, of Lindsay; Marjorie McDowell who has resigned at Orono, and will teach next term at Leaside; Margaret, Kathleen, and Dorothy Smith; Eleanor Bigelow, of Toronto, who is going to Bigwin Inn for the summer months, with two associate teachers, to act as waitresses. Jean Smith is at Huntsville for a month's vacation with her friend, Barbara Brown. Private Robert Ridge, who has been home through illness, has gone to Quebec, and Raymond Barringer, recently enlisted in the Navy, to Toronto for initial training.

National Youth Program

OTTAWA, July 8 — (CP). — War Services Minister LaFleche said Wednesday in a statement that Provincial Governments had been invited to have representatives at a conference here on Thursday and Friday of this week to discuss the need of a national youth program. The primary object of such a program would be to provide healthful, organized recreation and productive activities for those between the ages of 11 and 17.

The Fire Of Prejudice

No doubt it was unwise and inept of the Minister of Justice, the Hon. Louis St. Laurent, to introduce such matters as a Canadian flag and a Canadian national anthem into his speech on the retribution amendment of the B.N.A. Act; doubtless it would have been better if matters of race, religion and language had not been mentioned; certainly he was ill-advised to base his assertion that 35 per cent. of the Canadian Army was French on talks with men who had returned from overseas, and not on actual figures; but these are matters which will have to be discussed some day, and we think that the day is not far off. We think that Canada will feel better when they have been discussed, and we think that such a clearing of the air will strengthen, and not weaken, our union of provinces.

Mr. J. F. Pouliot, speaking after the Minister, accused him of "lighting the fire of prejudice throughout the country". Mr. Pouliot is wrong; the fire of prejudice has been burning merrily for many years, and Mr. St. Laurent was trying to fight it in his own way. He chose the wrong time, but his intention was good. Anyone in Canada who keeps his ears open knows that the prejudice against Quebec to which the Minister referred does exist, and that in many breasts it burns with a consuming and irrational fire. We do not seek such conversations, but we have been assured by many seemingly rational people that Quebec seeks to increase its power and its population to the point where it will dominate all Canada; these people have been shocked to discover that the urge to dominate was not confined to British breasts alone. We have been assured by one man of education and standing in society that we shall live to see the day when Queen's University, that stronghold of Scotch Protestantism, will be French and Catholic. The prejudice which Mr. St. Laurent asserted exists against Quebec undoubtedly exists, for we have met with it; we do not for a moment doubt that equally violent prejudice against English Canada exists among the people of the Lower Province.

It is said that everybody is crazy on one subject, and we have accepted the fact that a great many Canadians, French and British, are crazy on the subject of race. Oil is poured on the flame by the reluctance of the French to learn English, and the intransigent refusal of all but a handful of British to learn French. We British-Canadians, despite our boasts about our educational system, are an ill-educated people, and after our schooldays are done most of us avoid further learning as we would avoid small-pox. Mr. St. Laurent's suggestion that the important British members of the House of Commons should know the French language is an eminently sensible one, but he has no hope whatever of seeing that brought to pass. The average M.P. would rather lose his seat than oblige the French by learning their tongue; indeed, complaints against the bi-lingualism of the House are frequent and bitter among these gentlemen who speak nothing but English; they want everything made as easy as possible for them.

Religious prejudice is a most dangerous subject, but who can deny that it exists in Canada and is stirred up by men who seek notoriety in this vicious employment? When Mr. St. Laurent says that it is asserted that there is a dark conspiracy on the part of "that man in the Vatican and that cardinal in Quebec to get control of the Government of this country" he is quite correct; that sort of talk may be heard in many circles. The people who talk in this strain overlook the fact that the Catholic population of the island of Malta has given a demonstration of loyalty to the British Crown which has rarely been equalled. They exaggerate grossly the control which the modern Catholic Church seeks to exercise over the political life of its adherents; indeed, argument with the victims of religious prejudice is utterly unfruitful, for their stupidity is the sort which Carlyle declared to possess "an opulence of murky stagnancy, an inexhaustibility, a calm infinitude, which will baffle even the gods—which will say calmly, "Yes, try all your lightnings here; see whether my dark belly cannot hold them!"

• • •

Mr. St. Laurent referred also to the charge so frequently heard that the French are striving to outbreed the British population of Canada. The Montreal Nationalist paper, Le Devoir, has boasted of this, and predicts that in 1971 French Canada will see "the victory of its cradles". Perhaps so. French Canada breeds prolifically and wastefully, with a high birthrate, and a high rate of infant mortality, but with a general gain in numbers surpassing our own; whether the children so produced are good physical specimens is quite another matter. But predictions based on figures are only a form of guess-work; intelligent encouragement of immigration during the first ten years of the postwar period would give Le Devoir and its cradles a run for their money. The solution to this problem is not to abuse the French, but to take steps to remedy the situation in our own part of Canada. If the French outstrip us in numbers it will be because we have shown phenomenal foolishness in meeting their challenge. After all, if we British Canadians cannot contrive to hold our own by means of natural increase and immigration, we are obviously inferior to the French in shrewdness, and it is better for our country (which we profess to love) that we should become subordinate and that the more enterprising race should be in the majority. This matter of population is not a cause for complaint but a cause for action

Let us stop pretending that the strong feeling between French Canada and British Canada on these subjects does not exist. Let us argue; let us quarrel, if need be; but let us understand each other. As a small contribution to this end the Examiner means, from time to time, to print in its third column translations of leading articles from the French-Canadian press, to give our readers an idea of how Quebec thinks, and how much of its thought is worth our careful attention. This is no pro-French journal, but a pro-Canadian one, and that is why we think that interchange of ideas is necessary if our union is to survive. As soon as the war is over the matters brought into the open by Mr. St. Laurent should be discussed and understood; that will bring bitterness for a time, but bitterness, we are sure, will be succeeded by understanding.

Scandal! Scandal!! Scandal!!!

Our local M.P., Mr. G. K. Fraser, has uncovered a scandal of the most monstrous character in connection with the Department of Munitions and Supply. During the period between September 1 of 1942 and June 1, 1943, no less than four licenses for residential construction were issued to Senators! The guilty members of the Upper House (who will probably quit the country heavily disguised some time before the end of the week) were Senator A. C. Hardy of Brockville, Senator C. W. Robinson of Moncton, Senator J. J. Duffus of Peterborough, and Senator P. R. DuTremblay of Repentigny. It is true that all but one of these licenses were granted in order to make repairs; poor Senator Robinson has had a fire, and might perhaps have had to sleep in a tent if he had been refused a repair license. And none of the licenses were for work costing over $5,000.

What can Mr. Fraser have been getting at? It must have been something of the utmost importance, or he would not have asked for a return on the matter in the House. After all, it would take someone in the Department of Munitions and Supply quite a long time to search through all the licenses issued in the stated time, in order to find out how many of them had gone to Senators, and Mr. Fraser would not waste Government time for a mere whim, or in order to look busy himself. No, we are sure that there is scandal afoot beyond what has already been uncovered, and we shall await its appearance with the liveliest anticipation.

NOTE AND COMMENT

The shortage of baby-carriages, we hear, has put all the babies up in arms.

A lady who died recently left $2,500 to endow a church choir. That was certainly leaving a lot to chants.

From a Society Page note we learn that a bachelor sea-captain has married at the age of forty. How does he like taking orders from his first mate?

A popular philosopher suggests putting yourself in the other fellow's place if you want to be popular. Better not try it in one of those beer queues.

Our Army Policy

(THE WINNIPEG FREE PRESS)

IN the final stages of national mobilization it is important not only to have every available unit of manpower in use but also to have the manpower in the right place at the right time. This fact throws a shadow over the confident prediction of Mr. J. G. Gardiner that we would reach his 1941 estimate that we could have a million men in the armed services and still produce essential munitions and food for war purposes. There are numerous signs that, great as the manpower mobilization has been, there has been misdirection of too much of it. What, for example, is the purpose of maintaining in Canada an army as large as that which now exists here?

Nobody can possibly pretend that we have a surplus of manpower in Canada today. There are serious shortages in key industries, in coal, metal mining, lumbering, and nothing that the Government has yet said or done suggests that real action has been taken to alleviate them. We suspect that the fundamental reason for these shortages is that the men to fill them simply do not exist. They are in other key jobs or they have enlisted or been drafted. Besides the shortages in vital war industries, there is a serious lack of men for the maintenance of essential civilian services. Reports of lower production in many lines are coming in all the time, and the reason given for them is always the same: lack of manpower. The local coal delivery situation is a case in point. Another is the known fact that labour is lacking for handling of finished products from mills to freight cars. What is significant about all of them is that the remedy of all the shortages is to be found only in the provision of husky, physically fit men. Naturally this is the classification which fills the needs of the armed services. There is no way of fixing this except by careful assessment of the needs of the armed services and war industry, and withdrawing from them the men who are more needed elsewhere.

THIS is the basic problem, and more and more Canadians wonder, as they watch the Government's attempts to solve it, what the reason for the policy is which maintains in Canada more than 200,000 men in the army alone. The number is more probably 240,000, of whom the vast majority have volunteered for overseas service. They include the personnel of the additional divisions which were formed early in 1942 when the possibility of Japanese attack loomed far larger than it does now. That threat has now been virtually removed, but the men are still on garrison duty—and doing presumably the kind of endless training that our men overseas have undergone since, in the case of the 1st Division, December, 1939, three and a half years ago.

This is causing astonishment. Physically fit men are needed all over Canada, but the Minister of Defence continues to raise men for the army, keeps more than half its total at home, and apparently refuses to change any policy regardless of whether the situation on which that policy was based has completely vanished. The average intelligent layman asks Why, but gets no answer. He wonders why soldiers march and countermarch across Canada while coal cannot be delivered and while goods pile up in factory yards and sheds. If the soldiers were being poured overseas to some theatre of war, he would not complain. But they do not go. The size of the army abroad grows very slowly, presumably according to some mysterious plan of the general staff. The army at home, thousands of miles either from battle or from the training grounds where battle experience is quickly taught, is kept up to this extraordinary size of more than 200,000. Some regiments and units have been two years in Canada before they went overseas. Many others more than a year. Is it possible that this is the truly efficient way to utilize our very scarce resources of physically fit men? Why are not greater numbers of them now overseas training as reinforcements? If they are not needed as reinforcements, if they are not needed for garrison duty at home, why were they called up when they were?

The answer apparently would be that training for modern war is an endless affair, that the men will do better in battle the longer they are trained. We venture to say that a volunteer army composed of men who do not propose to make a career of war suffers from prolonged inactivity, and that the only way to fit them for battle is to put them into action.

THE Minister of Defence would probably reply that he cannot, without giving information of value to the enemy, divulge the basic army plan. But he might as well know now instead of later that the visible manifestations of that secret plan must accord with common sense if he seeks continued public support for it. There is no apparent sanity in what we all see around us today. There is instead too much evidence to support the theory that the basic plan, whatever it is, is a bad one, rigid, inelastic and in all probability out of date; and that those who administer it are dominated by the conviction that the more men there are in uniform the better off Canada is, and that it is most unbecoming and unsuitable of any civilian to question the activities or inactivities of anyone in the army from the top-ranking general to the humblest private who has spent a couple of years of his life around the various Canadian training centres wondering when, if ever, he was going to get some action.

Unconsidered Trifles

"He said he would lay the earth at my feet," said the sentimental daughter.

"Yes," answered her experienced mother, "it sounds good, but it is not practical. You already have the earth at your feet. What you really need is a house over your head!"

"Boy, I'm scared! I just got a letter from a man telling me he'd shoot me if I didn't stay away from his wife."

"Well, all you have to do is stay away from his wife."

"Yeah, but he didn't sign his name."

The little man ordered his meal and waited patiently for it to be served. Half-way through the second course the waiter came quietly to his table.

"Excuse me, sir," he whispered, "but advise you not to hurry with your meal."

"Good gracious!" exclaimed the little man. "Why shouldn't ?"

"Well, sir," said the waiter, "you're sitting on a prize-fighter's hat, but he doesn't know it yet."

LIFE'S DARKEST MOMENT

At the Centre of Empire

(By SCOTT YOUNG, Canadian Press Staff Writer)

LONDON, July 8 (CP)—A controversy over the Trades Disputes Act (1927) which bans affiliation of Civil Service Unions in the Trades Union Congress, may develop into a battle of considerable proportions between the Labour party and the government within the next few weeks.

The situation was brought to a head by the recent announcement from the T.U.C. general council that the Post Office Workers Union (Civil Service) had applied for affiliation, and had been accepted.

The seriousness with which this move is regarded can be judged from the Labour party central committee's advice to delegates at the party's Whitsun conference not to discuss it because of its possible unfavourable interpretation abroad.

Roughly, the situation is this: The T.U.C. accepted the Post Office Workers Union affiliation without discussing the matter with the parliamentary Labour members, who should have been consulted because they are the ones who will have to fight through the amendment that would make the affiliation legal. Unless the act is amended to allow civil service T.U.C. affiliation, both the T.U.C. and its new affiliate are liable to high court injunctions.

By failing to express an opinion on the matter, the conference left it entirely to parliament, and it is possible that Mr. Churchill may have to take a hand before settlement is made.

There is considerable difference between the choice of Field Marshal Viscount Wavell as viceroy of India and the last wartime viceroyalty appointment (1916) in addition even to the vast difference between a field marshal and a captain.

It was in 1916 that Lord Chelmsford, then serving in India as a captain in the 4th Battalion of the Dorsetshire Regiment, became viceroy. The secret that this captain was being groomed for India's biggest job was certainly not suspected by a veteran major in Lord Chelmsford's unit, who, during a discussion between officers of what they would do after the war, told Lord Chelmsford magnaminously that "A man in your position ought to be able to get a job."

Lord Hailey, former governor of Punjab and the United Provinces, one of Britain's foremost authorities on colonial affairs, and certainly an old school, old line type of colonial administrator, told the Royal Society of Arts that he "personally doubts" whether the substitution of public for private capital in industrial or commercial development is likely to go to any considerable lengths in the British colonies.

"If we hold seriously to our idea of self-government for the colonies then we must work consciously toward a situation in which they will be far less dependent on the supply of capital from us," he said.

"But that will not be the result of any single measure, both capitalist and administration have obligations, and if these obligations are adequately discharged by both sides then our conscience need not be unduly troubled if capital still makes its profits."

Letters To The Editor

SATURDAY NIGHT CLOSING

Editor Examiner:

Sir,—I would like to voice the appreciation and thanks of the rural people to the merchants of Peterborough who have had the courage and fair-mindedness to keep their stores open on Saturday nights.

We thought the R. Neill Company expressed the opinion of the farmers and factory workers when they said that though merchandise is scarce, surely everyone is entitled to an opportunity of buying what they need and can get.

As for the city council passing a bylaw these men can no longer shut their eyes to the fact that the war worker and the farmer are doing a big job and merit some consideration.

MRS. DAVE McINTYRE.
R.R. No. 8, Peterborough.

BUILD A FLOUR STOCKPILE

Editor Examiner:

Sir,—According to an item in the news columns "Total flour stocks in Canada at the end of May amounted to 926,000 barrels. . . ."

My rural friend advises me that the above tonnage of flour represents about 4½ times that amount of the raw grain, and that 926,000 barrels of flour are consumed annually by, say the population of Montreal.

At the rate that the Allied planes are smashing industrial facilities in Europe, it seems reasonable to suppose that the milling industry in that unhappy continent will be in no shape, within the next 6 or 9 months, to meet the needs of hundreds of millions of hungry people?

Don't you think it would be a constructive idea for Canadian mills to get busy on the building of an appropriate stockpile of flour, so as to be ready to meet the emergent call for "food" as the United Nations puncture Hitler's "fortress" and get whole nations clear from the brutal Hun?

I'm not at all sure that the milling industry can be asked to carry this load; on the other hand I am sure that the federal authorities should be willing to "lend a hand," in the matter of carrying the flour output, beyond domestic and overseas demand.

The time for action is now, rather than next summer. If we are not to be "too late with too little" in peace, I would like to see a definite policy embarked on, by which we would build a reserve, not of 926,000 barrels of flour but fifteen or twenty times that barrelage; and the facts should be "beamed" to the people of Europe at the right time. This would help to cut the ground beneath the feet of the master-liars in Berlin?

A stock of 926,000 barrels doesn't look very impressive or realistic to my eyes, in today's state of the world!

"ON TIME."

Two Chicago Pictures

1832—"A lonely, weedy streamlet flows eastward past the fort, then turns sharp to the right and makes its weak way by a shallow, fordable ripple, over a long sandbar, into the lake a half mile to the southward. At his feet, on the river bank, stands the United States agency storehouse. Across the river, and a little to the eastward, is the old Kinzie house, built of squared logs, by Point de Sable, nearly forty years ago; now repaired, enlarged and improved by its owner and occupant, John Kinzie. A canoe lies moored to the bank in front of the house; when any of the numerous Kinzies wish to come to the fort they can paddle across; when any one wishes to go over he can halloo for the canoe. Just west of Kinzie's house in Duillemette's cabin, and still further that of John Burns. Opposite Burns' place (near South State Street), a swampy branch enters the river from the south; and on the side of this branch there is a group of Indian wigwams. The north side of the river is all woods, except where little garden-patches are cleared around the human habitations. The observer may see the forks of the stream a mile to westward, but he cannot trace its branches, either 'River Guave' to the north, or 'Portage River' to the south, for the trees hide them. Near him, to the west and south, sandy flats, grassy marshes and general desolation are all he can see. (Will that barren waste ever be worth more than a dollar an acre?)"

1892—"Close at hand one sees the streamlet, now a mighty channel, a fine, broad, deep waterway running straight between long piers out into the lake; and stretching inland indefinitely; bordered by elephantine elevators; spanned by magnificent draw-bridges each built of steel and moved by steam; carrying on its floods propellers of 100,000 bushels of grain capacity. Looking north, west and south, he sees serried ranks of enormous buildings towering for miles and miles, each one so tall as to dwarf the fort and blockhouse to nothingness. He sees hundreds of miles of paved streets, thronged with innumerable passengers and vehicles moving hither and thither, meeting and impeding each other, so that sometimes so many try to pass that none can pass; all must wait until the uniformed guardians of the peace bring order out of chaos. Every acre of ground in sight is worth millions of dollars."—From "Photographic History of the World's Fair," by James Wilson Pierce, D.D., LL.D. (1893).

Hard To Believe How Time Flies

JULY 8

1913 The foundation-stone of the new gates at the Little Lake Cemetery is laid.

F. J. A. Morris, J. F. Harvey and Miss Sarah McBride have been appointed to the staff of the Peterborough Collegiate Institute.

Twenty-seven pupils of the Collegiate have passed the Normal School entrance examinations.

Lieut.-Col. E. B. Clegg has appointed a board to examine and report on the new rifle ranges.

Official returns show that Peterborough is the fourth lowest city in Ontario on the basis of per capita taxation.

A Bible Message

Have mercy upon me, O God, according to thy lovingkindness: according unto the multitude of thy tender mercies blot out my transgressions. Wash me throughly from mine iniquity, and cleanse me from my sin. (Ps. 51: 1, 2.)

And as the people were in expectation, and all men mused in their hearts of John, whether he were the Christ, or not; John answered, saying unto them all, I indeed baptize you with water; but one mightier than I cometh, the latchet of whose shoes I am not worthy to unloose: he shall baptize you with the Holy Ghost and with fire: whose fan is in his hand, and he will throughly purge his floor, and will gather the wheat into his garner; but the chaff he will burn with fire unquenchable. (Luke 3: 15-17.)

Know ye not that so many of us as were baptized into Jesus Christ were baptized into his death? Therefore we are buried with him by baptism into death: that like as Christ was raised up from the dead by the glory of the Father, even so we also should walk in newness of life. .... Knowing this, that our old man is crucified with him, that the body of sin might be destroyed, that henceforth we should not serve sin. (Rom. 6: 3, 4, 6.)

For as many of you as have been baptized into Christ, have put on Christ. (Gal. 3: 27.)

Speaking of Legs

Marlene Dietrich, the film star, arrived in Chicago the other day in her present role as an army-camp entertainer, and a reporter inevitably brought up the subject of legs. "This," replied Miss Dietrich severely, "is no time to talk about legs," and that ended the interview.

But the subject will not down. We don't know much about such things, but there seem to be a great many people who hold stoutly that Miss Dietrich has the most perfect legs in the world, at least so far as their observation goes. On the other hand another great company supports Miss Betty Grable's legs — a newspaper story about her forthcoming marriage speaks of Miss Grable as "the lady with the well-known legs," and a picture magazine just the other day printed side by side photographs of the Dietrich and Grable legs but cautiously avoided taking sides.

So whether or not Miss Dietrich thinks the time opportune to discuss this rather delicate subject it does persist in getting into the newspapers. Here, for instance, is a story from New York quoting manufacturers as saying that next winter women in the United States will have the choice of heavy stockings or bare legs. That has nothing to do with either Miss Dietrich or Miss Grable, if we may believe their admirers, but in the cold weather it's going to be a hard choice for the hosts of women who lack their special advantages.—Ottawa Journal.

AIRCRAFT TEAM DEFEATS GENERALS 9-5 IN GIRLS' LEAGUE GAME

Marg Selkirk Is New Hurler For Aircrafters

Generals gave the second-place Aircraft team a good battle in the Girls' Softball League game at the Bowl, Wednesday night, before going down to a 9-5 defeat. It was one of the best-played games of the campaign and the losers made it close enough to be always interesting.

Aircraft came up with a surprise pitcher in Marg. Selkirk who usually patrols centre field and she pitched nice ball to make her first start on the hilltop a triumph. Pat Wilson went the distance for Generals, striking out eight batters, and holding the hard-hitting Aircrafters to 11 hits in a good exhibition against a powerful club.

Aircraft opened out with three runs in the first inning on hits by Marg Selkirk, Eleanor Craig and Ruth Hewitt and an infield out. Pat Wilson struck out Phyllis Bigelow and Irma Perdue to end the inning.

A couple of errors and a hit by Irene Stewart gave the winners another counter in the second to make it 4 to 0.

A pass to Mary Crowe and hits by Pat Wilson and Marg Barrie were responsible for the first General run in the third and the Aircrafters came back with one in their half of the inning to make it 5 to 1.

In the fifth an error followed by a double by Phyllis Bigelow allowed Ruth Hewitt to cross the plate and the winners were in front 6 to 1.

Generals staged a rally in the first of the sixth that cut down the lead materially. A single by Audrey Scott, passes to M. McCarroll, F. Kelly and Pat Wilson and an error gave the losers three runs and the score was 6 to 4 when the rally was finally shot down.

However Aircraft made it sure by coming through with two runs in the seventh when J. Moore slammed out a homer.

Generals hit back with a single in the eighth on hits by Mary Crowe and Pat Wilson and that was the final counter.

Features were the pitching of Pat Wilson, the work of Mary Crowe behind the bat and the good fielding of B. Phillips at short for the Generals and the effective twirling of Marg Selkirk and J. Moore's homer for the winners.

Ken Sears and his dad, Umpire "Ziggy."

Sears, Son Of National Umpire Stars As Rookie With Yankees

By WALTER I. JOHNS
Central Press Canadian Sports Editor.

Competing against such established veterans as Bill Dickey and Rollie Hemsley isn't an easy task for a rookie.

But husky Kenneth Eugene Sears, third member of the New York Yankee receiving staff, has faced such competion all season and, has emerged as one of the rookie stars of the season.

Son of John William (Ziggy) Sears, National league umpire, Ken Sears had to wait his turn behind the plate, but when it came, he delivered in grand style.

A leg injury forced the veteran Dickey to the sidelines just when he was enjoying a big year at the bat. This gave Sears his chance. He did most of the catching on the Yankees' eastern trip and the team won six of nine games. Behind the bat in seven of the nine games, Rookie Sears hit so well that he came home with a .346 batting average, second only to Dickey's.

The promising Yank catcher is a former University of Alabama student where he played football and baseball. He landed a berth in the Yankee chain, with Kansas City, and then moved to Newark.

The Yanks purchased him from Newark and took him to training camp in 1942 only to ship him back to the Kansas City Blues. With the American Association club last year Sears hit .280 and drove in 56 runs.

A homer hitter since he first played baseball, Sears banged out 13 round trippers for the Blues last year.

Baseball men like Sears as a hitter and as a catcher. They point out one of his faults as a receiver however, and that is throwing to bases.

Sears is 6 feet tall and weights 200 pounds. He was born at Streator, Ill., in 1918. He lives in Fort Worth, Tex.

His father, an umpire in the National loop since 1934, is a former Texas league player.

Sears, Sr., played left field for Fort Worth for several years, helping the Cats win six Texas league flags. He turned to umpiring in that loop when his legs began to bother him and was appointed to the major leagues in July, 1934.

The senior Sears was born at Central City, Ky., in January, 1892.

Woollens Win Over Watercraft

The Dominion Woollens squad in a city industrial fixture at the Woollens grounds took the Watercraft Sailors to a 26 to 15 defeat.

Although the Sailors started off on the score sheet in a big way they failed to keep the pace and the Woollens played their opportunities at every chance. The Wool boys played errorless ball, fielded well and deserved the win.

SPORTS – DAY BY DAY

By FRED D. CRAIG

Another torrid tussle is on the cards in the City Softball League tonight when the Soldiers and Switch Gear clubs tie into each other at Riverside Park. With the teams all bunched and places changed with practically every game, each battle becomes increasingly important and tonight's argument shapes up as a wide-open affair. The last time the two clubs met the Soldiers just managed to eke out a 9 to 8 win over Manager Chambers' athletes, getting the winning run in the last of the ninth when Tony McIlveen came through with a million dollar single with the bases full. Gene Reynolds whose slow-ball pitching bothered the Military Training Centre team considerably on that occasion may be sent back at them in this important clash while either Johnny Walker or Tom Parsons is likely to be nominated by Manager Harry Morgan for the Soldiers. The game is called for 7 o'clock sharp and one of the biggest crowds of the season is expected. The Soldiers have a big following and always have plenty of vocal support every time they are slated to perform.

There will be no game in the Girls' Softball League tonight but a lively battle is scheduled for Friday night at the Bowl when the Brintons who played smart ball Tuesday night to knock off the Generals will clash with the Johnson Motor girls. The Outboard Marines have been showing constant improvement in recent games and predict that they are about ready to break into the win column. Tomorrow night, they intimate, could be the time and at any rate they are prepared to give the Carpet-makers a tough argument for the honors. Dot Laver, left-handed pitcher, will probably do the hurling for the Brintons while Johnson Motors have not yet announced their starting pitcher. Both camps say they will have their strongest lineups out there and the game should be interesting all the way.

A Real Argument

When Promoter Frank Tunney decided to match Whipper Billy Watson and Irish Pat Flanagan as the head-liner bout for next Monday's wrestling show at the Brock St. Summer Gardens the Toronto impresario was indicating that he realized that Peterborough fans appreciate clean, fast and clever wrestling, rather than the freak stuff. The Watson-Flanagan tangle should provide plenty of action local followers of the game like for Watson whose climb to the top in the wrestling game has been phenomenal is a big, speedy and skilful mat artist who has been learning all the time while Flanagan is a performer of the same type with enough experience and wrestling science to make the Whipper extend himself all the way. The British Empire champion should take the Toronto Irishman but at least he will know that he has been in a tough bout. Flanagan is no pushover for anybody and given this chance at Watson will undoubtedly give everything he has to take the idol of the Toronto fans. Two other good bouts will round out the card which from the viewpoint of real wrestling looks about the best-balanced bill Tunney has offered local fans.

Ken Colling in his Belleville sport column tells of the death of a former well-known Belleville hockey player, Ted Whalen, who played against Peterborough teams often in the old days and was seen in action at Brock St. Rink on a number of occasions. Says the paragraph: "It was with regret the hockey-loving public learned of the death of Edwin (Ted) Whalen over the week-end. Ted Whalen was better known to a previous age of hockey when he excelled as a centre player in the days when seven men composed a team, a rover being used, and no substitutes or alternates permitted at any time. Players had to stick it out the entire 60 minutes in those days, two halves of 30 minutes each. The late Ted Whalen played centre for the Belleville Intermediates of 1916 when the local seven advanced to the Intermediate finals. A shifty centre player, Ted Whalen was a pastmaster at gaining the draw during face-offs, an art that counted considerably in the old style lateral passing game before the introduction of the present helter-skelter forward passing came into vogue. Incidentally, Doug Whalen, a younger brother and also a hockey player in his own right, died earlier in the year. To the bereaved family the sporting public extend deepest sympathy."

Running Them Out

This column ventured the opinion several weeks ago that City Softball League clubs were playing much too canny baseball and not taking enough chances on the bases. One club has apparently taken the suggestion to heart for the 4th Battery, led by Eddie Starr, who is fairly burning up the base-paths these nights are running bases like the St. Louis Cards. The Gunners are looking for that extra base all the time. Starr in the last two or three games has turned half a dozen singles into doubles, sliding into second ahead of the outfielders's throws and Heal, Stewart, Jones and company are also carrying the mail with the result that the Gunners are cashing in on the last foot of distance on every hit and they have the opposition hurried and worried by the manner in which they are tearing around the cushions. That kind of base-running makes scoring easy. How it pays was shown in the sixth inning last night when Starr led off with what looked like an ordinary single. He never hesitated at first but raced to second, beating the throw by a beautiful slide. Stewart hit a sharp bounder to Nicholls for what would have been an easy double play if Starr had not extended his hit into a double. As it was he went to third on the throw to first and was in position to score on a fly to the outfield by Ellis.

With a chance to oust the New York Yanks out of first place in the American League the Washington Senators have completely blown up and yesterday were dropped to third slot when the Detroit Tigers slapped them down again. The Bengals who have won nine out of their last 11 games are now second, 3½ games behind the Yanks who have stepped on the gas in the past few days after a slump that almost cost them the leadership. Southpaw Hal Newhouser pitched a five-hitter to beat the Senators 9 to 1, the victory being gained at the expense of Alex Carresquel who has been one of the Senator aces all season. Meanwhile the Yankees were winning their fourth successive victory over the St. Louis Browns 2 to 0 with Spud Chandler tossing a six-hit game to pick up his ninth win of the season as against two losses. Boston Red Sox lost a 14 innings game to the Chicago White Sox in an unusual way when Wally Moses stole home with the winning run.

Sporting Chili Con Carne: When Caccavella tossed Eddie Starr out at first in the ninth inning of last night's fixture it was the first time in thirteen trips to the plate in the last two games that the opposition had been able to get the fleet-footed catcher of the Battery out....Genelecs and the Battery will clash Friday night, both on the crest of a two-game winning streak so there should be plenty of action....Al Jarlett held Montreal Royals to six hits last night and the Leafs came up with a 3 to 0 win....Elmer Riddle became a ten-game winner yesterday holding the Boston Braves to three hits as the Reds took one end of a double-header 5 to 1....Manny Salvo took his third win of the season in the other half of the bill, Boston beating Bucky Walters and the Reds 4 to 2 ....Wayne Sheley, quarterback of the Winnipeg Blue Bombers, when they won the Canadian championship in 1941 has left Winnipeg to join the United States army....Herb Peschel and Bud Marquardt, former members of the Bombers are already with Uncle Sam's forces....The Battery-Soldiers game scheduled for next Tuesday night with the leadership of the league at stake will be for the benefit of the Greek War Relief Fund and the biggest crowd of the year is expected.

"Chop Chop" Chops Fifth Of Second From Record

Let's tell you about "Chop Chop." To paraphrase a recently popular song, he is all right, and here we see him, with veteran jockey Longden at his neck, clipping a fifth of a second from the Jamaica track record for a mile and 3-16ths. He is winning the $25,000 added Empire City Handicap in 1.57 1-5th. Running little more than a length behind and not doing badly himself from a time angle, is Royal Nap, the favorite. Princequillo is third.

Battery Team Smothers Combines 18-3

Showing power at the plate and speed on the bases, 4th Battery handed the Combines an 18 to 3 shellacking in the City League fixture at Riverside Park on Wednesday night, knocking the Delpellaro club out of first spot. The win sent the Soldiers back to the top of the heap and pulled the Battery up to a second-place tie with the Combines, half a game behind the Military Training Centre.

Last night's argument was settled in the first inning when the Battery staged a six-run uprising at the expense of Sid Craig, starting pitcher for the Combines. Craig was wild and when he did get the ball in there the Gunners were coming through with hits.

He finally vanished from the scene after the Battery had started another parade in the second inning. Freddy Elliott quelled the attack momentarily, but he too was hit hard throughout the engagement, and his support was weak, slow fielding that is not represented in the error column, making his chore more difficult.

Bob Crowe went the distance for the Battery and barring a bit of wildness, the young hurler pitched good ball, holding the Combines to nine hits. He was well supported. The Gunners' outfield took care of thirteen flies flawlessly and the infield played good ball too with a fast double-play, Vitarelli to Jones to Ellis, standing out.

The Gunners hammered the two Combines pitchers for 22 hits. Bill Jones, youthful second-sacker, had five blows in six trips to the plate, Eddie Starr, the league batting leader, hit safely the first four times up and scored five runs, Joe Stewart also crossed the plate five times and Jim Ellis set up a new record for the season by driving in seven runs, beating the six mark set by Sandulak of the Soldiers a short time ago. Girard, Freddy Elliott, and Jack Gardner had two hits each for the losers.

The outfielders on both teams had a busy night, no fewer than 25 flies being gathered in by the gardeners during the engagement.

Craig could not get the ball over for the first three Battery batters in the first frame, and Heal, Pryde and Burton walked. Eddie Starr dropped a double back of short to score Heal and Pryde. Joe Stewart singled to left, sending Burton in and taking second on the throw to third. Ellis singled ont the ground into right, scoring Starr and Stewart. Vitarelli flied to centre for the first out, but Jones singled to right to score Ellis. The next two rolled out.

In the second frame after Craig had walked Burton and Stewart and Starr had singled between the two passes, Ellis singled to right to put Burton and Starr across and that was the end of Craig. Elliott took over and got the side out, after Stewart had scored the third run on an infield out.

Battery kept up the assault by bunching four hits for three runs in the fourth, added a single in the fifth on Starr's double, an infield out and a long fly to the outfield, punched three more in in the eighth, and called it a night with a pair in the final frame.

Combines threatened in two or three innings, but the necessary hit was not forthcoming until the seventh when they scored their three runs. In that innings Gardner and Elliott opened with singles and Nicholls drew a pass, filling the bases. Brockley rolled to Jones who threw Gardner out at the plate. Crowe could not get the ball over for Caccavella who walked, forcing in Elliott. McCormick bounded to Vitarelli who nailed Nicholls at the plate. Calladine scratched a hit down the third base line, Brockley scoring. Girard drew a pass, sending Caccavella in, but Murduff flied to Burton to end the rally.

The losers threatened again in the eighth when they filled the bases with two out on passes to Nicholls and Brockley and an error but Stewart camped under McCormick's fly to stop the attack.

JARLETT PITCHING FOR TORONTO SHUTS OUT MONTREAL ROYALS

Only One Man Permitted To Reach Third

By The Associated Press

Earl Naylor, former outfielder for Philadelphia Phillies, has come back to pitching in the International League.

When Naylor reported to Hershey, Pa., for spring training with the Phils, Manager Bucky Harris told him to forget about throwing curve balls and concentrate on centre fielding. But a month ago Naylor was traded to St. Louis Cardinals along with Danny Litwhiler. The Cards in turn sent the ex-Memphis lad to Rochester.

Last night, with the Red Wings trailing Buffalo at 7-3, Naylor went in as a relief pitcher in the seventh. He didn't yield a hit and retired the Bisons scoreless although he gave up two walks. He was taken out for a pinch-hitter in the eighth after which Manager Pepper Martin took the mound and gave the Bisons their last 2 runs in a 9-3 victory on two hits, two walks and two wild pitches.

Rochester got 11 hits off Buffalo's Floyd Giebell, in addition to five bases on balls, but after the second inning failed to score.

Al Jarlett turned in a six-hit shutout for Toronto Maple Leafs against the Montreal Royals, 3-0. In chalking up his sixth victory of the campaign Jarlett permitted only one man to reach third. Al Rubeling drove in the winning run in the fourth with a two-bagger.

With his supporting cast banging out 17 hits, Ed. Klieman won his 15th game as Baltimore beat Syracuse, 8-4.

Klieman was touched for 11 hits and walked three men, but held the Chiefs scoreless after the fourth. A four-run outburst in the sixth on five hits and a double steal shattered a 4 to 4 tie to give the Orioles their victory. George Honochick, Oriole first sacker led the 17-hit assault on Arnold Carter and Jim Konstanty by belting four hits in six times up.

The Newark-Jersey City game was postponed.

TORONTO, July 8 — (CP). — Eddie Shore isn't having much luck with his goalkeepers. Here he is all ready to move his Buffalo Bisons up to the National Hockey League and his goalies are joining the Navy so fast it appears Eddie may have to work between the pipes himself next winter.

Shore was generally credited with one of the greatest goal finds in years when he pulled 17-year-old Gordon Bell out of Portage La Prairie, Man., a year ago and put him to work in Buffalo. Gordie won the American League puck title for Eddie. New York Rangers promptly drafted Bell, but it was conceded Gordie would stay with Buffalo if the Bisons move up to the N.H.L. as expected. Now Bell has enlisted with the Navy.

Ordinarily that would make Freckles Little Shore's number one goalkeeper for next winter, but Freckles has passed his medical and reports to the Navy in Hamilton to-day. Little was the 17-year-old sensation of Niagara Falls Senior Cataracts last season and Cataracts were a Buffalo farm.

In memory:

Joe Ross, killed in an R.C.A.F. crash near Glen Morris, Ont., was the second member of one of Canada's greatest basketball teams to be killed on active service with the R.C.A.F. in Canada. Art Willoughby, also a member of Vancouver Westerns, national champions in 1938 and Vancouver Maple Leafs, champions in 1940, was killed a year ago. They were two of the greatest players in Canadian cage history.

Incidentally:

Lt.-Col. Arthur White, who entered the sport spotlight this year when he directed the Canadian Army's promotion of the Johnny Greco-Terry Young fight in Montreal, is being transferred to London, Ont.......R.A.F. boys stage some great soccer shows for Saskatchewan fans. In Moose Jaw the other day the R.A.F. players staged an England vs. Scotland international match. Harold Roberts, clever centre forward from Bury in the English League, was a one-man blitz, scoring all seven goals as England beat Scotland 7-5....Paul Ciceri, once part owner of Toronto St. Pats, predecessors of Toronto Maple Leafs in the N.H.L., now is a lieutenant in charge of a Canadian depot where prisoners of war are received and shipped to camps. Ciceri was a prominent racehorse owner and for a time was racing secretary at the Hamilton track.

Senators Skid To 4th Place Drop Five Games

By JUDSON BAILEY
Associated Press Sport Writer

The honeymoon seems to be over for Washington Senators.

Before the Fourth of July Washington still was a wonder team and was in a virtual tie with New York Yankees for American League leadership.

Today the Senators are in fourth place after losing five of their last six games and though they are only a single percentage point from third place their prospects of threatening for the lead are not bright.

The Senators' present plight may be traced to weaknesses apparent before the club collapsed on its current western trip. They had a problem at third base so hopeless that Manager Ossie Bluege finally installed veteran outfielder Bob Johnson at the hot corner.

Since becoming an infielder last Friday the big Indian has hit three home runs and conducted himself capably in the field. But he hasn't been able to hold the club above its challengers. The pitching has been unsatisfactory and the infield spotty.

Detroit Tigers and Chicago White Sox have taken advantage of the Senators' slump to stage two of the fastest spurts of the season. The Tigers, who moved into second place yesterday by beating Washington 9-1, have won nine of their last 11 games and the Sox have won eight.

Hal Newhouser, the Tigers' slim southpaw star, pitched five-hit ball in beating the Senators and his teammates gave him two four-run innings. Twice Don Ross came to the plate with the bases loaded and singled.

White Sox nosed out Boston Red Sox 3-2 when Wally Moses stole home with the bases loaded and two out in the 14th inning. Johnny Humphries pitched eight-hit ball over the extended route and gave only one safety in the last seven frames.

New York Yankees completed a sweep of their four game series at St. Louis as Spud Chandler shut out the Browns 2-0 on six hits. Nick Etten accounted for one of the leaders' runs with his sixth homer of the year and fourth of the western trip.

In the National League, Cincinnati and Boston divided a double-header with Elmer Riddle pitching three-hit ball as the Reds won the first game 5-1 and Manny Salvo coming back with a five-hit performance for a 4-2 decision in the nightcap.

Sport Shorts From Britain

SOMEWHERE IN ENGLAND, July 8—(CP). — There's nothing like a spot of sport to keep the boys on their toes, but the Canadian Army goes further than that.

A "work-while-you-play" version of athletics has been adopted that gives relaxation and at the same time increases knowledge and speed toward handling war's instruments.

Increasing in popularity, the stunt was tried most recently by the Army Service Corps of an Armored Division and competitions included sorting of ammunition and changing vehicle wheels.

Top honors at the meet, at which Maj.-Gen. F. F. Worthington was a keen speceator, went to a divisional troops company which piled up 100 points more than its nearest rival.

A two-man team event, the Jeep wheel-changing race against time went to two British Columbia soldiers, Driver Wag Wagner of Vancouver and L.-Cpl. M. Cousins of Victoria.

The championship divisional company won the ammunition sorting competition. Members were L.-Cpls. C. A. Connor of Hamilton, Ont., and J. Bidlake of Vancouver, Ptes. C. L. Keene of Liverpool, N.S., G. A. Grindle, Birch River, Man., C. W. Baker, of Cookshire, Que., F. Maloine, Winnipeg, and G. E. Flear, Saskatoon.

Five lads from London, Ont., were included in an armored brigade company unit which won the softball competition. They were Sgts. J. R. Paton and I. C. Hodgson, L.-Cpl. W. E. Blackwell and Ptes. A. Allison and L. C. Mote.

A sturdy signalman from Woodstock, Ont., emerged from the varied contests as outstanding athlete when the 12th Manitoba Dragoons held a track and field meet.

D. Blewett, member of headquarters' squadron, won the running broad jump with a leap of 19 feet 3 inches, and the hop, step and jump with a try of 38 feet 3 inches to stand out as the only double winner. Just to show his versatility he placed second in the 220-yard dash, won by Tpr. N. Probizanski of Winnipeg. Probizanski finished second to Blewett in the broad jump.

Right behind Blewett in the hop, step and jump was L.-Cpl. C. A. Phelps of Winnipeg who also took third position in the high jump. That event went to Tpr. J. H. Colvil of Montreal, who cleared three inches more than 5 feet.

Stocky Tpr. G. Sey, Sask., heaved the 16-pound shot 31 feet 2½ inches to win that event.

Robert Marshal Named Tax Collector

HAVELOCK, July 8 —(ENS), — Robert Marshall was appointed tax Collector for 1943 under By-law No. 805 which received its several readings and finally passed on Saturday at the July meeting of the Belmont and Methuen Township Council.

Reeve Isaac Anderson presided and Councillors McNeely, Purdy, Steenburg and Newton were present. It was moved by Councillors Steenburg and Newton that a grant of $60.00 be given on the side road leading to William Dingman's lot in Methuen.

Councillors McNeely and Newton moved that Collector receive an abatment of $7.76 on Robert McDonald's tax of 1943 because of an overcharge in assessment and that a new tax bill be rendered to Mr. McDonald.

A motion by Councillors Steenburg and McNeely, to the effect that each councillor and the Reeve be paid ½ their sessional allowance and that the Clerk-Treasurer be paid $200.00 on 1943 salary was passed, and it was passed that the collector receive an abatement of $3.88 on Mrs. Effie Williams 1943 on account of an overcharge on assessment.

Given Title

It was moved by Councillors Steenburg and Newton that Wallace Kelch be transferred the title of the S. W. pt. 21, Con. 1, Belmont, providing he pays 1943 tax on the above property, plus the cost of registration and transfer on this transfer before Aug. 15, 1943.

Council adjourned to meet again on Aug 7.

Following accounts were ordered paid.

H. F. Matheson Stamps, $2.; Isaac Anderson, Pt. Sessional Allowance, $35.; Carl Purdy, Pt. sessional Allowance, $35.; Joe McNeely, Pt. Sessional Allowance, $35.; W. A. F. Stenburg, Pt. Sessional Allowance, $35.; George Newton, Pt. Sessional Allowance. $35.; Grant Dafoe, part of 1943 salary, $200.; Robert Marshal, abatement of R. McDonald and Mrs. Effie Williams, $11.64; A. U.S. Secretary of Commerce Jesse Jones is shown as he appeared before the House rules committee in Washington. He requested a congressional investigation of the obstructionist charge made the other day by Vice-President Henry A. Wallace and turned the tables by charging Wallace's board of economic warfare with delay, if any. In this connection he mentioned two deals for Canadian products—Canadian alcohol and Canadian vinyl acetate—charging the B.E.W. with delay in negotiations.

Bring Up More Planes.

The Russians declared the Germans had brought up air reinforcements from western Europe and Yugoslavia as well as from other sectors of the eastern front.

Both sides said great air battles were raging.

(In fact, said the transocean commentator in last night's broadcast, "the Germans are throwing more aircraft into action than the Anglo-Saxons ever did in the fight for Tunisia.")

Fierce tank clashes added great clamor to the din of the battle line.

The Russians said the Nazi armor, operating mostly in units of about 10 but at some places charging 300 to 400 strong, constantly stormed Soviet fortifications, with mechanized infantry following. But the Red forces, employing Stormovik planes, artillery and tanks of their own, were said to be holding steadfast against the wall of enemy armor.

50 Auto Tires Stolen

TORONTO, July 8 (CP).—Police said today 50 new automobile tires values at $1,000 were stolen last night from the Provincial Tire Company on Victoria Street in downtown Toronto.

A stolen truck was believed to have been used to carry away the tires. The theft brought to approximately 755 the number of tires stolen from automobiles, garages and service stations in Toronto this year.

Cheese Mark Up Questioned By Tory Leader

OTTAWA, July 8. (CP) —Gordon Graydon, Progressive Conservative House Leader, said in the Commons last night that a Prices Board order covering cheese appears to allow a higher mark-up in sales to some retailers than others.

Mr. Graydon said the order to manufacturers provides the mark-up might not exceed one-half cent a pound on purchases made by a retailer who operates more than two retail places of business and a central warehouse for such place of business, or 2½ cents a pound on sales to any other person selling cheese at retail.

"The only inference can be that when a manufacturer sells or offers to sell cheese to those with more than two retail places and having a central warehouse the mark-up can only be one-half cent a pound, but when he sells to a man who operates only one store the mark-up may be as high as 2½ cents a pound," said Mr. Graydon.

"....On the face of it, it looks like a clear case of discrimination as between the two classes of retailers."

Finance Minister Isley said it appeared the store with more than two outlets and a central warehouse was treated as a wholesaler and received the wholesale price rather than the retail price.

It was quite usual for chain stores to be treated as wholesalers in the price-fixing system. They discharged the function of wholesalers, had their own warehouses and distributed the goods among their branches.

Mr. Graydon: "to be blunt, despite the explanation of the minister .... the fact remains that the mark-up for any other retailer is 2½ cents and the arguments from time to time on this very point still stand, so far as I see, despite the clarification which has been made."

MORE ABOUT—

Abitibi Appeal

ruling of the Privy Council was based was rejection of the plaintiffs' contention that the winding up of the Abitibi Company's affairs fell under federal laws and therefore could not be stayed by Ontario legislation — the Abitibi Power and Paper Company moratorium act, 1941, and its extension in 1942.

Legislation Valid

Thus the Privy Council ruled that this Ontario legislation was valid and set aside the Ontario Appellate Court ruling that it was ultra vires of the legislature.

The Privy Council judgment said that the action to wind up the company's affairs was originally a mortgagee's action brought in the Ontario courts. Thus it was subject to provincial laws which might be altered at any time the provincial legislature saw fit.

The judgment overruled the opinion expressed by Mr. Justice Middleton that the action for sale should proceed in accordance with the rules and practice existing at the date of the original application by the Montreal Trust Company.

"Their Lordships can see no ground for such a restriction," the judgment said. "If the rules of procedure were subsequently altered before the action came to end it must proceed thereafter subject to the rules as maneded."

The Company went into receivership in 1932. The Moratorium Act passed by the Ontario Legislature was designed to stay proceedings directing sale of all assets under a mortgage made by the Company. Application for sale of Abitibi's assets was made by the Montreal Trust Company, trustee under the bond mortgage, and opposed by R. S. McPherson, liquidator of the Company, and by the Province of Ontario.

Abitibi is one of the largest producers of pulp and paper in Canada.

Hearing of the appeal before the judicial committee of the Privy Council opened May 27. Judgment was reserved a few days later.

Ilsley a definite declaration that control of farm prices would not be transferred to the agriculture department but that all price administration would remain with the board.

He also gave a long and detailed statement on the technique of arriving at the cost-of-living index in support of his assertion that the index was as accurate as possible.

Mr. Diefenbaker said inability of small dealers to get "a fair share of the consumer goods that remain to be disturbed" had resulted in many going out of business and it appeared likely that by the time the war ended small businesses would have disappeared.

On the other side of the picture, he said, "We will see an ever-increasing concentration in the hands of the large retail concerns throughout the country."

Retail Power

He cited, as an indication of this trend, an order made last September making Indians of northern Canada subject to tea rationing unless they purchased from the Hudson's Bay Company.

Referring to this order, Mr. Ilsley said he was not informed at the moment but he was sure it was issued to help the Indians and not the company, which was one organization that had none of its officials serving the Prices Board.

Discussing the position of the small retailer, Mr. Ilsley said that in a time of high distribution costs and goods shortages, suppliers, if left to themselves, would have a natural tendency to prefer dealing with the large buyers. From the time of its inception the board had adopted a policy of ensuring small retailers of a fair share of scarce commodities, based on previous year's sales.

Small Increase

Outlining the system of arriving at a cost-of-living index, Mr. Ilsley said he realized people found it difficult to believe that the increase since the war was only 17 per cent when some food prices such as meats had risen as high as 78 per cent and the general food increase was 31.8 per cent.

But food represented only one-third of living costs, and sugar had remained steady while milk had declined in price. The index was also based on rent, home furnishings, clothes, heat, life insurance and other factors.

In cases where only the most expensive of a line of commodities remained available, the index used those prices. All items of living were not used but a typical group was selected and "weighted" in order to reach an average which satisfied him, Mr. Ilsley said, as a reasonable index.

Different Taxes.

He dealt with suggestions that direct taxes should be computed in the index and said this would be entirely impracticable because it would mean that there would have to be an index for every citizen as none of them paid the same amount in taxes.

A. J. Bence (Prog. Con. Saskatoon) suggested that a trained legal man should be in charge of enforcement of Price Board regulations. He said he knew of one instance when F. A. MacGregor, chief enforcement officer, proceeded against the advice of local counsel in Saskatchewan, with the result that 17 charges were dismissed.

Questioned on staff salaries on the Prices Board, Mr. Ilsley said that on March 31, 1943, there were 259 receiving no salaries, 43 on salaries between $5,000 and $8,500; 83 receiving $4,001 to $5,000; 174 receiving $3,001 to $4,000; 683 receiving $2,001 to $3,000, and 3,723 receiving $2,000 and under—a total of $419,675.

At the afternoon sitting, Mr. Ilsley heard several members urge that control of farm prices should be exercised by the Agriculture Department instead of by the Prices Board, and replied that such a change would be "a grave mistake." These controls must remain centralized in the Prices Board.

It would be as logical to ask that fish prices be controlled by the Fisheries Department, and that the Mines and Resources Department control prices of products of the mines and forests.

To "those who charged that Canada's beet sugar production could and should have been heavily increased, Mr. Ilsley said it would make no difference to rationing because the amount imported would be reduced by the amount of the increased production.

Later, "our destroyers intercepted and sank two of the three enemy ships attempting to escape from the Gulf and damaged the third."

Allied planes got in some heavy blows. Above the Kula Gulf on Kolombangara Island, torpedo bombers and divebombers, escorted by fighters, blasted the Japanese air base area at Vila with 28 tons of bombs. Later medium bombers, escorted by fighters, expanded the attack.

Over the New Guinea jungle front, in addition to the aerial bombardment of Observation Hill, Allied planes bombed and strafed the Japanese at Bobdubi, within five miles of Salamaua, and raided the supply barge sector of Labu Lagoon above Salamaua near Lae.

Output Maintained

LONDON, July 8 (AP).—A Ministry of Economic Warfare spokesman said to-day that German production in the first six months of 1943 had been cut by Allied bombings and difficulty of obtaining raw materials and labor but that the output of war goods had been fairly well maintained.

MEMBERS' MEETING

Referring to the news item about the nomination meeting of the C.C.F. in Paragon Hall, Friday night, W. C. Grant, secretary, said this morning that "it is a members' meeting". The report a few days ago pointed out that only members may vote in the selection of a candidate, and Mr. Grant explained further that the convention meeting is restricted to members.

CARRIERS' BROADCAST.

Bill Edgar, Nancy Leith, Gerald Rose, George Clarke and Don Padgett, the five Examiner News Carriers who went to Ottawa in May to be presented to Prime Minister Mackenzie King and Minister of Finance Ilsley in recognition of their splendid achievements in the sale of War Stamps, are going on the air Thursday night. They will broadcast over CHEX from 9 to 9:30 and tell the experiences of their trip. The program has been arranged in connection with the current drive to raise enough money in Peterborough to buy 67 depth-bombs and help smash the German U-boat campaign. In their house-to-house canvasses Examiner carriers hope to account for 34 of the total to be collected by the sale of War Stamps, and these same five youngsters who will speak over the air to-night are the sparkplugs of the drive. If Peterborough citizens support them, they are sure to go over the top gloriously again.

STOLEN CAR RECOVERED.

Hamilton police have recovered the automobile belonging to Dr. W. S. Fitzpatrick and stolen from the rear of Preston's Service Station on Charlotte Street, during Tuesday night, they telephoned the Peterborough police department this morning. A 22-year-old youth, giving his name as Norman Robert Bookhout, was arrested at the same time and is being charged with the theft of the automobile. He will be brought back to Peterborough to stand trial.

POTATO THEFT CHARGED

Arrested at the rear of the A. and P. store Wednesday night, William Doherty, formerly of Toronto was charged before Magistrate O. A. Langley, K.C. in police court this morning with stealing a quantity of new potatoes, the property of Joseph Dean. Doherty pleaded not guilty to the charge and was remanded for a week at the request of the crown.

HOLLYHOCKS LIQUIDATED.

The city employee who swung a scythe through a big patch of hollyhocks along the edge of a property at the rear of a Waterford Street resident's lot belongs to the unquestioning fraternity comprehended in the poetic line, "theirs not to reason why." He was one of a Board of Works group cutting the weeds at the foot of London Street down near the pedestrian bridge to Ashburnham. "I thought they weren't weeds," he said, "but I was told to cut over this ground." He left a little patch off in a corner, a mere fraction of the area that would not be gaily blooming."

ARMY RECRUITS.

There were two enlistments in the Canadian Active Army this past week at the Armouries. Both men are from Peterborough. They are: Milford L. More of R. R. 6, and Leslie J. Hardy of 271 Westcott Street.

WEEK-END CAMP.

The Prince of Wales Rangers (R F) will hold a week-end camp at the Rifle Ranges Saturday and Sunday. This will be their last such camp prior to departure for the summer camp at Connaught. It is expected that the training will be largely devoted to firing practice, with rifles, Bren guns and 2-inch mortars.

BIG INCREASE

The bank clearing for the week ending July 8 show a big increase over those of 1942 during the same period. For the week ending today the figures are $1,078,7727, while those of a year ago were $885,434, a difference of $193,293.

GRADUATES

W. R. Fee of Lindsay was one of the graduates in a unique Wings Parade held at No. 5 Service Flying Training School R.C.A.F. at Brantford today. There were three holders of the Distinguished Flying Cross, all Flight Lieutenants with a combined total of 119 operations overseas to their credit, given pilot's wings.

FOWL STOLEN

Fourteen chickens and a turkey were stolen from the farm home of Hiram Terrill, Glenalda, Chandos township, on Tuesday night while members of the family were visiting Loon Lake. The heads of the stolen fowl had been pulled off. Provincial Constable Lloyd McClure is investigating.

AIRMAN MISSING.

Sgt. Philip Shuttleworth Johnson, whose father is Fred Johnson of Lindsay, is reported missing after air operations overseas in the 621st R.C.A.F. casualt ylist.

MILL'S EMERGENCY

All hands on deck, is a paraphrase of the Co-Op staff's concentration on work in the mill department two days ago. Business was back-logging, orders had to be filled, and in the face of the labor shortage even the truck drivers were called into the mill in an emergency effort to catch up.

CAN GET THE FINE

Leonard Tobin was charged in police court this morning with having been drunk on Water street and also with a previous conviction. He pleaded not guilty and asked the court for a day or two to get the money to pay his fine. "It will be $50," remarked Magistrate Langley, but Tobin said that he could get the money and the case was adjourned until Saturday.

CARRIERS LEAD THE FIELD

H. B. Cowan, circulation manager of The Examiner announced at noon today that The Examiner carriers in the first three days of their drive to sell 34 depth charges for the Canadian Navy has sold stamps to the value of $304.48 or one-tenth of their objective. Bill Edgar who is going to sell four and has already turned in cash for one and a third charges. He leads the field and was the first of all groups in the city to complete the sale of a depth charge. Don. Padget who is out to sell two depth charges is nearing completion of his first.

Police Solve Garage Theft

Employees of the parks department surprised a youth who was sleeping under the Hunter Street bridge this morning and he ran away as they approached, leaving a bicycle and other articles.

The police were notified and as a result the Tuesday night break-in at the Ford Garage, George and King streets, was solved.

Keys and other articles abandoned by the fugitive were identified by employees of the garage as having been stolen from there.

A short time after Detective Sergt. W. E. Meagher and Constable C. J. McGillen arrested a 15-year-old Ops township youth on Hunter street bridge, charging him with breaking and entering the Ford Garage.

The boy was arraigned before Magistrate O. A. Langley, K.C. in juvenile court this morning and was remanded until July 14.

"This cannot be treated as a nominal offence", said Acting Crown Attorney F. D. Kerr, K.C. in asking for bail of $1,000.

Canada May Yet Be Invaded Warning Of DOC

A warning that Canada may yet by assaulted by either the Germans or the Japanese was given in Peterborough last night by Brigadier F. Logie Armstrong, O. B. E., officer commanding Military District No. 3, who urged citizens of this district not to slacken in their allotted duteies even though victory now seems to be within the grasp of the Allies. He spoke over CHEX.

"Only the most immature thinkers among us," he said, "would say that victory now is ours, that the defeat of our enemies is certain, that the day of peace is near— would say these things without first making certain definite provisos. Such achievements will only be ours," he emphazied, 'if, during the months, perhaps the years, that lie ahead we never slacken for a moment in our alotted duties, however arduous they may be. At no time since the outbreak of the war has this been more apparent. If we can see success ahead, and I believe we can, then we must accelerate our efforts to attain that goal. If we slacken now, no matter how slightly, we shall face disaster, not victory."

Job To Do.

Speaking in support of Canada's Reserve Army, Brigadier Armstrong expressed the belief that the Reserve has yet a great job to do for this country. He said that the job of home defence is largely a job for volunteers and that Canada, to a considerable extent, will, of necessity, have to be protected by men who, because of age, physical disabilities, or the indispensable nature of their employment, are unable to make soldiering their full-time contribution.

"Our duty to our gallant sons overseas is to prepare ourselves to guard this land they have left to keep free," he stated. "We may never have occasion to take up arms in this country, but is the inconvenience to which we must submit ourselves too great a price to pay for preparedness"

He said that the Reserve Army is a People's Army, membership in which should be the proud boast of every able-bodied man who cannot enter the active forces. To illustrate the democratic nature of the Reserves, he pointed to several units in Military District No. 3 where bankers, merchants and heads of large manufacturing concerns train with their own employees.

All Work Together.

"There is no suggestion of class or other distinction. All work together for one common purpose: to learn how to use the weapons that will enable them not only to protect themselves and their loved ones should such an occasion arise, but to learn how to defend their country should our enemies, now conscious of their failing purpose of world domination, strike in sheer sadistic hate."

Brigadier Armstrong added that the Reserve Army is the breeding ground for national unity and that association in it povides good fellowship and a better understanding between races, creeds and faiths.

"False Security," he emphasized, 'must not lull us into complacent belief that all is now well with us in this land that is, for the moment, far from the horror of bursting shell fire. All will not be well in this or any other land until the last vestige of brutal aggression is destroyed forever."

Obituary

MRS. ALEXANDER E. LONG.

Mrs. Alexander E. Long, the former Alice Stenton, died Wednesday at her home, 107 Gladstone Avenue in her 64th year after an illness of several months.

Mrs. Long was born in Peterborough the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Robert Stenton, and she lived on a farm in Otonabee before making her home in the city some 25 years ago. She was a member of Knox United Church, active in the W. M. S. and other societies of the church, as well as the Red Cross.

She is survived by her husband and a brother, F. H. Stenton of London.

The funeral will be held on Friday at 2 p.m. from the Comstock Funeral Home, 305 Water Street, and services will be conducted by Rev. H. J. Mahoney Knox Church. Interment is to be at Little Lake Cemetery.

Now Overseas

Pte. Joseph J. Devlin, son of Mr. and Mrs. P. J. Devlin, Cricket Place, has arrived safely overseas, according to word received by his parents. He enlisted in April, 1942, with the Prince of Wales Rangers (A.F.) and was employed with the De Laval Company until he went in the Army.

Big Hay Crop In County Going To Waste

Thousands of tons of hay in this district may not be harvested and may go to waste, R. M. Peirson, manager of Co-op Services, suggested in a conversation with an Examiner reporter this morning, and Frank Paterson, agricultural representative, was inclined to agree with him.

"It is a huge crop, to begin with," Mr. Peirson said, "and from what I hear some farmers with some hay already cut are likely to pass it up because they have better stuff still to be cut. Then, there is a shortage of help, and other crops will soon be demanding action. A heavy tonnage has already been packed into barns, and generally farmers have no hay worry except to get as much as they can handle stored away."

As for the help problem, G. A. Gillespie has been building his hopes this week on some improving response from the soldiers at Peterborough Training Centre. A few citizens have shown some interest, but any expectation of an emergency man-power urban pool has just about vanished.

"I have been in touch with Sergeant Marsh at the Training Camp, and I think we may get more results from the soldiers than from the city," Mr. Gillespie said today.

The camp authorities signify approval of the men taking leaves in farm work, and as Mr. Gillespie remarked "that looks like our last resort. Maybe it may turn out fairly well."

Chinese Take Border Town

CHUNGKING, July 8 —(AP) — Chinese troops have driven the Japanese from Mengting, a Burma-Yunnan Province border town which the invaders occupied a week ago, and started them on a general retreat westward, a High Command communique said to-day.

Several hundred casualties were reported inflicted in a brisk Chinese counter-attack begun last Saturday.

"Those (Japanese) remaining are being rounded up, while retreating troops were waylaid and attacked by Chinese forces," the communique said.

Red Cross Given Residue Of Walker Estate

National Trust Company Limited, George H. Thompson and Burwell V. Moore are applying for probate of the will of the late Mrs. Mary Isabella Walker of Peterborough who died on March 21, 1943. The estate which amounts to $161,495.32 includes bonds (all Dominion of Canada and War Savings Certificates) $100,399.51, stocks $17,771.74, cash $13,693.11, real estate $10,622, household and personal effects and automobiles $8,630, miscellaneous (including $10,000 legacy) $10,378.96.

Mrs. Walker was a sister of the late Miss Emma Jane Morrow of Peterborough, and in the disposition of her property she showed the same high regard for her friends, the kindness of heart and the charitable disposition which were features of her sister's character.

The following charitable bequests are made in the will: Trinity United Church, Peterborough—for the Sunday School Building Fund $10,000, for the Choir Fund $500, for the Floral Guild $500, for the Women's Association $1,000, for the Women's Missionary Society $1,000; the Young Women's Christian Association, Peterborough, $1,000; Anson House, $2,000; 57th Regimental Chapter of the Imperial Daughters of the Empire, Peterborough, $500; Canadian Red Cross Society, $1,000; Children's Aid Society, Peterborough, $1,000.

Cash legacies are given to a number of friends and relatives, and the residue of the estate is bequeathed to the Canadian Red Cross Society.

Youth Charged Garage Theft

Eric Woodbeck, 18, a Belmont Township farm laborer, pleaded guilty in police court this morning to breaking and entering the garage of N. Wellman at Havelock with intent to commit theft.

Giving evidence in the case, Provincial Constable Archie Grayling who arrested Woodbeck early this morning, said that a pane of glass had been removed from a door and entrance to the place gained. A quantity of gasoline had been apparently been siphoned from Wellman's truck in the garage into a can. Woodbeck had been caught hidding in the pit of the garage by an employee but was later allowed to go before the affair was reported to the police.

"I don't know whether this boy has a record or not," said Constable Grayling asking for a week's remand in order that inquiries might be made.

Woodbeck was remanded until next Wednesday.

Gordon Shier Killed Overseas

Word was received last week by Gordon Shier, 314 Maitland street, that his brother, Company Quarter Master Sergeant Harry Francis Shier of the 23rd company of the Canadian Forestry Corps, overseas, has been killed as the result of being run over by a truck while he was on duty.

C.Q.M.S. Shier is the son of Mrs. J. J. Shier, Cannington, and although he worked in the Patricia Gold Mines before he enlisted at Port William in March 1941, he had made many friends in Peterborough during his visits with his brother. He arrived overseas January 5, 1942.

The funeral was held Saturday, and friends in Scotland took charge of the funeral arrangements and burial was made in Forfar Cemetery, which is non-military. He had been stationed at one camp since he landed overseas and his family said that they had felt he was quite safe, when he was not seeing action.

Besides his mother, there are two brothers surviving, Gordon of Peterborough and H. P. Shier of Cranford, N.J., and four sisters, Mrs. Ted Halward, Mrs. N. V. Pipher of Toronto, Mrs. E. O. Pettet, Cannington and Mrs. George Taylor of Halifax.

Aged Blind Man Repeats Aid For War Victims

What a wealth of memories can pass through the mind of one who has lived a useful life and passed the Psalmist's allotted span of four score years, but when it is accompanied by an affliction which for the past few years has blotted out the sight of earthly things, these memories must become all the more poignant and there would seem much truth in the lines from the "Blind Ploughman" which states "God has taken my sight, that my soul can see."

This perhaps very aptly applies to Arthur Reid, octogenarian citizen who was born in this city some 85 years ago and has lived by far the greater portion of that time almost within a stone throw of the place where he was born, in the past conducting a thriving boating business near the Locks Bridge.

Keeping in touch with current world affairs in a large way through the means of radio, he longed to be of some tangible help in the present struggle being waged for liberty of thought, speech and religion, and this found expression some time ago with a handsome donation to two worthy war charities of which the Peterborough and District British War Victims Fund was one, and this now has been followed by a further contribution of $50 which appears in to-day's list of receipts, bot hof them spontaneous and without even a suggestion from the fund management who were called in when he had fully decided to make this splendid contribution to help the afflictions of others, which from the depth of his soul he must fully appreciate in the light of his own adversity which is perhaps all the more accentuated when one considers he has not got an over plus of this world's goods.

Toronto Girl Helps.

About this time last year, a couple of donations appeared in this column as the result of work done by Beverly Patterson of 134 Parkmount Road, Toronto, who spends her holidays with her maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Harrison, living on George Street North.

This young lady with a splendid display of courage in over-coming the dread effects of infantile paralysis in her earlier days to keep abreast with the best in her scholaristic work and physically, knows what it is to suffer from something over which she had no control, and this is now finding expression in a desire to be of help to those in need in Britain through the local fund, with the leisure afforded through the summer recess from school duties.

In to-day's report there appears a contribution of $5.00 which she has raised in the past few days from making and selling pot holders, and there is every prospect of a continuance of this effort to help the fund along.

Car And Baby Stolen

Los Angeles, July 8 (AP)

A DISTRAUGHT mother kept anxious vigil at nearby Culver City police station early today while officers sought her automobile—stolen, she said, while her 15-months-old son was asleep in the back seat.

Mrs. Marie Clay, 30, told officers last night she parked the car near a roller-skating rink, and left it for a few minutes to watch the skaters. When she returned the car and the baby, Jimmy, were gone, she reported. Wrapped in blankets, the child probably was not noticed by the thief, she said.

Commissioned Overseas

Air Force Headquarters announced today that Sgt. James P. Withers, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Withers, 547 Douglas Avenue, has been commissioned overseas. He was one of more than 100 members of the R.C.A.F. aircrew serving overseas, all of them graduates of the British Commonwealth Air Training Plan, to have been commissioned in the field for efficiency, meritorious service and leadership qualities.

Vandals Damage Rural Church Near Cordova

Sacrilegious vandals who broke into the Victoria Methodist Church on the Cordova Road, six miles from Havelock, Tuesday night, did damage amounting to $500, Provincial Constable Archie Grayling who is investigating the outrage reports.

The intruders almost completely wrecked the interior of the church. The back was torn off the organ, seats broken, the pulpit was overturned and the Bible thrown across the room, curtains were pulled off the windows and an attempt made to burn them and almost every bit of the fittings wantonly demaged.

The school nearby was also visited and there several windows were broken and seats damaged.

Cherry Crop Is Light

For the information of housewives who are wondering about the market supply of fruit for home preserving, local merchandising sources today reported that only odds and ends of strawberries and cherries will be available until the Red Montmorency cherries arrive some time next week.

Strawberries will be mostly from district gardens and are nearing the end of their brief season. As for cherries the offering for the week-end will be mostly the sweet black Tartarian with some sour early Richmonds.

The Braund store on Charlotte street have a few strawberries at 35 cents a box, but the quantity is insufficient for general canning purposes. Loblaws and A. & P. may not have any berries.

Apparently the preserving of strawberries this season has been a small item in the economy of the average household, and from all accounts the special allowance of sugar for preserving purposes is still intact.

George Clark of National Groceries said today the crop of Red Montmorency cherries expected to begin coming to market next week is not more than 50 per cent of the average, and may be slightly less. Trees in the Niagara district were seriously affected by late frosts and prolonged damp weather. The first of the red raspberry stock may also reach the retail channels next week. Yellow flesh peaches are due toward the end of the month, and Niagara estimates point to a low yield, possibly down to 25 per cent of the average.

One store reported cooking cherries are likely to open at $1.75 for six quart baskets.

In the meantime imported potatoes are plentiful, selling chiefly in ten pound lots at 37 cents. The local early crop should be due before the end of the month, by the 24th or perhaps before that date.

Advisory Board Spends Sum Of $18,000 For Year

Disbursement of $18,000 in supplementary assistance throughout the district represents the scope and need of the Dependents Advisory Committee which operates here as an agency of the Federal Department of National Defence.

The chief purpose of this committee of which G. A. Gillespie is chairman, is to act as a confidential group to aid the dependents of men in the armed forces in matters involving expenditure not provided for in the ordinary allowance paid by the Dominion Government.

The bulk of the $18,000 has been expended in matters of health, hospital bills, medical and dental bills, operations and miscellaneous treatments.

The members of this committee are Mrs. Reg. H. Turner, Mrs. Paige Rowell, Peter G. Wallace as representative of the Canadian Legion, Alderman J. E. Sullivan, and Mr. Gillespie. Their district extends from Picton to Lindsay, comprising the counties of Prince Edward, Hastings, Northumberland, Peterborough, Durham, Victoria, Haliburton.

Sub-committees in Belleville and Lindsay co-operate with the central body at whose meeting Tuesday afternoon Mr. Gillespie reported on the conference he attended in Ottawa last week reviewing the operations of the entire structure of the Soldiers' Dependents Advisory Committees throughout the country.

The members of the committee give their time and service without remuneration and in the wish to be of help to the men overseas and the families they have left at home. For ordinary maintenance such as rent and food and other necessities, the monthly allowance from the Government is expected to be sufficient, but it does not provide for emergencies, especially illness, accidents, dental service and so on.

The Government sought the help of local committees to receive applications from dependents in a broad area, thereby saving time and expense in meeting personal needs that are bound to arise.

Sir Harry Oakes Dies At Nassau

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla., July 8—(AP)— Attorney Walter W. Foskett received word to-day that Sir Harry Oakes, whose gold mining activities are among the largest in the world ,died this morning at Nassau.

Sir Harry was 69.

He formerly was president of Lake Shore Mines and had many other connections with the Canadian mining industry.

His Canadian home was at Niagara Falls, Ont. Several years ago he moved to the Bahamas.

Cut In Rural Power Costs Highly Favored

WINGHAM, July 8—A program of Hydro extension in rural Ontario and greatly reduced power rates under a system of equalization of costs, was promised here last night by Premier Harry Nixon. He spoke at a convention of Huron-Bruce Liberals which selected Hugh Hill, farmer, as candidate.

Assistance could be given from the Provincial Treasury to the municipalities for the purpose of bringing about greater equalization of rates throughout Ontario, the Premier declared. An abundance of power in the post-war period would result in power for heating homes as well as taking care of all other requirements, he predicted.

Mr. Nixon said he proposed, if returned to office, to pay particular attention to the question of extending Hydro.

Great Surpluses.

"Great surpluses are being built up and some measure of equalization, or parity, should be put into effect," said Mr. Nixon. "Ontario now serves over 80 per cent of all rural homes within reasonable distance of existing facilities, and I propose to pay particular attention to extending Hydro to every home in the Province."

Mr. Nixon praised the farmers of Ontario for the "splendid manner" in which they were rising to the occasion in producing foodstuffs, despite many handicaps, particularly price ceilings set too low. He predicted that production of foodstuffs would grow even greater in importance and he felt it would be wise on the part of those responsible to review the whole question of agricultural price ceilings.

"In a practical way Ontario has assisted the farmers of Ontario," said Mr. Nixon. "It was largely Ontario that established the system of paying subsidies on farm products.

Price Floors in Order.

"If price ceilings are in order in wartime, and I believe they are, then price floors are in order too in time of depression. Never again as long as I have anything to do with the Government, will the price of farm products be determined by a small exportable surplus which came in competition with the products of countries having a low standard of living."

Relieved Of Duties

ALGIERS, July 8 —(AP).—Gen. Jean Marie Bergeret, who has been attached to the French Air Forces in West Africa, has been relieved of his duties by the French Committee of National Liberation, a decree published in the official Gazette disclosed Wednesday.

Bergeret, who formerly commanded all French air forces under Gen. Henri Giraud, was sent to West Africa when an accord was reached between Giraud and Gen. Charles de Gaulle.

D.F.C. Winners Back At School Get Their Wings

The three R.C.A.F. first lieutenants, ABOVE, all wearing their D.F.C.'s for distinguished and heroic work as observers overseas, went back to training school and have just won their pilot's wings. Pictured at No. 5 Service Flying Training School at Brantford, Ont., on graduation day, they are, LEFT to RIGHT, Flight-Lieutenant John Gellner, Flight-Lieut. R. W. Alexander and Flight-Lieut. W. L. Jennings. The three have a combined total of 119 operational flights over Europe, Libya, Greece, Syria and Crete. Since his return to Canada, Llight-Lieut. Alexander has been attached to the Air Navigation School at Port Albert, Ont., and Flight-Lieut. Jennings to R.C.A.F. stations at Charlottetown, Prince Edward Island, and Mount Hope, Ont. Flight-Lieut. Gellner is formerly of Czechoslovakia, whence he escaped. He was joined by his wife a year later, after she had eluded the gestapo. The picture was taken just a few minutes after the three had received their pilot's wings and before their single observer's wing was removed.

Farmers Grow Rape Seed For Engine Oil

Farmers who responded to the request of the Federal Government to grow rape for seed from which oil is extracted for marine engines are scanning their crops these days probably with some speculation of the eventual returns.

It was a wartime emergency planting, in much the same category as the milkweed enterprise. Carman Seymour of Cavan said other day he had ten acres of rape in bloom evidently making good progress.

Ken Petrie of Otonabee, with nine acres sown, told the Examiner that a lot of pods are developing in his field. Dry weather, in his opinion, probably crimped the blooming stage of the plants. Harold Ball of Cavan sowed between twelve and thirteen acres, and growth at present seems to lack uniformity which he was inclined to expect. Some of the farmers expect the seed to be ripe in another two weeks or thereabouts.

Vernon Stanley-Jones intended to plant fifteen acres, but the adverse spring forced him to abandon the rape crop, and in the end he substituted about nine acres of milkweed.

Farmers of this district promptly agreed to the rape seed undertaking are listed as follows with their respective acreages:

R. Fitchett, Omemee, 15 acres; Carman Seymour, Cavan, 10; Harold Archer, Smith, 4; Harold Ball, Cavan, 13; Robert Armstrong, Cavan, 2; F. Everett Birdsall, Asphodel, 5.

Gus Bolin, Keene, 2; A. Boate, Omemee, 2; Milton Clark, Smith, 2; Sid Connell, Cavan, 5; Sam Comrie, Otonabee, 2; Fred Crowe, Warsaw, 4; Charles Coughlin, R. R. 3, Norwood, 4.

W. W. Dawson, Otonabee, 5; Gilbert Elmhirst, Birdsalls, 1; Fred Eason, Keene 2; Bert Godfrey Smith, 2; Alex Huston, Otonabe, 1; Leonard Henderson, Millbrook, 1½.

Reeve M. H. Johnston, North Monaghan, 2; John Knox, Norwood, 2; C. E. Moore, Smith, 1; George Mullen, Smith, 2; Herb McFarlane, Otonabee, 2; C. Meagher, Douro, 2; M. J. Moher Douro 2.

Wm. G. Ovens Peterborough, 6; Nelson Parrington, North Monaghan, 5; Bernard Preston, North Monaghan, 2; Ken Petrie, Otonabee, 9; Wm Rollins, Smith, 2; Roland Scott, Smith, 5.

Gordon Staples, Cavan, 8; E. Sanders, McKellar Street, North Monaghan, 1; Angus Twomey, Ennismore, 2½ and Alex Sinclair.

Many Times Syntona Has Been A Great Help To Me

Have Used It For Five Years Whenever I Feel Out Of Sorts, Says Mr. Braun. Tells of Relief From Kidney Troubles, Getting Up Nights, Dizziness and Nervousness.

MR. DAVID F. BRAUN

There is scarcely a person who at one time or another has not suffered from disorders of stomach, kidneys, liver or bowels, and wherever Syntona is known, hundreds of men and women tell of its real usefulness in relieving them of such common symptoms as gas, indigestion, backache, getting up nights, nervousness, and rheumatic aches and pains.

The following experience of Mr. David F. Braun, Stoney Creek, Ontario, is a typical example:

"I first used Syntona five years ago when I was badly rundown," said Mr. Braun. "I had suffered a long time with stomach disorders, gas, indigestion and heartburn. After trying a lot of things, I got some Syntona and it helped me so much that I've been taking it off and on ever since whenever I feel the need of it. Many times it has been a great help to me.

"My most recent experience with Syntona was just a few weeks ago. My kidneys started giving me a lot of trouble. I was getting up several times each night. I'd get awfully dizzy and my nerves were bad. During the day I felt tired and had no energy. So I got some more Syntona and, sure enough, after taking a bottle or two, I was feeling better again. Now my kidneys do not trouble me as they did, I sleep soundly, my nerves have calmed down and I feel better in every way.

"I think more people should know about this fine herb and root medicine, and I, for one, can highly recommend it."

Syntona is sold and recommended in Peterborough at Elliott's Drug Store.—(Advt.)

Militia, Workers Strain City's Resources

(Written for The Canadian Press By GRACE PIPER (Kingston Whig-Standard).

KINGSTON, July 8—Since September, 1939, Kingston has changed from a sleepy university town into a throbbing military and industrial centre. To-day men and women in uniform and factory workers in overalls crowd the streets.

War industries have provided 4,800 new jobs here and the influx of water workers, plus the establishement of military centres, has strained the resources of the city. Housing accommodation is exceedingly scarce and eating-places are overcrowded.

To ease the housing shortage, Wartime Housing has built 50 houses in the vicinity, and work is under way on another 75. The number of building permits issued also shows a sharp increase. As for the city itself, it has grown from 24,300 in 1939 to 29,871 in 1943.

Industrial Expansion.

Two of the largest industries here, the Aluminum Co. of Canada Limited, and the Dye and Chemical Co. of Canada Limited, are engaged in secret work. However, others are making a wide variety of products which range from nylon yarn for parachutes to dinnerware for the services.

The Nylon Division of Canadian Industries Limited opened a plant here in June, 1942, to manufacture nylon yarn. Over 500 are employed in this work and the entire production of the plant is used in the manufacture of parachutes.

The Canadian Dredge and Dock Co. Limited builds naval vessels, salvage derricks and maintenance ships and has also been engaged in harbor construction work at Nova Scotia and Newfoundland ports.

The Canadian Locomotive Co. is engaged chiefly in manufacture of locomotives, filling an order for 75 for the Indian State Railways. It also is producing naval gun mounts and all the depth charges manufactured in Canada. It has added 125 women to its staff since last August.

Build Corvettes.

The Frontenac Floor and Well Tile Co. Limited is manufacturing dinnerware for the three Services as well as laboratory equipment and supplies for various industries. Hield Bros. makes cloth for uniforms and is 80 per cent on war production.

The Kingston Shipbuilding Co. builds corvettes for the Royal Navy and the Royal Canadian Navy and turns out minesweepers as well. Its staff has increased from less than 100 to more than 600 since the war started. The Davis Tannery has turned out more boot-leather for the Reserve Army than any other tannery in Canada. It also makes gloves for the three services and for welders, munition and ship workers. In the last three months it has been producing leather for civilian gas masks.

Women Man Machines.

About 1,807 women are employed on essential work in Kingston. They are working on all types of jobs; routine factory work, painting in shipyards, light tile and pottery work. They also operate cranes and lathes and handle many of the machines.

The city ranks fifth in Canada in the number of blood donations, with 20,610 donations from November 10, 1942, when the Blood Donors Clinic opened, to June 18, 1943. Some Kingston residents have donated their blood as often as 18 times while hundreds have given six or more donations. A large number of the blood donors were servicemen stationed in the city.

S.S. Entertains Teachers Upon Resigning

FAIRVIEW, July 8 (ENS).—The teachers of S. S. No. 4 and 11. were honored on different occasion as school closed. Miss Zetta Wilson, teacher of S. S. No. 11, who has resigned was presented by her pupils with a purse as a slight token of their esteem. Miss Wilson was the only teacher at No. 11 for part of the year, but during that time was highly respected and endeared herself to all her pupils and to the community will be greatly missed. She has secured the pricipalship of Cookstown public school.

Miss Helen Glover, who is leaving S. S. No. 4, was surprised by the pupils and parents of the section who met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Bell in her honor.

Mrs. William Fowler read an address and Gwenyth McKee and Kenneth Hudson presented Miss Glover with a Schaefer pen and pencil set and a necklace. Miss Glover expressed sincere appreciation for the lovely gifts. Contests and games were played, followed by a lunch.

Miss Glover has secured a position on the teaching staff at Toronto. She will be greatly missed in the community especially by the Young Peoples' Union of Fairview Church in which she took an active part.

U.S. Publishers Ordered To Cut

WASHINGTON, July 8 (AP).—The War Production Board today ordered United States newspaper publishers to reduce further their consumption of newsprint during 1943's third quarter. The cut ranges up to five per cent for large users.

The additional five-per-cent reduction does not apply to the first 25 tons for newspapers using less than 500 tons a quarter. This provision, the Production Board said is designed to aid the operation of small newspapers.

Last Dec. 31 newspapers were limited each quarter to 100 per cent of the tonnage of paper used in printing their net paid circulation during the corresponding quarter of 1941, plus a three-per-cent allowance for production waste. It was estimated at the time this requirement meant an overall reduction in current newsprint consumption of about 10 per cent.

New Labor Court Has First Sitting

TORONTO, July 8 (CP) — Ontario Labor Court opened its first tribunal Wednesday at Osgoode Hall with expressions of good will from both parties.

F. A. Brewin, counsel for the United Steel Workers of America, (C.I.O.) said the opening of the new court was an historic occasion. "I want to say" he told the court in opening preliminaries, "on the question of industrial relations that we want to make the greatest contribution to the effect aimed at by this court of harmonious industrial relations. In wartime this is very important." he said labor hoped to be helpful in their manner of presenting their case.

J. L. G. Keogh, representing employers, said the labor court would help employers and employees out of the confusion that has heretofore existed in these matters.

Mr. Justice J. T. Gillanders, presiding judge of the opening hearing, thanked the labor counsel for assurances of co-operation. He said they would be breaking new ground, and might be expected to meet difficulties.

Honey Ceiling Too Low

OTTAWA, July 8 — (CP).—Tom Reid (Lib. New Westminster) said in the Commons last night that a ceiling price of 15 ½ cents a pound for Honey has been imposed for all Canada, although British Columbia Honey producers have been receiving at least 20 cents a pound for their product.

"I appeal to the Minister (Finance Minister Ilsley). I say that we cannot produce Honey there at 15½ cents a pound," said Mr. Reid.

"No one was kicking at the price of 20 cents. But the price was made 15½ cents, and then to aggravate the situation we find that a very inferior grade of Honey is coming in from Mexico and is allowed to be sold from 30 to 35 cents a pound."

MUSTARD SALAD DRESSING

2 tablespoons Libby's Prepared Mustard
2 tablespoons vinegar
½ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
¼ teaspoon paprika
⅔ cup Libby's Evaporated Milk

Combine mustard, vinegar, salt, pepper, and paprika. Add evaporated milk and mix well. For variation, add 2 tablespoons oil or 2 tablespoons Libby's Catchup or both. Use with any type of greens — lettuce, endive, escarole, cabbage, etc. Makes 1 cup.

THE EXPLANATION why WHITE SWAN TISSUE may be "out of stock" at your dealer's.

You go to your dealer for your regular supply of WHITE SWAN and find him temporarily out of stock. Naturally you are disappointed, but please don't blame him, as he is only too anxious to keep on supplying you with Canada's most popular toilet tissue.

It is simply a question of supply and demand. He cannot keep enough WHITE SWAN in stock because we cannot supply him fast enough. We cannot supply him fast enough because our mill, in turn, cannot meet the increased demand from Government, war industries and the public.

We would like to be able to make more WHITE SWAN than we are turning out now, but war needs come before our requirements for new equipment. So, until the present crisis is over, we ask you to bear with us. We will do our utmost to see that any dealer out of stock for the moment will soon receive his supply.

Both are R.C.A.F. men who fly with a Wellington squadron on the Burma front. 'Chota' is Hindustani for 'small.' Gillis, a six-footer, got the nickname to distinguish him from Warrant Officer Norm Parsons, another giant in the same squadron, who is called "Burra Moose." Burra means big. (R.C.A.F. Photo)

Here and There in Sport

By The Canadian Press.

Military athletes held the stage yesterday with athletic carnivals at Toronto and Hamilton, the meets being the Military District No. 2 Central zone's championships at the Canadian National Exhibition Track and Southern zone's annual get-together at the Army Trades School in Hamilton at which the stalwarts from Simcoe, Ont., scored 54 points to walk off with the honors against the 46 points of the Army School.

At the Toronto meet, the representatives of No. 23 Basic Training Centre, Newmarket, captured seven of the 12 contests but the only double winner of day was George Halligan of the Toronto District Depot who covered the 880-yard run in 2:17.4 ant came back to take the three mile in 18:01, outlasting Lieut. Forbes Mountain of Brampton. Jim Holmes of Newmarket sped the century dash winning from Jack Life of Newmarket. W. Aiton of Newmarket led the field in the mile, turning the two laps in 5:18. Newmarket also scored victories in the relay, discus and pole vault, to run up 56 points against 27 for No. 2 district depot.

Trained by Capt. Eddie Dore, former crack Hamilton Collegiate speedster, the team from Simcoe Basic Training Centre ran off with most of the sprints, with Corp. Bill Stedman from Toronto taking the century and 440. Pte. M. T. Wallace of Simcoe took the one and three-mile runs while Pte. Lou Odette of the same team was first in the discus and shot put. Corp. L. G. J. Oliver, Pte. S. A. Corbiere and Pte. Edward Shea were Brantford winners.

50-Day Meet Opens.

The Garden City race track, near Camden, N. J., opened its second year of operations yesterday with the initial card of a 50-day meeting—to the clatter of horses' hoofs both inside and outside the racing plant. Most of the crowd of 6,521 patrons travelled to and from the track on horse-drawn rigs of many types, the procession towards the grounds starting more than three hours before starting time. The last of the fans were hauled to the entrance just ahead of the third race.

Grand Circuit Racing.

The weather put a crimp into the Grand Circuit racing at North Randall Track, the card being called off after Attorney, the favorite for the $2,625 National Stake for two-year-old pacers, had copped the first heat in 2:10¾. The unfinished program had its exciting moment when Rupe Parker, behind Captain Kinder in the National, was tossed through the infield rail as the horse spilled. Clint Hodgins, another driver, hopped off his sulky to go to the assistance of the shaken Parker. The judges placed the two horses fifth and sixth in the six-horse event.

Seven Homers in Eight

Chet Laabs, chunky outfielder of the St. Louis Browns, is clouting his way to the front with a series of seven homers in eight games and bids fair to reach his mark of 27 four-baggers last season when he finished second to Ted Williams of the Boston Red Sox. Laabs, 5 feet, 8 inches tall and weighing 175 pounds, may even lead the American League in 1943 because Williams is now with the armed forces.

Playoff Draw

The Belleville Senior Softball League is already headed for the playdowns of the Ontario Amateur Softball Association— and it's only the second week in July by the calendar. Six teams in the Belleville loop have been drawn to meet in the local playoffs and the winner will represent the railroad town in the provincial competitions.

16 More Greens Needed

The Provincial Lawn Bowling Tournament Committee at Toronto has been forced to secure 16 additional greens to accommodate the growing list of entries, despite the fact the tournament is a month away. Provision is now being made for 96 rinks, with applications having been received from points outside the province including Montreal and Buffalo.

Aerial Dive Bombing

The latest in competitions in Canada is aerial dive-bombing and who knows but it will become a sport feature in years to come? At Kingston, three - man teams from Camp Borden, Aylmer, Dunnville and Kingston competed at 2,000 feet. The Borden trio dropped 24 "eggs" closest to the bullseye but the individual honors went to LAC. Dick Roach of Toronto who scored three direct hits.

Tax Payments To City Show Increase

Municipal taxpayers have begun this war year of 1943 with a larger payment of their first instalment due the city treasury than in 1942. Comparative percentages are—39.2 for this year and 38.5 a year ago.

The figures received by City Treasurer Shaver show that collections over the counter of Tax Collector S. A. Couper amounted to $308,849.55 up to June 23 as compared with $290,563.33 for the corresponding period in 1942.

If these facts frame a moral to encourage the city fathers it is mainly a reflection of the ability and willingness of Peterborough's property owners to meet their obligations to the municipality in spite of their investments in Victory Bonds, their payments of income taxes, and other incidentals of the war period which would probably be much higher if the price control agency was not in effect.

Terranova Demands Fight With Callura

HARTFORD, Conn., July 8 — (AP)—Bobby Gleason, manager of Phil Terranova, said Wednesday that unless his fighter gets a shot at Jackie Callura's N.B.A. world's featherweight title, he will claim the championship.

Gleason's statement came after he had tried unsuccessfully to see Leo P. Shadley, the champion's manager, in Providence, R. I. Bradley was said to be out of town.

"I'm sick and tired of chasing Bradley," declared Gleason. "Terranova knocked out the champ here last week and he's entitled to a crack at the title first."

Terranova knocked out the Hamilton scrapper in a non-title bout.

The Sports Round-Up

By HUGH FULLERTON, Jr.
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, July 8 — (AP). — The International League plans to publish a separate set of statistics this season covering performances during innings wiped out of the regular records by rain, curfews or other acts of Providence or the dimout....Noticing that the rules once gave credit only for the number of bases to bring in the winning run when a player broke up a game with homer, Figger Filbert Ernie Lanigan asks why not give them credit for these odd fragments of innings, too?

To-day's guest star:

Al Buck, New York Post: "Smart baseball executives wonder, in their idle moments, if Dizzy Dean broadcasting from Sportsman's Park has not become a bigger attraction than the Browns. There is no doubt that when Diz first started he interested women in the game and brought them to the ball park."

Unanswered question:

The Dodgers have scheduled a "Waste Fat Day" (and no cracks about the fat waists some of them are sporting) for Saturday, but what'll they do if the customers insist on delivering the waste, can and all, in the general direction of any players who may displease them?

LAWN BOWLING

By HERB MARTIN

It has been often said:

"As the Peterborough Lawn Bowling Club goes, so goes the tournaments."

No less than nine ladies rinks from our club motored up to Lindsay yesterday afternoon to play in the annual tournament sponsored by the ladies of the Lindsay Lawn Bowling Club. While it is always looked upon as an open tournament, yet in reality it is Peterborough vs. Peterborough in most of the draws.

Several of the local rinks were the regular schedule rinks that play at home and we believe this idea will be carried out with our ladies at their own tournament set for next Wednesday.

To Mrs. Beatty's rink goes the honor of winning first prize with three wins, and Mrs. Staunton's rink carried off third prize. They all report having a swell outing, had some good bowling and gained a lot of experience.

The rinks were:

First—Mrs. R. Burns, Miss G. Patterson, Mrs. J. Cullen, Mrs. H. Beatty, skip—each a card table.

Third—Mrs. N. Killingbeck, Mrs. L. Yeotes, Mrs. W. Hepburn, Mrs. F. Staunton, skip—each clothes rack.

Up on our own greens a nice crowd came out for the men's doubles tournament. They played two 10-end games with the following results:

First—Les Turner and Dr. Fulford.

Second—A. Black and R. Burns.

Third—G. Soulby and B. Chesler.

All received Stamps.

To-morrow night it will be a mixed rink affair. The draw will be from the board at 7:30 o'clock. Fee 25 cents.

$10,000 For Bout

NEW ORLEANS, July 8—(AP)— Boxing Promoter Hyp Guinle said today he had offered Jackie Callura of Hamilton, Ont., recognized by the National Boxing Association as world featherweight champion, a $10,000 guarantee to meet New York's Phil Terranova here in a 15 or 20-round title bout.

Guinle said Callura's manager, Leo P. Bradley, who arrived here Tuesday, was asking a guarantee of $15,000.

Garden Party A Success Held by C.W.L.

The green, tree-shaded lawns and lovely gardens at the home of Mrs. A. E. Cauley made a beautiful setting on Wednesday afternoon for the garden party held by the Catholic women's League, for which Mrs. Cauley was general convener. The weatherman co-operated by sending ideal weather to grace the occasion.

Mrs. Cauley, and Miss Lillian Hurley, president, received the guests, who were served tea from a table set in a shady spot on the lawn and covered with a cloth of handmade lace in the centre of which stood a silver and crystal bowl of deep pink roses and sweet-peas flanked with ivory tapers in crystal holders. Tea was poured by Mrs. J. L. Sheehy, Mrs. J. C Donnelly, Mrs. S W. Blackburn, Mrs. M. E. Finn. Refreshments were served by Mrs. R. E. MacDonald, Mrs. T. Foley, Mrs. C. ENDURING MARRIAGE BASED ON SPIRIT, NOT BEAUTY OF WIFE.

Some Women Would Do Better to Revamp Minds Than to Rejuvenate Bodies.

It is a curious thing that the only cure for wandering husbands that wives seem to know is the beauty parlor. Apparently they regard that as a specific for that fed up feeling and loss of appetite that so many married men develop along about their silver wedding anniversaries, and forthwith they begin counting their calories and hie them to the nearest physical repair shop, where they are pounded and boiled and beaten and starved, and have their hair dyed in a vain effort to be made to look sweet and twenty, instead of fat and forty.

Practically every woman who loses her husband's love, as the phrase goes, attributes it to losing her figure, which is a bad guess on her part, for Providence has mercifully ordained that the average man takes his wife at the altar, and thereafter she stays in his mind just as she looked then. That he never notices when she puts on some poundage, or acquires gray hairs and wrinkles is amply proven by the fact that millions of devoted husbands still refer to their wives as the "girls" long after they are grandmothers, and call their wives the "Little Woman" when they have gotten so heavy that wild horses couldn't drag them to the scales.

Spirit, Not Beauty, Makes Marriages Last.

In reality, few girls are married for their pulchritude, for there are not many Miss Americas in our midst. Nor does the success of a marriage depend upon whether the wife has a face so beautiful that it would launch a thousand ships, or one so homely it would stop the clock. The marriages that endure are not founded on peaches-and-cream complexions, but on something of the spirit that lasts, and as long as a woman has that she can smash her mirror to smithereens and throw her rouge pot out of the window.

So the wives who are wondering why their husbands have lost their taste for them might well pass up the fiction that it is because they are no longer easy to look at. It is because they are hard to live with, and they would get better results if they spent their time in trying to revamp their dispositions than they do in attempting to rejuvenate their bodies.

Where one man falls out of love with his wife because she has fat hips, ten thousand men fall out of love with their wives because they have let their brains get fat. Their wives have let whatever minds they had to start with go to seed. They have never had a new idea since their first baby was born. They have never talked of anything but baby formulas, and the price of groceries, and goodness knows they don't know how the bills get so big and what the next-door neighbor had for lunch. And when their husbands tried to talk to them about the things that they were interested in, they yawned in their faces, until finally the poor bored man retired behind their papers and gave up any attempt at companionship.

Nagging Certain To Dash Affection.

It isn't because her lips no longer form the Cupid's bow that makes a man quit kissing his wife. It is because she never opens her mouth except to nag him, or to say something that stabs like a knife, or to whine because she can't have as many luxuries as rich women have. It isn't because at forty she no longer looks like a sub-deb that her husband doesn't take his wife stepping. It is because nothing he does ever pleases her and she makes every outing an ordeal instead of a pleasure.

Few men ever apply any of the canons of art to judging the beauty of the wives who keep them entertained and amused and jollied, and who make them feel that to them, at least, they are wonders and world-beaters. No man grows tired of that kind of a wife, no mater how old she grows, nor how much she loses her looks. The eyes in which he sees himself glorified will always be beautiful to him. The lips that say only pleasant and flattering things to him will always be the ones he wants to kiss.

Of course, marriage is a game in which women cannot afford to overlook any bets, and so they do well to keep themselves as easy on the eyes as possible, but if they would spend as much time in massaging the wrinkles in their characters as they do on their faces; if they would devote as much effort to lifting their words before they spoke as carefully as they do their calories; if they would cut out their criticisms as relentlessly as they do their starches, and if they would study men to whom they are married as prayerfully as they do their lines, there wouldn't be so many tired husbands, or so many wives trying to get back the husbands they have mislaid, or lost, or had stolen from them.

The Experts Say . . . .

By The Canadian Press

OTTAWA July 8 (CP)—Ideas for housewives garnered from the experience of home economics experts:

UNWELCOME PESTS: To make available window, door and verandah screens "go around," H. H. Foreman, administrator of fabricated steel and non-ferrous metals for the prices board, suggests that householders mend and reinforce their present equipment. Small holes can be re-woven with stray bits of wire .... Warped retaining slats can be replaced to keep screens from fraying and make them fly-proof, and varnish will preserve them. Every screen saved is guarantee of more fresh air....and fewer flies.

SAVE SHIRTS—One way to get an extra three or four months' wear out of men's shirts is to re-cut the fronts, worn thin by the friction of collar points, and raise the entire panel two inches..... To lengthen the life of trousers, a felt strip or length of strong tape should be sewed just inside of the bottom of the trouser leg, where it gets the friction of the shoe heel.

FRESHENING FOODS — When the thermometer soars and you feel it's really too hot to eat, ti's time to turn to foods which, by their very suggestion of coolness, tempt fickle appetities. One of these is an all-green salad, suggested by Laura Pepper, chief of the consumer section, Departmetn of Agriculture ... Lettuce, spinach, watercress, chives, parsley, thin slices of cucumber (with the skins left on) shiny rings of green pepper peas and slivered green beans may be used to advantag in an all-green salad. The peas and beans may be used either raw or cooked. Any or all of these vegetables with a little French dressing, makes a salad which appeals to the eye and palate and is a veritable vitamin tonic.

STRAWBERRY TIME — Here's a fact which relatively few people know about strawberries— locally-grown, sun-ripped ones take precedence over even tomatoes and citrus fruits as a source of vitamin "C". An average serving of strawberries, says Marion Harlow of nutrition sevices, provides most of an individual's daily needs of this important vitamin.
